The Division of the State.

The division of the State is creating profound impression at Austin. The bill before Congress dividing Texas into three States, with the Colorado for the boundary of the Western Texas; the middle State beginning between the the Colorado and Trinity, and the northera or castom State bounded by the Trinity. This division meets the hearty support of the eastern Texas men, and a majority of the middle State men. The west Texas delegates gramble at it, as we wanted to the Brazos, but we will take this location of the divi ion question and be thankful. The Austin LEAD. ING men are very blue; they pulled against all division and did all in their power to defeat the movements of the people of Western Texas, and now, alas, Austin is left standing a State line, with none so poor as to do her reverence. The middle State men complain bitterly that Austre properly, is left in their State, they have no use for it; the eastern State men rejoice mightily that they have a State between them and Austin.

The great men at the Capital look blue, their wings have been clipped; they can lay all their misfortunes at their own doors. We have the Institute for the dumb in our State. The committee on division will report in accordance with the Congressional bill, and there will be a large majority in the convention will sustain the committee. Austin remains the capital of the middle State a short time, until a capital is erected at Waco. Tyler will ne doubt be the capital of the eastern State, and San Antonio of the western or State of Lincola.

JUNE 10, 1868. Sin :- In answer to your letter I have to say the following : In ordinary times, when the State government has sufficient power to same be spread on the journals of this suppress crime and bring offenders against the law to justice, all criminals should be tried before the courts of the country, no matter of what nature the crime committed may have been. It certainly will happen in some cases, that high criminals who doubtless deserve death as a punish ment, escape from the hands of instice, or as we in our unfortunate State of Texas, have witnessed in many cases, that cold blooded murderers can publicly boast of their deeds without even being molested by the authorities. But all this would not the motion to lay the protest upon the justify citizens in taking the execution of law into their own hands. Public peace, the law itself, and the dignity of the people, demands that a lawful course shall be taken in bringing criminal to justice. But in extraordinary times, in times of revolution and war, in times when civil authori ties have not sufficient power to arrest Augustine, Ruby, Slanghter, Smith of and punish criminals, when murder Galvesson, Smith of Marion, Sumper, is committed nearly daily, and when Vaughan, Watrous, Whitmore, Whit is committed nearly daily, and when Vaugnan, liams 41. outlaws have gathered in secret organizations, whose outspoken object it is to persecute and murder a Burnett, Caldwell, Cole, Evans of Titus, Certain class of citizens, then I say, W. June 20th, 1868, The wenter met i pursiqui to adjourts ment; roll called quorum, present. Prayer by the chaplain; journal of yes erday read and adopted.

Armstrong of Jasper offered the following protest:
To the Hon, E. J. Davis, President of the Convention: The undersigned delegates ask leave to present their objections to the passage of the resolution offered by the Hon-delegate from Travis county, A. J. Hamilton, on the 15th just,, urging upon the Congress of the United States the necesity of authorizing the organization by this convention, of a militia force in the several counties of this State, to act in conjunction with and under directions of the military commander therein. In the first we are of opinion that the rumore and reports in regard to lawless ness and crime, are greatly exaggerated, and many of them have no fouedation in fact; and if the power asked be grant-will be unfavorable to the promotion of seace and good order. We believe furthermore, that the organization of such a force, by a political party, would only tend to exasperate the ablic mind, and, in all probability, have be effect to produce conflicts of races, and in our judgment the officers of the provisional government, if they will do their duty, together with the military, are fully able to bring all transgressors to punishment; and we do not hesitate ed, owing to the existence of much excitement and unfounded fears, the result

In our opinion, this reso ution, if not an expressed, is an implied censure of the commander of this military district, and the granting of such power would invest the communities of this State, through this convention, with power over the district commander, within the limits of this State. Seeing no good that will probably result from the passage of the resolution, we respectfully submit this protest and ask that the convention.

Hamilton have the same under consideration and berewith transmit the same to the convention, with the recommendation that is do para G. W. WHITHORE,

Chairman. Mr. Glenn offered the following mi tority report

COMMITTER ROOM. To the Hon. E. J. Davis, President of the Couvention!

Sir-I do not think that the adoption of the resolution appropriating $25,000 for the arrest of desperadors and thieves, as recommended by the majority report of the committee on finance, accessary or expedient.

It seems to me that the measures of he Convention to secure the organization of a militia force throughout the State by Congress, to act in compandion with the military and civil already existing in this State, if of any effect at all, are sufficient to laswer any emergency that may arrive in the apprehension and arrest of those cont implated in the original resolution.

The military commander in this State has, by his order, shown an entire wile linguess and earnest desire to furnish a sufficient force to any of the post commanders throughout the State to give protection to the various sections or districts where they may be located. And in no instance has he internated that his powers were not adequate; and when I consider the sid he offers in connection with the powers of civil officers in the State, who by law have the authority to call to their aid the posse commitatus, ogether with the various expenditures which are bound to be met in gress of reconstrution from the Treasury epartment, I am driven to the conclu sion that the majority report in this be-half should not be adopted by this con-vention. All of which I most respectfully submit.

MARSHALL GLENN, Mr Degener moved to suspend rules. to take into consideration the majority eport of the finance committee upon the esolution offered by Mr. Evans of Mc-Lennan, appropriating $25,000 to be used by the Governor of the State in apprehending lawless persons.

A Scene AT THE HERALD OFFICE. eing anxious to ascertain what success would attend the aspirant to the ditorship of our neighbor, we dispatched our devil, who on his return reported the following with great gusto :

"When our worthies entered the office, the ex editor, having remarked the wet-purse that it looked a very overty-stricken concern, asked to be introduced to the proprietor, who, upon his appearance, was scanned by the pair very superciliously, as if doubting their senses, that the man before them could be even the reputed editor of that paper. 7. 3 AO HO

"Well, old hoss, there are always two in a bargain," and with that he quietly pulled out his revolver, which he proceeded to cook. The conversat on, which had been overheard by the one journeyman printer and three boys, constituting the effective force of the office, set up the most dismal howls at the sight of the weapon, seconded, as he was, in his action by the "wet-nurse."

"That pistol, sir. bas sent many a Orrice Caur Q'a Masten, 5th Mil. Dist. It is in consequence of this appointment that an attack upon our worthy Major's character has been made to provoke a response ; that the fiendish advice is given to sweep the whole corporation from the face of the earth, although that paper has the effrontery to circulate a petition in order to obtain the city printing.
