

Will Boydston Gets 50-Year Pin In Baird Masonic Service

Boydston came here from Rockwall in 1892 as a salesman in the dry goods store run by his brother, the late B. L. Boydston, and has lived here ever since.

He has been in the dry goods business during the entire 61 years and has had his own dry goods store here since 1909.

Senior deacon in the First Baptist Church here, Boydston has missed going to Sunday School and church only once during the entire 41 years that he has been a member. That was when his mother died.

He has served the church as Sunday School superintendent and clerk during that time.

Boydston likes to tell that when he and his wife married 55 years ago, they moved into the house where they still live.

There were born their three daughters, Mrs. W. D. Ferguson of Brownsville, Mrs. Sam L. Stokes of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Herman Harper of Abilene, and their two grandsons, Sam Boydston Stokes of Corpus Christi and Donald David Ferguson of Brownsville. They have three great-granddaughters.

Right after he came to Baird in January, 1892, Boydston subscribed to the Reporter-News and has been reading the paper ever since. He was for 20 years agent for the paper in Baird.

A football enthusiast, Boydston follows all of Baird High School's games, and, at 79, he still buys 5,000 turkeys for holiday dinners.

In 1952 he was elected president of the Callahan County Old Settlers Reunion of pioneers who have lived in the county for 50 years or more.

SWEET 'N SOUR

By A. DILL

Just how does one go about saying "Thank You" for all the wonderful things that friends do? There aren't words enough to express the gratitude that you feel for all the lovely gifts, the flowers, the cards, and the visits that mean so much. I think sometimes that when the road you are traveling becomes the darkest, that friends stand out like beacon lights, pointing the way back home. So how do you say "Thank You" for the courage that friends give? If you ever find out please let me know and I'll tell it all to you.

Had the nicest, spiciest little letter from a young lady from Mid-Way who is doing a jam up good job of caring for home, family, and raising a truck garden while husband helps keep the Co-Op moving smoothly. She is Irma Dell Webb Canada and she is nice as can be (she would have to be one of Edmund Webb's youngsters, wouldn't she?) and we do hope to hear from her more often.

Another nice letter came all the way of Houston, Texas from your friend and mine, Ann Wagner. She gets the Star and watches for ye old column and of course that makes us mighty happy.

See it was nice of you guys to say you missed Sweet and Sour during it's absence, and for the luvva Pete keep on saying those nice things, we never get tired of 'em.

Will wonders never cease? They're saying lots of fine things about Jerry Loper at the City Pharmacy these days. Seems the boy presented each member of the school faculty with a handsome pocket secretary, complete with plastic carrying case, ball point pen, and note pad. (Bet there's something behind these "red apples," bet he wants a diploma 'r something.)

Mrs. Lucille Hall's fifth grade, Mrs. Ivey's seventh grade, and Mrs. Pruet's eighth grade had a special treat this week. Through the generosity and kindness of interested people the children received tickets to the Circus in Abilene. Monday parents assembled in cars and the youngsters were hurried off for this very special outing. To those thoughtful people who provided the tickets and to those who made the trip possible the teachers and children extend their heartiest thanks.

We know it's late in the day to offer birthday congratulations but we had a host of very important ones this past month. Ruth Bowls, Frank Windham, Jr., Freddie Foy, Jenice Brown, Artie Mae Stokes, Dorothy Henry, Preston Ault, Mrs. S. L. McElroy, and Manche Estes all had September birthdays and we wish the best of just everything to all of 'em. Did we overlook yours? Well, tell us about it and we'll fix it up right away.

Wasn't the football game last Friday night wonderful, and weren't you proud of those Baird Bears? Hope this is indicative of the season ahead and that they pile up a whole stack of wins for the home town.

Hope to be out and traveling next week and can dig you up some school news because just plenty is happening there these days that you'll be wanting to hear about.

Drop by next week for another chat, and until then, Thanks again for just everything.

School Faculty Guests Of Trustees

Members of the Baird school faculty and personnel were guests of the school trustees at an 8:20 breakfast on September 7th in the Luncheon Room of the T&P Cafe. Breakfast plates of bacon and eggs, toast, coffee, and iced fruit juice were served to the following: Hugh Ross, Curtis Sutphen, Clark Edwards, M. L. Hughes, C. B. Snyder, R. R. Shelnutt, Roy Higgins, Superintendent Keefe Rowland, Principal John H. Shrader, C. E. Brandon, E. L. Reese, Earl Ellis, Mrs. Archie Nichols, Mrs. Frankie Crow, Mrs. Earl Ellis, Mrs. Clyde White, Mrs. Sidney Foy, Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. John Bowls, Mrs. Hubert Ross, Miss Isadore Grimes, Mrs. Lucille Hall, Mrs. Lee Ivey, Mrs. Benton Pruet, Mr. Virgil Hughes, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Dennis, and Mrs. Tabor.

Immediately following the breakfast the teachers assembled at the school for the first faculty meeting of the 1953-54 season. The meeting was under the direction of Superintendent Keefe Rowland who prefaced the activities with a splendid talk in which he called for the whole hearted cooperation of the entire faculty in making this a successful and satisfactory school year. He called attention to the fact that any and all man-made organizations are subject to error but that if criticisms are kept constructive, it's successful points kept in view and with all working for the good of the whole, problems can be solved and work accomplished. In the course of his address Superintendent Rowland made use of a lovely legend to emphasize the tremendous part played by the conscientious educator. He likened the teacher to a river which provides life-giving water for a land. Some will drink deeply and benefit greatly, others not so anxious will drink little and receive less, but regardless of this the river must be always there with a ready supply of water for those who wish it.

Businessmen's Tour Of Abilene To Visit

The Abilene Chamber of Commerce has arranged a Businessmen's Tour to include about thirty Abilene Businessmen to visit Baird at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 29.

The C of C stresses the fact that this is not a sales trip but is a tour of wholesalers, jobbers, manufacturers and representatives of Special Service Firms. This is strictly a "get acquainted" tour and the Businessmen do not wish to interfere with business functions of our local merchants.

Let's all plan to welcome the Abilene men here on their "Get Acquainted" tour.

Cub Scouts To Meet Monday Night

Monday night, Sept. 28 at 7 p.m. the Cub Scout Pack No. 24 of Baird will meet at the Methodist Church. This is a regular monthly meeting and all Cub Scouts and their parents are urged to attend. This monthly meeting is mainly for the purpose of the parents of Cub Scouts to get together and learn how the pack is doing.

