THE EL PASO MAIL.

On Thursday the first through El Paso mail came to hand, bringing us files of the New Mexican and Santa Fe Gazette, and also a number of the Arizona Miner, from Prescott, in that Territory. From these papers we gather that the mineral wealth of that vast region is being steadily developed, and new cities are springing into existence. We clip the following from the New Mexican:

CENTRAL CITY.—In this latter half of the nineteenth century there is nothing too incredible for belief or too fanciful for expectation, as towns and even cities are springing up as if by magic, "like Minerva from the brain of Jupiter." Your readers will not be surprised to see another name added to the list of towns, which bids fair soon to become one of the brightest stars in the constellation of New Mexican cities.

We are situated about twelve miles south-east of Pinos Altos, two miles south of Fort Bayard, seven miles southwest of the celebrated Santa Rita copper mines, and twenty-five west of the Rio Mimbres crossing.
The town embraces the beautiful table land situated between, and near the confluence of the Fort Bayard and Copper Mine creeks. The diamond mines of Golepnda, or the silver mines of Peru never contained greater wealth than the quartz lodes of gold and silver upon which our city itself is located, and were it not for their extent in every direction, we might have good reasons to fear that the permanence of our buildings would be endangered by tunnels and excavations, to secure the precious metals.

The people of Santa Fe are enthusiastic over the prospect of a ditch to be constructed from the Pecos to a gold field twenty-seven miles south of Santa Fe. On the occasion of breaking ground of the proposed enterprise, Hon. W. W. McGee made an appropriate speech, from which we clip the following extract:

This bright and calm day is well suited for the commencement of so great an enterprise. The sun that from his place in the heavens now sheds his brilliant light and rays on all things around, making everything so transcendently beautiful in the garden of nature, and under ancient mountains upon whose rock-ribbed sides are reposing in silence those fleece clouds, and whose peaks are covered with eternal snows, have for centuries of ages looked down upon this beautiful stream, only to behold its waters hurrying away from their mountain home to be lost in the bosom of the far-off sea. To-day they witness a change in the order of nature: man steps in to play an important part in the drama, and this water, hitherto comparatively so little use, is to be converted to a glorious and noble purpose, one that will attach an importance to our Territory heretofore unknown, and open up channels of industry to thousands now unemployed.

I am aware, fellow-citizens, that this is a great undertaking. To construct a ditch sixty miles in length, around mountains, on mesas, and across cañons, will require labor and a large amount of capital; but the work must be done, and it shall be done! The people of New Mexico want and demand it, and the object for which it will be built will recompense those interested, besides doing more to develop the mines of New Mexico, encourage immigration and enrich our Territory, than any other enterprise except the construction of the Pacific Railway through our borders. We know that some will attempt to discourage us, and say the ditch cannot be built. It is to us a matter of regret that there should be such people; they belong to another age and time. All that we ask of the people of New Mexico is their good will towards the enterprise, and we promise them that the work will be pushed on as rapidly as possible—the company will be responsible for the result.

In years past New Mexico and Arizonia were closer knit to us than now, in consequence of our tri-weekly mail service, and the long trains of prairie schooners which carried bither supplies, and brought back the treasures of that region. The copper mines are silent now because there is no means of getting the metal to market, and the gold now being crushed out of quartz and dug from placers, finds other outlets than the shorter and better one to our city.

Our present mail service to El Paso is under the able management of Mr.
B. P. Fieldin, and we feel assured that it will be established after the best plan, and our communication with that region will be regular and certain.

Headquarters, District of Texas.
BUREAU REFUGEES, FREEDMEN AND ABANDONED LANDS.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, APRIL 7, 1868.

[GENERAL ORDER, No. 4.]

To insure greater uniformity of action, and for the general information and guidance of agents and citizens, the following order is published:

1. The "Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands" is established by the laws of Congress, and agents of the Bureau derive their authority for official action from the same source.

2. The duties of agents of the Bureau, (excepting cases of refugees and abandoned lands), are restricted to cases wherein one or both parties shall be freed people. In such cases agents will exercise the jurisdiction attaching to the office of justice of the peace under the laws of this State.

