BY THE DEAN OF CANTERBURY.
I know not if or dark or bright
Shall be my lot;
If that within my hopes delight
Be best or not.
It may be mine to drag for years
Foil's heavy chain;
Or, day and night, my meat be tears
On bed of pain.
Dear faces may surround my hearth
With smiles and glee;
Or I may dwell alone, and mirth
Be strange to me.
My bark is wafted from the stand
My breath divine,
And on the helm there rests a hand
Other than mine.
One, who has known in storms to sail,
I have on board,
Above the raging of the gale
I have my Lord.
He holds me when the billows smite;
I shall not fall.
If sharp, 'tis short; if long, 'tis light;
He tempers all.
Safe to the land!—safe to the land!
The end is this!
And then with him go hand in hand
Far into bliss.

Parties.

"Courage," said Mackerey, "is a quality that is never out of fashion, and this is applicable as well to parties as to men. The natural tendency of the two great parties that divide the country is divergent, the one towards progress and reform, the other toward conservatism and stagnation. The so-called Democratic party has dwindled down to a bundle of negations. Its one weary idea, repeated with endless iteration, is 'damn the nigger,' while of definite policy it has not a shred.

The Republican party is bold, aggressive and positive. It has ideas and a policy. It is largely led by men, who were not afraid of risks in defending and asserting their faith, and we predict that a majority of the young and earnest men, who took part in the rebellion, risked life for an idea, and gave to the cause they believed in, all that a man could give, will soon be found in its folds. Positive men are drawn to a positive party.

Those who perfited all for their faith will not long be governed merely by prejudice when they exercise the rights of the citizen; a pig-headed prejudice in favor of everything abandoned and worn out has small attractions for them. While towards the democracy will naturally gravitate the rebel bomb-proofs, those who staid at home, and growled, and made faces at Stanton and Lincoln, our ranks will be swelled by the frank adhesion of the sincere, positive, and self-devoted fighting men of the rebellion, who, though misguided, showed their faith by their works, and who can never rest till they find themselves in line with the party of progress and of positive ideas.

Latest Mexican News.

(Extract from a letter dated Saltillo, February 26.)

The grand political and social revolution which was to regenerate the Republic of Mexico under the style or firm of Aguirre & Co., has only, up to this time resulted in placing a certain quantity of dollars into the pockets of these gentlemen. It is reported that Pancho Aguirre, the leader, is en route for this side of the Rio Grande with the cash. News has been received, that Escobedo had entered San Luis Potosi without any trouble, there being no troops to oppose him. The other leaders of the movement, Pedro Martinez and Garcia de la Cadena, etc., followed on towards Mexico. Aguirre who had remained behind with 200 men was easily routed by Escobedo, and left as above stated. It is feared that Martinez and Garcia de la Cadena will be able to operate their junction with the revolutionists of Puebla and then march to the Capital. The frontier States are quiet up to this date.

The Indian Raid on Bismark.

A few days ago we gave an account of an Indian raid on the new settlement of Bismark, on the Concho. We now learn that only nine animals have been stolen by the savages. Mr Cummings, who was in charge of the animals in said settlement, sent at once to the Military Post for troops; but as they did not arrive in time, he started with seven men in pursuit of the Indians and followed them twenty-five miles, then he found that his force was not sufficient to attack the Indians in case he should overhual them and returned. During four days after the raid he saw Indians around Bismark, showing that the country was full of them.

The President has signed the Omnibus Relief Bill. A good many Texans will consequently feel relieved.

The New York Democracy.

At the election the Democratic party, marshalled by the Tammany chiefs, carried New York against the tremendous popularity of Gen. Grant. The soldier's reputation swept over the country and overthrew every element of democratic strength. Far off in California there was a little successful opposition from local irritation occasioned by the Chinese immigration. In Kentucky and Maryland and Delaware there was a kind of feudal Middle Ages devoted to slavery and the plantation democracy, which still survived the war, something like the whipping post and pillory and lottery wheel, which in those States even yet resist the march of reason and religion. Here in New York we had a liberal, progressive democratic organization, recognizing the lessons of the war and willing to bring itself in line with inevitable events. Upon war issues it made a battle and won it. In the submerging flood which covered the country with radicalism, scarcely leaving a pot large enough for a democratic wave to rest its toe, the democracy of New York remained intact, luminous, organized and triumphant. To New York the country looked for deliverance, and to its democracy the beginning of the reaction, which would enable it to elect General Hancock, or Judge Chase, or some acceptable leader, in 1872.

On the contrary, what do we see? The triumphant army is dissolving into a mob. Here the quarrel is, and it can have but one result. General Grant will be the next Republican candidate for the Presidency, and walk the track as easily as Lincoln did in 1860, when the Democratic party was rent by the ambition of Douglas and Breckenridge. If they cannot hold together in New York, where its power has stood every assault and triumphed in the darkest hours, where can it stand, of what use is it, and why not say its usefulness is over—cut it down as something that cumbereth the ground? This will be the answer of the country to the unseemly quarrels that now disgrace the democratic councils at Albany. The wisdom and patience and moderation of General Grant, especially his financial policy, will strengthen the Republican party. The folly of the democracy will make him a representative radical candidate, and the radicals will profit by the weakness and unholy ambition now shown at Albany to sweep the country with Grant, and re-elect him by even a larger majority than he received in 1868.—N. Y. Herald.

