BERLIN, March 21 Evening. The second session of the Parliament lof the North German Confederation dom menged in this city to-day, His Majesty. King William of Prussia, was present, and opened the session in person with a speech from the throne. He promised that his Covernment would introduce that his Government would introduce several new measures to strongthen the union it home and abroad. While endinerating the various treation which had been made with foreign powers, he particularly alluded to the important one just concluded with the United States, which he said was designed to define and regulate the nationality and consequent national obligations of the emigrants of Germany and A merics. This treaty would destroy all seeds of dissension between the two equatries, and treaty would destroy all seeds of dissolution between the two equatries, and knit more closely together nations already allied by extrang bonds of commerce and of race. The King concluded his speech by expressing with marked complusie the confidence in the permanence of the peace which, he was glad to any, more prevailed among the nations of Europe.

PECULIARITYES A TOTHE

Averus, Texas, April 3, 1868.

The Capital is one of the dullest places in the State for its uise. The enthusi-(as he bosetfully calls it) will tell the unsophisticated stranger that Austin conif the unsophisticated fails to "see it," he is told that much of the town and inbabitants are continually out of sight by reason of the unevenness of the situation But Austin has seasons of life-when the Legislature gathers in from all quarters of the State, and the boarding house flourish—then Austin is in its glory This periodical prosperity has a marked effect upon its citizens—they become lively and appathetic by turns.

Austin has no pleasant promedade - no public place where all the loungers can congregate to take the evening airwhich is a minfuture for a Capital. Que marked peculiarity is the strange disposition to trade off the power of the State young men, even who have hardly ledged their political pin-fonthern ore ready to designate the exact perso shall be Governor, Squators, etc.; and what is another strange peculiarty, is the proneness to select the best and all the mportant places for distinguished dwellers of the "city of the hills " One would hardly appear from the shable looks of the place that it contained as many great men or so much far-reaching ambition. Here, too, center all the in-terests of the monopolies of the State-Asstin has no railroad connection, but then, it, is surmised that her great men are large dealers in fancy stook -and that one section of the State is amopped off against the other by these great men at Apetin with just as much impunity as the offices of profit and trust are divided an enormity away from the Capital, but here it is regarded as legitimate ; in fact, it is one of the peculiarities. Another peculiarity of the Austinites arises from their poculiar aitnation they naturally study the situation and from their long bills look down noon the reat of the State they can tell exactly, the number of Radical or Consernative noses and sees tion of the State contains, and upon all questions they know how many noses. can be counted for or against. P. C. TAYLOR; This individual, who was made the cats-paw in persecuting the city administration during the late election, is again in trouble. He was arrested a day or two ago for swindling the public by selling whisky without license. After he was fined he offered $10 to know who informed on him. A person who knew visited him and offered to tell for $5. Taylor backed out.

Dr. Persons, -Dr. Persons, the Magnectic Physician, has arrived in our city and taken rooms at the Menger Hotel. The doctor was advertised to be here on the 2nd inst. but he was so besieged by patients along the route, that he was detained almost by force. At aweet home a delegation of invalids, forty in number, headed by the Sheriff, stopped the doctor and compelled him to stop and treat them. The doctor comes with hundreds of certificates of his wonderful deeds in curing the sick

MORE HIGHWAYMEN.—Mr. Gonzales, of the house of Gonzales & Co. in this city, as he was returning to this city from Mexico, was suddenly confronted Friday night last, (3d instant), on the Eagle Pass road, between the Hondo and Castroville. by six resolute looking men, mounted. One of Mr. Genzales' companions acinstomed to traveling in an Indian country-fortunately espied the highwaymen before reaching the ambush, and gave the slarm. Mr. Gouzales and his party (five in all) went into corral with lightning speed and prepared for a fight. After watching a little while, be would-be robbers and murderers held a consultation, and finally rode off to the north of the road and disappeared among the hills at the foot of the mountains.

MADAME DE ZAUCHE .- It will be seen that this lady is at the Menger Hotel with a beautiful stock of lace goods and trimmings, which she invites the ladies to examine and purchase.

Madame De Zauche was induced to come from New Orleans to Texas and settle in Waco, where she established bernelf permanently & Soon learning that her elegant stock was too fine for the market, she was induced to try Austin, but the market being too limited, there was no alternative but to return to New Orleans. The railroad bridge being down or the Central road, this was considered the surest route, and while en route, at the suggestion of a leading business man of this city, she offers her stock at a sacrifice, rather than transport it farther.

Madame De Z. brings letters that guarantee her representations, and it is hoped the ladies will a vail themselves of this rare chance to supply BAPTIST REVIVAL .- A meek and lowly Christian came among us to have a revival in the faith of "the forerunner of Christ," and bring converts to the true Church. The first night or two some of our most respectable citizens relied in the faith of the Baptist Church collected around the altar and listened to the re- 24, when the corner-stone of the new religion of their fathers as it fell from the lips of a minister of the Gospel. A night or two after the commencement, one or two colored families who had been slaves of Baptist families in Tennessee and sold from the paternal roof to go to far-off Texas, gathered around the out side of the church to catch words from the mouth of the minister of Matheir Church" so the winds would waft to them. A white member of the Church passing these colored people in that po aition, invited them to come in, which they did. They had no sooner entered, however, than the minister (7) stopped in the midst of his sermon, and, pointing towards them, said: "Those colored people will not come in A THOSE COL ORED PROPLE WILL NOT COME IN!" Sensitive to the last degree, they turned and left the room; and, as they reached the ground, so word of repreach passed their lips, but great drops of tears rolled down their dark cheeks, showing there were souls within worth saving.

That minister who came to San Amblacks only fit for the dark and dreary path; but we can meare him that more than one prayer wearup to Heaven from the souls of the effended blacks on that night, seking that God would lead his footsteps in the paths of true Christi-

The revival which commenced so auspiciously, had an audience Saturday night of six persons.

Does .- The question of dogs is becoming a serious one in this community. It is estimated that the dog population exceeds that of the human family in this city. No dog ordin ance has been in force for some time and never in the history of the city has there been a proper dog law. The Board of Aldermen have now under consideration an ordinance for the establishment of a public pound, and the disposition of stray dogs. The pound to be situated on the suburbs and the dogs are to be caught, placed in a wagon and transferred to the pound. No poisoning or shooting will be allowed; the community will not be outraged by brutal displays, or the lives of passers-by, as in former times, endanger ed by stray bullets from the dog killers pistol. The dogs will disappear and the most sensitive need not fear that their nerves will be disturbed What will be done with the dogs after they are impounded is another ques tion; they will be properly advertised and if not called for, will be sold for their hides and tallow. Dog skins are quite valuable for the manu facture of gloves, and it is quite probable that many of the delicate kids so much prized by elegant young ladies, are mementoes of departed poodles and our dogs. We hope for a speedy passage and enforcement of the the ordinance. It is contended by many that the terriers ought to be exempt because they catch rate; upon the same grounds every dog owner in the city will claim an exception. The proper and only just plan is to require that the licensed stamp of the city or be subject to be impounded.

THE FIRST STRAWBERRIES .- Mr. Wolff has kindly fornished us with a platefull of strawberries, the first of the season, grown on Galveston Island. We are able to congratulate our citizens on the prospect of an abundance of fruit. Capt. Kupp reports prospects favorable for seventy-five quarts of strawberries during the season. His peach oronard promises two thousand pushels. Besides these he will have apples and pears.—Gal. zens on the prospect of an abundance

There is no earthly reason why the people of San Antonio should not have strawberries in abundance.