3. Sheriffs and constables will execute all writs issued by Bureau agents, the same as if such writs had issued from a civil court of the State; their fees to be charged and collected as provided by the laws of the State for similar services.

4. Agents of the Bureau will not charge fees for any service rendered by them. They will give advice, and, if necessary, personal supervision in important cases.

5. Appeal will lie from the decision of a Bureau agent to the Assistant Commissioner at this Headquarters, or to the County Court, at the option of the party appealing; notice of appeal to be served on the opposite party. In case the appeal is taken to this Headquarters, the record made before the Bureau agent must be alone sent up for review. If taken to the County Court, it will be done in the mode prescribed by law.

6. All superior tribunals will take jurisdiction of causes, on appeal from Bureau agents, the same as if they had originated before a justice of the peace.

7. Any disregard of this order on the part of the civil officers of the State will be promptly reported to this office.

By command of Brevet Major-General J. J. REYNOLDS, 1st Lieut. 26th Inftry, A. A. A. G.
OFFICIAL: C. S. ROBERTS,
Acting A. A. G.

JOB WORK.

Our patrons are solicited to send in their orders for Bill-Heads, Cards, Circular letters, Checks and every variety of Job Work.

We have secured the services of a first class workman from the east, and have made our Job Department as complete as is possible to have it.

GENERAL REYNOLD'S BUREAU ORDER.

General Reynolds has issued an order, No. 4, dated Austin, April 7th, 1868, to meet the exigency which has arisen by the transfer of the troops from the interior to the frontier.

In lieu of the soldiers, sheriffs and constables are commanded to execute their writs, charging the same fees as for similar services, provided by the law of the State.

Appeal will lie from the decision of the Agent to the Assistant Commissioner at Headquarters. This is the most complete and sensible bureau order yet issued.

The only question which remains is, will the Bureau Agents be able to effect anything when left to the mercy of the civil authorities?

Proceedings of a Public Meeting held at the Court House in San Antonio, April 11, 1868, in regard to our Indian Troubles.

The meeting was called to order by C. G. Napier, Esq.

G. W. Brackenridge, Esq., was elected President, and M. Slocum, Esq., Secretary.

The President stated the object of the meeting, and asked for more particulars in regard to the depredations of the Indians.

Judge W. W. Gamble gave a very clear, distinct, and forcible description of the present condition of our frontier, and urged the importance of our taking some action as a community.

Be it resolved, That a Committee of twenty persons be appointed by this meeting to take the question of the Kickapoo and other Indians and the condition of the frontier in hand.

And it is further resolved, That this Committee be instructed to confer with the Commissioner under the Extradition treaty, to collect affidavits and other evidence, and to prepare resolutions, a petition, or protest, as they may think proper; and that a copy of such resolutions or protest, when prepared, shall be sent to the President of the United States, to the Secretary of State at Washington, to the Secretary of War, to General Grant, to the President of the Senate, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to the Commander of the Fifth Military District, to the Commander of the District of Texas, and to the Governor of the State of Texas; and that the Committee be also empowered to take such other steps as they may deem necessary.

And it is also further resolved, That a Committee of three persons be appointed by the Chair to select the Committee of twenty persons for the approval of this meeting.

The President appointed Messrs. W. W. Gamble, C. G. Napier, and F. Gross, as the three to select the Committee referred to in the resolutions.

While the Committee were selecting the names, the United States Commissioner, the Hon. Judge Noonan, of Castroville, made a most eloquent appeal to the citizens of San Antonio for their influence in obtaining assistance, so as to try and compel the Mexican authorities to carry out in good faith the Extradition treaty, which they were now totally disregarding.

Hon. E. Degener made some very interesting remarks.

The Nominating Committee then reported the following names as the Committee referred to in the above resolutions:

- G. W. Brackenridge, 1
L. Zork, 2
E. Degener, 3
Robert Eagar, 4
Mr. Frank, 5

Which report was received and adopted.

On motion it was

Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be furnished the city papers, and that they, and all the papers in Western Texas, friendly to the cause, be requested to publish the same.

