VOL. II.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 23, 1868.

NO. 213.

OFFICIAL.

LAWS

UNITED STATES, Passed at the Second Session of the Fortieth Congress.

[PUBLIC-NO. 68.]

AN ACT to create the office of surveyor general in the Territory of Utah, and establish a land office in said Territory, and extend the homestead and pre-emption laws over the same.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President, by and with the advice [and consent] of the Senate, shall be, and he is hereby, authorized to appoint a surveyor general for the Territory of Utah, whose annual salary shall be three thousand dollars, and whose power, authority, and duties shall be the same as those provided by law for the surveyor general of Oregon. He shall have proper allowances for clerk hire, office rent, and fuel, not exceeding what is now allowed by law to the surveyor general of Oregon.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the public lands of the United States within said Territory of Utah, shall constitute a new land district, to be called the Utah district, and the President is hereby authorized to appoint by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a register and receiver of public money for said district, who shall be required to reside at the places at which said offices shall be located, and they shall have the same powers, perform the same duties, and be entitled to the same compensation as are or may be prescribed by law in relation to land offices of the United States in other Territories.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Interior is hereby authorized to locate said offices of surveyor general and register and receiver of public moneys at some suitable place or places in said Territory.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the pre-emption, homestead, and other laws of the United States applicable to the disposal of the public lands, are hereby extended over said district.

Approved, July 16, 1868.

[PUBLIC-NO. 69.]

AN ACT making appropriations for the legislative, executive, and judicial expenses of the government for the year ending the thirtieth of June, eighteen hundred and sixty nine.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following be, and the same are hereby, appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the objects hereinafter expressed, for the fiscal year ending the thirtieth of June, eighteen hundred and sixty nine, to-wit:

The Convention.

SIXTY-SIXTH DAY.

CAPITOL, AUSTIN, TEXAS, Aug. 18, 1868.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment; roll called; quorum present. Prayer by the chaplain; journal of yesterday read and adopted.

The committees on counties made a report in favor of making a new county, to be created out of Polk, Liberty, Montgomery, and Walker counties, to be called "San Jacinto."

Whitmore, from committee on General Provisions, reported upon a resolution offered by Phillips, of Wharton.

The same committee made a favorable report upon a resolution to levy special road tax to build bridges, improve roads, etc.

Lindsay, from committee on judiciary, reported by instruction, the following as a section of the General Provisions:

Sec. — All persons, who, at any time heretofore, lived together, as husband and wife, and both of whom, by the law of bondage, were precluded from the rites of matrimony, and continued to live together until the death of one of the parties, shall be considered as having been legally married, and the issue of such cohabitation shall be deemed legitimate. And all such persons, as may be now living together, in such relations, shall be considered as having been legally married, and the children heretofore, or hereafter, born of such cohabitation shall be deemed legitimate.

Baile introduced a report from the committee on Penitentiary.

Whitmore introduced a resolution requesting Gen. Reynolds to subdivide the 9th and 10th Judicial districts, and form a new district, to be composed of Houston, Nacogdoches, Anderson, Trinity, and Angelina counties.

Degener asked leave to introduce the following report from the special committee appointed to consider the railroad subject before the convention:

COMMITTEE REPORT.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 18, 1868.
Hon. E. J. Davis, President of the Convention:

Sir—Your select committee, to whom was referred all matters pertaining to the sale of certain Railroads, which are indebted to the School Fund of this State, have duly considered the documents referred to them, and a majority of the committee has instructed me to report the following preamble and resolution:

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. DEGENER, Chairman.

Whereas, certain railroads in the State of Texas, are indebted to the School Fund of Texas, for money borrowed therefrom, under the act of the Legislature of Texas of the day of — 1856, commonly called the Loan Bill, and for the payment of which the State, as trustee, holds a first mortgage upon the roads, &c., with power of sale.

