A Great Man. The man is great, and he alone, Who serves a greatness not his own, For neither praise nor puff, Content to know and be unknown, Whole in himself. Strong is that man, he only strong, To whose well-ordered will belong, For service and delight, All powers that, despite of wrong, Established right. And free he is, and only free, Who from his tyrant passions free, By fortune undismayed, Hath a power upon himself to be, By himself obeyed. If such a man there be, where'er Beneath the sun and moon he fare, He cannot fare amiss; Great Nature hath him in her care, Her cause is his. Time cannot take him by surprise; Fate cannot crush; he shall rise Stronger from overthrow, Whose arms a Heavenly Friend supplies Against heaven's foe. The merely great are all in all— No more than what the merely small Esteemed them; man's opinion Neither conferred nor can recall. This man's dominion, Lord of a lofty life is he, Lofly living, tho' he be, Of lowly birth; tho' poor, He lacks not wealth nor high degree In state obscure. Though sudden'ed, soil'd, not broken, Tho' burthen'd by his mortal lot To strive with mortal sin, And scald away with tears the spot That stains not in. Yet not with downward eyes he roves, Bent on himself, nor ever close Held to his own heart's cell; But what he sees, and hears, and knows, And doth love well. For though he lives aloof from ken, The world's unwitnessed denizen, The love within his stirrings Abroad; and with the hearts of men His own confers. The judge upon the Justice seat, The brown-backed beggar in the street, The spinner in the sun, The reapers reaping in the wheat, The wan-cheeked nun— He nothing human, alien deems Unto himself; not disesteems Man's meanest claim upon him; And where he moves, the mere suburban Drug blessings on him. —O. MEREDITH.

The Political Outlook. The nation and the human race never needed the Republican party more than they do now. We have only just come to understand that the war between slavery and barbarism, on the one hand, and liberty and civilization, on the other, is not yet fought out. Beaten in the open field, the Rebellion yet lives in the lawlessness of Southern scoundrellism. Beaten by ballots and beaten by bullets, it shows, like other venomous creatures, a wonderful tenacity of life. Liberty is not yet established at the South. Freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of political action are yet hardly known there. If the Democratic party were to come into power to-morrow, the whole work of reconstruction would be undone; the franchise would be taken from the negroes, and under some form or other slavery or its equivalent would be restored. Let us remember one thing. The lost cause is not an abandoned cause. When the Rebellion fights us again, it will be with the arms, the forts, the ships, and the prestige of the Government itself. When we vote at the next presidential election, we vote face to face and ballot to ballot, with the Rebellion. The battle of next year will be more decisive than the taking of New Orleans and Vicksburg and Richmond together. If under a Republican administration the whole South is full of lawlessness, what would be the state of things with Fernando Wood and Sunset Cox in the Cabinet? If mayors of cities are shot, banished, and abducted while Grant is President, what will be done when Hoffman reigns? If they do these things in a green tree, what will they not do in the dry? The lesson of the hour is plain. Every patriotic consideration demands that Republicans should stand by the party of liberty and human rights. No dissatisfaction with the President, or with any other leader, can justify lukewarmness in the cause. And we warn the administration that it cannot afford to divide the party by pushing any object, however desirable. Let Santo Domingo stand on its merits. It should never have been an Administration scheme. And appointments to office should hereafter be made with some regard to fitness. The Republican party is of too much value to be made a pack horse. It cannot afford to carry into the presidential campaign a race of doubtful office holders. There is, perhaps, no great immediate harm done to the country by the appointment of relatives and favorites, if they are competent and honest; but it is a policy most destructive to the popularity of a party and damaging to the good name of an administration. One bounden duty of the better class of Republicans in a crisis is to run the party machinery. It must not be left to office-holders and self-seekers. There is yet a year and a half till the next presidential election; and the present crisis will be most wholesome if it awakens us to the necessity for vigilance, harmony, and energetic work.—New York Independent.

