Muleshoe

Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson of the West Camp community, returned home on the ninth, after a 10 day visit with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Perryman of Lexington, N.C.

The Robertsons reported the trees were very beautiful at this time of year. They also made two trips to the woods to cut wood for the Perryman's fireplace.

Mrs. D.O. Smith reported the death this week of her sister, Mrs. Thera Brazzell, 71 of Cortez, Colo. Mrs. Brazzell died of an apparent heart attack.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Cortez.

Record Cold Temperature Is Recorded

In what was an apparent low temperature, accompanying the heavy, seven inch plus snow in this area last weekend was a low -1 degree record early Sunday morning. The low temperature caused burst water pipes when the weather warmed some, one fire beneath a house and numerous cars which failed to start.

At presstime Wednesday, vestiges of the snow were still noted throughout the area, especially in the shaded areas, after a warming trend on Tuesday.

Little hawing was noted Monday as heavy fog set in and did not leave the area until late Monday night. On Monday night, side streets, which had been snowpacked, still showed icy spots in places. Bailey County Agent Spencer Tanksley said that although the snow brought all harvest to a complete standstill, the moisture was good for wheat and was a big boost to farmers.

Also deep breaking and plowing was halted as farmers waited for the moisture to seep into the ground, providing additional badly needed moisture for next spring.

No major problems were noted with livestock, although the county agent said the cold, wet weather made livestock more prevalent for disease.

Police Report

A total of four accidents were reported during the snow this weekend. Three of the accidents were in the city limits. One was reported at the height of snow Friday evening, another on Saturday afternoon and the third on Sunday afternoon.

Members of the Department of Public Safety, Louis Cardinal and Jim Williams were slowed down Friday night attempting to get to an accident. They were notified of the accident west of Bula at 6:49, but near zero visibility and snow covered roads kept them from reaching the one-vehicle turnover until 9:11 p.m. There were no injuries in the accident.

One fire was also reported during the extreme cold. This was at 9:32 Sunday morning at 524 East Third where a fire was reported beneath a house. No major damage was recorded.

Only one arrest was also logged as most people apparently stayed inside.

Local Church Will Join Prayer Service

Members of the Spanish Assembly of God Church at 415 East Avenue F, will participate in the "Revivaltime" World Prayermeeting at 8 p.m. on Sunday, November 21. The annual World Prayermeeting is the largest effort of its kind in the nation.

According to the Rev. Pecina, pastor of the local church, more than 100,000 persons in approximately 1,500 churches and prayer groups are expected to join in pre-Thanksgiving services.

The annual prayer effort is organized by "Revivaltime", the international radio broadcast of the Assemblies of God, heard each week on 650 stations around the world. Recently, listeners to the broadcast were invited to send in their prayer requests. An estimated 50,000 requests have been received at

HER OWN PERSONAL SNOWMAN... One of the many, many snowmen constructed in the area last weekend include Jackie Williams' own personal snowman. Here, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie M. Williams, enjoys her snowman with his sparkly electrical tape eyes and mouth, with a real pipe, hat and scarf. Marching down is front as buttons are soft drink lids and he is carrying -- a leaf rake?

Local Jaycees Have Projects Underway

Just in case you have wondered about the Muleshoe Jaycees, they are alive and well and going strong. Presently, the Jaycees have several projects underway. During the initial part of fall harvest, activities necessarily slowed down, but the Jaycees have come back strong and are optimistic as they plan future activities.

TRAP SHOOT
One project is the two-weekend trap shoot, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, November 20 and 21, and again on the same days, November 27 and 28.

According to co-chairman Lance Tucker, who is heading up the activity, along with Jaycee Dickie Hanks, the trap shoot will be just outside the west city limits and will be conducted from 2 p.m. until dark each day.

Cash prizes will be given and shells will be available at the shoot. Tucker said the proceeds will be used for future Jaycee projects.

CLUB EXTENSION
Anytime a Jaycee organization can extend another town or city, and organize a new Jaycee club, it is a great "feather in the cap". Tonight (Thursday), the Jaycees from Muleshoe will travel to Dimmitt to extend a new organization in that city. Several Jaycees have been heading up the extension program, including Muleshoe Jaycee President Gene McGuire and Terry Hill, member.

Local Youth Is Featured In Magazine

Featured in picture on the front of the most recent Farmer-Stockman is Gary Lackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lackey of Muleshoe. A graduate of Muleshoe High School, Gary maintains a 4.0 average as a college student at Texas A&M at College Station.

According to an article in Farmer-Stockman, "Gary Lackey, another outstanding student on this month's cover, was president of the collegiate FFA last spring. In spite of the fear of many, he feels that family farms have a secure place in agriculture. They will become bigger as the years go on and become more effective with time."

The information was incorporated in a story which was observing that both agriculture and education have changed during the past 100 years.

According to the article: "Enrollment in the college of agriculture is more than three times what it was in 1965."

"Women have not only entered agricultural education, they've done it in a big way."

"More and more ag students are coming from the cities."

"There's a new, almost startling interest in agriculture by young people."

"In 1965, the college of agriculture had a total enrollment of 1,614, counting both graduate and undergraduate students. A preliminary count this fall shows 5,371 enrolled."

"An increasing number of the students are girls. In 1971, only 75 females were enrolled in the college of agriculture. Last year there were 845."

Horticulture has joined animal science as a popular subject and has become a department within itself.

The article outlined multi-changes in teaching agriculture.

At one time, the Dimmitt organization was very strong, but eventually faded away, so Muleshoe Jaycees have been meeting with interested young men and are ready to re-organize there. Last week, 22 young men attended a meeting, and this number is expected to be greatly expanded for the extension Thursday.

REGION VISITATION
Friday night, November 19, with be Regional Visitation for Region 113 in Muleshoe.

Special guest speaker will be Muleshoe Mayor Ken Henry, who will be speaking to Jaycees from throughout the Panhandle and South Plains.

Muleshoe Jaycee Charles Moraw is National Director and presiding will be Butch Duncan, who is a state vice president.

Kingdom Hall Is Hosting Supervisor

Charles Fanning, presiding minister of the Muleshoe congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced the semi-annual visit of circuit supervisor, Bruce Beach, during the week of November 16-21.

"The congregation anticipates a week of increased activity and spiritual benefit from Mr. Beach's visit," Fanning said. "In addition to personal benefits, the activity is designed to encourage more Bible discussion by people of all faiths in the community."

Wednesday through Sunday some time will be devoted to the "Field Service", according to the local minister, who commented, "Mr. Beach will join members of the local congregation in making calls on residents of the community."

"Highlight of the week comes Sunday at 10 a.m. when Mr. Beach gives the public talk entitled "What Kind of Name are You Making With God", he concluded.

All activity is scheduled for the local Kingdom Hall on the Frona Highway.

Split Livestock Show Plans Are Complete

Jones Edges Into Four Point Lead

An apparently assured James Roy Jones tried out the Dallas Football Stadium this past Monday night. True, he wasn't in the Cotton Bowl, as he traveled to Texas Stadium to watch the Cowboys-Buffalo game, but he was in the vicinity. He may have sniffed out the fact that as of this week, he is out in front in the football contest.

After being tied for some time with Maggie Gutierrez for first place in the weekly contest, he came in this week with a third place to pull out in front by four points.

He wasn't first place winner. That spot was captured by co-worker, Mike Perez, Jr., with second place going to W.E. English, also a prior winner this year.

