OFFICIAL LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Passed at the Third Session of the Forty-First Congress.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 27.]

AN ACT to provide a government for the District of Columbia.

Sec. 15. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly shall never grant or authorize extra compensation, fee, or allowance to any public officer, agent, servant, or contractor, after service has been rendered or contract made, nor authorize the payment of any claim, or part thereof, hereafter created against the District, under any contract or agreement made, without express authority of law; and all such unauthorized agreements or contracts shall be null and void.

Sec. 16. And be it further enacted, That the District shall never pay, assume, or become responsible for the debts or liabilities of, or in any manner give, loan, or extend its credit to or in aid of any public or other corporation, association, or individual.

Sec. 17. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly shall not pass special laws in any of the following cases, that is to say: For granting divorces; regulating the practice in courts of justice; regulating the jurisdiction or duties of justices of the peace, police magistrates, or constables; providing for changes of venue in civil or criminal cases, or swearing and punishing jurors; remitting fines, penalties, or forfeitures; the sale or mortgage of real estate belonging to minors or others under disability; changing the law of descent; increasing or decreas-ing the fees of public officers; during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed; granting to any corporation, association, or individual, any special or exclusive privilege, or franchise whatsoever. The legislative assembly shall have no power to release or extinguish, in whole or in part, the indebtedness, liability, or obligation of any corporation or individual to the District or to any municipal corporation therein, nor shall the legislative assembly have power to establish any bank of circulation, nor to authorize any company or individual to issue notes for circulation as money of currency.

Sec. 18. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the District shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation within said District, consistent with the Constitution of the United States and the provisions of this act, subject, nevertheless, to all the restrictions and limitations imposed upon States by the tenth section of the first article of the Constitution of the United States; but all acts of the legislative assembly shall at all times be subject to repeal or modification by the Congress of the United States, and nothing herein shall be construed to di-vise Congress of the power of legislation over said District in as ample manner as if this law had not been enacted.

Sec. 19. And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold or be appointed to any office which shall have been created or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased while he was a member, during the term for which he was appointed or elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; and no person holding any office of trust or profit under the government of the United States, shall be a member of the legislative assembly.

Sec. 20. And be it further enacted, That the said legislative assembly shall not have power to pass any ex post facto law, nor law impairing the obligation of contracts, nor to tax the property of the United States, nor to tax the lands or other property of non-residents, higher than the lands or other property of residents; nor shall lands or other property in said district be liable to a higher tax, in any one year, for general objects, territorial and municipal, than two dollars on every hundred dollars of the cash value thereof; but special taxes may be levied in particular sections, wards, or districts for their particular local improvements; nor shall said territorial government have power to borrow money or issue stock or bonds for any object whatever, unless specially authorized by an act of the legislative assembly, passed by a vote of two-thirds of the entire number of the members of each branch thereof, but said debt in no case to exceed five per centum of the assessed value of the property of said District, unless authorized by a vote of the people, as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 21. And be it further enacted, That the property of that portion of the District not included in the corporations of Washington or Georgetown shall not be taxed for the purposes either of improving the streets, alleys, public squares, or other public property of the said cities, or either of them, nor for any other expenditure of a local nature, for the exclusive benefit of said cities, or either of them, nor for the payment of any debt heretofore contracted, or that may hereafter be contracted, by either of said cities while contracting under a municipal government not consistent with the District.

Sec. 22. And be it further enacted, That the property within the corporate limits of Georgetown shall not be taxed for the payment of any debt heretofore or hereafter to be contracted by the corporation of Washington, nor shall the property within the corporate limits of Washington be taxed for the payment of any debt heretofore or hereafter to be contracted by the corporation of Georgetown; and so long as said cities shall remain under distinct municipal governments, the property within the corporate limits of either of said cities shall not be taxed for the local benefit of the other; nor shall said cities, or either of them, be taxed for the exclusive benefit of the county outside of the limits thereof: Provided, That the legislative assembly may make appropriations for the repair of roads, or for the construction or repair of bridges outside the limits of said cities.

Sec. 23. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of said legislative assembly to maintain a system of free schools for the education of the youth of said District, and all moneys raised by general taxation, or from other sources, except by bequest or devise, for school purposes, shall be appropriated for the equal benefit of all the youth of said District between certain ages, to be defined by law.

