[GENERAL NATURE—No. 23.]

AN ACT for the relief of certain purchasers of lands from the legal representatives of Bartholomew Cousin.

Whereas the claim of Bartholomew Cousin, or his legal representatives, is embraced in Recorder Bates' report of February second, eighteen hundred and sixteen, and confirmed to the extent of a league square, and survey numbered two thousand one hundred and ninety-six was made for the same in the year eighteen hundred and eighty; and whereas a further confirmation was made of eight hundred and ninety-nine arpents, or six hundred and sixty-four and seventy-eight hundredths acres, in the favorable report numbered sixty one, of the board of commissioners, under the acts of Congress of the years eighteen hundred and thirty-two and eighteen hundred and thirty-three, confirmed by the act of July, eighteen hundred and thirty-six: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall and may be lawful for the county surveyor of the county of Cape Girardeau, or whomsoever may be designated by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, to select an arroyo in compact form, as near as may be to the quantity of acres of the confirmation by act of July fourth, eighteen hundred and thirty-six, according to legal subdivisions, and in full satisfaction of said claim: beginning at a corner where a line of the survey numbered two thousand one hundred and ninety-six intersects the north line of section twelve, township thirty-one north, range eleven east, near the northeast corner of said section twelve thence with said line of said survey two thousand one hundred and ninety-six to a corner of said survey two thousand one hundred and ninety-six, in section twenty-three of said township and range; thence westwardly on a line a sufficient distance that a line projected northwardly parallel with the western boundary line of survey numbered two thousand one hundred and ninety-six, and running eastwardly in the place of beginning, will include the said quantity of six hundred and sixty-four and seventy-eight hundredths acres; and thereafter, and within one year from the passage of this act, the parties claiming it right of said Cousin any tract outside of the limits of said survey numbered two thousand one hundred and ninety-six, and the selection authorized by this act to make good the second confirmation aforesaid, be, and it is hereby, authorized, on satisfactory proof, to his register, and receiver of the land district in which said tracts are situated, to make such payment therefor at the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, or by payment or claim of homestead, according to the laws of the United States in such cases made and provided.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That any tract or parcel of land, after the survey and adjustment of said confirmation which is not embraced therein but with held from sale by the Government of the United States by reason of the supposed interference and non-survey of said second confirmation, thereafter and in one year from the adjustment of said survey any party or person residing upon and cultivating such tract or parcel of land with held from sale as aforesaid and before the passage of this act, upon making satisfactory proof to the register and receiver at the land district in which such tract or parcels are situated of actual settlement according to the provisions of this section, be, and are hereby, authorized to enter said tracts, not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres, including improvements, at one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, or claim the same as a homestead, agreeably to the act of Congress granting homestead to actual settlers.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 24.]

AN ACT to cede to the State of Ohio the unsold lands in the Virginia military district in said State.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the lands remaining unsurveyed and unsold in the Virginia military district in the State of Ohio be, and the same are hereby, ceded to the State of Ohio, upon the conditions following, to wit: Any person who, at the time of the passage of this act, is a bona fide settler on any portion of said land, may hold not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres so by him occupied by his pre-empting the same in such manner as the legislature of the State of Ohio may direct.

Approved, February 18, 1871.

Policy of the Administration.

In conclusion, I would sum up the policy of the Administration to be a thorough enforcement of every law, a faithful collection of every tax provided for, economy in the disbursement of the same, a prompt payment of every debt of the nation, a reduction of the taxes as far as possible, and the requirements of the country will admit, the reduction of taxation and tariff to be so arranged as to afford the greatest relief to the greatest number, honest and fair dealing with all other people, to the end that war, with all its blighting consequences, may be avoided, but without surrendering any right or obligation due to us, a reform in the treatment of Indians and in the whole civil service of the country, and finally in securing a pure, untrammeled ballot, where every man entitled to cast a vote may do so just once at each election, without fear of molestation or proscription on account of his political faith, NATIVITY OR COLOR.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5, 1870.

ONE of the best illustrations in Charivari, signed "Glam," represents a crowd of Prussians carrying away in their hands, on their backs and in baskets, all the clocks in France, and Cham remarks: "They may carry off all the clocks, but they will not prevent the hour of vengeance from striking."

GEORGE CRUKSHANK, the artist has written a letter, in which he claims that the story of "Oliver Twist" was entirely his own idea and suggestion, and that he originated all the characters in that work. As Mr. Crukshank did not see fit to assert these claims during the lifetime of Dickens perhaps it would have been quite as well if he had neglected to do so at all.

