ANNA DICKINSON MAKES PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

The Boston Post's report of Miss Anna Dickinson's lecture on "Brokers Ahead," delivered in that city on the 14th inst., contains the following passage, verbatim:

Just here I want to tell you a little story, as a matter of self-vindication here in Boston, for I love its people well, even if the Advertiser is published here. [Tumultuous applause.] I love it better than ever. I find that there is a story going the rounds of the Boston and New England press to this effect—that a Sunday or so ago I went down to the school-ship, under cover of my good and long-tried friend, Judge Russell, and that then and there I took violent possession of a book which I knew to be the property of the Common wealth, or of Capt. Mathews—(I will tell you for the benefit of those who may be so ignorant as not know, that this gentleman is the Captain of the school-ship)—that I took violent possession of this book, and after magnificently penning my own name, intending to insult both the Captain and the Commonwealth, marked out the name of Andrew Johnson, which I found upon another page.

The actual statement of the case is this: That going down to the school-ship and having a pleasant morning there, a little while before I left it the teacher of ship handed me an autograph book exactly like thousands of others in which I have written, and supposing it to be a private autograph book belonging to him, I wrote my name therein. Turning over the pages, I came to one soiled by the name of Andrew Johnson, and holding my dry pen in the air, made a little playful flourish over it, when he (whom I supposed to be the owner of the book) said to me, "If you will mark your pen across that with ink it will add greatly to the value of the book;" and I doing what I supposed would gratify a man, supposed to be the owner of the book, did to Andrew Johnson's name what the whole loyal nation would gladly do with his infamous record and himself—blot it out. [Applause.] So much for that. I wish the man was as easily ended as his name was in that case; and I believe, say I know that the great mass of the loyal people in the country say amen to any such desire.

The Wonders of the Brain.—One of the most inconceivable things in the nature of the brain is that the organ of sensation should of itself be insensible.—To cut the brain gives no pain, yet in the brain alone resides the power of feeling pain in any part of the body. If the nerve which leads from it to the injured part be divided, it becomes instantly unconscious of suffering. It is only by communication with the brain that any kind of sensation is produced, the organ itself is sensible. But there is a circumstance more wonderful still: the brain itself may be removed—may be cut away down the corpus callosum without destroying life. The animals lives, and performs all its functions which are necessary to simple vitality, but no longer has a mind; it cannot think or feel. It requires that the food should be pushed into the stomach; once there, it is digested, and the animal will live and grow fat.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Apropos of the walking mania now so prevalent throughout the country, Mr. John Quill makes the following offer: "I will walk with any good looking girl who has a fortune in her own right, upon any given moonlight night, both parties to go as slow as they please, and neither to hurry back to the starting point. I will then, on the word, walk into her affections, and walk off with her fortune."

"I will walk around the earth with any man who will bring a pile of it and lay it down in a convenient spot. Or I will walk across the planes, if a carpenter can be found to lay a lot of them in a row. I will also take a rope-walk with any person who will furnish the capital and give me a share in the business. I venture to say that I can make as good time on a side-walk as any other man. Messrs. A. M. Walkinshaw and Jerry Walker to be umpires, and the O'Wanks, the referee. All disputes to be settled by reference to Walker's Dictionary.

"I am out in the neighborhood of Broad and Poplar streets; I have no objection to extending my walk ten feet, if the property-holders in the vicinity will make it an object."

A new Hebrew synagogue has just been erected in New York at a cost of $509,000.

Massachusetts has a population of 2,281,700. Its population per square mile is 157.65. There are 63,000 more females than males. There are 208,698 dwellings.

TWO HUNDRED WOMEN INITIATED INTO FREE MASONRY.

[From the N. Y. Tribune Nov. 2.]