The End Approaching. And now comes the Providence (R. I.) Journal to the front, with the "best of authority" too, and says that "a comet of large size will suddenly make its appearance on the night of June 13, 1871, and during the next four weeks the fate of the world will be decided." Well, let the comet come! It might as well be that as anything else. If it isn't one thing it is another which is going to settle our hash with these infernal prognosticators. One day the earth is going to capsize with the weight of ice at the North Pole. Then somebody trots out a "tidal wave" sixty feet high, a miniature opposition to the wave when the windows of heaven opened and the fountains of the great deep broke up, which is to wash us all into kingdom come. Then the carbonic acid gas in the atmosphere is running low, and we are in danger of asphyxia. Then the earth is going to burst up from the gases generated by its internal fire. Then again the earth is rapidly "cooling off," and we shall all freeze to death. Then the sun is discovered to be a fiery furnace, into which the earth is liable to be scooped at any moment. Last, but not least, come the comet that will decide the fate of the world in four weeks. We don't care a cent! One might as well be killed by a comet, as to be scared to death by these prognostications. Again we say, let the comet come.

A Sad Confession. The St. Louis Democrat has thoroughly awoken from its wild dream of a third party that gave Missouri to the Democracy. It thus enters its confession: The incidentals of "liberalism" have not been so exhilarating that any honest and intelligent Republican can be cheated by demagogues with the name when the meaning has gone out of it. What are those incidentals? Democratic victories—a Democratic triumph with but a minority vote in this county. A Democratic representation of St. Louis county in the Legislature, sent there by a minority of the voters of the county. A Democratic House—and such a House! A Blair representing (f) Missouri in the United States Senate, as champion of the Indiana resolutions and of the Ku-Klux Klan. These, and things like these, have been the incidentals for liberalism, in itself just. The work of that liberalism is accomplished. Isn't it about time? "The hallucination of so tried a Republican journal as the St. Louis Democrat was a sad spectacle to all earnest Republicans, and to none more so than to these of Maryland. We were betrayed and overthrown by the treason of one man in whom we trusted. The Missouri Republicans led the way to their own overthrow at the bidding of Carl Schurz who is now laboring to dismember and defeat the Republican party of the nation. Those who follow him now may one day have to make as mortifying a confession as that put forth by the St. Louis Democrat." So says the Baltimore American.

From the Boston Advertiser. A Prince Bids for a Yankee Woman's Horse. Prince Humbert, heir apparent of Italy, hunts, while his wife dances and makes merry. Like his father, he is a mighty Nimrod. His Royal Highness has set a coveting eye on Miss Hosmer's fine horse Bruno, so well known to American visitors to Rome. He has said he must have the horse in his stables. Accordingly an offer was despatched to our clever country woman—clever in many, many ways, both in head and heart. Four hundred guineas was the sum the Prince was willing to pay. Miss Hosmer's reply was characteristic, and any one who knows her can readily imagine exactly how she said it—the curt, concise, plucky tone of refusal: "If the four hundred guineas were doubled and then trebled, the Prince could not have Bruno."

Exhaustion. Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia, or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who, by reason of exposure, privations, and ungenial climate or unhealthy pursuits, may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed. You, who are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safe-guard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal stimulant and alterative, and you will be fortified against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are not only a standard tonic and alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia, and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt, they will eventually supersede every other invigorant and restorative now employed in medicinal practice.

TESTIMONIALS. From Genie C. Scott's "Report of Fashioners." Reading at the fountain-head of American enterprise, and knowing the interests of the tailoring business from many years' experience, we most enthusiastically pronounce the Shuttle stitch, last invented sewing machine of Grover & Baker, one of the best machines—if not the very best—in the world for tailors' use, or for the use of any trade requiring a tight seam in cloth or leather. We have used the Grover & Baker Shuttle Machine No. 1, and find it admirably adapted to our business. It runs lighter, makes less noise, and is in every way preferable to the Singer machine for either light or heavy manufacturing. JOSEPH SCOTT, Manufacturer of Clothing, No. 345 Broadway, New York. I am the fortunate possessor of one of your new Shuttle Machines, which you designate as No. 1. I have used many different machines in my business during the past eight years, and it gives me great pleasure in asserting that this one is far superior in all points to any that I have ever used. I want no better. SEBASTIAN BLES, Boot and Shoe Maker, 181 South 2d Street, St. Louis Mo. Having used the different kinds of Sewing Machines in the market, including Lovell's, Singer's and Howe's, have finally adopted your No. 1 Grover & Baker Machine; and having used it the past two years, can truthfully say it proves to be the best machine, and superior to any we have used. Austin, March 10th, 1871.

