IF WA KNEW.

If we know the wee and heart-ache Waiting for us down the road;
If our lips could taste the wormwood, If our hacks could feet the load, Would we waste the day in wishing For a time that ne'er could be? Would we wait in such impatience For our ships to come from see?

If we knew the baby fingers,
Pressed against the window pane,
Would be cold and stiff to-morrow—
Nevel trouble us again—
Would the bright eyes of our darling
Catch the frown upon our brow?
Would the prints of rosy fingers
Yex us then as they do now?

Oh, these little ics-cold fingers.
How they point our memories back
To the hasty words and actions
Strewn along our backward track!
How these little hands remind us,
As in andwy grace they lie,
Not to scatter thorns—but reass—
For our reaping by and by.

Strange we never prize the music
Till the sweet-valued bird has flown;
Strange that we should slight the violets
Till the lovely flowers are gone;
Strange that summer skies and samshine
Never seem one half so fair
As when winter's snowy pinious
Shake the white down in the air!

Lips from which the seal of silence
None but God can roll away,
Never blossomed in such beauty
As adorns the mouth to-day;
And aweet words that freight our memory
With their beautiful perfume
Come to us in sweeter accents
Through the portals of the tomb.

Let us gather up the sunbeams
Lying all around our path:
Let us keep the wheat and roses,
Casting out the thorns and chaff;
Let us find our sweetest comfort
In the blessings of today;
With a patient hand removing
All the briars from our way.

The Face in the Fire

A BACHELOR'S REVERIE

Carious and tangled are our thoughts sometimes, ideas are born from their intricate meshes. They come teeming upon us when we wish for them least, and banish happier feelings with their advent. "It is so with me now," said an old bachelor to the Repor-ter one night. "Sitting here, and looking into that glowing grate, I see a face in the fire. Thought is busy with its lineameuts, and the features assume the likeness of one, that years ago enthralled me with a subtile fascination. I will describe it to you. It is that of a girl, youthful, gay and beautiful. The golden curls are shading her face, and through their meshes may be seen the graceful curve of a neck white as snow - deep blue liquid eyes, restless and flashing, mirror in their depths many a glance ra-diant with fun. And yet into those eyes sometimes creeps a look of sadness, like the harbinger of woe. Then the face grows calm-the co quetish look forsaken, it resembles that of the Madouna. The last time I saw her, her face were that expression—such a one as, when in great peril, hopeless of succor, the appealing eyes will turn to heaven. Calm and desparing, I see it even through the baze of memory, with trembling lids, and eyes full of unshed tears, robed like an angel, or a martyr for the sacrifice.

It was in an old brick-church, far down in the city, where there were no houses above Canal street. The magnólia trees that shaded the old Cathedral windows were in bloom, and a blossom white as snow was put in ber hair. Around her was a gay company-knights and and chevaliers, for it was in the old colonial times. The white reved priest stood at the altar, and the haughty figure that stood beside ber bent and kissed her hand with knightly courtesy. The solemn or gan pealed out the music of a marriage hymn, and into its cadence crept a sound of woe instead of joy; that epithalamiam was like a fun eral dirge.

My heart sank within me as I heard it, and my look of distress was seen by my bride. Her lips tried to murmur, "Thy will be done!" but her tongue was voiceless and a sigh, full of despair, unsurped the words she intended to say. I was helpless to assist her, and yet she was my boyhood's idol.

Gradually the scene changes in the fitful glow of the fire, and the burning embers assume the likeness of a carnival. The city is alive with joy. Uniety and revelry are everywhore, and the men and women mingle indiscriminately in the mas-querade. Suddenly I feel an awelike feeling stealing over me. I am powerless to drive it off. It is like death to me. They are cavaliers and ladies, and a small, slender boy is standing near them. I seem to know it, the lithe, elegant figure, the slender, beatiful limbs, and the poise of the beautifully moulded lread, exercise over me a strange, mayical charm. I look at him and magical charm. I look at him and then at the group near by. There's a subtle charm about me I cannot throw off, what does it mean? Suddenly the boy bounds forward, and with a motion quick as the stabs the tall cavalier to The mask of the soufile, and riffeed

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, bealthy, and effectual for preserving the Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling bair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted

