February 22, 1870.
Senate met pursuant to adjournment.
Lt. Gov. J. W. Flanagan in the Chair. Roll called. Quorum present.
Absent—Pettit, sick.
[Communicated from the House.]
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
AUSTIN, Feb. 21st, 1870.
Hon. J. W. Flanagan, President of the Senate.
SIR:—I have the honor to transmit herewith a resolution adopted by the House, this
A. M. in regard to the death of Hon. W.
A. Elliott, and to state that in pursuance of said resolution the House stands adjourning until to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M.
Very Respectfully,
Your Ob't. Serv't,
IRA H. EVANS,
Speaker House of Representatives,
House of Representatives,
Austin, Feb. 21, 1870.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God
to withdraw from our body by death Hon.
M. A. Elliott, of Cook county.
And whereas, It seems proper that there should be some action of this House, expressive of their sentiments; therefore be it
Resolved, That in the death of the Hon.
M. A. Elliott, this body has lost one of its most efficient members, the State a good citizen, and his family a kind and indulgent friend and guardian.
Resolved, That this House tender their condolence and kind feelings to the family of Hon. M. A. Elliott, and that the widow be furnished with a copy of these resolutions, and be it further Resolved, That in consideration of the respect we have for the memory of Hon. M.
A. Elliott a copy of these resolutions be spread on the journals of this House, and we adjourn until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, and the Senate be informed of the action of this House.
S. S. WEAVER,
Chairman of Committee.
Senator Ruby moved that the resolution be received and spread upon the journals of this body. Carried.

Report of Committee on Elections as follows:
Committee Room,
To the Hon. J. W. Flanagan, Speaker
Senate:
SIR: In the matter of contest for seat in your Honorable body, between J. H. Lippard vs. W. H. Pyle, of the Twentieth Senatorial District, your committee would respectfully report:
That the contestants appeared before the committee and charged that the election of W. H. Pyle as Senator from the Twentieth Senatorial District was produced through intimidation and fraud on the part of said W. H. Pyle or his friends. After an impartial hearing of all the evidence in the case, your committee decide that the testimony does not sustain the charge of the contestant, and therefore recommend that your Honorable body permit W.
H. Pyle Senator elect, to retain his seat as Senator from the Twentieth Senatorial District.
Respectfully submitted,
THOS. H. BAKER,
Chairman.

tion:

clared by the Commanding General; and Whereas, J. E. Dillard, Esq., received the next highest number of votes for Senator from the Third Senatorial District;
therefore be it Resolved, That J. E. Dillard be and is hereby entitled to a seat in this House as Senator from the Third Senatorial District, vice M. Priest disqualified.

olution.

seats be allowed mileage and per diem up to date of the decision of their cases, and that the Secretary be authorized to issue

cess until 12 o'clock. Carried.
[To be continued.]
THE New York Times has the following Washington special: While quoting it may be fair to say that the statement is gathered from witnesses and not from members of the Committee on the Cadet Investigation
"The Cadet Investigation proceeded to-day, two witnesses being examined, Mr. Selkig, of New York and Mr. Brooks, of this city. Mr. Selkig exhibited the original of the letter said to have been written by Congressman Whitmore, of South Carolina, offering to sell his West Point nomination for $500. Other testimony was given yesterday, going to show, that this same representative subsequently ask $2000

for the same appointment. Mr.
Brooks testified to having conducted the negotiations with the two members of the fortieth Congress
from Louisiana, Sypher and Blackburn.

The negotiation with Mr. Sypher never reached a conclusion. Mr.
Blackburn received $1500 for two appointments, one at West-Point and one at Annapolis. Mr. Fitzgerald, of Philadelphia, who is alleged to have been paid $1000 by Mr. Re-mack, for an appointment of several years ago, has been summoned and will testify to-morrow, when Mr.
Brooks will be recalled. Evidence is coming fast, though it mostly relates to members of the House, now beyond the reach of punishment.

The Weatherford Times learns from S. D. Stout the particulars of a recent Indian fight in Montague County. Three white men attacked
ten Indians at Jim Ned Lookout
south east of the town of Montague.
They were subsequently reinforced by citizens and eight soldiers under command of Col. Cunningham.
The Indians were surrounded during the night, but in a charge made their escape—two of them being wounded.

A few days after sixteen Indians
returned—were pursued by citizens with blood hounds from Denton Creek and overtaken at Buffalo Springs. Two Indians were killed two wounded, two pack-mules and number of U. S. blankets and bridles captured. Of the white men, James Green, William Freman and Cassius
McDonald were wounded.

