OLDEN MEMORIES.
 From the dim, dim shores of the sorrowful past,
 Comes the phantom of memory to me, As a billow blown forth by the desolate blast
 From the storm-beaten path by the sea;
 With a thought of the beautiful years long gone—
 Those brightest, divinest of years—It murmurs to night in rhythmical tone—That melts me to sadness and tears.
 It brings back the dreams of the better time
 When the metrical flow of a melody chime, Were wed to the sweetest of words—When we gathered rich blossoms—wove garlands of flowers—
 That emboldened love's boldest vow, As the warmth of the fame we contend as ours—
 With a diadem for each brow.
 Ah! 'tis sad to think of those dear old days, When our hearts like the music of birds,
 The world was so beautiful then—Ere fancy and feeling had followed the ways
 Of wicked and sinful men:
 There were innocent pleasures and soulful smiles,
 In the being of passionate youth—A faith that no art of tempter beguiles—In the sacred trust of truth.

ern States and Europe, which, in connection with the imports of large quantities of sulphuric acid, it will be seen, affords employment for a very considerable amount of tonnage.
 As in nearly all other branches of the carrying trade, however, the profits of transportation to Europe for the most part fall to the lot of foreign flags.—Charleston Courier.

There may be sometimes met in the streets of Portland a bright-eyed, rosy little woman, usually accompanied by two children, one a fair little girl, and the other an apple-munching archon. Nothing extraordinary about that; but thereby hangs a tale. At the time of the "late unpleasantness" this little lady's lover was a soldier, and was down with Phil Sheridan in the Shenandoah, where he lost a leg. The lady's friends notified her that of course she would regard the engagement as cancelled. "I shall do nothing of the kind," she replied. "What, marry a one-legged man?" "Of course I'm going to! Why bless your souls, if they had shot James all away and saved the leg, I'd have married that!"
 Thank heaven, says a local paper, she was not reduced to that. James has a good cork leg, a good situation, two nice babies, and one of the truest and best little wives in Christendom.

The Carolina Phosphates
 The utilization of the phosphates lying along the Ashley, Cooper and Bull rivers, in South Carolina, (says the New York Shipping and Commercial List, is in a very large degree compensating for the prostration of the rice and cotton industries of the sea islands. A correspondence of the Boston Commercial Bulletin writes:
 The existence of these great fertilizers was known thirty years ago; but Southern listlessness and sluggishness led the people wholly to neglect the treasures at their very door, buying, because it was less trouble, Northern weak compounds and foreign gums at enormous prices. With the advent of Northern capital to the South after the war, the value of these deposits was recognized by some Philadelphia gentlemen, and the Charleston Mining and Manufacturing Company was organized. From the utmost incredulity upon the subject of these phosphates the holders of lands in that vicinity passed to the wildest exaggeration of the value of their property. But want of money soon brought them to their senses, and here are now twelve companies located in various portions of the district, three to sixteen miles from Charleston. Seven vessels are loading for Europe.
 The cost of this rock is six dollars per ton. A factory has been established in Valencia, Spain, for its manipulation. Extensive works have been erected on the Hudson River to produce sulphuric acid for this region to render the phosphoric acid of the crude sulphate soluble and proper for a fertilizer.
 "This bed of fossils contains a wilderness of antediluvian remains, the bones of the megatherium, my-lodon, megalonx, mastodon, mammoth, phocodon, sauri, &c.; sharks' teeth in such quantities that Prof.
 Holmes, of Charleston College, has in his museum sixty thousand specimens of those alone, some weighing two and two and a half pounds; also teeth and bones of horses, dogs, sheep, oxen and hogs, differing in nothing from the present race, besides pottery and stone hatchets identical with those discovered near Abbeville, France. The strata in which these occur is demonstrated in scientific parlance, post pleiocene. The marl which overlies it, coeane. The depth at which these remains lie is from four to twelve feet, and the rocks, all ocean rolled, invariably Phosphatic." These Phosphates are already adding materially to the riches of the people, although the business is yet in its infancy. The shipments are mainly to the United Kingdom, and the fact that the average rate at which charters of vessels have been effected lately is 30s. per ton, is pretty conclusive evidence of the intrinsic value of his new fertilizer.
 Professor Cotton gives it as his opinion that the area bounded by the Cooper River for a distance of thirty miles above Charleston, thence in an irregular line in a Southwest direction to Bluffton, between Savannah and Port Royal, contains about 450,000 square acres is underlain by a stratum of Phosphates. The product thus far has been about 1,200 tons per acre, which, upon Professor Cotton's calculation, would give the enormous supply in the area indicated of 525,000 tons. The exports during the last year have averaged 500 to 1000 tons per week to the North-

