NEW AWARDS GIVEN

Joe Shipman Named 'Boss Of The Year'

For the first time in local history, two new awards were added to those presented at the annual Jaycees Bosses' Night Banquet Monday night. The award presentation followed a banquet hosted by the local Jaycees.

Jaycee president Gene McGuire called Jerry Wennhohs, Jaycee, to present the first award. He presented a Certificate of Appreciation, mounted on a wooden plaque to The Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals. Accepting the award was Larry Hall, publisher of the paper.

This presentation was followed by a presentation by Jaycee Lance Tucker to Gil Lamb, owner of Radio Station KMUL. Both the media awards are new and presented for the first time at the banquet.

R.D. 'Tub' Angeley was awarded as the "Outstanding Young Farmer". Making the presentation to the young farmer was George Borden, Muleshoe Jaycee who acted as chairman of the young farmer committee. He explained that Angeley is a farmer who produces corn, alfalfa and wheat on his acreage, and also discussed a

Local Youth Win Ribbons At Stock Show

Several Bailey County exhibitors placed beef cattle during the Amarillo Show last weekend.

Bailey County Agricultural Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley said that although none of the group won major prizes, that with 65-75 entries in each class in the cross breed division, proved that the local youngsters placed well in the show.

For the show on Saturday, January 22, Dr. Bob Long, of Texas Tech University, Lubbock, was judge for the beef show.

Jacinda Gleason won fourth place with a heavyweight angus; Eddie Black was sixth, with a light middleweight cross; Alan Harrison, placed seventh with a light weight cross; Jarrol Layton was eighth with a heavyweight part of his achievements in the farming program.

The "Outstanding Young Man" was awarded by Muleshoe Mayor Kenneth Henry, is also a Jaycee. Henry said the award was going to a fellow Jaycee, who has served as an officer, on committees, and who was instrumental in getting the new hospital grant and loan. He is a graduate of West Texas State University, a member of the Muleshoe City Council and a member of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Board of Directors. The award was presented Bob Finney, loan officer at the Muleshoe State Bank.

Finney then presented the award to the Outstanding Merchant of the Year. He explained that no set qualifications are the determining basis for the award, as he praised the achievements of the recipient.

Finney explained that the recipient had always had Jaycees working in his store, was one of the first to contribute money for Jaycee projects and had doubled footage in the store during the past year to add to Muleshoe's economy. He praised the number of years of community service by the man presented the award, then called Lindal Murray, manager of C.R. Anthony to receive his award as "Merchant of the Year".

Final award of the evening was given for the "Boss of the Year". The presentation was made by Monty Dollar. He said the recipient had always had Jaycees working in his business, and presently had three employees, and all were Jaycees. Joe Shipman was presented the award as "Boss of the Year".

Jaycee President Gene McGuire explained that the annual banquet was to show appreciation to employers who had Jaycees working in their businesses, who gave the Jaycees time off for special projects and meetings, and who were among the first to show support, financially and otherwise for Jaycee projects. He also thanked Jay-

Trustees Choose New Equalization Board

Meeting in special session at 6:30 a.m. Monday, members of the Muleshoe Independent School District School Board met with prospective equalization board members and made no changes in the board who served last year.

Renamed as members of the Board of Equalization for 1977 include Horace Hutton, Edwin Cox, R.L. Scott and Jim Young.

Muleshoe Schools Superintendent Neal B. Dillman explained that the school district real property values have not been equalized since a re-evaluation program in 1958, so plans were reviewed for changing the School District and City Tax values over to county values for equalization purposes.

He said Bailey County had a re-evaluation and equalization program two years ago and have made their real property valuations available to the City of Muleshoe and Muleshoe Independent School District.

A complete new appraisal of the School District and City property values would cost the taxpayers about $50,000 said Dillman. He added that the City Council and School Board believe this would be unnecessary. Utilization by the school and city will allow property values to be equalized at a minimum expense to the taxpayers.

The superintendent concluded that a proper notice of the change in values will be given to all taxpayers along with an invitation to appear at the Tax Office and Board of Equalization if there are any questions about the values placed on property.

Vegetables May Be Upcoming Major Crop

Do you have questions to ask about vegetable production? Would you like all the latest, up-to-date information on vegetables, the markets, and disease control? These questions and more, will be answered Wednesday during a vegetable seminar in Muleshoe.

Bailey County Agricultural Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley said the seminar will get underway at 9:30 a.m. in the Muleshoe State Bank community room and he said he would encourage anyone interested in vegetable production in this area to attend.

The county agent said that following brief discussions by several guest specialists, the program will be opened to a question and answer session. Anyone present will be given the opportunity to ask questions, and hear what the vegetable production experts have to say concerning the potential production of vegetables as a major crop.

Leading off the program will be Dr. Roland Roberts, a vegetable specialist from Lubbock. He will discuss "Cultural Practices for Key Vegetables Grown in the Muleshoe Area".