Be it declared, That the Governor of the State of Texas, be, and he is hereby authorized and required to collect said indebtedness from each of said roads, by selling the same if necessary, according to the provisions of the law under which said money was loaned; Provided, That whatever amounts may be claimed to have been paid by said roads, in Texas Treasury Warrants created for the purpose of carrying on War against the United States, shall not be deemed payments, unless so decided by the Supreme Court of Texas, upon a writ of injunction, to be sued out by the company or companies from whom such credits are now exacted; and provided further, That if no bidder at the sale of said roads shall bid a sum equal to the full amount which said road shall owe the State, less the credit claimed by said company on account of so called payments in Treasury Warrants, and take the road subject to the lien that may exist, if the Supreme court of Texas should decide said pretended payments in Treasury Warrants to have been null and void, then the Governor shall buy the same on account of the State, and may resell the same, either at private or public sale, if he is offered the sum of indebtedness in coin, or its equivalent in United States currency, of each of said roads, except the Houston Tap and Brazoria Railroad, which he may resell for the largest sum he may get.

Goddin moved that Armstrong, of Lamar, be added to the committee on counties and county boundaries.

A communication from Gov. Passie was introduced and referred to special committee.

Report of committee on General Provisions taken up. Sec. 34 as reported back by the judiciary committee first considered. Adopted.

Newcomb offered the following amendment: "And enabling all children born out of wedlock to inherit a just proportion of the property of their fathers and mothers, also compelling the parents of such children to provide for their support and education until of age."

Cut off by previous question being ordered.

Section excluding preachers from the Legislature stricken out.

EVENING SESSION.

Resolution requesting Gen. Reynolds to subdivide the 9th and 10th Judicial Districts, passed.

Callwell called up the report of the select committee on Railroads.

Callwell offered the original report of the committee on internal improvements as a substitute to the report of the select committee.

On motion, the Convention adjourned until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

WHAT IS THE DIFFER-ENCE.

An impartial observer probably would be at a loss in reading the political journals of the day to discover wherein the two parties of the country differ. The late secession party is probably the most loud-mouthed in its assertion of adhesion to the Union; but it would be difficult for a disinterested party to believe that those who had fought four years, and made such immense sacrifices to maintain the integrity of the Union were now the disunionists. If everybody is now such staunch Unionists, why do we have two parties?—what makes the high political feeling in the country at present?

The reason is that people differ and men do not all think alike. Mankind are now and always have been divided into two classes—one is the progressive class, the other the conservative—we believe each may be honest in its belief.

In this country we have for the former class the Radical or Republican party—for the second the Conservative or Democratic.

The Republican party was, and is, a necessity—it arose as a national protest against oppression.

Millions of human beings were held in bondage with scarcely a friend to plead their cause, and the arrogant and domineering spirit produced by slavery had extended itself over nearly the whole nation. These human beings were regarded by many as property—they were so regarded by our fathers in framing our Constitution before the days of railroads, steamboats, and telegraphs. But as men became more enlightened the wickedness of slavery became more apparent, and the great and good Lincoln —whom Jeff. Davis denominated a hyena—proposed that the nation should pay the full value of these slaves in dollars and cents.

This was a progressive idea that the Conservatives could not tolerate, and they ridiculed it exceedingly. History shows that they accomplished the same result in a much shorter space of time, but with much greater costs.

The civilized world is fast beginning to see that no class of men can protect themselves in a republican form of government without the ballot. The action of the rebel Legislature of 1866 in Texas is a forcible illustration of this.

The cardinal principles of the Republican party are and always have been, equal justice and equal rights to all—they believe that all men are equal—before the law—that there should be no "class legislation" to oppress the poor or ignorant. Hence as a party they believe in impartial suffrage.

At the close of the rebellion the South was divided about equally between two classes of men—all capable of bearing arms. One class was composed of the white rebels—the other of the freedmen and the white Unionists. The white rebels in their arrogance claimed all the rights of suffrage the same as before the rebellion. The freedmen claimed nothing.

It was necessary that the elective franchise should be exercised by somebody —the Government hesitated a long time whom to bestow it upon (as there were none entitled to vote except the few white Unionists). The rebels had plainly shown they were not capable of exercising it—and it was feared the freedmen were not—so the Government allowed all to vote save a very few office-holders who had added perjury to treason.

It is not strange that those brought up under the influence of slavery should think that the colored man has "no rights which the white man is bound to respect." This is what makes the difference, and is the continuation of the moral issue which has been contested for the past quarter of a century.

While the ghost of Secession solemnly walks across the Democratic platform, all patriotic Democrats cry out: "Angels and ministers of grace defend us!"

THE DEATH OF HON. THAD-DEUS STEVENS.