Through struggle and suffering, at the cost of multiform agonies, becausements, devastations, the American Idea embudied in the preamble to our fathers' Declara-tion of Independent approaches its com-plete realization. The noble, inspiring assertion that "all nea are created equal," and endowed by their Creator with inalien-able rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, is no longer a glittering generality, a poet's fancy, a philosopher's speculation, but the recognized base of our political fabric. The benign Revolution, which dates from the Boston Massacre of which dates from the Boston Massacre of 1770, finds its legical completion, just one century later, in the XVth Amendment, which gives to the equal political and civil rights of every man born or naturalized in our Republic the shield and defense of the Federal Constitution. The billows of Caste and Privilege may roar and rage around that rock, and may transiently seem on the point of washing it away; but its foundations are deep laid and stendfast, and the breakers of Reaction and Slavery are hurled against and dash their spray over it in vain.

We do not underrate the forces of Prejudice and Aristocracy. We do not forget

We do not underrate the forces of Prejudice and Aristocracy. We do not forget that a very large minority of the American People still hold in their inmost hearts that Blacks have no rights which Whites are bound to respect. We fully appreciate the desperation wherewith all the warring elements of hatred to Republican achievement will be combined and hurled against the battlements of Republican ascendency in the Presidential Election of 1872. We do not doubt that local successes, facilitated by Republican feuds and dissensions, will inspire the charging host with a santed by Republican fouds and dissensions, will inspire the charging host with a sanguine hope of victory, such as nerved it to put forth its utmost strength in the earlier stages of the contests of 1864 and 1868. Yet our faith is clear and strong that the American People still bless God that, on the red battle fields of our late Clvil War, the Union was upheld and Slavery destroyed, and will never consciously decide that the precious blood theroon poured out was lavished in vain.

THE TRIBUNE believes in the prosecution of the great struggle by legitimate means to beneficent ends. To State Sovemeans to beneficent ends. To State Sovereignty, if opposes Indissoluble National Integrity; to Slavery for Blacks, Liberty for Ali; to Proscription, Enfranchisement; to Popular Ignorance, Universal Education; to intensity and eternity of wrathful Hate, universal and invincible Good Will. It would fain do its utmost to hasten the glad day when the South shall viewith the North in exultation and gratitude over the disappearance of the last trace or taint of that spirit which impelled Man to exult in the ownership and chattelhood of his fellow Man.

Profoundly do we realize that the con-chattelhood of his fellow Man.

Profoundly do we realize that the contest is not yet ended—that Millions mourn, more or less publicly, the downfall of the slaveholders Confederacy, and rear their children to hate those by whose valor and constancy its overthrow was achieved. If we ever seem to differ essentially from other Republicans, our conviction that magnanimity is never weakness, that venue. nanimity is never weakness, that venge-ance is never politic, and that devils are not-east out by Beelzebub, must rerve to explain alleged eccentricities whose per-fect vindication we leave to Time and

THE TRIBUNE has been, is, and must be, The Tribune has been, is, and must be, a zealous advocate of Protection to Home Industry. Regarding habitual idleness as the greatest foe to human progress, the bane of human happiness, we seek to win our countrymen in masses from the ensoaring lures of Speculation, of Traffic, and of always overcrowded Professions, to the tranqui paths of Productive Industry. We would gladly deplete our overcrowded cities, where thousands vainly jostle and crowd in misguided quest of "Something to Do," to cover prairies and plains with colonies absorbed in Agriculture, Mechanics and Manufactures, and plains with colonies absorbed in Agricul-ture, Mechanics and Manufactures, and constantly projecting into the blank, void wilderness the homes and the works of civilized Man. Holding the Protection of Home Industry by discriminating duties on imported Wares and Fabrics essential to the rapid, beneficent diffusion of Pro-duction in all its phases and departments, and so to the instruction of our people in all the gainful arts of Peace, we urge our countrymen to adhere to and uphold that policy, in undoubting faith that the true interest, not of a class or a section and every useful class, is thereby observed and

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT!

ANOTHER RAILROAD SMASH UP.

A PARALLEL TO THE EAST-ERN HOLOCAUST.

THREE PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH.