At this meeting the parents are urged to bring one covered dish for a "Pot Luck" supper before the business meeting.

To those fathers that are members of the Lions Club, we want you to come to the Cub Scout meeting as soon as the Lions Club meeting is over.

The future of our country will be in the hands of the boys of today. This training is to enable them to be better able to face the walk of life a few years from now. We owe it to our youth to give them the benefit of this training in order to better prepare them for the future.

We parents of today are prone to be too engrossed in living ourselves rather than to give our children the attention and training that they should have.

Parents of all boys aged 8 to 11 are invited to attend this meeting.

R. L. Hurst, district cubmaster of Abilene will be here to show some films on the different phases of Cub Scouting. The leaders of Cub Scout Pack No. 24 of Baird feel that all parents will be well paid for their time in attending this meeting.

Bears Win Over Cross Plains 12-7

The Baird Bears scored in the second and fourth quarter to down the Buffaloes of Cross Plains 12-7 before a near capacity crowd at Buffalo stadium in Cross Plains last Friday night.

The Bears showed abundance of skill in ball handling which they had not possessed against Goldthwaite week before last. Cross Plains had not had a game before last Friday therefore they had not been tried.

Baird got their first score in the second quarter when Halfback John Bullock scampered 21 yards to paydirt. Kyle Meadows try for the extra point was off to the side and no good.

The Buffaloes bounced back after the halftime period to push across their only tally when Homer Robinson plunged over from the one yard line. Oscar Koenig crashed through the center of the Baird line for the point after touchdown.

Baird ended the scoring in the last period when Bullock went over from the one yard line. Again Meadows failed to make the point after touchdown and the game ended with Baird on top 12-7.

Outstanding linemen for Cross and Leonard Bodine. The out-plains were Kenneth Tennis standing backs were Kenneth Beeler, Oscar Koenig and Homer Robinson.

The outstanding players for Baird were: George Jones, John Bullock, Bill Gorman, Kyle Meadows and Bobby Poe. Gorman, Meadows and Poe were especially outstanding on the defense.

Annual Stockholders Meeting Held

The annual stockholders meeting of Callahan County Farmers Cooperative, Inc. was held Sept. 18 at the American Legion Hut with 85 members present and some 75 visitors.

The business meeting was opened at 10:30 a.m. with a prayer, by Merle King, minister of the Baird Church of Christ.

A welcome address to the stockholders and visitors to Baird was given by Rupert Jackson, local attorney. This being the first annual meeting held at Baird. He expressed the pleasure of the Baird citizenship to have a modern mill and its fine personnel located here.

The minutes were read by Director Weldon Edwards.

The financial statement and report was read by Mr. H. E. Duffie, auditor for the firm from Abilene.

Mr. T. W. Colby, farm manager for Abilene Christian College gave a short address as to the value of a feed mill and organization of this type to the livestock men and farmers of this area and stressed the need for farmers to organize, own and operate their own business.

The main speaker for the occasion was Mr. H. M. Guthrie from the Houston Bank for Cooperatives. Mr. Guthrie gave some very interesting figures as to the sharp decline in farm population and that each census year shows a large percent of our farm people leaving for cities and industrial employment and what a tremendous responsibility that the farmers and ranchers have in the years to come to feed the ever increasing population of our great nation and stressed the great need for those engaged in agriculture to band together and support and own their own business as is being done in this county.

The meeting was brought to a close without any official business being transacted because there was not enough stockholders present to constitute a quorum.

Following the business session Riley Fugitt, partor for the First Baptist Church in Baird, gave the invocation.

For the noon meal a barbecue lunch was served to those present.

A second stockholders meeting has been called for October 8, 1953 at Baird Courthouse in the District Courtroom at 7:30 for the purpose of electing three directors whose terms expire and any other business that shall pertain to the annual meeting.

EDITORIAL

IT MIGHT BE YOUR CHILD

One of the largest transportation systems in the world has recently gone back into operation — the fleet of Texas school buses. From now until next June, over 6,700 school buses will carry over one third of a million school children to and from school every day.

It is quite a job to carry all those children every day — it is an even greater job to carry them safely. Yes, that bus driver has a great deal of responsibility, but did you know that you are partly responsible for their safety, too! You are, if you drive a motor vehicle on our streets and highways!

The Texas Safety Association says that traffic accident statistics for 1951 show that some of our motorists in the State forgot their obligation, because there were 156 accidents which involved a school bus. These accidents claimed 4 lives and brought pain and serious injury into the lives of 55 others. Some motorists forgot and the children paid for that forgetfulness.

The Uniform Motor Vehicle Act, which consists of most of our State traffic laws, makes the drivers of the other vehicles on the highway responsible for interfering with the safe loading and unloading of children riding the bus.

This is a portion of the law: "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of a business or residence district upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children." Why not read it again and be sure that you know it thoroughly!

The major portion of those school bus accidents for 1951 involved a violation of that section of the law — the motorist failed to stop! The loss of money will be the least thought in your mind if you have to look down at the torn, distorted body of a school child who was killed or injured because of your negligence.

The Texas Safety Association asks that you join with them in a concerted, statewide effort to remind Texas motorists that it is up to them to do their share in protecting our school children — after all, the child you save may be your own!

Shivers To Open Prison Rodeo

Governor Allan Shivers will for the fifth consecutive time officially open the annual Prison Rodeo here, Sunday, October 4th.

French M. Robertson, Texas Prison Board chairman, announced the Governor's acceptance of the Texas Prison Board's invitation and declared that opening Sunday of the big prison show, now in its 22nd year, would be designated as Governor's Day.

Members of the Texas legislature have also been invited to attend the October 4th ceremonies as guests of the prison management and a large number are expected to be on hand when the world-famed rodeo is opened.

Right now its round-up time throughout the prison system and the farthest corners of the vast river bottom pastures are being combed for the rodeo stock that hasn't seen a human being since last year. Only the best and wildest animals will be taken to Huntsville for the rodeo. What happens when these Brahma bulls and wild horses are mounted by the reckless convict riders is anybody's guess. The result is what has earned the show its reputation of being the wildest rodeo staged anywhere.

As usual the 22nd annual Prison Rodeo will open with that unforgettable spectacle, the Mad Scramble. Ten chutes flying open simultaneously to disgorge ten wild convict riders on ten wild Brahma bulls. After that it's a whirl of Saddle Bronc Riding, Bareback Bronc riding, wild bull riding, wild horse racing, interspersed between events with the very best novelty and specialty acts playing the "free-world" circuits with calf roping by some of the state's best ropers, who annually journey here to compete with each other, during the prison show's four performances.