New Practices for Growing Tomatoes, Watermelons and Peppers" will be discussed by Dr. Jerry Parsons, vegetable specialist from San Antonio. Dr. James Leser's topic will be "Control of Principal Vegetable Insects". He is an entomologist from Lubbock.

Lubbock pathologist, Dr. Robert Berry, will talk about "Control of Vegetable Disease with Special Emphasis on Pepper Mosaic". While Kelly Hicks of the National Potato Board, Rainesville, Ala., will "Explain Activities of the National Potato Board".

"The Outlook for the Vegetable Markets in 1977" will be discussed by Dr. Gordon Powell, fruit and vegetable marketing specialist from College Station, and concluding the program will be Marvin Sartin, farm economist from Lubbock, with "Cost of Production on Vegetable Crops for the High Plains".

"This seminar has been planned especially for new growers of vegetable crops in the Muleshoe area," emphasized Tanksley. "Each speaker will present a short talk, then producers will have an opportunity to ask questions to the specialists on specific individual problems."

"The program will have two objectives," he concluded. "First the seven keynote vegetable authorities will give 10 to 15 minute presentations on their topics; then second, after the talks, they will give producers an opportunity to ask individual questions of the authorities present."

He said the question and answer session is expected to last from an hour to an hour and a half. Moderating the question and answer session will be Dr. Roberts. There is no charge for the seminar, so Tanksley suggests that you make your plans to attend the meeting and learn more about the crop which is expected to have a major future role in crop production in this area.

Another major program is planned for February 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe State Bank community room. This will be a joint program by the County Agriculture Committee and the Muleshoe Co-op Gin and will be a program presented by Marvin Sartin on the "Cotton Modulator".

Lazbuddie Style Show Is Thursday

For an evening of stylish entertainment, the Lazbuddie FHA is presenting a style show at the Lazbuddie school cafeteria on Thursday, January 27 (tonight) at 7 p.m., according to Pam McDonald, FHA vice president.

FHA members and Young Homemakers will model garments from several different stores. Included are Cobb's, St. Clair's, SurSinger's, and C.R. Anthony.

Fashions from Clovis will be from H-Bar-H, Sasser's, Queens and Teens, Ann Lees and the Fashion Shop.

Admission to the Fashion Show is 75 cents.

Citizen For Natural Weather Still Seeking More Members

Because of intense opposition to proposed weather modification activities in the South Plains and High Plains, representatives from several counties met in Littlefield Monday night and organized "Citizens for Natural Weather". Board members were elected with Bennie Claunch of Bailey County elected president.

The board members explained that the county representatives organized to discuss engaging legal counsel to file an injunction against the adjudicated hearing on weather modification scheduled to be heard in February and to prevent the issuing of weather modification permits.

A committee was appointed and was given the authority to engage legal counsel to protect the counties who are represented in Citizens for Natural Weather. Other committee members named from Bailey County included Billy Marlow, M.L. Fine, Jack Schuster and J.R. Carter.

Board members and others represented agreed that members needed to start collecting contributions for necessary legal fees to protect activities by weather modifiers. Farm owners are asked to contribute on the basis of ten cents per acre. No maximum limit for funds has been established. Also, concerned business firms are asked to contribute to the legal fund of the organization. Local board members said funds designated for Citizens for Natural Weather can be deposited in either

First National Bank or in Muleshoe State Bank.

Merlin Roberts, Cochran County Board member, said the people in the target area for suppressing hail contributed $170,000 for the purpose of "cloud seeding" last year.

He explained the methods used by the weather modifiers included using silver iodide in small amounts to seed clouds for rain but that large amounts are used to suppress hail and therefore clouds that would hold moisture dissipate after the seeding is done with large amounts of silver iodide. He added that since most moisture moves into the area from a westerly direction, people on the west side of the target area are being dried out and kept dry.

The hearing before the Water Development Board for issuing a four-year permit for weather modification is scheduled February 16-18. This date is at least a month before a right-to-vote bill could be introduced in the state Legislature, so if the permit is granted, and the bill is subsequently passed, the bill Cont. on Page 3, Col. 1

Police Report

Four young men found themselves guests of the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center Monday afternoon after warrants were issued for their arrest for alleged vehicle theft.

According to the Bailey County Sheriff's office, the four young men drove away in a pickup owned by Vince Simmacher and parked in a ditch near a field where he was plowing late Sunday afternoon. The vehicle theft was reported at 6:50 p.m.