Let me Turn Over.
 I was a passenger on a steamer from Panama to San Francisco when the rush of travel on that line was immense. We were badly crowded, and there was no room for chairs or tables, yet we were bound to have our game of "old sledge." A Baptist minister, smitten with the lust for gold, had deserted his flock, and occupied a sleeping-place on the cabin floor.
 Being a large, corpulent man, and finding him a sound sleeper, four of us squatted around him, and commenced to play on his broad stomach, scoring the points of the game on his black vest. We played for several hours, undisturbed except by an occasional snore of uncon-mon force. I had won considerably and one of my opponents, Jim Doyle by name, becoming excited at my turning up "Jack," brought down his fist on the lower part of the parson's stomach with great power. The pious gentleman was awakened thereby, and looked up with some surprise; but seeing the state of the case, quietly exclaimed:
 "Go on with your game, boys; but if you are going to pound me in that manner, you had better let me turn over."—Harper's Drawer.

A Parisian wag, who finds time to make merry amid the troubles that surround him, proposes a memorial cenotaph (an empty tomb,) upon which shall be engraven representations of certain peculiarities of the members of the late Provisional Government. He proposes that upon the tomb be graven twelve broken hearts, surmounted, one with military cap, the others with lawyers' caps, a flock of pig-sons, a horse's carcass, a moldy loaf of bread filled with hair, Gambetta's eye, Ferry's whiskers, Glais Bizoin's hat, Em. Arago's nose, Etienne Arago's double eye-glass, Pelletan's beard, Cremieux's scales, three tears of Jules Simon, Garnier-Jages' shirt collar, Ernest Picard's golden tongue, Jules Favre's famous defiance to the Prussians, "Not an inch of our soil! Not a stone of our fort-bard without a sword. This would be a choice medley, truly.

AT Pawtucket, R. I., there lives a certain young gentleman aged eighteen months. The other day this youth kept quiet an unusual time, and his mother, suspecting all was not right, went into an adjoining room to look him up. Here she looked upon a sight which almost carried her blood with terror. Upon the floor by an open bureau drawer sat this "precocious youth," with a loaded and capped and self-cocking revolver in his hand, and he was amusing himself by ramming the muzzle of the piece down his throat working at the trigger and hammering it upon the floor. As soon as the mother recovered from her fright she took the weapon from the child, and administered a remembrance which will, doubtless, deter him from another such ex-posure of his precious self to instant annihilation. It is almost a miracle that the child had not killed itself upon the spot.

AN old farmer was out one fine day looking over his broad acres, with an axe on his shoulder, and a small dog at his heels. They espied a woodchuck. The dog gave chase and drove him into a stone wall, where action immediately commenced. The dog would draw the woodchuck partly out from the wall, and the woodchuck would take the dog back. The old farmer's sympathy getting high on the side of the dog, thought he must help him. So putting himself in position with axe above the dog, he waited for the extraction of the woodchuck, when he would cut him down. So an opportunity offered and the old man struck, but the woodchuck gathered up at the same time, took the dog in far enough to receive the blow, and the dog was killed on the spot. Forty years after, the old gentleman, in-relating the story, would always add: "And that dog don't know know to this day but what the woodchuck killed him."

THE New York Democrat says:
 "There is a story going around about a New Orleans printer who declined to go out and drink when asked, but placed the money he would have spent had he gone out with the boys in a savings bank, and how in five years it had amounted to untold millions. Then he didn't have any wife. We tried that once for a year, quitting smoking, and placing money that would have been used in a bureau drawer.
 One day we wanted to go out with the boys, and went for the money, and it was gone; and in its place was some new dress patterns, and bonnets and things. She looked calm enough, but we began to smoke again."

