The Drover's Story.

My name is Anthony Hunt. I am a drover, and live miles and miles away upon the western prairie; there was not a house in sight when we moved out there, and now we haven't many neighbors, though those we have are good ones.
I went away from home to sell some fifty head of cattle—fine creatures as you ever saw. I was to buy some groceries and dry goods before I came back, and above all a doll for our youngest, Dolly. She had never had a store doll of her own only the rag babies her mother had made her.

Dolly could talk of nothing else and went down to the very gate to call after me to "buy a big one." Nobody but a parent could understand how my thoughts ran on that toy, and how, when the cattle were sold, the first thing I hurried off to buy was Dolly's doll. I found a large one with eyes that would open and shut when you pulled a wire, and had it rapped in paper, and tucked it under my arm, while I had the parcels of calico and delane, tea and sugar put up. Then, late as it was, I started for home. It might have been more prudent to stay until morning, but I felt anxious to get back, and eager to hear Dolly's prattle about her toy.

I was mounted on a steady-going old horse of mine, and pretty well loaded. Night set in before I was a mile from town, and settled down as dark as pitch, while I was in the wildest part of the road, I know of.

I roared on as fast as I could, but of a sudden I heard little cry like a child's voice. I stopped short and listened—I heard it again. I called and it answered me. I couldn't see a thing, all was as dark as pitch. I got down and felt about in the grass—called again, and was again answered. Then I began to wonder. I'm not timid, but I was known to be a drover and to have money about me. It might be a trap to catch me unawares and rob and perhaps murder me.

I am not superstitious—not very. But how could a real child be out on the prairie on such a night, at such an hour. It might be more than human.

The bit of the coward that hides itself in most men showed itself in me then, and I was half inclined to run away, but once more I heard that cry, and said I:

"If any man's child is hereabouts, Anthony Hunt is not the man to let it die."

I searched again. At last I beheld a shadow under the hill and groping that way, sure enough I found a poor little thing that moaned and sobbed as I took it up into my arms. I couldn't see it, but I thanked heaven, and then called my horse, and the beast came to me, and I mounted and tucked the little raked thing under my coat as well as I could, promising to take it home to mammy. It seemed tired to death, and soon cried itself to sleep on my bosom.

It had slept there over an hour when I saw my own windows. There were lights in them, and I supposed my wife left them for my sake, but when I got into the dooryard I saw something was the matter and stood still, with a deep fear at my heart, five minutes, before I could lift the latch. At last I did it, and saw the room full of neighbors, and my wife amidst them weeping.

"When she saw me she hid her face.
"Oh, don't tell him," she said, "It will kill him."
I asked, "What is the matter?"

And one said, "nothing now, I hope—what's that in your arms?"

"A poor little child," said I. "I found it on the road. Take it, will you, I've turned faint," and I lifted up the sleeping thing and saw the face of my own little child, my little Dolly.

It was my darling and none other, that I had picked up, on the rain drenched road.

My little child had wandered out to meet "daddy" and the doll, while her mother was at work, and whom they were lamenting as dead. I thanked heaven on my knees before them all.

It is not much of a story, my friends, but I think it often in my nights, and wonder how I could bear to live now if I had not stopped when I heard the cry for help upon that road—the little baby cry, hardly louder than a squirrel's chirrup.

That's Dolly yonder with her mother in the meadow, a girl worth saving, I think (but then I'm her father, and may be partial), the prettiest thing this side of the Mississippi.

The boats which the Harvard crew took over with them at first attracted so much attention as the crew themselves. At the Liverpool station especially a crowd gathered and was evidently amazed at the lightness and elegance of the boats. "Most extraordinary," said one, "could lift it off with one hand," cried another. "They can't row in those things you know?" "No style to them," said another.

