The World Whipped Into the Traces.

The country between forlorn Democracy, "anxious and aimless," and the vigorous and handsome Mr. Chase, does not prosper. Chase might have objected to the more than doubtful reputation of the creature, but he only insisted that she should come to him as a tutor, and that he would not go to her or that land. At first Democracy seemed inclined to consent to these humiliating terms—so great was the need of a male protector. But pride held her back, and while she hesitated, Chase became weary by these leap-year operations and made a bid. He publicly announced that he would accept if the offer should be made on his own terms. But as he warns the lady, cool. His anxiety chills her soul. Other anxious press, less eligible, perhaps, but also less harsh in terms and more congenial in disposition. Chase is evidently going to get jilted.

In sober earnest, Mr. Chase has written one letter to many. He has betrayed too plainly the Presidential monomaniac which has made him unacceptable to Republicans. As long as he seemed to be independent and firm in adherence to principle, he had some strength with the people, and that strength alone led Democrats to think of selecting him. Disclosing his antislavery, and acknowledging a willingness to abandon or modify a part of his cherished principles if the Democrats would consent to drop their hostility to equal suffrage, he has greatly weakened his hold upon public confidence, and has consequently disillusioned the desire of Democrats to nominate him. Chase without popularity, no Democratic afford to try at such a price. Accordingly, the New York World coolly throws him overboard, in a manner not at all complimentary. In truth, the Chief Justice has not added to his reputation by these negotiations. It was a disgrace which he cannot easily efface from the memory that he consented on any terms to be the candidate of Copperheads and rebels, renegades and anti-slavery men. It is very well to say that they were to "come to him," the fact is, that in coming together, they would not change their opinions, nor he his, but both would agree to an attempt to defraud the public into the sake of a victory. Mr. Chase knows that the Democratic party is, and knows that in spite of any professions which fear might extort, it has no sympathy with him or with other loyal men. After election, it is certain, it would hoist the old colors, and, being master of the city, would force Mr. Chase to sail under them, or jump overboard. Bidding for an office never helps a man with the Americans; offering to abandon the friends of many years, and consort with men who have vilified him as they have assailed the republic, for a chance for the Presidency, assuredly does not hit Salmon P. Chase in the estimation of good citizens. The bargain would have been so indecent that the world, conscious of a willingness to make it, must destroy respect for a politician so hungry and unscrupulous.

The World, which represents the brains of the Democratic party, has not been taught the lesson which the Chicago Times learned a year or more ago—that brains have no business in that party at all. Its prejudices, its passions, its mean antipathies, its ignorance and stupidity, control it as completely to day as in 1860, or during the war. Mr. Marble is a man of rare ability and shrewdness, self-composed to association with the blindest tools that ever yet scorned good counsel and courted destruction. With excellent sense, he showed that it would be "suicide" for the Democrats to go into the Presidential fight without chance of dividing the negro vote, and urged that it was time to purify the party of sympathy with rebellion, and to accept the results of the war. But the sovereign stupidity of the party instantly asserted itself. The World was denounced as a traitor to the party, its advice, gladly accepted by sensible leaders, was spurned by the great body of Democrats, and all the newspaper hounds of rebellion began to yell at its heels most savagely. The result was inevitable. With a sense enough to lead any party that could be led by good counsel, the World has not the pluck to force the party to its own position. Therefore it backs down. Of Mr. Chase, it says, "there has never been any likelihood that he would receive the Democratic nomination. The Democratic party may be unable to revoke negro suffrage, but they certainly are not going to endorse it, as they would virtually do by nominating a man who makes it the corner stone of his political creed. As he regards negro suffrage as a blessing instead of an atrocious though perhaps irretrievable blunder, we do not see how he and the Democratic party can have any bond of fellowship. We did not object to a parley, but it was certain from the beginning

Nominations of the National Republican Convention at Chicago, May 31, '68.