M. SLOCUM, Secretary.

Who are the Aristocratic Bondholders.

The Evening Post calls the attention of those who denounce the aristocratic bondholders to the fact that very few of the leading rich men of our large cities wealthy enough to be styled "aristocratic" own any bonds at all.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—HOUSE—A resolution having in view the reconciliation of South American difficulties was referred to Judiciary Committee; when the House went to impeachment trial. Adjourned.

Impeachment.

SENATE.—No business before the impeachment court. Reading of Journal dispensed with.

M. H. Wood of Alabama, who had been in the Union army testified regarding Johnson's refusing him office because he favored Congress.

Foster Blodgett had both his commissions as Postmaster of Augusta, Ga., with him. Blodgett said he could not learn that the reasons for his suspension were sent to Senate. The defense opened.

Curtis spoke until nearly 4 o'clock, when at his request, the hall being longer than those he was accustomed to speak in, the court adjourned without division.

The Senate went into Executive session and adjourned.

Curtis speech was listened to throughout with marked attention especially by members of the court. Some of his points were startling; he left it with Senators whether they were acting in legislative or judicial capacity. The substance of the first charge on which the eight charges were based, was the removal of Stanton and the appointment of Thomas, and was intended as a violation of the tenure of office act and of the Constitution.

Schenck in making report of committee to the House used the words "term of service." It might as well be said that a King completed the term of his predecessor who had died, as to say that Mr. Johnson was serving out Lincoln's term.

Curtis proceeded showing that heads of departments were the arms and hands of the President; he urged that the heads of departments did not and in fact could not constitutionally come within tenure of office bill, that their exception from the bill was well understood by the Senators and he noticed the absurdity of charging the President with high crimes and misdemeanors for acting in accordance with the policy expressed by the Senate themselves.

The argument that the President's action was in accordance with his precedence and with the Constitution, was too compact in its elaboration for condensation. Curtis is urging the necessity of the power claimed by the President, instanced Floyd's displacement by President Buchanan, where delay would have led to deplorable results and urging that it was the President's duty to maintain his prerogative, he said a trustee would combat unconstitutionally that which worked injury to those whose rights he has in trust and that it was much more the President's duty to guard trusts placed in his hands by all the people.

Curtis said it was a matter of taste how they should be notified. Curtis argued to adjournment. The rules of court showing that these things which the President had done and said in reference to these matters did not apply in the case.

Quite cold nothing was done in either House previous to impeachment trial, when Curtis proceeded with his speech. Gen. Thomas will be first witness for defense that will be examined.

To the Stock Drivers OF TEXAS.

The undersigned take this method of informing the Cattle Drivers of Texas that our Shipping Yards at Abilene, Kansas, will be open free to all to ship this season, these yards are on the Union Pacific road, 100 miles west of Topeka, Kansas, on the only legally authorized route from Texas to the north-west; and are situated in an excellent grazing region, these yards are extensively advertised in the leading north-western papers, calling attention of all classes of buyers, where they can come and supply themselves; and this point will, without doubt, be the best one to which to drive and sell the surplus cattle of the Southwest. Once here, you are accessible by rail to all the markets of the country. We would advise to drive only full grown steers, as they are the most wanted. The proper route to drive is via Bolen's Crossing on Red river, thence to Fort Arbuckle; thence to Chims ranch; thence to the mouth of Little Arkansas; thence to Abilene; total distance from Northern Texas about 350 miles.

We will be at Abilene in the trade, buying, shipping and selling on Commission, &c. We refer to all with whom we dealt the past season. W. K. MCCOY & BRO'S. (March 2d6d3d)

OFFICIAL LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES, Passed at the Third Session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress.

Passed at the third session, which was begun and held at the City of Washington, in the District of Columbia, on Monday, the first day of December, A. D. 1862, and ended on Wednesday, the fourth day of March, A. D. 1863.