As the regular freight and passenger train of the West Texas and Pacific Railroad was crossing the Salado yesterday at 4 P. M., on its way to our city, the illy constructed treatle work, upon which the ties were laid, gave way, precipitating three of the passenger cars, well filled, and four platform cars, laden with humber, to the bottom of the ravine and the river bed, caucing a frightful loss of life, and the maiming of a score of others, who are thankful in even thus escaping the darker terrors of this frightful catastrophe. The lumber, shingles and laths which were upon the platform cars, were hurled upor or in proximity to the locomotive (The Pioncer) and took fire immediately, and a brikesman and two colored men were burned to death, their heart rending cares of agony, and the herculean efforts of the bystanders to release them from the rains, availing them naught. The news spread rapidly to our city, and thousands people, who have from time to time sufferers. The District Court.

On Wednesday last John Sheppard was convicted of stealing a galvanised watch and chain; and the jury, no doubt, taking into consideration that John had already lain in jail a year, punished him with ten lays confinement in the county jail.

Pedro Hernandez was convicted of stealing a row, and consigned to the county jail for twenty-four hours, with a fine of $25 to pay.

James Stephenson, the next morning, was undoubtedly astonished when the jury yieted him of branding a colt with into defraud the owner. We did not by of the testimony in this cause, and tion of the arguments of the atanother's brand, was orders and directions brand of his em-

There were facts, no doubt, which satisfied the jury that the set was malicious and fraudulent, and therefore their verdict. The cowboys will learn after a while, if our aws continue to be enforced under the Republican rule, that all laws are made to be enforced, that they can no longer practice the loose morals which have heretofore characterized their conduct in the "range."

Education Senator Fountain's Educational Bill.

Amongst all the proposed systems as em-praced in ten or twolve different education al bills before the Senate, that of Senator Fountain meets with our heartiest appro-

That able Senator, without prefacing of rendering ambiguous the provisions of the act offered, has conceived a plan wherein the responsibility of a good school system rests upon the superintendent of public instruction, and does away with the prepos terous idea of having county officers of courts, create as many different systems as there are counties.

We held it as good policy and wisdom, to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesars," and if we have a superintendent of education, why not make him practically the Governor of the Educational system of the State, and not clothe him with a semblance of authority, which, in the abstruct, amounts to naught.

Controversy, doubts and experimental ideas can but prove hurtful; and act as drawbacks to the good which a definite educational system is expected to realize; hence instead of multiform ideas, in the shape of over one hundred county advisers, we be lieve the clothing of the Superintendent with full-powers, harmonizes the parts of a system reflecting its importance in every nove, and throws the enthre responsibility upon the selection of an efficient and expe enced Superintendent.

Each judicial district is apportioned supervisor of education, who is under the immediate control of the Superintendent and responsible to him for all official acts, and who can be removed at any moment for incompetency, neglect, or malfeasance in office. This provision is eminently wise and judicious. While acting as a stimulus upon the efforts of the supervisors, While acting as a it leaves the Superintendent untrammelled by any officials who may choose to clash with his opinions and create dissension or ontroversy

The bill further provides for the creation of a Board of Education; the Governor of he State, the Attorney General and the Superintendent are the members of that pard, and are vested with the power of adopting all necessary rules and regulations, for the establishment and promotion of public schools; to provide for the examnation and appointment of teachers and to fix their compensation, and to define the course of studies in the public schools, and direct the class and kind of books and apparatus to be used therein. The school and for the use of the State is prescribed, as all the interest which has accrued or may hereafter accrue from loans to railroads or otherwise, since March 30th, 1870. One fourth of all the ad valorem and ocen pation taxes assessed since that date, and such other taxes as have been or may be provided by law for public school support. The terscuess and force of the hill, on all these points is peculiarly gratifying to the rished the scene of the catastrophe and ed from the passage of ambiguous tautolots, intended for the public welfi attention to the miserable trestle work, the able Senator offers all that could be spanning the Salado, and now our warn- asked. THE Houston Times says:

Senator Pickett gave the Radicals some rather hard rubs while the Educational Bill was under discussion on Thursday.

Matt Gaines got indignant and declared he did not "want his race fisuited." To this Mr. Pickett exclaimed that "when speaking of race he meanth uman, not brutes, and did not refer to the race of the Senator from Washington,"

We clip the above from the Herald of this city, and although there are no comments upon it in that paper, the inferance is unavoidable, that the Herald, as well as the Houston Times, endorses Mr. Pickett's sentiments, and applauds his expression of them in the Senate Chamber of Texas. But we would not ask our readers to condemn without a full hearing, and the Herald and Times both shall have the opportunity to testify in their own behalf.