Sec. 24. And be it further enacted, That the said legislative assembly shall have power to provide for the appointment of assistant justices of the peace and notaries public for said District as may be deemed necessary, to define their jurisdiction and prescribe their duties; but justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any controversy in which the title of land may be in dispute, or in which the debt or sum claimed shall exceed one hundred dollars: Provided, however, That all justices of the peace and no-taries public now in commission shall continue in office till their present commissions expire, unless sooner removed pursuant to existing laws.

Sec. 25. And be it further enacted, That the judicial officers of said District shall remain as now organized, until abolished or changed by act of Congress; but such legislative assembly shall have power to pass laws modifying the practice thereof, and controlling such, additional jurisdiction as may be necessary to the due execution and enforcement of the laws of said District.

Sec. 26. And be it further enacted, That there shall be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a board of health for said District, to consist of five persons, whose duty it shall be to declare what shall be deemed nuisances injurious to health, and to provide for the removal thereof, to make and enforce regulations to prevent animals from running at large in the cities of Washington and Georgetown; to prevent the sale of unwholesome food; and to perform such other duties as shall be imposed upon said board by the legislative assembly.

Sec. 27. And be it further enacted, That the offices and duties of registers of wills, recorder of deeds, United States attorney, and United States marshal for said District shall remain as under existing laws till modified by act of Congress; but said legislative assembly shall have power to impose such additional duties upon said officers, respectively, as may be necessary to the due enforcement of the laws of said District.

Sec. 28. And be it further enacted, That
the said legislative assembly shall have power to create, by general law, modify, repeal, or amend, within said District, corporations aggregate for religious, charitable, educational, industrial, or commercial purposes, and to define their powers and liabilities: Provided, That the powers of corporations so created shall be limited to the

At the late opening of the British Parliament, the House of Commons came into the Peers' chamber with a tumult similar to the rush of school boys emerging from school to take their recess. When a child, Queen Victoria was present at an opening of Parliament, and when the Commons came in she turned in surprise to her mother, the Duchess of Kent, and remarked: "Why, mamma, they come in like naughty boys." The scene the other day was in no wise changed from that time forty or fifty years ago. As the tumult of the approaching body was heard approaching the presence of her Majesty, "the bishops, peers, and judges were seen to turn their faces with meek amusement to the end of the chamber opposite to the throne." The tumble grew into a roar. As they appeared at the doorway, struggling, pushing, and panting, they trampled the dignified Speaker of the House, in wig and gown, before them until he was laid at the bar, and Mr. Gladstone to his side." Once well into the apartment, they dug into each other's ribs and trod on each other's toes in a frenzy of excitement. "Mr.
Gladstone's earnest and pained face when he turned to protest against being prodded by fists from behind and the helpless position he was in until the angry mob behind him had settled into their places, are things to remember," says the London Daily News, describing the scene. This spectacle of the grave Mr. Gladstone being compelled to "walk Spanish" with a surging House of Commons behind him and urging him forward is one of the most curious in the history of diplomacy.

It is said that when a piece of new muslin is torn in the dark, a line of light is observable along the torn edges. It is not known whether this arises from electricity or phosphorescence; but it seems to depend upon the dressing of the cloth since, after being washed, the phenomenon does not manifest itself. A piece of stout, twilled new cotton is said to furnish the best subject of experiment.

The leading Democratic paper in New Hampshire says: "Better, a thousand times better, we say, frauds at elections than the orderly and legal voting which results from the application of military force by the Federal Executive to the people of the States on election days."

Ayer's Hair Vigor

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth.

This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The New York Tribune

1871.

Through struggle and suffering, at the cost of multiform agonies, bereavements, devastations, the American idea embodied in the preamble to our fathers' Declaration of Independence approaches its complete realization. The noble, inspiring assertion that "all men are created equal, and endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, is no longer a glittering generality, a poet's fancy, a philosopher's speculation, but the recognized base of our political fabric. The benign Revolution, which dates from the Boston Massacre of 1770, finds its logical completion, just one century later, in the XCVth Amendment, which gives to the equal political and civil rights of every man both of naturalized in our Republic the shield and defense of the Federal Constitution. The billows of Caste and Privilege may roar and rage around that rock, and may transiently seem on the point of washing it away; but its foundations are deep laid and steadfast, and the breakers of Reaction and Slavery are hurled against and dash their spray over it in vain.

