SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXPRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 29.

SENATE.—Under the regular call the tenure of office bill came up. Trumbull moved a non-concurrence and asked a conference. Grimes moved to recede from the Senate amendment. Davis moved the repeal entirely. Davis is now speaking. Reconstruction committee had no meeting.

St. Martin and Sypher from Louisiana, will address the election committee tomorrow.

Evening Session.—A bill passed continuing enlistment with present pay until 1870; also a bill dropping from roll officers absent without leave.

Sawyer introduced a bill for the relief of office holders participating in the rebellion but not excluded by the 14th amendment. Tenure of office bill resumed. Resolution asking conference passed, 37 to 20.

HOUSE.—Under regular call the following bills were introduced:
A bill incorporating national land company, to provide homesteads for immigrants and freedmen in Southern States.
Bill selling government property at Plymouth, N. C.

Bill punishing office holders.
Bill forfeiting certain lands granted to Louisiana for railroad purposes.
Bill suspending oyster tonnage tax of Virginia.

A bill appropriating $20,000 to Charleston, for services rendered under pressure.

A resolution exempting salt, coffee, tea, sugar and tobacco, and taxing bonds, was tabled.

Substitute to Senate bill reorganizing the supreme court passed. Adjourned.

The President nominated G. Earl first assistant postmaster; Wm. R. Clinch, collector of revenue of the 2d South Carolina district; and Francis Wilcox for the 2d district of Alabama.

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—The 1st U. S. infantry left to-day on the steamer R. E. Lee for Detroit, having been stationed here for five years; the press of the city all express regrets at their departure, and good wishes for their future.

Gen. Buchanan will not relinquish the department for a few days.

Several important decisions were rendered by Judge Durell in the U. S. court this morning.

Three more of the wine cases decided in favor of the Government. The decision it is believed covers all points which can be raised.

Points have been submitted that every revenue law referring to the seizure of wine has been repealed by name. The Judge reviewed each statute quoted, and ruled that the repeal did not affect the specification of cost of packing and bottling; therefore as the cost of bottling and casing had either not been included in the invoice, or greatly underrated, according to evidence in the case, the wines were forfeited.

In case of J. I. Tucker, agent Illinois C. R. R., petitioning to have the N. O. and Opelousas R. R. declared bankrupt, the Judge in a lengthy decision held that R. R. bond and coupons were not commercial paper within the meaning of the bankrupt law, and that under State laws and the act incorporating, a remedy was provided to which creditors might resort; that paying coupons after a suit was brought upon the same, was not preferring one creditor over another, and therefore not an act of bankruptcy; and that the company was not insolvent, inasmuch as the assets by appraisal exceeded the liabilities due, or to become due, by more than $500,000. The court expressed some doubt as to whether Railroad coupons came under the provisions of bankrupt law.

BOSTON, March 29.—War steamer Galena ordered to Cuban waters.

TEXAS ITEMS.

General Longstreet, J. M. G. Parker Governor A. J. Hamilton, Boulds Baker and

Major Odellree have been photographed by Brady in a group as "Southern loyalists."

Texas is no longer a...—That public opinion is gradually, but surely, settling down with a terrible and crushing grip upon crime and lawlessness of every species in our midst. The determination to suppress and punish crime is being exemplified in our courts and proclaimed by every substantial citizen. The mind of this community is set as flint against those who are swift to shed blood and woe unto those that heed it not. Desperadoes, under whatever name or complexion, will soon find this the wrong section of Texas in which to operate. —Waco Register.

The Lavaca Commercial, Galveston Star and Civilian, Bryan News Letter, LaGrange Democrat, Hebron Times, Bushman News, Tyler Reporter, Denton Monitor, Jasper News Boy and the Marshall Republican, all repudiate the Hamilton movement. They represent a fair share of the Democratic sentiment of the State. There are some others, whose names do not occur to us just at this moment, who do not go the figure, and who repudiate the New Constitution, besides many non-committal. The only ones which come out, flat-footed, are the Houston Telegraph, Jefferson Implicite and Columbus Times.—Houston Union.

INDIANOLA RAILROAD.—This important work is progressing as rapidly as could be expected. The grading has extended several miles, and the ties and iron are being laid down as fast as possible. The cars are kept busy in taking out the material, and the return trip brings them in loaded with earth to fill up the low places around the depot, that have already been raised several feet. It looks cheering to note the busy aspect of affairs in that quarter. The necessary buildings are being erected, and a large depot and machine shop have been completed. We are confident the work will not stop until it reaches the far West. San Antonio will be reached within a reasonable time. The road to the junction will be completed shortly. —Indianola Bulletin.