The first place winner missed only one game, safely predicting the winners in both tiebreakers, he missed only the Duke-North Carolina State game. Second place winner English accurately predicted the tiebreaker games, but missed Kentucky-Florida and Duke-North Carolina State to be alone with two misses.

Several persons missed only three games, but James Roy Jones came up with a nearly perfect score on the tiebreaker. He was only two points away on the Alabama-Notre Dame game, and five points away on the Missouri-Oklahoma game for a total of seven points. That is the lowest point spread during the season this year in the tiebreakers.

Others missing three games and their tiebreaker scores were Ruth Malone, 22; Louis Wayne Shafer, 30; last week's first place winner, Doug Cowan, 14; Nona Blake Douglass, 14; Mary Frances Perez, 29; Rosie Gutierrez, 22; Mike Pool, 58 and Kenneth Henry, 20.

Although early in the season, one female entrant, Hazel Gilbreath, took a quick lead, she dropped out of the winner column and hasn't threatened for some time. However, it is still apparently anybody's contest, as the switch back and forth and tie for first place have proven that no clear winner has emerged, and in fact, may not be noted until the final contest in the next two or three weeks at the end of college play.

Get your entries in, it's fun, fascinating, and the year has been marked by upsets in college play. And you could be the winner of the two tickets to the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day and $50 expense money.

Needmore Club Thanksgiving Dinner Slated

Traditionally, the Needmore Community Club hosts a Thanksgiving dinner at the Needmore Community Center, 13 miles South of Muleshoe. This year will be no different.

As a fund-raising project, the Thanksgiving dinner is scheduled on Saturday, November 20, with the home cooking to include turkey and dressing, and all the trimmings.

Widely acclaimed for good food, the home-cooked meal will include all you can eat and serving will begin at 6 p.m. and continue as long as anyone shows up to eat.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12.

Gold Star Winners Honor Scheduled

Sharla Farmer and Curtis Carpenter of the Progress 4-H Club, recently named Gold Star 4-H winners from this county, and outstanding 4-H'ers, will be among special guests of honor at the District Two 4-H Gold Star Awards Banquet at Coronado High School on Monday, November 22, in Lubbock.

The program begins at 6:30 p.m., in the high school's cafeteria.

Billy C. Gunter and Catherine B. Crawford, district agents for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, say some 450 persons, including parents, distinguished guests and special friends of 4-H, will be on hand to congratulate the youths.

A boy and a girl from each of the 20 counties in District Two are eligible to receive this highest county award each year. The award is based on outstanding achievement, leadership and contribution to the county 4-H program.

The event is sponsored annually by the following 12 member-owned electric cooperatives serving District Two: Bailey, Dickens, Lamb, Deaf Smith and Swisher Counties, and Lea County, New Mexico. Also, Caprock, Lighthouse, Lone Wolf, Lyntegan, Midwest and South Plains electric cooperatives.

Speaker for the special occasion will be Jim Cobb, general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., Austin.

Senator Kent Hance of Lubbock will be master of ceremonies, and Spike Wideman, farm services director for KKYR Radio in Plainview, will narrate the presentation of awards.

Special guests will include parents, adult leaders, Extension Service officials, represen-

One new rule was instituted for the 1977 Bailey County Junior Livestock Show, following a meeting of the Livestock Show Board of Directors Monday night.

The rule reads, "Each exhibitor is to notify their supervisor of all show animals on feed. A form will be furnished for this purpose by the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show Board."

Also during the meeting, along with reviewing the rules and regulations for the show, new officers and superintendents were elected.

Bennie Claunch was named chairman and Donald Harrison, vice chairman, with Pete Black named secretary-treasurer.

Division chairmen for the 1977 show are Lewis Scoggin, barrows; Dan Throckmorton, lambs and Donald Harrison, steers.

Board of directors include Ruel Kirby, Joe Rhodes, J.E. Layton, Leon Lewis, Eugene Black, Ted Harrison, Lionel Lane, Joe Wheeler, Eugene Shaw and Dr. Jerry Gleason.

The show has been split into two separate times because of the lack of facilities to house a complete show for one time, explained Bailey County Agent Spencer Tanksley. The first show will be the steer and heifer show, which is scheduled for Saturday, January 15, 1977 at 2 p.m.

He said the youths will take their animals to the show barn at the bus barn at Muleshoe High School on that morning and remove them in the evening following completion of the show.

On Thursday, February 24, the lamb show will be at 8 p.m., followed by the barrow show in the following morning, February 25, at 8:30 a.m., also in the school bus barn.

Eligibility rules have not changed this year. Any boy or girl who is a member of the 4-H, FFA or FHA who has projects supervised by the County Extension Agent or Vocational Agriculture Teachers of Bailey County and who attend school in Bailey County is eligible to show in the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show. An exhibitor must be nine year of age by the day of the show to be able to participate in the show.

Also, exhibitors must have owned their pigs, lambs, feeder steers and heifers and have them in their care not later than December 1, 1976. Steers must be on feed and in the care of the exhibitors by September 1, 1976. Exhibitors in the Bailey County Show will not be permitted to purchase fitted animal or animals that have been through a premium auction sale and show in the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show.

Entries in the steer show may include three beef animals which may be steers or heifers or any combination, but no more than two of one sex.

Three hogs may be entered and may be barrows, gilts or any combination of the same and sheep may be three ewes, wethers, or any combination of the same.

In the beef division, animals must be carrying milk teeth the day of the show, with no permanent teeth in view. The Cont. on Page 6, Col. 2

Local School To Dismiss For Holiday

School will be dismissed at regular time this Thursday and will not convene at all on Friday, November 19. However, all teachers and aides will report as usual for an in-service workday. On Wednesday, November 24, school will dismiss early for the Thanksgiving holidays. Buses will leave high school at 2:20 p.m. and there will be no school on Thursday or Friday.

All four local schools will reconvene at the regular time on Monday, November 29.

Booster Club Plans Supper For Basketball

A covered dish supper will honor all boys and girls in basketball, freshman through varsity, according to a spokesman for the Muleshoe Athletic Booster Club. The dinner will be hosted by the Booster Club at 7 p.m. today (Thursday) in the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria.

During the evening, the coaches will introduce all boys and girls on the high school basketball teams and explain some of the plans for the upcoming season.

All parents, friends and interested parties are invited to bring a covered dish and meet the players Thursday night.

Six Weeks Report Cards Nearly Ready

On Monday, November 22, report cards will be sent out from Muleshoe Schools, High School and Junior School report cards will be yellow for this six weeks.

This report card will show first and second six weeks grades, and the overall grade for the first quarter of the 1976-77 school year. These report cards are not to be returned to high school or junior high school.

SNOW PILES UP... Snow piled up in Muleshoe, and this table top at the right of the picture is mute testimony to the depth of the snow which fell in Muleshoe Friday evening, and continuing through most of Saturday. A total of seven inches was confirmed for the snowfall which forced cancellation of Muleshoe's final football game for the season.

Avoid Mail Order

COLLEGE STATION -- If you read ads like "Make easy money at home, send $3 for details", do you obey their command? If so, you may be defrauded, says Claudia Mittel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "This type of ad may be one of many that defrauds consumers seeking to supplement their incomes at home," she added. Dishonest ads for business opportunities may promise payment for at-home work only to send the hapless consumer a letter on how to start his own mail order business or inform him he must pass a test or pay a registration fee before qualifying, she explained. "Frequently the victims are homemakers with young children at home, shut-ins, elderly persons and the unemployed. "Unfortunately, many consumers who fall prey to these schemes never complain because of the small amount of money lost. But these small amounts add up when there are tens of thousands of responses," she said. Before investing in a work-at-home opportunity, be cautious if: -- the advertisement promises large profits for little work. -- the ad requires you to send money to receive further information. -- the ad tells you that no experience is necessary. -- the company will not supply the names of other employees so that you can check on their experience. -- you are required to buy and then resell a product at a profit; the item may be of poor quality and unsaleable. "If you do plan to invest in a work-at-home plan, call your local Better Business Bureau or Retail Merchants Association to find out if the company has a good reputation. Always think twice before paying for the chance to work," she reminded.