Will each of these papers answer squarely the following questions: First. Do you regard the negro as belonging to the human race or to the brute up was, that the creation? Second. In either case, has "the negro of persons were assisting in branding colts, any rights which the white man is bound respect;" if so, what are those rights ?

Third. Do you regard the XIV and XV mendments to the Constitution of the United States as valid and binding upon the people thereof, or as either voidable or void f

Fourth. Is it or not, the determined purpose of yourselves and of the Definocratic party, to abrogate and nullify each and all of these amendments, as soon as you can obtain control of the Federal Government, and a sufficient number of the State Governments to withdraw by joint resolutions their previous assent to, and adoption of these amendments !

These are plain, simple questions, and plain, straightforward answers to them will enable the people to determine at least a portion of the material issues which divide the two great parties in the country. You have stated that these amendments were forced upon the people by fraud, by co-ercion-at the point of the bayonet. But the courts of the country everywhere res pect and obey them. Do you counsel their evasion and avoidance until annulled, if annulled they may be,-and do you advocate their abrogation—yes or no ?

Let us have these vital questions cleared of rubbish, of hateful vituperation, of exasperating abuse, and meet them as men of onse and reason, as citizens having the welfare of the people at heart.

Messrs. Herald and Times, we await your

EDWARD DEGENER, MEMBER OF THE FORTY FIRST CONGRE To his Constituents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5, 1871. To the Electors of the Fourth Congressional District of Texas:

The term for which you elected me as

The term for which you elected me as your Representative in Congress having expired, it becomes my duty to give an account of my stewardship.

It will be recollected that the work of reconstruction after the civil war, was not completed until the end of March, 1570, when the members-elect from Texas were permitted to take their seats in the Congress of the United States.

gress of the United States.

One half of the Forty-First Congress having then already expired, it could not be expected that your Representatives would be able to take as effective a part in the legislative labors as those of their colleagues whose good fortune it was to assist in the organization of said body and to gather experience by watching its proceedings from the beginning.

At the time of our admission to Congress the half-completed turiff bill was the all absorbing topic, involving the in-

Although not unconditionally belong-ing to either school, I believe in the rule, "The greatest good to the greatest hum-ber," which in my estimation can, under existing circumstances, be best subserved ber, which in my estimation can, under existing circumstances, be best subserved by a system approaching as nearly as possible to free trade. A protective tariff is excusable, and may be even unavoidable, where the density of population calls for artificial neans of employment, for superabundant labor. This argument must, however, lose its force in a country which is continually clamoring for immigrants, and sends its agents to Europe and Asia to anpply the home demand for labor. In America protection ought, therefore, only to go so far as to induce capital to seek an investment in new branches of industry the returns of which are doubtful. As soon as the latter question is fully tested the protective tariff ought to be gradually reduced. An industry which can only be sustained by burdensome taxation of the people should not be continued artificially in a country the resources of which cannot be fully turned to account for want of laborers.

So far as the necessities of our Treasury permitted, I have acted in full harmony with these views, and followed the same maxim in reference to the internal reve-

Assuming that our fereign importation and our home production were to remain mehanged, the modification of the tariff and revenue laws would cause a decrease of over eighty million dollars in the revenue of the Treasnry for the next fiscal

It is obvious, however, that the steady rowth of our population must cause the manuption of a proportionately greater amount of produce, and thus the actual reduction of the burdens of our tax pay-ers will not affect the returns of our

Treasury to the same extent.

A further reason why the reduction of the tariff and internal revenue will not affect the possibility of realizing in fature a haudsome surplus over our expenditures is the reduction of the requirements of the various branches of the executive de

The nunsual claims on our Government Incident to or in consequence of the fate civil war have caused excessive expenditures for the Army, the Navy, and for a force of officers in the civil service, which can be considerably decreased at present, heace being restored within the limits of the United States.

The reductions in the Army and the Navy ordered by the Forty-First Congress amount to many millions of dollars. The civil aurvice, too, has undergone a thorough overhauling, and further reduc-tions are in progress.