Hon. W. J. Locke.—From a note received from Austin by a friend of ours in this city, we learn that among other valuable services rendered his constituents, this gentleman has finally succeeded in passing to enactment a very important measure. It is a bill allowing administrators, executors, trustees and guardians to give real estate security, instead of personal bond.
This is very important, and can in no way be construed as a party measure. We all know how important it is to go on any man's bond, especially in cases of minors or trustees, where the bond usually stands for a long time. No man can tell what he is worth with his name on half a dozen bonds; bondsmen, if you ask a friend to sign with you, you in turn, must sign with him. By the provisions of Mr. Locke's bill, any person may make his own security, by pledging real estate, in trust, to the court having jurisdiction, thus making it easier for him, and doubly secure for the parties interested. We sincerely trust the bill will become a law, and only wonder such a law was not made years ago.

Editor San Antonio Express:
We have received the following:

sent at the telegraph office at any time during the day, to be sent after all day's messages have been forwarded at night, and delivered the next day, and that said messages will be charged half the usual rate, or full rate.
If this rate telegraphing at such a low rate as to be in reach of all.

We copy the following from the Chicago Tribune. Our people will see who are to fight them: A TALK ON INDIAN.—The General of the army will on the 4th of April next, start on a tour of inspection of the Reservation of Texas, Indian Territory, Kansas, and Nebraska, going out via St. Louis, Mo., and Baton Rouge and New Orleans, to San Antonio, thence westward and northward along the line of the posts to Nebraska, thence back to Washington. General R.
S. Slocum, Assistant Secretary of the Army, and Colonel J. G. McCoy and J. E. Towholsen, military camp, will accompany him.

We believe the following change has been made on account of the discontinuance of New Orleans as a supply depot. San Antonio now carries that flag.
Lieutenant Colonel Frederick Myers, District Quartermaster General, has been removed from duty at New Orleans, La., and ordered to the Department of Missouri for assignment to duty at Santa Fe, New Mexico, as Chief Quartermaster, District of New Orleans.—Washington Republican.

A WRITER in an English sporting paper, who has thoroughly explored and hunted through all the accessible regions of the Rocky Mountains, says that the wild goat found on the highest peaks here is furnished with hair of a quality admirably adapted for weaving into textile fabrics. Yes, but how are you going to get the goat down from those "highest peaks?"

INDIAN AFFAIRS IN TEXAS.

A Telling Exposure.

Letter From Hon. S. DeGerner.

We append in this letter from Hon. S.
DeGerner, ex-Congressman, 4th Congressional District, State of Texas, which for strength, point, and fearless exposure of the Indian situation, ranks any effort in that direction, yet made to induce a granting of relief.

Facts are treated as such, and the documentary proof accompanies his letter. We fail to see how the Secretary can possibly go around that letter, and refuse to give to our suffering frontier the protection that is therein demanded.

We want every man in Texas to read this letter carefully and thoroughly, and when done with it, we desire that he will hand it to his neighbor for perusal.

The people of this fourth district have every reason to be proud of their champion defender of the frontier, and we feel satisfied, that pride will manifest itself at the next election, by an overwhelming return of ballots, sending him again to National Hall, to represent them.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
March 25th, 1871.
Hon. Columbus Delano, Secretary of the Interior.
SIR.—In pursuance of our conversation this morning in relation to the condition of the Indian frontiers in Texas, I take the liberty of repeating herewith the main points.

From a number of private letters and Texas newspapers, I gather the conviction that the section of country which I had the honor to represent in the Forty-first Congress, was, during the last moon, afflicted with Indian outrages to a larger extent than ever before. It seems certain that several hundred savages must have been spread over the northwestern counties, and all indications, as arms and equipments, show that the perpetrators of the outrages were Reserve Indians, probably Comanches and Kiowas of the Fort Sill Reservation.