We do not moderate the forces of Prejudice and Aristocracy. We do not forget that a very large minority of the American People still hold in their inmost hearts that Blacks have no rights which Whites are bound to respect. We fully appreciate the desperation with which all the warring elements of hatred to Republican achievement will be combined and hurled against the battlements of Republican ascendancy in the Presidential Election of 1872. We do not doubt that local successes, facilitated by Republican funds and dissections, will inspire the charging host with a sanguine hope of victory, such as never led to put forth its utmost strength in the earlier stages of the contest of 1861 and 1862. Yet our faith is clear and strong that the American People still blessed that on the red battle fields of our late Civil War, their Union was upheld and Slavery destroyed, and will never consciously decide that the precious blood thereon poured out was lavished in vain.

THE TRIBUNE believes in the prosecution of the great struggle by legitimate means to beneficent ends. To State Sovereignty; to Slavery for Blacks, Liberty for All; to Proscription, Emancipation; to Popular Ignorance, Universal Education; to Intemperance, temperance; to wrangling Hate, universal and inviolable Good-Will. It would fain do its utmost to hasten the glad day when the South shall vibrate with the North in exultation and gratitude over the disappearance of the last trace or taint of that spirit which impelled Man to exult in the ownership and chattelhood of his fellow Man.

Profoundly do we realize that the contest is not yet ended—that Millions mourn, more or less publicly, the dove-fall of the slaveholders' Confederacy, and rear their children to hate those by whose valor and constancy its overthrow was achieved. If we ever seek to differ essentially from our Republican brethren, our conviction that magnanimity is never weakness, that vengeance is never politic, and that devils are not cast out by Beelzebub, must serve to explain alleged eccentricities whose perfect vindication we leave to Time and Reflection.

THE TRIBUNE has been, in and must be, a zealous advocate of Protection to Home Industry. Regarding habitual idleness as the greatest foe to human progress, the bane of human happiness, we seek to win our countrymen in masses from the ensnaring lures of Speculation, of Traffic, and of always over-sold Professions, to the tranquil paths of Productive Industry. We would gladly deplete our overcrowded cities, where thousands vainly jostle and crowd in misguided quest of "Something to Do," to cover prairies and plains with colonies absorbed in Agriculture, Mechanics and Manufactures, and constantly projecting into the blank, void wilderness the homes and the works of civilized Man. Holding the Protection of Home Industry by discriminating duties on imported Wares and Fabrics essential to the rapid, beneficent diffusion of Productive Arts in all its phases and departments, and as the best means of our people in all the faithful arts of Peace, we urge our countrymen to adhere to and uphold that policy, in undoubting faith that the true interest, not of a class or a section and every useful class, is thereby observed and promoted.

THE TRIBUNE aims to be preeminently a Newspaper. Its correspondents traverse every State, are present on every important battle-field, are early advised of every notable Cabinet decision, observe the proceedings of Congress, of Legislatures, and of Conventions, and report to us by telegraph all that seems of general interest. We have paid for one day's momentous advice from Europe by Cable far more than our entire receipts for the issue in which those advices reached our readers. If high on duty, unflinching vigilance, and unbounded faith in the liberality and discernment of the reading public, will enable us to make a journal which has no superior in the accuracy, variety, and freshness of its contents. THE TRIBUNE shall be such a journal.

To Agriculture and its subservient arts, we have devoted, and shall persistently devote, more means and space than any of our rivals. We aim to make THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE such a paper as no farmer can afford to do without, however widely his politics may differ from ours. Our reports of the Cattle, Horse, Poultry, and General Markets, are so full and accurate, our essays in elucidation of the farmer's calling, and our regular reports of the Farmers' Club and kindred gatherings, are so interesting, that the poorest farmer will read therein a mine of suggestion and counsel, of which he cannot remain ignorant without positive and serious loss. We sell THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE for less than its value in dwellings for waste paper; and, though its subscription is already very large, we believe that a Half Million more farmers will take it whenever it shall be commended to their attention. We ask our friends everywhere to aid us in so commending it.

Democratic Dodging.

The numerous reports of southern outrages upon inoffensive blacks, and men of republican proclivities, have actually made the question of affording protection, one of first moment to the National Congress, and they would ill requite the services of a loyal element of the country to leave them at this hour, to become the prey of an unscrupulous party, whose every doctrine seeks a reverse of the effects of republican good and safety measures.

