AT THE request of many friends we republish the lines below, that have lain in our scrap book for quite a time. It has been the attraction for every mind brought in contact with it. We do not know the author.

LOVE'S BELIEF.
I believe if I should die,
And you should kiss my eyelids when I lie
Cold, dead and dumb to all the world contains,
The folded orbs would open at thy breath.
And from its exiles in the isles of death
Life would come gladly back along my veins.
I believe if I were dead,
And you upon my lifeless heart should tread,
Not knowing what the poor clod chanced to be,
It would find sudden pulse beneath the touch
Of him it ever loved in life so much,
And thro' again, warm, tender, true to these.
I believe if on my grave,
Hidden in woody depths, or by the wave,
Your eyes should drop some warm tears of regret,
From every salty seed of your dear grief Some fair sweet blossom would leap into leaf.
To prove death could not make my love forgot.
I believe if I should fade Into those mystic realms where light is made,
And you should long once more my face to see,
I would come forth upon the hills of night And gather stars like faggots till they light,
Led by the beacon blaze, fell full on me.
I believe my faith in thee,
Strong as my life, so nobly placed
It would as soon expect to see the sun Fall like a dead king from his bright sublime,
His glory stricken from the throne of time,
As the unworthy worship thou hast won.
I believe who had not loved Hath had the treasure of his life unproved.
Like one who with the grape within his grasp,
Drops it, with all its crimson juice un-pressed,
And all its luscious sweetness left unguessed,
Out from his careless and unheeding clasp.
I believe love, pure and true,
Is to the soul a sweet immortal dew
That gems life's petals in its hours of dusk;
The waiting angels see and recognize
The rich crown Jewels love of paradise,
When life falls from us like a withered husk.

MARRIAGE.
There is a disposition among the young men of this day to jeer at the married state as a condition of semi-enslavement, in which a man surrenders half his freedom for a very inadequate consideration—a condition which is full of vulgar cares and destitute of joys—which involves a narrow home, insufficient comforts, restricted liberties, the care of children, domestic difficulties, and a sacrifice of all personal independence. They think it better and wiser to be free from feminine ex-actions, from the possibility of feminine scoldings, from the probability of feminine extravagances, from unromantic household anxieties, and from the incumbrance of children. They would retain the right to come in and go out, as they please, to see the world, to work or play without the spur of domestic difficulties, and to enjoy the luxury of solitude when they desire it, without being disturbed by the complaints of a capricious wife, or the still more disquieting complaints of unsatisfied and insatiable children. But this is the rosy side of the bachelor's life, and does not tell the whole story.
There is another side that is less bright; indeed, it is a picture of dismal cheerlessness, misery and semi-despair. It is a gay and charming thing to be a young bachelor; but bachelors cannot remain always young. The vindictive world has its revenge on them by making the appearance of the first gray hair in their heads, or the first rudimentary wrinkle in their faces a pretext for calling them old, before they are entitled to the honor. Sooner or later, they must become old; and with the departure of youth, vanishes the gaiety and glory of bachel-elordom, without the rich compensations that years bring to the married man.
The bachelor is accustomed to consider himself, and to imagine that others consider him a gay young fellow, till startled from the fond delusion by finding that the real young men of his neighborhood are the school boys of ten years ago, and that, without knowing it, he has become a steady gaited old bachelor. With this discovery comes a despair. His heart is broken at the loss of his youth; his pride and beauty are gone; and he finds himself seeking for comforts and sympathy, without knowing where to find them. This is the crisis of his life. If he is good natured, kindly and companionable, the world will forgive him, and pension him, reserve a chair for him, open its doors to him, show him its children, and make a pleasant old stick of him. If he be selfish and unsympathetic, the world outlaws him, and forces him to seek in vile associations the companionship he covets. Thus a coarse profligacy, or a condition of selfish and miserable isolation is the usual end of bachelorhood.

