Nominees of the National Republican Convention at Chicago, May 21, '63.

For President,
U. S. GRANT.

For Vice-President,
Schuyler Colfax.

TO THE CONVENTION.

The Constitutional Convention met yesterday in Austin to frame a Constitution for the future guidance and government of Texas. The interest that is represented is probably as diversified as that of any body ever convened for law-making purposes. The cotton grower, wheat grower and stock raiser, each has his representative. The peculiar condition of the times in our robber and murder ridden State, requires that the individual interest be forgotten in the all-absorbing question of life and liberty, for what does it avail a man, to have all the luxuries and advantages in the gift of providence, if he lives in dread of being shot in cold blood from behind a tree, every time he leaves his home, and the murderer made a hero and encouraged in returning to your home under pretence of law executed by perfidious traitors; rob your little ones of their means of subsistence. It is not a question, whether our families shall associate with negroes or whites, gamblers or christians, vice or virtue; all the law under the canopy of heaven cannot regulate social compacts; social law is higher than statute law. We see this in Texas, whose statutes prescribe the severest penalties for murder, yet under the demoralization of her society, criminals ride rough-shod over the people, and statute law is crowded out of sight.

Experience, personal contact, has taught every loyal man that to express his views boldly, he is avoided by the adherents of the "lost cause," as if he were a leper, to be on social terms with them he must abnegate the declaration of Independence, no concession will win them as our friends. The result of the war is in favor of human liberty, and we must gather the fruit without consulting an uncompromising enemy.

The Germans, (and we speak by authority) will lend these frightened cowards their influence towards passing a law protecting them against social equality with the black race.

Our devil (who is a little soft) says, after reading the Gazette article, "Why are the Conservatives always talking about protecting our wives and daughters, ain't the yellow people children of black mother?" "Why don't they protect our fathers and bro," a slap on the shoulder stopped the question. We must say the question set us thinking, and we appeal to the Gazette to answer the devil's question.

The Republican Convention.

We hope that every district in the State will send delegates to the Republican State Convention, called to meet on the 4th of July next at Austin. This is a matter of greater importance to the Union men of this State than they seem to realize. At the Convention of last year, held at Houston, at the suggestion of "leading" men, in Austin, the executive committee was claimed by Austinites as a matter of course, and granted them.

This was a great mistake. The Committee has not consulted the wishes of the State in its proceedings, and we know they have used their influence against one of the dearest objects of the party, i. e. division. They mis-represent the party of Texas, and there is no use of trying to disguise the dissatisfaction at their cause. Gov. Pascoe has favored and opposed division within the past two months. Gov. Hamilton has used his powerful influence at Washington against it.

While we accord every man the liberty to his own views, we hope to be allowed as much. This we say that the party may understand itself. We, in common with the Galveston Republicans do not accord all the wisdom of the State, to a few men around the Capitol. And the next executive committee should be selected with a view to principles not men or locality.

Each District is allowed two delegates for each member of the Constitutional Convention, and it is suggested where it is inconvenient to send delegates, the member of the Convention be authorized to poll two votes.

The Germans—Will they Unite with the Negroes?

Under this heading the Austin Gazette has a labored article arguing why the Germans should not co-operate with the negroes; a class designated by the Gazette, as the lowest type of the human race.

If the Gazette has not already learned, it is time it should commence to learn, that the Germans in their intelligence feel themselves secure against forced social relations with the negro. It is only those who are so near the negro in their education and manners who need to be afraid of having to associate and intermarry with a race they profess to be so far above.

The Germans, (and we speak by authority) will lend these frightened cowards their influence towards passing a law protecting them against social equality with the black race.

Our devil (who is a little soft) says, after reading the Gazette article, "Why are the Conservatives always talking about protecting our wives and daughters, ain't the yellow people children of black mother?" "Why don't they protect our fathers and bro," a slap on the shoulder stopped the question. We must say the question set us thinking, and we appeal to the Gazette to answer the devil's question.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES.]

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Senate. After unimportant business, went into executive session and adjourned. In course of debate, Mr. Wilson stated he would never consent to an adjournment, until the Southern States were readmitted.