In Texas the democratic press have tried hard to dodge the issue. Democratic deeds of violence and disorder have been apologized for, or glossed over, by farcical attempts at defense, but while failing to deceive true and good citizens as to the real state of the case, act as an encouragement to law breakers and ruffians, who find in that party press, a so-called shield for all their misdeeds. The point, the dividing line between the good and the bad, is dodged by the democracy. They niftily fall in supporting their denials of violence and lawlessness, while on the other hand, republicans present such an array of facts, such a show of outrages perpetrated, that what few good men have attached themselves to democracy in times past, are fast throwing off what little allegiance they owe to it, thus avoiding the stain and stigma that the word democrat bears. The Courier-Journal, the most influential democratic paper in the South, takes a proper view of the subject. Its columns of late have been filled with protests against democracy thus pandering to the depraved animosities of political wire pullers and outland leaders, but with all its able and logical ideas it seems to be unable to prevent the democratic press of Texas from dodging the issue, and appearing as an apologist for wanton criminals.

Now, republicans have been accused of bad faith—a desire to hold the power of government and make it felt. This is not so. Republicanism has a fruitful field in the future to work upon, so soon as the entire country is at peace and internal dissensions quieted. The Republican party claims to be a party of Progress, and with its representative ability can ever find fields and new avenues, opening up their wealth to the people and to the nation. It is the democracy who dodge all questions, save the one of creating disturbance and unrest, hoping, perhaps, in the consequent confusion to slip in and carry off the spoils.

Democracy howled over taxation, yet when the issue was presented they dodged and voted against the repeal of the income tax. Democracy cries free trade, yet when a revenue reform is proposed; when it is sought to enter certain articles free, they again dodge, and vote against free trade in any shape.

Last, not least, with the words of its able leader, the Republican party says, "Let us have peace." Democracy has been clamoring for it, begging for it; yet when it is offered them fairly and squarely, they dodge again, and their exponent in Congress goes so far as to dig up the issue of State rights and class legislation, over which to make a fight during the coming campaign.

In fact, saying one thing but meaning exactly the opposite, fully describes the ways of the democracy. Their every move is a dodge; a fit move for the representative heads of the party in this State; for out of every dozen of them, eleven can be found who during the civil war, followed their practice of dodging to such perfection, that it has become a matter of habit they cannot, it seems, throw off. Some of these days they will dodge out of sight altogether, but the country will be the better for it.

The Austin Journal hastens to tell its faithful fellow Jacobins that General Sheridan will visit the frontier posts of our State next month. Well we have had Sherman to visit them and doubtless he discovered that "Poor Lo" had devastated our frontier as successfully as he himself had devastated the Shenandoah Valley. And now we are to have the redoubtable General Sherman, the man whose march to the sea has been made memorable. But what avail to our suffering frontiersmen what these visits prove. Sheridan's results in nothing, unless the result is to be estimated in the increase of Indian raids, an increase of losses and suffering. And General Sherman with half an eye can discover that the war path of "Poor Lo" has successfully rivalled even his own, with eminent success—he may probably learn that Poor Lo has murdered so many women and children, burned so many houses, destroyed so many crops, and they live as successfully marauded and harried the country as the General of the U. S. Army.—San Antonio Herald.

The above is one of those malignant and indecent attacks upon the army, through its representative Generals, for which the San Antonio Herald is famous. We have no objection to its editors abusing themselves by such dirty attempts at slander, but we have serious objections to army officers giving them any further encouragement or notice by extension to them of courtesies that belong rightfully to the press. When such editors go so far beyond the pale of journalism as to accuse a favorite and efficient General of the army of murdering women and children, we think it high time that every officer of the army should assert the dignity of his position by refusing to countenance or support or even recognize such lying, miserable, scurrilous, indecent sheets.

We hold the opinion that there is not apocryphancy and abasement enough in the entire army to swallow such baseless lies as the Herald and a few other prostituted sheets offer, and we look to see a proper resentment shown by the men of honor who wear the blue, and who take pride in the reputation of the army and of its Generals.

The County of Tegner.

