Judge Black to the President.

The following is an extract of the letter of Hon. J. S. Black, now in this city, to the President, announcing his purpose to retire from his case:
Your determination to determine nothing for the relief of the owners of the Alta Vela makes it impossible for me to serve you longer as counsel in the impeachment case. They cannot allow their rights to be trifled with, and I cannot advise them to submit in silence to the outrage perpetrated upon them. They must seek elsewhere for the justice you deny them. I am sure you will admit that I have never urged this upon your attention until you had a full opportunity for examining it, nor asked you for a decision until you expressed the opinion that the title was just and legal. Mr. Seward's little finger, it appears, is thicker than the loins of the law. He and the thieves whose interests he has guarded so faithfully are welcome to the short lived victory they have won. My retirement from your case will not probably diminish the chances of its success. When you first expressed the desire that I should be one of your counsel, I gave some reasons why it might be better for you that I should not consent.— Upon Messrs. Curtis and Stanbery these considerations had some weight, but you overruled them without hesitation. If you will reflect upon them again, you will probably see that you have no reason to regret my present decision to retire.
He draws a fine point on Mr. Seward and "the thieves whose interests he has guarded so faithfully."

French Method of Raising Tomatoes.

As soon as a cluster of flowers are visible, the stem is topped down to the cluster, so that the flowers terminate the stem. The effect is, that the sap is impelled into the two buds next below the cluster, which soon push strongly and produce another cluster of flowers each.
When these are visible, the branch to which they belong is also topped down to their level, and this is done successfully. By this means the plants become stout dwarf bushes, not above eighteen inches high. In order to prevent their falling over, sticks or strings are stretched horizontally along the rows, so as to keep the plants erect. In addition to this, all the laterals that have no flowers, and after the fifth topping, all laterals whatsoever are nipped off. In this way the ripe sap is directed into the fruit, which acquires a beauty, size and excellence unattained by other means.

The following little item of interest to the sick, or those who nurse them, we find given in the rounds of the press, and we give it for the benefit of our invalid readers: Frequently we find sick people whose stomachs reject all kind of nourishment until conditions follow that in many instances terminate fatally. In twenty instances in which I have heard the popular sick-bed nourishment prescribed and rejected by an invalid's enfeebled stomach, I have never known the simple saucer of parched corn pudding or bowl of gruel refused. The corn is roasted brown precisely as we roast coffee, ground as fine as meal in a coffee mill, and made either into mush, gruel or thin cakes, baked lightly brown and given either warm or cold, clear, or with whatever dressing the stomach will receive or retain.

The Fremont county, Iowa, Times says of the grasshopper prospect in that region:

"Grasshoppers have hatched out thicker than ever. The ground froze solid last winter with no snow, but they hatched. The prairies were burned over, but they warmed themselves by the fire and came out healthy. It rained, and they looked refreshed. Wednesday night we had a snow storm that would have killed any common critter, and Thursday morning we saw the little cusses pelting each other with snow balls. Like Daniel Webster, they 'aint dead yet.'"

The ritualistic contest in England waxes warmer and questions of candle-sticks and incense are giving place to questions of doctrine. An application has just been made in the court of Queen's Bench to oblige the Bishop of London to proceed against the Rev. J. W. Bennett, vicar of Frome, for heresy. The latter, it is averred, believes in the real presence, and adores the consecrated element.

A Colored American in Europe.

The following interesting letter to Honorable Alexander Ramsey, Senator in Congress from Minnesota, is from the pen of Mr. Thomas Chester, a colored citizen, born in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and during the war the able correspondent of the Washington Chronicle and Philadelphia Press. He will be recollected more particularly for his chastisement of the rebel ruffian who attempted to assail him at Richmond, while he was writing one of his letters in the State Capitol, seated in the Speaker's chair. The sprig of chivalry asked him what he was doing there; and when Chester made no reply, he attempted to drag him from his seat, whereupon our colored correspondent anticipated his violence by coolly knocking him down.
It will be perceived that, armed with letters from Senators Sumner, Ramsey, and others, he has been welcomed not only by the known friends of human freedom in the Old World, but by such sovereigns as the Autocrat of all the Russias, and the King of Denmark. Mr. Chester travels as the representative of the Garnet League, of this city, and his signal success will be pleasant news to his cotemporaries and friends:— [Washington Chronicle.