AN old lady who was troubled by the prospect of the introduction of gas in her village, and the consequent disuse of whale oil, asked with much earnestness: "What is to become of the poor whales?" Pope Pius the Ninth will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary

 Louisa Muelbach has just laid of her novels before the reading public of Germany.

MR. DARWIN gathers some curious facts regarding musical insects. Cicadas can be heard a mile.
 The female is mute, as was observed long ago by the Greeks, one of whose poets sang, somewhat wickedly: "Happy the Cicadas lives, since they all have voiceless wives." The sound is made by vibration at the lips of the spiracles or air passages, and made resonant by two scale-covered cavities. The Chinese keep these creatures in cages for their song, which must be an excellent accompaniment to the tom-tom. In many insects a sound is produced by rubbing one wing against the other at points which are adapted with serrations for the purpose. In grasshoppers the leg is armed with a row of exceedingly minute lancet-shaped teeth, with which it scrapes the wing-cover, and each leg takes its turn.

AS A PROOF that there is something in a name, and that a rose smells sweetest with a rosy baptism, we call to the stand the current item: "Young ladies who are now called 'beautiful blondes,' a few years ago were simply designated as 'two heads.'" A tradesman, who failed in the city of Bangor, wrote on the front door: "Payment suspended for thirty days!" A neighbor reading this, said: "You have not dated the notice!" "No," said he, "I don't intend to do so. It would run out if I did."

Capture of the last of the Tay- lors.

W. W. Black, member of the State Police, called upon us yesterday to announce the capture of the last of the Taylor gang, Doughboy Taylor, against whom are numerous indictments for numerous crimes.

Private Black certainly deserves great credit for his management of the whole affair, whereby an effusion of blood was spared, the indicted party surrendering willingly.

It seems that policeman Black was sometime since apprised of the arrival from Alabama (where he had fled a fugitive) of Doughboy Taylor, and he kept a sharp look out accordingly. On the day preceding the night of the arrest, Policeman Black was seated in front of a store when Doughboy Taylor rode up, mounted on a powerful and valuable horse. Seeing the policeman sitting there, with his State badge on, he wheeled suddenly and trotted off, the police officer however carefully marking the direction.

As (the policeman) could have made the arrest then, had he been sure of the identity of the man, but he was not sure until he had asked of other parties who knew Taylor well. They assured the policeman of the man's identity, and at dusk the officer, with the sheriff and a party of citizens, started in pursuit.

Arriving at the house where they supposed he would stop or had stopped for the night, the place was surrounded, and on approaching the house, Doughboy Taylor came out, readily answered to his name, and surrendered himself to policeman Black, upon assurance of protection from any mob violence.

Here he was taken to Sutherland Springs, where he now is, though he will probably be removed to San Antonio for safety. He assured his captor that he came back to the country to give himself up and stand his trial. We believe the present indictments against him are, in addition to the murder of Littleton and the shooting and killing of Major Thompson, U. S. A.

Mr. Black speaks in the highest terms of the willingness shown at all times by the citizens of Wilson county to assist him in apprehending criminals and aiding the enforcement of the law. Harrah for Wilson county, say we.

Senator Gaines.

We are very sorry to see the Senator whose name is at the head of this article, so forgetful of his duty to his constituents, so forgetful of their interests, as to endeavor to push to the extreme the amendment he endeavored to attach to the immigration bill, and by so doing laying himself open to censure of those who have the principles of true republicanism at heart.

In the Senator's amendment, "to provide for the sending of an immigration agent to Africa, at a salary of 3000 a year," we see either a very foolish idea from an illy balanced mind, or else we see democratic strategy, which has whispered its sophistries into the senatorial ear of Mr. Gaines, and sets him to striking for and making out a Republican party of his own.

