There is no Death.
BY SIR L. BULWER LYTTON.

There is no death! The stars go down
To rise upon some fairer shore;
And bright in heaven's jeweled crown
They shine for evermore.

There is no death! The dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer shower
To golden grain or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow tinted flowers.

The granite rocks disgorge
To feed the hungry moss they bear;
The forest leaves drink daily life
From out the viewless air.

There is no death! The leaves may fall,
The flowers may fade and pass away;
They only wait through wintry hours,
The coming of the May.

There is no death! An angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;
He bears our best loved things,
And then we call them "dead."

He leaves our hearts all feeble,
He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers;
Transplanted into bliss, they now
Adorn immortal bowers.

The birdlike voice, whose joyous tones
Made glad these scenes of sin and strife,
Sings now an everlasting song
Amid the trees of life.

And where he sees a smile too bright,
Or hear, may have been disastrous
To the coasting marine. On Monday last, about 10 o'clock a. m. the tide was observed to increase in volume notwithstanding a prevalent North wind; the heavens were overcast—the atmosphere was humid and variable in its temperature. About dusk the wind increased in volume from the North, and ripened into a gale. The tide was observed to increase with great rapidity; about a eleven o'clock the wind around to the east and increased in its fury. This brought in one of the heaviest tides witnessed in this bay for some years past. Soon after midnight, the wind veered somewhat to the South, and appeared to gyrate in resistless gusts. The storm reached its climacteric about 2 o'clock a. m., but did not fully abate before daylight.

The casualties to our Marine were considerable, in view of the magnitude of the storm. The Dredge Boat was lying at the wharf and had her upper works destroyed. The sudden shifting of the wind caused her to careen and become unmanageable. The damage has been estimated at about two thousand dollars. The tenders were uninjured. The S. S. Gov. Marvin, and the schooners in port, were not materially damaged. The break-waters, on private property, were as chaff before the storm, and the private wharf of Messrs Hensley suffered some injury. But it is surprising that, from this fearful tempest, so little damage has been done. We feel grateful to the Eternal Providence, for the preservation and safety of the lives of our people.

The only particulars we have gathered of the disasters by the late hurricane at Indianola, are as follows:—The new Episcopal church is in ruins. The town was entirely submerged, as well as the old wharf and the head of the pier, which is represented as higher than the old wharf. A schooner had run into the wharf, but so far as known, none of them had been wrecked. The S. S. Hewes which was due yesterday morning, it is thought had not left Galveston, in view of the threatened storm.

Mississippi.
Dent went over to Long Branch to induce the President to support him for Governor of Mississippi. Gen. Grant refused in the most emphatic terms; said he had no sympathy with the movement, and should take the opportunity to make it known. The letter, which followed Dent to Washington, was a repetition of the points the President made in a still stronger form.

The President, in his private letter to Judge Dent, dated Long Branch, says: "I have said, and repeat it, that if the Conservatives are to win, I prefer your election to that of any other person likely to be elected, but as the matter now looks, it seems to me that the weight of my influence should be given to the other party. I earnestly hope, however, that before the election concession will be made on both sides, so as to unite all the friends of the reconstruction movement." The President denies that he contemplates any suspensions or removals from office in Mississippi on account of sympathy on the part of the incumbent with the conservative Republicans.

It may be noted that Major Wadford, postmaster at Corinth, one of the three leaders in the Dent movement, was to-day removed from office by the President. The District Attorney, another of the three, was removed about ten days ago.

GEN. AMES MOVES ON THE ENEMY.—JACKSON, MISS, AUG. 12.—Judge Jeffers, of the Supreme Court, A. Warner, Secretary of State, and Judge Speed, of the Criminal Court of Warren county, together with a large number of minor officers, were to-day relieved by Gen. Ames. These named are prominent in the Conservative movement in this State.

The wealthiest novelist in Germany is John Tourgenoff, the Russian exile. Berthold Auerbach has received since 1844 about $120,000 for his books, and has accumulated a handsome fortune. Carl Gutzkow is poor. Louisa Muhlbach, who has received about $80,000 since she entered the field of literature, has spent everything, and is now obliged to write for a living. Fritz Reuter, the Philadelphia novelist, is in comfortable circumstances, his books being more popular than those of any High German novelist. He has a splendid villa near Hiesnach, in full view of the Wartburg. Spielhagen, who is now at the head of the younger generation of German romancists, is making money by his novels, but spends more than he earns. Gustave Freytag has a handsome competency, and saves annually a thousand dollars or two.