The boats were quite as much lionized as the crew, the latter having the rare good sense to keep concealed in their carriage, although now and then some ambitious crowd would persist in thronging to the windows to see them. The crew are quartered at the Adelphi tree of expense. The managers of the London and Northwestern railway put at the crew's disposal a magnificent saloon carriage, sufficient for the whole party, and on their arrival at Wilsden gave them a special engine also to convey them directly to Putney.

THE question as to the ownership of the Jeff. Davis mansion in Richmond is soon to be brought into court. It was bought by the city of Richmond in 1861 for $47,000, with the intention of giving it to the confederacy as a residence for its President. Congress declined to accept it, and authorized its renting for the use of Jefferson Davis. It fell into the hands of the War Department when Richmond was captured, and has been under its control ever since. The City Council now sets up a claim to it, and are going to present a big bill for rent, which, it is presumed, the department will refuse to pay, and then suit is to be brought.

THERE is, at last, a university in Great Britain where women may study medicine and take degrees entitling them to practice. The university of Edinburgh has the credit of taking the lead in the reform, and has made it complete by authorizing the establishment of separate classes for female students. This great concession is due mainly to the energy and perseverance of Miss S. Jex-Blake, who refused to be driven out of Great Britain to pursue her studies.

ONE of the very best evidences of our rapidly increasing prosperity as a nation is found in the fact that the sale of our public lands grows heavier month by month. From all quarters the Commissioner of the General Land Office reports extraordinary activity in the disposal of the public domain. Hundreds of local landowners, especially those in the Southern States which a few years since did not pay expenses, are now returning handsome balances in favor of the Government. This fact speaks volumes for our growing prosperity as a nation.

The Herald editors and Dr. Hertzberg's articles too heavy for their weak digestion. No body is astonished.

As Judge Cooley has not the slightest hope of being elected he only runs to cripple the vote of Capt. Kuechler, which he will fail in doing.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.—Is it possible that the Chinese prejudices of the Herald concern, both editors and correspondents, cause them to rejoice so inordinately over the addition of Cooley to their sugar-coated ticket?

WHERE IS CAMP.—Our old friend Camp of Refugio, deserves a better site than that which has been served out to him by the Hamilton party. He announced himself independent of conventions before Cooley did. Why was Camp not taken up? We guess the old man was to good a Republican. We hope he will discern the situation and aid us to gain a Republican victory.

Meeting of Democratic Editors.

The Brenham Banner calls a meeting of the Democratic editors of Texas, to be held in Brenham on the last Tuesday in September. The Banner says:

We wish to see Elliot, of the Lavaca Commercial; Kellie, of the Jasper News Boy; Loughery, of the Jefferson Times; Glass, of the Brenham News; Geary, of the Denton Monitor; Bonnet, of the Paris Press, and others of the brethren who have never yet hesitated, or faltered, but have held firmly in the honest courses of Democracy, with never a thought of compromising honor and calling it expediency.

Let a plan of campaign be agreed upon, and in the two months then intervening before the election, we can do all the work necessary to sweep from the State all the dirty political chaff with which some of these are now proposing to stuff us.

All the papers mentioned have refused to give in their adhesion to the Hamilton coalition. The Houston Times records the call of the Banner. This is evidently a step towards a new democratic programme, and we shall watch it with interest. The democratic press of Texas, has shown an independence and manhood worthy of a better cause, up to the present hour; now, they are to convene and it will be seen if they are to abandon their position and fall into the bargain and sale arrangement gotten up by their executive committee with Jack Hamilton, or whether they will consider that "little confidence game" too well known, and try to redeem their lost ground by a strict party organization. They must choose between these two courses.

PARAGRAPHS.

It is said that the clergy are at the bottom of the Carlist conspiracy in Spain. They are far from being reconciled to the new order of religious liberty instituted in the constitution, and they entertain visions of yet restoring Spain to that Catholic unity the revolution has broken. They are said to number 130,000 in Spain, and Don Carlos, who is represented as an individual of hardly ordinary intelligence, it is reported has been able to raise $2,000,000 from his adherents in Spain.