PARIS, March 7, 1868.

Governor RAMSEY, Washington, D. C.

SIR:—I take this occasion to thank you for the assistance which you offered me in procuring letters of introduction, which have been of great service to the cause of the freedmen in Europe. I wish also to express through you, to the great champion of human rights, Hon. Charles Sumner, my gratitude for the excellent letter which, through you, he supported me and the cause which I have been representing. Through your good offices and others, I have had the pleasure of spending the night at the residence of Hon. John Bright, in England. While I was in Russia, I was invited by the Emperor to accompany his Majesty on a grand review of his Majesty's body guard, about forty or fifty thousand men of all arms; and afterward invited by his Majesty to lunch with his Majesty and suit in the Imperial Palace. Several imperial grand dukes were present.

I have just returned from Denmark, where I have been received with great consideration, as the representative of the Garnet League, whose object is the elevation of the freedmen. I was received by the King in the Royal Palace, in an exceedingly cordial manner, and his expressions of interest in behalf of the freedmen were of the warmest character.

This was on the 31st ultimo. This feeling of interest on behalf of our race was also expressed in a substantial manner, by his Majesty's ministers and many of the nobility and merchants of Copenhagen.

I feel it my duty to communicate these facts to you, and through you to Mr. Sumner, who has contributed so much toward having for the first time a negro received at foreign courts from the United States. General Clay, at St. Petersburg, and Hon. George Yeaman, at Copenhagen, both Southern gentlemen, sent in my name to their respective courts.

Yours, gratefully,
THOMAS CHESTER.

IMMIGRATION. Five hundred Northern and European immigrants a week, it is estimated, pour into Missouri. They take with them, on an average, $1,000 apiece. Five hundred thousand dollars weekly, then, is the revenue from immigration into free Missouri. This increase of capital and sinew, of industry and brain, of intelligence and population, Louisiana can have the moment we adopt the fourteenth amendment, and declare for freedom and the ideas which are carrying forward this age and continent. And this we must do if we desire to grow and flourish. Development will not arise from death. Free Constitutions and hearty sympathy with the party of progress are all the welcome that is wanted to attract to Southern soil thousands of strong Northern arms and millions of solid Northern dollars. We rejoice at the prospect of an early realization of our patriotic hopes.— [New Orleans Republican.

WORTH KNOWING.—A poison of any conceivable description and degree of potency, which has been swallowed intentionally or by accident, may be rendered almost instantaneously harmless by swallowing two gills of sweet oil. An individual with a very strong constitution should take twice the quantity. The oil will neutralize every form of vegetable or mineral poison with which physicians are acquainted.

Demagogism.

The Austin Republican, speaking of the powers of the Convention in its Tri-Weekly issue of the 12th, makes the following remarks:

"Some of our friends out west, on the other hand, think these projects all leather and prunella, and that the sole care of the convention will be to provide for a division of the State with increased gubernatorial and senatorial dignities, which they will have no objection to fill with ease and dignity, or as our dictionary of quotations hath it, 'otium cum dignitate'.

The demagogism which portrudes at every angle of the above sentence, is sufficient to run the conservative party and the writer would be a valuable addition to that party. The assertion that the sole care of any of the Western delegates or republicans is to divide the State and provide extra Senatorships and Governorships, is reckless and untruthful; betraying the true reason of the opposition of the Austin ring to division, who, feeling perfectly confident in their ability to control the distribution of the public pap, if the State remains undivided, are muchly disturbed at the prospect of being compelled to change their base of operations.

Assuming the conviction of the President as a foregone conclusion, and believing it certain, the New York Herald tenders the following advice:

"Mr Johnson's wisest course will be to return to his quiet home in Tennessee, for to swear politicians as a bad lot—the whole of them—lay in a good supply of corn and bacon, like Tyler; cultivate cabbages and philosophy, like Van Buren; get religious, like Old Hickory; and, when tired of the 'world, the flesh and the devil,' write a book, like Buchanan."