It is not stated at what time
either of the fights transpired.

THE CHATTANOOGA BILL.—We copy from the New Orleans Picayune
the following proceeding on the 18th inst.: In the Senate yesterday the Chattanooga bill passed its third and final reading by a vote of 24 yeas to 10 nays. In the House, Chattanooga railroad bill was reported yesterday evening, by the Secretary of the Senate, as having passed that body with amendments.
A motion to take up the bill and concur in the amendments was adopted. The amendments were then read by the Clerk of the House, and concurred in by a vote of 59
yeas to 23 nays.

It is remarked as a singular circumstance in the South African diggings that all the diamonds have been found by natives and not by Europeans. The natives go upon all fours, scanning the surface and scrapping with their nails, while the European tries to maintain the dignity of an erect attitude.

[PUBLIC—No. 4.]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the act entitled "An act to incorporate the Washington, Alexandria, and Georgetown
Steam Packet Company" approved third March, eighteen hundred and twenty-nine and continued for twenty years by the act of twenty-sixth February, eighteen hundred and forty-nine, be, and the same is hereby, extended and continued in full force and effect for another period of twenty years, commencing with the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine:

same shall continue and be presented in all respects as if said charter had not expired; and the president and directors who were in office at the time it expired shall continue in office under and by virtue of this act until others shall be duly chosen in their places.

Approved, January 15, 1870.

The Legislature of Maine, it is stated, will, during the present session, take up the question of the abolition of the Death Penalty, and give to it a thorough consideration. The same subject is attracting some what unusual attention in Illinois and Pennsylvania. Thirty years ago there was a reasonable prospect of this reform in perhaps a majority of the result was that juries refused to convict in many capital cases, and Governors pardoned
or commuted the sentence
even in the rare cases of conviction.
Interest in the subject naturally fell off. Now that hangings have become common again it has revived
—we hope to some purpose.

A Michigan correspondence of the Boston Transcript writes that such is the zeal for procuring anatomical "subjects," on the part of medical students at the University of Michigan, that a body was recently buried
just under the window of the house,
as the friends of the deceased did not dare to take it to the grave yard,
a mile away, lest it should be transported to the dissecting-room.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the "dyes," totally different principle. It is limpid, fragrant, and perfectly innocuous, precipitates

no muddy or flacculent matter, requires no shaving up, and communicates no taint to the skin or the linen. No for the simple reason that it is not turbid. It is, to all intents

SUNDAY, FEB. 27, 1870.

We publish to-day the speech of Hon. Morgan C Hamilton, the U S Senator elect. Those who carefully read this speech, and who do not already feel a wholesome contempt for the Herald, are advised to peruse the article in yesterday's Herald, concerning Hamilton. It represents the strongest contrast of mean, unwarranted partisan feeling toward upright and stern patriotism. Let men be judged by their deeds.

He cannot see an inch before his nose, who does not see that the Radical party in Texas is in a hopeless minority.—Houston Telegraph.

We grant that he, who sees the Republican party in Texas in a hopeless minority, can see about an inch before his nose, but no more. Such short-sighted fellows better shut their mouths and do not annoy sensible men with their observations of what they do and what they don't see.

SOME of the towns and cities of Texas are exercising themselves about the establishment of government depositories in them. Blessed is he, she, or it that expecteth nothing. Gonzales don't expect anything of the sort.—Gonzales Index.

Nor do we expect anything of Gonzales. With its present animus it will remain as it is.

Letter From Austin.

AUSTIN, Feb. 22nd, 1870.
The Senatorial fight and Republican victory—Morgan C. Hamilton and G. W. Flanagan the Senators—Coyote carries the day.

The Senatorial storm has subsided and the ship of State sides secure in the harbor of Peace.

The Senatorial question had become allying and the intriguing and scheming caused serious apprehensions on the fact of many that a disgraceful squabble would ensue, and days of fruitless balloting be the result.

On Saturday evening the Republican members from the glorious 4th Congressional District, (Coyote) held a caucus and determined upon a programme to wit: to elect but two men, one of those two men, Morgan C. Hamilton, for the year and a half term ending 1871, and for the six year term beginning in 1871, and to stand by the East in the selection of one other good Republican.

A caucus was then called for all Republican members to meet on Monday 4 o'clock P. M.