It is true that measures of this kind are

It is true that measures of this kind are franght with great hardships to indivi-duals, who tor a number of years have de-voted their energies to public service, and are now suddenly thrown upon their own resources. Highly meritorious cases, services done and wounds received on the battlefield in defense of the Union, are brought to the notice of the respective Rebrought to the notice of the respective Re-presentatives by their constituents, and, as an offset, the claims of parties who can allege nothing more in their behalf than a good, partisan record at the poll which elected the member of Congress. Applicants of the latter class come generally furnished with a long indersement of prominent politicians, on the strength of which they consider themselves entitled to enlist the time, the pen, and the legs of the Representative to ransack the departments for a vacancy, and if no vacancy ments for a vacancy, and if no vacancy exists to cause one to be made for the es-pecial benefit of the applicant.

Under the impression that the "spoils to the victors" doctrine is a fallacy, and that the beacht of the service is the highest consideration, I have not countenanced the removal of any officer for other reasons than inefficiency or misconduct, and in such case have invariably recommended the best man I knew for successor.

I do not doubt that notwithstanding my best intentions mistakes have occurred, but this is only an additional evidence that the patronage, real or imaginary, of amounter of Congress ought to be considerably curtailed. Any reform of the present system would, on that occount have commanded my most hearty co-operation.

During the administration of President Grant $200,000,000 of the national debt have been paid off and canceled, though we are paying $120,000,000 per aunum for interest—and $30,000,000 per aunum for pensions to the maimed soldiers and their widows and orphans. This extraordinary success has so firmly established American credit, at home and abroad, that it was believed a funding bill, looking toward a reduction of the present rate of interest, would command the confidence of the world, and cause a saving of from sixteen to twenty million dellars annually. The great European war, which so unexpectedly broke out has for the time being suspended the contemplated measure. Peace being: however, restored, there is no reason why a nation which is capable of pay-$200,000,000 of debt in two years, and reducing its taxation $80,000,000, should not be capable of berrewing at four and a half and five per cent, all the money she may be capable of berrewing at four and a half and five per cent. all the moncy she may

As soon as the provisions of the funding bill are in full operation it will become manifest that a further gradual reduction of our revenues can be effected without in any way diminishing the ability of the United States to pay the entire national debt in less than twenty years. Thus, children born since the re-administration of the late rebel States to the Union, may, when they become of age, find a Treasury unincumbered by a national debt—a glorious inheritance indeed, a consummation unprecedented in the history of nations. The funded debts, howconsummation imprecedented in the mo-tery of nations. The funded debts, how-ever, are not the only liabilities of the United States. Many private claims, as sacred as the national debt, must be provided for by appropriate legislation. So far as I was able, I have aided citizens to recover their property, whether it was unjustly withheld by excessive parsimony or by barriers of red tape preventing prompt action.

or by barriers of red tape preventing prompt action.

Two cases may serve as an illustration of two classes of claims above alluded to.

A citizen of Santa Fe, in New Mexico, was robbed by a band of Indian maranders. Satisfactory evidence was adduced that Indians from a reservation were perpetrators of the deed. Nevertheless, the case had been pending over five years and finally of the deed. Nevertheless, the case had been pending over five years, and finally came before the House Committee on Indian Affairs. As referee in this matter, I succeeded in procuring full compensation to the aggrieved party, thus establishing a precedent that the United States is responsible for the depredations of the maponsible for the depredations of the marauders under their supervision.

The second case involved the property of a loyal citizen of Eagle Pass, in my congressional district. The property was illegally seized by the United States authorities, and the proceeds covered into the Treasury. The proof of "loyalty" being satisfactorily given, a full retribution was made.

nade.

I am of opinion that in times of peace the sacredness of private property has nothing to do with the political opinion of the claimant. If the crime of a late enemy is not amenable to law, no discrimination ought to be made against him. To withhold property which was wrongfully taken, or to refuse indemnification for damage done by Indians from the reservations, for no other reason than the political disabilities of the claimant, is, in fact, a repudiation of the duties which a free Government owes to its citizens,