On the adoption of the 14th article to the Constitution, Frelinghuysen maintained that while Congress could not impose a Constitution upon the States, neither could a State withdraw assent after once in the hands of the Government. Williams took same view.

Doolittle characterized Arkansas Constitution, as anti-christian and anti-republican.

Trumbull did not believe in fundamental conditions, but would vote for them to save bill.

Ferry's amendment striking out, lost, twenty to twenty.

Several motions to adjourn failed, until Drake commenced reading written speech.

Edmund's amendment, reported yesterday, failed without division.

House—Butler offered a resolution forbidding any communication reaching Wooley, and that speaker open and read them. Speaker declined opening sealed letter or telegram, even if ordered by the House, maintaining that it would be against the honor of Speaker, to make a jailor of the Speaker.

It was ordered that communications reach prisoner through sergeant-at-arms, but family council and physician be allowed free access and private interviews.

Executive session unimportant, workmen are engaged in placing additional securities to doors and windows of Capital prison.

Vinnie Reams is preparing her models for removal. Her friend Mrs. Banning is preparing to secure rooms in the Capitol longer.

Revenue for the week, $4,714.00.

The following is the telegram which led to restriction on Wooley's correspondence:

Metropolitan Hotel, New York.—To G. W. Wooley—Citizen and sovereign imprisoned by the order of tyrants and cowards, in the capitol of America. Stand firm, every true man in the land, with blood in his veins, will stand by you. Its the last feather that breaks the camel's back.

Signed, Geo. O'JONES.

AUGUSTA, May 30.—Citizens arrested in Hamburg and carried to Aiken are released on a promise to give bail for appearance, when trial takes place.

Jno. J. Clayton, an old citizen merchant, committed suicide by firing contents of shot gun in his breast.

Accounts from South-West Georgia state one-third less cotton planted than last year, plenty of corn and wheat. A large yield is anticipated.

CHARLESTON, May 30.—Although there is a large majority of freedmen, rebels assert that Gen. Canby appointed negro aldermen because people did not pay him social respect, his motive being to punish and humiliate them for their ostracism.

LONDON, May 30.—Disraeli writing Gladstone admits hopelessness and abandons any further opposition to Irish Church bill.

Weather favorable for crops.

RICHMOND, May 30th.—Seven thousand graves of Union martyrs in the National cemetery, near the city, were decorated to-day. Over four thousand persons present. The people turned out in large numbers with flowers for the graves, and marched with flags. Government offices were all closed. An address was delivered by Rev. R. M. Moody.

Gen. Schofield will return in ten days, to turn over the Department to his successor.

PARIS, May 30.—Senate passed a law regulating public meetings.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—London Parliament adjourned to July 4th. Whitmonday, will be observed as a holiday.

Edmund Cooper is relieved from assistant secretaryship Treasury, ad interim, term having expired.

It is expected Schofield takes charge of the war office Monday, though not positively known he will accept.

RICHMOND, Va., May 1.—It is now probable that Davis trial will be postponed until October, as the leading Council on both sides have agreed on that time, the witnesses had been summoned for next Wednesday; Mr. Davis has not arrived here in view of probability of postponement.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Day and night found voting places generally crowded with negroes, election progressing quietly.

At 10 o'clock the President conducted Schofield to the War Department. After the President left, Grant visited Schofield.

Senate discussing resolution thanking Stanton.

LANCASTER, June 1.—James Buchanan died this morning, aged 77 years.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Two heavy earthquake shocks, Saturday night, extended throughout Nevada. At Virginia city the buildings rocked and the people fled; mining was stopped. No damage reported.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—James Buchanan died this morning, aged 77 years.

Market dull, cotton nominally 29c, stock on hand 572.

It is officially reported that $150,000 have annually been collected from the negroes of Baltimore as their proportion of school tax and this sum together with the other school tax has been exclusively used to educate white children.

What is Southern chivalry?

The trustees of the Peabody school fund have determined to allow Texas no share in this handsome fund.