Eastern Star Hall was the scene, last evening, of an imposing Masonic ceremony, namely, the conferring of the degrees of the Eastern Star, or Adoptive Masonry upon more than two hundred gentle women by Robert Masoy. Mystic Tie Lodge, in connection with which these degrees were conferred, was opened in the Third Degree, at eight o'clock and after routine business the doors were thrown open to the candidates, all of whom were either wives, widows, or daughters of Masons. Previous to the conferring of the degrees the Master of the Lodge explained the object of calling the meeting. He then introduced Robert S. Holmes, Past Grand Master of the Free Masons in the State of New York, who was received with the grand honors. A handsomely engraved set of resolutions in a large and beautifully gilt frame, was then presented to the Past Grand Master by the Master in behalf of the Lodge in a neat speech, to which that brother appropriately responded, that it had long been a matter of regret that Mason's wives, sisters, daughters, widows, and (although it was not in the Masonic ritual) mothers had not been recognized among Masons. From this time forth, he would labor in the Grand Lodge of this State to have it use its great influence with the Grand Lodges of the world for the purpose of having some token brought into being and generally recognized, by which wives, sisters, daughters, widows, and mothers of Masons may make themselves known all over the world. [Applause.] In this he intended no intraction of Masonic law, but he did mean that when such relatives of Masons were in distress, they should be known without carrying their relatives' diploma in their pocket. Others made appropriate remarks, after which the women received the degrees. "Home, Sweet Home," was sung and the lodge was dismissed with the Masonic benediction.

ANDREW JOHNSON'S SPEECH AT NASHVILLE IN 1866.

The following is an extract from President Johnson's speech at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 21st of January, 1866, to take initial steps to restore civil government in that State:

And is suggested by my friend behind me, whether we attain perfection in the raising of cotton or not, I think we ought to stimulate the cultivation of hemp, [renewed laughter,] for we ought to have more of it, and a far better material, a stronger fibre with which to make a stronger rope. For, not to be malicious or malignant, I am free to say that many who were driven into this rebellion I believe are repentant; but I say of the leaders, the instigators, the conscious, intelligent traitors, they ought to be hung. [Cheers and applause.] Treason must be made odious, traitors must be punished and impoverished. The secession power must be destroyed, and the effects that give them power and influence must be taken away. I think the time ought to come, and I trust the time will come, when the Union men who have been oppressed, and the loyal heirs of those who have perished on the battle-field or starved in the mountains, will, to some extent, be remunerated out of the property of those who betrayed and tried to destroy their country. I am talking practically of what ought to be done. What the common sense of every man suggests is common justice."

There is no accounting for Parisian tastes. At a fashionable supper party, which took place recently in the French capital, among the attractions of the table were some curious specimens of cutlery not usually seen on such an occasion. One, says a correspondent, was a Turkish knife, which had been employed in cutting off the heads of Ottoman traitors. No. 2 was sort of Japanese bow-knife, with which a courtier of the Tyeoon had committed harikari. No. 3 was an executioner's blade, from Peking, employed in slicing Chinese Jack Sheppards. We are not surprised to learn that the appetizing effects of this novel table cutlery were so great that every kind of sauce was dispensed with.

All the crowned heads in Europe visited the Paris Exposition except the Queen of England, the Queen of Spain, and the King of Italy.

Radicals claim that a canvass of Senators shows a clear majority in favor of retaining Stanton in the War department in spite of the President's order suspending him.

THE MISCEGENATION PARTY.—The rebel miscegenation party struggle very hard against the revolution which is bound to take place in their social relations. Under the slaveocracy it was right and proper for white men to own black women and make use of them in raising half-breeds for the slave market. The chivalry also followed their lust with perfect safety. So universal was this miscegenation that it would be hard to find a colored person in the South who has not a white relative in some shape or other. Freedom has broken down this wholesale recognized miscegenation. Now if the colors mix it must be a simple matter of taste, which no legislation can force or prevent. But this rebel miscegenation party are not satisfied with this arrangement, they fear to be put on an equality with their negro relatives and they are dishonest enough to cry "miscegenation" against the party which has broken up the most wholesale disgusting miscegenation ever known in the history of mankind.

HANCOCK'S APPOINTEE.

The rejoicing of the New Orleans rebels over the actions of General Hancock is a perfect imitation of the Heathen Hindoo, who beats his drums to drown the cries of the widow when being burned with the corpse of her dead husband. They (the rebels) congratulate each other over the removal of R. King Cutler. But see below who his successor is:

General Hancock yesterday appointed Hon. A. Cazabat judge of the second judicial district of Louisiana, for the parishes of Jefferson, Plaquemine, and St. Bernard, vice R. King Cutler, removed.

The appointment of our friend Cazabat is an indication that General Hancock in filling public positions will select the worthy and patriotic. Judge Cazabat was one of the most fearless and radical members of the convention of 1864, and ever since the necessities of the nation required it has been a true friend of colored suffrage.