The following account of the death of the Hon. Thaddeus Stevens we take from the Washington Chronicle of August 12th, which is draped in mourning:

Hon. Thaddeus Stevens died at precisely twelve o'clock last night, at his residence in this city, on Capitol Hill.
Simon Stevens, Thaddeus Stevens, Jr., a nephew, and his housekeeper, Mrs.
Smith, were at his bedside. Also, Sister Loretta and Sister Genevieve of Providence Hospital, and Mr. J. Scott Paterson, of the Interior Department, and the servants of his household. Breathing his last, he passed away calmly and quietly, without a struggle, as though falling asleep.

The death of Mr. Stevens at this hour since Sunday last, when he suffered a relapse, was not unlooked for by the members of his household. Last evening, at about nine o'clock, his attendant physician, Dr. Noble Young, called to pay him a professional visit, and at once discovered that the good old man's life was rapidly drawing to a close. He so informed the immediate friends of Mr.
Stevens, who was then too weak to give expression to his feelings. That he was fully prepared for the great change there is no doubt, for he had long been aware of the frail tenure by which he held his life. Yesterday he remarked to those around him that he was rapidly sinking and had no hope of ever resuming his accustomed seat in the Capitol. The calmness, and even cheerfulness evinced by him, so long as speech was left him, was remarked by those around his bedside, who drew from the scene a lesson never to be forgotten, and one which showed them how calmly and peacefully he can die, who throughout a long lifetime has unflinchingly followed out the dictates of justice, right, and humanity.

On Monday he expressed considerable anxiety in regard to the state of the country, induced mainly, perhaps, by the current reports of apprehended troubles in Louisiana. He expressed a strong desire that Mr. Johnson might abstain from any measures of a character calculated to disturb the public tranquility, and hoped that no necessity might arise for the reassembling of Congress in September. Yesterday afternoon he conversed with great cheerfulness and animation, talking on a variety of topics, and evincing a lively interest in that which interested those around him.

In conversation with Mr. Simon Stevens, about the same time, he referred to Mr. Evans, Attorney General, in terms of marked kindness and confidence. He continued to grow feebler during the afternoon, and at about 4 o'clock P. M. he lost the power of speech, and from that time lay quietly without giving any indications of suffering. About ten minutes before his death, Sister Loretta requested the permission of his friends to perform the baptismal rite, and no objection being offered, the ceremony was performed amid impressive silence. To her who performed it this act undoubtedly appeared of great importance, and the earnest and affectionate devotion with which it was done strongly affected those who witnessed it, even those holding a different faith from hers. It is worthy of note that the Sisters whose benevolent works had been so heartily seconded by the great departed in furnishing aid and leading his legislative efforts in behalf of the institution to which they are attached, (Providence Hospital,) visited him daily during his illness, and manifested a devotion which showed how fully they appreciated the charitable and beneficent spirit which has marked the life that was so rapidly drawing to a close.

In our supplement we publish an extended notice of the life of the great statesman who has just left us. All words of ours would be powerless to eulogize such a life as his and wholly inadequate to express the profound grief which this event will produce throughout the length and breadth of the nation which he has served so ably and with such a single and lofty purpose. He is gone, and we feel that there is none left who can fill the place that he filled.
His name, pronounced to-day with sadness and with moistened eyes by millions of his countrymen, will be spoken with admiration, and his life will be cited as a great example when those who now live to mourn him shall have been forgotten even by their own posterity.

HYDRA HEADED.—Flake's Bulletin has taken a stand in opposition to the Austin Republican—or rather against its editor—not knowing the one whose name appears as the ostensible chief—as Flake's man "W" seems to have a wholesome contempt for an editor (?) who is simply "a makeweight." We look with much interest on this new position of Flake and his attempt at fighting "the tiger," in the person of the advocate of the Central Railroad.

The Chicago Post says: "The Democrats of Marion county, Ky., had a 'glorious ratification' last week, Friday.
They went to the house of George Rogers, a Union soldier during the war, dragged him from the presence of his wife, and hung him to the limb of a tree."

The Abyss Before Us.

