City Council Takes Look At Annexation Area Water Controversy Brews

Water Spokesman To Show Slides Locally

Following a water discussion by Senator Kent Hance of Lubbock at the Muleshoe City Hall last Tuesday night, a water controversy has gained momentum following a report by three men attending the seminar.

A Farmer County Commissioner, Jimmy Briggs, reported to the group that twice recently, one time at Lubbock and another meeting at Amarillo, featured was a very controversial slide presentation.

Briggs was back in his report by two other men who attended both meetings. They said derogatory slides and remarks were presented by Frank Rayner, manager of the High Plains Underground Water District at Lubbock.

According to the reports, Rayner presented the slides, which were taken in Bailey and Lamb Counties and implied the two counties, through overhead sprinkler systems, were possibly polluting Lubbock's water supply.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and individuals from Muleshoe started the next morning an attempt to track down the High Plains Underground Water District manager, who was showing the slides and giving the presentation as a part of a statewide series.

Rayner called a local banker from Corsicana last Friday and indicated he would come to Muleshoe.

St. Clair Edges Out Gilley In Semi-Final

The Lloyd Gilley-Irvin St. Clair match in semi-final action of the Championship Flight of the City Golf Tournament highlighted play this weekend, through 14 holes, Gilley held a 2-up lead. St. Clair then won the next two holes to even the match.

Gilley commented, "poor chipping on these two holes cost me the match." St. Clair held a 12 foot putt on Number 17 to tie the hole and both players parred the final hole to send the match into sudden death.

St. Clair hit his tee shot on the Number one hole into what was believed to be water. When he approached his ball, he noticed that the tank was dry and he could play his ball. The tank bottom was filled with a foreign substance that made his shot undesirable, but he decided to play, and assistant pro Jeff Smith said he made a superb shot out of the hazard and made par while Gilley just missed his par putt, giving victory to St. Clair.

Gilley was unknown to most people before this tournament as he is a newcomer in the area, but he made himself known by a good tournament effort, noted Smith. Gilley commented, "I'm glad I got to play in this tournament. I got to play a fine golf course and I met some very fine people at the Muleshoe Country Club."

Smith said of Gilley's effort, "The sportsmanship he displayed at the close of the match was very noticeable, as he had nothing but praise for St. Clair."

Couples Class Will Begin Next Tuesday

A class for couples, designed to clarify values, will be conducted by Central Plains Family Service Center in Muleshoe beginning October 26 at 7 p.m. Rowena Watson, manager of the Central Plains Family Center in Muleshoe said the values of clarification process facilitates the development of a personal value system as an aid in resolving personal and marital value conflict.

She emphasized that the class is not offered as therapy, but a series of exercises in making choices in fictional situations. Cost for the four week program is $20 per couple.

Information can be obtained from Ms. Watson at 272-4433.

PTA Plans Carnival On October 30

Muleshoe School P-TA plans a halloween carnival on Saturday, October 30 from 7:00-10:00 p.m. in the Mary DeShazo gym designed especially for young people up to the fifth grade level.

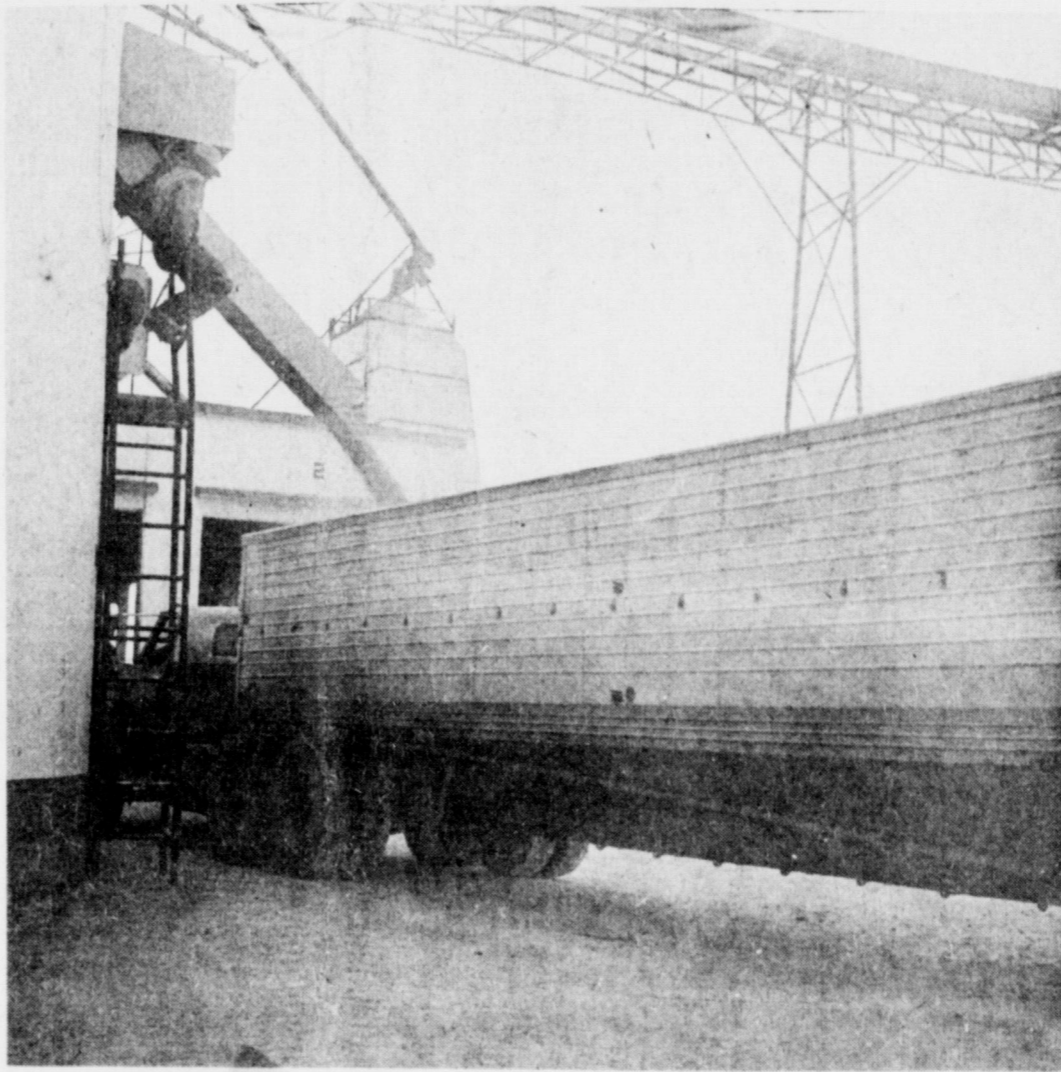

Featured will be booths including a pumpkin throw; sand dig; go fishing; bean bag toss; jewelry wheel; dart throw; base ball throw; duck pond; basketball throw; spook house; fortune teller; bingo and football throw, along with a concession stand.

Available at the concession stand will be hot dogs, Frito pie; pop corn balls, coffee, cokes and hot chocolate.

Mothers of the primary and elementary school age children will work during the carnival and help with the booths.

At 6:30 p.m., the costume contest will be judged. Trophies will be given for the funniest, spookiest and most original costumes. Three winners will be named from each grade. A total

CORN HARVEST NEARS END... Huge trucks are loading out corn as quickly as possible, with the corn harvest virtually at an end for this year. At one elevator, the trucks were attempting to load out the corn piled on the ground much as grain sorghum is often seen. However, corn is very susceptible and will have to be removed as soon as it possibly can be. Although adverse weather hampered corn harvesting, more than 75 percent of the area corn has been cut and is in silos, ensilage pits and the local elevators.