In the convention of 1864 he said: "As far as the question of compensation is concerned, I take the ground that the people of Louisiana have no right to donate a dollar from the public treasury to pay slaveholders. I, for one, sir, will, regardless of consequences, raise my humble voice for the immediate, unconditional, and permanent abolition of slavery in the State of Louisiana."

"If compensation, however, is to be granted, in the name of justice, in the name of equity, let it be made by the United States Government, and then only to loyal citizens who shall prove to have been so from the beginning of this unholy rebellion."

Judge Cazabat was first appointed judge by Governor Hann in 1864, and has always given satisfaction to the bar and the loyal people.—New Orleans Republican.

Since the above, we have additional news from New Orleans. Even the elegant record of Judge C. would not secure him favor with General Hancock. He must be wholly pure to pass muster with the hero of the North; see:

NEW ORLEANS, December 6.—Special orders No. 204 appoints Charles O. Dugue judge of the second judicial district court of Louisiana, vice A. Cazabat, declined—the latter not being willing to take the oath prescribed by the reconstruction bill, which General Hancock requires of all appointees.

How are you, Johnny reb? How many of your late friends can accept reinstatement in San Antonio? Has Andy found a tool? Flake has at last come out in an honest declaration and tells us that it is the poverty of the Union men that disgusts him. When the "faction" is left to work for its living and enjoy its fruits, they will remember Mr. Flake's magnanimity. We take the following from the Bulletin written in its defence against our able Galveston correspondent:

"The faction to which Humphrey belongs, all together, has never done paid business enough with this journal to pay one day's expenses of printing it. Why, two thirds of the time they do not pay for even the Bulletin they read. What an elegant chap he is to talk about establishing a newspaper. Where on earth does he expect the money to come from? Has he any definite idea of the cost?"

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, December 10.—The President was called upon for correspondence relative to recognition of belligerent rights, by Great Britain to the Confederacy.

Mr. Wilson introduced his bill removing political disabilities from 248 Alabamians.

Mr. Doolittle gave notice of an amendment to reconstruction acts providing all persons offering to vote on adoption of Constitution who do not possess qualifications required by States prior to rebellion shall possess one of three qualifications:

1st. Service in the army of the United States at least one year.

2nd. Ability to read and understand the nature of an oath.

3rd. The possession of 250 dollars free hold in his own or wife's rights.

The above was offered as an amendment to Wilson's bill making a majority of voters instead of a majority of those registered necessary to carry Constitution.

Wilson said he did not know that it would be necessary to press his bill.

Davis said this was a white man's Government and ever would be.

Freeman said this country would never consent to have its President forced on them by a negro electoral vote. He wanted this issue to come quickly and invited Wilson to press on with his bill.

Stewart said negro suffrage would not be the issue next fall and proceeded to defend the reconstruction acts.

Doolittle's amendment was referred to Judiciary Committee.

Drake offered resolution censuring the President for language used towards Congress in his message.

Drake in an elaborate speech assailed the President bitterly in the course of his remarks alluding to negro voters said they were now as much superior to the white trash around them as the white trash was superior to the negro when he was in slavery. The matter was made the special order for Thursday and after executive session adjourned.

The House after receipts of executive communications of little general importance; the speaker announced reconstruction committee resuscitated Action, Stevens, Boatwell, Brigham, Farmouth, Hullbard, Beaman, Paine, Brooks, Beck, but two Democrats.

Stevens confiscation bill of last session called up there were several speeches in opposition and was later postponed to 21st of January.

A concurrent resolution was adopted to adjourn from 20th inst., to the 6th of January adjourned.

Financial Committee sustaining President in suspending Collector James of Richmond district.

House Committee on foreign affairs is about presenting a bill with following provisions:

1st. That this Government does not and will not recognize the doctrine of natural allegiance.

2nd. That a person of foreign birth naturalized according to laws requires all the rights and privileges of a native born citizen except such as are denied by the Constitution in prescribing qualification for President and Vice President. 3d. That the United States owes some protection to its naturalized citizens as to the native born.

Bill introduced yesterday by Windom to amend act for Government of rebel States and to facilitate restoration amends section 5 of act, March, 2nd '67 as to provide for the votes if according to returns in each State the Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered election, qualified as specified in the bill the President of Constitutional Convention shall transmit a copy of same duly certified to the President of the United States and it shall by him be laid before Congress. The intention is simply to make a majority of votes necessary to the ratification of Constitution.

