OFFICIAL
OF THE
UNITED STATES,

Passed at the Third Session of the Forty-first Congress.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 27.]
AN ACT to provide a government for the District of Columbia.

Sec. 29. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly shall define by law who shall be entitled to relief in papers in said District, and shall provide by law for the support and maintenance of such papers, and for that purpose shall raise the money necessary by taxation.

Sec. 30. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly shall have power to provide by law for the election or appointment of such ministerial officers as may be deemed necessary to carry into effect the laws of said District, to prescribe their duties, their terms of office, and the manner of their compensation.

Sec. 31. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, and other officers to be appointed pursuant to this act, shall, before they act as such, respectively, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before a judge of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, or some justice of the peace in the limits of said District, duly authorized to administer oaths or affirmations by the laws now in force therein, or before the Chief Justice or some associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to support the Constitution of the United States, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices; which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person before whom the same shall have been taken; and such certificates shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings; and all such officers in said District, before they act as such, shall take and subscribe the said oath or affirmation before the said governor or secretary, or some judge or justice of the peace of the District, who may be duly commissioned and qualified, or before the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted by the person administering the same to the secretary, to be by him recorded as aforesaid, and afterward the like oath or affirmation shall be taken and subscribed, certified and recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 32. And be it further enacted, That the governor shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, and the secretary shall receive an annual salary of two thousand dollars. And that the said salaries shall be paid quarterly, in advance, from the date of the respective appointments, at the treasury of the United States; but no payment shall be made until said officers shall have entered upon the duties of their respective appointments. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive four dollars each per day during their actual attendance at the session thereof, and an additional allowance of four dollars per day shall be paid to presiding officers of each day he shall so preside. And a chief clerk, one assistant clerk, one engrossing and one enrolling clerk, and a sergeant-at-arms may be chosen for each house; and the chief clerk shall receive four dollars per day, and the said other officers three dollars per day, during the session of the legislative assembly; provided, that there shall be one session of the legislative assembly annually, unless, on an extraordinary occasion, the governor shall think proper to call the legislative assembly together. And the governor and secretary of the District shall, in the disbursement of all moneys appropriated by Congress and entrusted to them, be governed solely by the instructions of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, and shall semi-annually account to the said Secretary for the manner in which the aforesaid moneys shall have been expended; and no expenditure shall be made by the said legislative assembly of funds appropriated by Congress, for objects not especially authorized by acts of Congress making the appropriations, nor beyond the sums thus appropriated for such objects.

Sec. 33. And be it further enacted, That the legislative assembly of the District of Columbia shall hold its first session at such time and place in said District as the governor thereof shall appoint and direct.

Sec. 34. And be it further enacted, That a Delegate to the House of Representatives of the United States, to serve for the term of two years, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of the District of Columbia, and shall have the qualifications of a voter, may be elected by the voters qualified to elect members of the legislative assembly, who shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are exercised and enjoyed by the Delegates from the several Territories of the United States to the House of Representatives; and at all subsequent elections the time and place and the manner of holding the elections, shall be prescribed by law. The person having the greatest number of legal votes shall be declared by the governor to be duly elected, and a certificate thereof shall be given accordingly; and the Constitution and all the laws of the United States, which are not locally inapplicable, shall have the same force and effect within the said District of Columbia as elsewhere within the United States.

Sec. 35. And be it further enacted, That all officers to be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for the District of Columbia, who, by virtue of the provisions of any law now existing, or which may be enacted by Congress, are required to give security for moneys that may be entrusted to the disbursement, shall give such security at such time and in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

Sec. 36. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a valuation taken in the District of Columbia of all real estate belonging to the United States in said District, except the public buildings, and the lands have been dedicated to the public use as parks and squares, at least once in five years, and return thereof shall be made by the governor to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives on the first day of the session of Congress held after such valuation shall be taken, and the aggregate of the valuation of private property in said District, whenever made by the authority of the legislative assembly, shall be reported to Congress by the governor: Provided that all valuations of property belonging to the United States shall be made by such persons as the Secretary of the Interior shall appoint, and under such regulations as he shall prescribe.

Sec. 37. And be it further enacted, That there shall be in the District of Columbia a board of public works, to consist of the governor, who shall be president of said board; four persons, to be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, of whom shall be a civil engineer, and the other citizens and residents of the District, having the qualifications of an elector therein; one of said board shall be a citizen and resident of Georgetown, and one of said board shall be a citizen and resident of Washington, and Georgetown.