We are at an entire loss to understand the action of some of the members of the Legislature, in foisting upon West Texas without the wish or consent of even one tenth of her people, a name for one of the counties that unites up its prescribed territory, which name is in itself obnoxious if not insulting. We have tried to look at the whole matter as a broad joke, invented by some member thoughtlessly, but since the action of Julius Schmetz, we are forced to believe that with him at least, the insult and outrage offered to the Germans in the West, was preconcerted and carried out with all the chicanery for which that misrepresentative is already famous. The slur conveyed in proposing as a name for a new county, "Tegner" or "Lager Beer" was bad, but to have the Legislature in all earnest inflict upon our western people, and especially the large German element the name of "Tegner" is more than the force of circumstances warrants. Is it not known that every intelligent German in the West considers that Fritz Tegner attempted to dishonor his nationality, in voting for a bill which was literal robbery of his constituents and of the entire people of West Texas? Is it not known that indignation mass meetings were held throughout his district, denouncing him and calling for his resignation? If not we can refresh the memory of those legislators who have forgotten that we have rights in West Texas. The following resolutions were adopted at a large meeting held in San Antonio on the 15th of August, 1870:

Whereas, Mr. Fritz Tegner, Representative of the 23rd District, to the Legislature of Texas, has, by his action on several railroad charters, forfeited the confidence of his constituents.

Whereas further, Mr. Fritz Tegner has by his vote against the statesmanlike and patriotic veto of the Governor, E. J. Davis, in relation to the Central Railroad, decided that the school fund should be robbed of several thousand dollars, for the benefit of unscrupulous speculators.

Whereas further, Mr. Fritz Tegner owes his nomination and election mainly to his fellow citizens of German birth, it becoming thus the duty of the latter to acknowledge their mistake.

Be it resolved, By the German citizens of San Antonio, in mass meeting assembled, First, That Mr. Fritz Tegner is unworthy of the confidence in him placed by his fellow-citizens.

Second, That Mr. Fritz Tegner be, and is hereby requested to resign his seat as Representative of the 23rd District and thus furnish his fellow-citizens an opportunity to elect another gentleman more worthy of their confidence.

Third, That Governor E. J. Davis, by his energetic action against the railroad swindle, as well as the Representatives who faithfully stood by his side, have well deserved the thanks of the citizens of Texas.

Fourth, That the electors of German birth of the 23rd District, be invited to endorse the above resolutions.

Fifth, That an English translation of the above resolutions be published in the newspapers of the 23rd District, and that our native fellow-citizens be invited to endorse our resolutions.

Sixth, That copies of these resolutions be sent to Governor E. J. Davis and the Hon. Ira. H. Evans, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Now aside from all this dishonest attack directed to the very name of Tegner, what has he ever done that warrants the use of his name in providing a name for a county where the people are almost exclusively German?

Nothing for his people surely, unless it was leaving the country in 1862 as did hundreds of others to avoid the hatred of the murderous rebels. If an that record, his was the name chosen to designate a new county, we can produce one three more historic in its relations to those "dark days." Louis Schmetz, a brother of the very man who now applauds the insult offered his nationality, was a martyr to the cause of loyalty. Of Gillespie county, he was foremost in his expression of love and fealty to the United States, and bravely withstood all rebel threats and menaces until his hearts blood did pay forfeit for their hate and murderous proscription. If worthy deeds, are to give names to the new counties, revoke the act passed for the calling of the county already referred to, "Tegner," and name it Schmetz. If not, if as we think and ever will think, the entire affair sprung from the chicanery of Julius Schmetz, a man lost to all self respect for he is an abettor of the insulters of his birth, it is even more important that the matter should receive vigorous attention at the hands of those who come from West Texas, and who respect and understand the feelings of our large German element. It is to that element that West Texas owes much of its Republicanism, its loyalty, and its prosperity. It is therefore but just that they should be represented rightly, and not forced to accept in silence, the insult offered their nation, their birth, their pride and their honor.

Let our Legislature repair the evil, by revoking the act naming the county Tegner.

Other names of men honored, and less disgraced can be easily found.

THE New Orleans Republican is jubilant over the prospect for the Southwest, now that the Texas Pacific railroad is to be constructed. It says: "The obvious results of this enterprise are, that it must fill the South with money and with imported laborers. The building of this road will call into our midst thousands of men to do the work, and where they cast their pickaxes there will spring up cities. Nothing can prevent this consummation except the failure of the company to do the work, of which there is but little apprehension at present. We shall have this advantage, too, that as the work goes on to its fulfillment the road will be teaching out into a country that is already settled and ready to roll its trade into our keeping. West of the Rio Grande there are the communities that have made St. Louis, San Antonio and Fort Smith prosperous. When the Northern road was built it had no such hope ahead of it. What it expected to be supported from it had to create. Our road is now expected to tap a reservoir of trade that has been unexplored except by mule teams. All Northern Mexico is waiting for the Southern Pacific railroad, and Congress declares it shall wait only five years. En avant."