From the opening event to the end of the riotous Chariot Race there's never a dull moment at Prison Stadium each Sunday in October, the 4th, 11th, 18th, and 25th. Beginning at 2 p.m. the next two hours are packed with thrills no other rodeo can equal.

Reservations are available by mail or wire by addressing Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas, enclosing your check or money order and specifying the date you plan to attend. All reservations are just $2.40 each, tax included.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stiffler attended the baseball game between Dallas and Tulsa last Friday night. On their return home they visited Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Smith and twins, Shirley and Sharon, in Weatherford.

Friends of Mrs. Sidney Foy, who attended her brother's funeral in Merkel, Sunday are: Dr. and Mrs. M. C. McGowan, Mrs. C. B. Snyder, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Siadous, Mrs. Madge Bear-den, Mrs. Margaret Gilliland and Mrs. Rob Latimer, of Ft. Worth.

THE AMERICAN WAY

A Sure Touchdown

Seed Testing System In Effect Sept. 1

A new seed testing fee system will be put into effect Sept. 1, by the two seed laboratories operated by the Texas Department of Agriculture in Lubbock and Austin, Commissioner John C. White has announced.

A complete test of all seed will be made for $2.50 with the exception of chaffy grasses, native grasses, mixtures and trashy seed. This fee can be broken down to $1 for germination tests or $1.50 for purity analysis, only.

A fee of $5 will be levied for purity and/or germination tests of the four exceptions — chaffy, native, mixtures and trashy seed. During a rush season, however, trashy seed may be rejected for testing purposes, White added.

Noxious weed seed will be examined for $1 per sample. Analysis of seed by an accredited laboratory is required before Texas Tested Seed Tags can be issued, White explained. No seed can be legally offered for sale without the tag from the Dept. of Agriculture.

Charge for a seed tag has been increased from 1 to 2 cents. The Texas Seed Law requires that one tag be attached to each container or bag of seed sold or exposed for sale in the amount of 100 pounds or a fraction thereof.

Money for the tests must accompany the samples. Checks or money orders should be made to the Texas Seed Act Fund. Charges will be effective on all samples which reach either of the two laboratories after Sept. 1, regardless of the postmark date, White said.

This will be the first year the Texas Department of Agriculture has charged for seed tests. The fees are the result of a new plan to make the department more nearly self-supporting and less dependent on the taxpayer's money.

Commissioner White said he had not asked the Legislature to appropriate tax money for this project for the next two years, the fee system was initiated so that the expense would be borne by those who benefit from the service.

Diseases After Fifty Due More Attention

As the life span of man increases more attention must be given to the diseases that occur more frequently among those over fifty, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Most retirement plans set age 65 as the time to quit work. This has given rise to the misconception that when a person reaches that age he is unfit for gainful employment.

Such an indictment fails to recognize experience, ability, training and capacity which may be far superior to younger groups and will only add to the relief rolls throughout the country. The later years of life can be productive and the employment of such persons can do much toward solving the economic and social problems of this age group.

Special attention must be given by physicians and public health personnel in preventing chronic illness such as arthritis, cancer, heart disease and senility, says Dr. Cox. Non-medical problems are acute because of inattention. The value of older workers must be recognized or the problem will become greater each year.

Methods of prevention by immunization, sanitation, personal hygiene, and treatment all combined have proved that communicable diseases can more or less be controlled. It is this work that has made possible the expectancy of life at birth to be 70 years and far beyond. Now similar work and research is necessary in order that those reaching old age can be gainfully employed and enjoy their latter years free of many of the chronic illnesses.

Mrs. C. B. Holmes and son, C. B., Jr., and her mother, Mrs. Gus-sie Surles, all formerly of Austin, have moved to Baird to make their home. They are living on West 6th St.

Mrs. S. W. Browning of San Antonio, is visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ace Hickman. Before returning home she plans to visit in Slaton and Amarillo.

What is this hen looking for?

You know the answer. She feels a lack. A deficiency. She's trying hard to find a certain something she needs.

It's no use to expect your hens to lay as they should unless the feed you give them provides everything they need.

The Putnam News

Mrs. John D. Isenhower—Editors—Mrs. E. G. Perkins

Putnam School News

Putnam High is looking forward to playing Scranton three games of basketball, Sept. 22nd, at the Putnam gym. The games will be free, but, should be good ones. Coach R. E. Putman is expectant to rack up his first win of the year with his high school girls. He reports a good response in workouts. Coach E. G. Perkins isn't so sure that his boys will be able to overcome the Scranton boys who were District winners of their district last year. He does expect a close game of it. Here are my predictions: B game boy's winner, Scranton; B game A team Putnam by 3 points; Girl's A team, Putnam by 6 points or more.

We will pick Baird to beat Moran Friday night in football.

CHURCH NEWS

The front of the Baptist Church has been painted and two new classrooms have been constructed.

There was a scavenger hunt for the young people at the Baptist Church last Friday. There were 23 present. After the hunt they had a weiner roast behind the church building. Next month they plan to have a Treasure Hunt.

CAN WE UNDERSTAND THE BIBLE

You have heard people say many times I'm sure, "we can't all see alike nor can we understand the Bible alike." Let me make this clear—it is impossible for people to understand anything and not understand that thing alike. For example we understand a fact. Can we understand facts and not understand them alike? Some one commands us to do something, do we understand the command alike? A school teacher gives the arithmetic assignment to the group. They all work the same problems. Do they understand alike?

Our differences in religion do not arise from our understanding, but rather from that we do not understand. There is a divine and inspired rule running all through the Bible that should be our guide. We need to know the teaching of the whole book and follow it.

First let us note Duet. 29:29 "The secret things belong unto the Lord our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and our children forever, THAT WE MAY DO THE WORDS OF THE LAW." In Rev. 22 we read "Blessed are they that do His commandments that they may have a right to the tree of life and enter in at the gates into the city. If we couldn't understand alike the WORDS OF THE LAW why would God have told us to keep them?"

We are charged to PREACH THE WORD (2 Tim. 4:1, 2). James said, that if we would receive it that it would save our soul. We would not have any trouble if we would all speak as the oracles of God (1 Pt. 4:11.)