The SPIRIT of GIRL SCOUT

Troop 258 had 13 girls present last Monday, November 8. The girls discussed a service project for Thanksgiving and were assigned items to bring for a troop first aid kit. They wrote Thank You notes to the VFW for the flag they had presented them. The girls decided on what they would make for Christmas. Mrs. Betty Campbell and daughter, Drita O'Tay served punch and cookies. Mrs. Kropp and Mrs. Baldwin are the troop leaders.

Troop 388 met last Tuesday, November 9, with Mrs. King for their regular meeting. They began work on their Christmas gifts. Christie Taylor was "Keeper of Gold" and Caise King held roll call. There were 10 girls present. Mrs. John Crittenden and daughter, Katy, were hostesses. They served life savers and ice cream cups.

Troop 417 had nine girls present for their meeting Tuesday, November 9, under their leaders, Mrs. Huckaby and Mrs. Berry. The girls decided on what they would make for Christmas. Tracy Stovall was "Keeper of Gold". The girls had a program on germs and during the program, made "germs" to take home with them. The germs were made from tassels. Mrs. Alton Parker and daughter, Caice Hendrix, served cupcakes and punch.

The fourth grade girls met with Mrs. Denton on Thursday, November 11. They elected officers and worked on their "House-keeping" Badge. They also decided on their Thanksgiving and Christmas projects. Mrs. Denton served refreshments of cake, cookies and bubble-up.

Leaders, don't forget the Service Unit meeting, Thursday, November 18, at 9:00 a.m. in the Tri-County Room.

Parents should be careful not to compare their child to their neighbor's child. While all children develop in the same sequence, the rate of development varies with every child, reminds Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Make a batch of baby food and freeze some for future use. Freeze food in ice cube trays and snap out into plastic bags once frozen. Seal well and store in the freezer. These cubes will be just the right size serving for your baby. Do not freeze for longer than one month, advises Mrs. Sally Coble, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The sweet green pepper is not related to the true pepper from which we get our black table pepper. It belongs to the same family as the tomato and the potato, both native to the Americas, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

President-Elect Planning Visit With Mahon

George Mahon, U.S. Representative, announced today that he has accepted the invitation of President-Elect Jimmy Carter to meet with him on Wednesday of this week on Senator Herman Talmadge's farm near Atlanta.

About six or eight members of the House and a similar number from the Senate have been invited to the Carter meeting. This will be the first meeting with President-Elect Carter with Congressional leaders since the election.

Mahon said he welcomes this opportunity to express his views and the views of West Texans in regard to major issues confronting the Congress and the country.

The meeting with Congressional leaders is scheduled to last for several hours. "I am quite hopeful," said Mahon, "that the exchange of views will be helpful to Mr. Carter and members of Congress who are to attend. I welcome the opportunity to participate."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — How to slice up $2.6 billion to $3 billion in additional state revenues next year dominated discussion at Texas Press Association's briefing on the 1977 legislature.

Governmental leaders made clear there are no shortage of ideas for putting all the money — and more — to use.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said demands for new spending already total $5 billion.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Gov. Dolph Briscoe's $850 million school finance plan and highway aid bill and a $1 billion capital reserve account, coupled with elimination of the sales tax, add up to $2.9 billion.

Briscoe said he still favors socking away $1 billion of the so-called surplus into a rainy day, interest-drawing reserve, as a hedge against an expected future decline in oil tax income. In his presentation to the TPA briefing, the governor also assigned top priority to his $1.6 billion school-highway programs.

Bullock warned that the items he enumerated do not cover funds for inflationary costs of government services or pay raises to state employees and school teachers.

Both Clayton and Hobby jumped on state college building bonds secured by tuition revenues. Clayton termed the bonds "gimmick financing," and promised a bill to pay them off. The bill was pre-filled last week to establish a $170 million bond retirement fund. It would be used to retire tuition and constitutional water development bonds which are subject to call.

Other key legislative problems discussed in Texas Supreme Court told a Houston juvenile court it must consider a 22-year-old mother's concluded crime control bills, medical malpractice insurance, energy matters, tax code reform, and coal slurry pipeline rights of way.

Roads Wearing
More than 70,000 miles of main Texas roads and streets will wear out within the next 10 years due to a 24 per cent increase in traffic, a former state highway engineer has warned.

J.C. Dingwall, state chairman of The Road Information Program TRIP, said three-fourths of the 94,198 miles of major Texas trafficways should be resurfaced or reconstructed by 1986 to serve 2.2 million vehicles traveling 100 billion miles a year.

Unemployment Down
Unemployment dropped a tenth of a percentage point in September, leaving 9,300 fewer Texans out of work than the month before. Texas Employment Commission said total employment also declined by 32,000.

TEC found 5.4 per cent of a 292,000-member Texas labor force officially jobless, reflecting in part that summer job seekers had withdrawn from the labor force and gone back to the classrooms.

Courts Speak
Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld an Amarillo forgery conviction, as directed by the U.S. Supreme Court, but directed district attorneys they cannot appeal its decision to the top federal court. The district attorney in Amarillo successfully carried the forgery conviction to the Supreme Court, after the Texas court originally overturned it.

plaint that she was misled through lies into relinquishing her infant son.

The Third court of Civil Appeals held that the City of Appeals cannot be forced by a utility consumer to roll back electrical rates and refund charges. The court emphasized no charge of discrimination was made by the man bringing the suit challenging a 1975 rate hike.

The state Supreme Court set a January 5 review of a Galveston case involving forfeiture of $7,692 seized in a gambling raid.

Holding Line
Legislative Budget Board, continuing its efforts to hold the line on spending, recommended no salary raises for management-type state employees, including the governor.

The board voted 6-2 to accept House Speaker Bill Clayton's motion to freeze "exempt" positions at 1977 levels. Presidents of state colleges and universities are included in the "exempt" group whose salaries are covered by individual line items in the appropriations act rather than the job classification system.

Not only top officials but a $6,550 a year secretary for the Board of Physical Therapy Examiners are affected. Clayton said the lower-paid employees in exempt jobs will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis later.

AG Opinions
Atty. Gen. John Hill said the travel itinerary of public officials (including state university presidents) is public information, but handwritten notes on their calendars are not.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Bell County commissioners may authorize payment of a secretary to administer a program of legal services to indigent residents.

Texas Animal Health Commission does not have blanket authority to require brucellosis vaccinations, but it may make such a requirement under circumstances described in the statute.

Property tax exemptions for surviving wives and children of disabled veterans applies to survivors of veterans who died before effective date of the exemption law as well as those who died thereafter.

Schnabel Bows Out
Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel announced he will not seek re-election by senators to his $37,500 a year job when his term expires January 10.

Schnabel, 44, who pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor official misconduct charge two months ago, indicated he is seeking new employment in state government.

The veteran official yielded to pressure of some senators and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby who wanted him to step down. Actually, Schnabel said he had reached his decision much earlier but did not want to resign his job at this time. His current term extends until the legislature reconvenes next January.