Marriage has its trials and hardships; but they are, after all, the discipline that a man needs to develop his manhood into a gentle, tender, sympathetic and loving nature.
A wife alone can make a man perfect. She refines and softens the rugged coarseness in him; she teaches him to use his strength and courage for the protection of the timid and weak; she teaches him to live and labor for others as well as himself; she anchors him to one spot, and draws out those rich affections, attachments and tastes that cluster round home, and which home alone can engender; and her quick intuitions preserve him from dangerous enterprises and direct and aid him in judicious schemes, whose results his own sagacity can not foresee. All happily married men lose a part of the masculine character, and become, in many respects, womanly—not by imbibing the weakness, but by contracting the graces of their wives. They grow more cautious, and at the same time, more stern—more sorious, and yet more cheerful—more thoughtful of trifles, and still more intent on great and high objects.
Voltaire wrote many evil things, but what he said about marriage is so truthful and good that we are constrained to copy it. He said:
"The more married men you have the fewer crimes there will be.
Marriage renders a man more vir-tuous and more wise. An unmarried man is but half of a perfect being, and it requires the other half to make things right; and it cannot be expected that in this imperfect state he can keep the straight path of rectitude, any more than a boat with one oar can keep a straight course." In nine cases out of ten, where married men become drunk ards or where they commit crimes against the peace of the community, the foundation of these acts was laid while in a single state, or where the wife is, as is sometimes the case an unsuitable match.
Marriage changes the current of man's feelings, and gives him a center for his thoughts, his affections and his acts. Here is a home for the entire man, and the counsel, the affections, the example and the interest of his better half keep him from erratic courses and from falling into a thousand temptations to which he would otherwise be exposed. Therefore the friend to marriage is the friend to society and to his country."

Senator Latimer's Speech.
He who knows anything of the habits of the porpoise, is aware that this large rotund fish must come occasionally to the surface to blow, and air his dorsal extremity; hence Senator Latimer's speech, a liberal rendering of which is as follows:
*Follow-citizens—*I neither cannot nor will not make no speech, from the simple fact that I have not no speech, nor am I no orator; but I am like Brutus—not the brute ass that I am sometimes taken for—formed and featured after the manner of a two bushel bag with three bushels of ——— packed into it.
And now, Mr. President, a hundred counties look down upon me from the pyramids of my imagination, and there are hundred delegates on this floor who are function-men, whom I knew before I built pyramids; men who used to sit in the halls of our honored Republic, and in the latter-day discussed, conced and settled every question in which a nigger or an abolition was mentioned, with virtue and decourum; but, Mr. President, the hour for eloquence and declamation has passed. "Othello's occupation is gone." What I did, I did. In my day it took four yoke of oxen and a rhinoceros to make a man like me.
I have told you-I was a plain, blunt man—blunt at both ends. Mr.
President, I was always a blunt man; I was blunt when I was an elector; I was blunt when I was an aid-de-camp; and I was blunter when I took the ironclad. But these, Mr. President, were only small departures for a blunt man like me.

An old lady followed up an Episcopal Bishop as he traveled through his diocese, and was confirmed several times before she was detected.
She wished the ordinance repeated, because she had understood it was "good for the rheumatism."

To Grammarians—The verb "is" being singular and "are" its plural does it follow that Arabella is the plural of Isabella, and must the latter necessarily be singular in disposition as in number, and if so, must Arabella always be a married woman, Isabella being single?

THE London Cosmopolitan proposes the following marriage vow for its lady readers, when occasion requires: "I will continue to love my husband so long as he is lovable, honor him so long as he remains honorable, and obey him so long as his commands are just and reasonable."

Policy of the Administration.

In conclusion, I would sum up the policy of the Administration to be a fair and honest enforcement of every law, a fair and honest payment of every debt of the nation, a reduction of the taxes as rapidly as the requirements of the country will admit, the reduction of taxation and tariff to be so arranged as to afford the greatest relief to the people...

AN EPISODE OF THE SIEGE OF PARIS—THE EFFECT OF EATING ANIMALS.

BY CLARENCE F. BUHLER.

The truest story will find some incredulous readers, and perhaps there are some "sage creatures," as Mrs. Gump called them, who will be wicked enough to insinuate that mine should be taken with a grain of salt.

But to begin. Louis Napoleon inaugurated the Franco-Prussian war under the impression that the German was only intrepid in eating cheese, whose odor alone would kill any one else at sixty paces.

But when the powerful Landwehr of King William clubbed their needle-guns, and knocked the Frenchman's legs into a cocked hat, Mr. Napoleon ascertained to his cost that a German could stand the smell of powder as well as that of Limburgh cheese.

A cordon of Prussian steel was soon drawn around Paris, and carrier-pigeons and balloons were its only means of communication with the outside world.

And even these means had their drawbacks, for the balloons were frequently captured by Uhlans, and the pigeons were no less frequently captured by hawks that, being kept for that purpose by the Prussians, were called "Uhlans of the air."