The Presidency.

PHILADELPHIA, December 10.—The following resolution offered and adopted by the United League last night:

Resolved, That, having confidence in the ability, integrity and patriotism of U. S. Grant, and believing that his political principles are in consonance with those of the Republican party, and grateful for the services he has rendered to the country in every post of duty to which he has been called, we do hereby nominate him as candidate of this League for the office of President of the United States.

General Hancock.

NEW ORLEANS, December 10.—Special Orders, No. 207—Charles M. Emerson is hereby appointed Judge of the 3d District Court of New Orleans, vice E. T. Fellows resigned.

By command of Brevet Maj. Gen. W. S. HANCOCK.

(Signed) GEO. L. HARTSUFF, Assistant Adjutant General.

European—By Cable.

LONDON, December 10.—The Times praises both Houses of Congress for refusing to impeach the President, but fears, however, that the President will accept this action as a new endorsement of his policy, and from this concludes that hopes of a sound reconstruction must be deferred.

The Express seems to have rubbed the hair on the back of old father Stewart of the Galveston Civilian, the wrong way. He calls us the "mad-dog Radical sheet" and considers us the quintessence of Radical animus. The fact is we are not jealous of Mr. Tracy because he is appointed Judge of the recorders court in Houston. God knows we are sufficiently intimate with the Civilian's friends without the court room.

Judge Tracy is the life and support of the most influential paper in the State and as such, the Union people of the State should not be insulted by having him as a ruler.

ERROR.—Our recent despatches stated that a Senatorial Caucus had declined to retain Forney as Secretary. It should read: A Senatorial Caucus decided to retain Forney as Secretary and Brown as Sergeant-at-Arms.

MILITARY.—By the W. G. Hawes, which arrived last evening, detachments of the 1st Regiment of Artillery and of the 17th Regiment of Infantry reached this city; also the military band for San Antonio. These troops number 437 in all, and are under the command of Captains Craft, Bennett and Snyder, and Lieutenant Potter. Surgeon Corcoran accompanies the command. They will remain here awaiting orders from headquarters, and we presume will be sent in detachments to the frontier. They are late recruits, many of whom have seen service during the late war. In general they present a foreign appearance, but seem healthy and strong men.—Flake's Bulletin.

Garibaldi in prison is possessed of infinitely more popular power than Victor Emmanuel in his palace. When the former arrived at Spezia, he was cheered to the echo. Women pressed forward to kiss the hem of his garment and threw flowers at his feet. The populace unharnessed his horses from the carriage, and he entered the prison as a conqueror. Meanwhile, King Victor dares not show himself abroad for fear of the hisses of the crowd. He dare not go to Turin, where his statue has been broken to pieces, and he is even more of a prisoner than Garibaldi.

GENERAL GRIFFIN'S REMAINS.—Captain Snyder, who arrived on the steamship W. G. Hawes last night, has been detailed, we learn, to convey the remains of General Griffin and those of his son North, to be interred there. There will be a military demonstration on the occasion when the corpse of the General is conveyed to the steamship.—Flake's Bulletin.

A New Eng'nd paper wants Semmes to lecture there, "where there is a very deep interest in the subject on which he speaks, and where he would be sure of as warm a reception as he ever gave to the crew of a whaleship."

A London reviewer says the chief merit of Motley's third and fourth volumes is their vitality; that they are filled with actual men and women one could be content to live with or die for.

Proposals for Fresh Beef.

COMMISSIONER OFFICE, 4th U. S. Cavalry, Camp Verde, Texas, Dec. 8th, '87. SEALED PROPOSALS, which must be in duplicate, with a copy of this advertisement attached to each, are invited until 12 o'clock M., December 25th, 1887, for supplying Fresh Beef (either on the hoof or slaughtered, as may be required) to the troops at Camp Verde, Texas, and to all Posts, Camps and Hospitals, in the vicinity, drawing supplies therefrom, from January 1st, 1888, or as soon thereafter as may be required, to December 31st, 1888; or such less time as the Commissioner General of Subsistence may direct.

The bids will state the price per pound net currency for the fresh beef furnished, on the hoof, and the price per pound net for that furnished slaughtered.

Proposals must be accompanied by a proper guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, stating that if the proposal is accepted, the bidder will enter into a contract, and that they will enter into bonds in the penal sum of Three Thousand Dollars, for the faithful performance of the contract.