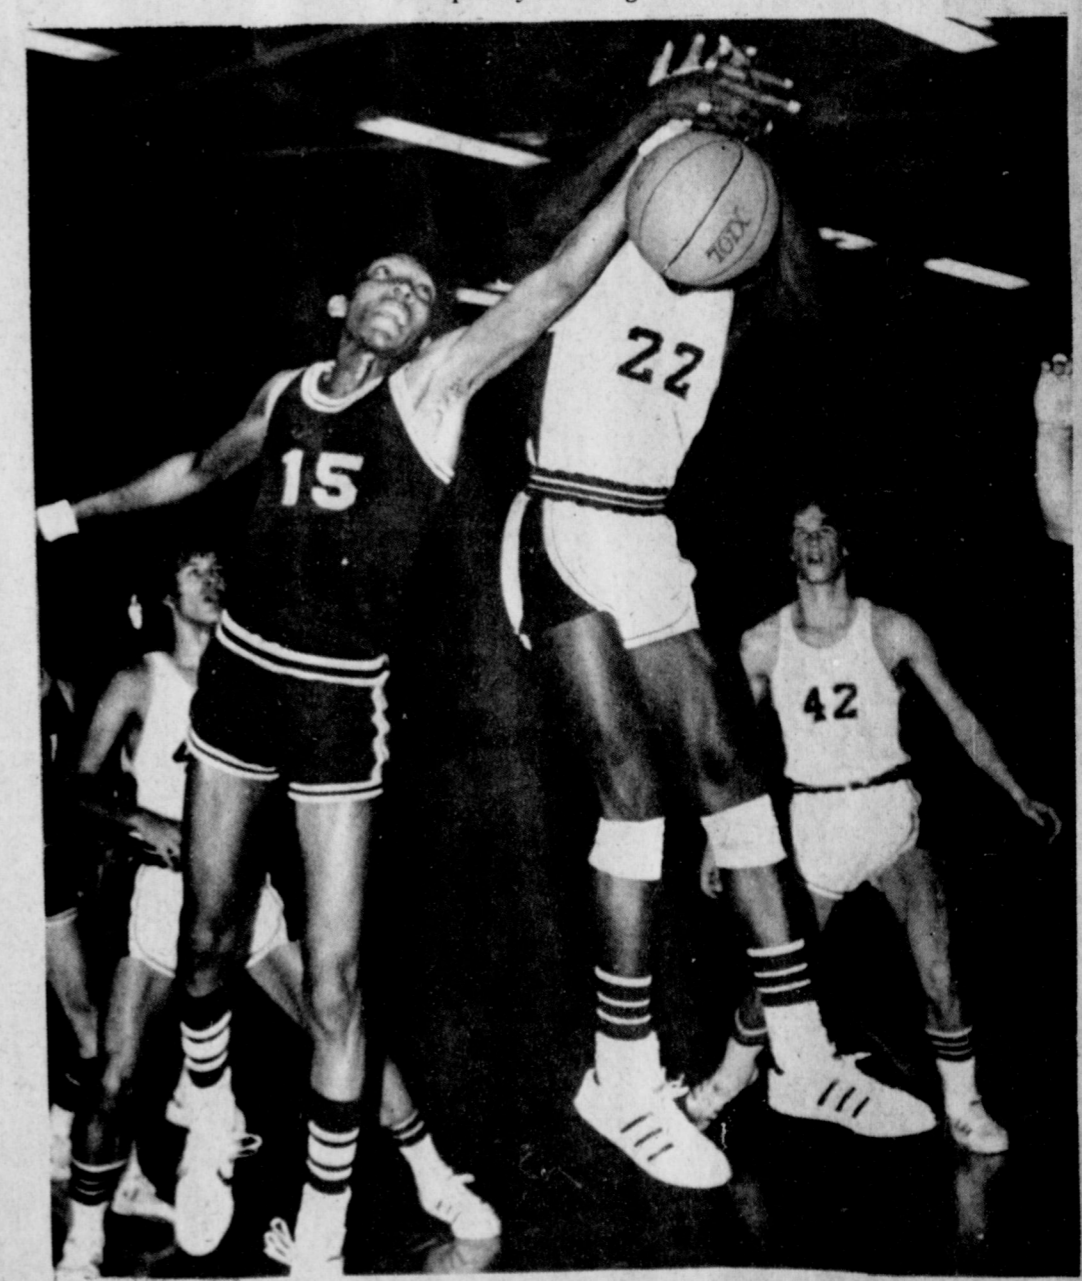

At 7:16 p.m., the Portales Police Department called Muleshoe and informed the dispatcher that the same pickup had just been overturned, totaled out and abandoned approximately three miles east of Rogers, N.M.

The New Mexico police department said four young men in the pickup left the wreck scene.

At the time the young men took the pickup, they left an older model car which was registered to a man in Clovis, N.M. The car was impounded in Muleshoe.

On Monday afternoon, the four were arrested at a farm northwest of Muleshoe and jailed on vehicle theft charges.

In other activity, officers arrested three for driving while intoxicated; one charged with being an illegal alien and one charged with drunk. One minor accident was also reported to police during the weekend.

