The Philosophy of Luck.

During the closing hours of the last term of the District Court in this county, the convicted felons were brought into the court-room to receive sentence. Among the number was one, a Mexican, who had been found guilty of murder, and who was sentenced to life at hard labor in the State prison. When asked if he had anything to say in his defense, he pronounced nothing against him, in accordance with the finding of the jury, with a stertorous countenance, which would have found credit with any innocent and philanthropic Quaker Indian Commissioner, had he been confronted by some red-headed Comanche with a dozen flaxen scalp-dresses hanging from his belt, replying, "It will do no good to say anything. I am to suffer all my life, because it is my lot."

From the evidence there could be no doubt of his guilt of cold-blooded murder; he made no protestations of innocence, and yet, according to his view of mundane affairs, he was punished for an awful crime in a manner which he considered to be unjust. He had already found excuses enough to patch up any number of rents from either mental or physical torture. But, in how far does this savage destroyer differ in his philosophy of life, from the great bulk of mankind, ancient or modern?

The accident generally believed in deeply, the celebrated freeman, Piny, said: "Some people refer success to virtue and ability; but it is all fate." Plutarch guarantees that the surname "Fortunate" was given to Sulla because he was so lucky; and it is well authenticated that the great Alexander attributed the bulk of his success to good luck. Cyrus also says, warning the most successful generals of his time: "Do not trust their courage only, but their fortune which persuaded the people to trust in them; in the command of their armies, for which can be but little doubt, that besides their great abilities, there was a certain 'Fortune' appointed to attend upon them, and to conduct them to honor and empire, and to diminish success in the management of important affairs." Even the Bible history is full of great men, kings and generals, who without any merit of their own, were successful in themselves, as represented in the most sports of chance; and although Nebuchadnezzar's supernatural successes in the capture of Tyre, in strengthening his own power, and in overthrowing his own city, Babylon, became vain, glorious, and met thereby sudden reverses, yet Cyrus, as an instance of fortune, was the last, a persistent believer in his fate, after a similar career, and the late Napoleon, after a most wonderful experience of the "ups and downs" of fame Fortune's favor, yet Cyrus presents the most remarkable illustration of ancient times. He is represented as a most unconquerable savage, fearing neither God nor man, nevertheless his "luck" guided him to the end, and he never ceased believing in it.

Cyrus never doubted his good luck, and thus the standard moderns regarded him as a man of fortune. Marston, a coarset of his destiny, Croswell, believed in his lucky days, and Nelson knew his white and black ones. Good old Jeremy Bentham attributed all the successes of his life to an accident, the catching of the phrase "the great good of the greatest number," just as William King from his enemies, was saved by a spider's web.

In the manner, leaving out mention of lucky and unlucky generals, how common it is to hear that the result of the fearful struggle which our country passed through during the late war, is attributable to the mere chance. We could almost imagine that we heard the stolid, unlearing master of the blind adherents to "the Lost Cause," doggedly asleep while the fiery engine of progress rushes by them, "What the murderer said, 'It is just my luck'—as much as to say, 'my luck may change—I'll break out, cost what it may.'"

And it is true, that murderers have broken bolts and bars, have some chance of pardon, and that engines have run off the track, and progress for a time has been impeded; but the question is, whether, in spite of these accidents, and in spite of pagan philosophy, the prison is not restored, and the engine repaired and replaced upon the track?

In our opinion, the swarthy, ignorant Mexican, is no more a pagan than Jeff. Davis. Jeff. is ostentatious in his professions of Christianity, but, judging from his late speech, neither Christ nor God rules this world. With him and his admirers, the greatest revolution in history was begun, and ended in failure, deciding nothing. Neither slavery nor the heresy of State sovereignty received a blow in the eyes of these innumerable, and they finally imagine that the "forward flowing tide of time" will, to suit their insane wishes, flow backward.

"Whom the Gods destroy they first make mad."

Political Degradation.