Storm on the Gulf.

The Lavaca Commercial gives the following particulars of a recent storm on the Texas Coast.

Our Gulf coast has been visited with a cyclone or hurricane, which, we fear, may have been disastrous to the coasting marine. On Monday last, about 10 o'clock a. m. the tide was observed to increase in volume notwithstanding a prevalent North wind; the heavens were overcast—the atmosphere was humid and variable in its temperature. ### Notice to the Public.

Mr. D. H. Davis is no longer Agent for any of our publications, and all persons are warned not to pay him money on our account.
A. STEMMERING & CO.

Thanks to Morgan Hamilton.

Among the immortal acts and deeds of Mr. Morgan Hamilton is his clause in the bill of rights of the new constitution upon the Coolie question which reads as follows:

Importations of persons under the name of Coolies or any other name or designation, or the designation of any system of peonage, whereby the helpless and unfortunate may be reduced to practical bondage, shall never be authorized or tolerated by the laws of the State.

The writer was member of the committee upon this Section of the new constitution and knows this to have been one of Mr. Morgan Hamilton's acts.

TRYING TO CHOKER THEM OFF.—The Houston Telegraph is trying to choke off Wells Thompson and Boulds Baker and appears in the following pathetic way:

Every vote given to Baker or Thompson will result in aid to the Radicals.

The trouble that the Telegraph and Austin Republican are having with their multitude of candidates is bound to break them down.

A great parade is made about the marriage of one of the sons of Fred. Douglass to the daughter of a Yale professor. We are not astonished to see a great parade.

Come, Mr. Telegraph, you now pretend to be par excellence the Moses of the colored race and you must not hold your nose every time a "nigger" goes under it.

Gov. Hahn of Louisiana has dropped Jack Hamilton; he won't stomp the State; he gives Jack up as no go.

At the mills of the Gonales Manufacturing Company one of the presses is running every day making cotton oil. When both presses are going they express 100 gallons of oil per day. The index says the oil is excellent, pure and clean.

Letters from Abroad -- Immigration, Lands, etc.

We are in receipt of numerous letters from persons in the older States inquiring about lands, &c., to which we have given private replies, but in order to show the interest our State is awakening abroad we give a few extracts from these letters and brief reply.

Mr. R. H. Morrison, writing from Sturgis, Mich., July 30th, says:

"In looking over your valuable sheet from time to time, I see your notice of land and inducements to settlers. I am engaged in the real estate business, and I make it my duty to call the attention of purchasers to your beautiful State. We have thousands of people coming in from Europe who want homes, and I have been calling their attention to your State in particular."

Mr. Robinson subscribes to the Express, and we will try and keep him posted.

Mr. P. Nichols writes from Philadelphia, alluding to an article copied from the Express about cheap lands in Texas. He has a good trade, a wife and a boy, and three hundred dollars and household furniture. We take a quotation from his letter:

I have a good trade, and I know very little about farming, my wife was raised on a farm, but I want to try farming; the worst trouble is breaking up a good home here. Not knowing how I will succeed and knowing no one in the West it has delayed me somewhat, as with many others who would emigrate if some true and good encouragement was thrown out to them.

Mr. George T. Cramer, a young man of 20 years asks the best time to come to Texas. Any time young man, you seem to be of the right sort of metal to succeed.

Mr. James Eames writing from Philadelphia July 31st, encloses a slip from the Philadelphia Ledger in regard to statements made by the Express and asks if the extract was correct; he and other young men want to know what lands are worth near San Antonio.

Mr. W. Ingram of Philadelphia writes, enclosing the same slip from the Ledger. He says:

"I see a notice taken from your paper in the Philadelphia Ledger. I am satisfied, if the Texas papers would write more about these lands and let us know more of their location, climate, soil &c., it would induce many to go. The time is close at hand when a great many will get driven out of all our large cities, and I have an idea, they could make a living in Texas much easier than in the Western States, where they have such long winters."

Mr. Samuel Battv writes from Philadelphia:

"I want to know where that cheap land is in that healthy part of your State that is spoken of in the Ledger taken from your paper. I want to emigrate into a good country when land can be had cheap and if I find it all right, there are plenty more, who will follow me, both here and from England. It is to this end I wish to see some of your papers."