A LITTLE girl, having learned that a post mortem examination was declared that she would not consent to be so dealt with after death. "What, not if it would be greatly to the benefit of those who lived?" asked her mother. "No; how would I look going to heaven all cut-to pieces?"

A St. Louis woman complained to the police on Monday last that another woman had won away the love of her husband by the use of a certain love powder, and that, although she had tried the efficacy of the same powder, thereby involving to herself an expense of $5, she had been unable to win it back again.

THE following is a verbatim report of a conversation that recently took place in Louisville: Jackey, aged 12—Saw my gal, yesterday, Billy, she's old persimmons, you bet, Billy, aged 13—Well, what av it? Jackey—What of it? Why, she works. She's workin' on Walnut street now. She gives me stamps, and keeps me up.

A BOSTON paper tells a sad story of an old woman who is frequently seen in the streets of that city, in a poor, thread bare, and fantastic garb, carrying in her hands and upon her person the greatest part of her little store of worldly goods, such as extra clothing, dishes, articles of food, &c., that she may preserve them from thieves, who she fancies will, in her absence, break into her humble domicile and steal. In her youth she was beautiful, and the daughter of wealthy parents, ranking socially among the first in Boston. Her means and inclinations invited her to deeds of charity, and this work she prosecuted with such laborious and self-sacrificing fidelity as to injure her health and plant the seeds of the mental insanity which now shrouds her life. From a variety of causes she has removed herself from the aid and control of her family and old friends, and has resorted to mendicancy for a livelihood. She tells, with a sad and morbid levity, of begging food at the kitchens of residences on Mt. Vernon street, where she and her family used to visit as the equals of the wealthy inmates.

A Rich Grammatical Decision.

The New York Tribune decides that the plural of "situation" is "situations," and "the plural of 'situation' is 'situations.'" On the same principle, says another paper, the plural of a tailor's 'goose' is 'geese,' and indeed we hold that it is.

This reminds us of an anecdote in regard to a country merchant who wanted two of these tailor's irons several years ago, and ordered them from Messrs. Dunn & Spencer, hardware merchants, then doing business in this city. He first wrote this order: "Please send me two tailor's geese." Thinking that this was bad grammar, he destroyed it and wrote this one: "Please send me two tailor's geese."

Upon reflection, he destroyed this one also for fear he would receive live geese. He thought over the matter until he was very much worried, and at last, in a moment of desperation, he seized upon his pen and wrote the following, which was duly mailed: "Messrs. Dunn & Spencer: Please send me one tailor's goose, and, d—n it, send me another." This was the only way he knew of to order two of them; but of course he had not read the above wise decision then. — Petersburg Courier.

Some men find life unendurable if they cannot lay wagers. At Binghamton a favorite mode of winning "the drinks" is for a sharper to bet with a yokel that he can stand an egg on the end "right out on the floor," and the yokel can't break it with a half bushel measure. The bet is taken and the fiend in human shape puts the egg precisely in the corner, and if you wish to know how it is yourself you would do well to try the experiment. According to the Washington Star, a man named Henderson has accepted a bet of $500 that he can eat one partridge per day for thirty days, eating, meantime, anything else he likes. The difficulty he experiences in winning comes from the fact that, although a single partridge is delicious eating, yet when one has to eat it every day for any length of time it becomes repulsive and nauseating in the extreme.

The following estimate of woman's love appears in an English contemporary: "A French woman will love her husband if he is either witty or chivalrous; a German woman if he is constant and faithful; a Dutch woman if he does not disturb her ease and comfort too much; a Spanish woman if he wrecks vengeance on those who incur his displeasure; an Italian woman if he is dreamy and poetical; a Danish woman if he thinks that her native country is the brightest and happiest on earth; a Russian woman if he despises all Westerners as miserable barbarians; an English woman if he succeeds in ingratiating himself with the Court and aristocracy; an American woman if he has plenty of money.

COUSIN CHARLIE.—Two or three young ladies of an inland city, it is said, have a very pleasant fashion of rushing up to young men in the streets and kissing them, and then in surprise exclaiming, "Why, I thought you were cousin Charlie." A member of the Legislature was thus accosted the other day by a lady, and he forthwith assured her that there was no mistake in the man—that he was Charlie, and heartily embraced the fair one.

An old agricultural laborer in England tries a muscular method of evangelizing his family. Being remonstrated with by the pastor for not "bringing up" his boys as he should, he replied: "I dunno 'ow 'tis, sir; I order 'em down to pray, night and mornin', and when they don't go down I knock 'em down—and yet they ain't good!"