Southern Progress.

It is a matter of congratulation to see our Southern country again assuming the appearance of prosperity. Emigration into our own State is on the increase that must soon fill up our vacant lands with an industrious agricultural population that will make it one of the wealthiest States in the Union. Manufactures are beginning to spring up in various sections of our vast territory. Improved implements of industry for agricultural pursuits are daily being introduced—and everything bids fair to make the Southern States more prosperous than ever. Instead of desponding over our political troubles and the impoverishments of the late unhappy war, let us go to work with a hearty good will; with the firm determination to succeed in all our undertakings, and we may depend upon it we will succeed. Wealth will pour in on us—and wealth is power; then what may we not accomplish in a few years by turning our attention to the peaceful pursuits of every-day life? Everything—prosperity, riches and a political power that will have a commanding influence on our future welfare. In political affairs we are excluded, but the time will come—must come—when we will be heard in the councils of the nation, and with a voice that will carry its influences. Never despair—"the darkest hour is just before day,"—stick to your old homes, go to work, and the bright streaks of a beautiful morning will soon dawn upon the present dark night of political misery.

Some idea of the immense influx into our State may be formed when we take into consideration that eleven hundred wagons passed through Shreveport, La., a short time since, in one day, carrying families, agricultural implements, and all the materials to open new farms. At this rate we must become the most populous and powerful State in the confederacy. The emigrants coming in are of the pure Caucasian race, and the time will come when the political influence of this Empire State will be mighty.—Indianola Bulletin.

A New Hampshire wag prints this paragraph in a local paper:

"A man in a certain town a few days since ate fifteen dozen raw oysters on a wager. The silver trimmings alone on his coffin cost twelve dollars and thirty-five cents."

Two Freedwomen Foully Murdered in Bastrop.

From authentic sources we learn that on Saturday night last a party of colored persons had assembled to have a social dance at a house near the ferry. During the night the two men, Marshall, Eli Stallions, entered the room, dragged out a freedman by the name of Sol. Reeves, and commenced beating and abusing him. While thus engaged, an unknown man fired at the struggling parties and killed Stallions. As soon as the fact became known a company of men, armed to the teeth, surrounded the house, entered and shot a freedman by the name of Tony Kendall, and two freedwomen, Matilda and Lucy Smith. Those not killed outright are mortally wounded and probably dead before this time. The murderers are still at large, and as far as can be learned, no movement has been made for their arrest.—State Journal.

Is it any wonder that the Democracy have lost the confidence of the country, when such utterances as the following find place in their leading organs. No copy from the Chicago Times of the 24th February:

So was there a time when this nation regarded everything connected with Washington—the Horatius who kept our bridge—with reverence and love? The great apostasy has swept him to oblivion, and strange and hideous gods are set up for the people to worship. Brown, a crazy idiot, ripe for the mad-house, takes the place of a dethroned Christ. Lincoln, blasphemous and jocular to the jaws of a sudden death, by a daring radical opothosis, sits crowned in heaven's highest court. Stanton, so wicked in life that the evil one must have trembled at his own doing, as Spinello is said to have quaked before a picture of the devil of his own painting—Stanton is placed within the pantheon of devout Republicans.

This writer forgets that there is no document of modern date more pronounced in its intense hatred of slavery and States rights than the last will and testament of this same George Washington.

A young gentleman at Charles City, Iowa, sent seventy-five cents to New York recently, for a method of writing without pen or ink. He received the following inscription, in large type, on a card: "Write with a pencil."

Heavy rains in California give almost certain assurance of abundant crops.

The Sandwich Islands have sent immigration agents to China.

FINANCIAL.

GOLD.—Gold is steadily tumbling down. The last quotations in New York is 108 1/2.

HON. IRA H. EVANS, Speaker of the House of Representatives, is expected to arrive in company with Governor H. J. Davis.

THE Concert of the Tyrolean singers, which was to come off yesterday, as announced by handbills and advertisements, has been postponed, on account of bad weather, to Sunday next.

CONCERT.—The first concert of the Tyrolean singers takes place to-night. Sunday will be their last concert, and we invite all who have not heard them yet, to come and enjoy the most interesting music.

ARRIVALS AT MENOR HOTEL.—Wm. F. Spurgin, U. S. A.; E. E. Rasmussen, St. Louis; J. H. Taylor, Wm. Gibson, Austin; Sam. T. Spencer, Indiana; L. J. Gault, Austin; John Howley, Galveston; G. H. Noonan, Castroville.

WEATHER.—All indications are that we shall have a good rain within the next few days. The sky is dark with clouds, and east winds prevail; but we are afraid a new norther will spring up before the drops come down. After seven fat years we may prepare for some dry ones.