Without any discussion of the matter for the amendment is preposterous, absurd, immensely out of place, and uncalled for, we desire to give him a piece of advice. Let him use the time he is wasting in argument, and the delay he is causing in the Senate, to the advantage of the colored people already in the country, rather than going across the ocean to tramp up a jacklaw resolution to import more of the sons of Africa. Let him assist in shaping a system of public schools, in which men of his race and color are to be educated and elevated. Let him devote his talents to encouraging his race to take advantage of what opportunities are now afforded them by the able efforts of republicanism.

Let him not deceive himself with the belief that he must lead, instead of follow, the Republican party, for much as he deserves credit for past services, he is not likely in the brilliancy of his erratic flights to prove recommendable as a leader, either of republicanism or of the ideas of his own race and color.

There are in portions of Texas, in the piney regions, almost away from all travel and intercourse, thousands of colored men who have only heard of freedom as they have dreamed a dream. Republicans, white men, have been there and tried to arouse them to a true sense of their condition. In most instances they were incredulous, and deemed that those who talked to them only wanted to get them in trouble, they being still in fear of the lash, or the avenging shot of their tar-headed white neighbor who orders them around at will. Let the Senator, who is now making a noise over an impossibility, rather think of these facts, and ameliorate the condition of these colored men, who live where the very sun is never seen in its full brilliancy, the shade of the tall pines keeping them ever in gloom.

Then, when his work is finished, and in those regions school-houses and chapels and churches are found; when the colored men enjoy the same blessings that the Senator and thousands in more civilized sections of our State enjoy, it will be time for him to turn his longing eyes to Africa's shore, where a cozy position of $3000 a year as underintendent of immigration may not be so thoroughly preposterous as an idea, as at present.

The Indian Question.

Editor of the San Antonio Express: The failure of our Congressmen to secure from the National Government better protection for our frontier, should be treated in all its bearings, and the blame placed where it belongs.

To say that the Republican party, or the President of the United States, or the War Department are to blame for the evils that exist on our frontier, would be incorrect.

To say that our Congressional delegation did their utmost to place the frontier question in its true light, would be equally erroneous.

The Indian question has never assumed a political aspect in Congressional legislation, and although the Democrats form a large party in that body, they have never evinced the least interest in this domestic question, and the Congressional records will show their indifference.

During the last Congress, Mr. Degener made the Indian question a specialty; he presented a bill providing for a "distribution" system. (A plan suggested by General Reynolds,) and although this plan was not in accordance with the views of the War Department and the President, their objections were so far overcome, in view of the needs of the Texas frontier, that the President and Secretary of War, (to whom had been submitted Mr. Degener's bill, by the Committee of the House having in charge) sent in their endorsement with some amendments, thereby securing a favorable report from the Committee.

Mr. Degener urged his bill before the House with great persistence and force, and was assailed by the rest of the delegation. The bill failed, and its failure can be attributed to several causes. While the Texas members in the House were united in favor of frontier protection, the Texas Senators were opposed to almost any proposition looking to that end, and even had Mr. Degener's bill become a law in the House, in the Senate it would have failed.

Mr. Degener, in his earnest advocacy of his bill, attacked the policy of feeding and educating Indians at the public expense, thereby arraying against him all that sentiment known as humanitarian, in Congress. And although our lamentable condition was truly depicted, the active sympathy of Representatives from the Eastern and Middle States, was not enlisted in our behalf, and in no instance, was the question brought home to Congress, in the debates. We had our delegates show their willingness to support all measures looking to the bettering the condition of the unfortunate savage, and placed their own demands upon the same footing. There would be no resisting the argument. That is, feed, educate and christianize the Indian, but punish him like other men are punished in Massachusetts, when they murder and steal, is all we ask, and the request could not be refused.

Mr. Degener's bill was also deemed insufficient by many of the warmest friends of Texas, and a proposition to appropriate a sufficient sum of money directly to the State, as remuneration for any State forces called into the field to aid the U. S. forces, would really meet more favor, and be of far greater utility.

The visit of Gen. Sherman to our frontier may be looked upon as the initiatory step to a better understanding of our condition, and the inauguration of proper remedies.