Our Empire.

Very few of us have any adequate comprehension of the size of a State seven hundred miles in length, five hundred in width, and containing nearly three hundred thousand square miles.

The statement of its dimensions leaves but a vague general impression of vastness. The mind needs details to serve as stepping-stones, and furnish comparisons.

Within the limits of Texas, then, we say there is a larger and better wheat region than any three States possess; more pasturage than five can show, a greater and super cotton section than in all the other Gulf States, more pine timber than in Maine, more live oak than in Florida, more sugar land than in Louisiana. Our iron ore and coal equals that of Pennsylvania, and our salt in vast beds in the western lagoon, lies ready for the shovelful and the sack, and in sufficient quantities to supply the continent. The twenty millions of acres of wheat land are capable of producing two hundred millions of bushels of wheat, which is ready for harvesting in May, and which bears the tropical heats far better than the flour of more Northern growth.

On our pasturage wool is raised at an actual cost of seven cents a pound, and beef cattle at less than eight dollars per head. The five million acres of pines are as accessible, and as rich in tar, rosin and lumber as any in North Carolina.

Our climate averages less than twenty frosts in a winter, and permits roses to bloom on New Year's day. And our land can be bought for a song half sung.

All these things beckon to the crowded population of the North and of Europe to come and occupy. We have an empire here, but lacking the people it is but a wilderness.

We need the new blood which only an influx of thrifty and enterprising men can give. When the population comes, then comes also schools, and railroads, and society, and established order; and the name of Texas, so long a synonym for lawlessness and savagery, will be redeemed.

Small Pox.

We duly chronicled the appearance of small pox, of a malignant type, in California, where it has been for some months epidemic and very fatal. In many instances vaccination proved to be no protection, and even persons who had previously had the disease, and were pitted for life, took it a second time and died.

This same form of disease has been extending itself southward and eastward.

It has been very fatal at Guerrero, on the Rio Grande, and it has enlarged its range nearly to Corpus Christi.

At Chicago, New Orleans, and in Eastern Texas it is also found.

Our community should be prepared, and reliable vaccination obtained, as this is the only preventative known.

The effect of vaccination is apt to weaken in a few years, and it should be renewed frequently, especially in the case of those vaccinated during infancy.

After the age of forty years the system begins rapidly to lose its liability to absorb the disease, and at fifty generally becomes exempt. In cities the malady seems to prevail more during the cool weather.

Death of an Old Texas Citizen.

CURRY CREEK, March 23, 1869.
Editor of the San Antonio Express.

Permit me, through the columns of your excellent paper, to announce the death of our venerable father, Judge S. B. Patton, who died on the 20th instant, at 10 o'clock A. M., at his old residence on Curry's Creek, Kendall county, in the 82d year of his age.

He was a native of South Carolina—was raised an orphan, without any facilities in the way of education. All that he possessed of business qualifications was derived from his own exertions, and a mind richly endowed by the hand of his Creator.

At the age of fifteen years he went to Tennessee, where he grew to manhood, and was married.

In 1815 he commanded a Company of Riflemen in the late war with Great Britain.

In 1816 he removed to Alabama, where he served as Clerk of the County Court, and where he was returned a member of the Legislature at three consecutive elections.

Having lost his first wife, he married a second time, and became the father of 17 children.

In 1837 he emigrated to Texas, where he was soon appointed President of a Board of Commissioners to transact business of importance to the State. He was a member of the first Congress of the Republic of Texas. The last office he filled was that of Chief Justice of Blanco county.

As a public man he discharged his duties with credit to himself and fidelity to his constituents.

His death was sudden, but not unexpected by him. He expressed himself as being entirely willing to go.

He has left many children, grandchildren and numerous friends to mourn his loss.

Will Alabama and Tennessee papers please copy?

Fish Hatching in Maine.

There are in this State two establishments for hatching fish artificially, neither of which was mentioned in the list of such establishments given some weeks since by a correspondent of the Country Gentleman. One of these is located near this city, and is under the management of Mr. Chas. G. Atkins—the enthusiastic fish commissioner, whose resignation alluded to by us some weeks since, has been returned by the Governor—the other is located in the town of Alma, and is owned by Mr. David C. Pottle. The establishment of Mr. Atkins is a private experimental matter, started with a view of watching the breeding habits of fish, and of ascertaining if their artificial culture could be made practicable. It is situated on a clear and beautiful brook upon the Sanborn farm, in the town of Manchester, and about three miles from this city. There, a short distance from the road, may be seen a neat little house at the head of a brook, under which the water trickles through in a most musical way. Inside, there are four hatching boxes, each eight feet long by one wide, and inclining just enough to give the water a gentle flow through the box. The water is supplied to these hatching boxes from the spring, passing first through a filtering box, and afterwards into a distributing tank. The water in this spring is generally of the temperature of 46 degrees. Mr. Atkins has eggs of salmon placed in boxes where the water is filtered through funnel screens, and also in those receiving the water directly from the spring without being filtered. The weight of testimony is to the effect that all water, however pure, should be filtered; but Mr. Atkins is in some doubt as to the necessity of this, and is endeavoring to demonstrate it.