Appointments
Gov. Briscoe named David A. Dunn of Orange district judge of the 163rd judicial district, replacing Judge Frederick B. Trimble who resigned.

Briscoe appointed Harry R. Heard of Gilmer criminal district attorney for Upshur County until Dec. 31, 1976. He succeeds J. Michael Smith of Gilmer who resigned.

Short Shorts
Texas Department of Community Affairs found peso devaluation a cause of economic dislocation, rise in unemployment and a decline in availability of human services in South Texas.

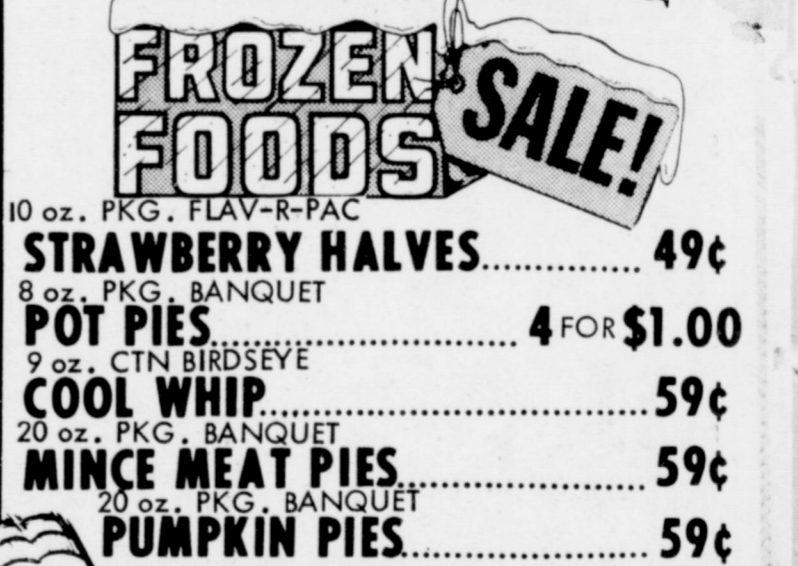

Texas Railroad Commission ordered increases in rates for natural gas service in Galveston and Mineral Wells and an interim rate hike in seven West Texas communities.

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My husband and I have been separated for two years. Our teenage children are living with me. We cannot afford divorce proceedings. Is there any way I can have any property I buy put solely in my name so I can specify my children as the only beneficiaries if I die?

A: State law presumes that property held in the name of either a husband or a wife belongs to both parties until proven otherwise. This is true whether the husband and wife live together or apart.

Q: I've been living in our family home, which became my homestead when my husband died seven years ago. When our last child reaches the age of 18, can I sell the home and keep the proceeds?

A: The husband's one-half interest in a home acquired during marriage passes to his children if he dies without a will. In order for the widow to sell a home in this situation, the children would have to join the widow in the sale, or a court order would have to be obtained to force the sale if one of the owners refused to sell. Each of the owners would be entitled to their proportionate share of the proceeds from sale of the property.

Q: Can a doctor refuse to release the patient's personal medical file and all x-rays and test results to a patient or his agent when his services are terminated?

A: In absence of an express agreement to the contrary, the patient's medical file and x-rays are the property of the physician rather than the patient, even though the cost of the x-rays are paid by the patient. Therefore, the patient would have no absolute right outside of the judicial process to the release of his records; however, a physician has an ethical duty to make a patient's records available on request to another physician presently treating the patient.

Fat Can Boost Beef Feeding Efficiency

Research conducted by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists indicates that including protected lipids (tallow or fat) in the diet of steers and heifers has the potential of reducing feeding time and increasing feed efficiency.

The research was carried out at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Overton by Dr. Myron McCartor, beef cattle nutritionist; Richard Rhodes, graduate student; and Dr. R.D. Randel, reproductive physiologist. The research project involved 60 heifers and 42 steers, all Brahman x Hereford F1 crosses.

The concept of protecting certain nutrients from ruminal fermentation so they are released in other parts of the digestive system offers for the first time the opportunity to utilize various parts of the ruminant digestive system more efficiently.

Interest in feeding protected lipids has been increased by the development of an economical commercial process for encapsulating tallow in plant proteins. Previous research at other locations has shown that protecting the fat content of the diet until it reaches the true stomach and intestines in ruminant animals keeps the fat from being broken down and absorbed in different forms. The new method of encapsulating the fat also allows the use of polyunsaturated oils in the diet which in turn remain polyunsaturated when they are absorbed and deposited in the animal's body.

According to McCartor, heifers receiving a diet containing protected tallow required 12 percent less total feed and 36.6 percent less concentrates per unit of gain than the control groups. Treated heifers tended to gain faster and more efficiently than controls but not significantly so. Feeding protected tallow increased fat deposition in the heifers and significantly increased intramuscular fat. Even though the condition score and weight per day of age at puberty were significantly increased by feeding the protected tallow to heifers, significantly fewer treated animals reached puberty during the trial period.

Steers in the project were grazed on wheat-oat-ryegrass winter pasture prior to the feeding trial. Six of the steers were slaughtered when they came off winter pasture and the remaining steers were placed on feeding trials for 57 days. Although the diets of both the control and treated groups were calculated to produce essentially equal gains based on current net energy values for the feedstuffs used, rate of gain was increased and feed conversion was improved by feeding the protected tallow.

Based on these and other data, it appears that protected lipids have the potential of reducing the feeding time required to produce equivalent quality beef and do the job more efficiently.

Based on these and other data, it appears that protected lipids have the potential of reducing the feeding time required to produce equivalent quality beef and do the job more efficiently.

Comparing carcasses of steers fed 57 days with carcasses of steers slaughtered directly from winter pasture, McCartor indicated that feeding increased yield, subcutaneous fat, marbling, yield grade and USDA quality grade. Feeding also tended to reduce the amount of yellow color in the carcass fat. "Most important in this project," McCartor emphasized, "is the fact that feeding increased the dressing percentage and also increased the value of the controls $1.41 per day per head while the value of steers receiving protected lipids increased $1.58 per head per day. Feeding protected lipids therefore increased the carcass value by 17 cents per day per head above that of controls. This means that the relatively short feeding period has the potential of increasing net profit per animal for the producer and the use of protected lipids can mean even more margin."

Other research in California showed similar improvements in feed efficiency and carcass grade.

TRAPPING AND WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT

Because of reduced habitat, controlling wildlife populations is of increasing importance and trapping provides the only logical means of controlling certain species of wildlife if carried out in accordance with Texas regulations.

Each spring, the natural reproductive capacities of animals listed as fur-bearers in Texas such as badger, beaver, fox, mink, muskrat, opossum, otter, raccoon, ring-tailed cat, skunk (polecat) and wild civet produce surpluses that ensure winter survival of the species.

For instance, muskrat have the natural capacity to reproduce at a rate exceeding 50 to 80 percent annually. This means that for every 100 animals before breeding season, there will be 150-180 by the end of the season.

Left to her own devices, nature will take her own harvest, far more devastating and complete than the most skilled trapper, and inflicting more pain, prolonged suffering and misery than the most devout anti-trapper would care to witness.

While hunting is the best method of controlling deer and other large animals, it is extremely inefficient for controlling smaller animals such as muskrat and beaver.

All sorts of problems arise from over-crowded fur-bearing animals including destruction of grain crops, trees and shrubs, earthen dams, and the possibility of a wildlife disease that could wipe out the entire population.

One of the diseases that is transmittable to man is rabies, but there are numerous diseases that do not effect man including mange, distemper, and parasites. These maladies not only kill fur-bearers but reduce the value of the hide.