The letters, which were written in cypher, and could only be read with a microscope, were always rolled up and put up inside of a quill plucked from the pigeon's tail and afterwards reinserted.

Every one knows to what extremities the Parisians were reduced through scarcity of food, and how the proverb that "every dog has his day" was exemplified when that animal became an article of luxury in the starving city.

Nay, every cat then had its day; and we may add with perfect truth, every rat. During that crisis an army correspondent of an American paper was quartered for the night in an old mill in the immediate vicinity of Paris.

He was accompanied by several Prussian officers who used the sashes of the upper windows for fuel, and made themselves quite at home over their rations of black bread, sausage and pea soup.

By midnight all were fast asleep on the floor with the exception of the correspondent, who sat by the fire preparing dispatches to be forwarded on the ensuing day.

While thus engaged, he heard a scratching and fluttering sound in the room above, and thoughts of the French guerrillas known as Francis-tireurs instantly flashed through his mind.

the head of the stairs; and he advanced so noiselessly in his stocking-feet that he succeeded in grasping it.

Then came the tug of war. A hawk had captured the pigeon, and entered the room through one of the windows from which the sashes had been torn as aforesaid, in order to devour the prey in his leisure.

Supposing them to be important military dispatches, he took them at once to headquarters, where a stenographer examined them through a microscope and pronounced them to be a letter from a lady in Paris to a friend at Tours.

"PARIS, December 1870.

"MY DARLING—

"In spite of the Chassepot rifle and the mitraillesse I am in duance yile in the starving capital of the French Republic. I believe the word because the Empire is an oppostum that only pretended to be dead in order to rid itself of the Prussian dog.

And although Victor Hugo says the Republic is 'awake' I fear it will soon be ready to take another Nap. But my main object in writing is to tell you about the most remarkable feature of the present siege.

You know I have five children—Sammy, George, Oscar, Jennie and Grace; and I often shuddered as I remembered that He who hears the cry of the hungry raven had not always heard the cry that went up from a famished city.

There is but one thing worse than living on horse-meat, and that is to have no meat at all; and if half the strategy used to obtain food had been employed in outgeneraling Von Moltke and the Crown Prince they would have been in hot water constantly.

Gen. Trochu keeps the Prussians in ignorance of the actual state of affairs and, as "It is a wise child that knows its own father," so it requires a very wise adult to know what he or she is eating in the shape of meat.

"One day, immediately after dinner, my oldest boy, Sammy, was affected in a singular manner. He had always walked in a solemn and deliberate way, as if keeping step to the Dead March. But on this occasion he left the table with a series of jumps, and I supposed him to be in fun until I found it was impossible for him to use any other means of locomotion."

"The next day, after dinner, I noticed a phenomenal change in my son George. He went about spitting on the carpets, and when I remonstrated he got his back up in a strange manner, which was all the unaccountable, because he had always been a pattern boy."

"I would have been less astonished if it had been the mischievous Oscar; but, lo, and behold! after that little rogue had eaten on the succeeding day, he suddenly threw his toys into the stove and became very grave in his demeanor.

And when I found him looking very wise over a book that he was pretending to read through my spectacles, I determined to be surprised at nothing after that.

"It was well I did so; for the next day when I wanted my obedient little Jennie to go in a particular direction, she made it a point to go in an opposite one; and on the ensuing day Grace suddenly acquired a mania for swallowing everything that came in her way.

And when I discovered a rusty nail in her mouth, I thought it time to have these phenomena explained. So I detailed the various symptoms in the five cases to a distinguished physician, who replied as follows:

"Madam, it is a well-known physiological fact that while the system of any person is in a debilitated condition the food eaten by that person modifies his characteristics to a greater or less extent. In order to supply us with meat our provisional government has placed the animals of our Zoological gardens at the disposal of the butcher.

Your son, who was obliged to pump from spot to spot, had eaten a bit of kangaroo; the other one, who spat and got his back up, had been indulging in some cat; and the third one, who looked so wise in spectacles, had eaten owl.

Your daughter, who became so obstinate as to always go in the wrong direction, had dined in the wrong direction, had dined on mule, and the one who displayed such an appetite for old nails, had partaken of ostrich."

"I felt so relieved by this explanation that I at once perpetrated a joke by asking him if the Provisional government was so called because it supplied us with provisions."