DEATH FROM EXCESS OF FEELING.—The death of Gottschalk, while at the piano, in the act of performing his favorite composition, "La Morte," is by no means the first circumstance of its kind related in music and dramatic history. We recall immediately Moliere and his "Maladie Imaginaire." The chief person in the comedy was a sick man, which part was played by the author himself. It was the fourth night of the run. Moliere, sick and ailing, went on for the character and got through it until the scene in which his "business" was to fall down as if dead. This he did so well that the audience and the persons in the play were deceived. But, alas! it was not acting, for the poor dramatist was dead in truth.

Hughes, the dramatist, died in an hour after he received the account of the success of his play of the "Siege of Damascus."

Moody, the tragedian, died in the middle of his performance of "Claudia, or Measure for Measure."

Somewhat similar was the death of John Palmer, for whom Sheridan may be said to have written "The School for Scandal." The play was "The Stranger." Palmer, who had been, like Moody, beset with melancholy for some time before, after uttering the line, "There is another and better world," with touching pathos, suddenly paused, closed his eyes, and leaned upon the Francis of the evening. Whitfield. He had spoken his last words on earth.

Edmund Kean's last appearance was in "Othello." When he came to those grand lines, "Oh, now, farewell, farewell the tranquil mind, Farewell content," he then paused. Then slowly, slowly, until the music of the cadence became but as a breath; "Speak to them, Charles," whispering to his son, "I am dying." And so he was. —N. Y. Standard.

"Nobody's Children."

REV. FATHER J. NUGENT IN TEXAS.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Jan. 29, 1871.

To the Editor of the Pilot:

DEAR SIR:—You have doubtless heard and read of the Rev. Father J. Nugent, of Liverpool, England, and of his most worthy mission to this country, as well as of his great lecture on "Nobody's Children;" and you are also doubtless aware of the good cause in which he is enlisted—the cause of suffering humanity—and to which he is devoting all his time and attention. But of his coming to Texas, and particularly to San Antonio, you doubtless have not, and likely never would have heard.

The Rev. Father Nugent is a great man, and his mission a good one, being that of trying to secure and establish a well-directed system of immigration to this country of a deserving class from the over-crowded labor markets of Great Britain and Ireland. He is now at Austin, the capital of our State, for the purpose of laying before the Legislature, now in session, his plans in regard to this most worthy object, and it is to be hoped that he will succeed in his praiseworthy undertaking. He has spoken and lectured in nearly all of the great cities of the West, and while at Louisville, Ky., conceived the idea of visiting New Orleans. On his way to that city he happened to meet with a gentleman from Texas, who, after hearing the Rev. Father state the object of his mission, remarked that ere he returned to England he must visit this great State, and went on to show the many advantages it possessed over other States of the Union, its genial climate, its prolific soil, its most beautiful prairies, its mines of silver, copper, and other precious metals, its vast pine forests, its clear running streams, all calculated to make it, what it is most undoubtedly destined to become, one of the greatest States of the American Union; and she is always ready and willing to extend an open hand and a hearty welcome to a deserving class of immigrants.

Father Nugent went on to state that he was truly glad to hear the gentleman speak thus favorably of Texas and its people. "For, I must confess," remarked the Rev. Father, "that Texas was represented to me in a different light. I was indeed informed that every man I would meet with in Texas was a regular moving magazine, ready to explode at any moment. That scalping knives and revolvers were eternally hung around him, and that gibbets were erected at every cross road.

We hope that Father Nugent will make it convenient to return this way from the capital, so that we may know how and in what way he was received by our State Legislature, as it is my purpose to lay the matter fully before the readers of The Pilot.

Humorous Items.

A newspaper reporter told of the "twin roses of health and beauty" on the "bony face" of a bride. He meant honey, unless he had been too industriously interviewing some boniface.

A young miss in a recitation in geography, informed her astonished teacher that "the mammoth caravan, in Kentucky, is the greatest living curiosity, and has been exploded ten miles from its mouth."