As a specimen of the sufferings of the poor frontier people, I annex a letter (A) of one of my constituents, Mr. H. M. Smith, who asks my assistance for the recovery of his two children, who were kidnapped by the Indians in sight of his farm-house. I learn, further, that three grandchildren of Mr. Vogel, and a boy named Hoffmeyer, in all six children, were stolen within twenty miles of San Antonio, a city of 15,000 inhabitants. At the same time fourteen Indians were seen as near as three miles from the same city.

I submit another letter (B) of Mr. E.
Graham, from Fort Worth, giving the details of the killing of five white men, and the atrocious manner in which it was done —especially of an old gentleman whose body was shamefully mutilated, and a dog thrust into his bowels.

I will state that during the same period four colored men were killed, their bowels torn out and filled with corn meal from a wagon the negroes were escorting.

In case these indictments should not seem sufficient to justify our demand for a better protection, I would most respectfully call your attention to a third letter, (C) of Mr.
Ketchum, Collector in Edinburg, Hidalgo county, giving an account of robberies committed by citizens of the Republic of Mexico.

These letters bear so evidently the stamp of veracity that in my estimation no further evidence is needed to show that my constituents are not justly dealt with by our Government, which in its duty and honor bound to protect the most humble of its citizens.

I have made the humiliating experience in Congress, and even to-day that doubts are entertained as to the extent of outrages, and that the belief is current that the aggressions of the whites are the cause of the troubles. In relation to the doubts I would refer you to the records of the War Department and those of our State Governments.
In relation to the aggressions, in the generality of the country during the reports of the Indian Department itself.

The white settlements are 150 miles distant from the reservation, and the Indians by their industry have acquired property in cattle and horses, and that the Indians consider labor a dishonor, stealing and murdering heroic deeds, and successful haggling of the United States, the saddest diplomacy.

THEFT AND ASSAULT.

It is from a common plan based on the organization of citizen soldiers was proposed in the Forty-first Congress and defeated.
From the enclosed printed documents (D) and (E) it will be gathered that the opposition of the bill entirely misunderstood its bearings.

If his Excellency, the President of the United States, will, in his next message to Congress, propose a measure which, without interfering with his peace policy, is calculated to secure life and property on the Indian frontiers, the Administration party in the Forty-second Congress is still strong enough to carry the measure, if even the opposition should try to defeat it, which, in my estimation, will, however, not be the case, as the defence of the frontiers has certainly not a shadow of a political, partisan character.

Brevity of time before my departure from Washington does not permit my entering more fully upon the subject. I deem it, however, sufficient to recall the main points of our conversation to your memory.
Trusting that the Government will show by its action that it has the interests of the frontier people as much at heart as those of the people in the interior and on the Atlantic coast, I have the honor to sign myself your obedient servant, E. DEGENER.

"Senator Davis' exhibition of temper was really quite inexorable. Any other assubut for a man to pretend to be sure that General Butler was looking at him individually, is preposterous."

Consumption,

Its Cure and its Preventive,

By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. These poor and dear to family and friend are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of his wonderful medicinal medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is un-failing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Sueded Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the combat of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Hence, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of

Consumption,

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they "Leave no Sting Behind." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsibly, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Blood.

The Sueded Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an invalid father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathings, it prepares them for expectoration, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throns that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was.

Given up as Lost.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—he determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and as one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and London. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., will never return to see patients at their office, No. 13 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Friday from 8 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once let of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough lessens, the night sweat is abated, in a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sueded Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

WONDERFUL RAPIDITY.
Perfectly Regular and Even Distribution of the Seed. Cahoon's Broadcast Seeder. For sowing all kinds of Grain and Grass Seed.
The unprecedented success of this Seeder the past season is without a parallel in the history of Agricultural Implements. The farmer of the Country have no longer got to wait in the hurry of Sowing time for the imperfect process of Hand Sowing, nor for the "Slow Coaches," called "Combined seeders, &c., &c."

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premium and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for The Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles. In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers THE CLIPPER is the Horse's Friend, and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare—Send for pamphlet—investigate. See or write to some one who has used THE CLIPPER. See the Machine yourself before you buy any other.