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Bexar County—Greeting:

Whereas, the city of San Antonio, a body corporate, within said county, did on the 27th day of August, A. D. 1870, file their petition in my office, alleging as follows, to wit: That one J. H. Lyons did on or about the 15th day of July, A. D. 1853, become the purchaser from said city of lot No. 07 in Range No. 4, and district No. 1, containing one acre, more or less, as described in the plan of said city lands, and thereafter, on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1854, convey into a written agreement of bargain and sale, wherein he bound himself to pay to said city the sum of twenty-three and one-half dollars, in full for said purchase money, payable at the expiration of fifty years, with interest thereon, in equal annual installments, the first installment being payable on the 1st day of February, A. D. 1854, and the subsequent installments on the 1st day of February, A. D. 1855, and so on, in each and every year, during said term of fifty years, and for the purpose of securing the payment of said balance of purchase money, he, by said written agreement, made and acknowledged a special mortgage and vendition over said described lot, stipulating that in case the installments of interest provided for, or any one of them, should not be paid when due, the whole amount of said purchase money should become due and payable, that the interest on said unpaid purchase money due on the 1st day of February, A. D. 1854, and all the subsequent installments due thereafter, have not been paid; that T. S. Rogers and the heirs of said T. S. Rogers now deceased, are the present owners of said described lot, and descended to.

Petitioner prays for citation, for judgment for the said unpaid balance of purchase money, with interest thereon, for the foreclosure of said special mortgage, for the enforcement of all the rights, interest or claims of said T. S. Rogers and the heirs or legal representatives of said T. S. Rogers, deceased, to said described lot, and for costs of suit, etc.; and petitioner hereby gives notice to defendants to produce the original purchase contract.

And W. C. A. Threlkapp, Mayor of said city, having made oath that the names of the heirs, successors, or legal representatives of said T. S. Rogers, now deceased, are unknown to him, and that he is unable to ascertain the residence of said T. S. Rogers, and that there are three lots to be sold from said city common to the unknown heirs, successors or legal representatives of said T. S. Rogers, deceased, and T. S. Rogers, by publication of this notice in the "San Antonio Express" for eight consecutive weeks, previous to the return hereof, to be and appear before the District Court of Bexar County, to be holden in and for said county, at the court house in the city of San Antonio, on the first Monday of June, A. D. 1871, then and there to answer the petition of the said city of San Antonio.

Herein fail not, but of this writ and your proceedings thereon make due return.

Witness, Mortimer Slocum, Clerk of the District Court of Bexar County, and Seal of said Court, at office in San Antonio, this 20th day of December, A. D. 1870.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Bexar.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Bexar County—Greeting:

Whereas, the city of San Antonio, a body corporate within said county, did on the 4th day of January, A. D. 1871, file their petition in my office, alleging as follows, to wit: That one William J. Clarke, now of Newburn, in the State of North Carolina, was on or about the 10th day of March, A. D. 1869, the holder of certain instruments of writing purporting to be Bonds, with interest coupons, issued by said city to the San Antonio and Mexican Gulf Railroad Company, on the 1st day of March, A. D. 1869, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars, or more; the Bonds payable at 20 years, and the coupons semi-annually. That thereafter, and before the filing of this suit, said Bonds and Coupons were placed in the hands of S. G. Newton, of said county of Bexar, who now holds them and claims an interest in them. That said Newton, Bonds and Coupons were issued without authority, and for no consideration, and were fraudulently procured by said railroad company, and came into the possession of said Clarke, as President of said railroad company, with full knowledge of the same. Wherefore, petitioner, represented by W. C. A. Threlkapp, Mayor, having made oath that said W. J. Clarke is not a resident of this State, prays that he may be cited by publication, to appear and answer heretofore, and to appear and answer heretofore, and to appear and answer heretofore, making oath that the answers hereto are material to support the rights of petitioner, and that petitioner knows of no other person by whom the same facts can be proven, prays that said named defendant be required to answer under oath, and categorically, each of the questions put to them, and petitioner prays that on a final hearing of the case, the said Bonds and Coupons be declared null and void; that they be surrendered up to be destroyed, and that petitioner have judgment for costs, for general relief, &c.

Plaintiff's Interrogatories.

