"Colonel Belger."

We publish elsewhere a letter upon our course towards the Supervisor of Internal Revenue for this State. When a public officer is appointed, he becomes a servant of the people, and his fitness should be thoroughly discussed.

Even if Colonel Belger is poor, the revenues of the country have been squandered in the most infamous manner through his instrumentality. We don't complain that Mr. McCulloch or President Johnson are influenced by their Masonic sympathies, as is intimated. True Masonry would spurn Colonel Belger and them under the circumstances. We ask if he is worthy of confidence? Has he been faithful?

We ask Mr. Grant if it is not time that every side issue be buried in looking for men to faithfully collect and apply our public revenues?

Fuddled.

The Austin people have beat their tin pans around General Canby for nearly a week and they have failed to get an expression out of him, they are annoyed and puzzled. What ever others may do; General Canby is too practical and too well informed to be drawn into any measures by clap trap and big houses, at an expense to his government of a half a million dollars.

The real interests of the country demand that the headquarters of the army in Texas should be convenient to the frontier, and the civil administration should be in the east. Houston, as the centre of a railroad system, leading to the most disaffected regions of Texas, would be the proper Headquarters for civil affairs.

AMNESTY.—Senator Ferry of Michigan has introduced an amnesty bill into the Senate, which will probably be defeated.

There is no doubt that the success of this bill would bring on a more fearful state of anarchy than has ever existed heretofore. Southern Union men have their wrongs to redress and they are as deep seated as human convictions can well be. While the present state of disfranchisement exists, it is a kind of a guarantee that they will be righted by the government. Take this with its assurances away, and bloody feuds and assassinations would trouble and horrify the civilized world.

Division.

A dispatch informs us that Newcomb's resolution opening the question of a division of the State, carried—we suppose by a failure to sustain a call of the House.

There has been a clear majority in favor of dividing the State since it first reorganized. Now that a chance is given for action we hope the most perfect harmony will prevail, and that the lines will be selected with a view of benefiting the whole State.

The Colorado being the limit of the pastoral interests, there will scarcely be an exception to its selection.

The Middle State can unquestionably be carried for loyalty by dividing at the Trinity.

Let harmony and good-will prevail. This act will regain the respect of Congress, lost through the obstinacy of Republicans.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The Herald of this city, in making the statement that THE EXPRESS and FREE PRESS FOR TEXAS opposed and attacked the project of a railway through this State to the Pacific, asserts an unwitting falsehood. The papers named opposed placing the project in the hands of men like Camp and Burns, rebels.

We hope to see the project carried out under such men as will do nothing to retard the peace or glory of the country.

RESIST THE TAX.—The Houston Times advises the people to resist the tax levied by the convention. An opportunity should be given the fierce individual of that journal to make a test case, then the military would have a good excuse to make him work it out at Huntsville, for breaking his parole in "resisting the law where he resides."

ASSASSIN'S TACTICS.—The "White Citizens" of Jefferson were the first to address the commanding officer of the 5th Military District, from that city, after the assassination of Hon. G. W. Smith, assuring him that they were ready to "lay down their lives in support of peace and law." At the same time the blood of the loyal martyr was dripping from their fingers.

SNOW STORM.—Waco has had a big snow storm about the 10th of December, snow fell nine inches on a level.

AUSTIN CORRESPONDENCE.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, December 26, 1868. The holidays are in full blast here—little children are busy with toys and fire-works—those of older growth are industrious in trying to pass the time. A half dozen foolish fellows appeared in the streets yesterday morning horseback, masked, and wearing grotesque costumes.

The convention continues to work—that is, like a volcano; its internal fires are always burning away & ring recess. Railroad men are anxious and impatient. The division question stands out boldly as the only basis of reconstruction—what Monday will bring forth remains to be seen; but certain it is if the Central Railroad can be choked off long enough, division will carry.

Some time since THE EXPRESS indicated the necessity of Throckmorton being in attendance at the convention; he is here, very quiet, on pretence of private business—the "ring" are evidently preparing to endorse Andy Johnson's Pardon and Amnesty, and Throckmorton has come to engineer the Democratic wing of the "third party" movement.