If it were possible that the American People should commit their destinies to the keeping of Horatio Seymour and Frank Blair, these consequences are inevitable:

I. The seizure of unbounded power over the Southern States by the late Rebels. In stating this, we state but what they, through a thousand mouths, have already proclaimed. Not Frank Blair only, but nearly every "talking 'conservative' in the South, has assumed that the election of Seymour will be a popular verdict against the whole Reconstruction policy of Congress, and especially against the right of the Blacks to vote. They tell us that the election of Seymour and Blair will be a ratification of that plank of their Tammany platform which stigmatizes the Reconstruction acts as "revolutionary, null and void," and that they shall proceed to treat them accordingly. That is to say: They will treat the new State Governments as nullities, and proceed to once to replace them by what they call 'White Men's Governments'—that is, governments based on their own good pleasure. That they will be resisted, and that bloodshed and anarchy will result, are inevitable.

II. Another result of Seymour's election will be the triumph of that sneaking, cowardly form of Republicanism termed paying the Five-Twenties in Greenbacks. We do not mean that this villainy will ultimately prevail; but its advocates will for the moment be at the height of their power, and will use it to the extent of debasing our currency so that it will have no definite value, and the property of the widow and orphan, now held in trust, will be rendered worthless. Kansas will pay their debts with ten to twenty cents on the dollar, and Labor will be paid off in money that has little or no value. Ultimately, the infinite evils of this scheme will strip its advocates of power, repelling them by champions of financial integrity; so the Debt will at last be paid, but not till after it has changed hands to the loss of many timid or nearly holders, and its repudiation will have wrought general bankruptcy and ruin.

III. The White Unionists will be hunted from the South as they were in the Winter and Spring of 1860-61.
Many of them will be killed in the process, as they were on the former occasion. "They [Republicans] want to get up a free 'debate,'" said Clingman of N. C. in the Senate in December, 1860, "as the Senator from New York [Mr.
Seward] expressed it, in one of his speeches. But a Senator from Texas [Wigfall] told me the other day, that a great many of these free debaters were hanging from the trees of that country," [Texas.] Such was the Southern response to pacific overtures from the North after we had elected our President. It will be rougher than that if they should now elect their man. From every Southern stump, it is proclaimed that "the carpet-baggers" [Republicans from the North] and "scalawags" [White Republicans born in the South] will be run out the moment they can be without fear of damaging Seymour's prospects. Should he be successfully in November, the White Republicans in the South will be hunted over the Potomac and Ohio into their graves, before Christmas.

IV. The Blacks will generally be allowed to stay if they cringe enough and abjure the Right of Suffrage. A few of the leaders will be killed for example's sake; but the great mass will be simply reduced to the condition of beasts of burden and tolerated so long as they abide in it. If they grovel sufficiently and keep their mouths shut, their lives will be spared.

V. But the whole business of Black Education will be arrested at once.
The school kept by Whites will be burned; those kept by Blacks will be peremptorily shut up. A negro seeking education for himself or his children will be regarded and treated as an infernal. All that has been so nobly and well begun for the enlightenment and moral elevation of the Freedmen will be stopped, and their education made a crime in fact if not also in law.
Darkness will again settle upon the face of the land, and common schools, even for Whites, either be forbidden or generally allowed to fall into disuse.

Such are some of the inevitable results of Seymour's election, were that election possible. The condition of the South resulting from such a triumph would make angels weep and devils blush. It would be a victory of Darkness—a jubilee of Treason—a long stride towards Chaos and primeval Night. It is not possible that such a fate is in store for our fire-tried Republic.—N. Y. Tribune.

HANDSOME PRESENT.—As we had anticipated, Abe Gilmore (colored), who sent the first bale of new cotton of the present crop direct to this city, was the recipient this morning of a handsome pitcher and two silver goblets presented by A. Sessums & Co.
The articles were purchased at M. W.
Shaw's, on Tremont street. It gives us pleasure to chronicle this evidence of liberality on the part of one of our largest cotton firms, and we are not at all sorry that a worthy and industrious freedman was the fortunate individual to reap the benefit.— soon do away with "equality."