1. Did you have any interest in Bonds and Coupons purporting to have been issued by the said city of San Antonio to the San Antonio and Mexican Gulf Railroad Company, signed by C. F. King, Mayor of said city, and bearing date the 1st day of March, A. D. 1869? If yes, state the interest fully, and to what extent does it exist now? Give the numbers in full, together with the amounts of said Bonds and Coupons. When? Where? From whom? and for what purpose did you receive them? And where are said Bonds and Coupons now?

2. Are there not fifty thousand dollars and upwards of the said Bonds and Coupons claimed by you, and in your possession, or in the possession of any one for you? And if not that amount, then to what amount?

3. Did not Henry M. Lewis, deceased, who previous to his death, resided in the said city of San Antonio, have in his possession, on or about the 21st day of March, A. D. 1869, or at any time subsequently, as the property of Wm. J. Clarke, Bonds and Coupons, as aforesaid, amounting to fifty thousand dollars and upwards? And, if not that amount, state the amount; and state particularly the respective numbers, and the amount of the same, and where? and in whose keeping or possession are they now?

4. Did not the said Henry M. Lewis, before the filing of this suit, deliver a large number of the said Bonds and Coupons, represented as the property of William J. Clarke, to the said Wm. J. Clarke? If yes, what were the respective numbers and gross amounts thereof? Designate particularly the face number and amount of each Bond and Coupon, and state what has been done with them; and where and in whose possession are they now?

These are therefore to command you, that you answer the said William J. Clarke by publication of this writ in the "San Antonio Express," for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the Court-house in the city of San Antonio, on the first Monday in February, A. D. 1871, then and there to answer the petition of the said city of San Antonio.

Herein fail not, but of this writ and your proceedings thereon make due return.

That said Newton, Bonds and Coupons were issued without authority, and for no consideration, and were fraudulently procured by said railroad company, and came into the possession of said Clarke, as President of said railroad company, with full knowledge of the same. Wherefore, petitioner, represented by W. C. A. Threlkapp, Mayor, having made oath that said W. J. Clarke is not a resident of this State, prays that he may be cited by publication, to appear and answer heretofore, and to appear and answer heretofore, and to appear and answer heretofore, making oath that the answers hereto are material to support the rights of petitioner, and that petitioner knows of no other person by whom the same facts can be proven, prays that said named defendant be required to answer under oath, and categorically, each of the questions put to them, and petitioner prays that on a final hearing of the case, the said Bonds and Coupons be declared null and void; that they be surrendered up to be destroyed, and that petitioner have judgment for costs, for general relief, &c.

Plaintiff's Interrogatories.

1. Did you have any interest in Bonds and Coupons purporting to have been issued by the said city of San Antonio to the San Antonio and Mexican Gulf Railroad Company, signed by C. F. King, Mayor of said city, and bearing date the 1st day of March, A. D. 1869? If yes, state the interest fully, and to what extent does it exist now? Give the numbers in full, together with the amounts of said Bonds and Coupons. When? Where? From whom? and for what purpose did you receive them? And where are said Bonds and Coupons now?

2. Are there not fifty thousand dollars and upwards of the said Bonds and Coupons claimed by you, and in your possession, or in the possession of any one for you? And if not that amount, then to what amount?

3. Did not Henry M. Lewis, deceased, who previous to his death, resided in the said city of San Antonio, have in his possession, on or about the 21st day of March, A. D. 1869, or at any time subsequently, as the property of Wm. J. Clarke, Bonds and Coupons, as aforesaid, amounting to fifty thousand dollars and upwards? And, if not that amount, state the amount; and state particularly the respective numbers, and the amount of the same, and where? and in whose keeping or possession are they now?

4. Did not the said Henry M. Lewis, before the filing of this suit, deliver a large number of the said Bonds and Coupons, represented as the property of William J. Clarke, to the said Wm. J. Clarke? If yes, what were the respective numbers and gross amounts thereof? Designate particularly the face number and amount of each Bond and Coupon, and state what has been done with them; and where and in whose possession are they now?

These are therefore to command you, that you answer the said William J. Clarke by publication of this writ in the "San Antonio Express," for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the Court-house in the city of San Antonio, on the first Monday in February, A. D. 1871, then and there to answer the petition of the said city of San Antonio.

Herein fail not, but of this writ and your proceedings thereon make due return.

Witness, Mortimer Slocum, Clerk of the District Court of Bexar County, and Seal of said Court at office in San Antonio, this 6th day of January, A. D. 1871.