Mr. Atkins is now experimenting with thirty five hundred eggs of the land-locked salmon, and three thousand trout eggs. The former were obtained by Mr. Atkins himself, on the 4th and 5th of November last, in the outlet of Grand Lake stream, on the west branch of the St. Croix. These eggs are about one-fourth of an inch in diameter. They began to hatch in seventy-two days, and in seventy-four days about one hundred little fish were seen bobbing about in the boxes. The trout eggs were obtained from Mr. Seth Green, of Mumford, Monroe county, N. Y., and were taken December 10th.

They will begin to hatch about the 25th of February. Mr. Atkins is at his establishment almost every day and will be pleased to receive visitors and show the eggs and young fish in their various stages of development, to any who may be sufficiently interested in the matter to give him a call.

Mr. Pottle, from whom we had a pleasant call one day last week, and who brought us specimens of the product of his ponds in the form of trout fourteen days from the egg, has been engaged in breeding fish for some years, although it is only the present season that he has erected a pond and commenced to breed them by artificial impregnation. His farm is near the head of the tide in Alma, and we are told by those who have visited him that he has superior facilities for carrying on the business. He already has several ponds, a hatching house seven by twelve feet, and is now experimenting with forty-five hundred trout eggs, artificially impregnated. He expects to be able, as his first crop, to take out the ensuing season, about twenty-five hundred fish. These instances show the progress in our State, of an enterprise that a few years ago was looked upon with doubt and derision, but which is to become one of great importance to our people.—[Maine Farmer.

PARAGRAPHS.

The sugar crop of Texas last year was 2000 hogheads.

The tenure of Office Bill should be repealed, not as a compliment to Grant, but because it is a worthless law for a bad President, and a bad law for a good President.

The poet Halleek was so great a favorite with the women that one of those charming persons once said: "If I were on my way to church to be married—yes, even if I were walking up the aisle—and Halleek were to offer himself, I'd leave the man I'd promised to marry and take him"—which was rather strongly stated, but may have been accurate.

Governor Wise has at last surrendered to John Brown. He thus makes his confession:

For myself, I praise God for the war every day, notwithstanding its disaster and deaths, as a special providence, indispensable to free me and my heirs forever from the weakness, if not wickedness of African slavery.

The New York Tribune having called Train a politician, George Francis indignantly writes that journal.

"After the Cassius M. Clay debate, you called me a 'Charlatan,' and 'Mountebank;' while in a British bustle, an 'Ass and a Lumatic;' but this is the first time you have passed the insult direct by calling me a 'Politician.'" The Tribune makes the amende honorable, saying "there is a sense in which he is not a politician—that is, (the sense in which Hamilton and Jefferson, Clay and Calhoun, were politicians."

In the Maine Legislature, last week, one member, a doctor, moved to amend the Capital Punishment bill, by providing that chloroform be administered to persons on the scaffold. Another doctor opposed the proposal, as all physicians admitted that the administration of chloroform was dangerous to life. The amendment was rejected.

It is now certain that the problem of what shall be done with the negro is settled; its solution is reached. From every portion of the South we learn that these people, so long held in bondage, will work, and they do thrive; and instead of starvation, there is plenty of hog and hominy. Four years ago they were slaves; now they are American citizens, possessing and enjoying all the rights of freemen. And, moreover, there is work enough for all, and even more laborers are needed. So apparent is the fact that the Rebel General Forrest proposes to import more laborers from Africa, and to bestow upon them even the rights of freemen.

FARMERS' GARDENS.—We often regret that we don't see through out all the States the pretty little farm gardens so noticeable amongst the German population of Pennsylvania. It is very common, it is true to find a "truck patch," which means a few loads of manure "dumped" down, and the plow turned in for half a day, and the lot rooted up somehow; but the heat walled or fenced in garden, with its pretty plots of roses, peonies and border flowers around the lots devoted to fruits and vegetables, are seldom seen outside of the places before mentioned.