They shall hold office for the term of four years, unless sooner removed by the President of the United States. The board of public works shall have entire control and make all regulations which they shall deem necessary for keeping in repair the streets, avenues, alleys, and sewers of the city, and all other works which may be entrusted to their charge by the legislative assembly or Congress. They shall disburse upon their warrant all moneys appropriated by the United States, or the District of Columbia, or collected from property-holders, in pursuance of law, for the improvement of streets, avenues, alleys, and sewers, and roads and bridges, and shall assess in such a manner as shall be provided by law, upon the property adjoining and to be specially benefited by the improvements authorized by law and made by them; a reasonable proportion of the cost of the improvements, not exceeding one-third of such cost, which sum shall be collected as all other taxes are collected. They shall make all necessary regulations respecting the construction of private buildings in the District of Columbia, subject to the supervision of the legislative assembly. All contracts made by the said board of public works shall be in writing, and shall be signed by the parties making the same, and a copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the District, and said board of public works shall have no power to make contracts to bind said District for the payment of any sums of money except in pursuance of appropriations made by law, and not until such appropriations shall have been made. All contracts made by said board in which any member of said board shall be personally interested shall be void, and no payment shall be made thereon by said District or any officers thereof. On or before the first Monday in November of each year, they shall submit to each branch of the legislative assembly a report of their transactions during the preceding year, and also furnish duplicates of the same to the governor, to be by him laid before the President of the United States for transmission to the two houses of Congress; and shall be paid the sum of ten thousand five hundred dollars each annually.

Sec. 38. And be it further enacted, That the officers herein provided for, who shall be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall be paid by the United States by appropriations to be made by law as hereinafter provided; and all other officers of said District provided for by this act shall be paid by the District: Provided, that no salary shall be paid to the governor as a member of the board of public works in addition to his salary as governor, nor shall any officer of the army appointed upon the board of public works receive any increase of pay for such services.

This is from a London paper: J. Bull begs to inform his friends, the public, heads of families, and teachers in infant schools, that he is prepared to exhibit on very reasonable terms his celebrated British Lion (quite tame). The awe-inspiring and terrific roars of this noble animal, combined with its perfect impunity, kick or spit upon it, or pull it by the tail, so that much fun may be derived from its ferocious demonstrations, at which nobody need feel the least afraid. It has been exhibited before all the crowned heads of Europe, and has caused screams of laughter. Address J. Bull, at the Wind Bag Inn Lamb's Conduit street.

Posterior springs are being introduced into the rear of pantaloons by the tailors in some parts of the country. They will put a man on his feet instantly should he be so unfortunate as to slip up and come down. Now, if some inventive genius would only produce a spring, and we care not whether it be posterior, anterior or interior, that would put on their feet unprising mechanics who frequently slip up and come down, why, what a blessing he'd be to the human family!—Cincinnati Times.

The Debtors' Refuge.

A DEAD LINE AND ITS MEANING. Niagara Suspension Bridge Correspondence of the New York Evening Post.

In the exact centre of the Niagara Suspension bridge is a mark familiarly known by the habitues of that neighborhood as the "dead line," across which, to certain unfortunate, it is almost sure danger to pass.

On the bridge, at almost any time men may be seen loitering—to all appearances being common tourist, or, perhaps, dwellers in the vicinity of the structure. These individuals, if they are closely watched, it will be seen, do not cross the entire length of the bridge, but top at about the "dead line," and converse with others a little distance on the other side.

As a consequence, he gets careless, and is more easily caught. He will cross the dead line and walk boldly up to the other end of the bridge, confident that he can retrace his steps in time to avoid capture.

One thus careless, a fine active young Scotchman, and a perfect athlete, was accustomed to boast of his strength and agility as always able to rescue him if caught, but one day he was found nearly wanting. He was a fugitive from Canada, where he owed large sums, but having money to live upon, preferred, in a careless, dare-devil way, to live close to his late home, instead of moving further back into the States.

He was accustomed to walk to the Canada end of the bridge, where he would chat with the officers here on duty. A Canadian Sheriff determined to capture him. Disguising himself and an assistant in women's dresses, they came on the bridge at the American end, and approached their captive, between him and freedom.

At last they were close upon him, and the Sheriff, placing his hand on the debtor's shoulder, proclaimed him prisoner. The athlete, however, was too much for the law. Springing to his feet, he struck out right and left, and flooring his would-be captors, made for the dead line at full speed, and crossed it in safety, unfortunately for the Sheriff; the law held him responsible for the debts of the prisoner, as he had allowed him to escape after proclaiming him his prisoner. The debts had therefore to be paid by the Sheriff, and he laid plans for vengeance.

The Scotchman was very careful for a few weeks, but, caution wearing off, a new plan was laid for his capture. Along the bridge were stationed, at that time, large logs heads filled with water for use in case of fire, and the Canadian Sheriff managed to obtain leave to empty several of these and place them in the water.

The confident predictions of those who hoped to make "revenue reform" a means of distracting and dividing the Republican Party have not been verified. Our readers cannot have forgotten what these predictions were. The Democratic free-traders and Republican revenue reformers were to have the organization of the House and its Committees in their hands, and would thus be able to shape the financial and fiscal policy of the Forty-second Congress.

A MOST amusing and ludicrous sight it was to see the attempts made to get the elephant on board the Yeager, says the New Orleans Republican. When he was brought to the stage plank he objected to going on board, and when a compulsory movement was made to get his majesty to walk up to the captain's office and settle, he let a loud yell, and so terrified the crowd who had assembled to take a free look, that an indiscriminate and wild panic took place.