M. SLOCUM, Clk. Dist. Ct. Bexar Co.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Bexar.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Bexar.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Bexar County—Greeting:

Whereas, the city of San Antonio, a body corporate within said county, did on the 23d day of August, A. D. 1870, file their petition in my office, alleging as follows, to wit: That one R. W. McKean of said county, did on or about the 10th day of April, A. D. 1853, become the purchaser from said city of lot No. 5, in Range No. 4, and District No. 1, containing 4 acres, more or less, as described in the plan of said city lands and thereafter, on the 27th day of April, A. D. 1854, convey into a written agreement of bargain and sale, wherein he bound himself to pay to said city the sum of two hundred and seventy-five dollars, in full for said purchase money, payable at the expiration of fifty years, with eight per cent per annum interest thereon, payable in semi-annual installments, the first installment being payable on the 10th day of October, A. D. 1854, and the subsequent installments on the 10th day of April, and the 10th day of October, in each and every year, during said term of fifty years, and for the purpose of securing the payment of said balance of purchase money, he by said written agreement, made and acknowledged a special mortgage and vendor's lien on said described lot, stipulating that in case the installments of interest provided for, or any one of them, should not be paid when due, the whole amount of said unpaid purchase money should become due and collectible; that the interest on said unpaid purchase money due on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1854, and the subsequent installments due thereafter, have not been paid; that one A. F. Kercheval, who is a non-resident of this State, is the present owner or claimant of said described lot.

Petitioner prays for citation, for judgment for the said unpaid balance of purchase money, with interest thereon, for the foreclosure of said special mortgage, for the enforcement of all the rights, interest or claims of said A. F. Kercheval, to said described lot, and for costs of suit, etc.; and petitioner hereby gives notice to defendant to produce the original purchase contract.

And W. C. A. Threlkapp, Mayor of said city, having made oath that said A. F. Kercheval is not a resident of this State, these are therefore to command you that you answer the said A. F. Kercheval, by publication of this writ in the "San Antonio Express" for four successive weeks, previous to the return day hereof, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court of Bexar County, to be holden in and for said county, at the Court-house in the city of San Antonio, on the first Monday of February, A. D. 1871, then and there to answer the petition of the said City of San Antonio.

Herein fail not, but of this writ and your proceedings thereon, make due return.

Witness, Mortimer Slocum, Clerk of the District Court of Bexar county, and Seal of the said Court, at office in San Antonio, this 20th day of December, A. D. 1870.

THE INTERNATIONAL.—The State Journal leads that the International Railroad Company are pushing their operations at the Central crossing at Hearne with great vigor and pertinacity.

OUR BOYS.—The welfare and stability of our Republic are as absolutely dependent on the intelligence and honesty of the voters, as a house rests upon its foundations.

It was a very hard-shell Baptist, of Tennessee, who suggested when he heard of the reformation of an ungodly neighbor, that no ordinary baptism would do for that man—the only sure way would be to tie a grindstone to his feet and anchor him over night in the middle of the river.

A Few Facts. From the reports of the Bureau of statistics we learn the following in regard to the year 1870, upon which we may in a measure predetermine the prospects of the year 1871.

THE INCREASE IN THE COTTON CROP OF 1870. The increase in the cotton crop of 1870, over that of 1869, was one million of bales, a full half million more than the estimate of the shrewdest calculators.

Cash Value of a Laboring Man to the Community. A floating article on this subject having no credit attached, contains so much that is sensible and suggests so many things that a great many have never thought of, that we transfer it entire to our columns.

THE CASH VALUE OF THE LABORING MAN TO THE COMMUNITY IS MUCH MORE THAN THE ABOVE NAMED SUM, AS LABOR IS THE ONLY TRUE WEALTH TO ANY COUNTRY.

Let them only reflect that labor is honorable; but let those who look down on the humble laborer and mechanic reflect for one moment before they speak in terms of disparagement of the 'hewers of wood and drawers of water.'

Honest industrious mechanics and laborers are the wealth of States, and, until they are encouraged and fostered, our people cannot be prosperous. It is not the cash value alone by which he enriches the place of his residence, but he adds by his labor to its material wealth.

of life, that labor is honorable, and if in a fertile soil, should overtake the man, willing hands will be put forth to earn their support.

Joe Stetson's Great Fight.

Joe Stetson was a wild, rollicking fellow, who spent most of his time in drinking and swearing, while his wife, Polly, was left at home to do the chores.