Veda Yarbrough

Howdy Folks. My doesn't this light norther feel good after the past week of such hot weather? The weather just has to cool up a bit because cotton will soon be ready to pull and the weather like we had the past week is too hot for people to be working in the cotton patch. By the way I know two mighty good hands to pull cotton. They say they are going to pull enough cotton to buy a TV set and I know they will have to be pretty good at the job to pull that much. So just see Bettie and Mabel Mobley. Mabel says she has two good gunny sacks to make her a cotton sack out of. Mabel says she doesn't know how to pull cotton, so she guessed she would just have to pick. Gal you will have to learn how to pull cotton. Picking cotton is too slow for these fast times.

Say, in case any of you see Santa Claus before I do, tell him that Veda wants a TV for Christmas. Will ya?

Johnny May Ramsey went to Ft. Worth Saturday to visit a few days with relatives and friends.

Jack Everett and family from Cisco visited Sunday with the Hired Hand and family. The Hired Hand has been kinda down in the dumps lately. You remember here a while back the boss had him to cut all those sun flowers and then a few days later he read in the paper where sun flower seed were selling at a big price and he thought, My just look what I could have made by harvesting those things instead of cutting them down. Finally the boss felt so sorry for him and she read the same piece in the paper and she told him to quit worrying about the old sun flowers, that it meant tame sun flower seed and not 'nose old wild ones. So now he is in a lot better mood. Poor old Hired Hand really has his ups and downs but who doesn't.

Mrs. Mary Ramsey, Jim and I went to Cross Plains Sunday afternoon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ped Yarbrough. We visited with Pa and Ma Tatom a little while too. They both seem to be getting along pretty good. They have a real pretty place to live in and so nicely fixed up inside. Look, so cozy and homie. We really did enjoy our short visit with them. They asked us to come back some time and I think we shall. Mr. and Mrs. Tatom were one time our neighbors way out here in this Union Community.

Mrs. Annie Park and her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Peterson are visiting with Mrs. Dell Jones and Bert. Mrs. Dove Gunn of Spur is also a visitor in the Jones home.

Oh yes, Dove and Homer Pruet have a Plymouth car now and Dove just can't stay at home because she wants to drive the new car all time. Dove, drive over to see me some time.

We read in the paper where the Moran Gin will run this fall. I am glad. Won't be so far to the gin as it has been the past few years. Mr. Hub Sherman is the manager of the gin and I hear he is very sick in the Eastland hospital. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Floyd and Edra Buchanan visited with us a while Sunday night. Think they would have stayed longer but Floyd spied a wasp nest in the apricot tree and about that time they spied him. One made a pass at him but didn't sting him, so he said they better go. Sorry Floyd about the wasps. After you all left I sprayed the stinging creatures and they are there no more. So you all come back again soon. Well my little Boy Jim is still hauling and stacking feed. They hope to get through Tuesday.

I don't know what the women around here will do for pastime now as pea shelling time is over. Guess they will all have to get busy and make themselves a big old split bonnet and a cotton sack and head for the cotton patch pretty soon. Guess us old women and men will have to gather most of it as there is no youngsters out here any more and if there were they would be in school.

I visited a while Friday afternoon with Allie Burnam. She was busy making a new fall frock. Going to look real pretty when she gets it finished. And oh, you should see her pretty flowers. Think she must have a green thumb she has so many pretty pot flowers. Guess she just knows how to treat them. Anyway they really grow for her.

I don't know any news as usual, so think it time to sign off for this week. Be seeing you again next Monday.

Veterans Urged To Pay Insurance

Three tips on how to save time and money when paying National Service Life Insurance premiums were listed today by Scott B. Harrington, Manager of the Dallas Regional Office of the Veterans Administration.

Most important is to pay premiums when due. He added:

"Although each veteran is allowed a 31-day grace period after the premium date during which he is still protected by his GI insurance, it is not a good idea to pay premiums late. Many times a veteran will slip up and over ride the grace period allowing the policy to lapse."

Second, a veteran can save himself and his Government time and money by paying NSLI premiums on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis instead of paying premiums each month.

By writing or visiting any VA office, a veteran can learn just how much money he can save on his premiums by this method, in addition to the monthly costs of stamps and checks or money orders.

"There is less chance of the veteran lapsing his GI insurance policy if he pays his premiums on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis," said Harrington.

Third, never send cash through the mail. He said veterans should always use a check or money order made payable to the Veterans Administration in mailing premiums to the VA district office holding the veterans' insurance records. For veterans in the Dallas Regional Office area, the address is VA District Office, 1114 Commerce St., Dallas 2, Texas.

By using checks or money orders, the veteran-policy holder not only insures the safety of his money but has a receipt for the premium payment in his cancelled check or money order stub, Harrington said.

Judge and Mrs. J. L. Farmer spent last weekend in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Harold Henderson, Mr. Henderson and Vivian in Crane.

Mrs. Billie Collins and son, Dee, returned to Baird the first of the week after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mills, in Corsicana, for the past two weeks.

Mrs. W. B. Atchison and Mrs. Elva Smith visited in Lubbock last weekend.

Is he in business "to stay?"

When you buy a used car from a Ford Dealer, you're dealing with an established businessman who has a large investment and his good name at stake. We're here today, and we'll be here tomorrow!

Check the used car, sure! But check the dealer too!

Does he really know cars?

Ford Dealers are in the service business, too; work with cars day in and day out. We know how to spot trouble fast. And our expert mechanics have the equipment and "know-how" to handle any service job.

Are his prices really fair?

Ford Dealers handle used cars and trucks as a service to customers who trade them for new ones. We get a lot of trade-ins. And we keep them moving to free our working capital. That's a good reason why we offer our used cars and trucks at rock-bottom prices.

Is he interested in you?

Remember—we Ford Dealers want to keep your good will because we want to take care of all your automotive needs. Someday we hope to sell you a new car, or another used car, and in the meantime, we want your service business.

Do his cars meet A-1 standards?

When you go to a Ford Dealer's and see the A-1 label on a car, you know it has met with the dealer's A-1 standards. And because you can trust the man you bought it from, you can trust the car.

IT'S WHERE YOU BUY IT THAT COUNTS!

Mrs. R. G. Edwards
Elevating Elucidations for the Enjoyable Enlightenment of Everybody Everywhere

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith and small son of El Paso are visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Farmer and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith.

Bob Favor returned to the Naval Base at Norfolk, Va., last Tuesday after a ten day leave in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Favor. Other relatives in the Favor home were Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cranfield, of Norman, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, of Abilene.

