IN MEMORIUM.
 In memory of Captain Davis of company B, 1st Regiment Virginia Volunteers, who fell a victim to Yellow Fever, in San Antonio, Texas.

Remote from friends and kindred ones,
 In distant lands a stranger comes;
 His manly form and piercing eye
 Attract the humblest passer-by.

His lofty spirit sought repose
 From galling strife and civil woes;
 His bleeding country stood aghast,
 A mournful relic of the past.

No iron locks on Johnson's tale
 Were found sufficient for this child;
 He mock'd at bolts, and scaled her walls,
 Escaping on the ice-bound falls.

Men think I hear the well-known sound,
 Contenting on the battle ground;
 For four long years he ventured all
 To save his country from the fall.

His father, proud of such a son,
 In silence weeps—his race is run;
 His pride is gone, his hopes are fled,
 His child lies numbered with the dead.

Oh! is it true the stranger dies?
 Without the soft and tender touch
 Of kindred ones who loved him much.

Then sleep, sweet one, and sleep in peace,
 'Till time and all its cares shall cease;
 A full reward will then be given
 For all thy sufferings, safe in Heaven.

Richmond, Virginia, March 12, 1868. LARKER.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

Brooks, member of Congress from New York, is now called "So-help-me-God-never-Brooks."

Out of season—Andy Johnson's March forth is likely to come in April this year.

The Buffalo Courier (Democratic) says: "Impeachment is within the law, and must be submitted to."

The Louisiana convention has adopted the remaining articles of the constitution. The constitution was adopted by a vote of 64 to 6.

Three ex-Governors of Connecticut have written to Washington that they fully justify the House in voting for impeachment.

Ben. Wade, on being spoken to respecting his succession to the Presidential chair, remarked, "I don't count my chickens before they are hatched."

George R. Vickers, the Senator from Maryland, will raise the Democratic strength in the Senate from eleven to twelve.

The new Constitution of Mississippi abridges one of the time-honored privileges of the "chivalry," by a provision declaring that dualists shall not vote.

John C. Breckinridge, Esq., has been suggested as a Democratic candidate for President. His present residence is Jerusalem, Asia Minor.

Secretary Seward and Attorney General Stanbery, it is said, state privately their surprise and annoyance at Johnson's rash and unnecessary step.

The Mobile Tribune says that no fewer than six George Washingtons and two Andrew Johnsons voted in that city at the recent election.

We are glad to learn, on the authority of the New York Times, that there is one species of vice which the President entirely eschews; and that is—advice.

O. S. Fowler is in Washington. He will examine the heads of the Government. If he expects to examine the present head he had better be about it; 'twill soon be off.

The remarkable telegram from Holyoke, Mass., to Andrew Johnson, telling him to count on 20,000 men of Massachusetts, was sent by a half drunk saloon keeper.

The Democrats in the Ohio State Senate have plighted themselves square against the eight-hour system. On a proposition to make eight hours a legal day's work on the public roads, they voted unanimously against it.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says the way the soldiers divide between the parties in New Hampshire will serve to point a moral. Every volunteer is a Republican, and nearly every conscript a Democrat.

Doolittle, in the Senate, mounts his Pegasus to say, "Which way I fly is hell!" Everybody knows that the Senator has been flying that way rapidly for the last two years—and now it seems that the old renegade is beginning to see it himself.

Mississippi sends to the Democratic national convention, as Delegates at large, General W. S. Blackstone, General E. C. Watsball, Colonel E. M. Yerger and General W. T. Martin—all ex-confederate officers.

Eight hundred thousand tons of ice have been cut and stored in New York for use in the coming summer. Half that quantity will be required to cool the coppers of the Rebel National Convention which meets in that city.—Chicago Post.

Harrison Reed, formerly connected with the Madison (Wis.) Journal, is the Republican nominee for Governor of Florida, and William H. Gleason, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, was formerly a Democratic politician in Wisconsin.

Brick Pomeroy's influence is contagious. A paper published in Reading, Pennsylvania, winds up a savage article with the declaration that "Hell is too good a place for the infernal Jacobins of the ramp Congress."

After riding about the city of New Orleans with Jeff. Davis, and dividing with him the cheers of the rebel mob, General Hancock did one proper, sensible and fitting act—tendered his resignation as commandant, and asked to be assigned to some other duty.

The Evening Star of Philadelphia publishes the following despatch from Washington: "It is well ascertained, on the authority of the Hon. R. J. Walker, that at least 10,000 thoroughly-armed and well-disciplined troops, known as the Maryland militia, are in readiness to march to the Capital if asked to do so, by the President. These men are, for the most part, ex-rebels, who served during the war in the confederate army."