"We also realized that in order to keep from being defeated in the long-run if the permit is granted at this hearing, that we would also have sufficient funds to carry an appeal through the courts. In the meantime, we pray that the right-to-vote bill is passed," continued the spokesman.

"We decided in order to have the necessary funds, we will need from $15,000 - $25,000, so it was resolved by the group that the counties involved contribute 10 cents per acre of land, or in the case of other concerned persons not owning farm land, whatever they can spare. The money will be given in each county until needed, and with careful records kept so that unused funds could be returned to donors on a pro rata basis," he added.

The opponents of the weather modification groups have asked that everyone get involved and help protect the entire area and the economy of the area by helping stop the weather modification groups.

Farm-facts

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

Fewer Gobblers, Onions . . . More Citrus And Cotton
Texas agriculture producers are planning a cutback on turkeys and onions this year. Citrus prospects are up from a year ago, and the state's cotton crop for 1976 also shows an increase.

TURKEY PRODUCTION is expected to be down four per cent this year compared with 1976, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service indicates.

If growers carry out their intentions, about 8,900,000 heavy breed poulters will be raised compared with 9,300,000 a year ago.

In the 20 major turkey producing states, growers intend to raise one per cent more turkeys this year than last.

Texas ranks fourth in the nation in total turkeys produced. About a fourth of the turkey crop in the state is produced in three counties - McLennan, Hill, and Bell.

IF YOU LIKE ONIONS, this may make you cry. Texas spring onion crop is now estimated at 16,400 acres, and that is 32 per cent below the 24,000 acres harvested last year. It is the smallest acreage since 1966.

Cool temperatures and wet growing conditions have slowed crop development. Harvest is expected to begin around the middle of March.

Wet weather from October through December plagued producers in South Texas, particularly in the Rio Grande Valley.

A SEVEN PER CENT INCREASE in citrus production for Texas this year compared to last year is now forecast, based on Jan. 1 prospects. The crop production is now set at 18,100,000 boxes.

Expected grapefruit production is currently 11,500,000 boxes, up seven per cent from a year ago. The forecast for production of all oranges is 6,600,000 boxes, up six per cent from a year earlier.

Early and mid-season oranges are expected to total 4,200,000 boxes and Valencia prospects total 2,400,000 boxes.

Harvest is behind schedule due to weather conditions. As of the first of the year, about 45 per cent of the early oranges and 20 per cent of the grapefruit had been picked.

THE LATEST UPDATE in cotton production for Texas shows an increase of 868,000 bales from the 1975 crop.

The 1976-77 crop year forecast is 3,250,000 bales, up 250,000 bales from the Dec. 1 forecast.

Planted acres are expected to total 4,800,000, which is ten per cent more than a year ago. A 15 per cent increase in harvested acres compared to a year ago is also indicated.

A significant increase in yield this season compared to the past two years is also expected. Per acre yield is now set at 347 pounds per acre.

Hospital...

said. A county with a hospital district could refuse to join the SPHD simply by refusing to dissolve its existing district.

"I've tried to give each county as much say as possible," Robbins said. "But I see what you mean. A county without a hospital district would in effect be subject to the vote of the entire region."

He said the bill was "one of the most complicated" drafted by the Texas Legislative Council. He said he'll take another look at individual county decision-making regarding the issue.

Constitutional Problems Robbins said the council may have written the proposed bill in its present form because of possible constitutional problems involved in giving each county an independent voice on whether to join the regional district.

He also said he will seek to phrase the bill so that the regional district could still be formed even if a few counties refuse to dissolve their existing hospital districts.

Robbins said the regional district concept would have "tremendous advantages" for all counties in the area, and he said the intent is not merely to expand the tax base for the Lubbock County Hospital District's teaching hospital.

"I wouldn't be for it at all if we were just asking other counties to bail us out," Robbins said. "I truly believe that a regional hospital district will be of great benefit for all counties, and that it is the ultimate answer to the doctor shortage and the health care problems on the South Plains."

He said a regional district would have such money-saving advantages as volume buying and cooperative administration for public hospitals in the 24-county area. Also, he said the hospitals and clinics would be better able to share ideas and cooperate on programs.

PLANT SUNFLOWERS IN 1977? YOU BET!!!!

Sunflowers can provide more than twice the net income of dry land milo and can help spread the risk for these farmers who are afraid to plant "turn row to turnrow" cotton.

You are only considering sunflowers in event of a hail or late rain on dry land? We must establish a permanent annual base acreage for sunflowers in order to attract northern buyers. Northern growers receive as much as $12.40 per hundred in the fall of 1976.

I am considering operating a facility to handle sunflowers with contracts with northern buyers located in either Sudan or Amherst. We can work together to receive the highest price possible for our sunseed. For additional information call:

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

For those with a sweet tooth and no weight problem, this old southern devil's food cake recipe is a favorite for many.