Last week many of our young men and women enrolled in colleges. Those going to Hardin-Simmons are Waylon Warren, Roger Crook, Nita Johnson, Martha Temple and Don Ray. Betty Louise Smith, Hendrick School of Nursing, David McClure, McMurry and Beth Farmer, Abilene Christian College. There may be many others who enrolled that we have not heard about.

Bill K Ford, Supt. of the school reports that the school enrollment is up considerably this year. The first day 170 were enrolled and some have registered since then.

Mrs. Bill Ferguson and Mrs. Dick Ball are the cooks in the lunchroom and we have been hearing some good reports about the meals being served.

R. G. Edwards killed a big rattlesnake about 3 1/2 ft. long with 7 rattlers just back of his barn one day last week while shocking feed. That was one time that the farm dog made himself worth his weight in gold, by finding it before it struck. It was the first one Mr. Edwards had seen in 18 years.

Sgt. and Mrs. Jackie Rosinbaum are visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rosinbaum, before he will leave for duty with the Air Force in Alaska. Mrs. Rosinbaum and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Smith will accompany him to California.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Rouse and daughter, of Ft. Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rouse and baby, Belinda, were visitors in the F. E. Mitchell home, Thursday night.

WILL D. BOYDSTUN

The largest run of cattle and calves of the season arrived at the 12 major livestock centers of the nation last Monday. Over 158,000 cattle, and over 20,000 calves were reported around the circuit.

While somewhat lower prices were reported at most points, the break in prices was cushioned by the ability of the markets to absorb a heavy beef supply. Low grade slaughter cattle and calves were getting help from increased government purchases, and indications that foreign relief funds would be used to buy millions of pounds of canned beef was a favorable straw in the wind.

At Ft. Worth steers and yearlings ruled steady to 50 cents off. Cows were fully 50 cents lower, some interests bidding additionally lower on fat cows. Bulls ruled steady. Slaughter calves edged downward again by 50 cents per hundred, instances off more.

Stocker trade showed moderate activity on the Monday trade at Ft. Worth with higher grades generally steady with last week's close. Numerous loads of feeder cattle sold in the $13 to $16 bracket, good kinds of steers and yearlings numerous at $15 to $15.75. Stocker calves sold from $10 to $16.50. Heifer calves and heifer yearlings usually sold from $1 to $3 under their steer mates.

Fat steers and yearlings eligible to sell above $20 were very scarce at Ft. Worth Monday, a few from $20 to $22, and high choice or prime kinds were quotable to $23 to $25. Common and medium grassy kinds sold for $10 to $15.50, and cutter grades cashed at $8 to $9.

Fat cows cleared at $9 to $12, and canners and cutters drew $6 to $9.50. Several loads and smaller lots of high yielding cutters in the $8.75 to $9.50 field. Bulls drew mostly $8 to $12, with some individuals upwards to $12.50 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold for $12.50 to $16, with a few choice heavies $16.50. Common and medium butcher kinds sold from $9 to $12, with culls from $7 to $9.

Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $13 to $16.50, and heifer calves sold from $14 downward. Stocker and feeder steers and yearlings sold from $10 to $16. Stocker cows drew $8 to $12.

Slaughter lambs were weak to 50 cents lower, and other classes of sheep and lambs were sold about on a level with the previous week at Ft. Worth.

Good and choice fed lambs topped at $17 to $18.50, two decks of choice fat lambs at the higher figure. Cull, common and medium slaughter lambs sold from $10 to $16. Stocker and feeder lambs bulked at $11 to $14.

Fat yearling wethers sold from $12 to $13, while old wethers drew $7.50 down. Feeder yearlings cashed around $10 to $10.50. Slaughter ewes drew $5.50 to $6.50.

Butcher hogs sold steady to 25 cents lower at Ft. Worth Monday. Top hogs sold for $25.00 to $25.75. Sows were steady to easier at $20 to $24. Pigs drew $20 down. Underweight butchers drew $21 to $25.25.

It is now estimated that 65 to 75 percent of the Flint Hills cattle have moved out of Kansas. Increasing interest is reported at Midwestern markets in fleshy steers suitable for quick-turn feeding.

The better demand for fleshy feeders at Ft. Worth has been a reflection of this condition, a good many large and small bunches of feeder steers and yearlings in the $14 to $16 field Monday of this type.

This week has been chiefly devoted to filling speaking engagements. Most days have been pretty well taken up with speaking appointments at noon and night. As the days go by it seems that more hours are needed in everyone. It is regretted that all invitations cannot be accepted, because they are so deeply appreciated.

Here in Sweetwater it has been my pleasure to address the Rotary Club, the Lumbermen's Association, and to participate in the welcoming home of Sergeant J. P. McMillan, a prisoner of war in Korea for more than two years, in connection with the honoring of the oil men of the area and the appearance of the Shrine Circus. These affairs have given me very great pleasure.

On last Thursday night the South Taylor County Lions Club honored the faculty of their schools with a banquet. It was my honor and privilege to address the group. The honoring of the teachers is a very fine gesture. Most of us are negligent in showing and expressing our appreciation for those in the teaching profession. Many times they are sacrificing a great deal in continuing their work because of their devotion to it.

On Saturday, Roby celebrated the occasion of its new water supply from Oak Creek Reservoir. A large crowd of people were on hand in Roby and I saw many long-time friends. If anyone needed to be reminded of the importance of water in West Texas, it would have been forcibly impressed upon him to have seen the gratitude of the people of Roby for an adequate water supply.

Back in my home town of Anson on Saturday night the Chamber of Commerce honored the oil men of that area with a banquet, and of course I greatly enjoyed being with my home folks on that occasion.

Every effort is being continued to secure a better acreage allotment for crops grown in our area. At this writing the Department of Agriculture in Washington has not yet approved our contention that acreage prepared for planting, but not planted because of the drought, be counted in arriving at 1954 allotments. The law says it can be counted but leaves it to the judgment of the Department of Agriculture. It was our definite understanding before leaving Washington that such acreage would be included.

It is necessary that I return to Washington next week in order to participate in a Committee Hearing on the "Trading With the Enemy Act." This will require from three to five weeks, after which my wife and I will return home and continue visiting over the 17th Congressional District.

Questions and Answers

Q—I want to apply for VA's vocational counseling to help me choose a training objective under the Korean GI Bill. There aren't any counseling facilities in my town. Would VA pay my transportation costs to and from a counseling center?

A—No. VA may not pay the travel costs of a veteran who merely desires counseling. But VA could pay those costs, in the case of a veteran for whom counseling is mandatory.