No bid will be entertained when put in by contractors who have previously failed to comply with their contracts, nor when it may be discovered that the bidder has offered directly or indirectly more than one bid.

The beef cattle furnished must not be over five years old and weigh not less than 500 lbs hundred pounds net dressed.

Payments will be made monthly, or as soon thereafter as funds may be received therefor. The Government reserves the right to reject any and all bids offered.

BROWN & PERKINS.

Pianos for the People!! 420 Broome St., N. Y. We would call the attention of the public and the trade to our elegant New Scale Pianos, the following styles: Style A, 7 octave, front large round covered, plain case, either octagon or curved legs, straight bottom, broad moulding on plinth. Style B, 7 octave, same as style A, with serpentine moulding on plinth, curved legs and lyre. Style C, 7 octave, front corners large round, serpentine bottom, moulding same as on style D, curved lyre and desk, fancy carved legs. Style D, 7 octave, four large round corners, finished back, moulding on rim and plinth, serpentine bottom, curved lyre and desk, elegant carved fruit legs. The above styles are all finished in elegant Rosewood cases and have the full iron frame, French action, sharp pedal, bevelled top, ivory keys and key fronts, and exceed in overstrung tone, nearly all the 7 octave Pianos now manufactured. They are made of the best materials and for finish, durability, purity and sweetness of tone, cannot be surpassed. We invite the attention of the public, of dealers and the profession, to a critical examination of the merits of our Pianos. By avoiding the great expenses attendant upon costly hardware and expensive workmanship in the city, we are enabled to offer these pianos at prices which defy competition, and invite all to call and examine them before purchasing elsewhere. Parties ordering from a distance can rely upon receiving their Pianos promptly, and no confusion can arise as the styles are so distinctly designated by the letters A B C D. The four styles described above, embody all the essential changes in exterior finish of case, which are by many manufacturers run up to 15 and 20 patterns.

For maintenance of gunboat fleet proper, two millions one hundred and sixty thousand dollars.

For maintenance of steam rams, one hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

For contingencies of the army five hundred thousand dollars.

For clothing for the army, camp and garrison equipage, and for expenses of offices and arsenals, thirty-nine million three hundred and twenty-two thousand five hundred and thirteen dollars and twenty-five cents.

For constructing and extending telegraph for military purposes, and for expenses in operating the same, five hundred thousand dollars.

including pay of private physicians, purchase and repair of surgical instruments, purchase of extra hospital bedding, clothing, ice, pay of male citizens as hospital attendants; the maintenance of sick and wounded soldiers, placed in private houses or hospitals; and other necessary comforts for the sick and convalescing in the various military hospitals, five million seven hundred and five thousand nine hundred and eighty-four dollars.

For contingent expenses of the adjutant-general's department at department head quarters, two thousand dollars.

For supplies, transportation, and care of prisoners of war, three million three hundred and seventy-three thousand seven hundred and twenty-eight dollars.

For armament of fortifications, one million sixty-two thousand five hundred dollars.

For the current expenses of the ordnance service, seven hundred and thirty-two thousand six hundred dollars.

For ordnance, ordnance stores, and supplies, including horse equipments for all mounted troops, seven million three hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

For the manufacture of arms at the national armory, one million eight hundred thousand dollars.

For repairs and improvements and new machinery at the national armory at Springfield, Massachusetts, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

For the purchase of gunpowder and lead, one million one hundred thousand dollars.

For additions to and extension of shop-room, machinery, tools, and fixtures at arsenals, five hundred thousand dollars.

For the purchase and manufacture of arms for volunteers and regulars, and ordnance and ordnance stores, thirteen million dollars.

For surveys of military defences, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

For purchase and repair of instruments, ten thousand dollars.

For printing charts of lake surveys, ten thousand dollars.

For continuing the survey of the Northern and Northwestern lakes, including Lake Superior, one hundred and five thousand dollars.

For completion of Fort Clinch, Amelia Island, Florida, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

For secret service fund, and to reimburse the contingent fund of the army, five hundred thousand dollars.

For payment of bounty to volunteers, and to the widows and legal heirs of such as may die or be killed in the service of the United States, authorized by the fifth and sixth sections of an act entitled "An act to authorize the employment of volunteers to aid in enforcing the laws and protecting public property," approved July twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, twenty million of dollars, or so much thereof as may be found necessary.