For President:

U. S. GRANT.

For Vice-President:

Schuyler Colfax.

Division of Texas.

This question seems to absorb all others for the time being, and is one of which much can be said, both for and against.

The State of Indiana, embracing all that portion of Texas between the Rio Grande and Colorado, from the 32d parallel to the Gulf of Mexico, extending nine hundred miles from El Paso to the mouth of the Colorado, and three hundred from Eagle Pass to Columbus, is by nature and the customs of her people as much divided from the rest of Texas, as if an impassable gulf intervened. The inhabitants of this region, save a few around the little towns, are inured to work—they have never depended upon the muscle of the negro for their support and hence only need a haven of Northern or European industry to enable the masses to rise, and with their own strong arms develop the wealth of the land.

It is true we have heretofore led an indolent, pastoral life, so profitable that energy was superfluous. Yet the agricultural thrift of our German settlements has proved ours to be a prolific and profitable breeding land.

Never, in its whole history, has Texas shown such discouraging signs of drought and barrenness as California did during the first few years of its settlement; yet to-day California exports bountifully to all parts of the world, not excepting New York; and her agricultural revenues are now double those of her mineral revenues.

Texas (or more properly Houston), the neighbor of Lincoln, across the Colorado, more particularly after passing the Brazos (our first choice of a dividing line), is wholly different—embracing the region containing large plantations and the more influential devotees of the slave system. It is impossible for her "leading" men to divest themselves of the prejudice against those who have been instrumental in depriving them of their slaves; these men are wedded to their idol. Republicanism with them means robbery; free labor means destruction; free schools mean poverty; according to their views there can be no justice in law, unless their slaves are either returned to them or they are placed in poorness, to be remanded by the "anterior class" to a life worse than slavery.

These are the men who are murdering negroes and Union men throughout Texas to-day; they shoot their prosperous, free slaves, rather than be placed in competition with them as citizens; or, where they do not bloody their own hands, they harbor the ruffians who do the bloody work, and thus continue murder in its worst form. There is no middle ground with them; they are determined to rule or ruin. The masters being in their hands, they are a double curse; and until time extinguishes them, will their continue to blight the region they inhabit.

There are many excellent and thrifty settlements in the region last described, but the disaffected, non-producers are too numerous. The vigilance necessary to prevent them from re-enslaving the laborers would develop an empire. And without them the State of Lincoln will rise, like a Phoenix, from the dead Confederacy, and stand, a rebuke to treason and a noble monument to the memory of America's martyrs.

THE CONVENTION.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY.

CAPITOL, Austin, Texas.

June 26, 1868.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment; roll called; quorum present. Prayer by the chaplain. Journal of yesterday read and adopted.

Armstrong of Lamar presented the following petition:

We, the undersigned citizens, permit-and agree that our names may be used in a convention of the State of Texas, convened at Austin on the — day of June, A.D. 1868.

Saying and convention to meet at a new county out of the territory between the Sulphur. Beginning on South Sulphur, and running thence, then north to Charles Jenkins's to North Sulphur, then down North Sulphur to the east boundary line of Lamar county, then south to South Sulphur, then up said Sulphur to the beginning, and said new county to be called Bombo, and the county site to be situated as near the centre of said new county as practicable, left to a majority of the voters, and said county site to be called —.

(Signed by) —, Paul H. BOYNTON
and 86 others.

On motion, the petition was referred to the committee on general provisions.

Mr. Thomas presented the following petition:

To the Hon. President and members of the Texas Convention:

We, the undersigned citizens, living within the limits of the proposed new county, owing to the great inconvenience in attending to legal business at the county sites of Denton, Cook, Grayson, and Collin, caused by distance and high water, respectfully ask your honorable body to establish a new county, to be called White, having Pilot Point as county site, the boundary line being, as nearly as may be, as follows:

Beginning on the east bank of Elm fork of Trinity river, on the south boundary line of a survey made for J. W. Visor, about ten miles N. 45° E. from the town of Denton.