Abraham Lincoln, President. Hannibal Hamlin, Vice-President, and President of the Senate. Solomon F. Pott was elected President of the Senate, pro tempore, on the eighteenth day of February, and so acted until the end of the session. Galusha A. Grow, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the said company are hereby empowered to make such additional structure or passage way along either side of the Potomac bridge as may render the same safe for public use, and so as not to hinder the general use of said bridge for ordinary travel, which shall be ascertained by one or more experienced civil engineers, who shall report, by proper surveys and estimates, to the Secretary of the Interior for his approval; the whole cost of which surveys and construction of said additional bridge for the purposes aforesaid to be paid by the said company. And the said company shall construct such draws as shall correspond with those now in use on the said bridge, and of such model as shall be determined by the Secretary of the Interior, and which shall afford reasonable facilities for navigation on the Potomac River.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the said company shall keep that portion of the avenues or streets occupied by their road in good repair, and provided with suitable crossings, at the proper places, for vehicles and wheeled carriages, and for general use. The track of said road shall be laid as nearly in the centre of the street and avenues through which it passes, as may be, without interfering with the water mains and gas pipes, and the speed of travel shall be subject to such regulations as the corporate authorities of the city of Washington shall, from time to time, prescribe, under such penalties as the said corporate authorities shall impose. Provided, however, That the rights and privileges herein granted shall confer no authority or right to interfere with the United States military use or possession of said road or contemplated extension during the present rebellion, or to any claim for damages or indemnification therefor.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the said company may acquire and hold such real and personal estate as the practical use and working of said road may require, under such regulations, and subject to such taxation, as is imposed by law on similar property located in the city of Washington.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That this act take effect from the time of its passage. Approved, March 3, 1863.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the National Academy of Sciences shall consist of not more than fifty ordinary members, and the said corporation hereby constituted shall have power to make its own organization, including its constitution, by-laws, and rules and regulations; to fill all vacancies created by death, resignation, or otherwise; to provide for the election of foreign and domestic members, the division into classes, and all other matters needful or usual in such institution, and to report the same to Congress.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the National Academy of Sciences shall hold an annual meeting at such place in the United States as may be designated, and the academy shall, whenever called upon by any department of the Government, investigate, examine, experiment, and report upon any subject of science or art, the actual expense of such investigations, examinations, experiments, and reports, to be paid from appropriations which may be made for the purpose, but the academy shall receive no compensation whatever for any services to the Government of the United States. Approved, March 3, 1863.

CHAP. LXX.—An Act to establish the Gauge of the Pacific Railroad and its Branches.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the gauge of the Pacific railroad and its branches throughout their whole extent, from the Pacific coast to the Missouri River, shall be, and hereby is established, at four feet eight and one half inches. Approved, March 3, 1863.

CHAP. CXIII.—An act to enable the District Courts of the United States to issue Executions and other final Process in certain Cases.

Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That in all cases wherein the district courts of the United States within and for the several districts of Texas, Florida, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and Kansas had rendered final judgments or decrees prior to the passage of an act entitled "An act to amend the act of the third of March, eighteen hundred and thirty-seven, entitled 'An act supplementary to the act entitled an act to amend the judicial system of the United States,'" approved July fifteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, which cases might have been brought, and could have been originally cognizable in a circuit court, said district courts shall have power to issue writs of execution or other final process, or to cause such other powers and proceedings as may be in accordance with law, to enforce the judgments and decrees aforesaid, anything in said act of the fifteenth of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, to the contrary notwithstanding. Approved, March 3, 1863.

CHAP. CXIV.—An Act to provide for issuing an American Register to the Steam-vessel "Maple-Leaf."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there be issued, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, an American register to the British colonial built steam-vessel "Maple-Leaf," now owned by Charles Spear and J. H. B. Lang, of Boston, in the State of Massachusetts. Approved, March 3, 1863.

CHAP. LXV.—An Act relating to the Validity of Deeds of Public Squares and Lots in the City of Washington.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That no deed or conveyance heretofore made, in pursuance of law, of squares or lots of public land in the city of Washington, by the commissioner of public buildings, or any other authorized officer, shall be deemed invalid in law, for the want of an acknowledgment by said commissioner or other authorized officer before such judicial officers as deeds of real property made between individuals are required by law to be acknowledged. Approved, March 3, 1863.