To understand trapping, it is important to realize that it is an integral part of our North American heritage. Texas sportsmen can trap by purchasing a resident trapping license for $5.

This permits the license holder to take for the purpose of sale or barter any or all of the listed fur-bearing animals.

A non-resident trapper can participate for $200 in Texas for the same purpose of sale or barter.

The trapping season for mink is November 15 - January 15; muskrat, November 15 - March 15; and all other fur-bearing animals, December 1 - January 31, 1977.

The coyote and bobcat are not listed as fur-bearers in Texas and therefore, only a Texas hunting license is required of those 17 through 65 years of age when out of their county of residence. The coyote pelts are bringing from $15 to $17 and bobcat from $25 to $50 with a good market forecast for winter. Methods of trapping vary from the Panhandle - South Plains to the piney woods of east Texas, but basically there are two types of traps - those that kill the trapped animal and those that restrain the animal.

"Killer" traps include the snares, deadfalls, and the conibear-type traps. The first two are holdovers from the past and are seldom used today. The conibear traps consist of two square, metal frames connected by a spring. These type traps are most effective when used for smaller animals such as the muskrat, skunk, and etc.

The "live" trap most widely used is the leg-hold trap since it can be used in many ways for both short and long-legged animals and gives the trapper the option of releasing, usually without permanent damage, an animal he does not want to kill.

Leg-hold traps can be set on land or in water and when set properly in water, they can be used as a "killer" trap, for the animal is quickly drowned. On land, they can be set near a predator's known target such as hen house, sheep pen, or on animal trails.

The banning of the leg-hold traps and trapping in general would actually increase the inhumanity to animals by aggravating their starvation and disease problems cause by a shrinking habitat.

Neither wildlife, agriculture, nor human health interests of Texas can afford such folly.

Three spray planes in the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program settled to the ground in Spur November 5, winding up another year in the world's biggest, most successful coordinated control effort on crop insects.

The last three planes, part of a 20-plane quadron that periodically rained insecticide on weevil-infested cotton in the eastern High Plains over the past three months, were returning from a final attack on hungry weevils in still-green cotton in Dickens and Garza counties.

The 1976 program began in early September with an initial spraying of 245,000 acres. It closed out the season after 1,161,556 aggregate acres had been sprayed with almost 110,000 gallons of malathion.

Cost of the program when all figures are in will approach $2 million, paid on a matching fund basis by High Plains producers and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"Thanks to good weather and good performance by spray contractors," commented Ed Dean, Field Service Director of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "we were again successful in killing the maximum practical number of weevils before they could go into winter hibernation and in preventing excessive migration."

PCG initiated the program in 1964 after entomologists warned that unless controlled, boll weevils would in a very few years "sweep across the Plains like a prairie fire."

Looking ahead to 1977, USDA and PCG officials are calling for help from farmers and ginners in reducing the number of hibernation sites available to weevils.

"It will be especially helpful," Dean says, "if ginners and farmers will distribute gin trash around the gin yard and in pastures in layers no more than a foot thick."

Weevil trapping around burr piles in the Spring of 1976 proved that up to six times as many weevils emerge from these man made hibernation sites than from natural habitat. Spreading out these piles will permit cold to penetrate and kill a great many more weevils than will be killed in conventional trash disposal, officials point out.

"We fully realize the difficulty with gin trash disposal where burning is prohibited," Dean said in a letter to ginners in the weevil control zone, "but we believe your cooperation in this matter will be of great help in the effort to control weevil populations."

Farmers who apply burrs to cultivated fields are being asked to help also by plowing burrs under as early as possible.

"We had to spray about half again as many acres this year as in 1975 because of the mild winter and weevil-favoring Spring weather," Dean notes, "and we need to take every measure possible to prevent that necessity from recurring in 1977."

pletion of a successful Youth Football program sponsored by the Jaycees, and extended his appreciation to everyone who assisted with the program this year.

The Cowboys, coached by Bill Denton and Bob Donaldson won the top honors with a season record of 1-0-1; in second place with 1-1, were the Steelers, coached by Armando Porras and Robert Orozco; third place team was the Raiders, coached by Rocky Flores, who had a record of 0-1-1.

JAYCEE BREAKFAST
Under leadership of Chairman Ricky Mata, Jaycees will have a breakfast at the American Legion for all Jaycees on the morning Pheasant season opens on Saturday, December 11.

Mata and his Jaycee co-workers will be serving at the American Legion Hall from 6-7:30 a.m.

NO CRANE HUNT
Muleshoe Jaycee President Gene McGuire explained that no sandhill crane hunt was scheduled this year "Because we didn't want to take hunter's money with no more cranes than are coming in here now."

He explained that for the past two or three years, the cranes have been settling more to the south and southeast due to low water and no crops in their usual nesting ground area in southern Bailey County.

"We just didn't feel right taking their money, when the last year we hunted there were only 29 cranes killed," he explained. He also said that following publicity of the hunt, the Audubon Society had objected to the killing of the birds. The longtime Jaycees project was used as a method to help control of thousands of cranes who flocked into the county each fall, wiping out fields of grain daily.

McGuire said the Jaycees had decided to terminate the project for the time being, or at least until hunters coming in could be assured they could possibly go division is open to purebred and crossbred heifers and steers. They cannot have calved before the show and steers must weigh 725 pounds or over and will be weighed and divided into equal classes. Steers weighing less than 725 pounds will be grouped into one class and paid the same premium scale applied to hogs and sheep. First prize in this division will not compete for Grand Champion.

Lambs must weigh 75 to 120 pounds and must be carrying milk teeth on the day of the show. There are no regulations for shearing, and all lambs must be removed from the show barn after judging is complete.

Classes for sheep include fine wool, medium wool, southdown crosses, fine wool crosses and southdowns.

Barrows will show by breeds. A breed of seven or less will show together in one class and eight or more will be divided into two or more classes. They may be purebred or crossbred with all crosses grouped as a breed of hogs. Barrows must weigh between 175 and 250 pounds, if not, they will not be allowed to show.

Gilts also may be purebred or crossbred, and must be farrowed after July 15, 1976 and weigh at least 170 pounds on arrival at the show. Crossbreds will be grouped as a breed and gilt classes will show by breed. Clipping ears, tails and underlines will be permitted but purebred gilts must meet breed requirements for all registration. The judge will disqualify completely clipped gilts.

ICICLES DECORATE HOUSES... A natural pre-Christmas decoration showed up on most houses and businesses around Muleshoe following last weekend's snow and low Sunday morning temperature. Some of the icicles reached a length of up to five feet and they festooned roof edges all over the area.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek takes up for the troubled big cities this week, perhaps.

Dear editor:
Although it took them a long time to catch on -- farmers caught on years ago -- big cities are now organizing to get some financial help from Washington. In fact, they want a Department of Urban Affairs established, along with an Urban Bank to lend them money at a reasonable rate of interest, say two or three percent and certainly not more than four.

The reason they need help is that a lot of them are almost broke, their finances and services in shambles and everybody taxed all he can stand, which I don't understand as I've always been told that most of the brains of the country are located in big cities. In fact, the notion was that when a young man in a small town suddenly demonstrated exceptional ability, some big city would snap him up. Looks like the small towns have been double-crossing the cities and sending them the wrong people.

Anyway, about this Department of Urban Affairs the cities want established in Washington. They say farmers and ranchers have a Department of Agriculture, why can't cities have something too?

I'm in favor of it, maybe it'll get the cities' minds off the mess they've made, but my advice is don't expect too much. I mean, we've had a Department of Agriculture for generations and the price of cattle is the same today as it was 25 years ago. On the hoof, not at the supermarket.