On Sunday night Gen. Clark called a caucus of the 3rd District, but it was so discordant that no programme was agreed upon.

Considerable excitement was prevalent up to the hour of the meeting of the general caucus, and much talk of a burst up &c. The hour arrived and seventy Republicans responded to their names in the Representative Hall.

The leading friends of Messrs. Glenn and Clark made a vigorous assault upon Mr. Morgan Hamilton, citing his letter disapproving the Houston platform &c., and an excited debate occurred; but on the first ballot Mr. Hamilton was nominated for the long term beginning in 1871. This was a splendid triumph. There were several balloting upon the five year term but finally decided in favor of Lt. Gov. Flanagan. The short term ending 1871 was fought over by the friends of Glenn and Clark, but Mr. Morgan Hamilton was carried. Thus the Coyote programme was triumphant.

To-day the two houses went into the election and there was not a break in the Republican ranks; each term was carried on the first ballot.

The Democrats were consistent in their course and nominated Nelson Plato as one of their candidates. Plato is a carpet-bagger of the very worst type, and a man of questionable character. Plato raised one envelope of whisky on the strength of being the Mayor of Corpus Christi —what will the reputation of being the Democratic candidate for the United States bring him.

Gov. Davis will go to Corpus Christi this week, and in the course of fourteen days arrive in San Antonio with his family.
All is well.

FLAKE makes this remark on Gen. Reynolds's letter in reference to the U. S. Senatorship:
This statement is not a correct showing of the matter to which it alludes. We know that it is not, and publicly ask Gen. Reynolds to permit us to publish his private conversation with the editor of this paper, for the purpose of showing that it is not a fair statement of his own wishes in regard to being a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

If any body else had made this statement, we would ask for an explanation. But as to Flake: shoo fly, don't bother us.

We do not doubt that Flake patted the General on his shoulders, and held the U. S. Senatorship before his eyes to catch a little public pap as reward; we know enough of Flake and his love for money to be sure he tried such a game, and we now fully understand his wrath at the General for not having succeeded therein; but as to the General over-having committed himself to Flake, concerning matters of importance, we say: shoo fly, don't bother us.

Morgan C. Hamilton's Speech Before the Joint Session in the Legislature.

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES: I am glad of this opportunity to express my thanks and gratitude for the compliment you have paid me in the result of the election of yesterday. I do not suppose that either the country or the parties elected will misinterpret the significance of the election. It means economy in the administration of public affairs; it means law and order in place of the revolver and bowie knife.

It means that law shall prevail in this country to the exclusion of mob rule (applause.) It means a new civilization; it means industry and the development of the resources of this great country in all the forms which a liberal economy should give to improvement and prosperity. But in order to have prosperity we must first have peace. We have not had peace since 1860. We are now in a condition to assist not only the will of the loyal people of the State, but the will of the people of this nation. I hope to find that the laws of the country will be not only upon our lips, but exist in our lives and conduct, and that they will be enforced readily and to the fullest extent.

We are expecting immigrants into this State not only from the States in Europe, but from the various States of the Union. We are now getting a population into the State, but gentlemen, it is the worst population that we could have. It is from the neelected States mostly. I hope and trust that this body will inaugurate such measures as will bring immigrants, not only from the west and southern States, but from the east and north as well. We need this character of population to give stability to our government. It rests at present upon a slender basis.

Still a great many persons feel exceedingly anxious about internal improvements, and some fears have been expressed in my hearing by gentlemen, that so far as I was concerned, internal improvements would not find an advocate in me. Gentlemen, they are mistaken in that. (Applause.) I have had some share in trying to protect the public money, the school fund and the public lands of this country from waste and utter ruin. I may have been mistaken in my calculations. I have got, perhaps, one or two hundred miles of railroad to answer for the large appropriations of public money of this country which have been squandering during the last fifteen years. Now, I have a notion, from information I have received, that but for the provisions in the new constitution, we should have had any amount of money and lobbyists here this winter to test the strength of the Legislature of Texas. I believe their strength would be wasted if they came. I think this body is proof against bribery and treachery. (Applause.) I have seen papers floating around asking the people of this State to set aside these provisions of the constitution.