A YOUNGSTER, while perusing a chapter in Genesis, turning to his mother inquired if the people in those days used to do sums on the ground. It was discovered that he had been reading the passage, "And the sons of men multiplied upon the face of the earth."

A WESTERN paper says that Speaker John T. Bunch, of the Kentucky House, sheds a bottle of ink every time he writes his name. The dot he puts at end of his autograph is exactly the length of a Congressional penknife with the blades open at both ends.

The Atlanta Sun asks: "Why are we not to-day the richest people in the world?" The Louisville Courier-Journal presumes it is chiefly because there are other people in the world who have the advantage of us in property.

A woman recently brought before a magistrate in Bristol, England, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment for disorderly conduct while intoxicated. It transpired that it was her two hundred and fifty-first appearance on like charges.

The Great Vernal Specific.

No medicine is more sensitive to changes of season and variations of temperature than dyspepsia, and chronic biliousness. Under lungs and more easily affected by these vicissitudes than feeble stomachs. If there is a tendency in the system to indigestion, biliousness, or bowel complaints, the favorable weather of early spring is almost sure to develop one or the other of these ailments. Intermittent fevers are also more prevalent in the spring months than at any other season except autumn. In view of these facts, this seems to be a proper time to invite especial attention to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine, which for a long series of years, has proved superior to all others as a remedy for the above named disorders, and as protection against the miasma which frequently produces, and always aggravates them. It has formerly the practice to give violent cathartics as "spring medicines," nor is the custom yet entirely obsolete. Nothing, however, can be more ill-judged and unphilosophical. The chilling moisture with which the air is loaded at the breaking up of winter, presses heavily upon the vital forces of the body, and reinforcement, not depletion, is what it requires. The Bitters is a genial and excellent tonic, a moderate alterative, and just enough of an aperient to regulate, without consulting, the bowels. It is, therefore, a specific peculiarly adapted to the present season.

"Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, etc.

I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it. Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus. With much respect, your obedient servant.

Edolpho Wolfe, Esq. Present: Dear Sir: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps" with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the "Schiedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours,

"Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, etc.

I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it. Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus. With much respect, your obedient servant.

Edolpho Wolfe, Esq. Present: Dear Sir: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps" with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the "Schiedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Austin, August 23d, 1870.

To A. Siemering & Co.,
You are hereby notified that I have this day appointed your paper, "The San Antonio Express," the official journal of the county and judicial district.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the city of Austin, this 15th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and the Independence of Texas, the thirty-first.

EDMUND J. DAVIS, Governor.

By the Governor,
JAMES P. NEWCOMB.

NOTICE TO REPUBLICANS.

The undersigned, having been selected a member of the Republican State Executive Committee for the Third Judicial District, comprising the counties of Bexar, Comal and Wilson, hereby give notice that he will act as such member for said District, and calls upon the county Executive Committee of Bexar, Comal and Wilson, to at once report to him the condition of their respective counties, and the names and Post-office addresses of the members of the County Commissions. More by Circular.

A. SIEMERING,
San Antonio, March 10th, 1871.

We feel satisfied that Democracy has made a great error in not selecting as one of its Lieutenants, the present proprietor of the San Antonio Herald. As an adviser of the murder of China men during the war, he stands prominent. As a hideous deformity, a one-eyed ghoul, gloating over the assassination of the martyred Lincoln, he was a Democratic success. As a factious devil; author of the cold-blooded allusion to the "new fruit hanging from black jacks" (alluding to the victims of rebel hate and malignity). He evinced those wonderful powers of blackheartedness, that demanded at Democratic hands, consideration. Alas! Democracy has ignored him. Poor Logan! Poor Democracy!

The acts of Democracy are very much in effect, like a blister. Around it gather and centre all the corruptions and all that either flesh or community are heir to, and Republicanism acts the part of the surgeon. It cuts off both blister and corruption and leaves the country clear of the ill and evils of democracy; leaves it with a healthy system, and the rich warm blood of progress to urge the organization forward to the front ranks of civilization and prosperity.

Attention.

The Rogers calendar has been filled with peculiar names for evil deeds; robbers, vagabonds, murderers, &c., &c., are common terms. It was left however for the Democracy of Texas to add two more to the list of terms, signifying society evils. Terry and Dillard become apt specifications for a class of men whose hands have been imbued in the life blood of patriots, and for their deeds are finally chosen as fit leaders of soberate borders, whose principles are of the same murderous type.

