A Change.

Three years ago, Republicanism in Texas was endorsed and supported by only five papers in the State, against which Democratic journals to the number of nearly forty, levelled their batteries, and sought by the odds in their favor, to crush them out of existence.

Today thirty-one able and outspoken journals of Republicanism are setting the plain truths of the prosperity and progress of the country before the people. Today thirty-one journals of Republicanism are keeping our State in sympathy with the compact of States, wherefrom it draws prosperity and peace, co-equal with the national peace and prosperity.

The Republican press leads in the State. Republican papers are everywhere read, and a read, deep seated convictions of Republican earnestness and right, take possession of the thinking man, and the party grows and becomes daily stronger and stronger.

General Sherman's Visit.

General Sherman and his staff left yesterday morning at quite an early hour for Fort McKavett, from whence his course will be so shaped as to visit all the frontier posts as far north as the Pacific railroad, by which rail route he will return home.

In the few days the General has spent in our city, he has seemed to enter with a zest into the visiting of points of interest in and around it, discovering for himself the advantages of our site as a supply depot and post and Department Headquarters.

The change in the aspect of things has pleased the General, who views all matters connected with the growth and intelligence of a place with a critical eye. San Antonio has every reason to be proud of the good opinion of her and her people, which General Sherman will take with him back to Washington.

Until we have a railroad, and our city assumes an independent commercial position, much of our internal welfare and development depends upon the military. Five or six millions of money yearly, cast abroad in our midst, from the national coffers, for the produce and resources of our country, is not an insignificant leverage in making us a prosperous community.

In transportation of supplies, &c., above, for the five or six regiments of soldiers in Texas, is a feature that in itself is a power in giving activity to our section, employment for a thousand, and pay to that thousand, that naturally flows into all channels of trade, and is a preventive of that stagnation that so oft manifests itself in towns of San Antonio's size, especially interior towns.

In fact, look at the question as we will, the facts are apparent that our city would suffer all the ills that inland towns usually suffer, were it not for the constant stimulation of trade and society, that arises from our being a military centre in Texas.

In the visit of the General of the army to this city, we have been honored as the next twenty years will not again witness. The people have shown their appreciation of the honor, by giving the General a hearty welcome, and endeavoring to make his brief stay a pleasant one.

On a Vulgar Little Boy.

competency in his present position, personal uncleanliness, and evinced sceptical doubt of future salvation. As his youthful lips closed over the last syllable, the eyes of the vulgar little boy met mine. Something in my look emboldened him to wink, I did not repel the action nor the complacency implied.

From that moment I fell into the power of the vulgar little boy, and he has never left me since. He haunts me in the streets and by ways. He accosts me, when in company with friends, with repulsive freedom. He lingers about the gate of my dwelling to waylay me as I issue forth to business.

Distance he overcomes by main strength of lungs, and he hails me from the next street. He met me at the theatre the other evening and demanded my check with the air of a young footpad. I foolishly gave it to him, but re-entering some time after, and comfortably seating myself in the parquette, I was electrified by hearing my name called from the gallery with the addition of a playful adjective.

It was the vulgar little boy. During the performance he projected spirally-twisted play bills in my direction, and indulged in a running commentary on the supernumeraries as they entered.

Today has evidently been a dull one with him. I observe he whistles the popular airs of the period with less shrillness and intensity. Providence, however, looks not unkindly on him, and delivers into his hands, as it were, two nice little boys who have at this moment innocently strayed into our street.

They are pink and white children, and are dressed alike, and exhibit a certain air of neatness and refinement which is alone sufficient to awaken the antagonism of the vulgar little boy. A sigh of satisfaction breaks from his breast. What does he do?

Another boy would content himself with simply knocking the hats off their respective heads, and so vent his superfluous vitality in a single act, besides propitiating the flight of the enemy. But there are aesthetic considerations not to be overlooked; insult is to be added to the injury inflicted and in the struggle of the victim some justification is to be sought for extreme measures.

The two nice little boys perceive their danger and draw closer to each other. The vulgar little boy begins by irony. He affects to be overpowered by the magnificence of their costumes. He addresses me (across the street and through the closed window) and requests information if there happily be a circus in the vicinity.

He makes affectionate inquiries - after the health of their parents. He expresses a fear of maternal anxiety in regard to their welfare. He offers to conduct them home. One nice little boy feebly retorts, but, alas! his correct pronunciation, his grammatical exactitude and his moderate epithet only provoke a scream of derision from the vulgar little boy, who now rapidly changes his tactics.