Well, it does not become me just now, being at present in the attitude of a representative of this people, to check out a line of policy. It rests with these gentlemen, here assembled to do it. Whenever you have laid down what you intend to be the prevailing policy of this State, it is a matter of duty to obey. (Applause.) I will follow the line of policy you adopt with what strength and aid and assistance I can to achieve the result desired by the people of this State. I mean the loyal people of this State, mark you. (Applause.) I am addressing them just now, and I am including that class every solitary human being in this State who feels that he belongs to the Government of the United States. (Applause.) Men who war against that Government, and who stand opposed to progress, to order, to law, and to provisions of the Constitution, can claim nothing as our hands except protection against the mobs of the State. They are mistaken to that. Peace should reign over this country. It don't make any difference who tries to disturb it; but when we are talking about chalking out a line of policy with regard to the administration of public affairs in this country, it is the province of the men who are in power to inaugurate this policy and carry it out.

Gentlemen, I did not expect when I arose here to talk for this length of time. Really, I had nothing to say except to express my thanks to the gentlemen of both Houses for the compliment conferred upon me in my election yesterday. I beg leave again to retire at this point.

I have to say now, in conclusion, that I expect to leave in a few days for Washington, and I shall go and do everything that I can to carry out the wishes of the government of Texas as embodied in these tion of these bodies, and the will of the people as expressed in the Constitution of our State. When I have done that I shall retire and ask such an appreciation as some of you may feel inclined to confer upon me for the duties which I may have performed. (Applause.) I add now, in conclusion, that I do not consider it any great deal of work, and I propose to do the work with all the strength and humble ability that I possess. (Applause.)

The Opera Bouffe in Stamboul.

The road to civilization and progress is being opened out in the East, and can be attributed chiefly to the extreme liberality displayed by the Viceroy in Egypt in the recent opening of the Suez Canal. No efforts were spared in order to afford his numerous guests every amusement and pastime that money could obtain. Opera bouffe, with all its seductions, was not forgotten, and soon proved the weak point of the Mohammedans. The success it obtained in Cairo was signal. The looseness of the acting, combined with pure simplicity of costume, was too much for the sedate old Egyptians, and in face of their traditional decorum they allowed themselves to be led away by enthusiasm. The far-famed Arabian Tales, with all their accompaniment of mystery and enchantment, which for ages have enraptured the masses, were stale. Here was something tangible, an actuality—something that could be heard and seen. From Cairo the news soon spread to Stamboul, and the fat old Turks, not desiring to give too great a shock to public opinion, arranged a private performance. “La Belle Helene” was the piece selected, and the artists were French, and well selected. The performance tickled the humor of the audience, but when the cane was performed then even the “faithful” could not restrain their feelings, and soon all were joining in the dance to their hearts content. Such was the effect upon the favored few that when the performance closed they all went their ways humming the enchanting airs, and “Bu qui savate, Bu qui savate,” is now the popular melody among True Believers. Carions as it may seem, there is no doubt that wonderful changes will ere long follow each other in quick succession, and a few weeks of opera bouffe may effect more than the practice of more serious measures for centuries.

A poor Newark German woman recently became a wealthy heiress by the murder of her mother and uncle.

MR. G. T. CURTIS'S
LIFE OF DANIEL WEBSTER.
This Great National Work, written in full filment of Mr. Webster's testamentary injunctions, will be published in two volumes, 5vo, 600 pages each, illustrated with elegant Steel Portraits of Mr. Webster, and fine wood cuts of different views of Franklin and at Marshfield.

Extracts from a three column leader in "The World" of November 6th.
As soon as Mr. Curtis's work is published, the present generation will have a much fuller and more completely rounded conception of this extraordinary than was possessed by his immediate coten pariers.
Mr. Curtis's volumes abound throughout with illustrations of the great depth of Webster's emotional nature. It had nothing palling, nothing merely sentimental—the mass of his deeply a mould for that—Lut, when his heart was profoundly stirred, it was like the opening of the windows of Heaven and the breaking up of the Lulliana of the great deep.

From the "Journal of Commerce" written by Mr. W. C. Prime.
Mr. George Ticknor Curtis's life of Daniel Webster will meet a warm welcome from the American public.
The Author does not write as a Politician, and were the book issued without the name of any editor, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to ascertain from any thing in it what a true and political alliance. The plan of the biographic sketch is such that which a constant companion and friend might have had out. It introduces a stranger to the entire life of a great man, not only in public but in private, and abounds with graphic illustrations of his letters, his perseverance, his successes, his sorrows, and his sources of joy. We close the first volume with great satisfaction, feeling that the life of the illustrious New Englander has been written as he himself would have approved of it.