Mules Will Try Dimmitt Bobcats

Maybe George Washington never slept there, but Dimmitt really knows Tony Washington lives there. He is a power runner for the Dimmitt Bobcats who will be braced and ready when the Muleshoe Mules get to town Friday night. Strong Bobcats also include Eddie Chambers and quarterback Thompson Mayberry.

McVicker Wins First Place In Weekly Contest

How 'bout it, football forecasters! Three new winners showed up this week. For the first time this year, the clouds lifted from his crystal ball, and J.E. McVicker was the first place winner. Although he has entered every week, apparently his crystal ball has been foggy or smoggy, or something. But, this week, he tossed his coins, accurately predicted some of the upsets and missed only one game, the Colorado-Oklahoma State, for a near perfect score.

McVicker was the first person all season to miss only one game.

In second place, with no contest, as he was the only entry to miss just two games was Gene McGuire, who miscalculated on Cont. on Page 3, Col. 1 for the season, will travel to Dimmitt to talk on the Bobcats in the second game of District play Friday night. They will face the Bobcats, who have scratched and clawed their way to a season record of 3-2-1.

Muleshoe defeated Lubbock Cooper High School Pirates, but have fallen to Portales, Tulla, Levelland, Abernathy and Littlefield.

The Bobcats won against Crosbyton, Lockney, Springlake, Earth and lost to Tulla and Slaton. In their first District action last Friday, they drew a 7-7 tie against Olton.

Coach Don Cumpston said, "The boys had a big workout yesterday and we are going into the game expecting to win. The Mules are still in good spirits although a couple of mistakes proved to be very costly to us last Friday night."

Muleshoe is expected to be back up to almost full potential for the game Friday night.

Robert Brown will see action for the first time in several weeks and quarterback Randy Whalin is in good shape. The only questionable player is center Joe Don Prather who was seeing the doctor Tuesday afternoon to see if he could start back with the team on Friday.

Coach Cumpston again emphasized that the Mules have a real good chance to take the district championship and thanked fans of the Mules who continue to show good support for the team efforts.

Game time will be 7:30 p.m.

Local Students Attend Meet At South Plains

Five students from Muleshoe High School were among the 62 participants in the Distributive Education Leadership Conference last Friday and Saturday at South Plains College in Levelland.

Muleshoe student participating were Mylinda Graves, John Davis, Vicki Williams, Lisa Mason and Linnie Davis.

Mark Gist, DE coordinator at Muleshoe High, conducted training sessions in leadership, communication skills and parliamentary procedure for the conference delegates. Officers, officer material and committee chairmen in District Two, Area VI of the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) were selected to attend, Gist said.

Besides Muleshoe High, other schools represented were Brownfield, O'Donnell, Slaton, Levelland, Plainview, Kress and Coronado, Roosevelt, Monterey, Estacado and Cooper of the Lubbock Independent School District.

Airport Improvement, Expansion Studied

Muleshoe City Council members are taking a long, hard look into the possible annexation of two parcels of property adjacent to the present city limits. During the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday morning, City Manager Dave Marr was instructed to check into the cost involved in annexing the two parcels of land to the city. The first request considered was from Harrold Farris and Rhenard McCary, owners of the Ranch House Motel west of Muleshoe. It was noted that other businesses have water and sanitation benefits from the city, but are not in the city limits, so the city council members asked Marr to check into the cost which would be involved to annexing a portion of land along Highway 84 west and northwest of Muleshoe.

In the other request, for a parcel of land in the east portion of Muleshoe, it was noted that included are the airport tract of land and golf course, not including the Country Club clubhouse, which are owned by the city.

Other meetings will be held to consider further the requests. It was noted that several legal notifications will be required before an annexation request can be finalized.

Meeting with council members was Weston R. Hampton, of the Albuquerque office of the Federal Aviation Administration. He explained procedures for acquiring federal funding for airport improvement.

Hampton suggested that the city council go ahead with an environmental impact study and make application for funds. This would take some eight to eight and a half months. FAA is presently in their 1977 fiscal year and the FAA representative said they have a long list of cities waiting for approval for airport funds.

Following a meeting with Delbert Barry, chairman of the Airport Advisory Board and members Edwin Cox and Don Williams; Hampton urged the city to make application for a new runway and conduct a cost analysis study and the environment.

Duck Season Will Begin November 2

Regular duck season will be from November 2-January 23, according to a release by the Texas Fish and Wildlife Service.

This year, sandhill crane season is from October 30 through January 30 and goose season is from October 30 through January 23, 1977.

Quail season is from November 15 through February 15, with a 12 bird per day limit and 36 birds in possession.

Citizens Pack City Hall For Meeting

Last week, the first in a series of public meetings was held at the Muleshoe City Hall to explain the Housing Act of 1974, and to seek input from local citizens prior to the city making application for federal funds.

There was just one small problem, the city forgot to attend. Only one citizen appeared at the hearing. This was reversed for the second of the hearings this Tuesday night. At time for the meeting to begin, the city council chambers was almost full, and shortly after the meeting got underway with a slide presentation, the room was overflowing.

Most of the people at the meeting represented the Muleshoe and Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department, their wives and families. They heard City Manager Dave Marr explain the Community Development program and report that during the past three years, Muleshoe has made application for funds for local improvements. They were turned down the first year, did not apply the second year and this year plan to apply again.

Food Stamp Sales Decrease In County

Since the food stamp program replaced the commodity food program in Bailey County, food stamp users have decreased steadily from 191 families in September, 1974 to the present 150 families using the government assistance program in August of this year. Highest number of families purchasing food stamps was in July, 1975 with 227 families utilizing the program.

In June, 1975, 213 families were using the food supplement program with an expenditure of $35,374, of which $25,538 was paid by the government. This represented 1,086 people, or approximately eleven percent of the county population on the food stamp program.

Figures indicate a drop of nearly 300 persons on the program from July 1975 to June of this year, with 784 people now on the program representing 162 families utilizing the program, or just under ten percent of the county population. Total expenditure is $27,572, with $19,529 of that amount being paid from federal funds.

Eligibility requirements were outlined by Mrs. Ellen Miller of the Lubbock Office of the State Department of Public Welfare. Mrs. Miller said, "To qualify for food stamps, households must meet the nationwide eligibility standards set by the United States Department of Agriculture. These rules consider net income to the household, as related to the number of people

School Bond Vote Tuesday At Lazbuddie

Next Tuesday, following public hearings to inform the Lazbuddie community of proposed improvements, a school bond election is scheduled in the foyer of the school auditorium, 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Absentee voting will end at 4 p.m. Friday, October 22 at the school.

This week, the second public meeting was held to inform the citizens and voters of the community of the need for the proposed improvements. The bond would approve construction of a band hall, industrial arts and bus barn combination, concession stand with public rest, rooms at the athletic field, a duplex for a teacherage and a gymnasium for physical education and interscholastic activities.

involved, other resources (property) that members of the household own, citizenship, residency (members of the household must reside in the county in which they apply)

"With a few exceptions, able bodied household members past the age of 18 must register for work, and must accept suitable employment if it is offered. The household must have cooking facilities," she added.

Lonnie Merriott at the Texas Employment Commission said the rate of unemployment in this county is only about 2.5 percent of the eligible workers, much lower than the national average.