Thence southeast to the southwest corner of a survey made for T. Button on Doe Branch.

Thence east to the last boundary line of Denton county, and passing said line, corner in Collin county.

Thence north parallel with the west boundary line of Collin county to the north boundary line of Collin, and passing said line six miles, corner in Grayson county.

Thence west and parallel with the north boundary line of Denton, to Elm fork of Trinity.

Thence with the meanderings of the stream to the place of beginning.

(Signed by) —, A. C. WARREN
and 200 others.

On motion, the petition was referred to the committee on counties and county boundaries.

Evans of McLennan, from the committee on federal relations, made the following report upon the resolution of Mr. Mills respecting the county of El Paso:

CONVENTION ROOM,
June 26, 1868.

To the Hon. E. J. Davis, President of the Convention:

Sir.—Your committee to which was referred the resolution of Mr. Mills, relinquishing the political jurisdiction and right of public domain over El Paso county to the United States, have laid the same under consideration, and beg leave to report that, in the opinion of a majority of the committee, a separate government is necessary for the welfare of the people of that county, and believing that the State will sacrifice no material interest in granting what is requested, we recommend that the resolution do pass.

E. J. EVANS,
Chairman Com. Fed. Relations.

McCormick offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That all resolutions and declarations originating in, or reported up favorably by any of the committees of the convention, shall be printed and laid upon the desks of each of the members.

On motion, the rules were suspended and resolution passed.

Lindsay introduced the following declaration:

Resolved by the people of Texas in convention assembled, That a provision to the following effect be inserted in the constitution about to be framed by this convention:

Sec. — The Legislature shall provide by law for a geological survey of the State, and to this end a Geological Bureau shall be established by law, composed of a State Geologist and such assistants as may be deemed necessary, who shall receive such compensation for their services as may be prescribed by law. The State Geologist shall make a report, through the Governor, to each regular session of the Legislature.

On motion, the declaration was referred to the committee on the judiciary.

Lindsay introduced the following resolution:

Resolved by the people of Texas in convention assembled, That the following provision shall be inserted in the Constitution of the State of Texas:

Sec. — Whenever it becomes necessary under the laws, that the State should be a party, plaintiff or defendant, in any suit or judicial proceeding, no bond shall ever be required by the State.

On motion, the resolution was referred to the committee on the judiciary.

Lindsay introduced the following declaration:

Be it declared by this Convention that the following be a section of the Constitution of the State of Texas:

We, the undersigned citizens, permit-

that burying grounds, public school houses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for any noble purpose, shall never be taxed.

On motion, the declaration was referred to the committee on finances.

Burnett introduced the following declaration:

Resolved, That the following be an article of the Constitution of Texas:

Art. — The social status of the citizen shall never be a subject of legislation in this State.

On motion, the declaration was referred to the committee on general provisions.

Armstrong of Lamar offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committees on general provisions, the public lands, and the public debts, be authorized to employ one clerk, whose duty it shall be to act as clerk to said committees.

Hamilton of Bastrop moved that the rules be suspended to take up resolution.

Carried.

The question recurring upon the adoption of the resolution, it was adopted.

Thomas moved to take up the business on the President's table.

Carried.

The President announced the first business in order was the report of the committee on commerce and manufactures, with accompanying resolutions respecting taxation upon machinery.

Burnett moved the resolution be postponed until next Thursday, July 2, 1868, at 10 o'clock.

Hamilton of Bastrop, moved that the convention resolve itself into committee of the whole upon the report of the committee upon federal relations.

Carried.

Mr. Armstrong of Lamar in the chair.

Committee rose, reported progress, and asked leave to sit again on Monday at 10 o'clock.

Leave granted.

On motion the convention adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

MR. MILLS' PROPOSITION.