The District Court.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, reluctant. When this revered and honored name is mentioned shall we not all pause, and ponder, reflect and glorify? Is this not the name of him whose memory owned the Washington estate in the British Isles, and who is deeded from those who were proud of the name Washington as far back as the 10th century? Was not his august father an old Augustine, and his mother named Mary Ball, who was a woman of intelligence and energy, ruling her family and household with a strong hand a firm will, not unwilling occasionally to share the labors of her servants in the field? Is it not pleasant, and does it not anger well for the future of our noble State, when we look around us and behold so many mothers exercising the same noble and chivalric endowments? If there be a "copper-bagger" or "nigger-bill" in our midst who is sunk so low by the acquisition of the filthy lucre without self-execution, or through the labor of others, as to stare at the mother of George Washington, let us, with one voice, say unto him "shame!"

And what youth is there in our midst who has not read with rapture and thrilled emotions, the life of the Father of his country? What a awe for the ages is that! We will remember the cherry tree, and how the boy heralded the truth. (How would this community be astonished and awestricken with so truthful a hero!) Then from hearing father's yarns he hearkened after the deed, but he said, "no you don't," and he didn't, but took mightily to figures, which accounts for the great figure he cut in after life, during the partitioning of his only child, i. e. his country. But before he cut this great figure, he embodied the science of surveying, made the defeat of bungling, blustering bespangled Braddock famous, and married a widow. This may be deemed the epoch, or turning point, in the great and glorious career of George Washington; and it is therefore unnecessary (for every person is familiar with the historic record,) to retrace New York, hang Maj. Andre, cross the Delaware, receive the sword of Cornwallis, accept the resignation of Gen. Lee, camp at Valley Forge, deliver a farewell address, be buried in the sacred earth of Mt. Vernon, or ignobly fall in an effort to erect a monument to his memory in the city of his name—the capital of his country. These are all recorded in the hearts of a great, a free, a united, a happy people, and it is further recorded in the criminal records of Bexar county, that George Washington, was indicted for stealing a watch, and that a jury of his countrymen day before yesterday, on their oaths declared him "not guilty." Thus may it ever be!

What we Want.

While our city administration is doing all in its power for good, we think that the monied class of our population are a little apathetic, and not sufficiently interested in the great future before our city. The first want, is the utilizing of the immense water power, that lays at our very doors, by the erection of manufactories, wherein the products of the country in the shape of cotton and wool can be put into shape and into market, and thus an immense percentage of invested capital, now expended in commissions and transportation saved to our section.

Just consider the advantage of such a manufactory, aside from any profit made by the immediate stockholders, beyond legitimate interest on the money invested. First the utilizing of what is now waste water power. Second the giving to a class of population too frail for field labor, not skillful enough for fine mechanical or professional labor, a remunerative employment. Third the creating of a large market for the producer, not only of the staples used in factory looms, but of food in various shapes, corn, wheat, meat, vegetables, &c., &c.

Fourth, the retaining in our midst of a large amount of money, that now goes to enrich agents and public carriers in other parts of the country, and a proper distribution of that money successfully to the factory hand, from him or her to the merchant or producer, thus creating an intimate interchange of the circulating medium, keeping at all times both the consumer and producer, beyond the evils of hard times or monied stringency.

It is useless for men to tell us that they can find no market for their manufactured fabrics. Georgia, Louisiana, and other Southern States find ready sale for what they produce, and our advantages (an extensive Gulf coast and proximity to a foreign country) are fully equal if not superior to theirs.

Our sister city of New Braunfels, has within its enterprising radius, two factories, a cotton and a woolen factory. They find ready sale for their articles, and have acquired celebrity and won premiums for excellence of make.

So too with a proper study, and a corresponding amount of nerve, can our citizens build up enterprise beneficial to themselves, to their city and to the State. Who will lead in the movement?

More Indian Outrages.

By a letter to Messrs. Adams, Wickes & Co., we learn of a further extensive loss, to them, of forty odd mules, driven off by the Lo-down devils that are daily becoming more and more bold upon our borders. On the morning of the 13th of March, the herd of Jackson, the wagon master, was charged and stampeded by Indians. Four Indians made the charge, and the balance of the devils were in the brush, as evidenced by one of them leaving his horse and blankets there. Jackson and his men followed on foot after the Indians, until they came up with the slaughtered bell mare, who had been hobbled, and whom the Indians evidently found hard to get along.

