The Adjutant General's Report.

We are in receipt of the report of James Davidson, adjutant general of the State, covering all transactions from the date of his entering upon his office, June 24th 1870, to the 31st of December. For force, condensation and handling of important subjects that have come under his observation, we have never seen a more perfect document. The general opens his report by showing the death of statistics in his office, upon his taking charge, particularly of statistics concerning the volunteer organizations in the service of the government during the late war.

TELEGRAPHIC.

SPECIAL TO THE SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10—Gen. J. R. West elected United States Senator on first ballot by a large majority. There is much rejoicing among Governor Warmoth's friends over this signal victory.

tirely from the command, as well as the substitution of these troops. The suggestion is eminently proper at this hour. The State department is fully competent to control its rangers, and the demands upon them; and tactics needed are so entirely divergent from those of the demands and discipline of the United States army. In six months they have proved their worth, and no complaints have been made of either their efficiency or discipline, but on the contrary, the people have received them with open arms. It were well to leave them free to act as State emergency troops; so we second the idea of the adjutant general, with all our heart.

The report closes the military subjects with the following statement: 'The routine work of the adjutant general's department has been very great, more than two thousand communications having been received, recorded and answered within the past five months; besides reports and returns from the frontier forces, upon matters pertaining to the quartermaster, subsistence and ordnance departments; reports of enrollment of the militia and State guards, by the sheriffs of the different counties; issuing commissions, &c., to officers, have served to increase the volume of work to such an extent as to render it impossible with my present limited clerical force, to keep the correspondence and labor of the office complete to date. I trust that speedy action may be had in this particular.'

We venture to assert that in no other State in the Union, is the adjutant general paid so meagrely; himself and his clerical assistant, and yet so much demanded of them. If Gen. Davidson was of the ordinary stripe, and was willing to shirk many of the responsibilities of his office, the small help he receives might serve a purpose, but with his ambition, his endurance and energy, we think the least that can be done is to give him assistance to carry out the plans which he has prepared, and which so admirably suit the necessities of the times, and tend to the material welfare of our State.

Taken as a whole, the report of General Davidson will be perused by everybody with great interest. He goes into no elaboration of subjects, but tersely puts each subject in a nut shell; yet so plain and forcible is the situation of affairs delineated, that our entire people cannot fail but accord to him encomiums of the highest character for the change in the situation for the better, since his induction into office. In our next issue we promise the report accompanying the one just given, upon the State police. Its exposition of their workings, and the good they have accomplished, is even more absorbing in its interest, than the details of military affairs. Want of space prohibits our publishing it, with this issue.

NEVER have we seen such a weary, disgusted looking set of politicians as the few chosen spirits, who not long since wended their way to Seguin to make a nomination; had a coalition ring welded in their noses, and now find that the fish they expected to bite, went nibble, or at least foils around the conservative hook in such a manner that they are in doubt as to whether they are likely to catch a genuine party fish, or a sucker. Had the inexperienced manipulators of quakers conservative thought for a moment in the zenith of all their glory, they might have known that the Austin ring would afford no possible individual, who would not, if he could, literally drain both the country and the people, of the last vestige of money, rights, or liberties. The experience of the past is a bitter one to San Antonio, but the fusionists profit not by it.

GENERAL JAMES DAVIDSON will please accept our thanks for a handsomely prepared copy of his report as adjutant general, and chief of police. Its value as a logical and practical comment upon our State, and its change under Davis' administration, is incalculable. We believe the General fully as accomplished a statesman as he is a soldier, and his reputation as the latter is a proud and gallant one. Fortunate, indeed, do we consider the State that secures his services.

back to first principles, forgetting force has ever been resorted to as a painful necessity to preserve them; what was a bitter medicine should not be turned into daily food. Washington, 10—Potomac frozen again last night. House—Ten minute speeches on Dominican affairs—full of sound and fury. Senators—Petitions presented by Lewis of Virginia, and Flanagan of Texas, for removal of disabilities. Yates is haranguing the Senate in favor of 10th amendment mentioning God. NEW YORK, 10—Cotton, Uplands 15; Orleans 15; Gold 104-11.

Thiers in Trouble.