This statement that the son of Mr. Frederick Douglass married a white lady, Miss Molyneux, of Harvard, was a Democratic invention. Both parties are colored.

GOVERNOR Senter committed himself thoroughly to the fifteenth amendment in the recent canvass in Tennessee. But we notice that the Democratic papers give it a wide berth since the State has gone their way. The Tennessee Republicans who voted with these gentry on the 5th are eating humble pie with very poor relish.

Old Paschal and young Paschal called upon Gov. Claflin a few days ago in the interest of Hamilton. They were armed with the celebrated address of our friend Haynes, and other documents respecting the standing of men prominently connected with the Texas Republican party. After parading these before the Governor, the eloquence and logic of both the Paschals was called into use to convince the Chairman of the National Republican Executive Committee that he had made an ass of himself in recognizing the Republican party of Texas, represented by Gen. E. J. Davis. But Mr. Claflin couldn't see it and the two Paschals were politely bowed out with the assurance that he, Gov. Claflin, fully understood the political situation in Texas, and had not acted rashly or unadvisedly. The discomfiture was complete. We really sympathize with our Hamilton brethren. They are beaten at all points and the end is not yet. Nothing short of a return to the old fold will save these lost sheep from utter destruction. Come back ere it is too late, ye prodigal sons. Many of you can yet be saved. It is only the leaders in iniquity who will be unforgiven.—Houston Union.

THE celebration of the centennial birthday of Alexander Von Humboldt will take place on the 14 proximo at most of the States, among them Washington, D. C. In the Central Park, New York, a monument costing $1,000 is to be erected to the memory of the deceased. It will consist of a colossal bronze bust of Humboldt, representing him in the prime of his life, on a pedestal column of red granite. The bust has been modeled in Berlin and cast in Brunswick, Germany, and will be shipped to New York on the 15th instant.

HON. J. FRANCISCO CHAVES, the present Delegate for New Mexico, is again candidate of the Republican party, and his election seems to be certain. His Democratic opponent is Vincente Romero, who was nominated after a very stormy session. Chaves is an able, honest, and sound Republican.

OLIVE LOGAN at Long Branch, we are told by a veracious correspondent, is getting handsomer and ruddier every day. She gets up every morning at five o'clock and walks four miles before breakfast, all alone. After breakfast she puts on a brown linen suit, and goes down to the beach to bathe in bloomer costume. She is the best swimmer of her sex, so far paddles, treads water, swims backward, and scares the bathing-master by going way out where the sharks are. After the bath she puts on a blue dress and plays billiards for two hours, to the astonishment of the billiard marker, who swears he never saw the like. Then she puts on a gorgeous silk for dinner, and after dinner, she goes out driving, and the way she handles the ribbons is a caution to Grant. In the evening she puts on a satin dress with a long train, and all furrowed with red velvet and yellow lace, and goes to some hotel where there is a hop; and here she comes out even stronger than in bath, billiards, or bowling along the avenue. At eleven o'clock she comes home, puts on a suit of brown merino, and writes woman's rights till bed time.

DR. CHAMBERS beautifully says: "The little that I have seen in the world and know of the history of mankind teaches me to look upon their errors in sorrow, not in anger. When I take the history of one poor heart that has sinned and suffered, and represent to myself the struggles and temptations it passed through—the brief pulsations of joy; tears of regret; the feebleness of purpose; the scorn of the world that has little charity; the desolation of the soul's sanctuary, and threatening voices within; health gone; happiness gone—I would fain leave the erring soul of my fellow-man with Him from whose hands it came."

The following is the result of a recent election in Alabama, as far as heard from: In the 1st district, Buck, Republican, 3,768 majority; 3d district, Heflin, Republican, 732 majority; 4th district, Hays, Republican, estimated 10,000 majority; 5th district, Dux, Democrat, 950 majority; 6th district, Sherrod, Democrat, estimated 400 majority.

The State is believed to be Republican by from 12,000 to 15,000 majority. This is a heavy gain on the vote for President, Grant's majority being 4,500.

