The Negro of the South—The Bone and Sinew of the Land.

We are aware of the fact that we lay ourselves liable to the sneering charge of being a "negro worshiper," if we attempt to speak a word in behalf of the despised negro—despised because he is no longer a slave—despised, because he is entitled to, and assumes the right to exercise the privileges of an American freeman. And in addition to the charge of being a "negro worshiper" we bring down upon the Republican party the charge of attempting to build up a "black man's" party. But, we would be recreant to our duty, and false to our faith, if we shrunk from saying a word in defense of a people who are now assailed in a hundred newspapers in Texas alone, as unfit to exercise the rights of other men and unworthy to occupy an equal rank with other races of men in this country. The rebel press teem with slurs upon the physical appearance of the negro—his black skin, wooly head, flat nose, and thick lips, are fair marks for editorial ribaldry; his ignorance is ridiculed, and every appeal of passion and prejudice is made to the white people of the South to resist the political equality of the negro. This attempt to rouse the whites against the blacks is considered perfectly harmless, while the slightest mention in favor of the negro, raises the howl of building up a "black man's party."

It would be a long task to review all the facts in favor of the colored race in America, but we are bold to say, we believe history does not furnish an instance of a race which has done more for itself under like disadvantages. In the North, crushed by social ostracism, and denied the advantages of education, and debarred the privileges of industrial occupations, thrown open to every other people, still there have been hundreds of instances of colored men who have fought their way to the front rank of intellectual superiority. In the South, crushed under an oppression more bitter than the world ever before witnessed; a slavery which in its imbruing effects took the tyrant down almost to its own level. But though slavery denied book knowledge, it furnished the hard practical education of misdeeds which every people must have who hope to maintain a government; although the negro of the South was held in slavery, he was the bone and sinew of the South; his brawny arms built our cities, tilled our fields and nursed the white race as if it were a sick and pettish child. And who is it today, we ask, furnishes the muscle that reinvigorates our war plowed land? Who is it that is again building up our wasted energies and making our country blossom as the rose? The negro—the patient, humble, forgiving, forbearing negro. For a century he bent beneath the lash of the slave driver—he was sold from the auction block with the mule and the ox; he knew no family tie, and it seemed even freedom had set her seal of condemnation upon his race, and yet his complainings seldom reached beyond the melancholy songs, echoed in the deep lone some woods or ever glades of the South. And yet he is no coward, his blood has flowed freely in every struggle from the days of the revolution to the late civil strife; but he was a christian, implicitly waiting his deliverance at the hands of the great ruler of the Universe. A deliverance that came at last.

It is unnecessary for us to defend the negro in point of intellectuality, as long as as such men as Fred. Douglas, of Maryland; Harris, of North Carolina; Sims, of Georgia; Turner, Langston, Bassett, Ruby and many others stand forth to give the lie to the charge of inferiority. We only desire to appeal to the judgment and justice of all men in this broad State, to tread under foot the unmanly prejudices which it is attempted to rouse against the negro; he simply asks to be secured in his rights as a citizen, without which, he had better be a slave; he asks no more than other men enjoy; and his demands are just. The government has placed in his hands the ballot, it carries with it every political right. And who, we ask, has a better right to be a citizen than he? Without the exertions and labor of his stout arm and practical brains, our State would perish. Our merchants would offer their wares in vain; our mechanics would seek employment in vain; our cities would die of stagnation; our sea coast would become a deserted sand waste, and our harbors would be unfrequented by Steamer or Merchantman. Do we overdraw the picture? Who is it that makes the cotton and corn crop of Texas? With the exception of the German labor of Western Texas, all the agriculture is done by the colored people. The whites may boast the ownership of the lands and houses, but their lands and houses would be worthless without labor, and the millions of dollars annually made by the labor of the negro, is what saves us from bankruptcy and gives us prosperity. He has been, and is the benefactor of the South; he is its bone and sinew; he has pioneered its river bottoms and prairies; he wields its labor capital.

It is charged that he pays no taxes—his toil enables the State to yield a tax. Who has a better right to vote and take part in the civil government of the State? We answer, no one—not even if their skins were as white as driven snow.

Recognition and Support. From telegrams and from private information, we are assured that the great Republican party of the North has recognized the Republican party of Texas, headed by Gen. E. J. Davis, as the true Republican party, and that not only does this endorsement come in the shape of words of cheer, but that Texas will be honored with a visit from eloquent Northern orators, who will canvass our State in behalf of the Republican party. It is the first struggle of our party in this State, and a victory here is no mean prize. Virginia is our political "Bull run." The Yanks are now wide awake. Come on, brave men of the North, we need your help as much now as when the fatal sword of Southern despotism was wielded over our heads, and we feel sure of a victory if we can have your aid and sympathy.

Not in vain does bleeding loyalty hold out its hands for help. The Republican camp fires burn brightly in millions of free homes at the North, and our appeal will be heard.