The ancient Spartans, a nation celebrated for their stern, unyielding manhood, used to preserve their children from allurements of drunkenness, by making a slave drunk, and compelling them to witness the staggering and brutalized face of the "shocking example."

The Democratic editors of the State of Texas, by their narrow minded, vindictive, and senseless appeals to the passions of men, by their unabated virulence and destruction of every measure that tends to elevate humanity above the level of mere voting cattle, by their organized opposition to public education, purity of the ballot-box, and enforcement of the law, are doing for all decent people, and particularly for the young men who have not yet become political owls and bats, what the drunken menial did for the children of the Spartans, namely: to turn with loathing and disgust from a system which produces such repulsive specimens of humanity. As the drunken slave could gaze with unmixed awe and soul upon the most superb scenery of nature, so can these men, who have prostituted their politics until all sense of political honor or decency has fled forever, not only remain unmoved at the most wonderful political movement that has ever existed; that has swept from the land forever, a curse that was converting the men of the South into a race of proud, licentious, idle, ignorant tyrants that has transformed a race of slaves into a race of freemen; that has crushed the mightiest rebellion that history records that in our own State and in our own day, has accomplished the herculean task of cleaning the Augean stables of the accumulated crime, fraud, and profligacy from previous Democratic ascendancy; that is establishing a system of universal free education, that will transform the masses into intelligent, responsible men and women; but ever rail and foam at the great party that is bringing these mighty things to pass.

But, after all, the important thing is not so wonderful, it is but the dying diary of that great political party that received its death throes five years ago, and which would have been put out of its misery then, had President Grant, and not President Johnson, been at the helm.

From the Galveston Citizen we clip the following item: "A severe storm passed over Kosse, Groesbeck, and the region thereabouts on Tuesday evening, 2d of May. At Kosse, eight or ten buildings were blown down, including the Methodist church, Block's store and the depot of the Central road and a shed some five hundred feet in length. An old negro man who was living in a tent near the railroad depot, endeavored to prevent its flight by holding on to cords. The wind carried him up into a tree and broke one of his legs."

The Ku Klux in South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Letter from Columbia, S. C., report another Ku Klux outrage on the morning of the 7th inst., in Belair, Lancaster county, in that State. Twenty masked men, boldly assuming themselves Ku Klux, entered the town, and going to the house of Mr. Lawson H. Long, a merchant, they dragged him out and having inflicted about 170 severe blows, ordered him to leave the State within fifteen days, on penalty of death. They then went to the house of Isaac Cowles, a quiet, middle-aged colored mechanic, and burst down his door, dragged him out, and in his own yard, rolled him with a business-like lead, and passed through his head, was sufficient to cause instant death.—These men were accused of no offense except that of being Republicans. Other citizens in the same country have been threatened.

A negro was taken from a train on the Nashville and Northwestern rail road, near Rubens, Sunday morning, by a party of masked men, and his body was found yesterday hanging to a limb of a tree. He was in charge of a shirt at the time he was taken from the train. His wife is in distress, and she was wanted for robbery. On the same night the negro Abraham, who was also implicated in the robbery, was taken from the jail at Dresden by a party of armed men, supposed to be the same that boarded the train, and nothing was heard from him until yesterday morning, when his body was found hanging to a tree about a mile from Dresden.—Memphis Daily Sun, April 28th.

We learn that a colored man was recently killed in Davis County for cohabiting with a white woman. If a Negro Ku Klux were organized to kill all Democrats known to cohabit with colored women, what an infinite amount of work they would have to do!

LATER—Since the above was in type, we learn that the colored man mobbed is still alive, though eleven back-shot penetrated his body. The white woman (named Melissa Morrison) was taken out of the mob and whipped nearly to death with military poles. The outrage was committed at night, and the perpetrators were masked and blackened as in Ku Klux. What a burning shame and disgrace on our sister County of Davis!—Jefferson Radical.

Miss Adelaide Murdoch tells us that "the fatal apple of woman's rights," a large, unripe, and altogether indigestible greening is being offered by a tempter, and the short sighted eyes of the day are about to draw down upon themselves and their posterity the inevitable doom in one vast comprehensive bite."