"Why, Joe, what in the world is the matter?" "Polly, we had the largest fight we ever did see. I hit him, and he hit me; and then we clinched; and I ain't supper most ready! I ain't had anything since yesterday morning."

Agricultural Crumbs.

Be prudent in planting; one corn is often enough, for an acre, and if you must leave anything out, why, drop your potatoes.

Farmers are not expected to be men of letters, but it is generally understood that they will make a while the sun shines.

Your field may be 'furrowed with care,' but it cannot be 'harrowed by the recollection.'

We extract the following from the Washington Chronicle of January 24th:

At the session of the Mexican Claims Commission, yesterday, the claim of Thomas Dwyer against Mexico, for the sum of $4,000 in gold, was decided in Mr. Dwyer's favor, with six per cent interest from May 15th, 1854, and $100 in currency as expenses of the claim.

The funeral of the unfortunate man killed in the accident in the belly of the firmament—hall on Saturday, was attended by an immense concourse of citizens, and by the Associations of French and Old Fellows, to which he belonged. A thrill of horror ran through our entire community on hearing of the terrible manner in which he lost his life, and hundreds paid tribute to his memory by following his remains to their last resting place. He was buried Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock.

DR. J. G. RINGLIER has located in our midst for the purpose of practicing his profession. The doctor brings with him the highest testimonials as to his skill as a medical practitioner, and has devoted himself especially to diseases of the eye and ear. Office hours from 8 to 12 in the morning.

BRADEN writes us that our account of the killing of the man at the firmament's hall is incorrect. The news came to us at the last moment of going to press, hence the cause of any inaccuracies. Braden assigns the accident to the stretching of the ropes or guys, which held the derrick in position on top of the jelly. We believe one thing, and that is, that either ignorance, negligence or carelessness, on the part of the director of the raising of the bell, was the cause of the unfortunate accident.

SAN ANTONIO'S liberal offers to the State, of a site for the location of a penitentiary, are, with other claims, before the Legislature. Hearing all offers carefully and taking into consideration the immensity of natural resources all around us, we think San Antonio has made the best offer, and stands the best chance of securing the building of the penitentiary. Our townsman, Mr. Johnson, of the firm of Johnson & Tinsley, attaches to the application a statement of the cotton resources of our surrounding country, and Henry Trenchard, wool broker, likewise gives an estimate of our wool resources. Messrs. Kampmann, Hartnett, and Eschenlauer, speak in high terms of the water power on the projected site, and allude to the excellence of the building material to be obtained from the quarries near by. Taken altogether San Antonio's claim is a very strong one, made additionally so, by the encouraging prospect before her, of being in a few years a grand railroad centre, as well as a valuable business point where will be represented the stock interests, cotton and wool trade, Mexican traffic, and also a growing manufacturing interest.

BUNCELES ABSENT.—Some fellow who has no regard for the good name of our city, or the rights of others, intruded his person into the private room of an invalid officer, early Sunday morning at the Plaza House. The fellow had been poking around quite a while in search of valuables just before day-light—when the gent and his wife, suppressing the noise was caused by rats. But on getting up to see about it, the officer encountered A LIVE MAN! who started for the front door leading to the piazza. Seizing the fellow with one hand, and kicking him with the right foot. The rogue turned round and deliberately asked the perpetrator "what he meant?" But not waiting for a further enlightenment, he made quick time down the back stairs with his plunder, consisting of about $3.00, which he had abstracted from the gentleman's pocket.

In our issue of the 4th inst., we alluded to a circular from Headquarters in relation to servants allowances, etc.; through the courtesy of General H. Clay Wood, A. A. G. we are enabled to publish the following extract from circular in conflict with, and suppressing circular No. 2 from Department Headquarters of this district, as follows:—
—D. The following decision of the Secretary of War, dated January 10th, 1871, is published for the information and guidance of all concerned:
—Paragraphs 1025, 1096 and 1126, General Regulations, 1863, are still in force, but paragraph 1126 is in conflict with the law of July 13th, 1862, in so far as it relates to payment of money to officers. Transportation in kind, however, may still be furnished by the Quartermaster's Department to officers' servants in the cases contemplated in this paragraph.

By order of Major General Halleck:
JAMES H. FAY,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Our Invisable Enemies.