Nonetheless we shouldn't discourage cities from trying. If backward countries can get help in Washington, why not backward cities? After all there are human beings in those cars stacked up bumper-to-bumper every afternoon at 5.

By the way, there are two kinds of backward countries: (1) those that, despite their backwardness, know how to get in touch with Washington and (2) those so backward they never heard of the place. Our cities have now moved up into the first category.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Texas The Bountiful

Texas has more cows than people, as Texas writer Bill Porterfield points out in a special issue of Context, the Du Pont Company's current affairs magazine, devoted to Texas. Texas is still the leading cattle-producing state, he says, and 80 percent of Texas beef is raised by small operators who never have more than 20 head at a time. "Mathematically, this means that the more than 12 million head of cattle are tended by at least 480,000 dudes," he says.

But there is more in Texas than cows. Porterfield says the state ranks first in goats and sheep, second in turkeys, and eighth in chickens. And certainly first in buzzards, armadillos, horned toads, rattlesnakes, coyotes and deer.

"In spite of droughts and the sprawl of urban outposts," continues Porterfield, "in spite of the spread of superhighways and the passing of farm-to-rural county seat life, in spite of the decline in the number of farms, Texas still ranks third behind California and Iowa in crop receipts. Farms are fewer, larger, specialized, more expensive to operate, but far more efficient and productive.

"As a result, Texas is the leading producer of cotton, grain sorghum, rice, watermelons, cabbage, spinach, onions and carrots.

Carter accepts Ford's debate challenge.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--After reviewing the draft license written by the Department of Transportation for deepwater ports, I am concerned that the license would damage the incentive of any private business to build a deepwater port because of a number of regulations that are ambiguous.

The license says Seadock's purpose is to "reduce the costs to the public of energy and products derived from oil."

I believe such an unrealistic and unreasonable statement will mislead the American people. The price of energy cannot be kept low as a result of a deepwater port. Transportation costs, however, can be lower if crude oil is imported in very large crude carriers rather than in conventional tank-

Although government monitoring of Seadock's operations may be warranted, Seadock should not pay the cost of such regulations. Whenever the regulated pays the cost of regulation, the opportunities for overregulation are greater. The consumer will eventually pay the price of the regulation.

In addition, no deepwater port can be expected to continue an uneconomical operation as is stipulated under the terms of the license. I am likewise concerned that the license would allow the Secretary of Transportation to mandate the expansion of Seadock's facilities. The uncertainty and duplication in the draft license would make it difficult for any business to operate successfully.

As now written, the Department of Transportation would have jurisdiction over the economic regulation of Seadock and Seadock's status as a common carrier. I do not feel this is consistent with the legislative intent of the Deepwater Port Act of 1974.

If this question of jurisdictional responsibility is not resolved, the State of Texas may request that Congress clarify the Act.

I believe Florida's request that deepwater port tankers be prohibited from traversing the Florida Straits is unreasonable. Texas offshore industry has operated for years with minimum delay and costly regulation. Since 1943, the industry has drilled more than 19,000 wells and produced more than 6.5 million barrels of oil from offshore waters.

In that time, there have been only four significant oil spills, none of which have resulted in permanent damage to the environment.

The industry's success has been the result of a reasonable concern for the environment and a minimum number of regulations.

The 64th Texas Legislature passed the Texas Deepwater Port Procedures Act to facilitate coordination between state agencies and deepwater ports.

Hospital Auxiliary In Ninth Year

The Muleshoe Hospital Auxiliary was organized April 26, 1967. This is a non-profit organization. All members are volunteers and their hours are put in voluntarily for the Hospital and Nursing Home.

In June of 1967, Mrs. Lewis Embry was elected the first president. The total income for this year was $398.40. The projects were to sit up with an accident victim, Sharon Blaylock. The total number of hours put in by members was 500. A system of fines was imposed on the members when they missed a business meeting and certificates were given for 30 hours of service. New members for this year were Mrs. Hugh Freeman, Mrs. Charles Lewis and Mrs. Sarah Griffith.

Mrs. Charles Lewis was elected president in 1968. The total income earned from projects was $463.07 after this year. A total of 500 hours was put in on an all out campaign to tell clubs and churches about the auxiliary.

In 1969, the Hospital Auxiliary helped with the Diabetic Clinic.

fixed a directory of the Ministers in Muleshoe to keep in the waiting room for the benefit of the families of the patients. They helped furnish rooms in the Nursing Home. Their goal was $20,000.00, to be known as a Memorial Fund. A book was kept to keep donations in and a gold plate was given for $100 donations or more. They contracted to buy 12 T.V.'s from Wilson Appliance for a charge of 20 cents per day. Mable Caldwell was nominated for the ESA Diana Award and the Memorial Fund was reported at $1,869.

Mrs. Charles Lewis was club president and the income after this year was $2,304.11. New members were Mrs. Doyce Turner, Mrs. Doyle Turner, Mrs. J.E. McVicker, Mrs. Becky Miller and Mrs. Vicky Young. Mrs. Doyle Turner was the president in 1970. A total income of $2,195.72 was made after this year. The members put in 1,047 hours. Projects were to start Junior volunteers, help with therapy for two patients in the Nursing Home, they bought vending machines and curtains for Day Room. The Auxiliary bought a Bennet machine and this was the year in which they started their Christmas Card Drive.

New members were Mrs. Robert Hooten, Mrs. Rod Springfield, Mrs. Calvin Embry, Mrs. Harold Cowan, Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. Travis Bessire, Mrs. John West and Mrs. Herb Ramage.

In 1971, Mrs. Doyle Turner was again elected president. Total hours put in was 1,050 and a total of $8,844.91 was made after this year. Projects were buying the Bennett Machine, Past and Present President Pin, door plaques for Auxiliary, whirlpool bath, Christmas cards, carpet for Shampoo Room, wheelchair for Memorial Fund, Scholarship, and two more wheelchairs, Doctor Appreciation Day, Christmas tables in Hospital and Nursing Home, new stethoscope, flower boxes, Christmas stocking, vacuum cleaner, shelf, and two State Convention delegates.

New members were Mrs. Dorothy Green, Mrs. Dick Chitwood and Mrs. Gene McGuire. Mrs. J.E. McVicker was elected president in 1972. The amount of money raised this year was $12,084.83. They made this by selling crafts from the Nursing Home, work day to make drapes, Day Room project, bought AM/FM radio, Dr. McDaniel's birthday party, State Convention, Tasting Bee, T.V. for Day Room, Bennett Machine and a camera for baby photos. They also bought groceries for a needy family.

In 1973, Mrs. J.E. McVicker was again elected president. Projects were redecorating Nursery, buying Islette, hand puppets, Christmas Card project, electric bed, re-work Blood files, list of services printed up for members, sent Mrs. J.E. McVicker as spokeswoman to City Council and Thrift Shop, bought refrigerator for Nursing Home, couch for the Day Room, fans and wheelchair.

New members were Mrs. Wesley Hawkins, Mrs. Betty Wimberly, Mrs. Kenneth McGehee and Mrs. Mary Sweatman. The total at the end of this year was $12,538.98.

In 1974, Mrs. J.E. McVicker served her third year as president. The balance at the end of the year was $19,781.61. The hours put in by all the members was 2,500. Projects for this year had been to buy a rocker, buy new drapes for Nursing Home, two chairs, electric heater and to start an Action Fund.