The Democrats of New York elected the gambler and prize fighter John Morrissey to Congress. The Democrats of Philadelphia, envious of their New York brethren, placed at the head of their delegation to their National convention Alderman Billy McMullen, who was the referee in the celebrated prize fight between Collyer and Barney Aaron, at Aquia Creek.

We should like to know whether General Hancock feels honored by the compliment paid him by the New Orleans rebels. They seem to have cheered almost as lustily for him as they did for Mr. Davis. They hurried for Davis because he was not loyal to the United States. Why did they shout for Hancock?—New York Tribune.

Colonel Forney writes from Washington, March 5:

"There is no longer any doubt that George H. Pendleton will be the Democratic candidate for President. Presented unanimously by the West, he is, of course, the favorite of the rebels, and now the Maine Copperheads respond by declaring for him and the payment of the national debt in greenbacks."

The Washington correspondent of the Post telegraphed on Sunday night that the friends of President Johnson are less sanguine of his acquittal this evening than they have been before. The impression is being made upon the mind of the Radicals that unless they convince him their party is hopeless lost, and fears are entertained that this impression will insure the conviction of the President beyond peradventure. If the issue be the conviction of Andrew Johnson or the destruction of the Radical party, the Democrats feel satisfied that conviction will follow. Such is the talk to-night in political circles.

When "Nasby" (D. R. Locke) was editor of the Bucyrus (Ohio) Journal, there appeared every week in the "Local column" a sensational story of some sort; a miraculous re-union of husband and wife, or father and son, after a lapse of many years—sudden re-appearances of men who had long been mourned for dead, and which were copied by all the papers of the State as veritable. The obituary of "John E. Cake, burned to death in an oven," which was so extensively circulated, first originated here. Now for my story. In 1861 "Nasby" went to Camp Taylor with the first company of volunteers (Capt. Butterfield, of the 8th Ohio) which left B— under the call for 75,000 men. While standing on the platform at Crestline, waiting for the Cleveland train, a friend came sauntering along in company with "Artemus Ward," (Charles F. Browne, the local editor of the Cleveland Plaindealer). An introduction followed, and when they clasped hands for a friendly shake "Artemus" said: "I am most happy to meet the most successful liar in the State of Ohio." The bystanders, who were mostly Bucyrus boys, appreciated the joke hugely, and commencing with broad grin, they finally raised a snicker, and concluded with a hearty laugh, in which "Nasby" cordially joined and shook his sides.

Georgia. Atlanta, Ga., March 9.—The Convention adopted, by a vote of 79 to 46, a resolution requiring voters on the question of ratification to swear that they will not attempt to dissuade any one from voting on that subject.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

SAN ANTONIO, March 24, 1868. AUSTIN. Austin has the high distinction of being the Capital of the State; it is situated on a series of hills, and from no point can a complete view be had of the town.

What have the people of the Capital done in the way of public improvements? Congress Avenue, the principal business street, which leads down from the front of the Capitol to the river, is in a dilapidated condition; it is destitute of neat pavements, and has a ragged look.

FROM AUSTIN TO SAN ANTONIO. The country between Austin and San Antonio is perfectly enchanting. The road runs along the rim of a chain of foot-hills almost the entire distance.

New Braunfels is pushing steadily ahead. The manufacturing interests which have sprung up in this place bid fair to make it one of the most flourishing places in the South.

The country between Austin and San Antonio should be traversed by a railroad, connecting beyond Austin with the Central Texas, which would put us in railroad connection with St. Louis.

Ex-Governor Vance, whom the Democrats have nominated for Governor of North Carolina, delivered himself of the following bit of eloquence in 1865, when addressing a rebel regiment: "Boys, fight till hell freezes over, and then fight on the ice; fight until you fill hell so full of Yankees that their feet will stick out of the windows."

RECONSTRUCTION CONVENTIONS.

North Carolina. Raleigh, March 9.—The Convention to-day passed a resolution on education through the third reading, opening the doors of the university and public schools, without distinction of color, to all, and compelling the attendance of all children for 16 months upon the public schools, when unable to be educated otherwise.

Mississippi. Jackson, March 9.—The convention to-day adopted a resolution instructing the secretary to inquire, by telegraph, of General Gillen when the order enforcing the payment of the tax to meet the expenses of the convention, will be promulgated.

Georgia. Atlanta, Ga., March 9.—The Convention adopted, by a vote of 79 to 46, a resolution requiring voters on the question of ratification to swear that they will not attempt to dissuade any one from voting on that subject.

South Carolina. Charleston, March 9.—The Convention to-day adopted an ordinance compelling all who voted for the Constitution to support the regular nominees of the party.