- 1 1/2 c sugar
- 2 sq. chocolate
- 3 eggs
- 2 c cake flour
- 1 t baking soda
- pinch salt
- 1 c sweet milk
- 1 t vanilla

Cream butter and sugar. Add melted chocolate, then beaten egg yolks. Sift together 4 times, flour, soda and salt. - 1 1/4 c sugar
- 5 T water
- 1/8 t cream of tartar

4-H Youths To Study Citizenship

Four-H youth from across the state will have the opportunity to rediscover their national heritage this summer through three special short courses, says Lanny Bullard, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Each short course is held at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C. and deals with citizenship plus allows youth to tour various historical sites.

The event is called the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour and will be held at three different times - June 14-28, July 6-19 and July 26-August 9.

The short course and tour is conducted by the National 4-H Foundation and all 4-H youth who are presently sophomores or juniors in high school are eligible. The Texas quota is 210 and selections are based on applications which must be submitted by February 15 to local county Extension offices, notes the 4-H specialist.

"Along with the 2104-Hers, 10 adult leaders will also have an opportunity to participate this year," points out Bullard.

The Texas groups will begin their tours at Dallas and will spend four days enroute as well as four days on the return trip visiting historical sites. In Washington, they will visit such historical sites as the Kennedy Center, Arlington National Cemetery, the Capitol and Library of Congress, Mount Vernon, Williamsburg, Monticello and the Museum of Atomic Energy.

"The short course and heritage tour is designed to supplement the citizenship education and leadership development training young people receive through the home, school, church and other organizations," adds Bullard.

"The two-week learning experience is the highlight of many 4-H members' careers," he emphasizes.

Arguments usually aren't worth it.

Hoods are quite fashionable this year. We find them on coats, capes and sweaters.

The very soft material, being used this season, drapes beautifully, especially on garments with one shoulder bare.

Compliments cost little and yet produce excellent returns.

Consumer Food News

COLLEGE STATION -- Harsh Old Man Winter's icy fingers reach even into food news this week -- as frigid conditions continue to disrupt the nation's usually orderly marketing system, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist.

"Consumers will be forced to spend a little more time shopping making careful selections as a result of inclement weather," she cautioned.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She blamed weather for a possible price hike on several items -- which will probably be temporary, and she advised consumers to try choosing less expensive items that still meet their needs.

Among items currently affected are livestock that cannot be moved to market because of icy road conditions -- along with vegetables that cannot be harvested due to exceptionally wet fields.

"At meat counters, fryer chickens are in heavy supply, and they will force stiff sales competition on currently large supplies of beef and pork," Mrs. Clyatt said. "Also, look for great values offered on turkey parts."

In beef buying, usually good values may be found on chuck cuts, ground beef and liver, and sirloin and T-bone steaks -- with occasional low price tags on corned beef, the specialist said.

"Fresh pork features are scattered but primarily will appear on Boston butt roast, quarterloins cut into chops -- and pork liver. Emphasis also is being placed on semi-boneless hams, smoked picnics, bacon, frankfurters and roll sausage."

At fresh vegetable counters, the most economical items in good supply are dry onions, white and sweet potatoes, carrots, cabbage, hard-shell squash, turnips and rutabagas, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Rainy weather has held back lettuce shipments, and prices are higher. For an economical substitute, consumers might try escarole, endive or one of the 'leafy' varieties.

"At fruit counters, everything is coming up citrus," the specialist said.

"Grapefruit is plentiful, and we can look for lower prices. The same can be said for oranges, tangerines and tangelos.

"Also, fresh cranberry production set a record this year -- and cranberry products are plentiful.

"Bananas, avocados, apples, pears and Hawaiian pineapples are worthy of consideration price-wise."

At dairy counters, among better values is a variety of cheddar cheeses -- and cottage cheese, she said.

Along grocery store aisles, good values will be found on a variety of canned fruits and vegetables, non-fat dry milk, peanut butter and bread.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Think "variety" in combatting the weather's effect on food choices. Be resourceful in meal planning and in food shopping.

Big Fish Award

All fishermen want to catch big fish and when they do, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department needs to know about them.

Management information is still being gathered across the state and valuable data can be recorded if anglers catching big fish will fill out a "certificate of fishing merit" application and return it to the P&WD.

Information that you put on this application will help answer questions such as: why do some lakes provide good fishing for a long time and other lakes do not; why do some lakes grow big fish and other lakes yield only small fish; does fishing pressure or lake location in Texas influence fishing success.

Various techniques are used by fishery biologists in obtaining the above information such as creel census and chemical or net samplings in selected coves of numerous lakes. Texas has so many lakes to study that assistance from fisherman is necessary to complete the study and the "big fish" award will give this required data.