The raw, astringent atmosphere of winter creates and aggravates many ailments. To protect themselves as effectually as possible against the invisible dangers which surround them at this season, should be the especial care of persons constitutionally delicate. As there is no medicinal preparation in use which so thoroughly braces and invigorates the stomach, the liver, and the nerves, as Hostetter's Bitters, a course of that agreeable tonic is particularly advisable for dyspeptic, bilious, and nervous sufferers, in the cold, damp, and trying weather, which generally prevails in our climate at this period of the year. Sudden chills have a very bad effect upon dyspeptics and bilious individuals, habits, not infrequently producing congestion of the liver or bowels, or low fevers, sometimes of an intermittent or remittent character. Attacks of rheumatism are also to be apprehended, and when there is a tendency to that complaint the Bitters will be found the best preventive. The operation of the great vegetable tonic is direct and simple. It stimulates and strengthens the digestive and secretory organs and the nerves, and puts the system in a condition to resist the action of those formidable foes of vitality, a low temperature and unwholesome winds and fogs. By quickening the superficial circulation, without creating anything approaching to fever, it imparts tone to the skin, and thus renders the surface of the body comparatively impervious to malarial and other external influences.

DR. SCHECHT advises Consumptives to go to Florida in Winter.

Having for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung disease and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subjected to such variations as in more Northern latitudes. Florida is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Petermann. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well. One hundred miles further down the river is a point where I would prefer to Palms, the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Matlinville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Matlinville. It is two miles from river to lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite, and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh and then the lungs may heal. Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there, and it is not necessary to wear a heavy coat. I have seen patients who have been in Florida for several weeks, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully, and hence, my opinion in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of Schech's Pulmonic Syrup, Schech's Tonic, and Schech's Mandrake Pills, and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold. In Florida nearly all are using Schech's Medicine, especially Schech's Mandrake Pills, for the reason that it is a powerful disease bilious habit than more northern latitudes. It is a well established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption especially of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one third, at least, of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States it does not prevail so largely, still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily warned in regard to taking fresh cold as they are about scarlet fever, small pox, etc. But they are not. They take what they term a little cold, which they are careless enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope for cure. My advice to persons whose lungs are affected even slightly is, to lay in a stock of Schech's Pulmonic Syrup, Schech's Tonic, and Schech's Mandrake Pills, and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that where they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required. These consumptives, nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough or night sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long. My plan is to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a fever. The Mandrake Pills act on the stomach to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food and the gratification of that relish, come good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs. Then the cough lessens and abates, the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer progress and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold. Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point, by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is so easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undoubted on record that Schech's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills and Sea-weed Tonic, have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use. So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its harmful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhoea ensues, a dose of the Mandrake will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of Mandrake and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obtain the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night at every other night, and you may then drink water and eat watermelons, peaches, apples, plums, pears, etc., without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you good only. I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No. 15 E. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say that when persons take my medicines and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold, yet no one with diseased lungs or a bad condition of the atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the Lungs should take them. Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and I can be reached from any distance. J. H. SCHECHT, M. D., No. 15 E. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19101.

Agents for the CLIPPER MOWER AND REAPERS.
The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1865, where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors, including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premium and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain to the full their claims of superiority for THE CLIPPER MOWER over all others. Its extreme lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The speed of the machine is regulated to cut high or low without stopping the team is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mowder that has the mechanical draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles. In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers, the CLIPPER is the Horse's Friend, and you should attend to their welfare. Send for pamphlet—investigate. See or write to some one who has used THE CLIPPER. See the Machine yourself before you buy any other.

WONDERFUL RAPIDITY.
Perfectly Regular and Even Distribution of the Seed. Cahoon's Broadcast Seeder, for Sowing all Kinds of Grain and Grass Seed.

The unprecedented success of this Seeder the past season is without a parallel in the history of Agricultural Implements. The farmers of the Country have no longer got to wait in the busy of Seeding time for the imperfect process of Hand Sowing, nor for the "Slow Coach" called "Combined seeders."
A Hagl Cahoon's Seeder will sow as fast as five, and a Power Cahoon's Seeder as fast as twelve of them, and the work will be done better than if can be done by any means, whatever.
Farmers save your money and your time! Look to your own interests and not to the pockets of interested dealers and manufacturers.
The Cahoon Seeder took First Premium at Wisconsin Southern State Fair, Minnesota State Fair, Iowa State Fair, and St. Louis Fair, in spite of the combined efforts of all its enemies. It probably took more First Premiums at State Fairs in the Fall of 1869, than was ever awarded any other machine of any name or nature, in one year.