Hart Mussey, one of our gallant Texas Indian fighters, says Jackson and his men must have run after the Indians like the devil, for when he looked to where they were, some of them could scarcely speak. Had they been less quick of action and prompt, the loss of animals would have been much heavier. As it was, thirty-nine mules were captured and two killed. Jackson's men did all that men could do under the circumstances, but stampeded mules are not easily surrounded by men on foot. Hart, with ten others, followed the trail until it divided up into half a dozen parts, each one showing a bunch of mules strung out, when the party retired.

Mussey was camped within 300 yards of the party attacked, so was also a German train of eight or ten wagons, but neither were attacked.

All this happened at or near Fort Mason, which locality seems to have become a favorite theatre of operations of late of the Indians.

This is the second heavy loss Messrs. Adams, Wickes & Co., have met with in the last month, and to say the least the repetition of these outrages within such short periods, the one of the other, will cause transportation through those sections of country to become a matter of risk, calling for decidedly high rates. We venture to assert that ten thousand dollars will not cover their loss by these two raids, let alone compensate for the delays and expense of procuring other teams.

A WARNING.—There is no case of Consumption that did not commence with a cough. Therefore the slightest Cold or Cough should receive immediate attention. Take at once the great remedy of the age, DR. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT, and thereby save years of suffering, perhaps life itself.

A drug firm in Sioux City, Iowa, has received an order for fifty pounds of Indian war paint for Spotted Tail's camp. This is considered equivalent to a declaration of war against some of the troublesome tribes in that country.

How the Dark Ways of the Davensport Brothers Were Exposed in Knoxville, Tenn.

Hoxie's Hall was filled to overflowing. At the proper time Mr. Fay, one of the performers, advanced to the front of the stage with a paper containing the names of the committee, and requested them to come forward. Messrs. Bell and Lowery soon made their way through the audience and were greeted with tremendous applause as they bowed to the audience.

While closing the door Mr. Bell was struck on the shoulder with some unknown object, but Mr. Lowery saw it and instantly went to Mr. Bell's side, and whispered to the object. Mr. Lowery sprang like a cat and seized the hand, and wrenched it carefully off throwing it in the audience. Upon examination it was found to be a paper masked hand; as thin as writing paper, and fitting so closely in the cabinet that it was impossible to observe it. It was worked by wire, perfectly at the will of the operators. Cheer upon cheer was given for the committee. The brothers were raging with madness, but constant calls from the audience convinced them that they must either play or play, and accordingly the cabinet was thrown aside and the dark scene was announced.

A table was brought forward and several musical instruments laid upon it, a quantity of phosphorus was rubbed on a guitar, and the lights were extinguished. Presently sweet chords came from the guitar, and the phosphorus was seen running here and there in the air. All present were thunderstruck. They might catch the cabinet tricks but the dark scene was a stunner. When the supposed guitar was swinging in the air, one of the audience, named Brooks, pulled from under his coat a dark lantern of immense power, which he instantly shot on the flying guitar. One of the attacks of the show held a pole on the end of which was nailed a piece of flour barrel heading. The guitar was lying on the table in the same position, only the phosphorus was not on it. To describe the scene that followed would be folly. We don't think the Brothers will book this city on their next route.

A New Orleans merchant, who failed to receive a case of dress patterns consigned to him, made diligent inquiry, and finally, by means of the receipt given by an undertaker, ascertained that it had been received by him and carefully buried with funeral honors, he supposes the box contained the mortal remains of a man who had died in another State, and which he was notified would come by the same train.

SWINBURNE is red hot. He says Mrs. Victoria is a "thin worm, crowned and curled, that basks and blinks and warms itself about the world" further, that she is a "blind flesh fly and fanged meridian vermin." He is practicing to fit himself for editing a Democratic paper in this country.

The latest dissipation of Victor Emmanuel is said to be ten-pins, to which he is much devoted. He enjoys the game, for he believes it postpones the approach of apoplexy with which he is now threatened.

A citizen of Rutland, Vt., standing near some platform scales the other day, asked a colored individual, "Can a nigger weigh hog?" To which the colored man replied, "Put yourself on deaf scales, and see if he can't!"

An old lady in Massachusetts who "remembers Washington" was rather over done it. She asserts that he frequently came to her native town to attend the annual fall muster.

A Mobile paper is indignant at a contemporary for announcing that "Mobile is the fourth coffee port in the country." Investigation proved that "cotton port" was meant but things got mixed.

AT an auction sale in Columbus, Ga., a day or two ago, $1,755 of Confederate notes were sold for $1, and $10,200 of Confederate four per cent. certificates for the same sum.