The Day of Election Determined on.

It would seem from the flashing of telegraphic news we receive through our Galveston exchanges, that the day of holding the election in Texas and Mississippi, has been fixed on the 4th Tuesday of November next. This was the time asked by the Texas Commissioners.

General Davis owes it to his reputation as a loyal man, and as an honest man, either to restrain his followers or else dismiss them from his retinue. Who are those men that plant themselves in front of the State of Texas and forbid its advance unless in the line of their march and under their leadership. What services have they rendered the government or the people? In what battles have they been distinguished? In what councils have they been prominent? We dislike to deal with individuals, we hate to call names. It is ungracious to point out the weakness of individuals. But they are in Washington. They are making personal application to various gentlemen prominent in political affairs and claiming recognition at their hands.—Flake's Bulletin.

Your questions Mr. Flake find ready answers wherever they reach. Now tell us, Mr. Flake, Whilden, and all other such material as publish the Bulletin, what services have you rendered the government, or the people? In what battles have you distinguished yourselves? In what Councils have you been prominent? Who authorized you to speak for the loyal people of Texas. When did you ever support a loyal ticket? Please answer these questions before you propound any of a similar nature to others? It will be time enough to answer, when you do.

STUCK ITS FLAG.—The Herald of this city appeared on Sunday morning, without the Jack Hamilton ticket at its mast-head. Perhaps it is a slip of the printer—or a Sunday treat to its Radical secesh readers—or may be the Herald finds it doesn't pay. At any rate, the paper has a more decent appearance—with simply old "peg leg" Ward for Commissioner of the Land Office.

NEWS OF THE FLOOD.—The accounts which come to us of the flood from the valley of the Colorado, are full of death and disaster. The towns of La Grange and Webersville, have been submerged, and farms and villages in all directions swept away. Millions of dollars will not cover the damage. The loss of life so far as heard from, is inconsiderable, considering the extent and suddenness of the flood.

Gen. Grant a Failure.

Upon Gen. Grant's accession to the Presidency, a great number of those who had supported his election, with some who had not, sought office at his hands, or expected him to bestow it unasked. He was unable to gratify their aspirations. Most of those whom he found in office claimed that they gave him their votes; some of these he saw fit to retain; while the laws of which he is the servant required him to reduce materially the cost of the public service and the number employed in it.

Our great Civil War had rendered necessary a large increase of minor functionaries; the settlement of Claims to Pensions, &c., had excused the retention of hundreds in place up to the close of Mr. Johnson's term; but now law and justice alike demanded that they be dismissed, to their own very general disgust. Their lamentations, mingled with the howls of the disappointed, made up a doleful dissonance, whereof the only meaning deducible was thus—"Gen. Grant is found wanting—his Administration is a failure!"

"Failure!" how! in what? Have we not peace and plenty in the land? Is not our flag displayed and respected on every sea? What foreign foe molests or threatens us? Who fears insurrection at home, or invasion from abroad? In which of our thirty-six States are the masses wanting work, discontented, suffering?

Consider our Financial condition. Nearly every State and municipality paying off debts incurred in raising men for the War, while the National Debt has been reduced nearly Thirty Millions in four months that Gen. Grant has had his hand on the helm. The Public Expenditure is falling off on every side, while the Revenue is up to high water mark. Even Indian Wars, if unavoidable, must be considerably reduced in cost by the facilities for moving troops and stores afforded by our two Pacific Railroads.

Yes; Gen. Grant has failed to gratify some eager aspirations, and has thereby incurred some intense hatreds. These do not and will not fail; and his Administration will prove at least equally vital. We shall hear lamentation after lamentation over his failure, from those whose wish is father to the thought; but the American people let them pass unheeded. Their strong arms bore him triumphantly through the War and into the White House, and they still uphold and sustain him. They never failed and never will!—N. Y. Tribune.

A JUBILEE, commemorative of the birthday of John Huss, has been held in Cleveland.

PASSEGRAPHS.

THE Rothschilds have shut down on the Pope.

COMMODORE NEFT and wife, now Warren, along with Tom Thumb and wife, are billed for exhibition in Omaha.

It is mentioned by some of the wise newspaper men at the Federal capital that Miss Vinnie Ream sings as well as she "sculps," hence the conclusion that one singing Ream ought to equal to twenty tuncful quires.

EUGENIE is going to witness the opening of the Suez canal, and is cramming for the trip. She recently wanted to know if the pyramids were built before or after Christ.

THE latest circus trick in Paris, is for a man to leap from a height of eighty feet, being securely fastened by a strong elastic cord, and to bound back again to the place from which he started.

THE Confederate dead are being removed from the Chickamauga battle-field and re-interred in the Confederate cemetery at Marietta, Georgia.

THE extreme temperance men are very active in New Hampshire at the present time. Their leader is Col. Henry D. Pierce, of Hillsborough, a brother of ex-President Pierce.