A disgusted critic, writing upon the subjects and names chosen for some of the would-be-popular sentimental songs, suggests "Make over my frouseurs for Little Bubby," as a good name for a song and chorus.

A Utah man, whose wife having undertaken to hang herself, was cut down by the neighbors, is very much incensed thereat, and "thinks that folks had better stay at home and not meddle with other people's family affairs."

An Insubstantial Season.

Spring is welcome, but not its diseases. We should be glad to have its bloom without its fogs, its vapors, its sudden changes of temperature, and the agues, fits of indigestion, bilious attacks, and other harassing disorders which they engender. As this cannot be, it behooves all sensible people to do the best they can to escape such serious drawbacks on the poetry of the season. Ask any physician what the weak and delicate ought to do when miasma infects the air. The answer will be, "Tonic and regulate the system." But how? That is the important question. A dozen medical men would probably recommend as many different medicines. On the other hand, the thousands who have tested the virtues of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an invigorant and alternative, will recommend just one, the wholesome preventive and restorative in which their own experience has taught them to trust. A course of this rare vegetable stimulant, commenced now, would save many a pauper to the feeble and debilitated. It would be wise economy too, for it would probably preclude the necessity for medical advice. Without disparagement to a profession which all intelligent men and women respect and honor, it is just as well, if possible, to keep out of the doctors' hands, and they would have comparatively few cases of fever and ague, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness, and general debility to attend to, if this agreeable and healthful specific were in universal use.

A CARD.

We are reliably informed, and take this method of informing the public generally, that our esteemed friend, valuable workman, and good citizen GEORGE WHITE, formerly of the firm of SCHNETZ & WHITE, has consented to remain in our city, and carry on his business, as before, in his usual unique and prompt manner. He has secured a stand on Commerce street, and will soon be ready to serve his old friends and the public. We are pleased to retain in our midst so valuable a workman as Mr. White has proved himself, and wish him all manner of success, as we know that he truly merits it.

TESTIMONIALS.

From Genie C. Scott's "Report of Fashions." Residing at the fountain-head of American enterprise, and knowing the interests of the tailoring business from many years' experience, we most unhesitatingly pronounce the Shuttle-stitch, last invented sewing machine of Grover & Baker, one of the best machines of the very best in the world for tailoring use, or for the use of any trade requiring a tight seam in cloth or leather. We have used the Grover & Baker Shuttle Machine No. 1, and find it admirably adapted to our business. It runs lighter, makes less noise, and is in every way preferable to the Singer Sewing Machine for either light or heavy manufacturing. JOSEPH S. O'NEILL, Manufacturer of Clothing, 25-2-71-daw. New York.

I am the fortunate possessor of one of your new Shuttle Machines, which you designate as No. 1. I have used many different machines in my business during the past eight years, and it gives me great pleasure in asserting that this one is far superior in all points to any that I have ever used. I want to better. MICHAEL SAN BELL, Boot and Shoe Maker, 124 South 2d Street, St. Louis Mo.

Having used the different kinds of Sewing Machines in the market, including Lovett's, Singer's and Howe's, have finally adopted your No. 1 Grover & Baker Machine, and having used it for the past two years, can truthfully say it proves to be the best machine, and superior to any we have used. A. CORLIAN & CO., 25-2-71-daw. Hopkinton, Mass.

FRESH GARDEN SEEDS.
If you want fresh garden seeds call at Leroux and Cosgrove, 56 Commerce Street. 3-3-71-dtf.

WEATHER decidedly salubrious.

MULBERRIES are turning red already.

LEMONS are growing scarce.

BUSINESS very brisk and lively.

LENT, with its denials of pleasure, drags slowly along.

Our city administration are determined to have the city thoroughly cleaned.

There is a noticeable improvement in the flavor of beef, as sold in the market.

Fish are plentiful. Trout, perch and cat-fish are brought in daily, in considerable numbers.

We have learned something; ten o'clock is the exact hour for the jam of vehicles on Main street.

OWLS are becoming a steady nuisance in the suburbs of our city. They make night fairly hideous with their unearthly cries.

CLARENCE D. MAUCK, of the Sixth Cavalry, was the recipient of the deep regrets of his brother officers at Fort Richardson, on the occasion of his retiring from service under the provisions of the army bill.