Q—If I meet all the eligibility requirements of the Korean GI Bill, would I be allowed to take training, even though I've gone back on active duty and am now in uniform?

A—No. The Korean GI Bill prohibits training by veterans on active duty, even though they do meet all the eligibility requirements of the law.

Q—I'm planning to buy a house with a GI loan. What should be my first step?

A—Your first step should be to go to your VA Regional Office and obtain a Certificate of Eligibility. Be sure to bring your original discharge or separation paper with you. Once you have the Certificate, see a lender for a GI loan.

Q—I've just come out of service, and I'm planning to apply for $10,000 worth of GI insurance available to Korean veterans. I have a $5,000 commercial life insurance policy. Will I still be able to get the full $10,000 GI policy, even though I hold commercial insurance?

A—Yes. The amount of commercial insurance you carry will in no way reduce the amount of GI insurance to which you may be entitled.

"Battle Of Outlaws" At Huntsville Oct. 4th

The annual event that has been headlined by newspapers and magazines throughout the Southwest as "The Battle of The Outlaws" — Texas' 22nd Prison Rodeo will again get underway at the Prison System's main unit at Huntsville on Sunday afternoon, October 4th.

The prison's rodeo manager, Albert Moore, has stated that, as always, he is picking only the very best performers, from the many prisoners who will try out to compete for the rodeo, and only the wildest stock that the prison's herds afford for them to mount when the show opens.

With the pick of the penitentiary's 7,600 inmates doing the riding, and only the wildest of its more than 12,000 head of cattle and hundreds of horses chosen for the performances, there will be enough action to satisfy even the most critical rodeo fan.

The galaxy of added feature acts booked for the '53 show are among the best to be found performing at rodeos throughout the nation. Buff Brady, World Champion Trick Rider and Roper heads the list. Don Wilcox, another trick and fancy roper will assist Brady. The Lamb Sisters, Ted and Betty, of Dallas, well-known trick riders; the Head Sisters, more Texas girls from Campbell, Hunt County, with two trained bulls; Jay Sisler, Emmet, Idaho, with two trained dogs and the widely known Harris County Sheriffs Posse — all will appear between inmate riding events.

Requests for reserved seats are already coming in to the Prison Ticket Office and mail orders are being given immediate attention. Tickets may be secured by writing: Prison Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, Texas, stating the number of tickets required, the date for which they are desired, and enclosing a check or money order for $2.40 for each ticket.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burton, of Olney visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Smith and Betty Lou, last weekend.

Mrs. Floyd Phillips, former resident of Baird, now living in Ft. Stockton, wrote friends here last week, that she had undergone surgery and was in the Memorial Hospital in Ft. Stockton. Her friends here will be glad to hear she is doing fine.

Visitors in the Will Cutbirth home last weekend were, his granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrison, all of Austin.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION WEEK SEPT. 27 - OCT. 4

America's birthrate is rising by leaps and bounds — there are more children and young people in America today than at any other time in history. What of their religious training and guidance? What are parents, churches and schools doing to give children spiritual and religious value to live by? Christian Education Week, observed throughout the U.S.A. Sept. 27-Oct. 4, throws the spotlight on this major question — and on some of the answers, too. Frances Dunlap Heron's article which follows is 'must' reading for every parent today.

For All Children, Faith in God,

by Frances Dunlap Heron
Seven-year-old Robert is in a detention home. He doesn't understand why. It's hard to explain to a small boy that his parents did not love him enough to take proper care of him. The older boys in the institution beat him and hold their hands over his mouth to keep him from crying out. If he does make a noise or ask a simple question, the man and woman in charge shout threats at him.

Little Martha doesn't try to remember the name of the place where she first opened her eyes upon a world of battered automobiles, stuffy shacks and weary shoulders. She knows only that she was born "during beats." Her family is among the hosts of agricultural migrants who harvest the crops, following them season by season, from state to state. No wonder Martha hasn't been able to get past second grade in four years. She doesn't go to Sunday school—no church has asked her and anyway she hasn't any dress-up clothes.

Willy looks like the boy who lives three houses from you. His parents love him, he makes B in arithmetic, and he knows that taxes are terrible and the world is in a mess. With all of this he enjoys himself fully, has many friends who, like him, are eager for life and what it can bring to them. He used to be eager to go to his church school and had a good time when he went. That was when he had a good teacher and room for activities and participation in things of his class.

Now he still goes to church school nearly every Sunday, but he isn't particularly enthusiastic or spiritually stimulated. His old established church has been so overtaxed by an influx of new residents that his class has to meet in a cloakroom. (Willy sits on the radiator and aims wadded church bulletins at the gentlemen's hats.) He's had three teachers within a year and has misplaced the same number of home study books.

These children represent millions, the most children who have ever been alive at one time. A closer view would reveal many other familiar faces—children caught between divorced parents; the deaf, the blind, the mentally retarded; children in city slums and in remote rural areas; underfed children, overindulged children, bored, scared, happy, unhappy; and in many foreign countries boys and girls who know no god but communism.

Christian Education Week. All have one thing in common. All need God. They need a reason for being, a power greater than themselves to hold on to, a courage to make the most out of whatever life brings.

It is in recognition of this universal need that the Commission on General Christian Education of the National Council of Churches selected for Christian Education Week, September 27, through October 4, the theme, "For All Children Faith in God."

The emphasis comes appropriately as churches of the 40 denominations cooperating through the National Council launch a new year's program. Now is the time for leaders to take stock of their task, not only as it affects their own communities but as it takes an nationwide and world-wide significance.

The task is not the same as it was in Grandpa's day—though an underlying circumstance is the same—a high birth rate!

Schools and churches are bursting out at the corners and are hampered by inadequate equipment and teaching staffs. The number of parents willing to be church school teachers unfortunately does not keep up with the ration of their additions to the church school enrollment.

All praise is due those 2,598,884 Americans, the volunteer Sunday school workers, who get up early Sunday morning to carry out the educational program of their churches. Most of them work under less than perfect conditions—too small quarters, too large classes, too short time, too little cooperation from parents.

What some do not realize is that there is no magic in a child's occupying a chair in the primary department on Sunday morning. Faith in God has to be imparted through happy surroundings, diligent teachers, proper lesson materials and teaching aids.

27,000,000 Unreached. Added to this problem of increasing the effectiveness of church school for pupils already enrolled is the staggering challenge of the approximately 27,000,000 children and youths in our nation who are receiving no regular church school training.