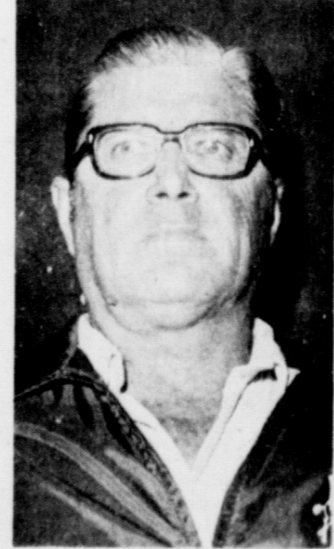

He said that of the 1179 applications for work filed in his office, only 14 have filed for unemployment. Merriott also commented that in the near future, workers will be needed to pick up yellow corn which has fallen. According to the manager of the local TEC office, corn harvest is approximately 75 percent completed, vegetable harvest was completed with the first freeze last week and most of the migrant workers have returned to their homes for this year.

Merriott also said that non-ag jobs are just about balanced equally with ag jobs at this

Agriculture Leader Says Prices And Embargoes Big Farm Issues

Moline, Ill. -- Willard Stowell, Moline area National Director of the Agriculture Council of America, announced today that farmers calling the organization's "Decision '76 Farm Line" overwhelmingly cited prices and trade embargoes as the biggest farm issues in this election.

The ACA leader said that a bi-partisan panel representing President Ford and Jimmy Carter found these results October 13 in the nationwide Farm Line held in ACA's Washington quarters.

The program gave people anywhere in the continental U.S. a chance to call toll-free to express their views on key farm issues to a panel headed by Dick Lyng, Director of the Farmers for Ford Committee and Bobby Smith, Chairman of the National Carter-Mondale Food and Agriculture Committee. ACA operates the monthly Farm Line so farmers can talk directly with national-level decision-makers. It doubled the length of yesterday's program to eight hours but still reported a substantial back-up of callers who couldn't get through.

Among the estimated 800 hundred who did talk directly with one of the 28 panelists in Washington, 396 responded to a special questionnaire designed to define the major farm issues.

Farm prices were listed as the number one issue by 220 in this group, and embargoes were listed as number one by 73. A high percentage of those who listed prices first cited embargoes as second in importance. Seventy-six percent of those polled said there is "above average" interest this year among farm voters. Thirteen percent said there is "average interest" and 11 percent said "below average". Fifty-three percent said they felt that compared to other election issues, farm issues are getting "less attention" at the national level, but 34 percent said they are getting "more attention" while only 13 percent said "about the same".

Each person was asked to rank several issues as either "very important", "important" or "not so important". The response was as follows:

Cooperative bargaining power

... very important, 57 percent, important, 25 percent; not so important, 18 percent; financing -- very important, 46 percent, important, 20 percent, not so important, 24 percent; grain reserves -- very important, 32 percent, important, 39 percent, not so important, 29 percent; import quotas -- very important, 57 percent, important, 29 percent, not so important, 14 percent; OSHA EPA-type regulation -- very important, 41 percent, important, 24 percent, not so important, 35 percent; support prices -- very important, 64 percent, important, 22 percent, not so important, 14 percent; trade embargoes -- very important, 68 percent, important, 21 percent, not so important, 11 percent.

One typical comment was voiced by Carol Field of Dalhart, Texas: "Please stop embargoes. Stop letting labor dominate us. There is no reason to use grain as a tool."

Bryan Stevenson of Hartley, Iowa said the U.S. "Should limit agricultural sales only in war or in other national emergencies. I oppose embargoes and think it's time we trust the free market economy."

Jim Snead of Meade, Kansas noted: "The price of bread is not down even though the price of wheat is way down. We need to be able to cover our costs."

The Agriculture Council of America, founded in 1973, is made up of individual farmers, farm and commodity organizations and companies that supply farmers. Its purpose is to improve communications between farmers and urban consumers.

Diseases Hit Shade Trees

COLLEGE STATION -- Two Texas shade trees, the mimosa and the mulberry, are suffering from fungus diseases.

Dr. Wendell Horne, a plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the mimosa tree is being removed from the Texas landscape by Fusarium wilt. The fungal organism that causes the disease had its origin on the eastern seaboard and has spread westward in recent years.

The wilt, which also occurs in cotton, peas and watermelons, results from spores that become airborne after lying dormant in the soil. It affects plant vitality and the leaves. The tree later shows symptoms of color loss and droopiness and cracks along the bark soon appear, emitting a foul smelling sap.

Two resistant varieties of mimosa trees, Charlotte and Tyrone, are currently being used but not to a great extent in Texas, notes Horne. Furthermore, chemical controls for the disease are not profitable at this time. About all homeowners can do is to give the trees good cultural care and to avoid mechanical injury.

The mulberry tree is afflicted with a fungal leafspot disease during the autumn months. This shade tree loses its leaves as a result of a windborne fungus that produces the disease, explains Horne.

Fungal leafspot can be contained by applying two fungicide applications during the year.

Since the disease is predominant in the fall, the first application of Benomyl or a liquid broad spectrum fungicide should be applied in early fall and the final application made three weeks later.

The disease does not kill mulberry trees but defoliates them prematurely, bringing on a wintery appearance, notes Horne.

OUTLOOK TALKS SLATED FOR AG WORKERS CONFAB--

The 50th anniversary conference of the Professional Agricultural Workers of Texas October 26-27 at College Station will feature discussions on agricultural outlook. Topics covered will be livestock, dairying, wheat and other grains, cotton, rice, fruits and vegetables, recreation, and the economic situation. Dinner speaker the first day will be Eugene Butler, chairman of the board and editor-in-chief of Progressive Farmer.

Stamps...

Mrs. Miller said the amount of stamps an eligible household may receive during a month depends on how many people are in the household. The amount they pay for their stamp allotment depends on net income, figured on a sliding scale. The figures used are revised by USDA every six months.

"The purpose of the food stamp program is to help low income families buy more food of greater variety to improve their diets, and to increase the market for agricultural products," she added. "When more people are able to buy more food, it would obviously have a tremendous impact on the markets we produce in our area."

The Department of Public Welfare officer emphasized that the health of the people in the community is affected by food stamps because "good nutrition is essential to good health. Children who have adequate diets do better in school, have fewer illnesses. Many older people have to enter nursing homes sooner than should be necessary because malnutrition is an underlying cause of their condition," she commented.

Eligibility rules include considering a net income which permits deduction of withholding taxes, certain medical expenses the household must pay, a portion of housing expense in some instances, cost of child care so a mother may work.

"Basically, it considers the income the household has left to buy food after the other absolutely essential expenses are paid," added Mrs. Miller.

Food stamps are coupons that are redeemable like cash at the grocery. They are good for any food prepared for human consumption, and excludes pet food, soaps and household supplies, tobacco or alcoholic beverages. They can also be used to buy seeds for home gardens, and are redeemable for congregate meals, such as in an approved Senior Citizen's Center, or for Meals on Wheels where that is approved and available. Neither form of supplemental service is available to senior citizens in this county.

Eligible for food stamps are many senior citizens whose sole income is from Social Security; also eligible are families on Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Although figures of the food stamp recipient families in this county do not reflect their average income, USDA figures report that the average monthly income for families utilizing the food stamp program is approximately $300.

Bailey County is also considered to have a smaller number of families on the food stamp program than other counties of comparable population in the state. Also, although a few cases of food stamp abuse have been filed in the county, Bailey County is also considered to be very low in instances of abuse of the program.

Booster Club Met Tuesday

Muleshoe Athletic Boosters met in the High School Gym Tuesday night for a demonstration by Coach Crook and several of his varsity football players on the zone defense. After explaining this particular type of defense, the players demonstrated the footwork and movements of the different positions.