THE BOONE BROTHERS AND SISTERS.—The Boone family was not more noted for the daring intrepidity of its members than it was for the great age attained by the brothers and sisters, as will be seen by the following:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Age. Col. Daniel Boone died at 88 yrs. Samuel Boone " " 88. Jonathan Boone " " 86. Squire Boone " " 76. George Boone " " 73. Mrs Wilcox (a sister) " " 91. Mrs Grant, " " 84. Mrs Smith, " " 84.

Number of brothers and sisters, 8—680 years. Their lives averaged 85.

The wife of a Mr. Buchanan, of Fayette county recently eloped with a hired laborer, of her husband, named Carl Schmidt, the pair taking with them the two children, a fine stallion, a horse and mule, cooking utensils, provisions, and $75 in gold. The absconding parties are being pursued.

THE DIVISION—ITS ENEMIES AND FRIENDS.

Up to this time we have pursued the general argument in favor of a division of the State. We have viewed the question in its different bearings upon the future welfare of the people, as a plan to secure a better enforcement of law, to establish a perfect system of common schools; as favoring the separate interests of the different sections; as promotion of internal improvements, and as generally important to the future welfare of the territory now known as Texas.

We have viewed the question as one to be some day settled, and that now was the most favorable to do it. We have felt that it was a question taking, next to loyal reconstruction, precedence to all other questions; that in it was involved all the material interests of the people; and politically we have deemed it as important in striking down the foundation of State Sovereignty and breaking up much of the Lone-Star tom-foolery which was a main-spring of treason and rebellion in Texas.

In presenting this division question we have succeeded in finding out the enemies and friends of the measure. The people of Western Texas are almost unanimously in favor of division; the experience of several years has taught them that the West can expect nothing in the way of friendly legislation from the more populous and powerful East.

Now, who are the enemies of the measure? The great bulk are made up of rampant traitors and secessionists, who oppose division because it is considered a measure originating with loyal men; and upon general States Rights grounds; to this rebel element can be added the Austin ring of politicians, with "The Republican" as their organ. The exact grounds of the opposition of the Austin ring does not appear publicly, but it is altogether political, and partakes of a brutal character.

This is not simply a measure for the present moment; its consequences are fruitful for generations to come upon the prosperity of the people in this portion of the American Union; and we do not study the situation from a partisan standpoint, or count the weight of one large State against two or more smaller ones; but we take the broadest, most republican view of the question, and believe that the wisdom which suggested the insertion of the power to divide Texas in its first Constitution is to-day ripe for consummation.

Mrs. Ben. Butler is a dark-eyed, handsome, and very young-looking lady, with a fine bodily carriage and much elegance of dress. Blanche Butler has dark auburn hair, fine expressive eyes, and a skin where the rose and the lily blend. She wears generally a green silk dress. Her figure is like her mother's, slender and tall.

Among the wedding presents received by Miss Dix, daughter of Gen. Dix, at her nuptials in Paris, were twelve magnificent fans, almost as many lace pocket handkerchiefs, four lace parasols and a pair of diamonds.

TELEGRAPHIC

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.]

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Senate.—The communication from General Grant contains voluminous information from the Southern States, referred to military committee.

The Chair presented the constitution of S. C. which was referred to committee on territories. The joint resolution of the Ohio Legislature relative to the preservation of life on internal waters, was referred to committee on commerce.

Sherman presented a resolution of the Ohio Legislature protesting against reconstruction acts, and instructing Senators and requiring representation to vote for their repeal, also protesting against the bill limiting the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. Sherman regarded this as extraordinary and at this instance was tabled.

Foray's resignation was laid on the table against Cameron's motion, that it be accepted immediately.

The bill admitting Arkansas, after an effort to pass it at once, was referred to the judiciary committee with instructions to report on Saturday so that the Senate could act on it on Monday. Adjourned till Saturday.