Staggering under the weight of his vituperation, they fall easy victims to his dexter mawley. A wail of lamentation goes up from our street. But as the subject of this article seems to require a more vigorous handling than I had proposed to give it, I find it necessary to abandon my present dignified position, seize my hat, open the front door, and try a stronger method.

Miscellaneous. An Irish editor congratulates himself that "half the best fish about his city's true." A consolation for the ladies - This world abounds in him-perfection. Mrs. Stanton's lecture is called, "Why Not?" Any other woman would answer, "Because!"

The most dangerous animal among wild beasts is the slanderer - among tame animals, the flatterer. The most subtle sense of the free-lion is not highly cultivated. They can't appreciate the "old masters." "Are these rooms to let?" said a polite gentleman to a handsome young lady. "Yes, sir." "And are you to be let with them?" "No, sir! - I'm to be let alone!"

A traveller, we are told, being in a wild country, where he could find no provisions for himself or dog, cut off the dog's tail and boiled it for his own supper, and gave the dog the bone. A Western sophist says: "It is no time to be writing Latin essays when bills are only 10 cents a game." The woman who maketh a good pudding in silence is better than one that maketh a tart reply.

The strongest propensity in woman's nature, says a careful student of the sex, is to want to know what is going on, and the next strongest is to boss the job. Somebody advertises for agents to sell a work entitled "Hymenal Instructor." A contemporary adds: "The best hymenal instructor we know of is a young widow. What she don't know there is no use in learning."

The four Georges have had their fair share of abuse in one way or the other, thought probably never in a more concentrated form than in this epigram: "George the First was reckoned vile: Viler George the Second, And what mortal ever heard Any good of George the Third? Whose name earth's Fourth descended, God be praised, the Georges ended!"

The rumor that Mr. Boutwell is to retire from the Treasury Department is revived at Washington. That part which names Mr. Morton as his successor has been emphatically denied by that gentleman; and it is quite possible that the other half of the story has no better foundation than the "guess" that Mr. Jay has been transferred from Vienna to Constantinople expressly to make way for Mr. Boutwell. - Tribune.

Flock Masters Factory a d Mills, CASTROVILLE, TEXAS.

Repeated and disastrous floods, together with other calamities, have prevented me from going forward in my work for the completion of this establishment which I hope, however, to accomplish the present season. The milling department is in most successful operation, and now in charge of a professional miller, Mr. E. J. Geddes, who I am confident will give satisfaction to the public. The patronage of which is most respectfully solicited.

 New potatoes are quite plentiful this season—Texas raised at that.
 PLOWERS are plentiful, and are fat and delicious at this season.
 THE fig crop this year will be unusually large; ditto as to peaches.
 $420 per cord was the bid of one of the parties to the proposals for 3,000 cords of wood at San Antonio.
 THE pic-nic season for the Sabbath and day schools opens with this month. Which is the first?
 THE markets present a very lively appearance at five o'clock in the morning, since the days have become longer.
 HACKS have reaped a harvest of fares during the last three days, and many of the horses attached to them are completely worn out.
 MONDAY takes precedence of all other days of this year, as the warmest thus far. We hope we shall have but few more such during this spring.
 THE proposition to enclose a portion of the Main plaza, and sod it, making it a neat square, where, in the evening, it would be a most pleasant place of resort, seems to have died almost as suddenly as it was born.
 DUELLER, of the San Pedro Springs, has effectually proven his worth as a man of enterprise, and a first-class caterer to public taste, during the last week. The Springs are becoming deservedly popular as a pleasure resort.
 THE beautiful moonlight nights, we are having are very encouraging to cat's talents, judging from their practicing the gamut, preparatory, we presume, to singing the long, long summer night.
 THE Davenport Brothers are reported en route for San Antonio. We hope our Texas boys will be as smart as the unbelievers of Kentucky, who carried bull's eye lanterns under their coats, and flashed them upon the stage in the midst of the performance, effectually proving that the "mysterious music" was produced from human rather than spiritual agencies.