THE game of "faro," is said to derive its name from the figure of the Egyptian King Pharaoh, which was formerly upon one of the cards.

A FUGITIVE TRAIN.

Thursday morning as the train met at Avon on the Pacific road, where breakfast is taken, all hands jumped off Conductor Patch's train and went into the hotel, leaving the train unattended. By some means the throttle of the engine on the westward bound train flew open, and the train started at a lively pace, leaving the station at the rate of twenty miles per hour. Consternation was the order for a few minutes, when Conductor Patch took the engine attached to the other train and started in chase of the runaway train, catching up when at the top of the grade, and bringing it back to the station. Nothing is half so lively as a runaway railroad train; especially when one is on the way to meet it, and the runaway folks know that it is coming. The sensations are peculiar and "energizing."—Des Moines Register, March 4.

LAST week a young lady in Lexington Ky., received the following choice billet doux: "I saw you at church last Sunday night, and I want to form with you an Acquaintance. I am a man of good character, and get a salary of $500 per annum. Please address box, post office." The young lady returned this reply: "To the wish man with the Bad Spell.—The wish to form an acquaintance is not reciprocal. But if you will call at my house about 6 o'clock in the evening, my brother will make your acquaintance with some first-class cakalkin. Perhaps you would prefer making the acquaintance of our dog. He will take you to your naturally. He always had a taste for calves."

ANALYSIS made by an experienced Eastern chemist, is claimed, shows Utah salt to be purer than the famous product of Turk's Island and it has been found that, notwithstanding the present high rates of freight on the Union and Central Pacific railroads, it can be furnished to points as far east as the Mississippi River and as far West as San Francisco at a profit to the manufacturers.

A New Orleans merchant, who failed to receive a case of dress patterns consigned to him, made diligent inquiry, and finally, by means of the receipt given by an undertaker, ascertained that it had been received by him and carefully buried with funeral honors, he supposes the box contained the mortal remains of a man who had died in another State, and which he was notified would come by the same train.

TESTIMONIALS.

From Gen. C. Scott's "Empire of Fashions." Reading at the fountain-head of American enterprise, and knowing the interests of the tailoring business from many years' experience, we most unhesitatingly pronounce the Shuttle-stitch, last invented sewing machine of Grover & Baker, one of the best machines I had ever seen in the world for tailors' use, or for the use of any trade requiring a light seam in cloth or leather. We have used the Grover & Baker Shuttle Machine No. 1, and find it admirably adapted to our business. It runs lighter, makes more noise, and is in every way preferable to the Singer machine for either light or heavy manufacturing.

Manufacturer of Clothing, No. 30 Broadway, New York. I am the fortunate possessor of one of your new Shuttle Machines, which you designate as No. 1. I have used many different machines in my business during the past eight years, and give you great pleasure in asserting that this one is far superior in all points to any that I have ever used. I send no better recommendation than my own name. SEBASTIAN BLES, Boot and Shoe Maker, 214 South 2d Street, St. Louis Mo.

Having used the different kinds of Sewing Machines in the market, including Singer's, Singer and Howe's, have finally adopted your No. 1 Grover & Baker Machine, and having used it the past two years, can testify that it proves to be the best machine, and superior to any we have used. A. COBURN & CO., Hopton, Mass. 24-9-71-daw.

International Institution.

Dobelin, near Dresden, Saxony. H. HANSEN, Director of the Commercial School. The perfect acquisition of the MODERN LANGUAGES is now considered a necessary complement in the education of the man of business or of the world. This has been the guiding idea in opening the International Institution.

Mr. Hansen's Institution is located in Paris a considerable time; the pupils, entrusted to his care, will therefore have the opportunity of acquiring in a short time the GERMAN and FRENCH languages, which both are spoken in the house. Parents desiring of giving an entire course of education to their children on the Continent, will have the advantage of one of the best governmental Academies in the country.

A School of First Order, to which the pupils can be admitted. Dobelin is beautifully situated in the Mulden-thal, not far from Dresden, and is a most healthy locality. Mrs. Hansen being an English lady every comfort of an English home will be found.

Boarders under the age of 18. Tuition, 20 above this age. A Quarter is required, when a pupil is withdrawn. REFERENCES: Rev. K. F. Dobelin, Book, Manufacturer, Dresden. Rev. J. Schumacher, Director of the Post. 16-3-71-daw.

NOTICE.

The partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the style of Schnetz & White, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. Joe Schnetz has assumed the payment of all liabilities of the said firm, and is alone authorized to collect all debts due the same. JOSEPH SCHNETZ, GEORGE WHITE, San Antonio, March 13, 1871.