In Sherrod's district Seymour's majority was 6,800.

It is interesting to see how men of the more aristocratic professions are imitating their brethren of the working classes. Twenty clergymen of Philadelphia have just signed an agreement not to officiate at funerals on Sunday, unless upon a physician's certificate that burial on that day is unavoidable. This is a "strike" plainly enough, and what is more, it is a strike for the enforcement of the principle of the eight-hour law. The clerical gentleman have made up their minds that they have enough to do in their regular services on Sunday, and that they will not add funerals to their work on that day if they can help it.

Union League of America.

We clip the following from the correspondence of the Houston Union:

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 12th, 1869.

The following is the proceedings of a meeting of the Union League of America, which was held in this city yesterday, as furnished by the Secretary to the city papers:

A meeting of the National Executive Committee of the Union League of America was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the National Union Club, 1165 Chestnut street.

A very full attendance of the members was had. Among those present were ex-Governor W. A. Newell, of New Jersey; Gen. Turbell, of Mississippi; J. M. Schermerhorn, of Buffalo, N. Y.; C. W. Goddard, of Brooklyn, Mr. Quick, of Texas; Mr. Rich, of Maryland; Messrs. Gwinner, Keeler, Jennings, and McQuaide, of Pennsylvania, and Messrs. Pickney, Alexander, McWaters, Beeny, and Baker, of New York city.

Gov. Geary, chairman of the committee called it to order and welcomed the members in a few appropriate remarks.

Thomas G. Baker, the secretary of the committee, read a very exhaustive report on the state of the Union League throughout the country.

Measures of an important character were adopted, with a view of aiding the pending elections in the States of Mississippi, Texas and Pennsylvania.

A committee was appointed to adopt an address to the League throughout the United States, on the subject of adhering to the objects of the organization and sustaining the Administration.

A resolution was adopted unanimously, endorsing the removal of copperheads and conservatives in Mississippi and other States.

Appropriations were made for the election about to take place, and other important matters relative to future elections were attended to.

Very interesting and comprehensive statements were made by the delegate from Mississippi and Texas, which were listened to with much attention by the committee.

Messrs. Rich, of Maryland, Alexander and Pickney of New York, and Keeler, of Pennsylvania, also addressed the committee, each of the gentlemen making such statements as he deemed necessary for the best interest of the cause.

On motion, the charter of the State Council of Mississippi was revoked, and Mr. A. Wygate was appointed a special commissioner to re-organize the order there.

The committee then separated, to meet again at a place hereafter to be determined upon.

The sub-committee on address will prepare their report as soon as possible, when it will be spread before the public.

IN commemoration of the one hundredth birthday of Napoleon I. the present Emperor of France has issued a decree of amnesty to all press and political offenders, deserters from the army, and delinquent tax-payers.

OFFICERS SIGNING PETITIONS.—Some fifteen of the commissioned officers, stationed at this Post, have signed a petition to have Capt. Braubach removed from his position as assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue. (These gentlemen etc., of course, free to sign any petition, but by so doing they place themselves in a position to have their actions commented on. By signing such a petition they assume a political attitude and the question arises, which party do our military men espouse? Is their protegee, Mr. Lerick, a Republican? If so, he has never taken occasion to show it; on the contrary, he is understood to be a conservative. Capt. Braubach, the gentleman they seek to have removed, has served with distinction as a Union volunteer officer, and is a good Republican. Are we to understand that the commissioned officers of our post are now playing into the hands of the Jack Hamilton faction? The loyal men of Texas need the sympathy and aid of the commissioned representatives of the government, and it is very unpleasant to find them enrolling their names upon petitions for the removal of true and tried loyalists. We hope this has only been a thoughtless proceeding of our military friends and not a serious move to set them selves in opposition to the Republican party, as whose head stands Gen. Grant. Before these officers signed this petition they should have consulted the opinions of our business and commercial community and ascertained the situation in which the gentleman is held whom they seek to remove, and the gentlemen they want appointed, and instead of being satisfied to append their names below four ex-rebels, they ought, at least, to have secured the endorsement of one or more reliable business firms.