CHAP. CXVI.—An Act to grant the Right of Pre-emption to certain Purchasers on the "Socool Ranch," in the State of California.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it may and shall be lawful for the commissioner of the general land-office to cause the lines of the public surveys to be extended over the tract of country known as the "Socool Ranch," in California, the claim to which by Don Mariano Gaudalope Vallejo has been adjudged invalid by the supreme court of the United States, and to have approved plats thereof duly returned to the proper district land-office: Provided, That the actual cost of such survey and platting shall first be paid into the surveying fund by settlers, according to the requirement of the tenth section of the act of Congress, approved thirtieth of May, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, "to reduce the expenses of the survey and sale of the public lands in the United States."

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That after the return of such approved plats to the district office, it may and shall be lawful for individuals, bona fide purchasers from said Vallejo, or his assigns, to enter, according to the lines of the public surveys, at one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, the land so purchased, to the extent to which the same had been reduced to possession at the time of said adjudication of said supreme court, joint entries being admissible by coterminal proprietors to such an extent as will enable them to adjust their respective boundaries.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That municipal claims within the limits of the said "Socool Ranch" may be entered under the terms, limitation, and conditions of the town-site act of twenty-third of May, eighteen hundred and forty-four.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all claims within the purview of this act shall be presented to the register and receiver within twelve months after the return of such surveys to the district land office, accompanied by proof of bona fide purchase under Vallejo, of settlement, and the extent to which the tracts claimed had been reduced into possession at the time of said adjudication; and thereupon such cases shall be adjudged by the register and receiver under such instructions as shall be given by the commissioner of the general land office, to whom the proof and adjudication shall be returned by the local land office, and no adjudication shall be final until confirmed by the said commissioner.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That any claim not brought before the register and receiver within twelve months, as aforesaid, shall be barred, and the lands covered thereby, with any other tracts within the limits of said "Socool Ranch," the titles to which are not established under this act, shall be dealt with as other public lands: Provided, That no entry shall be made of lands reserved and occupied for military, naval, or other public uses, or which may be designated for such purposes by the President, nor shall any claim under this act extend to mineral lands. Approved, March 3, 1863.

CHAP. CXVII.—An Act to provide a temporary Government for the Territory of Idaho.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all that part of the territory of the United States included within the following limits, to wit: Beginning at a point in the middle channel of the Snake River where the northern boundary of Oregon intersects the same; then follow down said channel of Snake River to a point opposite the mouth of the Kootenawia, or Clear Water River; thence due north to the forty-ninth parallel of latitude; thence east along said parallel to the twenty-seventh degree of longitude west of Washington; thence south along said degree of longitude to the northern boundary of Colorado Territory; thence west along said boundary to the thirty-third degree of longitude west of Washington; thence north along said degree to the forty-second parallel of latitude; thence west along said parallel to the eastern boundary of the State of Oregon; thence north along said boundary to place of beginning. And the same hereby created into a temporary government, by the name of the Territory of Idaho: Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to inhibit the Government of the United States from dividing said Territory or changing its boundaries in such manner and at such times as Congress shall see convenient and proper, or from attaching any portion of said Territory to any other state or territory of the United States: Provided, further, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to impair the rights of person or property now pertaining to the Indians in said Territory, so long as such rights shall remain unextinguished by treaty between the United States and such Indians, or to include any territory which, by treaty with any Indian tribes, is not, without the consent of said tribe, to be included within the territorial limits or jurisdiction of any state or territory; but all such territory shall be excepted out of the boundaries, and constitute no part of the Territory of Idaho, until said tribe shall signify their assent to the President of the United States to be included within said Territory, or to affect the authority of the Government of the United States to make any regulations respecting such Indians, their lands, property, or other rights, by treaty, law, or otherwise, which it would have been competent for the Government to make if this act had never passed.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the executive power and authority in and over said Territory of Idaho shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States. The governor shall reside within said Territory, and shall be commander in chief of the militia, and superintendent of Indian affairs thereof. He may grant pardons and reprieves for offences against the laws of said Territory, and reprieve for offences against the laws of the United States until the decision of the President of the United States can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of the said Territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.