Be Guided by What you Know

There is an old proverb which says, "Experience is the safest guide." To this guide the sick and failing turn when casting about for the means of relief. They inquire what a medicine has done for others, before they adopt it for themselves. Of all the remedies and preventives in use, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters meets the test most triumphantly, and hence its immense popularity and vast sales. The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of that ailment by the famous vegetable stomachic. The victim of fever and agne, liver complaint, constipation, nervous prostration, or general debility, has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he resides in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own. In 4 Yeri, and get a pamphlet on the published testimony to its merits he is free, or send wixty cents and get | will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary ge's Catarri Remedy. $500 reward properties, which it is impossible for his ed by the proprietor for a case of common sense to resist. Thus its reputation, founded on facts, not assertions, continually grows. Charlatans and impostors, some of them mere local tricksters, and others who take a somecal tricksters, and others who take a some-what wider range, attempt to thrust into the band and down the throats of invalids, their haphazard concections, as substitutes for the tonic which for so many years has been a medicinal staple throughout the Uni-ted States, Spanish America, Canada, and the West Indies, but only succeed to a very limited extent. In this reasoning age, the people, having ascertained what is really deserving of their confidence, decline "run-ning after strange gods."

Mesars. Herring, Farrel a sherman:—Our Agent at Richmood writes: "We got through to-night drying and fixing up the money-from the late fire. The contents of the safe—$23,500 in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring Safe, and a good oue, certain. Yours, truly."

I. C. BABCOCK, Treasurer."

Measrs. Herring. Farrel & Sherman, New York—tients: The two Safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the 25th inst., at the disastrous fire which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some $20,000 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books enclosed therein. It was impossible for workmen to excavate the Safe until nearly 30 hours after the fire.

Respectfully, J. F. GHBSON, Ass't Sup'l for Adams & Southers Ex. Co's. Richmond, Va., Dec. 29th, 1876.

Mean's Herring, Parret & Sherman Gents:
On-the morning of the 26th inst, we were fortunate enough to Bave one of yone Hersing's Pateof Champion Safes, which fell into the cellar among a burning mass of ruins. After the fire, to our utmost surprise, we found the contents, consisting of valuable-papiral monox and, some silver ware, all in good order. Had it not been for your flerring's Safe we would have lost everything.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills, For all the purposes of a Laxative

Perhaps no one medicine is a universally required by everybody as a fatharite, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, is every country and among all classes, as this mild but ethe ieut purgative Pitt. The chyions reason b, that it is a more reliable and far more offered it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cured them; those who have red, and it is a more reliable to the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomet nor any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety, by anybody. Their signs-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

cellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous discase, where the system seemed saturated with accounting these beautiful trules.

seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scroftions contamination until they were painfully afficient, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenaat of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, an some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals: In the latter, tubercles may be surficingly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by cruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsapartiful is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons affilieted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this Sarsapartiful. mediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Eryspielas, Tetter, Satt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other cruptons or visible forms of Scrofulous disense. Consumption,

Its Cure and its Preventive, By J. H. Schonek, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, or whose death there was no other reason hen the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dronmless slumbers into which, had they calmly adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicises and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptions. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the curs by Dr.
Schonell's medicine is as a simple as it is un Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is un citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspecia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the lives. Here then comes the culminating tressing symptoms of

Consumption,

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's soblest gifts-the Podophillum Peltatum They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomet, they "Leave no Sting Behind," The work of cure is now beginning. The vittated and mucous deposits in the bowsls and in the alimentary causal are ejected. The liver, like a clock is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Blood.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food, Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite

New comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suf fering man. Schenck's Pulmonic syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and rippus lie impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo ! in a very abort time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is rehovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the man-nood or womanhood that was.

Given up as Lost.

The second thing is, the patients must stay almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lings are diseased, but it must be when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected, Pr. sh air and riding out, especially in this acction of the country in the fall and winter season, are all areng. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not consider the patients of the patients. sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as last as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appendix, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sirful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words: Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them pened not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than a part of offensive yellow matter every morbing for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside my cough, (asset) not live a week; then, like a drewning man-catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the

As soon as that began to subside my cough, fover, pain and night sweats all be gan to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from esting too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown is flesh ever since

"I was weighed shortly after my recova nece skeleton; my weight was only nine-it-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

sional visits to New York and Poston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office. No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Paturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirameter will be charged $5. The Respirameter declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medi-cines used no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany the ample instructions that accompany them; First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once he of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is ahated. In a short time both of these merbid symptows are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families, As a laxative or pu gative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pul monic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and colds, monic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and cous, may be regarded as a prophylastric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulsmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.