We will make a brief and general reply to these letters in hopes that it may reach the eye of others inclined to emigrate.

LANDS, &c.

Lands uncultivated, rich soil, that has never known a plow, can be purchased by the thousands of acres all over Western Texas at from 25 cents to one dollar per acre. Thousands of acres have been sold during the last twelve months at forced sale in this city at 15 cents per acre and fine tracts can be purchased from 50 to one dollar per acre with abundant timber for fencing and firewood and with open lands which can be plowed and put in crop the first season.

In this county, in Wilson in Karnes, Goliad tracts from 320 to almost any size can be purchased at the above figure, while west of this city 50 cents for uncultivated wild lands would be considered a good price. It will be asked why are these lands so cheap? Simply because we have not the people to buy them and settle the country, and are shut out from railroad facilities.

PRODUCTS, &c.

In all this Western country there is so vast an extent uncultivated and unfenced, extending for hundreds of miles in all directions, furnishing the finest pasturage in the world, that large herds of cattle are raised without further expense than to look after them. This wonderful munificence of our country we cannot properly describe. Men own thousands of cattle and never pay out a cent to feed them, but now is the rainy days of cattle raising. Our soil will produce corn, cotton, potatoes, onions and all kinds of fruit and one crop will pay for a farm. In this connection we have only to point to our German farming settlements, — they began empty-handed they are now the wealthiest farming community in the Southwest.

OUR CLIMATE, &c.

Our climate cannot be excelled in salubrity or health on the continent, and the further the emigrant ascends into Western Texas the more pleasant he will find it. A healthier or more robust people do not exist than the inhabitants of West Texas.

RAILROAD, &c.

Persons coming to Texas now are likely to feel much disgusted and discouraged from the hardships incident to a country without railroads, but we simply say to those who expect to find the comfort and conveniences of Philadelphia in Texas that they had better remain at home. If you are willing to brave the hardships of a new country and under inconveniences of a few years, Texas offers you a glorious reward.

POLITICS, &c.

Just now our political condition is unsettled and it might be more pleasant for strangers to wait the solution, but we have no hesitancy in saying to persons who want to immigrate, that this section of Texas will give a cordial welcome to strangers and that their political opinions will be respected here as much as in Philadelphia.

NOW IS THE TIME TO COME.

Now is the time to come, lands can be had cheap, and a few years will bring us railroads which will make a great difference in everything. Our State is now yielding an immense crop and this is the year for immigrants to come in.

A PAPER published in Palmer, Massachusetts, says: "Whoever rides through the mountain towns of our State during the present hay-making season will see scores of women at work in the field. In a ride of half a dozen miles last week we counted thirty women raking hay. In most cases they were wives and daughters of the farmers who own the fields. Men's help is scarce and high, and the women of the family, like true help meets, turn in and help gather the crops."

It is a common sight in our German settlements to see the farmer's wives and daughters helping in the fields, both sowing and reaping, while the recent exploit of a colored woman sending the second bale of cotton to market this year, is something of an exploit to brag of in the way of female labor. It is usual for the colored women to work side by side with the men, plowing, hoeing, cotton picking &c.

EXECUTION OF JONES AND NELSON.—The Waco Register sends us an extra with the particulars of the execution of the murderers Jones and Nelson, at Marlin in Falls county on the 12th inst. The Register speaks thus of the two victims:

Jones was about twenty-five years of age, of stout build and possessing a countenance indicative of great resolution and daring. Most of his relatives reside in Wood county—a married sister in Falls. He was convicted at the Spring Term of the District Court in Falls county, of the murder of the Howard brothers on the 15 of June 1868. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, but the verdict in the lower Court was not disturbed. Sentence of death was pronounced at the late July session of the District Court in Falls by Judge A. J. Evans.

Nelson was about thirty-five years of age, of rather slight figure, and a countenance not unimpressive. Had been for some time a resident of Falls county, and until a comparatively late date an exemplary member of the Methodist Church. He was convicted of the murder of Wallace in Falls county in February 1868. The circumstances of the murder were of an aggravated character—the murdered man being in a buggy with his wife at the time.

The papers say that the Texas cattle trade is lively at Abilene, the principal shipping point in Western Kansas. There are at least one hundred thousand head now en route to the Kansas market. By the report of the New York Cattle Market, which we condense from the Journal of Commerce, it will be seen that Texas beavers have at last won their way so far as to produce a reduction in the price of cattle from all other sections.