A delegation to Washington from the convention seems inevitable—so many want to go there will be little difficulty in the resolution passing;—the basis upon which they should go remains to be settled;—whether it is to be division or anti-division—division, it is to be hoped.

Division is growing; it has spread like a prairie fire from the West to the extreme East and North.

The convention has been in session nearly one month and positively nothing done. If Governor Hamilton and the minority he leads, had consented to submit, the division question would have been settled—a delegation to Washington sent—and the whole business of the country in proper solution. A move to declare vacant the seats of absent members seems probable.

Among the officers who have come to the State with General Canby is General James H. Carleton, the commander of the California troops who marched from California to the north-west border of Texas during the war. General Carleton did good service quelling Indian hostilities in Arizona and New Mexico; he will command the 4th Cavalry, headquarters at Concho.

General Canby is in command, though no order to that effect has as yet made its appearance. The General remains a riddle to the Austinites—they don't feel satisfied that he is pleased or intends to remain here. General Davis, the President of the Convention, paid his respects to General Canby on Thursday; General D. served under him in Louisiana. Everything seems like a riddle, military and civil—the whole population heretofore seem to be direct descendants from Micauber.

BEXAR.

THE AMNESTY.—This document may lead some ignorant people to "demand" rights of which they have deprived themselves by treason. The proclamation of Andrew Johnson, issued December 25th, 1868, is of just the effect that a blank paper would be from the same source.

Congress is the highest power in this Government; any law they may enact will be "under the Constitution." If men are fools enough to expect anything from this document, their folly will only have the effect to react upon their already desperate cause.

COMMODORE MEADE.—This very old gentleman was recently put in the Insane Asylum for threatening the life of a gentleman who was engaged to his daughter. The Commodore had employed rough's to assassinate several persons, including his own son.

The old man was furious when any attention was paid his girls. The Commodore has been released on a writ of habeas corpus.

JOHNSON'S AMNESTY.—Our Austin correspondent "Bexar" thinks Andy's Proclamation will bring out the third party movement in Texas. Throckmorton, the original Union man murderer of 1866, is at the capitol; the "Ring" is muddled, look out for big developments. Now is the time that will try men's mettle. As soon as he saw he could not control and use the Republican party, Col. J. L. Haynes abandoned it. How many will follow?

TELEGRAPHIC

SPECIAL DISPATCHES. Division open at Last.

Austin, December 29, 1868. Newcomb's resolution opening division question, passed the convention to-day. BEXAR.

Only the Rep-ub-licans. In his letter to Mrs. Lancaster, condoling with her upon the loss of her son, who was inhumanly assassinated some months ago, Governor Pease regretted that the appropriations of public moneys limited him to publishing the "reward" for the murderers in the Austin Republican.

It cannot be true, as has been intimated, that his ownership in that paper, as recently developed in the publication of the contract of Longley & Co., influenced the Governor in this matter. It was only a due economy of the public money.

Colonel Belger.

We are in receipt of the following letter, respecting the appointment of a Supervisor of Internal Revenue for this State: WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15, 1868. Editor San Antonio Express:

DEAR SIR:—I have been favored with a glance at one or two of your articles re Colonel Belger. You seem to be actuated by patriotic motives, and to print a good Union paper on rebel soil. I honor you for this. But are you not grossly mistaken in your action against Colonel Belger? Had you rather see the strongly recommended rebel men appointed than one who has borne a record for over an ordinary generation of men in the Union Army appointed in Texas? Try and be reasonable for once, and forget your personal interests in love for your country. You have one of the best men appointed in the knowledge of the Government. Try him fairly before you condemn him. Yours respectfully, E. H. GRANT.

The Houston Union announces a visit paid its editors by Hon. Ruby, the big nigger of the Convention, and pronounces him quite a pleasant gentleman. The editor of the Union has also seen the genuine Grecian Bend in that city, and thinks it quite a tasty fashion. We do not wonder that he sees beauty in deformity since his tastes cause him to sort with buck niggers and call them "pleasant gentlemen." (Denton Monitor.)