A Beautiful Legend.

From the Catholic World. I. Softly fell the touch of twilight on Judea's silent hills; Slowly crept the peace of moonlight o'er Judea's trembling hills. II. In the temple's court, conversing, seven elders sat apart; Seven grand and hoary sages, wise of head and pure of heart. III. "What is rest?" said Rabbi Judah, he of stern and steadfast gaze. "Answer, ye, whose souls have burdened through the march of many days."

Than the toys of home and children—than wealth, than glory, than fame. "Fairer than the price honored, far above the law, But as any man's vision ever without proper aim."

Where the elders lingered, silent since He spake, the Undeified— Where the Wisdom of the Ages sat amid the flowers—a child!

We learn from the North German-Gazette that a printed sheet containing a picture of Count Bismarck, and a clear and distinct investigation to his assassination, has been published by the bookseller, Armand Le Chevalier, Paris. After descending on the subject of political murder in general, the author concludes with these words: "For it is true that this terrible question of political assassinations, so long as it has not been expunged from the consciousness of nations, as well as war and capital punishment, will still remain a question of relative morality. To-day that man would be saluted as a savior who, a few months ago, would have been condemned as a common murderer."

An Omaha paper shows that the merchants of that city lack enterprise by asserting that "a country order for six barrels of A sugar would bankrupt the market."

Mr. Hancock, the Superintendent of Schools in Cincinnati, recommends the adoption of compulsory education.

DR. SCHENCK advises Consumptives to go to Florida in Winter.

Having for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that nature has pursued to restore a consumptive and ease of diseased lungs to healthy condition. The first and most important step is to get the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all places on the continent for this purpose in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subjected to great variations as in mere Northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Petermans. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well. One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Marlonsville and Enterprise are located there. It is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite, and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal. Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature, and it is not necessary to say that where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly. Therefore my advice is, go well down into the State out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat or cough, but for those whose lungs are diseased a more southern is earnestly recommended. For fifteen years prior to 1865, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully, and hence, my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schonck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold. In Florida, nearly all are using Schonck's Medicine's, especially Schonck's Mandrake Pills, for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption especially of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one third, at least, of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States it does not prevail so largely, still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh cold as they are about scarlet fever, small pox, &c. But they are not. They take what they term a little cold, which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope for cure. My advice to persons whose lungs are affected even slightly, is to lay in a stock of Schonck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, Seaweed Tonic, and Schonck's Mandrake Pills, and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that where they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough or night sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long. My plan is to give my three medicines, in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a frugal Mandrake Pills necessary. My object is to give tone to the stomach—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food, and the gratification of that relish, come good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs. Then the cough lessens and abates, the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer prostrate and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold. Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point, by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room, by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment pursued. The fact stands indisputed on record that Schonck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic, have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use. So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They set on liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhoea ensues, a dose of the Mandrake will cure you. If you are subject to sick headaches, take a dose of Mandrake and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night or every other night, and you may then drink water and eat watermelons, pears, apples, plums, peaches or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They eat do you good only. I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No. 15 N. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood that the value of my

...depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions. In evidence, I will say that when persons take my medicines, and their systems are brought into a healthy condition, thereby, they are not liable to take cold, get one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes. Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist. J. H. SCHENCK, M. D. No. 15 N. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia. 1-11-7001y.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing won so widely and so quickly upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. It is a safe and certain cure for the most dangerous and deadly disease of the human system, and is equally effective in the most chronic and inveterate cases of the disease.

Although serious consumption is thought insupportable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed sealed, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. Its efficacy is a mystery over the disorders of the lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they are cured and disappear.

Nurses and Public Speakers find great protection from it. Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it. Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses. Be generally use in various forms, that we need not publish the certificate of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure, For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills, Fever, Rheumatism, Fever, Dysentery, Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or putrescent poisons.

As its name implies, it does "Cure," and does not "kill." Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Iodine, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is perfectly safe in every case. In the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of medicine. Our price is regulated by the small quantities we receive of the original cure, which in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Traveling persons, either resident in, or traveling through malarious localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily. For Fever and Ague, arising from impurities of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity. For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing a truly remarkable cure, where other medicines had failed.

WONDERFUL RAPIDITY.
Perfectly Regular and Even Distribution of the Seed, Caboon's Broadest Sower. For Sowing all Kinds of Grain and Grass Seed.
The superior quality of this Sower for the past season is without a parallel in the history of Agricultural Implements. The farmers of the country have no longer got to wait the long and tedious time for the imperfect process of hand sowing, nor for the slow process, called "Combining" seeders.
A Good Caboon's Sower will sow as fast as five, and a Power Caboon's Sower as fast as twelve of them, and the work will be done better than it can be done by any other sower.
Farmers save time and money and sow their seed better than ever before and get the best crops of increased yields and satisfaction.