They are found everywhere—among the wealthy, the middle class, the poverty-ridden, in minority groups, in hospitals, orphanages and other institutions, and in the vast population on the move for industrial, agricultural and military reasons.

Some are in the homes broken by divorce. Working mothers often are unable to give their youngsters proper physical care or emotional and spiritual guidance.

When to these handicaps is added the feeling of tension that surrounds not only children but adults, our mid-twentieth-century stage is indeed set for despair unless lighted by active faith in God.

Juvenile Delinquency. The result shows up alarmingly in the record of a million children getting into trouble with the law each year.

Naturally, religious education that comes in time to prevent a brush with the law must be the long-range objective. The goal of the churches must be to reach all children with Christian teaching.

Let us see what progress the church is making in that direction.

Sunday Church Schools. The largest organized force for imparting teaching and faith is, of course, the Sunday church school, dating back to 1780. The Division of Christian Education shows that in the United States Sunday church school rolls contain 32,638,879 names of children, youths and adults.

Until church buildings catch up with increased population, church leaders must struggle with the problem of what to do with so many children.

Many are running a double schedule on Sunday morning or are holding Sunday afternoon classes. Some are meeting in homes, some are renting additional quarters. Some new housing projects even use the real estate office!

Weekday religious education classes are now enrolling at least 2,500,000 public school pupils. Vacation church schools, using summer leisure for religious education, reach more than 5,000,000 each year. Both of these supplements to the regular Sunday church school have tremendous possibilities, yet unrealized, for reaching unchurched boys and girls.

Children in Institutions. Vacation schools offer a rewarding opportunity for ministering to children in institutions.

The Division of Home Missions of the National Council has as one of its major tasks the religious education of agricultural migrants. In a vacation Church school in one migrant camp, nine-year-old Becky was reduced to tears because she had not received a Bible at the closing service as her "surprise" for her treasure box. It was the only thing she wanted.

In Industrial Areas. The Division of Home Missions, through its department of the urban church, is administering Protestant work in industrial defense communities at Savannah River, Ga., and South Carolina, at Paducah, Ky., and in the Chillicothe-Portsmouth area in southern Ohio. The Atomic Energy Commission has plants under construction that have brought nearly 100,000 persons into each area.

A staff of 20 has set up mothers' clubs, three trailer chapels, and story hours and vacation church school programs in trailer camps.

The response of children in such industrial areas to a "church of their own" is typified by Jack. He watched tents for a vacation school being erected in a large field.

"Better look 'em down," Jack advised the director. "Those tents will be swiped before dark. Nothing stays around here."

The director realized Jack was right. But putting tents up and taking them down each day was out of the question.

"How about your keeping an eye on them?" she asked. Jack was all business. "Better leave me your telephone number so I can call if there is any trouble."

Jack called next morning. "The tents are all right," he reported. "Us fellows take turns playing around 'em till after dark. So you don't have to worry about our church. It'll be okay." And it was.

Then there are the youngsters like Cathy, the army sergeant's daughter, who never lives one place long enough to "belong" and who is tired of hearing about Moses. What about her?

A committee representing Protestant churches is even now at work with chaplains preparing a special curriculum for church school boys and girls in emergency areas. After October, 1954, Cathy can follow a coordinated course of study wherever she moves.

Chaplains, ministers, professional religious educators, church school teachers, parents—all have their role in building religious faith in children.

But every adult is involved. It may be as simple as talking things over with the neighbor child swiping pears from your back yard.

We all teach our own faith by the way we act.

SERIOUS LEGAL PROBLEMS INVOLVED IN HOME PURCHASE

With "National Home Week" being observed September 20-26 many people are now thinking at least casually about the purchase of a new home. Those who become seriously interested should proceed cautiously when making a deal, as many important legal problems are involved in such a transaction.

For the average person, the buying of a home is the largest single transaction of his life. It is also, in most instances, the most permanent or longest term investment he will ever make. Whether or not he bought wisely will be determined by his ability to resell without difficulty or to enjoy the use of the premises without annoyance or interruption.

Possibly the first legal problem you will meet will be when you are asked by the seller or his agent to sign a contract of sale or earnest money contract. In connection with the latter, you will be asked to deposit a sum of money which would be forfeited to the seller and agent for damages in event you do not fulfill the contract. Although no forfeit money may be required with the former, you may still be legally liable for damages if you renege. Be sure, therefore, that you know exactly what your obligations are.

The next legal problem would probably be to determine the status of the title to the property. Many persons become confused during this stage, thinking that securing possession of an Abstract or Title Insurance Policy will afford them complete protection against title defects. This is not necessarily true in either case.

Keep in mind that an abstract is merely an outline of public records on the tract. Any person may purchase an abstract covering any piece of land, whether he owns it or not. A Title Insurance Policy indemnifies you only up to a certain maximum sum of money, and contains various exceptions to the specified coverage.

Following this would be the problem of transferring the title from the legal owner to you, as purchased, in such manner that no legal question might later arise concerning your sole and exclusive ownership.

Incidental to your title problems is that of ascertaining what restrictions exist upon the lot you are buying and upon the neighborhood generally. Municipal zoning ordinances and restrictive covenants placed upon the tract by previous owners or developers of the subdivision may prove a protection or a hindrance, according to the plans you may have for future use or improvement of your property. Other legal questions may arise in arranging the method of payment for the house. The fact that most people need years in which to complete such payment makes this a matter to be considered carefully.

These are some of the major legal problems you are likely to encounter in purchasing a home. Of course, a number of others may arise in some cases due to peculiar individual circumstances.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal and other problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Austin 15, Texas.

Disasters Teach Many Lessons

War and calamities classed as an act of God (such as a tornado) may be thought of only in their destructive aspects. Yet the lessons learned from experiences of this kind can be used to prevent unnecessary loss of life in subsequent disasters.

Take the record of United States military personnel, for instance. By a complete, up-to-the-minute program, they succeeded in reducing the death rate of wounded servicemen in Korea to an all-time low of 2.3 per cent for the three years of fighting. During World War II it had averaged 4.5 per cent.

Reasons for the reduced death rate were varied. However, one of the leading factors had to do with improved methods for getting the injured fighter to facilities where adequate medical care was available. Evacuation was carried out by helicopter, airplane, armored tank, armored hospital train—or in whatever manner suited the particular situation and assured safe and speedy transportation. The patient was moved to a hospital operating in the area or a hospital ship in the Korean waters.