JOSEPH SCHNETZ having associated with him his brother, ARTH. SCHNETZ, will continue the said business under the name of SCHNETZ & BROS. 15-3-71-daw.

The advertisement of the United Dispensary, headed "Book for the millions" MANAGE GUANO—in another column.

FRESH GARDEN SEEDS. If you want fresh garden seeds call at Leroux and Co., 56 Commerce Street. 3-3-71-dtf.

A WELCOME roundsman, the ice man. FLOWER shooting will soon commence. VIOLETS, pinks, verbenas and roses are in full bloom.

The weather is getting too warm to enjoy croquet.

NEW ORLEANS is rejoicing over the luxury of strawberries.

INDIANS on the war path again, see account of raid on train of Adams & Wicks.

A FINE load of wethers was brought to town yesterday, and our gourmands rejoiced over the fine mutton thus on sale.

CANNOT some of our Savants give us a reason for the advice of given, "Sleep with the head to the north."

FINE table and parlor lamps, with the argand burner, (the same as the student's lamp) at the store of Messrs. Pontreider & Borsch.

WE found workmen busied yesterday in digging up, here and there, the gas valves that have lain for so long a time unused. We trust it is significant of a start of the Company towards active re-organization.

TURTLE soup is the latest gastronomic novelty among our gourmands. It is made from the flesh of the soft-shelled turtles found in the river herabouts. It is nearly equal to the green turtle in point of richness and flavor.

THE farmers talk of pressing the guns of the San Antonio Light Artillery into service, to fire a few rounds and bring on a rain.

Judging from the way the big Democratic guns shoot off their mouths, we are soon to have a reign of disorder, a something which good citizens do not want.

WE regret to learn that our fellow-citizen, W. A. Menger, is seriously ill, and fears are entertained that he is past recovery. We earnestly hope that such fears may prove unfounded. Our community can ill spare a gentleman of such public spirit, such enterprise, such generosity, such wonderful energy.

CERTAIN, they say is busy, unterrified by the assertions of Lent, and Dame Rumor whispers to us some very strange reports in regard to some of our young folks, who threaten matrimony. We do hope somebody will get married, just to relieve the monotony of the season, in which we have had but one, we believe, to record.

Proceedings of the City Council.

Adjourned meeting, Mar 4, 1871. Present, his honor, Mayor Thielepape, Councilmen, Messrs. Duerler, Bell, Callaghan, Moore, Elmendorf, Pontreider and Green.

Minutes of meeting of Feb. 17, read and approved.

Petition of Mrs. Proctor for release from paying her tax was granted, by adding the amount of the tax to her next monthly allowance as paper.

Petition of the Alamo Literary Society for remittance of the amount paid for a license for the benefit given them by Mr. C. W. Noyes, was granted.

Petition of San Antonio Shooting Club for the privilege of target shooting on their grounds, was granted.

Petition of R. Newmann for the remittance of the fine and costs paid by him to the recorder's court, was granted.

Several applications with petitions of citizens accompanying them, for the office of city marshal, were read, but action upon them postponed.

A communication from Governor Davis concerning the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of R. S. Gould against the City, was read.

The report of the Finance Committee dated Feb. 14, recommending the increase of the Mayor's salary to $200 per month, with an amendment, that said increase commence with the date of the enforcement of the new City Charter, was unanimously adopted.

A communication from the Market Master, showing the necessity of closing the passage ways into the Market by gates, was read, and the Mayor authorized to have the necessary gates made.

The annual report of the Mayor was read and referred to a joint committee of the Finance and Improvement committees, for the consideration of the improvements and actions recommended by the Mayor.

Mr. Smith, agent for King's Iron Road Bridges, was then heard in regard to the end of the bridge which are mostly needed.

The report of the Improvement Committee on petitions of G. Robinson, C. H. Fisher, Bennett & Thornton, and citizens living on Flores street, also recommending the cleaning and repaving of several bad places in the street, was adopted.

The report in regard to the petition of Isabella H. Brackensridge, was adopted, with the amendment, that the street in question shall be opened whenever the city or county may desire the opening.

The report of the Finance Committee on the reports of the City Collector and Treasurer for the month of February, 1871, was adopted.

The report of the City Attorney on communication of G. Schlicher, a proposition of John Vance, on liability of Foreign Insurance Companies to pay city tax, and on communication of Julius Hoyer, was adopted. The Mayor was authorized, on the part of the City, to leave the question of the liability of the National Bank savings corporation license, to the decision of the District Judge. Two amendments to ordinances, recommended by the City Attorney, were not acted upon.