It is unfortunate for Mr. Thiers in his present position that he ever wrote history. A German paper lately discovered in his published works an argument which, with the substitution of new names, justifies Germany annexing a slice of the enemy's territory, and now the same writer, pursuing his researches, finds equally strong justifications of Bismarck's refusal to allow the revictualing of Paris. In 1796, while Bonaparte was besieging Mantua, with no hope of reducing the fortress but by famine, an armistice was proposed, to include the revictualing of the fortress. Bonaparte objected, and his reasons were excellent, says M. Thiers in his history: 'The other advantages of the armistice, for the sake of which the capture of Mantua would have been delayed, were insignificant, while the armistice plainly put this result in jeopardy. Mantua, full of sick and placed on half rations, could have held out a month as longest. The means of subsistence introduced during the armistice would have restored health and strength to the garrison. The quantity of them could not have been exactly measured; the commandant might, by economy, have drawn from them the means for a perfectly new resistance; all our former victories would have been fruitless; we should have had, after the interval, to begin all over again.'

The application of this reasoning to the cause of Paris must convince Thiers at least that Bismarck was right in refusing to revictual Paris.

Whiskey and Milk—Sam Houston's Antidote—For Democrats Only. Your paper recently has published some incidents about Thos. Hart Benton, and other distinguished statesmen of the past, which do not appear in the published records of them. Now let me give you one about "Sam Houston, of Texas," which has never, I believe, met print. He was a contemporary with Mr. Benton, and hence the notice is pat. The secret of Houston's resignation of the Governorship of the State of Tennessee three days after marrying a young wife, has never been revealed. He did so, went among the Indians, and became a great Chief, and only reappeared when Texas was struggling for independence. But to the incident:

In 1852 Houston, then a United States Senator, had aspirations to the Presidency. The delegates stopping in Washington on their way to Baltimore (among whom was your correspondent) were invited to meet him at his rooms at his hotel. On one of these occasions some one asked Houston: "General, you say you have been a very hard drinker; how is it, then, that at your present age, and all you have passed through you present so strong and hale an appearance?" "Are there any Whigs present?" replied the gentleman who had interrogated him, "there are none." "Then," said Houston, "I will give the panacea against drink for the benefit of the rising young men who are Democrats; but it will never do for the Whigs to learn it. It is a quart of milk at daylight in the morning, fresh from the cow."

A Wisconsin editor saw an Indian woman totting a quarter of venison, twin papoose, a jug of whiskey and a wigwam, and asks, "How is that for Lo?"

Local Intelligence.