The helicopter is given a large share of credit for successful rescue and evacuation. Often within a matter of minutes from the time the patient was picked up in the battlefield he could be in a hospital well behind the fighting lines receiving major surgical care. Mobile surgical units and hospital ships were completely equipped and staffed. They had the advantages of being easily moved and of being almost completely self sufficient. The former could take care of about 60 patients, and the latter in some instances had bunks for 800 patients.

Civilian hospitals in the United States also have profited by lessons gained during large scale disasters. For instance, those in areas hit by the series of tornadoes in 1953 had the chance to test the effectiveness of their own disaster plans, to strengthen any weaknesses, and to share the benefits of their experiences with other hospitals. Three of them (one in Waco and two in Worcester, Mass.) shortly after the tornadoes hit reported on their observations, and it is evident from their reports that they had a number of problems in common.

During such an emergency the job of organizing workers, both trained and untrained, so that every patient receives first-class medical care is vast. It involves, for example, the sorting and routing of patients, keeping simple but accurate records on every one treated, and maintaining uninterrupted communications. In each of the three hospitals the over-all program was directed by physicians and other key personnel familiar with the many things to be done. In no instance was it necessary to ask for volunteers, either trained or untrained. Many reported to the hospital as soon as they learned of the disaster; others indicated they were standing by if needed.

Within several hours all trained and untrained, so that every patient receives first-class medical care is vast. It involves, for example, the sorting and routing of patients, keeping simple but accurate records on every one treated, and maintaining uninterrupted communications. In each of the three hospitals the over-all program was directed by physicians and other key personnel familiar with the many things to be done. In no instance was it necessary to ask for volunteers, either trained or untrained. Many reported to the hospital as soon as they learned of the disaster; others indicated they were standing by if needed.

nado victims had been given emergency treatment, many of them sent home or to the homes of friends, or admitted to the hospital. One institution had a new division not yet open for patients which it pressed into service; another set up army cots for temporary wards. Still a third prepared to discharge patients who were up and about and who could leave the hospital if it became necessary.

All of the hospitals concerned were convinced of the value of having a disaster plan, which they thought should be reviewed periodically and brought up to date.

College Training Announced By Navy

The Navy has announced that the nation-wide competitive examination for its 1954 college training program, the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps, has been set for December 12, 1953. The Navy emphasized the date as final. Examinations will not be given at any other time, regardless of circumstances.

Successful candidates will participate in four years of college training as Midshipmen USNR, and commissioned as officers in the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation. While in college, Midshipmen's tuition, books and normal fees are paid for by the Navy. In addition, Midshipmen are paid $600 a year and provided with the required uniforms.

Applications for examinations are available to male U. S. citizens who are high school seniors or graduates, between the ages of 17 and 21. Quotas have been assigned to each state and territory, based on its high school population. Applications may be obtained at any high school, college, or Navy Recruiting Station. Completed applications must reach the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N. J., by November 21, 1953.

Those passing the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations. If qualified, their names will be submitted to state and territorial selection committees composed of naval officers and prominent citizens for final selection.

The Navy expects to enter about 2000 students into the program for the fall term of college, 1954. Those selected by the competitive examinations will be assigned, if possible within quotas, to schools of their choice among universities and colleges which maintain NROTC units.

Between academic years, summer cruises of six to eight weeks are taken in ships of the fleet to provide practical shipboard training.

After commissioning, NROTC graduates serve on active duty for three years before applying for retention as career officers.

Classic Styling Wins Gold Cup

The advances made in automobile design over 20 years have added greatly to their comfort and riding qualities but little to their beauty.

This view was shown in a citation made by a group of business and professional leaders joined into a club aimed at preserving styling values in modern cars.

Packard received the group's first gold cup award (above) when Ethel Morton of the classic car club presented the trophy to William Graves, engineering executive.

In citing the pioneer automobile maker's progress under its new program, an official said that wide attention had been brought to luxury car and medium price car design by Packard in 1953. The new styling was credited with sparking the company's return to prominence in the fine car field with purchases more than double those of last year.

Among the 60 old cars belonging to classic club members is this 1940 model shown with a 1953 sports convertible.

Baptist Church Notes

We had good attendance Sunday at both worship services and those attending Sunday night were especially blessed by hearing Bro. Don Love, our music director, as he brought his first violin solo, "The Stranger of Gallilee," since coming to our church. The Lord has seen fit to bless us in a very special way by sending us Bro. Love and his wife. He is an accomplished musician, having been with the Oakland, California Symphony Orchestra for several years, and associate director of same for over 2 years before he surrendered his all to the ministry of the gospel, both in music and call to preach and we were richly blessed by our pastor's messages Sunday. "Reconciliation" being his subject Sunday morning and The Church at Thyatira, the 4th message in a series of sermons on the "7 churches," found in "Revelations," Sunday night.

REVIVAL

On Wednesday night Sept. 30, our revival is to begin. Rev. A. R. Posey, from Temple, Okla. to do the preaching and Bro. Don Love, to lead the singing.

Services will begin at 7 each evening, with prayer services, preaching service at 7:30. Also preaching service each week day at 7 a.m. Plan now, to attend each service.

Methodist Memos

The final report on the Training School attendance and "Recognitions" of last week was 74 in attendance during the week and 58 attending and doing the assignments in order to receive recognition.

Sunday is RALLY DAY - PROMOTION DAY for Sunday School. It is a day for rallying all members of Sunday School to attendance and a day for recognition of the progress of the children for promotion to advanced classes.

The Women's Society of Christian Service met for a covered dish supper Monday evening and shared in a very interesting program under the leadership of Mrs. C. M. Peek. The theme was "A Sower Goes Forth."

Wednesday evening services were begun as a regular part of the church activities this week after a lapse of many years. The services are planned to give better understanding of the Church and a more vital faith to the membership.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship begins the fall activity program with a ROUNDUP PARTY at the church and parsonage fireplace on Saturday evening at 6:30 p.m. According to the invitations mailed the 'grub', 'games', 'garb' is to be Western Style. The youth are out to roundup any stray 'dogies' for Sunday School and Youth Fellowship membership and activity.

The Junior Class reported (at press time) plans for their picnic-winner roast at the parsonage fireplace for Thursday evening honoring Bill Montgomery and Jo McPherson who will be promoted to the Intermediate Class Sunday. Mrs. Lutrick is the teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ray Gibson and family of Seguin visited in Baird last weekend.