Mr. Ruby replied to the above in the following sharp note: Editor Denton Monitor:

You are so fastidious a gentleman, so tasty in your manners and decent in language, though your custom is to swear like a pirate, dip snuff and "chew," that I feel highly complimented and do invoke a present from your admiring friends and few readers of a leather medal for your magnificent encomium of "buck nigger." Very respectfully, G. T. RUBY, Galveston County, Dec. 19, 1868.

EMBEZZLEMENT.—Major Frederick Frye, a Democratic Justice of the Peace of Jefferson, Louisiana, has been on trial for embezzling $148 of money entrusted to him. The attorneys for and against drew their revolvers during the trial.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—We are compelled to defer several communications because of the press of matter from the Convention. We hope our correspondents will bear with us for a few weeks.

Ask the people of the South, who robbed them of trinkets and jewels, of stock and the negro and they will tell you it was the radical party and their servants.—Brownsville Ranchers.

Horses too, you forgot them. We took a great many horses. NATIONAL DEBT.—England's debt is twice our own, yet we pay as much interest as they do.

MISSION SAN JOSE.—Reporter has been enchanted, for a brief season, and has been among the spirits that dwell here in this vale, over two hundred years gone by.

The Mission and its desolate and grim walls have a tale, that if unfolded, would cast a spell around the listener, making them dumb, and as silent as the grave.

How grand and noble would it have been to have witnessed the devotions of those proud races of people, two hundred years ago, in the silent grandeur of their own native tongue.

The Mission is guarded and watched by an aged Mexican and his family, Justo Maldonado, a good old man, who reveres his charge with holy and great reverence.

A SPECIAL dispatch to the Memphis Avalanche, from Little Rock, Arkansas, says of the State Militia:

"Everybody who could get away has left. Brownlow's thieves are lambs compared with these scoundrels. God only knows what will become of us if the United States Government does not interfere."

We hope every nook of the South where outlaws have been harbored and protected, will get the fill of this.

REVENUE.—McOulloch says: "raise the taxes." Every honest man in the country says: "cut down the Treasury thieves."

Mr. E. G. Squier, the well known explorer of Spain and Central America, advocates, in a letter to the New York Tribune, a treaty...

Southern men will be asked to endorse "manhood suffrage" or stay out in the cold. We will prefer to stay out and take bayonets in ours.

OFFICIAL LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES, Passed at the Second Session of the Fortieth Congress.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That if any officer, soldier, seaman, or enlisted man has died since the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, or shall hereafter die leaving a widow entitled to a pension, and a child or children under sixteen years of age by a former wife, each of said children shall be entitled to receive two dollars per month, to commence from the death of their father and continue until they severally attain the age of sixteen years, to be paid to the guardian of such child or children for their use and benefit. Provided, however, that in all cases where such widow is charged with the care, custody, and maintenance of such child or children, the said sum of two dollars per month for each of said children shall be paid to her for and during the time she is, or may have been, so charged with the care, custody and maintenance of such child or children, subject to the same conditions, provisions, and limitations as if they were her own children by her said deceased husband.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That in all cases where an increased pension has been or may hereafter be granted to any widow or guardian of a deceased soldier or sailor under an act entitled "An act increasing the pensions of widows, and for other purposes," approved July twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, or any subsequent act, such widow, or the guardian of such child or children, shall not be deprived of such increased pension on account of such child or children of such deceased soldier or sailor being the inmate of any home, orphan's asylum, or other public or private charitable institution organized for the care and education of soldiers orphans under the laws of any of the States, or in any school or institution where such orphans may in whole or in part be maintained or educated at the expense of a State, or of the public.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That all pensions which have been granted in consequence of death occurring or disease contracted, or wounds received, since the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-one or any hereafter be granted, shall commence from the discharge or from the death of the person on whose account the pension is granted: Provided, That the application for such pension has been or shall hereafter be filed with the Commissioner of Pensions within five years after the right thereto shall have accrued, except that applications by or in behalf of insane persons and children under sixteen years of age may be filed after the expiration of the said five years, if probably thereto they were without guardians or other proper legal representatives.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That immediately upon the passage of this act, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, it shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Pensions to give public notice of the contents of the foregoing sections, particularly at the offices of the several pension agencies; and upon any application by letter or otherwise for or on behalf of any person entitled to the benefit of its provisions, or upon any notification that such person is so entitled to pay or cause to be paid to him all such arrears of pensions as he may be entitled to under the provisions of the said section; and no chief agent or other person shall be entitled to receive any compensation for services in making application for the arrears of pension under this and the preceding section.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That section eleven of an act entitled "An act supplementary to the several acts relating to pensions," approved June six, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, be amended and re-enacted so as to read as follows: "That if any officer, soldier, or seaman shall have died wounds received or disease contracted in the line of duty in the military or naval service of the United States, leaving a widow and a child or children under the age of sixteen years, and it shall be duly certified under seal, by any court having probate jurisdiction, that satisfactory evidence has been produced before such court that the widow aforesaid has abandoned the care of such child or children, or is an unsuitable person, by reason of immoral conduct, to have the custody of the same, or on presentation of satisfactory evidence thereof to the Commissioner of Pensions, then no pension shall be allowed to such widow until said child or children shall have severally become sixteen years of age, any previous enactment to the contrary notwithstanding; and the child or children aforesaid shall be pensioned in the same manner as if no widow had survived the said officer, soldier, or seaman, and such pension may be paid to the regularly authorized guardian of such child or children."