Eligible species and minimum weights include: spotted seatrout, seven pounds; redbird (from Gulf), 25 pounds; redbird (from Bay), 10 pounds; black drum, 35 pounds; southern flounder, six pounds; largemouth bass, seven pounds; crappie, three pounds; white bass, three pounds; striped bass, 15 pounds; striped/white bass hybrid, six pounds; channel catfish, 12 pounds; blue cat, 35 pounds; flathead cat, 50 pounds; walleye, six pounds; rainbow and brown trout, two pounds.

Minimum weights now being accepted may change in the future as populations are established in additional lakes and streams.

The award rules require all fish entered to be caught by hook and line in Texas waters since January 1, 1974. The person applying for the certificate must have hooked, fought, and landed the fish. All fish entered must be measured for total length, and must be weighed on an inspected scale certified by the Texas Department of Agriculture and a statement of weight must be signed by a witness.

Additional information and application forms are available at all license vendors and P&WD offices across the state.

During 1977 only, applications will be accepted through March 30.

Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of demonstrated scholastic accomplishment and leadership qualifications only and will not affect other scholarship awards or financial aid programs.

Eligible students are those entering Texas Tech from high school or transferring from another junior or senior college.

Application forms can be obtained by writing to University Scholars Program, Admissions Office, P.O. Box 4350, Lubbock, Texas 79409.

Colored gum drops make attractive candle holders for a child's birthday cake. Make a small slit in the top for the candle.

Long, cold rainy days are an excellent time to clear out clutter and to arrange your dresser drawers. The same thing can be done to kitchen cabinets and drawers.

To keep newly washed tennis shoes clean longer, spray them with a thin layer of starch.

A rainy-day house will keep a small child happy for hours. Simply drape an old blanket or bedspread over a table and a couple of chairs and leave the rest to the child's imagination.

A good loafer is an art-

Never underestimate people of small stature.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
We thought this article which appeared in the Valley Morning Star, Harlingen, Texas would be of interest to the Muleshoe community.

Additional information, Weslaco High is a 4-A school with 2000 daily attendance.

If you desire to print it, we would appreciate a copy.

Thank you,
Patsy Block

Weslaco, Texas 78596

WESLACO -- Burel Block, assistant principal at Weslaco High School, will serve as interim principal for remainder of the school year, Supt. A.N. (Tony) Rico said Tuesday afternoon.

Block is in his first year with the Weslaco system. He succeeds Bill Banks, who resigned about two weeks ago to become superintendent of Lampasas schools.

Rico moved his office temporarily to the high school when Banks left. He said he expects to stay at the high school for probably another week. He is a former high school principal.

Block, 39, came to Weslaco from Lubbock where he was a parttime instructor and research assistant at Texas Tech University. He has completed his dissertation for a doctorate in education.

He previously taught Spanish, German, Latin, English and American History over an 11-year-period at Muleshoe, Tex. Block holds a bachelor's degree in theology from Eastern

New Mexico University with minors in history and Spanish. He also earned a master's degree in Spanish.

He also has attended the University of Florida, Wichita State University, Texas A&M and West Texas University.

In addition, he studied in Mexico, Southern Chile and Paraguay under various programs including a Rotary International group study exchange. The native of Anadarko, Okla., is a member of the First Baptist Church and the Weslaco Lions Club. Mrs. Block is assistant administrator for a Harlingen nursing home.

The Blocks are parents of a son, Steven, 20, who is a pre-med junior at Baylor University, and a daughter, Starla, 14, who is a freshman at Weslaco High School.

Dear Editor,

I hope you will print this for me. I want it printed the same way I have wrote it.

I will read it in the paper, so if you make any changes, I will know about it.

I wrote it for a reason and I hope that reason is carried out. I will dearly appreciate it. May God bless you. Thank you.

Reba Phillips

Dear Readers,
A couple of months ago an article came out in this paper. Saying I had kidnapped my son. Now I'm going to tell you why I kidnapped my own son.

On October 22, 1976 I went to pick up my son for the weekend. When I got there, I was invited into the house. Jerry's stepmother, Shirley Phillips, said she wanted me to see something. She then pulled up Jerry's shirt and pulled down his pants. I then saw a shock of my life. Jerry had bruise's from the bottom of his shoulders to the bend in his knees. Some of the bruise's on his thighs were from someone's hand. They were that clear! Shirley told me he had gotten them from falling off his spring horse.

Those bruise's were too bad for him to have just "fallen" from a spring horse.

The next day I took my son, to Dr. Albertson. When he asked me what was wrong, I told him that I thought Jerry had been beaten. He then looked at Jerry and said he had been beaten. And asked me who had done such a thing. It had to be his father, Gary Phillips or his wife Shirley Phillips. Then he went and got Dr. Allgood. He too, told me Jerry had been beaten.

They, the Dr's took some pictures of Jerry's bruise's. And called the Welfare for Abused Children. I talked to them and they sent someone to look at Jerry.