Our future Representatives in the national Congress, have one plain piece of work before them; that is, the reimbursing of Texas for the expense of her ranger force.
A proposition, if rightly presented, the general government must acknowledge to be just and right. And this point gained will serve two good purposes; relieve the people of Texas from a heavy tax, and convince the general government of the necessity of giving adequate protection to the frontier.

The duration of Indian outrages in Texas is fast drawing to a close. The Pacific railroad, and kindred enterprises, will, in less than five years, fence in the present frontier. In the meantime, a proper effort will secure a better protection than heretofore enjoyed.

Another thing, when Texas Representatives go to Washington, they should devote all their energies and talents to Texas interests, and avoid drawing upon themselves the opposition of members from other sections of the country, by taking too prominent a lead in Congressional splits, and casting votes calculated to injure their popularity. When a proposition came up to increase the pensions of Union soldiers who had lost both eyes, both legs, or both arms, it was very impolitic to vote against it, and array such men as John D. Logan against Texas. A little more experience will no doubt cure this sad want of policy.

Austin Letter.

AUSTIN, April 18, 1871.

EXPULSION OF ELAM AND ENGLISH —THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC, & C.

Yesterday the House of Representatives urged itself of the Cherokee desperadoism, by the expulsion of Elam and English. The action has been tardy, but well done. By the unseating of Dillard in the Senate and Elam and English in the House, the State of Texas announces to the rest of the world that the ballot-box cannot be used as a means of fraud and violence, and the day has passed when the desperado class can override the law and trample the rights of a portion of the community under foot, and that an insult to the national flag is not a fit diploma for a law-maker.

The lesson should be pondered over by all those who continue to nurse Confederate ideas.

The Committee on Internal Improvements are equally divided upon the report on the bill to allow a subsidy of six millions of dollars to the Southern Pacific Railroad.
This subsidy has a condition that the bonds can be exchanged for land, in case the public lands are thrown open by an amendment to the constitution. Under the present management, the Southern Pacific has many warm friends who will vote against this bill very unwillingly. The Government has set his face resolutely against the subsidy policy, and will be sustained before the country. The policy of aiding great railroad enterprises has grown upon the country so rapidly and firmly that Texas, becoming the field of three enterprises the pressure is irresistible to give State aid, and the only escape presented is to open the public lands for donation. By giving land subsidies the railroads would be more substantially aided and the people saved taxation. Half of the public lands given away would build all the railroads Texas needs, and the remaining lands would be worth more than the whole amount now. If the legislature would submit an amendment of the constitution to the people, and spend their subsidies until the people decided the question, they would show commendable wisdom and patriotism.

TELEGRAPHIC Latest from the seat of War.

PARIS, April 17.—Last night the city was quiet.

Communists captured some colors from the Pontifical Zouaves at Neuilly.

LONDON, April 17.—Thiers's creature the insurgents are employing their houses and selling their furniture. The government continues to temporize for the purpose of collecting an irresistible force, and also to allow the Parisians time to reflect. The insurgents say we shot our prisoners, and intend the overthrow of the Republic and the suppression of the subsidies of the National Guards.

These statements are false. Another account says the government troops attacked the Communists' position at Vanves Saturday morning. The attack was sudden, and took the insurgents completely by surprise, but they soon rallied, and after a most determined fight, in which many lives were sacrificed, succeeded in compelling the government forces to retire.
Several times during the day the fight was renewed, but the Communists in the end were left masters of the position. During the fight Fort Vanves maintained a deadly fire upon the ranks of the Government troops. The fighting at this point continued the entire day. Every inch of ground was obstinately disputed. When the Government troops were finally compelled to retreat, they were driven back precipitantly under cover of the guns of Vanves; they rallied after some difficulty, and after an obstinate struggle regained their lost ground. Both sides fought well, but the Government troops suffered heaviest.

The fighting at Neuilly on Sunday continued from morning till night without any decided advantage to either side.

The Government troops still hold possession of the bridge, and have strongly fortified their position.

The insurgents, several times during the day, charged the barricades of the government troops and each time were hand-somerily repulsed.