The boosters then moved on into the High School lunchroom for the regular business meeting at which it was decided that participants in all varsity sports would have a sign put in the front of their homes designating them as a "FIGHTING MULE". The ladies that had attended the Women's Football Clinic which the coaches have held the past two Sunday afternoons reported that they had been very informative and helpful.

Reports on the last 7th and 8th grade games as well as the Freshman and Junior Varsity games were reported on.

Coach Cumpston reported that the Mules had all but one varsity player well and ready to play Friday night against Dimmitt. The film of the Littlefield game was shown and discussed.

Attendance at the booster meetings on Tuesday nights at 8 p.m. is very good but everyone is reminded that all are invited and welcome.

the Wyoming-New Mexico and the Kansas-Oklahoma games to take a win.

The double tiebreaker scores had to be figured for the third place winner. Hugh Young missed three games, and was a total of fourteen points off on the tiebreaker, while close contender, the only other person to miss three games was Mike Hinkson. However, Hinkson was 25 points away on the tiebreakers to be just out of the money.

Still leading the contest by virtue of a first, second and third place win is Maggie Gutierrez who was out of the winning column this week. In second place is Hazel Gilbreath with both a first and a third place win.

At this time, a little more than midway in the contest, this week will mark the seventh week of the contest toward the two tickets to the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day, along with an expense check for $50.

It's still anybody's contest, and anyone can win and be recipient of the grand prize at the end of the contest.

In bull riding, the contestant must stay on the animal for eight seconds to qualify for the event. Two judges score both the stock and the rider on a 0-50 basis. The two score are then added for the final tally. Although 100 is the highest score possible in the event, both Cliff and Chris say scores as high as 90 are unusual.

Cliff is a senior and Chris a junior at Slaton High School.

Reports on the last 7th and 8th grade games as well as the Freshman and Junior Varsity games were reported on.

Coach Cumpston reported that the Mules had all but one varsity player well and ready to play Friday night against Dimmitt. The film of the Littlefield game was shown and discussed.

Attendance at the booster meetings on Tuesday nights at 8 p.m. is very good but everyone is reminded that all are invited and welcome.

$107,000 for proposed paving in certain areas of the city, Fire Chief H.E. Reeder asked if 75 percent of the proposed paving area was not in the flood planning district where building permits cannot be issued until the land is built up.

The firemen asked that the city consider making application for funds to construct a new fire station in the city. They said that in the past 20 years, two bond issues had been approved by voters of Muleshoe for a new fire station, but no structure had been built.

It was brought out that the original fire station was built in the late 1920s and is much too small to house the present fire

The FAA representative also suggested, following an investigation of the existing runway, that a sealant be put on the existing runway in order to hold it together as long as possible. He said Muleshoe was possibly looking at 1978 or possibly 1979 before any work could be done. Hampton also discussed the present airport lease and said that since the lease expires next year, problems with the lease in the past could probably worked out into a standard lease form which excludes the present ex-fighting equipment. Fire Chief Reeder said the three base station is attempting to house twice that many firefighting vehicles.

City Manager Dave Marr suggested that the chances of applying and having funds approved for the construction of a fire station were very slim but did not rule out the possibility of such funds being made available for a new structure.

Reeder commented, "The city knows and we know we need a new fire station. We would rather see it (federal funds) used where everyone would get some good out of it. It's the best and cheapest service the city and county have."

"We've come to the point where we are going to have to do something and as soon as possible."

1+ COMING

1+ Dialing is coming to Amherst, Earth, Muleshoe and Springlake beginning October 27, 1976.

1+ Dialing, sometimes called Direct Distance Dialing or DDD, is a modern long distance service pioneered by General Telephone. With 1+ Dialing you can dial all of your station-to-station long distance calls to most points in the Continental United States, Alaska and Canada.

This modern telephone convenience will not raise long distance rates from their present low levels. In fact, regardless of the time of day, 1+ Dialing is the cheapest way to call long distance.

Your instruction card for using 1+ Dialing will be mailed just prior to October 27.

Start using 1+ Dialing on Wednesday October 27.

WATERFOWL MOVING SOUTH

LUBBOCK--Reports from the northern nesting areas of the United States and Canada indicate ample numbers of ducks and geese for Texas waterfowl hunters on many of the Panhandle-South Plains lakes.

The High Plains mallard season gets underway November 2 and continues through January 23, 1977. This zone encompasses all of the South Plains and Panhandle counties plus all of west Texas from Del Rio through Abilene to Vernon and the Texas-Oklahoma line.

The daily duck limit is reached when the point value of any bird taken reaches or exceeds 100 points. Possession limit is the maximum number of ducks which could have been taken legally in two days.

The daily bag limit could vary from one to ten (10) ducks in the aggregate based on the following 100-point system; 100-point ducks - canvasbacks; 70-point ducks - hooded mergansers, mallard hens, reheads and wood ducks; 10-point ducks - gadwalls, pintails, scaups, shovelers, and all species of teal (blue winged, cinnamon, green-winged); 20 point ducks - all other species of ducks not listed herein which include mallard drakes, American widgeon, and ring-necked ducks.

The goose season west of U.S. highway 81 is set for November 2-January 23, 1977. The daily bag limit is five, not to include more than one Toss' goose nor more than two Canada or white-fronted geese in the aggregate. Possession limit of geese is also five, not to include more than one Ross' goose nor more than four Canada or white-fronted geese in the aggregate.

One fully feathered wing must remain attached to these dressed migrator game birds while being transported between the place taken and the personal abode of the possessor.

Texas hunting license requirements apply to all waterfowl hunters plus they are required a federal migratory waterfowl stamp which can be purchased at all U.S. post offices.

Shooting hours for the regular duck and goose season is one-half hour before sunrise to sunset daily.

A retrieving dog is handy when a hunter wounds or loses a bird in the marsh or weeds. An assist from the canine helper could mean the difference between a full bag limit or no ducks.

Waterfowl hunters can look forward to a good season with plenty of ducks and geese in northwest Texas and with a little luck, a display of skill, and the right kind of shot, a Thanksgiving goose is not out of the question.

I Remember When

Very few families called "early settlers" make up the building and what could be called history of what is now known as Lazbuddy Texas, complete with a Post Office all its own. Sophisticated people called the country the "Wild West". Most of it was blocked off into huge cattle ranches and "Cowboys" on horseback can still be seen. This grass and dust country changed quickly into one of the richest farming sections in the Nation. Lazbuddy was named in honor of Lazz Shirley on whose ranch it is centered. Bill Shirley built the Hugh Shirley-Anderson elevator to take care of the vast amount of grain harvested each year. Houses were few and far between. All neighbors were friends and valued very highly. News traveled quickly and mysteriously if anyone was in need. Everyone flocked to the rescue. I shall never forget my introduction to "West Texas". It was in December of 1922 that Mr. and Mrs. J.E.W. Jennings, a daughter Vera, a son Finis of the home, and three married sons, O.M., E.M., and Ophel N. with their families set out from Cone (Crosby County) to what was to be their new home in the southeastern part of Parmer County. It consisted of one raw