Mrs. Dorothy Green was elected president in 1975. The projects this year were to prepare a file on all residents in the Nursing Home with all the

Feed Additive Tested In Breeding Herds

Although monensin, a new feed additive, is currently cleared only for use in feed rations, research by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists shows that it may be profitably included in the ration of the beef breeding herd with no ill effects. The research, conducted at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Overton, included both heifers and lactating cows.

According to Dr. R.D. Randel, reproductive physiologist and project leader, one experiment was designed to test the effect of monensin on growth and reproductive performance of heifers. The second experiment was designed to determine the effect of monensin upon lactation, calf performance and cow performance. Others involved in the project were W.M. Moseley, graduate student; Dr. M.M. McCartor, beef cattle nutritionist; and Dr. F.M. Rouquette, Jr., forage physiologist.

In the first experiment, yearling heifers were divided into three groups -- the first group being grazed on wheat-oats-ryegrass pasture full time; the second group grazed wheat-oats-ryegrass pasture on a part-time basis; and the third group was maintained in drylot confinement. The monensin was incorporated into 20 percent range cubes. One-half of each group received two pounds of monensin cubes per head per day and the remainder received two pounds of control cubes.

Heifers grazing lush wheat-oats-ryegrass pastures consistently refused to consume their daily ration of cubes and were removed from the experiment. Palatability of monensin containing cubes seriously limits intake when cattle are grazing lush winter pasture on a full-time basis.

In the second group of heifers, on a very low level of feed intake, the monensin heifers gained more weight during the first 59 days of the test than did the controls. However, after 59 days, the heifers had increased feed intake and gained at nearly identical rates.

The drylot heifers receiving monensin were more efficient than the controls as they ate 10.9 percent less feed yet gained at the same rate as the controls. Monensin significantly increased the numbers of drylot heifers reaching puberty during the 171 day test period. Pregnancy or conception rates were not affected significantly by monensin in this experiment and all pregnant heifers subsequently delivered normal healthy calves.

Mules Whip Morton To End Season, 4-4

Last Thursday, November 11, the Muleshoe Mules eighth grade team stayed home to play their last game of the season against the Morton Indians. The Mules won the game by a score of 14-8.

Muleshoe-14, Morton-8. The Mules came out with a season record of 4-4.

Basketball Girls Chosen

The eighth grade coaches, Coach Flowers and Coach Scott, have chosen the A and B basketball teams. They have all been working hard and staying for after-school workouts until 5:00 each day. They have been putting out all of their effort to make two excellent teams and come out with a winning season. The teas are as follows:

A TEAM

Kathleen Patterson, Shelli Hawkins, Lupe Pacheco, Maria Flores, Sharon Carpenter, Leslie Wagnon, Leslie Cowan, Tyree Wagnon, Debra Pecina, Wendy Stice, and Lynette Shafer.

B TEAM

Michelle Agee, Keva Roming, Minerva Martinez, Beatrice Garcia, Hope Leyva, Estolia Gonzales, Kathy Rodriguez, Anna Martinez, Orpha Pecina, Tonya Howard, and Isabel Bara.

School Out This Friday

To start the second half, the Mules received the ball, but didn't do much. The ball was in both teams' hands for most of the half. Later the Mules put together another fine drive after the Mules recovered a fumble. Norman brought it on in for the Mules' second touchdown. He also scored the extra points, which made the score 14-8. The Mules' defense then did a very fine job of holding Morton to short yardage. The Mules then held the ball in their own possession for the rest of the game. The score ended up

There will be no school on Friday, November 19, because the teachers are having an Inservice Training Day. The kids will be getting an extra day off so they will have a longer weekend. This will be the end of the first quarter of school and the kids will be able to rest and get ready to go back to school Monday and start studying to improve all of their grades. We hope everyone will enjoy their day off.

Player Of The Week

This week's eighth grade player of the week is Estolia Gonzales.

The coaches commented on the player of the week and said, "She has been making a lot of progress, especially in her quickness to get the ball out and at looking for her team mates down the court. If she continues to improve, work hard, and hustle she will be a top contending guard."

The seventh grade player of the week is Michelle Townsel. "She has shown a lot of improvement the last couple of weeks in her attitude as well as hustle. She has a lot of ability and if her attitude continues to improve she could be a tough player in the future."

ESTOLIA GONZALES

Final Rally Before Game Last Week

On Thursday, November 11, the Junior High School was let out at 2:45 p.m. for their last pep rally of the football season. It started off with the Fight Song as the seventh and eighth grade football boys walked in. There were three speeches given at the pep rally.

Two of the speeches were pep talks by Jeff Hyde and George Vela. The other given by head cheerleader, Michelle Agee, in appreciation to the coaches, teachers, and student body for their support, cooperation, and spirit.

There was a spirit stick given to the class wearing the most black and white. The class receiving the stick was the eighth grade. After the pep rally, some of the football boys and the cheerleaders went to Marvin Lewis' house to present him with the spirit stick and a football given by the Student Council and signed by the eighth grade football team, the coaches, and the cheerleaders.

Everyone has good traits, if you will take the time to discover them.

Sending a bill and collecting the money are seldom synchronized.

Seventh Grade Plays Morton

The seventh grade football team played the Morton Indians on Thursday, November 11, at the Benny Douglass Stadium at 5:00. The game started off with the Mules kicking off to the Indians. The Indians could not get anything going. They were forced to punt the ball from the Indian 40 yard line. The rest of the first quarter was played well by both teams.

In the second quarter the Mules had the ball on the 30 yard line. Lupe Rosales ran a sweep around the left side all the way to the Indians 15 yard line for a good gain. Then Kevin Howard threw a five yard pass to Jesse Beversdorf. That put the ball on the 10 yard line, with 53 seconds left to play in the ball game the Mules ran a sweep to the left side and got into the end zone; but, the Mules fumbled and the Indians recovered it in the endzone. That ended the half with the score 0-0.

Seventh Grade Falls To Olton, 22-0

On Thursday, November 4, the seventh grade football team traveled to Olton to play the Olton Colts. The game started with the Olton Colts kicking off to the Mules. Tommy Sexton received the ball and ran the ball for about 10 yards. The first team offense ran the ball through the middle and fumbled the ball. That gave the Colts an advantage to score a touchdown. The ball was on the Mules' 20 yard line. The Colts ran the ball around the outside and score a TD. The extra point was good. That made the score 8-0 in favor of the Colts. They kicked the ball again to the Mules again. Ronnie Angeley ran the ball from the 10 yard line to about the 25 yard line. They made a real long drive to about the Olton 10 yard line, but had to turn the ball over to the Colts again.

The rest of the second quarter was played well by both teams.

In the third quarter, George Vela kicked about a 45 yard kick. The Colts ran the ball to their own 40 yard line. Then one of Olton's backs ran for a 40 yard

In the third quarter, George Vela kicked the ball to the Indians' 20 yard line. The Indians threw a pass and that was caught on their own 45 yard line. They were forced to punt. The rest of the third quarter was played well by both teams.

Muleshoe had the ball on their own 25 yard line to start off the fourth quarter. Larry Norman ran a sweep around the right side and got to the 40 yard line. The Mules threw a pass to Eddie Black for a five yard gain. The ball landed on the Indians two yard line. They tried two sweeps but couldn't get anything going. They punted to their own 15 yard line. The Mules got the ball in good field position; but the time ran out with the score ending 0-0. This was the Mules' seventh grade last football game of the season. The Journalism class wishes the seventh grade good luck next year.