LONDON, April 17.—A leading editorial report of the result of the labors of the High Commission is published in the Times of today. It says: The case of the Alabama has always created a feeling of insecurity in England, and has demoralized American politics. We had possible settlement, and think that the arbitrators will acquit England of the responsibility of the deeds of the Alabama.

The Times is evidently not sanguine of an immediate settlement of the question, for it warns the British public that it is very uncertain whether a treaty will be ratified by the American Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—It is believed that the Conference Committee will modify Sherman's amendment, and reject the iron-clad for jurors, and that it will pass in this shape.

It is stated that the Senate will convene an extra session in the middle of May, to act upon the High Commission propositions.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 17.—Strong feeling among the prominent Republicans here to nominate Ben Wade for Governor, vigorous efforts will be made by Wade's friends to induce him to run.

VERMILION, April 17.—The Assembly has ordered municipal elections in Paris for the 30th.

Government troops have carried Chateau Becken, which commands Asnieres.

The fight at Neuilly is progressing, and seems from the sound to be nearing Paris.
It is rumored that diplomats of the United States, England and Italy have jointly urged the Commune to agree to a truce.

The Commune has instituted courts martial.

PARIS, April 17.—Noon.—Firing all night; continues this morning.

A red flag was placed on the summit of a church at Neuilly yesterday afternoon by a youth of sixteen, amidst a shower of bullets.

There is scarcely a church open now.
St. Vincent de Paul, and St. Jacques du Haut Pas, was pillaged yesterday, and the clergy arrested.

LONDON, April 17.—The Times has a special of Paris stating that it is reported that Prussia will interfere in the affairs of France in case the Commune should be victorious over the Versailles government.

The Prussians have advanced to Auber Villiers.

The daily News special dispatch from Paris, says the Commune has in its hands a cash amount of 28,000,000.

A dispatch from Versailles says the Germans have agreed to stop reinvading Paris by way of St. Dennis.

The insurgents now occupy the greater part of the woods of Colombes beyond Asnieres.

Prince Bismarck in a note to the Versailles government admits the right of Mc-Mahon to occupy with his troops all ground around Paris made neutral by stipulations of the preliminary treaty of peace.

Latest—Thiers's circular confirms the capture of Chateau Brecon, which commands Clichy as well as Asnieres.

The capture of the colors of the colors from the Pontifical Zouaves at Neuilly, is untrue.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Senate—Kuklux conference agreed that the test oath should be modified so that it may be exacted upon motion of the district attorney, supported by the discretion of the court. Other amendments are obscure and are mostly technical.

NEW ORLEANS, April 17.—At an election to-day for directors of the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad, the entire vote was cast for the directors were unanimously elected by the largest vote ever polled for directors of this road, ten-eleventh of the stock being represented.
The only change in directors were C.
H. Slocum instead of Williamson Smith, and S. H. Edgar in place of A. D. Grief, deceased.

Subsequently a meeting of the board was held and Col. McComb unanimously elected president, H. S. Charles, treasurer, and all of Col. McComb's appointments of other officers of the board confirmed.

Old Starks, an honest German, had a farm about three miles from the village of Naples, on the Illinois river, and, like most of his countrymen who settle in this country, was great on garden truck, butter, eggs, etc., which he carried regularly to the town to sell or barter for family supplies.
One day he came in as usual, and Peter Crisser, the store-keeper, thinking to get "a sea" on the old man, said:

"Well, Starks, got some more eggs?"
"Yah, I have a few."
"I paid you a bit for the last," said Crisser, "but we have had a convention of the store-keepers, and they have resolved to give only ten cents in future." "Y-a-h," Vell, mine hens they have a meeting, they won't wear 'emself out layin' eggs for lost as fowlen shefts?" And the old man stalked off, leaving Peter to stand the laugh of the crowd.

"Excuse my left hand," said Wiggins, as he shook hands with a friend. "Certainly, I never take umbrage at nature," was the reply, referring to Ecclesiastes x, 2. The text is: "A wise man's heart is at his right side, but a fool's heart is at his left," and the consequence is that they have not spoken sincerely.

The Scientific American prints a communication from J. H. Ljorvaag, of Elek-keford, Norway, on the subject of telegraphs. It makes one's "fjorvader" understand to pronounce the name either of the writer or of his residence.