Extract from the "Boston Courier" Nov. 15.
Mr. Curtis has produced not only a biography of marvellous interest, but one of extraordinary merit in a literary point of view.
Edward Everett expressed the just idea of the influence and importance of Webster, public services, in Faneuil Hall, in 1852. "Whoever in after times," said he, "shall write the history of the United States, for the last forty years, will write the life of Daniel Webster; and whoever writes the life of Daniel Webster, as it ought to be written, will write a history of the Union from the time he took a leading part in its concerns."
It may be considered great praise, but we think that Mr. Curtis has written "the life of Daniel Webster" as it ought to be written.

This work, of which the first volume is now published (the second will be ready in March), is sold by subscription only, and the price is $5 00 per volume.
Subscriptions may be given our authorized Agents, or sent direct to us.

Local Intelligence.

We learn that Governor Davis will arrive in San Antonio on the 10th day of March, on his way back to Austin.

Two negroes, suspected of horse stealing, have been arrested and placed in jail. They hail from below.

The second concert of the Tyrolean singers, takes place to-night. Of yesterday's concert we will speak fully in our next issue.

The weather is still hot and dry, with a strong wind from the west. All long for a good rain, and if appearances do not deceive us, it is to come within the next few days.

SENATOR HERTZBERG and Representatives Locke and Zoeller, arrived yesterday morning from Austin. Their reports from the Capital coincide with those of Senator Fountain. The expectations of good and speedy work in the Legislature, are promising, and the new era of Texas is fast approaching. All look well, having evidently improved in health by the mountain air of Austin.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of a call yesterday morning from the Hon. J. A. Fountain, Senator 30th District, who arrived with the stage from Austin. We are glad to see the Senator look so hearty and healthy; his report from Austin is encouraging in the highest degree. Loyalty is on the increase, and the new administration works splendidly. We hope Senator Fountain will enjoy his stay among us.

Facts for the Ladies.

I have one of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machines, which has been in constant use for the past fifteen (15) years. It has never been repaired, and to-day is in perfect order, and is equal for all kinds of work to any machine I have yet seen. It has been used in making heavy clothing, beside doing all manner of family sewing, and I think it gets better every day.

Ask the Ladies Maids and they will tell you that PHALON'S VITALIA OR SALVATION FOR THE HAIR is the favorite article for reviving the natural tinge of bleached or fading ringlets. Clear as fluid glass, wholesome to the skin as water, uncolorable by the light, without any mineral odor and yielding no sediment, it defies competition and coars comparison.

The End of Four Great Men.

The four conquerors who occupy the most conspicuous places in the history of the world are Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar, and Bonaparte. Alexander, after having climbed the dizzy height of his ambition, with his temples bound with chaplets dipped in the blood of millions, looked down upon a conquered world, and wept that there was no other world for him to conquer, set a city on fire, and died in a scene of debauch.

Hannibal, after having, to the astonishment and consternation of Rome, passed the Alps, and having put to flight the armies of the mistress of the world, and stripped "three bushels of gold rings from the fingers of her slaughtered knights, and made her foundations quake, fled from his country, being hated by those who once exultingly united his name to that of their god, and called him Hami-Baal; and died at last by poison administered by his own hand, unlamented and unwept, in a foreign land.

Caesar, after having conquered eight hundred cities, and dyeing his garments in the blood of his foes, after having pursued to death the only rival he had on earth, was miserably assassinated by those he considered his nearest friends, and in that very place the attainment of which had been his greatest ambition.

Bonaparte, whose mandates kings and popes obeyed, after having filled the earth with terror of his name, after having deluged Europe with tears and blood, and clothed the world in sackcloth, closed his days in lonely banishment, almost literally exiled from the world, yet where he could sometimes see his country's banner waving over the depot, but which did not and could not bring him aid.

F. Flake, that contemptible sneak who assumes to be an editor when he has not the ability to write one sentence correctly, cut the Union and San Antonio Express from his exchange list, and said he would never read or allow any paper with which the editor of either paper had anything to do to enter his door, and yet he asked for an exchange with the Austin Journal, and has been, and still is sending his Bulletin to that office, but nary Journal does he receive, and if the court knows itself he never will, neither the Express or Union.—Houston Union.

An Ordinance.