Speech Students Entertain Student Body

Friday, November 5, the Jr. High speech students put on a program for the student body. They did various skits and plays, such as: "The Lone Plunger", "Meow Mix", "The Price Is Wrong", "Will the Real Santa Clause Please Stand Up", and some different singers like Freddy Fender, Elton John, Minnie Pearl, Captain & Tennille, Sonny and Cherr, and Dolly Parton. All the students and teacher enjoyed the program very much. We would like to thank all the students in the program for putting out so much effort and time! We would also like to thank Coach Goodin for putting together the program and directing all the students.

Beware of anything that anyone tells you is a "perfect setup."

DEP Program Popular With New Enlistees

Young men and women may now reserve a specific Air Force job and entry date up to nine months in advance, according to Air Force Recruiting Service officials.

The new nine-month option called the "Delayed Enlistment Program" (DEP), allows Air Force enlistees to accrue service time for active duty and retirement pay purposes from the day they enlist. Also, people enlisted or commissioner prior to January 1, 1977, will be eligible for the benefits of the current GI Bill even though they may not report for active duty until September 1977.

Individuals entering the DEP after December 31, 1976 will be eligible to participate in the new contributory GI Bill benefits package signed into law last month.

Persons interested in the educational and job training opportunities offered by the Air Force may be qualified for guaranteed training in a specific job or may elect training in one of four occupational areas (mechanics, electronics, administration, and general).

Previously, the DEP allowed recruiters to offer a 180-day (six month) DEP option in most Air Force specialties with a confirmed entry day for the Air Force. More information is available from local Air Force recruiters.

Lloyd Bentsen Boosts 'Better' Not 'More' Laws

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Monday said in his travels across Texas during the recent campaign he found that more and more people feel they are not getting their money's worth from government.

"The people I talked with as I travelled around our state said a government that takes a dollar from them -- whether through taxes or higher prices -- and then gives back far less than a dollar in services or benefits doesn't deserve their support," Bentsen said at a news conference in Washington Monday morning.

Senator Bentsen said one of the first orders of business for the new Congress and the new President next January must be to reorganize the Federal government. "to cut out some of the deadwood and weed out unnecessary regulations."

The Senator listed two legislative items he will be pushing: the "Sunset" bill and a bill that would require Federal agencies to cite specific legal authority for regulations they issue.

"I cosponsored the 'Sunset' bill in the last Congress and I regret that it was not passed into law. It means the sun will set on wasteful and outmoded government programs and I'm going to push for early approval of it in the new Congress."

Bentsen said, "I don't want to take away some of the latitude that government regulators have. Right now they have sweeping power to issue regulations without specifying exactly where they get their authority; all they have to say is which law is involved. That's pretty vague. And it is far too broad. I think they should be required to specify what section of what law grants which authority when that regulation is printed in the Federal Register," Bentsen said.

"The people don't want more government but they are demanding better government. They are demanding value received from government for value given to government. And the Congress had better pay attention," Senator Bentsen said.

Bentsen said he will also continue to push his proposal that all new legislation include an assessment of the number of new federal employees it will require and the amount of government paperwork it will generate.

UCLA Leads Conference

The power quotients of our top three teams are so close, all three could be rated number one. U.C.L.A. has a p/q of 112.4. Michigan, 112.1... and Southern Cal, 112.0. Undeclared Pittsburgh, still ranked fifth, has a rating of 105.3. This would make the Panthers about a seven-point underdog to any of our top three powers.

And Decision Day arrives Saturday in the Pacific Eight and Big Ten Conferences. U.C.L.A. battles Southern California and Ohio State clashes with Michigan. The Uclans are defending Pac 8 and Rose Bowl

Beef Producer Profits Hinge On Best Price

A livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says that beef producers shouldn't worry too much about the amount of beef they supply to consumers, but neither should they expect profits to increase unless retail prices go up.

Dr. Ed Uvacek points out that beef per capita consumption in several foreign countries is considerably higher than that of the U.S. "We, therefore, are probably nowhere near our ultimate limit in U.S. beef consumption," he contends.

Uvacek notes that higher prices paid for beef by U.S. consumers do not necessarily constitute a profit for producers unless consumption levels are maintained or increased. "Producer profits can only come from increased consumer demand for beef and higher retail prices," points out the economist.

Marketing costs are cited by Uvacek as a key factor inhibiting producer profits. "Marketing costs have and will continue to increase at a fantastic rate. Thus, more dollars cannot be returned to the producer until the number of dollars spent are increased."

The specialist says that U.S. consumers will eat all the beef this nation can produce. The question is, at what price will they consume it?

Champions while the Buckeyes won the Big Ten title in 1975. The Trojans of Southern Cal have dominated the series with U.C.L.A., winning 25 games and losing 14... there have been six ties. On the other hand, Michigan leads Ohio State in games won and lost, 39 to 28. However, in recent years, it's been all Ohio State.

From the power quotients listed earlier, it's obvious that the U.C.L.A.-Southern Cal game is almost a "Pick-em" affair. Ok, we'll pick em -- the U.C.L.A. Bruins by one. And in the Midwest, it must be Michigan's turn to win the Big One... the Wolverines over the Bucks by six points.

Two weeks ago the crystal ball picked up some late season steam and gave the forecasting average a much-needed shot in the arm. Among Eastern small colleges, we were 22 out of 28, and in the South and Southwest, we picked 27 right out of 32. So... with a total of 1315 smiles and 458 frowns through November 6th, the average has climbed to .742.

In a very important confrontation in the Southwest Conference, undefeated Texas Tech meets upstart Houston. The Cougars, 30-0 winners over Texas recently, have been making unbelievable waves in this, their first year in the conference. However, we think they might lose their second conference encounter... Texas Tech by one point. Undeclared Maryland will close out a very successful Atlantic Coast championship season, beating Virginia by 31 points. Next week we'll list our top twenty small college teams in the county, led, in all probability, by such powers as Texas A&I and Delaware.

You can't beat this bromide: "An honest man is the noblest work of God." ****

Life is so arranged that the more you have, the more you want; that's what keeps man going.

THE RACE IS TO THE SWIFTEST - BUT BE SURE YA KNOW WHERE THE FINISH LINE IS.

Gary Phillips and friends returned home Sunday from a deer hunting trip in the mountains west of Carlsbad, N.M. He killed an eight-point buck.

Cotton Samples 5,000 Behind Last Season

Staples 30, 31, and 32 were predominant lengths. Staple 30 was 24 percent, 31 was 27, and 32 accounted for 21 percent.

Mike readings 3.5 through 4.9 amounted to 72 percent of the total. Mikes above made up eight percent and mikes below were 20 percent.

Pressley tests indicated breaking strengths at Lubbock averaged 83,000 pounds per square inch.

About 35,000 samples were classed by the Lubbock Classing Office during the week ending November 12. This season's total stands at 48,000 samples compared to only 53,000 on the same date a year ago.

Grower prices remained steady to firm during the week ending November 12, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reported trading was moderate to active. Growers offered small lots of cotton in moderate volume.

They sold small mixed lots of mostly grade 31, staple 32, mike 3.5 through 4.9 at about 74.00 cents per pound. Mixed lots of mostly grades 32 and 42, staples 31 through 33, mike 3.5 through 4.9 brought 71.50 to 72.50 cents.

Demand was good, Dickson said. Prices paid growers for cottonseed ranged from 80.00 to 100.00 dollars per ton.

Grades 32, 42 and 52 were predominant grades classed at Lubbock this week. Grade 32 was 20 percent, grade 42 - 34 percent, and grade 52 - 10 percent. Bark reductions were assigned to 29 percent of the samples classed.