(unbroken) section, a half section improved and one section leased, later bought. It lay ten miles following wagon trails northeast of Muleshoe in Bailey County. The move itself would be almost as interesting as a parade of today. A huge Avery engine chugged along pulling first a "hugger" threshing machine followed by a long string of wagons loaded to capacity with household furniture and odds and ends of farm equipment. Then the mule drawn wagons piled higher still with the same. Tractors pulling various other pieces of machinery were followed by truck loads of cattle. Two nights were spent on the road, one at Olton and one in Plainview. The women and children drove through in a Ford car in one day. Considering the roads etc. this was indeed good time. Most of the country was in grass with few fences and fewer graded roads. For other than staples Clovis, New Mexico, Amarillo or Lubbock were our shopping centers. Land could be bought very cheaply when compared to current prices and was also plentiful. The unbroken section cost the amazing sum of $17.50 per acre. These facts prompted our move as land was higher and hard to find in our part of Crosby County. Luckily the one house on the half section was a large two story with ample sized rooms to afford accommodation, though somewhat crowded, for all. This was soon overcome however. Wells were quickly drilled on each quarter section for drinking and stock water. Two room temporary shacks were as quickly thrown up. Fences strung and the land broken out and made ready for the abundant crops to follow. Irrigation was almost unknown at this time but was soon discovered which caused the price of land to zoom to unbelievable heights. Forty years later some was known to have sold for from $400.00 to a few cases going at $800.00 per acre. One can see isolated cases advertised at $900.00 if it includes an adequate supply of water. This great under-ground water belt of Texas is known the world over as the "food supply" belt as almost anything can be grown. People began moving in and changes came quickly. Graded roads, following mostly section (square mile) lines were built. This was done by a Mr. Head using a team of twelve of the largest mules to be found and which he drove himself hitched to an enormous grader. Quite a feat for that day, or any day. Roads hastened the development of the country.

As soon as the family got settled a Presbyterian Church was organized at the little one room school building known as "Cracker Box" jestingly called because of its size. Sunday School was held each Sunday with preaching by the Rev. E.W.L. Jennings of Ralls, as his health permitted. Ministers of various denominations filled in. It was disbanded when the building moved. Becoming acclimated and overcoming our loneliness were our first hardships. The first few winters were especially rough. We thought we knew the west but we were quite unprepared for the first encounter with the real thing. One occasion stands out clearly even today. Late one afternoon the stillness was broken by a low rumbling noise. Rushing outside we witnessed our first sandstorm, blizzard and cattle stampede in one. The wind had suddenly changed to the north pushing a cloud of sand. The temperature just as suddenly changed to freezing. There were a good number of cattle on the Charlie Hinkson ranch joining us on the west. It was these plus the roar of the wind that made the terrible thundering sound as they plunged headlong into, over and under the fence to the South, trampling each other and anything that chanced to get in their way. It was weeks before the survivors were all found and rounded up and herded back inside corrals. This all done on horseback. Snow drifted over the fences in places.

The following July 4th was also unforgettable. A rodeo and barbecue, with its accompanying contests and entertainments, was held on the Mattheisen ranch near what is now the Y.L. community. Everyone for miles around attended and took part even though it was cold enough for some of the ladies to come decked out in fur coats. A few snowflakes did fall but it was agreed that it was too cold to turn into a snowstorm.

Before the road building one could travel in almost any direction by merely following the crooked wagon and cow trails. Prairie dog mounds dotted the area, with rattlesnakes their co-inhabitants. We got the mail possibly once a week at Muleshoe which boasted on general store which also housed the Post Office. Pretty soon a hardware, an implement, theater, filling station, cafe and hotel were opened for business. These were made mostly of Adobe brick made by men of Mexican descent.

The first year Vera rode horseback to a one room one teacher school located one and one half miles south of the present Lazbuddy High School. It was made into a two room two teacher the following year merely by hanging a curtain down the center of the room. This was the original Star Ranch School better known as "Roaming Cha-rie" because of its many moves from one part of the County to another. This was the fourth move with one more to follow. That the present Lazbuddy School. The small children walked and attended "Cracker Box" taught by Mrs. Buck Lee. It was soon moved a few yards onto the Hinkson Ranch and into a two room, two teacher, to accommodate the increasing enrollment. Alwilda Noble was the added teacher. A second move was made and the name changed to the Plainview School. Later again consolidating with the Jesko to form Midway. Not allowed to rest in peace it finally joined with others to form the elaborate system at Lazbuddy.

All day singings, some beginning at "Cracker Box" and in homes were the popular entertainment of the day. Little "Cracker Box" boasted one of the more proficient around, it consisted of T.C. Hennington, Walter Hopke, E.M. Jennings and Walter Noble. Rev. G.O. Dean, father of the famous Jimmy Dean, assumed Mr. Hennington's position when he moved away. Mrs. E.M. Jennings was pianist, unless she sang with the group which she often did, shifting positions in one members absence. Mrs. O.N. Jennings was substitute. It was common practice to travel for miles around to various communities which as a rule had a quartette of its own. The famous Stamps Bros. type of song was the most popular and they were present at most all day singings to enliven and lend glamour and interest.

Food and spectators were plentiful when word got around that there would be "dinner on the ground," which turned out to be not only a food-fest but an added talk-fest. These lasted as long as there was anything to "tell". Living was surely unburied and enjoyable. Both young and old found life a joy and blessing.

Few families lived in this community in the early 1920. These were our nearest neighbors. The Hinksons, Charlie, Everette and Frank, Joel and Buck Lee, Henry Holzerlands, Widmires, Walter Hapke's, Rowdens, Hennington's, Jack Lynn's, Chad Green's, Peacock's and Smith's. After the late 1920's the Collin's, Kimbrough's, Wenner's and Waggon's. Also the Jarman's, Wilson's and Eubanks.

Like eggs hatching in the night families on quarter sections became too numerous to mention. Modern beautiful homes dot the entire country side. Churches, schools and businesses reflect the character of it's people. It is good as time permits to stop and think awhile on the THEN and NOW. It took a lot of "doing" to get us where we are and the forward march grows harder every day, there's so much yet to be accomplished. It will demand all working in unison but we will go further if in the mad rush in this insane time we take a few minutes just to think and plan each day ahead. This bicentennial year is the perfect time for just that.

PIONEER INFORMATION BULLETIN

Subject: SMUT

Most farmers in this area have heard of the epidemic of head smut which affected the corn crop in parts of six counties of West Texas. The disease is not expected to spread much beyond that area next year, if indeed it occurs at all, but the Pioneer Agronomy Service Department headquartered in Plainview, is conducting an informational program to acquaint all corn farmers with the disease.

Not surprisingly, there is a good bit of confusion about head smut since this is the first year it has appeared in the Southwest in high enough incidence to affect yields. Pioneer agronomists had studied the problem elsewhere, however, and print this information as a service to High Plains farmers.

Two distinctly different kinds of smut appeared in parts of Parmer, Castro, Deaf Smith, Lamb, Bailey and Hale counties: common smut and head smut. Common smut has little, if any, economic significance, but it is frequently confused with head smut, which is the real culprit. Estimates are that head smut reduced the yields of some fields by over 20%.

COMMON SMUT (Ustilago maydis), sometimes called boil smut, does not usually reduce yields. It is characterized by galls, bulbous growths which are at first covered with a glistening, greenish to silvery-white tissue. The galls may appear on any part of the corn plant including the exposed tips of healthy ears protruding beyond the shuck. The plant becomes host to wind or water-borne sporidia which stimulate cells in young tissue to proliferate.

HEAD SMUT (Sphacelotheca reiliana) is systemic, the plant being infected by soil-borne teliospores in the seedling stage. The outward signs of the disease are less conspicuous than common smut. It first appears when ears and tassels are formed. Tassels of infected plants usually appear to be covered with a reddish brown or black, spiny rust. Silkless shucks look as if they might cover a short, fat ear of corn but opening the shuck exposes a mass of black, worm-like teliospores or a tangle of bright green, leafy buds. Since head smut is soil borne and there is no practical chemical treatment to control it, we can expect infection to increase from one year to the next if conditions are right. This year's weather (dry and cool) was particularly conducive to infestations of both types of smut fungus.