The advertisement of Dr. Doster's...
SPECIAL POTATOES are to be found at all stores.
Butter is scarce at forty-five cents per pound.
Fresh oysters are becoming a necessity rather than a luxury with the bon vivants.
GAMES of all kinds is abundant—turkeys, deer, ducks, &c.
Duerler's, at the San Pedro Springs, is becoming a fashionable place of resort. The race track there is one inducement Duerler's good nature and good cheer another.
The work at the mill near the foot bridge is assuming a definite shape. The entire wall of the mill race is being constructed.
A MEETING of the members of the Agricultural, Industrial and Stock Raising Association of Western Texas will be held this evening, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. Members are urged to be present and participate in the election. See notice elsewhere.
The best Machine soap outfit, all numbers up to 200, to be had at the Machine Depot, 63 Commerce street, opposite Louis Zork's.
This spell of clear weather is bringing in all the trains that have been hopelessly laid up on the road, waiting for a dry spell. We counted sixty-four cars yesterday during the day, that made their way in from the lower roads. Until the throwing of the transportation over one bridge, we had no conception of the amount of carrying performed by these ex cars. Except as to time, they beat railroads all to pieces.
For Coughs, Bronchitis, and consumption in its early stages, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's All-Ex or Golden Medical Discovery. It is also a great blood purifier and strength restorer, and for "Liver Complaint" and Costive Conditions of the Bowels it has no equal. Sold by druggists.
HONESTY is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. AYER'S SERRAVALLE is a genuine preparation of that unequalled spring medicine and blood purifier, doubtless superior to the poor imitations heretofore in the market. Trial proves it.
A SOUTHERN TRAGEDY. No medicine ever offered to the people has won for itself such a reputation in so short a time, as DR. TUFF'S PERFECTOR. Wherever it has been introduced, it has expunged all other cough remedies. It not only cures the cough, but so thoroughly purifies the lungs, that no trace of its return need be apprehended.
The mails are again behind hand about a week. It is fast becoming a question with contractors on the lower routes, whether they will deliver the mails at all or not. They believe they could draw their pay anyhow. We will encourage them a little. We believe they could. Our commercial interests, financial interests, and even our interest in learning patience and resignation, all suffer from the outrages of a set of irresponsible tool-men, who have exhausted almost every means to worry, vex and annoy the people who are taxed to pay them exorbitant rates for carrying (?) mails, carried only in imagination.
THE ORDER OF THE DAY. A general order for Sazo-dont. In the teeth of all opposition it has become the supreme doctrine of the age.
No impurity can infect the tooth cleaned daily with Sazo-dont. Quillay, the bark of the Chilian Soap Tree, an article which possesses cleansing properties superior to those of any other known substance, is one of the ingredients of this precious compound. Sazo-dont is the only dentifrice in existence in which this salutary botanical product is incorporated.
"Spalding's Glue," handy about the house—worth every cent.
The new card of Mr. H. Grenet appears elsewhere, and as usual, is of great interest to purchasers of staple articles and family supplies, second to none. The stock of liquors kept by that gentleman is also a specialty, in the line of trade, and is of the purest quality.
In store, and constantly arriving, are immense quantities of everything that can possibly be demanded by either local or country trade, and at prices that defy competition.
We took advantage of a few leisure hours Saturday, and went into the country on a hunt. We had glorious sport, and secured all the weary folks, who grow discontented with the dock and pen, in the recreation. We visited our friend Ashley, at the "house by the mill," at Mission San Juan, and found in him the same price of hospitality that on former occasions has placed us under many obligations to life. In fact, we have never heard of that person who visited that neighborhood but what was a recipient of some act of kindness from the amiable host and his most excellent lady. We left his place with feelings of regret, we returned to town feeling much improved by the short recreation, and found a surprise awaiting us, in the shape of a present from our excellent friend, Mr. H. Grenet, who had sent to our domicile a splendid supply of the good things of life, with his compliments. We were really in doubt as to whether all this good fortune could come

Having for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all places in this continent for this purpose is winter in Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subjected to such variations as in more Northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there, whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well. One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Mechanicsville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mechanicsville. It is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite, and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh, and then the cure must heal. Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature, and it is not necessary to say that where consumptives, prison exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly. Therefore my advice is, go well down into the State out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, enlarged bowels, sore throat or cough, but for those whose lungs are diseased a more southern is earnestly recommended. For fifteen years prior to 1859, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully, and hence, my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schonck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold. In Florida, nearly all are using Schonck's Medicine, especially Schonck's Mandrake Pills, for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption especially of the southern part. On the whole, the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States it does not prevail so largely, still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh cold as they are about scarlet fever, small pox, &c. But they are not. They take what they term a little cold, which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope for cure. My advice to persons whose lungs are affected even slightly is, to lay in a stock of Schonck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schonck's Sea-

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected even slightly is, to lay in a stock of Schonck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schonck's Sea-wood Tonic, and Schonck's Mandrake Pills, and go to Florida. I recommend these medicinal medicines because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that these they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required. The physician who prescribes for the benefit of his patients, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long. My plan is to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a fresh Mandrake Pills necessary. My object is to give tone to the stomach—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food and the gratification of that relish, come good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs. Then the tough loosen and abates, the creeping chills and clammy night-sweats no longer prostrate and snore, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold. Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point, by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record that Schonck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake pills and Seaweed Tonic, have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by these.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on liver better than calomel, and is none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhoea ensues, a dose of the Mandrake will cure you. If you are subject to sick headaches, take a dose of Mandrake and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night or every other night, and you may then drink water and eat watermelons, pears, apples, plums, peaches or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will put to those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you good only.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No. 15 N. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer describes the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say that when persons take my medicines and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold, yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist.