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That section six of an act entitled "An act supplementary to the several acts relating to pensions," approved June six, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, be, and the same be hereby amended and re-enacted, so as to read as follows: "That if any person entitled to pension has died since March four, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, or shall hereafter die while an application for such pension is pending, leaving no widow and no child under sixteen years of age, his or her legal representatives shall be entitled to receive the accrued pension to which the applicant would have been entitled had the certificate been issued before his or her death."

Sec. 10. And be it further enacted, That the remarriage of any widow of dependent mother, otherwise entitled to a pension prior to the application therefor, or to the issue of a pension certificate to her, shall not deprive her right to a pension for the period elapsing from the death of her husband or son, on account of whose services and death she may claim a pension, to her remarriage: Provided, however, That nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal or modify the fourth section of an act entitled "An act supplementary to the several acts relating to pensions," approved March third, eighteen hundred and sixty-five.

Sec. 11. And be it further enacted, That the provisions of the ninth section of an act approved July fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, entitled "An act supplementary to an act for granting pensions," are hereby continued in force for five years from the fourth day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

Sec. 12. And be it further enacted, That section one of an act entitled "An act supplementary to the several acts relating to pensions," approved June six, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, shall be, and is so construed as to secure to every person entitled by law before the passage of said act to a less pension than twenty-five dollars per month, who while in the military or naval service and in the line of duty, or in consequence of wounds received or disease contracted therein, having only one eye, shall have in the same, a pension of twenty-five dollars per month.

Sec. 13. And be it further enacted, That the first section of an act entitled "An act increasing the pensions of widows and orphans, and for other purposes," approved July twenty-fifth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, shall be so construed as to place all pensioners whose right thereto accrued subsequently to the war of the Revolution, and prior to the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-one on the same footing, as to rate of pension from and after the passage of said act, as those who have been pensioned under acts passed since the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-one; and the widows of revolutionary soldiers and sailors now receiving a less sum shall hereafter be paid at the rate of eight dollars per month.

Sec. 14. And be it further enacted, That all officers in the military or other naval service, of the rank of captain in the army or lieutenant in the navy, and of less rank, who have lost a leg or arm in such service and in consequence of wounds received or disease contracted therein, shall be entitled to receive an artificial limb on the same terms as privates in the army are now entitled to receive the same.

Sec. 15. And be it further enacted, That in all cases of pensions hereafter to be granted by special acts of Congress shall be subject to be varied in amount according to the provisions and limitations of the pension laws.

Sec. 16. And be it further enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the foregoing provisions of this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved, July 27, 1868. [Public- No. 117.] An Act for indexing the tax bill. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Clerk of the House of Representatives be, and he is hereby authorized to pay out of the contingent fund of the House of Representatives, to the clerk of the Committee of Ways and Means, one hundred dollars for preparing, by order of the House, a full index of the Act imposing taxes on distilled spirits and tobacco, and for other purposes," approved July twentieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight.