WHAT ABOUT NEXT YEAR? For the most part, head smut occurs in fields that have been planted to corn for several years. It appears that farmers with a head smut-infested field have a choice for the use of that field next year. They can plant the field to another crop or can, with reasonable safety, plant corn hybrids that offer resistance to the disease. Pioneer has three excellent hybrid corn varieties that show strong resistance to head smut. One of these is well known to area farmers and is the most planted variety in much of this area... Pioneer brand 3306. Two other Pioneer varieties... 3184 and 3195... which were planted widely in this area for the first time this year, not only resist smut but have even greater yield potential than the well-known yield champion, Pioneer brand 3369-A.

A Head smut sometimes affects the tassels but always precludes the development of grain.
B Common Smut Galls usually do not affect the yield of the host plant

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--The Rio Grande Valley of Texas is booming economically and one reason is the Harlingen campus of Texas State Technical Institute.

I had the privilege of visiting the campus recently and taking part in the dedication of a new diesel mechanics building. It is a first-class training facility and it will mean much to the Valley and to Texas.

They teach the 1,500 students here a wide variety of vocational skills, just as they do at the other TSTI campuses in Waco, Amarillo and Sweetwater.

But I took special note of the diesel mechanics course and the fact that every student who graduates from this course can expect to earn more than $6 an hour and be assured of a job.

As a matter of fact, there is an average of two jobs waiting for every TSTI graduate at starting salaries of better than $700 a month.

The students of TSTI reflect the effectiveness of their training. More than 75 per cent of all students--both graduates and non-graduates--are employed in their immediate field of training. The remaining 25 per cent are almost all employed in fields related to their training.

Statistics indicate TSTI graduates complete either a certificate program or a degree program in about two years. Upon entering the job market, these students then return the state's investment in their training in an estimated five years or less.

These graduates become taxpayers, not tax consumers. They become part of the working backbone of this state. Government, to me, is working best when it is helping people to help themselves.

The campuses of TSTI are supplying the free enterprise system with workers and providing these workers the expertise to help build a strong economy for the state.

I believe that the continued growth of such vocational-technical institutions in Texas indicates that we are moving in the right direction in training our young people.

Not every youngster is college material. That is a fact we discovered long ago. That does not mean, however, that every Texas youngster should not be given equal opportunity to become a valuable member of the Texas work force.

Through vocational training as is offered through TSTI, in our junior colleges, community colleges and our high schools, we can make a more thorough effort to see that every youngster be given that chance to become a useful and productive citizen.

The people of the Valley are proud of the job being done on the campus of Harlingen. They know it is for the betterment of their children and for the good of all.

Watson To Head Carter Ag Effort

The state Texans in agriculture for Carter Committee has announced that Delbert Watson of Route 5 will head a special Bailey County organization to demonstrate strong agricultural and agribusiness support for Jimmy Carter's Presidential campaign. Also on the committee are R.L. Scott and Joe Costen.

Walter Richter of Austin, co-chairman of the Carter agricultural group, said "We are pleased to have Watson to join our Governor and other top state officials who have come out strongly for the Carter ticket which offers real hope for a change for our farmers and rural Texans."

Declaring that Carter is the first genuine farmer to run for President since Thomas Jefferson, Richter said "Jimmy Carter knows what it's like to make a living in the country. He will do what is right to keep our agriculture and our rural communities strong."

He said Governor Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Governor Bill Hobby, House Speaker Bill Clayton, Agriculture Commissioner John White, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and Attorney General John Hill are all rural land owners who recognize the knowledge and new leadership Jimmy Carter will offer to agriculture and the farmers and ranchers of the state and nation.

Richter said "Delbert Watson is a proud addition to our Texans in Agriculture organization. With leaders like him we will have a strong margin of victory in our rural areas. That means we will carry Texas for Jimmy Carter."

FOOD KEY TO PEACE* PROSPERITY* HEALTH

Texas A&M University's dean of agriculture contends that peace, prosperity and human health in the next few decades will depend more than ever on food production and distribution. Food delivery and economics are the main problems as far as malnutrition is concerned today. The issue is getting the food to where the people are and providing an income so that they can buy it. Significant breakthroughs are needed in productivity to meet future food demands, as the world population is expected to reach 7 billion by century's end.

Agricultural Outlook Talks To Highlight Conference

Plans have been finalized for the 50th anniversary conference of the Professional Agricultural Workers of Texas here October 26-27.

Bruno Schroeder of Austin, president of the statewide association for people working in professional agriculture, said the program theme will be "Remembrances of the Past - Problems and Challenges for the Future." The theme was chosen as a salute to Texas A&M University's Centennial and the nation's Bicentennial.

Conference registration is slated for the first morning at Ramada Inn.

Agricultural outlook talks will highlight the two-day program. Challenges for major agricultural enterprises will be explored by state and national commodity leaders, following welcoming remarks by Dr. H.O. Kunkel, A&M's dean of agriculture.

Speaking on the outlook for livestock will be Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The future potential for the dairy industry will be discussed by Pearson Knolle, young dairy farmer and agribusiness leader from Sandia.

The outlook for wheat and other grains will be explored by Bill Nelson of Amarillo, executive vice president for the Wheat Growers Association. Implications for the cotton industry will be discussed by Earl Sears of Memphis, representing the National Cotton Council.

Featured speaker for the 7 p.m. dinner will be Eugene Butler of Dallas, chairman of the board and editor-in-chief of Progressive Farmer, whose subject will be "Remembrances of the Past." The dinner will honor past presidents of the professional association.

Opening the second day's program will be a discussion on the outlook for rice, with Ralph Newman of American Rice, Inc., of Houston as the speaker. The fruit and vegetable outlook will be presented by Wayne Showers of Griffen and Brand, Inc., McAllen.

Recreational potentials will be discussed by Carson E. Watt, Extension recreation and parks specialist, and James C. Stribling of Texas A&M's Recreation and Parks Department.

Dr. Ron Knutson, Extension economist in agricultural policy and marketing, will discuss the economic outlook as the concluding highlight of the outlook talks.

Schroeder will preside at the business meeting, where committee reports will be presented and new officers elected. Current officers serving with Schroeder are J.A. Marshall, Austin, first vice president; A.H. Walker, College Station, second vice president; and Ben D. Cook, Bryan, secretary-treasurer.

Conference discussions are open to all interested persons, said Schroeder.

HUNTING AND DRINKING -BAD MIX

PERRYTON--A lot of footwork, cooperation between law enforcement agencies, and a DWI traffic violation has ended in a stiff fine for two Panhandle residents.

A routing stop for a possible DWI October 2 by a Lipscomb county deputy sheriff also started an investigation into a possible game violation as a deputy noticed an excess amount of blood on the vehicle in question.

Further investigations by the deputy and state game warden James Wilson, Perryton, lead to the arrest of the vehicle driver and his friend for hunting without permission and possession of antelope without a permit.

A local judge accepted a plea of guilty and assessed a fine of $305 for each individual. The antelope meat was confiscated by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

RAINING MONEY

EL CENTRO, CALIF.--An armored truck overturned on a rain-slickened highway, spilling bags containing $8 million in cash and loose coins, the California Highway Patrol said.