Re-enacting and annulling an ordinance concerning payments made in Confederate money, or other worthless paper, on account of the principal and interest due upon lands sold by the city of San Antonio, to divers persons, &c., passed on the 16th day of January, A. D. 1869. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of San Antonio:

SECTION 1. That the ordinance passed on the 16th day of January, A. D. 1866, and hereafter published, in reference to payments made in so called Confederate currency, &c., be re-enacted with the following modifications and amendments thereof, to-wit:

That all persons interested, their agents or assignees, are hereby required to settle with Messrs. Davis & Murphy within ninety days, from and after the publication of this Ordinance, the entire amount due to the City of San Antonio, on principal and interest on lands purchased from said city on fifty years credit, the payment of which having been made in so called Confederate currency, since the 1st day of April, A. D. 1861, with whom, said Davis & Murphy, the claims as above stated are placed for settlement, and upon the presentation of their receipts for the payment of said principal and interest, in U. S. currency, the city will execute the final title to said parties.

SEC. 2. That all persons who owe interest for lands purchased from the city of San Antonio, on fifty years credit, and have failed to pay the same, are hereby notified that the aforesaid firm has been employed by the city of San Antonio, to institute legal proceedings against all delinquents on said interest, from and after the 1st day of May, A. D. 1870, in case such interest have not been paid in U. S. currency, to said city, up to said date.

SEC. 3. That this ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage.

Passed, January 31st, A. D. 1870. Published February 2, A. D. 1870. WM. C. A. THIELEPAPE, Mayor of the City of San Antonio.

Attest: MARTIN H. CAMPBELL, City Secretary.

The ordinance above referred to and passed on January 16th, 1866, reads as follows:

AN ORDINANCE.

Concerning payments made in Confederate money or other worthless paper, on account of the principal and interest due upon lands sold by the city of San Antonio to divers persons, declaring the instrument of writing purporting to be deeds from the city of San Antonio for said lands, to be null and void, and allowing credits on account of said principal and interest for the market value of the amounts paid at the time of payments.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of San Antonio:

SECTION 1. That the city of San Antonio does not recognize the act or acts of any person or persons, claiming to act as officers of said city, from the 1st day of April, A. D. 1861, until the 16th day of October, 1865, in receiving in the name of said city, the Bonds, Treasury Notes, or currency of the late Confederate Government, worthless paper, purporting to be city scrip of said city, issued during that time in payment of the principal and interest, or either of them, due to the said city upon lands sold by said city, or in assuming to act in the name of said city in signing or executing instruments of writing purporting to be releases or conveyances from said city for such lands, or receipts for such pretended payments; and that all such pretended releases, conveyances and receipts, are hereby declared to be null and void.

SEC. 2. That to avoid any seeming injustice to those persons who have acted innocently and in good faith in making any such payments since the 1st day of April, A. D. 1861. All such persons as have paid to any person or persons acting as officers of said city, any such bonds, treasury notes, currency or scrip on account of the principal and interest, or either, due upon the lands heretofore sold by this city, shall, upon presentation and delivery to the Mayor of his, or their receipts, for such payments, together with such instruments of writing purporting to be releases or conveyances from this city, within three months after the passage of this ordinance and shall at the same time surrender such instruments of writing for cancellation, shall receive from the Mayor of this city a receipt on account of the actual market value of the bonds, treasury notes, currency or scrip so paid by such person or persons at the time of the payment thereof; provided, that such person or persons shall at the same time execute and deliver to the Mayor, an instrument of writing wholly cancelling and annulling the writings heretofore executed and delivered to such person or persons by persons acting in the name of this city, as aforesaid, and putting this city in the same position, with the same price and charge upon such lands as before such payments.

SEC. 3. That in case any person or persons having delivered his, or their, receipts, and instruments of writing as mentioned in the 2d. section of this ordinance shall be dissatisfied with the amount of credit allowed him on them by the Mayor thereon, and shall refuse to receive from the Mayor a receipt for such amount, and to cancel such instruments of writing; then in that case the Mayor shall deliver back to such person or persons, the original receipts, and instruments of writing so delivered by him, or them, as aforesaid, and that therefor such receipts and instruments of writing shall be null and void.

SEC. 4. That it shall be the duty of the City Attorney, after the expiration of three months from the passage hereof to commence all necessary suits in the proper courts, for the cancellation of such instruments of writing, as have not been surrendered, up, and cancelled according to the provisions hereof, and for the recovery of the principal and interest, due to this city upon such bonds.

SEC. 5. That this ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage.

PLANTATION BITTERS

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day the best and purest tonic, and the most popular medicine in the civilized world—he sure and get the genuine. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.