They had come by my house about 2 o'clock that afternoon and I wasn't home. So they had looked up Jerry's father, Gary and talked to him. I had been told later that afternoon, when the man from Abused Children came to look at Jerry. He also took a picture of Jerry's bruise's. Before he had left I asked him if I had to take Jerry back. He told me yes, he really couldn't do anything til it happened again.

If I waited til it happened again I thought, my son might be dead! I wasn't going to wait.

I took my son for his own protection. I don't know for sure who did it, but I wasn't going let her do it again.

I'm not ashamed of what I have done. Anyone else would have done the same thing. But I hope anyone else don't have to go through with what I have gone through, this passed year.

Having your baby taken away from you is something I hope none of you readers have to go through. It tears you up something terrible.

Having Jerry taken away from me was cruel to both of us. He couldn't understand why he couldn't see his Mama anymore. I had been with him since he was born. I stayed with him all day and night for 2 years. And then all of a sudden he couldn't see me at all.

Because of several people lying in the witness stand. And I couldn't prove a word.

I love my son, I think I love him more than any other Mother who loves her children.

But who is going to love someone else's child, when she doesn't even want her own child? She hasn't and I don't believe she will care of her own. And I'm talking about Shirley Phillips. She hasn't taken care and "raised" her child, like I have raised my son.

So why should she take in and raise her husband's child, when she doesn't even stay with her own child.

Now, dear readers I ask you if you were me, wouldn't you have taken your child and ran? Or would you "stick" around and let someone "beat" them?

I ran and I'm not ashamed to admit it. At least I know for sure, he will be loved and corrected without putting marks on him. I think I would beat myself if I ever beat any child. I love children too much. Pray to God to punish me if I ever mistreat any child.

My son and I are very happy together. And I pray we aren't separated again. God gave me a son for a reason. I hope and pray that he lets me keep him and raise him.

I thank this paper for putting this in their pages. Hoping it will make some of you stop and think.

May God bless each of you.
Thank you,
Reba Phillips

Texas Manufacturing Show More Strength

By Billings D. Barnard,
Economist
Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas

Texas goes into the new year with manufacturing on about as firm a footing as anywhere.

At a record level, nearly 38 percent higher than ten years ago, the state's manufacturing is running over 10 percent higher than at the trough of the recession nearly two years ago.

Nationwide, manufacturing output is nearly 17 percent higher than at the trough.

But the recession was less severe in Texas. Even with the much faster increase nationwide, production is still higher in Texas than in the nation.

Across the country as a whole, manufacturing is about 30 percent higher than it was ten years ago.

The difference is due to the composition of manufacturing in Texas.

Though petroleum production is declining in Texas, it still sets the tone for well over half the state's manufacturing.

This is the half that equips oil and gas producers and processes their output. And as new demands were put on petroleum producers just as the recession was setting in, this has been by far the faster growing half.

Mostly along the coast, Texas has the largest concentration of petroleum processing capacity in the world.

Based mainly on the once plentiful domestic supplies of oil and gas and now operating mostly on imports, refineries and chemical plants account for roughly a third of the state's manufacturing.

That is well over a fifth of its industrial production. Nationwide, such plants turn out less than a tenth of the industrial products.

Scattered across the state are shops and foundries that make Texas one of the world's principal sources of oilfield equipment. They account for about a fifth of the manufacturing.

With more effort being made worldwide to find new oil, markets for oilfield equipment expanded throughout the recession. And though competition has often been stiff overseas, much of the state's growth in the production of oilfield equipment has been for export markets.

Machinery production continued expanding throughout the recession. When it ended, the state's output of machinery was 11 percent higher than when it began.

Since then, production has continued to rise, advancing another six percent last year to a level a third higher than a year before and two-thirds higher than ten years ago.

For metal fabricators, gains during the recession were less spectacular. Much of their business was lost to the decline in demand for such goods as construction steel.

With the increase in demand for goods related to petroleum, however, they held their own, feeling little more than a pause in their expansion.

And as they had already brought their output to a level higher than machinery producers, with the same six percent gain over the past year, they have pushed their production 85 percent higher than ten years ago.

With refining capacity in this country short and imports of processed petroleum suddenly turning expensive, Texas refineries began increasing production just as the recession was coming on.

At the trough, their output was nine percent higher than when the recession began. And with recovery, still runs have continued trending upward, advancing another 19 percent.

Overall, refinery production in Texas has increased 29 percent since early 1974. That was when effects of the Arab oil embargo began to reach Texas.

With prices of feedstocks up sharply and demand for products off, chemical processors did not fare as well as refiners during the recession. When the upturn came, chemical production in Texas had dropped 11 percent.

But as adjustments were made to price changes and business conditions improved, chemicals, too, shared in the expansion in petroleum processing. Since the trough, output of chemical plants in Texas has climbed over 15 percent.