Littlefield Slips By 'A' Team

Thursday, October 14th the "A" Mules traveled to Littlefield to play the Littlefield Wildcats. The Wildcats barely outlasted the Mules to win the game by a score of 8-6. During the last week the "A" team added a lot of new people to their offensive line and they all played good together as a team. The Mules kicked off to begin the game. The Wildcats tried a reverse but the Mules read the play very well so the Wildcats got the ball on their own 30 yard line. Neither team could seem to move the ball in the first quarter.

Littlefield Runs Over 'B' Team

On Thursday, October 14, the Muleshoe Mules went to Littlefield to play the Littlefield Wildcats. The "B" team lost their game by a score of 8-0. To start the game off, the

SUSIE PIERCE

Wildcats got a very good drive going and then scored on a 50 yard pass play. The extra point was very close but the referee called it good. At the half the Wildcats led the Mules by a score of 8-0. The begin the second half the Wildcats successfully tried an inside kick getting the ball on the Mules 45 yard line.

The Wildcats could not score and neither could the Mules until late in the fourth quarter. Charles Walker ran around the left end from the 5 yard line to get the touchdown. They failed on the extra points and the Mules could not get another drive going so the game ended up Littlefield 8, Muleshoe 6.

Next Thursday, October 21 the Mules will be playing the Dimmitt and watch them beat the Bobcats!!!!!!

Mules received the opening kick-off. They ran it back for a short gain...the Mules held the ball for a few more plays, and then had to turn the ball over to the Wilcats for the first time. Neither team could seem to make any long gains, until the second quarter. The Wildcats then started making long drives until they finally made a touchdown on a 20 yard run around the right end. The extra points were completed on a run up the middle. The score ended up 8-0 at the half.

The Mules started the half off by kicking to the Wildcats. Soon after the kickoff, the Mules gained possession of the ball for the first time that half. The ball was handed back and forth, then the Mules started making long drives and got down to Littlefield's four yard-line, but were again pushed back. Neither team could seem to get anything going for the rest of the ball game, so the score ended up, 8-0 at the end of the game.

Player Of The Week

Beatrice Garcia was the 8th grade player of the week. Beatrice is putting out all of her effort to become a forward. She shows a lot of interest in basketball, and she puts out 100% of her ability.

Susie Pierce was picked the 7th grade player of the week. Susie enjoys basketball very much and has a lot of interest for it. She works very hard and puts out a lot of enthusiasm.

Fryers 'Best Buy' During This Week

COLLEGE STATION -- Whole fryers save the food budget this week in Texas grocery stores. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reports.

Consumers who are looking for ways to save money will buy fryers whole and cut up their own chicken. Turkeys are showing reasonable price tags on parts as well as whole birds, she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"Pork specials in the spotlight include smoked cuts--semi-boneless hams, picnics and bacon--along with Boston butts, end chops and quarter-loins cut into chops.

"Fish continue to offer an excellent protein value in cost per serving," the specialist added.

Check beef counters for better value on tender steaks as T-bone and rib roasts. Ground beef, round steaks and beef liver are other economical choices, she said.

"Since head lettuce is staying in the high price range, cabbage is a likely choice for salads. Other greens, such as young tender leaves of collards, mustard and turnip tops, go well in a tossed salad, too.

"Good quality cauliflower is available now with moderate prices. Also, eggplant, broccoli, Brussel sprouts, rutabagas, acorn and butternut squash, along with potatoes and dry yellow onions are the most economically priced fresh vegetables," she said.

New crop Texas fresh grapefruit has made its appearance on the market. It is medium to small in size and sugar content is not as high as most prefer, but both conditions will improve as the harvest advances, Mrs. Clyatt noted.

Clarence Mason Is Re-Elected As Director

Clarence Mason of Muleshoe has been re-elected as director for the Texas Soybean Producers Board, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

First elected a director in 1970, Mason will serve another six-year term following certification of election results by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Others elected this year were R.G. Dunlap of Floydada and R.D. Burnside of Baytown.

Under the Commodity Referendum Act, agricultural producers can organize and collect fees for promotion research, and educational projects. There are ten directors on the soybean board who administer the programs. Payment of fees by producers is voluntary.

Others on the board are as follows: William Sorelle of Plainview, Wesley Schumacher of Plainview, Raymond Tidwell of DeKalb, Jack Witten of Kress, Don Blacketer of Honey Grove, Jack Stoesser of Dayton, and Carl Pate of Kress.

"Other good fresh fruit choices at reasonable prices are several varieties of grapes, cantaloupe and honeydew melons, cranberries, apples, oranges, bananas and pears."

CONSUMER WATCHWORD: Best prices are on smaller-size oranges. Size numbers indicate the number of fruits fitting into a standard shipping container. The larger the number, the smaller the fruit.

THP Checks 3 Accidents With Injury

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highway in Bailey County during the month of September, 1976 according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and four persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first nine months of 1976 shows a total of 30 accidents resulting in two persons killed and 24 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for September 1976, shows a total of 567 accidents resulting in 15 persons killed and 306 injured, as compared to September 1975, with 551 accidents resulting in 29 persons killed and 314 persons injured. This was 16 more accidents, 14 less killed, and eight less injured in 1976 at the same period of time.

The 15 traffic deaths for the month of September, 1976, occurred in the following counties: Three each in Potter; Two each in Wise; one each in Donley, Deaf Smith, Lubbock, Dallam, Gray, Moore, Wilbarger, Knox, Parker, Wichita.

Flu Immunization Begins Again Here

The National Influenza Immunization Program in Texas started again Monday, October 18. The temporary halt in the program was instituted because it was the desire of the department to give the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta and the health authorities in Pennsylvania time to report on the circumstances connected with the deaths of the three individuals in Pittsburgh following the giving of an influenza vaccine. It was determined that the deaths were caused by heart attacks in persons previously known to have heart trouble and were not precipitated by the flu vaccine itself.

The particular lot number of the vaccine used in Pittsburgh has been given to 118,000 other individuals without problems except there was a report of one death in an individual following the vaccine being administered. This death occurred while a man was bowling. He had a history of heart disease and recent heart surgery. The Food and Drug Administration also tested the vaccine which was used and found no evidence that the deaths in Pittsburgh were in any way associated with a "bad batch" of vaccine.

It should be borne in mind that the influenza vaccine is not a new research product but has been made in this country and used on certain patients as well as extensively in the armed services for more than thirty years. The military vaccine contained a swine strain for many years. The method used in the production of the swine flu vaccine was that used in the production of the other influenza vaccines—a time proven method.

Actually, no time has been lost from the program because the halt provided an opportunity for distribution of the incoming supplies as they were received and this would help prevent the difficulties with shortages which

Even after twenty years in the forecasting business, we still get a little gun-shy about selecting winners in the face of all the upsets in both college and pro's. On a couple of recent weekends, it seemed as though the upset was the rule, not the exception. Rainy weather, injuries to key people, psyched-up underdogs, and no doubt a few shaky picks on our part all contribute to forecasting migraines. However, we still love it...so bear with us.

In the face of the preceding, you might think we're planning to stop making positive statements. Never. Indiana will NOT upset Michigan...Oregon State will NOT upset Southern Cal...S.M.U. will NOT upset Texas...and Louisville will NOT upset Alabama. Beyond that, we're just not very positive!

Seriously, there are a few real block-busters Saturday such as Nebraska - Missouri, Oklahoma State - Oklahoma, Maryland - Duke, California - U.C.A.A., Florida - Tennessee, and Notre Dame - South Carolina. In all but the latter, they're long-standing conference rivalries.