Mr. Mills, delegate to the Reconstruction Convention from El Paso county, has introduced a proposition to the effect that the State of Texas relinquish the political jurisdiction and right of public domain over El Paso county, in order that the people of that county, in conjunction with the people of Don Anna in New Mexico, may form a separate Territory.

This proposition came up in the regular order of business on Saturday morning.

Mr. Mills wanted to rush it through, giving as his reason that if it was not settled before the State was divided, the Western Texas Convention would not grant his petition.

The hour for the special order of the day, the report of the division of the State arriving, a motion was made postponing the special order until Tuesday morning, which was lost by a tie vote.

A reconsideration was moved, which was lost. So that the special order came on, thus postponing action on Mr. Mills' proposition.

Mr. Mills' appeal to members of other portions of the State not interested, to save him from the section interested, was most unfair, as the county of El Paso lies in the State west of the Colorado river, and the other portions of the State are not particular about the matter.

While the people of Western Texas are desirous of getting rid of the trouble of taking care of El Paso county, we hope to dispose of it at some advantage to the United States Government.

It embraces a fine mineral region, which will sell all the balance of our western territory. The haste displayed on the part of Mr. Mills evidences hidden reasons, as it is certain the matter must finally be the work of Congress. Should the Convention vote Western Texas out of El Paso county, it will be the privilege of the people of Western Texas, if the division takes place and that county is embraced, to protest against such action.

On motion that Campbell be sworn in, 19 votes cast, all affirmatively.

Campbell took his seat; giving radial's twenty present, no democratic member could obtain recognition from the Chair.

O. J. Dunn, Lt. Governor, president of Senate, communicated the following telegram from Grant to Buchanan:

I have no orders at present to go, but I repeat to you, as heretofore, that the members of the Louisiana Legislature are only required to take the oath prescribed by their constitution, and are not required to take the test oath prescribed in reconstruction acts. Gen. Winder and Canby on this view of the case.

[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

Buchanan directs oath prescribed by constitution, and no other be required.

Dunn suggested communication be referred to committee, suggestion adopted.

Resolution ratifying 14th amendment, offered, but postponed till House was heard from. Adjourned.

Copy of Grants telegram read to House, referred to committee.

Committee on election report adversely to entire democratic delegation from Tadjo Parish, whose names appear in election order, republicans accordingly sworn in. Adjourned.

City Comptroller, Sheriff and Attorney have taken possession of their offices under Buchanan's order of Saturday, taking constitutional oath.

The various associations are requested to meet on the Alamo Plaza, at 7 o'clock A. M. Saturday morning, (4th inst.) and form in procession, under the directions of Gen. Lawler, the Grand Marshal, and his assistant, and march at 8 o'clock precisely up Paseo street, meeting the Military at Head-quarters, at the Commissary building, thence up Paseo street to Flores, down Flores to the Military Plaza, crossing Plaza to the Cathedral, thence across main Plaza down Commerce street, back to Alamo Plaza, where the procession will be arranged around a stand prepared for the purpose, when the "Declaration of Independence" will be read by Capt. W. H. Huston.

After which the ceremonies will be concluded with an address delivered by General V. P. Van Antwerp, after which the procession will disperse.

Very respectfully,
GUSTAVUS FRASCH,
Secretary of Committee.

MAYOR'S COURT—June 30, 1868.—Andrew Dailey, for being found very drunk and laying upon the public street; was provided with the soft side of a plank for the night, and this morning was brought before his Honor, who, however, discharged him, as he begged most pitifully; when in the goodness of his heart he presented the police officer who arrested him with a merchant pipe. Thus the affair all ended in smoke.

Thomas A. Jackson, was found by Watchmen Benick, drunk and asleep in the Market; but upon being brought before the Mayor, was, by reason of its being his first offense, discharged from custody.

D. E. Evans, for getting drunk and endeavoring to monopolize Captain Sawyer's Auction room in this city, was arrested and brought before his Honor, who discharged him upon his promising to be a better and sober man in future, and to be going, going, going home as soon as possible.