"Young man," said a minister to a youth of his congregation, "do you know what reasons you sustain the world?" "Yes, sir; two cousins and a grandmother. But I don't intend to sustain them much longer."

An editor once wrote a notice of a Columbus business college while publishing a paper in Xenia, Ohio. He spoke of a well-deserving institution, and of course the composer made it "well-deserving."

"What's the matter, mamma?"
"Tooth-ache, dearest." "O, dear!"
"What tooth is it?" "Wisdom tooth!"
"Wisdom tooth! Ah! I suppose that's the dreadful tooth that knows all about the French irregular verbs!"

"The Appleton (Wis.) Collegian says: 'A wrathful female woman at Markesan sends us a virtuous note in which she remarks, and her language is plain: 'When I want your paper any longer, I will let you know and pay for the same in advance.' But, dear Madam, will you not stop and think a moment? You owe us $2; and because we send you a bill for the same, and since you admit you have had the papers, it does not look pretty to stand on your ear after this fashion. Come, come, let us reason together.'"

The following letter is copied verbatim, and was written in Roman script: "RACINE, 15 Marz '71.—

The Elko Independent having stated that a test made of white sage would restore hair to bald heads, the editor of the Boise Statesman remarks: "We knew of it long ago, and we tried it. Our forehead runs up further than ornamental or pleasant. We heard of this wonderful scalp fertilizer. We boiled up a hoghead or so of the compound, and deluge our cbebo morning and evening with copious libations thereof. We saw something growing there, and preserved it.
In about ten days we were enlightened. We discovered that three sage bushes—regular 'ten timers'— interspersed about the roots with alkali, had taken root in our scalp.
Not wishing to make a sage-brush flat on the top of our head, we quit, and have made pistol-targets of the bottles containing the fluid.

A phrenologist remarking that some persons had the organ of murder and benevolence strongly and equally developed, his friend replied, "that doubtless those were the persons who would kill one with kindness."

APARAGOUS is plentiful this season, but is second rate in taste and flavor.

A HENGLISHMAN was looking for a lamb yesterday. He says the don't enjoy green peas without one.

The butchers have let up on their prices of meats. There is less grumbling accordingly.

The mornings, at daylight, are chilly enough to make blankets a necessity, and give a comfort.

This is an excellent season of the year for folks to attend to vaccination, and thus avoid any risks should that dreaded scourge, the small pox, make its appearance in our section of country.

APRIL has belied itself this year. It has been by no means, a month of showers. Our farmers and planters are beginning to wear long faces again. Corn is suffering for want of a good soaking rain.

We observe a slight activity in the wool market, and hope it is but the forshadowing of the opening of a first class wool house, that will encourage growers, and place the advantages of West Texas, as a wool growing region, before the country.

BEER is made delicious now, by placing it in a bottle, in a freezing mixture, and allowing it to become ice cold before opening. Ale or porter can be served the same way.

Will the police look after teams that seem to take especial delight in halting at the crossings of streets, leaving pedestrians to walk around! The frequent inconveniences to which our people are put by such carelessness, is a growing nuisance.

AN "experimental case" who reads the EXPRESS, took cognizance of our hint in regard to going on a trip after dewberries, and falling in securing a party to go with him, resolved himself into a committee of one, to go on a dewberry frolic. He went. He saw, and he came back, and threatens us with everlasting hostility, for our getting him into such a scrape.

We give a few of the drawbacks he experienced, to true enjoyment. The sun blistered his nose. The brush and briars reduced his unmentionables to tatters, scratched up his face as though a woman's rights meeting had expressed its practical hatred of his sort. He used up a quart of sweet oil and a pound of salt, in poisoning red-bugs, that were penetrating in their desire to understand him, while he has spent two days in digging up ticks, who evidently believe in Douglas' doctrine of squatter sovereignty.

That is not half. He fell into a ditch, but got out quicker than he got in on finding a couple of copper-headed snakes inclined to dispute his rights to immersion, ran a thorn of the cactus into his left foot, and found "seven-ripe dewberries" and thirty-eight green ones," beat Horace Greely all to pieces, in violating Sunday School precepts regarding profanity, and is now prepared to use a well loaded navy on the first fellow that to him says, "dewberries."