House.—The bill admitting several of the Southern States, taken up. Mr. Stevens offered the following amendment:

Provided, that the provisions of 17th section of the constitution of the State of Georgia shall not apply to a debt due to any person who during the whole time of the late rebellion was loyal to the United States and opposed secession.

Mr. Stevens gave notice that he would call the previous question this evening in order that the vote might be taken the first thing to-morrow.

Mr. Beck argued in opposition, making very strong points. Mr. Robinson followed.

The House adjourned without considering the previous question. This morning's Times, Copperhead, says, impeachment has failed, the postponement until Saturday is a confession of fact in behalf of prosecution, that it will not be taken even then unless conviction be certain, indicates a belief that the whole thing will be abandoned.

VIENNA, May 13.—The bill guaranteeing trial by jury was passed in lower House.

CINCINNATI, May 14.—Coburn the pugilist arrived and was arrested, and bailed in the sum of $10,000 not to fight in Ohio.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Wheat crop 20,000,000 bushels; barley 10,000,000 bushels; oats 25,000,000 bushels.

SELEMA, ALA., May 13.—Two men, named Barker and Waller, were brought here to-day, in irons, by the military authorities from Sumpter county; charged with lynching the murderer of Burns who was killed in Morgan county some few weeks ago.

The ladies held a large meeting here to-day and appointed a committee to visit General Meade in behalf of Eutaw prisoners.

SICK SENATORS. WASHINGTON, May 14.—Senator Howard was very restless last night, and still delirious.

Senator Grimes' right arm is partially useless. Visitors are denied the privilege of seeing Senator Conkling; his sickness is not considered serious.

RUMORS. WASHINGTON, May 14.—It is feared that the President will not be able to withstand the pressure; already he evinces symptoms of delerium.

Great confusion is evident in high circles. It is rumored that Mr. Colfax will be made President, instead of Mr. Wade, which now it is thought will insure conviction, Mr. Wade resigning his position as Chairman of the Senate.

The Chicago Post sustains Senator Troubull. The impeachment pressure is tremendous, and the result is claimed as certain for both sides.

It is asserted that in case of a favorable chance for Mr. Johnson, the vote will not be taken until after the Chicago Convention.

EUROPEAN. LONDON, May 14.—Queen Victoria laid the corner stone of the St. Thomas Hospital to-day.

The corporation authorities of London have adopted resolutions of condolence because of Prince Alfred's wounds.

In the House of Commons Gladstone moved a bill stopping the appointments in the Irish Church and suspending action on Irish church commission for a limited period.

Mr. Adams took final leave of the Queen, left Legation in charge of Mr. Moran.

Rye Flour for Bread.
Mr. William Ray Smee, writing in the London Morning Star, directs attention to the use of rye bread, on the score of cheapness. The writer adverts to the fact "that bread made from rye is eaten by all ranks of society in the northeast of Europe, and is scarcely ever absent from the tables of the noble and wealthy, because two sorts of bread are considered more wholesome and more nourishing than the exclusive use of one." Of the two kinds of bread—the rye and the finest wheat—made at the Vienna bakery at the Paris exhibition, and served at the adjoining lager beer drinking hall, the ryebread was largely taken in preference. The case of a German is cited, who in his own country used to eat a slice of wheat bread and a slice of rye bread together, and who, on his coming to reside in England, suffered much in health from the entire use of wheat bread.

Rye is a certain crop in this section of Texas, and the German farmers universally use rye bread, and the rye is very fine.

One of the guests at Dickens banquet says of George William Curtis: "He looks the heavy powerful man which he has come to be in politics. The lines about his mouth are deeply cut, and the falls of flesh, which help to form the features, assert their own importance with emphasis. There is nothing in his face indicative of the sullen or bitter, as is often seen in the faces of contestants, but he shows the marks of heavy thought and heavy work. One can see nothing in his face to remind one of his earlier sketches from "the watering places," or of "Prue and L." Something, indeed, of "Trumps" may be seen in his face, but he has developed, physiognomically, as in his tastes and his ambition, into a hard thinking, serious, strongly partisan statesman."