The great foe to these pretty and profitable gardens in these days is the spade, which really takes more time than many farmers can afford; but since the introduction of the four-tined digging fork, by which a man can dig three times the work in the same time that one could with a spade and with three times the ease, there is no reason why every one should not have his enclosed garden plot, as productive as the highest garden culture and as pretty as feminine taste can make it.—Philadelphia Press.

A Southern writer who has recently had an interview with George D. Prentice, gives an affecting account of this fallen man of genius. Ten years ago one of the most brilliant men of the country, he is now a mere wreck. His family is broken up—wife dead, one son killed on the Confederate side, another settled on a farm down the river—and the old man, verging on threescore and ten, cooks his breakfast and dinner in his little room on the third floor of the Courier building and lives only in conversation about the past. "This man once wielded an imperial power with his wit and his music. Now the world has whirled past him, and he lies on the shore a mere stranded wreck.

BLANKS for Butchers and Hide Dealers at this office. (d.w.)

CIRCUS.—First exhibition of the Circus takes place to-day. A full attendance is expected and required. So come along and pay your dollar.

AUCTION.—Yesterday we dropped in at the Auction Room of Messrs. David Friedlander & Co., and were astonished at the low prices for which goods could be bought. Boys suits went off at $1.15, Cottonade pants brought 60 cents. Now is your time, citizens of San Antonio, to lay in goods for the coming season. Go to David Friedlander and make your purchases.

OFFICIAL PRINTING.—The Herald rejoiceth at the appointment of Flake's Bulletin and the Austin Republican as official papers of the United States, and concludes with the Austin Republican, that we are left out in the cold. No uneasiness about that, neighbor. We shall publish the laws of the United States as heretofore, and you will find all Government advertisements in our columns. Flake, who had so much to say about Government pay, will now shut up and let the paper theme alone; and you had better follow suit and do the same. We shall sustain the Government of the United States, with or without pay, and are thankful for what we have received, so far. If you detect any abatement in the loyalty or spirit of the EXPRESS hereafter, let us know.

The law reads: "The Clerk of the House shall appoint one or more papers in each of the Southern States." There is nothing said about limiting the number to two papers. Mind that.

Two and one, in the arithmetic of the Herald, makes a couple, only.

THEATRICAL.—The crowded house which we found Monday night at Musick's Hall, proved the correctness of our remarks in one of our last issues. Give us good dramas and the people of San Antonio will sustain you, and furthermore, a better spirit will prevail during the performance, without the abominable shrill whistlings, and with less tramping of feet.

Bulwer's Lady of Lyons is rendered somewhat after the French style, much sensation and surprise; the peasant's son invariably rising to a higher station, not as a necessary consequence of the moving power in the Comedy, but simply to bring it to a satisfactory end. The hero disappears as a poor gardener, and when he appears again, he is a rich Colonel, certainly the cheapest and shortest way to solve the social problem that puzzled the audience at the end of the 3rd Act. Still, Bulwer is a poet and his language stands far above that of the fashionable French Comedies.

The performance was as good as we expected. Pauline Deschappelles did excellently well as a novice. She was to an unusual degree natural and unconstrained, and was never violent or exaggerated in her part. Her main defect was that of being too uniformly pathetic. In some scenes the pathetic was in its place. But we would object to a bride speaking to us in a grave and impressive manner, when asking for a description of Lake Como. Miss Pauline shows good talents for the stage and will easily perfect herself by cultivating more natural variety of tone.

Mr. Crisp as Claude Melnotte, has performed better than we ever saw him before. There was less of the abrupt artificial change from tone to tone, and from passion to passion. Look at real life, Mr. Crisp, and study and idealize it; see how passion expresses itself naturally, and imitate it. Your power of voice and your knowledge of the stage admit of much greater success than you have hitherto obtained.

Well played were the parts of widow Melnotte and Madame Deschappelles, although "Our Jossie" looked rather too young for the mother of our stout and sturdy Claude.

Mr. Bohan, whenever he appears as a serious person, has to battle with the comic lines of his face, which invariably remind the audience of the drollery of the inner man; still, he played well. Soudi Bauseant and Dana; in regard to the latter, we cannot refrain from remarking that it seems to us very unbecoming a French General, to express his satisfaction in good society, by dancing a reel in the backwood fashion.

Testimonials.
The Waters' Pianos are known as among the very best.—N. Y. Evangelist.
We can speak of the merits of the Waters' Pianos from personal knowledge as being of the very best quality.—Christian Intelligencer.
The Waters' Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material.—Advocate and Journal.
Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodeons and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine.
Musical Donors.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are so aptly called, if not confused, with the flaming advertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith, were even thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianos now in our residence (where it has stood for years), of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur players in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal. (Feb 19/84)