Dimitrio Trivino, for being very drunk and disorderly upon the public streets; was fined $3 and costs for the city treasury.

Trinito Monroy, for having been fighting upon the public streets; was fined $3 and costs.

CARSON.—This was a very interesting case, two of our most eminent attorneys being engaged. There was a big time about nothing.

Query.—Wonder if B. got his fee? Caramba.

JULY 1st.—Max Kappman for driving over the Commerce street bridge faster than a walk, was discharged, as the fact that his horse was a new one, and manageable.

Sim Cooley, for having been found very drunk upon the Main Plaza, was, being his second offence, fined $3 and costs.

AM—“Old Dog Tray.” Two coats he once did own; They bashed one by one; His hat and his boots, they have all passed away;

All up the spout they have flown; While Sim, alas, has gone And spent the blast at Bacon's grocery.

A. Kengho, who is not so much a coon as he was, has finally been caught again, and fined $3 and costs, for using abusive language towards a poor, hard working, honest Mexican, upon the Military Plaza.

All such coons will have to hunt their holes.

THE GOVERNORSHIP OF TENNESSEE.—
Memphis, June 18.—The Avalanche and Lodger in to-day's issues are very severe on Gen. McRae, for removing Gov.
Humphreys of Mississippi, asserting that it was done to secure the State for Grant. Gov. H. Humphreys is at Meridian, and it is understood he declines to recognize the order, removing him.

A steam fire engine exploded in New York a few days ago, killing four persons outright, and wounding forty others.

HOSTILITY OF THE PLAINS INDIANS.—
Dr. McShane, Post-Surgeon on the Staff of Maj. Gen. Sheridan, who has just arrived in this city, en route to Europe, informs us that the natives are as hostile to the white man now as in the days of Capt. John Smith. The Jesuit Father De Smet and Maj. Calpin started from Fort Rice, the 18th of May, to arrange terms of peace with the savages.
Surg. McShane urges the necessity of sending reinforcements of cavalry, as the infantry cannot, without fearful loss, successfully contend with their nimble footed enemies.

THE RELATION TO COM.—It is reported from Vienna that the Papal Nuncio at Vienna, M. Falcinelli, placed on the 28th of May in the hands of M. von Beust the protest of the Court of Rome against the confessional laws recently enacted by the Emperor of Austria.
"The Court of Rome," observes "The Cologne Gazette," is perfectly convinced of the recklessness of this protest. The document has been received with perfect courtesy, and will be deposited among the imperial archives. No question has been raised as to the withdrawal of the nuncio, and the reports spread on this subject have no other origin than the anger of the clerical journals.
The principle towns of the Empire are manifesting their feelings by illuminations and other signs of joyous demonstrations.

THE SANATORIUM AT CHICAGO.—
Chicago, June 18.—The foreign delegation to the Sanatorium arrived at nine o'clock this morning, and were reported to the Fest-Halle, where at ten o'clock a rehearsal was held. The Cincinnati delegation, numbering nearly 400, which started thence on Tuesday, did not arrive until the afternoon. They were escorted to their quarters by local societies.

Summer is fully upon us, and with it we note the dullness that usually prevails at this season of the year. Every steamer that leaves for points east takes with it many of our citizens, going North on business or seeking pleasure—in many instances both combined. Strand, usually so busy, presents a dull aspect and which condition of affairs will probably be continued for some months to come.
However, with continued favorable accounts from the interior as to the condition of the cotton crop, we may look for active business in the fall—perhaps more than sufficient to compensate for the losses that have been sustained during the commercial year fast drawing to its close.—Gal. Paper.

Gen. Kirby Smith will re-occupy Sueby
College, in Kentucky, next October.

Senator Morton, of Indiana, is again worse, and goes home at once. His paralytic disease and his weight fail.