One of the most ridiculous things we have seen, is a petition for the removal of Capt. Ph. Braubach, Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue, and the appointment of Major T. N. Lerick in his stead. The petition is signed by fifteen officers of the U. S. and four citizens of rebel antecedents.

We are credibly informed, that of the officers, only one is personally acquainted with Capt. Braubach, and it may be surmised that the signatures were procured under the plea of good fellowship with a late brother in arms and a sutler of the post. Of the citizens, one keeps an auction store, another a bar room; what the other two may ever have had to do with internal revenue, we are at a loss to account for, unless we assume that every party man desires his party to enjoy the fat of the land. Capt. Braubach served with distinction in the Texas Cavalry under Gen. Davis, and although not a professional politician, is known to stand on the Radical side. Major Lerick is a Democrat, and this may account for his being proposed by Gen. Mason, as presiding officer for the next registration and election.

The joke, however, is to see Mr. Lerick circulating his own petition, and presenting it at the Commercial Club where, however, the respective merits of the Captain and of the Major were so well known, that even the conservative proclivities of said Club, were not strong enough to secure a single signature. A presentation at Menger's Hotel was crowned with the same signal success.

Does Major Lerick really imagine that commissioner Delano is so poorly acquainted with the importance of the internal revenue assessorship, as to suppose that a petition of this description could induce him to dismiss an officer who during four years has proved his efficiency and his honesty.

AGRICULTURAL STOCK RAISING, AND INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION OF WESTERN TEXAS.—A regular meeting of the Association will be held at the Commercial Club room Wednesday, the 8th day of September, at early candle light. Members, and all persons favorable to the cause, are requested to attend.

WET.—A letter from the Postmaster at New Orleans (of the Postmaster here says: Your mail of the 11th inst. arrived here in a very bad condition, being thoroughly wet. I spread it out immediately and by drying hope to save a part of it.

OPENING OF FREE SCHOOLS.—The city public schools will open on the first Monday in September, the 6th proximo. Those who have children to enter should be brought to have them begin with the term.

GEN. VAN ANTWERP APPOINTED CRIMINAL JUDGE.—We are glad to learn that Gen. Van Antwerp has been appointed Judge of the Criminal Court for this District. This Court was organized by a law passed by the Legislature of 1866, and has the same jurisdiction over criminal cases as exercised by the District Court. Gen. Van Antwerp is well qualified to fill the position and his appointment meets only a approval from our citizens.

Testimonials.
 The Waters' Pianos are known as among the very best.—N. Y. Evangelist.
 We can speak of the merits of the Waters' Pianos from personal knowledge as being of the very best quality.—Christian Intelligencer.
 The Waters' Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material—Advertiser and Journal.
 Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store
 the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodians and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine.
MUSICAL DOMAINS.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodians.
 He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs.
 Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming advertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith, were even thought of;
 indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Piano-fortes now in our residence (where it has stood for years), of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this,
 some of the best amateur players in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first class instrument.
 Stronger endorsement we could not give—

INTERESTING TO PLANTERS.
 H. J. Baker & Bro., Castor Oil Manufacturers, 215 Pearl Street, New York, furnish us with the following information in regard to the usefulness of the Palma Christi, or Castor Bean Plant, besides the oil properties of the bean.
 It is said to be a preventive against the destruction of the cotton plant by the army or cotton worm, by planting it as a fence around the field in which cotton is planted.
 The fibre of the castor bean plant is also said to be good for making paper and the leaves good for the silk worm to feed on.
 We are also informed that the leaves are a panacea for rheumatism, and for promoting lactation by a local application.
 H. J. Baker & Bro. have published a pamphlet on the cultivation of the castor bean, which they furnish gratis to those who address them to Box 2434, New York Post Office, or 215 Pearl Street, New York.