Petition of the City Attorney for an increase of his salary, was referred to the Finance Committee.

The report of the Board of Education on the amount of funds required during the coming year, for continuing and making all necessary improvements to the public schools, as well as building another school house, was read, and the following resolution adopted:

Whereas, it has become necessary as appears from a communication from his Honor, the President of the Board of Education, and resolutions of said Board, passed at a recent meeting, for the City to appropriate the sum of twenty thousand dollars for the purpose of keeping up and defraying the expenses of the public schools of the city for the present year; Therefore, be it resolved by the City Council of the City of San Antonio, That the President of the Board of Education be, and he is hereby, authorized and required, to draw on the Treasurer, for such purposes, from time to time, for sums not to exceed in the aggregate, said sum of twenty thousand dollars.

On motion, Mr. Menger was allowed to pay his real estate tax for 1870, and his license to August 31, 1871, by deduction from the amounts to be paid the Alamo Fire Co. No. 2, and it was also voted that the allowances paid to said Fire Company as interest on the amount due from them for their steam fire engine, will be discontinued after this payment to Mr. Menger.

After the reading of an ordinance providing for the more thorough cleaning of the streets, the Council adjourned until 4 P. M. Friday, March 17, 1871.

For the benefit of our readers, many of whom occasionally take a trip into the country, we would say, this is the season of the year when the poison oak, or ivy, is most dangerous to handle. The fine velvet like furze on it, contains millions of irritating molecules which insinuate themselves into the flesh, and cause dangerous and annoying eruptions, sometimes incurable. Take heed, therefore, what you handle in your idle rambles through the country.

OFFICE OF ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY, No. 42 Broadway, New York, Dec. 31, 1870. Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Our Agent at Richmond writes: "We got through to-night drying and fixing up the money from the late fire. The contents of the safe—$25,000 in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring Safe, and a good one, certainly. Yours, truly, L. C. BARCOCK, Treasurer."

Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman, New York Agents: The two safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the 25th inst., at the disastrous fire which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some $25,000 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books contained therein. It was impossible for workmen to excavate the safe until nearly 24 hours after the fire. Respectfully, J. F. GIBSON, Ass't Sup't for Adams & Southern Ex. Co's Richmond, Va., Dec. 29th, 1870.

LETTER FROM J. M. SULLIVAN & CO., Proprietors of the Spotswood, Richmond, Va., Dec. 28, 1870. Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Gents: On the morning of the 25th inst., we were fortunate enough to have one of your Herring's Patent Champion Safes, which fell into the cellar among a burning mass of ruins. After the fire, to our utmost surprise, we found the contents, consisting of valuable papers, money and some silver ware, all in good order. Had it not been for your Herring's Safe, we would have lost everything. W. M. SULLIVAN & CO.

ALSO A FIRST CLASS TIN SHOP. MARRIAGE GUIDE.

Being a private instructor for married persons or those about to be married, both male and female, in everything concerning the physiology and relations of the sexual system, and the production and prevention of offspring, including all the new discoveries never before given in the English language, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This is really a valuable and interesting work. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with numerous Engravings.

All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with; still it is a book that must be locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any address on receipt of 50 cts.—Address, Dr. WM. YOUNG, No. 416 Spruce street, above Fourth, Philadelphia.

MR. AFFLICTED AND UNFOLITUNATE—No matter what your disease, before you place yourself under the care any of the notorious QUACKS—native and foreign—who advertise in this or any other paper, get a copy of Dr. Young's book and read it carefully. It will be the means of saving you many a dollar, your health and possibly your life.

Dr. Young can be consulted on any of the disease described in his publications, at his office, No. 416 Spruce street, above Fourth, Philadelphia. 2-10-69-w 1v.

DR. SCHENCK'S advice. Consumptive to go to Florida in Winter.

During the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time to the study of lung diseases and consumption. I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to rescue a consumptive case of diseased lungs to healthy condition.

One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Marlinton and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Marlinton. It is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there.

For fifteen years prior to 1869, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully, and hence, my opinion in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, and die if he does not avoid taking cold.

My plan is to give my three medicines, in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a treatise on the Mandrake Pills necessary. My object is to give tone to the stomach, to give up an appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have some of such. With a relish for food and the gratification of that relish, some good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs.

Now there are many consumptives who have had the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point, by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room, by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhoea ensues, a dose of the Mandrake will cure you.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No. 15 N. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood that the value of my