NO HENRICO.—We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body or estate, and is designed to make our anniversary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sago's Catarth Remedy has cured thousands of cases of Catarth in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $200 for a case of this terrible disease which he cannot cure. It may be procured of druggists or by mail for six cents, from R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.—A pamphlet sent free. (18-4)

HAVE you ever heard an Italian Opera? If you have, confess frankly your first impressions. How much of the plot did you understand? How many of the melodies could you carry home with you and enjoy? Did you notice the instrumentation? Had you any ideas of the keys?—Which was the most difficult aria? Can you tell one word of the foreign text?

The truth is, any great piece of music can be but little understood, from one hearing. Hear your opera the second time, and it begins to make some impression on the memory, which the third, the fourth, and many future representations tend to deepen.

But the only true and thorough way for the enjoyment of a musical drama is, to give it some previous study. Buy one of Ditson's Standard Operas, for instance. (A dollar, sent to the publishers, brings it by return mail.) Suppose the opera to be represented, sometime in the coming season, is "Il Trovatore." Get the book now, and play and sing it through at your leisure.

Notice what are the principal airs; how high and how low they are; what are the points of effect, where it will be civil for you to applaud. Get the "run" of the recitatives. Have a few, at least, of the prominent Italian phrases in your memory, so as not to be tied to the libretto in the opera house.

Thus prepared, you enjoy the representation by anticipation, enjoy, and understand it when heard, and carry away a distinct memory of sounds, which repeat themselves to you each time you glance at the printed page.

The term "standard Operas" requires some explanation. There are very few of them. Mozart, Rossini, Donizetti, Bellini, Meyerbeer, Aubert, Weber, Flotow, each have furnished a few; Beethoven only one; and that is nearly all. A very few dollars will stock your library with the whole, and the ones on Ditson's list, mentioned above, are favorites, and will make an excellent beginning; while to musicians at distances from cities, and who cannot hear the living singers, the books will furnish a musical feast at small expense.

PENMANSHIP.
The undersigned teaches Penmanship by a new method. The old method of placing a pen in the hands of a beginner, according to set rules, is entirely done away with. Good penmen can learn something by this method. Those who wish to improve their handwriting—either fancy or ornamental—would do well to call. Many persons who regret their inability to write well, will find full information at Braden's hotel, of the undersigned.

TESTIMONIALS.
From Geo. C. Scott's "Report of Fashion." Reading at the fountain-head of American enterprise, and knowing the interests of the fashioning business from many years' experience, we most unhesitatingly pronounce the Shuttle-stitch, last invented sewing machine of Grover & Baker, one of the best machines—if not the very best—in the world for tailors' use, or for the use of any trade requiring a tight seam in cloth or leather.
We have used the Grover & Baker Shuttle Machine No. 1, and find it admirably adapted to our business. It runs lighter, makes less noise, and is in every way preferable to the Singer machine for either light or heavy manufacturing.

JOSEPH SCOTT,
Manufacturer of Clothing,
No. 320 Broadway, New York.

I am the fortunate possessor of one of your new Shuttle Machines, which you designate as No. 1. I have used many different machines in my business during the past eight years, and it gives me great pleasure in asserting that this one is far superior in all points to any that I have ever used. I want no better.
SEBASTIAN BILES, Boot and Shoe Maker, 101 South 3d Street, St. Louis Mo.

Having used the different kinds of Sewing Machines in the market, including Leavitt's Singer's and Howe's, have finally adopted your No. 1 Grover & Baker Machine; and having used it the past two years, can truthfully say it proves to be the best machine, and superior to any we have used.
A. COBURN & CO.,
Hopkinton, Mass.

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors, including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premium and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for the Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles.
In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers and clipper men the world over, and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare. Send for pamphlet—investigate. See or write to some one who has used the CLIPPERS. See the Machine yourself before you buy any other.

imperfect process of Hand Sowing, nor for the "Slow Coaches" called "Combined seeders, &c., &c."