Nebraska holds a six-game lead over Missouri in the 66 games they've played to a decision, while Duke was won fourteen of the 19 games they've played with Maryland. The Cornhuskers, tied by L.S.U., and Maryland are unbeaten...Missouri and Duke, two real sleepers (?), have each lost two games. Nebraska will clip Missouri by fifteen, and the terps are going to squeeze by the Blue Devils by four points.

In the winner-picking area, it seems we yipped 'cause the average slipped. Through Saturday, October 9th, we've been right on 717 games, wrong on 253, and there have been 23 ties. Average: .739.

Undefeated Pittsburgh plays Navy and Ohio State meets Purdue. The paper odds look to be one-sided, but we're understandably lacking a little confidence! Pitt should top the Middies by 24 points and the Buckeyes should beat Purdue by 20.

Getting back to one of those games we've already mentioned, Oklahoma, in its Big Eight match-up with intra-state rival Oklahoma State, is favored by ten. Upset could be written all over that one.

U.C.L.A. will nip California and Notre Dame will get by South Carolina.

Controlling Weeds In Corn Boosted

Controlling weeds in corn was discussed by Dr. A.F. Wiese at the Agricultural Chemicals Conference at the South Park Inn, Lubbock, Texas on October 6. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientist from the USDA Research Center at Bushland, Texas said, "The worst weeds in Panhandle corn fields are watergrass, volunteer sorghum or shattercane, and Johnsongrass". He added that broadleaf weeds like pigweed are in every corn field but are easily controlled with Banvel applied postemergence or with several other herbicides that control both grass and broadleaf weeds. Banvel also controls field bindweed and other broadleaf perennial weeds.

Research by Experiment Station people at Bushland, Dumas, Etter, Halfway and Texas Tech Center at Amarillo has resulted in control measures for tough weeds. Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists helping Wiese with the research were Dale Hollingsworth at Halfway, E.W. Chenuault and D.E. Lavake at Bushland and Dr. J.R. Abernathy at Lubbock. "If someone asks how to control one of the pests we will suggest a combination chemical and cultural treatments that usually work, but unfortunately, they do not work 100 percent of the time", Wiese said.

Watergrass (barnyard grass) is the most common of the problem weeds. Fortunately, we have the most research experience with this weed, the researcher pointed out. Four years of research from 1971 to 1974 showed that planting before May 1 in the Texas Panhandle is the best way to keep watergrass from reducing corn yields. Corn planted early emerges from 2 to 4 weeks ahead of watergrass and has a competitive edge all year. Combining enough of the proper herbicides with two cultivations will control watergrass and assure maximum yields. Four pounds per acre of AAtrex applied preplant and incorporated with a rolling cultivator or preemergence after the crop is planted gave the most consistent control. Excellent control early in the season was also obtained with Sutan plus and Eradicane applied preplant at 4.75 pints per acre and incorporated with either a disk or rolling cultivator. These herbicides worked best when corn was "watered up". Lasso and Bladex did a good job applied preemergence, but grass emerged in the summer after herbicide residues disappeared. Combining these short residual preemergence herbicides with a post directed spray of Evik or Lorox kept corn weed free until harvest. In 1976, at Halfway, Cycle and Dual, two experimental herbicides with intermediate residual did a good job up to the middle of July. Then watergrass emerged after an irrigation indicating that the herbicides had broken down. Similar results were obtained with AAtrex at 2 pounds per acre. "If you are really serious about eliminating watergrass in corn, it takes 4 pounds per acre of AAtrex, a long residual herbicide, or two applications of short residual herbicides", Wiese continued.

"Shattercane or volunteer sorghum are the same type pest and our results have been variable", Wiese said, "sometimes we get good control and other times not". Most herbicides used in corn do not have a lot of effect on sorghum. Sutan plus and Eradicane are the only two with promise. Prior to 1974 volunteer sorghum control been poor when Sutan plus was incorporated with a tandem disk or rolling cultivator before preirrigation. In 1974, outstanding volunteer sorghum control was obtained with either Sutan plus and Eradicane applied at about 5 pints per acre (4 pounds) and incorporated with a tandem disk prior to bedding.

Application, incorporation and bedding were done 3 days before planting and corn was "watered up" with furrow irrigation. "After several years of poor results with these herbicides, we thought we learned how to use them", the scientist said. This theory was exploded in 1976 when Dale Hollingsworth tried this system at Halfway and failed. "Although our results have not been 100 percent perfect, these two herbicides are the best candidates for controlling volunteer sorghum and shattercane", the researcher said.

"Johnsongrass is a hard weed to deal with in any crop except winter wheat", Wiese continued. "Among summer crops, my first choice for controlling Johnsongrass is cotton and corn the second". Recent research at Texas Tech Center at Amarillo has shown that a bad infestation of Johnsongrass can be controlled in corn. Up to 90 percent of the established grass was eliminated and a good crop of silage was produced.

In 1975, 10 pints of Sutan plus or Eradicane per acre (8 pounds) gave 90 percent Johnsongrass control in corn. Corn was planted April 24 and treatment were evaluated on June 12. Best control at silage harvest came from Sutan plus that was disk in and prewatered and watered again at planting. Silage yield was best when corn was watered up only. Treatments with good Johnsongrass control yielded 28 tons of silage and 7 tons of Johnsongrass. Untreated areas produced only 12 tons of silage along with 10 tons of Johnsongrass. The silage cutter had a hard time getting through the weedy plots.

In 1976, results were different. Disk incorporation of Sutan plus at 10 pints per acre was the best treatment. Control at harvest was up to 90 percent. Eradicane at 10 pints per acre gave 60 to 70 percent control. "Two years of research leave little doubt that incorporating Sutan plus or Eradicane at 10 pints per acre with a tandem disk will control Johnsongrass in corn", Wiese said.

Unfortunately, these high rates are not labeled. Eradicane is labeled up to 7 pints per acre and Sutan plus to 5 pints per acre. Differential response of corn hybrids to high rates of Eradicane is another problem. Some hybrids are seriously injured with eradicane and others are not. Until this problem is solved, using 10 pints per acre is illegal and may cause serious crop injury.

"Weeding corn is relatively easy", the researcher stated. It can be planted early and it grows off fast. Early planting gives corn a competitive advantage over most weeds. In addition to this, there are several good herbicides. "I think a good manager can put together a weed control program for corn that will clean up the weedy field in the High Plains", Wiese concluded.

FARMERS

Joint-Venture Sunflower Production Contracts are being offered to Sunflower Producers on the High Plains by a European Firm thru a Joint-Venture agreement with John F. Herzer & Associates of Lubbock.

Cash price to the producers shall be determined on the date of delivery of seed by using the combined price of Sunflower Oil and Sunflower Meal in Rotterdam.

The producer is guaranteed a base price of $0.09 cents per pound which is correlated to a combined Ex-Tank Sun Oil and CIP-Sun-Meal price of $747.00 per metric ton at Rotterdam. The Joint-Venture Contract offers the producer a $50 per metric ton for each $1.00 fluctuation up or down above the $747.00 combined price of Sun Oil and Sun Meal.

This Joint-Venture Contract gives the High Plains Sunflower Producers who contract with John F. Herzer & Associates the assurance of a strong Local Market determined by the World Market demands for Sun Oil and Sun Meal based on the Rotterdam prices.

Producers interested in discussing Sunflower marketing through Joint-Venture Contracting or Direct Selling on an open market at harvest are asked to call 792-4418, or 747-0314, or 1-894-3598, JOHN F. HERZER & ASSOCIATES, "THE SUNFLOWER PEOPLE OF WEST TEXAS."