Proposals for Army Transportation.
HEADQUARTERS FIFTH MILITARY DISTRICT, Office Chief Quartermaster, Austin, Texas, August 21st, 1868.
Sealed Proposals, in duplicate will be received at this office until Tuesday the 29th day of October next, at 12 o'clock, M., for transportation of Military supplies, from the date of the contract to the first day of January, 1870, on the following route; via:
Route No. 6.—From Marshall Texas, Galveston Texas, and from Bryan or Courtney, or the terminus of the Texas Central Railroad, to all or any points in Texas, East or West of the Bremer River, and South of the Red River or between any points in said district.
The contractor to obligate himself to have a competent Agent to represent himself or his firm at Marshall, Galveston and Bryan or Courtney or at the terminus of the Texas Central Railroad, upon whom requisitions can be made, and who must be prepared to transport all stores to and from each and every point where troops are stationed or where it is found necessary to place government stores; provided, the said Agent is duly notified in writing by the Officer or Agent of the United States, at least ten days previous to such shipment.
Bidders to state the rate per one hundred (100) pounds per one hundred (100) miles, at which they will transport said supplies.
Bidders should give their names in full as well as their place of residence, and each proposal should be accompanied by a bond in the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, signed by two or more responsible persons, guaranteeing that in case the contract is awarded for the route mentioned in the proposal, to the parties proposing, the contract will be accepted and entered into, and good and sufficient security furnished by said parties, in accordance with the terms of this advertisement.
The amount of bonds required from the contractor will be fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars.
Satisfactory evidence of the solvency of each bidder and person offered as security, will be required.
Forms of contract may be seen at the Depot Quartermaster's office, San Antonio, and at this office.
The right is reserved to reject any or all bids that may be offered.

Proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

Table with columns for destination (ALLEYTON, VICTORIA, WACO, EL PASO, EAGLE PASS, CORPUS CHRISTI, LAREDO) and arrival/departure times.

Through mails via Galveston leave daily at 12-30 P. M. All mails going out in the morning will be closed at 9 o'clock of the evening before.

RUNAWAY.—Yesterday noon, two mules attached to a wagon, took fright at something on the Main Plaza and ran off furiously, but was finally stopped by some citizens. No damage done.

DRAMATIC.—On Friday evening last we again enjoyed the pleasure of witnessing those agreeable, gay and festive performances at Dryden's Hall. We will not dwell upon the merits of each individual connected with this talented little company, but suffice it to say it excelled anything of the kind for real, genuine good fun, ever produced heretofore.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that "Our Jessie," and her sister Cecelia Percy, will give their elegant "Drawing room Entertainments" three times each week—on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, assisted by Mr. Ed. Bohn and Signor Morcello-Tornise.

POLICE ITEMS. MAYOR'S COURT—August 22, 1868.—John Alemoda was arraigned upon a charge of disturbing the peace and quiet of a family in this city; found guilty, and fined $5 and costs, which was paid.

Such news items as the following taken from a Lexington, Ky., paper are staple of the local news in the papers of that region:

MURDER AND OUTRAGE.—On Monday night last, in the vicinity of Keene, Jessamine, a party of disguised men spent the time from 12 o'clock m., to 6 o'clock p. m., in whipping and killing negroes. Mary Smith and her father, Silas Woodfall, a man more than 60 years of age, were whipped with sticks; Curtis and Margaret Mosby beaten with pistols, and Cabs Fields shot and instantly killed.

We find the following dispatch in a St. Louis paper coming from another part of the State:

A party of vigilants took a stranger from a house in the edge of Gentry county, at daylight this morning, and it is supposed they have hung him. No particulars.

Description of a Man.

A man is like to—but stay— / To what he's unlike who can say? / And yet we cannot do without him! / Love sits in his breast / Like a hen on her nest. / And his chickens are reaching about him!

Whose cruelty yieldeth to no man! / Like a mouse, like a goose; / Like a mule, like a fool; / Like a lane, like a vane; / Like a leaf, like—in brief / He's everything else—but a woman.

LEROUX & COSGROVE.

CARL ROCKS, In rear of Staffol's Sugar Store, Commerce at Aug 6th 68m.

We take the following from the Memphis Post. It will apply very well to this latitude:

The Assassination of the Radical Leaders.

We call the special attention to the assassination of Radical leaders, as openly proposed by the rebel Gen. Rucker, of this city, last evening, as reported in the rebel papers and published in our local columns. It will be remembered that before the war, if the chivalry owed a man a debt and wanted to get rid of it, or hated and wanted to kill him, they raised the cry of "abolitionist" or "inciter of slaves to violence," against him, and he was either hung or tarred and feathered and driven out of the place. It seems that a similar attempt is to be made now to drive the Union men from this city and section. They are lynching charged with inciting the colored people to violence, and regular details of the Ku-Klux are made to watch and assassinate them when Gen. Forrest toots his horn!