The new store of James H. French is fairly besieged by parties pleased with the handsome styles and novelties introduced into this market. We think the gentleman proprietor has hit the nail squarely upon the head in opening up a first class gentlemen's and ladies' furnishing store.

DRUNKEN has monopolized the carriage way of Flores street, yesterday evening, by laying flat on his back across the road, from two to five o'clock in the evening. Our police are getting decidedly careless. We should think Flores street should be visited more than once in three hours.

Will the police look to the enforcement of the ordinance regarding the cumbering of sidewalks by an exposition of wares and merchandise? We notice some of our store keepers have monopolized fully half the pavement with sandy articles of merchandise. We notice all the awning posts have not yet been removed, as contemplated by ordinance. Stir around, gentlemen, and give us a clear sweep of our streets and pavements.

Flores street is becoming a perfect picture of loveliness with the trees fully foliated, the roses and other beautiful flowers in full bloom. A singular picture is presented at one spot. A climbing rose has run up a hackberry tree about twenty feet, and the tree has the appearance of bearing a full crop of roses. We advise our lovers of natural beauties to take a drive in that direction.

SAN ANTONIO will, during the coming year, have another new and commodious school house, in addition to the one already built on the east side of the river. This news will prove gratifying to the public, who see in the attention being paid to the educational interests of the country, an evidence of future strength and advancement gratifying in the extreme.

Several parties whom business or pleasure have called in the direction of the arsenal road have made complaints to us of the proximity of the arsenal, used as a signal gun, to the road, and report several accidents resulting and pitching of horses that have become frightened in passing about the time of firing the evening gun. We would ask of the gentlemanly commandant of the arsenal, that the piece be pointed in some other direction than the road, and if possible, that it be removed back a short distance. As it is now it is not more than twenty-five feet from the fence line, and is pointed directly across the road. Our citizens generally, will appreciate the courtesy, if the piece has its position changed.

We learn that the premium corn field of the season is at Graytown, 18 miles below our city, belonging to James W. Gray. The field is 72 acres in extent, and the corn over it is 15 inches high, and thriving wondrously. He planted his field early in February, and now has the satisfaction of having the finest field within a hundred mile radius.

Mr. Gray is a hard working, industrious, intelligent man. Untiring in his energies, increasing in his labors to benefit himself and those around him.

His neighbors have learned to look to him for judicious advice, and seldom is he wrong in giving it. Under his care, Graytown has become a very thriving little place, and still further improvements are to be made. Mr. Gray will in a few months have a brand new ferry boat in the river, which will be one hundred feet long, and a great convenience to the travelling public. We wish him abundant success in all his new undertakings, seeing as they do, to the welfare of the country at large.

Tribute of Respect.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to take from among us our respected Chief, W. A. Menger, Be it therefore Resolved by Alamo Fire Association No. 2, That in the death of our venerated Chief we acknowledge the hand of an all-wise Providence, and although the loss we have sustained cannot be replaced, we bow down in obedience to His will.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of our late Chief, W. A. Menger, our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of bereavement, and remind them that the Omnipotent has said: "I will be the guardian of the widows and orphans," and He will "temper the winds to the shorn lamb."

Resolved, That as a token of respect for the services of our late Chief, we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these proceedings be entered upon the Journal of the Association, and that a true copy of these resolutions be furnished to the family of the deceased; and that the public journals of the city be requested to publish the same.

ELMENDORF & CO.,

Agents for the CLIPPER MOWER and REAPER.

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—where "The Clipper" met some of competitors, including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premiums and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for The Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team, is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles.
In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers THE CLIPPER is the Horse's Friend, and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare. Send for pamphlet—investigate. See or write to some one who has used THE CLIPPER. See the Machine yourself before you buy any other.

WONDERFUL RAPIDITY.

Perfectly Regular and Even Distribution of the Seed. Cahoon's Broadest Seeder. For Sowing all Kinds of Grain and Grass Seed.

The unprecedented success of this Seeder the past season is without a parallel in the history of Agricultural Implements. The farmers of the Country have no longer got to wait in the hurry of Seeding time for the imperfect process of Hand Sowing, nor for the "Slow Coaches" called "Combined Seeders."

A Hand Cahoon's Seeder will sow as fast as five, and a Power Cahoon's Seeder as fast as twelve of them, and the work will be done better than it can be done by any means whatever.

Farmers save your money and your time.
Look to your own interests and not to the pockets of interested dealers and manufacturers.