For collecting, organizing, and drilling volunteers, in addition to any sums heretofore appropriated for that purpose, five millions of dollars.

For providing for the comfort of discharged soldiers who may arrive in the principal cities of the United States so disabled by disease or by wounds received in the service as to be unable to proceed to their homes, and for forwarding destitute soldiers to their homes, two millions of dollars, to be applied and expended under the direction of the President of the United States.

For enlarging, repairing, and furnishing the Northwest Executive Building, twenty thousand dollars.

For grading and improving that part of Judiciary Square, in the city of Washington, upon which the general hospital of the United States is located, four thousand dollars, to be expended under the direction of the Surgeon-General.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That so much of the seventh section of the approved third March, eighteen hundred and fifty-one, entitled "An act to found a military asylum for the relief and support of invalid and disabled soldiers of the army of the United States," as requires that "all moneys, not exceeding two thirds of the balance on hand, of the hospital fund and of the post fund of each military station, after deducting the necessary expenses," shall be set apart for the support of the military asylum, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the enlisted men of the Ordnance Department now designated as master-workmen shall hereafter be designated and mustered as sergeants; those now designated as armorers, carriage makers, and blacksmiths shall be designated and mustered as corporals; those now designated as artificers shall be designated and mustered as privates of the first class; and those now designated as laborers shall be designated and mustered as privates of the second class: Provided, That the pay, rations, and clothing now authorized by law to the respective grades of enlisted ordnance men shall not be changed.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That in all cases where recruiting officers have in good faith paid the two dollars for bringing accepted recruits to the rendezvous, before receiving notice of the repeal of the regulation allowing the same, the accounts of such officers shall be allowed in settlement by the Treasury Department.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That there shall be added to the clerical force of the Surgeon-General's office one clerk of class one and one clerk of class two; and there shall be added to the clerical force of the Paymaster-General's office twenty clerks of class two and twenty clerks of class one; and there shall be added to the clerical and other force of the Adjutant-General's office four clerks of class two, six clerks of class one, and ten other clerks, at a monthly compensation of sixty dollars each; and the Adjutant-General may detail not more than non-commissioned officers of the army as clerks in his office; and the sum of fifty-one thousand two hundred dollars is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the salaries of the clerks hereby authorized.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That section five of the act "to authorize the employment of volunteers to aid in enforcing the laws and protecting public property," approved July twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and section five of the act "to increase the present military establishment of the United States," approved July twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, shall be so construed as to allow twenty-five dollars of the bounty of one hundred dollars therein provided to be paid immediately after enlistment to every soldier of the regular and volunteer forces hereafter enlisted during the continuance of the existing war, and the sum of seven millions five hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for such payment.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That all the aides-de camp appointed by authority of the act approved fifth August, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, entitled "An act supplementary to an act entitled 'An act to increase the present military establishment of the United States,'" approved July twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, shall be nominated to the Senate: It is so advised and consented.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That hereto is authorized, by and with the consent of the Senate, to appoint as many military storekeepers in the Quartermaster's Department of the army as the exigencies of the service may require; provided the whole number of military storekeepers in that department shall not exceed twelve.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby, in like manner, appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the service of the year ending the thirtieth of June, eighteen hundred and sixty-two:

The most perfect and beautiful MUSICAL INSTRUMENT in the World, for the AMERICAN HOME CIRCLE. The American Organ makes home attractive, refines and elevates the minds of all, beautiful in appearance and effects.

SIBERIA OTT, 783 Broadway, New York, WHOLESALE AGENT.

The immense popularity of these Organs, and their superior musical powers, is fast bringing them before the public, as the instrument so long desired in American homes. And although the cost price is but a trifle over the Melodian, yet the musical advantages, beauty of tone and quickness of touch and action are so far superior, that they are fast superseding the Melodian, and the call is now almost exclusively for the American Organs.

It is adapted to any music from the quickest and most lively, to the heavy tone of the Church Organ. And almost universally, they are preferred to the Piano, by persons who have them, yet costing less than half, and only taking a small amount of room.

Send for descriptive circulars giving full particulars and price. Exclusive Agencies secured to Dealers, and large discounts to the trade and Teachers. Address all orders to SIBERIA OTT, Wholesale Agent, 783 Broadway, New York.