MASKED BALL.—A grand masked ball will take place on Saturday next, at the Casino Hall. As the Casino is a private association, only members and their guests are admitted.

AUSTIN STAGE.—The Austin stage is now regularly coming in between 10 and 11 o'clock at night. If it would leave an hour earlier in the morning, say at 6 o'clock, a. m., it ought to be here at 9 o'clock, p. m.

GENERAL REYNOLDS.—General Reynolds will be here on Saturday next. At his last presence in San Antonio, he was offered a supper and hall, which he refused. This time he will participate in the supper to be given to Governor Davis.

SOCIAL EQUALITY.—The Herald is lately in favor of social equality. While we assert that all men are equal before the law, and have equal political rights, the Herald goes one step farther and declares in favor of social equality. As a general rule every man has a right to select the company he wishes to move in, and we do not object to the choice the Herald may make; as far as we are concerned, we claim equal rights with the Herald. When we are ready to associate with him, we'll let him know; when the Herald thinks proper to associate with the colored population, the Herald is the last man to prevent it; nor will any man talk about social equality induce us to abandon the principle that has grown up with us to socially associate with those who are our equals in education and social standing, without regard to race or color.

The Demand Tells the Story.—From all directions orders for PHALON'S VITALIA OR SALVATION FOR THE HAIR come pouring in. All the noxious dyes, go down before it. A year hence they will be unmarketable. The ladies say it is a pleasure to use as a perfumed toilet water, and it is as transparent as crystal. Nothing else reproduces so perfectly the original hue of the hair.

Facts for the Ladies.—My Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine (No. 347) has done the sewing of my family, and a good deal for neighbors, for fourteen years and three months without any repairs. One needle served to do all the sewing for more than four years. W. A. HAWLEY, Syracuse, N. Y.

THE JOURNAL OF EDUCATION.—Grows in value and importance with each succeeding issue. Wm. T. Harris, Superintendent of Schools in St. Louis, discusses the question of the use of the Bible in the Public Schools, under the query: "Who Patronize the Public Schools?" Other articles on "Reading for culture" and Physiology in the School Room, with editorials, news items, etc., etc., make every page of the Journal interesting. Address: J. B. MERWIN, Editor and Publisher, 710 Chestnut Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Proceedings of the City Council

REGULAR MEETING.

MARCH 7, 1870. Present.—His Honor Mayor Thioloape, Aldermen—Messrs. Bell, Groos, Norton, Gamble, Pentenrieder, and Elmendorf. The minutes of the meeting of February 21, 1870, were read and adopted.

A communication from his Honor the Mayor, calling the attention of the Council to several matters of importance for their consideration, and action, was received, and recommendations therein were carried out.

The city officers reports for the month of February, 1870, were presented and referred to the Finance Committee for examination.

Also the several bills were referred to the same committee.

The letter of General Carleton, Commanding Post, complaining of the numerous noisy dogs; the hides on the side walks and streets, and building material obstructing the streets, was read; the letter referred to the Mayor to answer the General, and remedy the evils complained of.

The petition of G. Jaggi regarding the License Tax on Panoramas, ordered by the Council that an annual License Tax of $50 be levied on Mr. Jaggi's Panorama, in consideration of its being of a permanent nature.

The petition of G. Freisleben to be paid $1000 on account of his claims against the city for past services as Surveyor and Engineer, was referred to the Finance Committee, and that said committee make a final settlement with Mr. F., and report at the next meeting.

The Finance committee reported in favor of paying C. Hartnett, Surveyor and Engineer, $95 for surveying Rock Quarries and proposed site to the General Government, report adopted.

His Honor the Mayor stated to the Council the cost of the proposed building for Engine House, Fireman's Hall, &c., to be about $10,000 in coin.

It was moved and carried that the Mayor confer with the committee on Fire Company No. 1, in regard to furnishing the necessary amount of funds to erect said building, if said company can furnish the means. Then the Mayor is authorized to invite bids for the erection of said building, according to the plan and specifications.

The Public Improvement committee reported in favor of widening the bridge on Goliad street, but do not recommend the grading of said street at present.

Board adjourned.

PLANTATION BITTERS

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among tonics.

As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article— a medicinal staple. It is the best and purest tonic, and the most powerful medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.

A NEW DISCOVERY!!

PHALON'S

"VITALIA;"

OR,

Salvation for the Hair.

For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the "dyes," "colorers," and "restorers" (Y) in use. It acts on a totally different principle. It is limpid, fragrant, and perfectly innocuous, precipitates no muddy or flacculent matter, requires no shaking up, and communicates no taint to the skin or the linen. No paper curtain is necessary to conceal its turbid appearance, for the simple reason that it is not turbid. It is, to all intents and purposes, a NEW DISCOVERY in Toilet Chemistry.

Phalon's "VITALIA" is warranted to effect a change in the color of the hair within 10 days after the first application, the direction being carefully observed.

IT IS AS CLEAR AS WATER AND HAS NO SEDIMENT.

Price, One Dollar per Box, containing two bottles.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

If your Druggist has not "Vitalia" on hand, write, enclosing $1.00, and we will forward it immediately.