Bankers To Hear About Latest Ag Developments

A special session on the latest developments in the agricultural industry will be one of the highlights of the 25th Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers at Texas A&M University, February 7-9. The session is designed to help keep Texas bankers up to date on our constantly changing agriculture, says Dr. Richard Trimble, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and publicity chairman for the school.

Gene Finley, vice president, Capital National Bank, Austin, will preside at the session which will feature discussions on energy and agriculture, the new meat grading system, grain sorghum research activities, beef tenderness, improved weather services, animal reproduction, and the new estate tax law.

The workshop on commodity hedging will deal with the mechanics of hedging, hedging decision guides, hedging as a forward pricing tool, and what a banker should know about living with a hedged loan. To register for the school, write Trimble at Room 108A, Agriculture Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, 77843.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Fast-starting Texas legislators now have three budget proposals before them, suggesting different approaches to spending state revenues.

Legislative Budget Board's $15.3 billion biennial appropriations bill was introduced in the Senate last week, and first hearings on small agency requests began immediately.

House Speaker Bill Clayton, who prefers a somewhat tighter-fisted approach, engineered introduction of a House bill which would reduce the LBB recommendation about $125 million.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, meanwhile, submitted his Executive Budget, which would total $16.1 billion from all funds — an increase of $2.2 billion over current levels.

Briscoe calculated his bill, though substantially above the LBB's, would leave a balance of $400 million.

Major differences between the Briscoe and LBB approaches lie in the governor's $845 million school finance plan and his $825 million in recommended new funding for highway building and maintenance.

Clayton, a hard-liner on spending, in effect, told House leaders to take no more than three months to turn out an appropriations bill.

The speaker further told them to use a "hammer" if necessary to make sure spending stays below the $15 billion mark for the next biennium.

Clayton set April 11 as the deadline for presentation of a budget bill to the House.

Allowable Set

The statewide oil allowable for February will be held to 98 percent of potential production.

Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace noted the U.S. last year paid $35 billion for imported foreign oil — equal to $400 for each of 88 million American workers.

Crude imports in 1976 were more than 5.8 million barrels daily based on the four-week average of January 7. That is an increase of more than 1.1 million over 1975.

Commissioner Jim Langdon said Texas had 49 fields with an allowable of 10,000 barrels a day or more in 1971, with 88 percent of them producing their allowables. Last year, he said, the number of fields capable of that much production dropped to 28.

Wallace blamed need for imports on improper management of natural resources in Washington.

Three Contending

If Agriculture Commissioner John C. White goes to Washington as U.S. Under-Secretary of Agriculture, at least three will seek appointment of his job.

Briscoe would fill such a vacancy in statewide office until the 1978 general election.

Among those who acknowledge they would like to succeed White are his deputy commissioner, Bill Pieratt, 61 of Giddings, State Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg and State Rep. J. E. "Pete" Laney of Hale Center. All have agricultural interests. Many think Pieratt has the inside track for appointment.

All three have indicated they would be candidates for a full term as commissioner if they get named to White's unexpired term.

Courts Speak

The Supreme Court upheld a $14.4 million Corpus Christi bond issue, in spite of the fact the election proposition did not specify the interest rate bonds are to bear.

Fifty thousand dollar bail for a man charged with killing his wife and daughter is excessive, the Court of Criminal Appeals held.

The Supreme Court ruled a Beaumont woman who shot her husband, thinking he was a house breaker, cannot collect his life insurance.

An insurance company does not have to pay the repair bill for a rented motor home used to transport illegal aliens, the Supreme Court held.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill said portions of a Texas Rehabilitation Commission investigation of proprietary schools should be made public, except for information which identifies individual rehabilitation clients.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: The State Board of Insurance is authorized to approve policies insuring against "incidental coverages" usual and customary in connection with medical liability insurance. The $300,000 policy limit is an aggregate limitation and applies to all claims arising from occurrences during the policy period.

The legislature could establish a separate student loan insurance program, but not through the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund.

Statutes dealing with required sworn inventory for going-out-of-business sales are clear enough and therefore constitutional.

A landscape architect cannot be denied registration due to non-citizenship.

Short Snorts

Rep. Craig Washington of Houston was elected head of the Texas legislature's Black Caucus.

Twenty-two members of the State Board of Education were assigned last week to five standing committees.

Joseph J. Piotrowski Jr. is new acting director of the Railroad Commission's Gas Utilities Division.

A Railroad Commission report indicates the biggest oil fields in the state are being reduced in productivity.

An oak seedling from historic Mount Vernon was planted in Austin in the official state Arbor Day ceremony.

Former Gov. Preston Smith is starting to talk like he might run for governor again.

Comptroller Bob Bullock mailed city sales tax rebate checks totalling $23.2 million to 620 Texas cities and towns and reminded quarterly sales tax filers of the January 31 deadline for their returns.

Texas Judicial Council endorsed granting jurisdiction to 14 courts of civil appeals to hear and decide appeals in criminal cases.