 FREN. PETERSEN, M. D., City Physician.
 MONDAY evening the Turners wound up their series of May festivities by a grand ball at the San Pedro Springs. The dance saloon was brilliantly lit up for the occasion, as were also the promenade grounds, and by nine o'clock the place was crowded with a fashionable assemblage of ladies and gentlemen, together with Generals Sherman and Reynolds and staff, and the officers of the post.
 Dancing commenced at an early hour and was continued until 12 o'clock, when supper was announced. Ducrest had provided a very nice collation, which was partaken of with a zest that bespoke appetites sharpened by the exercise of the dance.
 Supper finished, dancing was resumed, and we opened the first streaks of dawn must have peeped over the horizon ere the last of the dancers left the grounds. The Turners have done themselves notable honor. They have proven their ability to provide a most recherché entertainment, without a single fault to mar the happiness of the entire occasion. They have entertained many guests, provided pleasure for masses of our citizens, and passed their lives in every way a sterling, enterprising, pleasure-loving Association.
 AN IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION.—Doctor Tutt's Liver Pills are purely vegetable, and are adapted to young and old, male and female, and may be taken at all times, without restraint of occupation, without any change of living, without checking without the fear of taking cold, during all kinds of weather, and in all climates. They contain no mercury.
 If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise; stopping up of the nose, at times giving a nasal twang to the voice, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, feet dull and empty, have pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in consumption or insanity, and end in the grave.—R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy—a perfect specific for Catarrh, which he sends to any address, post-paid, for sixty cents. Sold by most druggists everywhere.

 I feel bound to say that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events it is the purest possible article of Holland gin, heretofore unobtainable, and as such may be safely prescribed by physicians.

 DR. J. W. BRIGHT.
 "Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, etc.
 I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommended it. Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus. With much respect, your obedient servant, CHAS. A. LEAS, M. D., New York.

 —Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., Present; Dear Sir: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps" with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.
 The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the "Schiedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours,
 CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.
 Chemical and Technical Laboratory, 18 Exchange Place, New York, Nov. 25, 1867.
 —Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., Dear Sir: The undersigned have carefully and thoroughly analyzed a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps," selected by ourselves, and have found the same free from all organic or inorganic substances, more or less injurious to health. From the result of our examination we consider the article one of superior quality, healthful as a beverage, and effective in its medicinal qualities. Respectfully yours,

TESTIMONIALS.
 From Lewis C. South's "Report of Fishery," Residing at the fountain head of America's enterprise, and knowing the interests of the fishing business from many years' experience, we most unhesitatingly pronounce the Shuttle-stitch, last invented sewing machine of Grover & Baker, one of the best machines of the very best in the world for tailors' use, or for the use of any trader requiring a tight seam in cloth or leather.
 We have used the Grover & Baker Shuttle Machine No. 1, and find it admirably adapted to our business. It runs lighter, makes less noise, and is in every way preferable to the Singer machine for either light or heavy manufacturing.
 JOSEPH SNEY,
 Manufacturer of Clothing,
 No. 316 Broadway, New York.
 I am the fortunate possessor of one of your
 No. 1 Shuttle Machines, which you designate as No. 1. I have used many different machines in my business during the past eight years, and it gives me great pleasure in asserting that this one is far superior in all points to any that I have ever used. I want no better.
 SEBASTIAN BLISS, Boot and Shoe Maker, 124 South 2d Street, St. Louis Mo.
 Having used the different kinds of sewing machines in the market, including Leavitt's, Singer's and Howe's, have finally adopted your No. 1 Grover & Baker Machine, and having used it the past two years, can truthfully say it proves to be the best machine, and superior to any we have used.

Consumption,
 Its Cure and its Preventive,
 By J. H. Schenck, M. D.
 Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indispen-sibly proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friend, are sleeping in a dreamless slumber into which had they calmly adopted
Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment,
 and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.
 Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful action.
 In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr.
 Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.
 The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition, the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach.
 They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption.
 The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's subtlest gifts—the Euphadium Pelitium. They possess all the bloodpurifying, attractive properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they "Leave no Sting Behind." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected.
 The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,
A Supply of Good Blood.
 The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flaccidity, no excoriation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.
 Now comes the greatest of all—Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its function—and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be evaded. It collects and ripens the imperial and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gathering, it prepares them for expectoration, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was.
Given up as Lost.
 The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well. It is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected.
 Fresh air and riding out, especially in the season of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommended that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.
 The despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr.
 Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words: Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at my time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at a straw, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me.
 It seemed to me that I could feel them permeate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.
 As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."
 "I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only sixty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."
 Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 45 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respi-rometer will be charged $5. The Respi-rometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.
 The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them.
 First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer.
 Good blood at once follows, the cough loos-ens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.
 Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and colds, maybe regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.
 Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed
 Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.
 Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premiums and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for The Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mow that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles.