TWO enthusiastic Massachusetts prohibitionists have each the pen with which the Governor signed the prohibitory liquor bill. As both had asked for the signing instrument as a relic, the Governor wrote "William" with one pen, and "Clafin" with the other.

IT is said that the ladies who carelessly submitted to the golden hair dyeing process now heartily regret that they ever attempted to be "beautiful blondes." Baldness begins to threaten them. Also, in a few instances, paralysis of the facial muscles has resulted. Never say dye again, ladies.

GENERAL BUTLER, it is known, is not a Republican of so long standing as some members of his party. Mr. Farnsworth, of Illinois, lately taunted him with the fact, referring to his own career in the party. Butler grimly replied that "some people seemed to think a good deal more of Judas than Paul, because he was the older Apostle."

A WEEK or two ago a young lady of Iowa, while on the way to her wedding, was offered $5 by "another feller" if she would marry him, and consented. The disappointed lover was not to be wholly cheated out of his matrimony, and therefore proposed, was accepted by, and married the sister of the jilter on the same day.

M. LEGOUVE of the French Institute relates that when he once threatened a little damsel that "if she didn't behave properly he would tell everybody he knew," the child responded: "Well, that doesn't trouble me." "And pray, why not?" "Because," replied the precocious little philosopher, "there are a great many more people that you don't know, and they will never hear anything about it!"

THE Central Pacific railroad of California is building a hospital at Sacramento for the use of its employees, which will contain eighty beds and cost $30,000 exclusive of land and furniture. The entire upper floor, which has room for one hundred beds, will be left entirely open, for use in case of a great accident. A pleasing thoughtfulness for passengers.

APPEARANCES indicate that Chief Justice Chase is still afflicted with the Presidential fever. The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post telegraphs:

"Republicans from the South allege that Chief Justice Chase, during his recent tour, has been actively conferring with Southern conservatives with a view to organizing a new political movement."

"DOCTOR," said an old lady the other day to her family physician, "kin you tell me how it comes that some folks is born dumb?" "Why, hem! certainly, madam replied the doctor; "it is owing to the fact that they come into the world without the power of speech." "La me," remarked the old lady, "now jest see what it is to have a physic education! I've axed my old man more n'r a hundred times that 'ere same thing, and he couldn't say."

THE REASONS WHY BORIE RESIGNED.—A North Carolina paper gives the following as among the reasons why Mr. Borie resigned his place as Secretary of the Navy:—First, because he allowed himself to be thrown on his beam ends in a ballroom while dancing with a lady on the occasion of the naval school celebration at Annapolis; and, secondly, because he became wretchedly seasick in a trifling scrub sea, and was ready to throw up his commission, as he did everything else, in the presence of a ship's crew of laughing middle. He couldn't stand the jibes of these rasping young sea larks, and struck his flag without firing a shot, except a few ricochet sports in the face of Old Neptune. Goodby, Old Shiver my Timbers!

AT a private meeting of his constituents, previous to the late elections in France, M. Thiers is said to have expressed himself in the following remarkable language:

"Europe," he said, solemnly and with deep conviction, "is advancing rapidly toward Republicanism. But do not let those who are young deceive themselves. Through the faults of Governments—now yielding when they ought to hold firm, now resisting when they ought to give and restrain—the age which is coming will be one of transition, struggle and bloodshed, terrible for all, which I thank God I shall not have to see. The entanglement of social and political problems, has become such that nations are fatally led on to solve everything by the suppression of everything. But solution and suppression are two distinct things, and the questions still subsist, though set aside. It is only when the new birth with which Europe is now in labor shall be old and wise enough to solve and master the difficulty for itself, that a republic of general well-being can hope to restore peace and good order to society. You are young," he added in conclusion, "but old as you may live to be, you will witness only the prologue of the civilization of the future."

THE Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle sees only evil to flow from the decision of the Supreme Court of Georgia that negroes are eligible to office. It plaintively says: "The deed is done. Georgia is dragged down to the lowest depths in the slime and filth of Radicalism—at least so far as the exercise of the high places of the State by unlettered negroes is concerned. For a season we must submit to our fate. Let all true men wait and watch and work for the speedy approach of that good day when the children's patrimony, now fed upon by dogs, will be returned to the true owners and the government of the State restored to its rightful proprietors."

Treatments.
The Waters' Pianos are known as being the very best.—N. Y. Evangelist.
We can speak of the merits of the Waters' Pianos from personal knowledge as being of the very best quality.—Christian Intelligencer.

The Waters' Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material.—
Advocate and Journal.
Our Pianos will stand at Mr. Waters' store
the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodeons and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine.
Musical Donor.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons.
He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs.
Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the seeming advertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Exposition and "booster" contacted therewith, were even thought of;
indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Piano-fortes now in our residence (where it has stood for years), of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this,
some of the best amateur players in the city,
as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first class instrument.
Stronger endorsement we could not give.—