Commence your killing, gentlemen, if you will, as you have arranged. But if you love your lives, your liberties, this beautiful city and this fruitful valley, you will count the cost before you begin this bloody work. Our lives are too trifling a matter to be weighed against our duty and our country.

General Reynolds upon the Situation.

General J. J. Reynolds, commanding the Fifth Military District, which now comprises the State of Texas, has written a letter upon the situation in that State, from which the following extract is made:

"In addition to all that I have heretofore stated with regard to the necessity of military commissions in Texas, I beg now to add that my experience and additional information with reference to the amount of lawlessness throughout the State fully confirm my previous statements, and compelled me to repeat the application. Scarcely a day passes that I am not appealed to for a military commission.

"These appeals, though coming in a majority of instances from men of well known Union sentiments, are by no means confined to men of any party. Conservatives, Radicals, whites, and blacks profess to an earnest desire to have a stop put to the murdering which is going on in the State to an extent which is almost incredible to citizens of other States, and which is a disgrace to the civilization of the age."

General Reynolds is a man of the utmost reliability and truth, and what he states, therefore, in reference to the condition of Texas may be received as literal fact.

"Murdering," he declares, "is going on there to an extent which is almost incredible to citizens of other States," and "is a disgrace to the civilization of the age."

BEAUTIFUL DEATH SCENE.—When one of Martin Luther's children lay on her death-bed, the great man approached her and said to her: "My dear little daughter, my beloved Margaret, you would willingly remain with your earthly parents; but if God calls you, you will go with your heavenly father!"

"Yes, dear father, it is as God pleases."

"Dear little girl!" he exclaimed, "Oh, how I love you! The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak."

He then took the Bible and read to her the passage, "Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body shall they arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust; for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead."

He then said: "My daughter, enter thou into thy resting-place in peace." She turned her eyes toward him and said, with touching simplicity, "Yes, father."

The Memphis Appeal says General Rucker of the rebel army, in a public speech used the following language. It sounds very much like the talk in the halcyon days of the Confederacy:

"General Rucker made a very sensible, business talk, and said some things which struck the nail on the head exactly. He warned the infamous scoundrels in our midst who are striving to excite and stir up the evil passions of the ignorant masses and array the negroes and whites in deadly hostility to each other, insinuating a carnival of blood and horror—HE WARNED THEM THAT A WATCH WAS UPON THEM AND THEIR HOUSES. NOT AN ACTION NOR A WORD ESCAPES A SLEEPLESS EYE—one set to preserve the peace if possible—but if it is broken, to average every drop of blood that is spilled upon their worthless carcasses. They had better heed the warning."

In 1860 the Union was at the height of prosperity. In 1858 it is almost overwhelmed with a continually increasing debt, etc. Times.

The secession Democracy of the South are, of course, not responsible for this. They worked so desperately to preserve the Union "at the height of prosperity," and the government, the Union army, and Grant labored so assiduously to pull it down and overwhelm it with debt that they ought to ask pardon of the said secession Democracy, and humbly ask them to take charge of the republic, and restore it again to the height of prosperity." The U. S. oracle is becoming facetious.—N. O. Rep.

REEVES' AMBROSIA
FOR THE HAIR,
IMPROVED!

It is an elegant Dressing for the Hair.
It causes the Hair to Curl beautifully.
It keeps the Scalp Clean and Healthy.
It invigorates the Roots of the Hair.

It forces the Hair and Beard to grow luxuriantly.
It immediately stops Hair Falling Out.
It keeps the Hair from Changing Color from Age.
It restores Grey Hair to its Original Color.

It brings out Hair on heads that have been bald for years.
It is composed entirely of simple and purely vegetable substances.

It has received over six thousand voluntary testimonials of its excellence, many of which are from physicians in high standing.
It is sold in half pound bottles (the name blown in the glass), by Druggists and Dealers in Fancy Goods everywhere, at One Dollar per Bottle. Wholesale by Deans, Barnes & Co.; F. C. Wells & Co.; Schieffelin & Co. NEW YORK.