Local Intelligence.

COURTS AT A STAND STILL.—During this week the District Court takes a recess.

CONCERT.—The tickets are on deposit at the Book Stores, for the musical entertainment to-morrow night—price of admission, fifty cents—Babies ought to be two dollars.

The Hall will be well filled.

AGAIN.—Mrs. Holland who has figured in the Mayor's court quite extensively the past few days, was again up for being drunk and abusing her daughter. She is now in the lock up and will have a hearing this morning.

ACQUITTED.—Dr. A. Longson, the individual charged with trying to entice U. S. soldiers to desert, was tried before U. S. Commissioner Paschal and acquitted, the evidence being insufficient.

Mrs. JOHNSON.—Made complaint against Jacob Johnson, her husband, for abusing and assaulting her. On hearing the facts his Honor, fined the defendant $3 and costs and placed him under $300 bond, in default of security he was committed to jail.

SHOOTING.—Much excitement was occasioned by rapid shooting, yesterday morning. It was allayed upon learning that the police were firing off their pieces, to clean and reload. The men shot at a target—Officer Redfield making the best shot.

IN MEMORIAM.—In another place will be found a poetic tribute (which we publish by request) to the memory of a gallant Confederate soldier, Captain T. Hubert Davis, who died upon his arrival in this city last September, from yellow fever contracted while traveling through the coast towns. The tribute is by a lady living in Richmond, Virginia. Captain Davis was greatly beloved by his family and friends.

A DEAD MAN.—Captain Locke came to the city yesterday (Tuesday) to report the fact that the body of a man had been found by a Mexican near the Fredericksburg road, about six miles from town. Captain Locke visited the body and found it in an advanced state of decomposition, lying face downwards and the arms extended. A pair of shoes and a blanket were near by; he could not tell whether death had occurred from violence or from some natural cause; neither could he be certain whether the person was a Mexican or a white man. A coroner's inquest will be held immediately.

NO DISPATCHES.—The impeachment trial was to have commenced Monday. As Andy could not arrest or annul Congress, the wires are down, (in the mouth) two things the wires hate to talk about, the New Hampshire election, and Andy's misfortunes.

There has been a great Democratic victory in New York recently which the wires have not spoken of. Two ship loads of immigrants, one Irish and one German, landed (sixteen hundred strong) at Castle Garden. The Irish kicked up a row and whipped their opponents, snatching about a dozen. To ignore this victory, is inconsistency on the part of the press reporters.

THE HERALD OBJECTS.—The Herald of the 23d of March, attempts to make it appear that the $121.50 paid Mr. Newcomb as remuneration for expenses incurred while on business for the city, was wrongfully appropriated. Mr. Newcomb spent some twelve days, by reason of floods and bad roads, between Houston and Austin, and the amount paid him was simply a return of money expended, and not a remuneration for services performed. We are sorry that the city has been compelled to pay out $121.50 currency for the purpose of recovering this valuable property, especially as $200 specie was paid out by the Lyons administration to S. G. Newton, Esq., to go to Galveston on a similar service, in relation to the same property. The Herald has nothing to say about the lavish expenditure of the Lyons administration.

WHY BROWER'S WAGON FACTORY SHOULD BE PATRONIZED.—Mr. Brower is turning out some splendid work from his Steam Wagon Factory in the way of cart wheels. It has been usual to import this article from the North. The wheels made by Mr. Brower are superior to the imported article, being made out of better timber and more substantial, and he offers them at the same figures asked for the imported article. The hubs are made of mesquite, and the spokes and felloes of burr oak and hickory. Mr. Brower has opened a new interest in Western Texas; he has proved that we have as good wagon timber as there is any use for; the hickory which he obtains from Attascosa county can't be beat. We desire to enter a plea in behalf of Mr. Brower, as well as every other home enterprise. A merchant sends to New York and buys five thousand dollars' worth of cart wheels; he brings them to San Antonio and sells them at a profit to himself; five thousand dollars have gone out of the State, which could be kept here by patronizing Mr. Brower. Suppose this five thousand dollars was paid Mr. Brower; he would pay it out to his mechanics and to the people who sold him wagon material, and they would pay it back to the merchant or to the community in some shape. We could better afford to pay Mr. Brower two prices for his cart wheels than to send our money to New York for an inferior and cheaper article. Mr. Brower is determined to do his work well and sell as cheap as the imported article. We ask all interested to give him a call. It is a shame and a direct injury to the State to send abroad for a single article which can be produced at home, especially when the home article is superior.

One dollar will pay for a month's subscription for the Daily Express.