The greatest "pair annihilator" is said to be an Indian boy, who has smashed 100 windows this year.

The Germans and the Republican Party.

Wherever the German element is powerful, as in the Northwest, and in certain parts of Texas, even, the Republican faith is in the ascendant. The Democratic leaders could make as much with the Germans who naturally rejected slavery, and they therefore turned to more promising proselytes. But the intelligence, the respect for order, the love of liberty, which underlie the Republican faith, and make it, therefore, in the truest and most comprehensive sense the national party, are naturally agreeable to the Germans; and at this moment one of the most philosophical and powerful defenders of that faith is a German, Senator Schurz.—Harper's Weekly.

We were closed the other day and read a lecture in regard to our course toward half-way Republicans. That there are those claiming to be above reproach who do not really amiable with the party, only upon convenient occasions, is a stubborn fact, and if we endeavor to bring them up to a proper position, we are only performing a duty we owe to the party as its representative in this locality, and shall not swerve. We are told this course will drive men away from our party into that of the opposition. If this be so, and they are so easily turned from their allegiance—a big fact for such stamina—the Democratic party can have them and welcome. The Republican party desire no "middle-men,"—Georgetown Watchman.

WANT OF TACT.—Arguing with an opponent who is lame, and assuring him that he has not a leg to stand on. "Tell a man with only one eye (in an insinuating way) that you would like to get on the blind side."

Urging a friend who stammers not to hesitate to express his opinion. Declaring to the possessor of a false set of teeth that you mean to do it in spite of his teeth. Informing an acquaintance who has his glass out of his eye, that you consider he takes a very short-sighted view of things.

Telling a man who signifies that you are sorry you cannot see the matter as he sees it.

The Woman's Journal sensibly says: "The world does not want women who make good lawyers and bad mothers, clever physicians and unfaithful wives, clear-headed and empty-headed, for not from these shall come a completed womanhood."

Judge B., in recommending a prisoner, among other names, called him a scoundrel.—The prisoner replied, "Sir, I am not as big a scoundrel as your honor"—here the warden stopped, but finally added, "takes me to be." Put your words closer together," said the Judge, reddening.

A posthumous scrap of Artemus Ward's writings is a letter to a menagerie agent who had sent him some tickets. "Thanks for the tickets. This act of kindness, so nobly conceived and delicately executed, assures me that all is not base and sordid in this world, and that the human heart, when connected with a menagerie, is capable of noble impulses."

It is the highest duty, privilege, and pleasure for great men to turn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to be the architects of their own fortune.

Whiskey is your greatest enemy. "Bart" said Mr. Jones, "don't the Bible say, Mr. preacher, that we are to love our enemies?" "Oh yes, Jones, but it don't say we are to swallow them."

Josh Billings says in his "lectures": "Bart originally came from Norway, and nobody would have cared if they had originally had there. A body friend remarked that it is still show their grand-away origin."

It is estimated that the State tax of New York will this year reach eleven mills on the dollar, or nearly double what it has been since the Republican era.—How is that for Democratic economy?

The following toast was read at a formal banquet not long since: "The following blow them are the only cure for the preparation of the heart."

German Study Lamps

The Study Lamps produces an intense pure white flame, with more effect than two ordinary Lamps.
The Chimneys are made of the best flint annealed glass.
The wick does not require cutting as the capillary attraction fully supplies the want of the flame until every drop of oil is consumed.
The maker of trimming is simply to rub the wick from the top of the wick.
The greatest advantage of the Study Lamp is its freedom from odor, showing perfect combustion and leaving the atmosphere pure and healthy.

DAVID L. MOTT, M. D., Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

Louisville, Ky. Sept. 1. I feel that I have an opportunity to testify for such cases as that recently is addressed to, DR. J. W. BRIGHT.

"Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, etc.

I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it. Having a natural tendency to the nervous system, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus. With much respect, your obedient servant,
CHAS. A. SEELY, M. D., New York.

25 Pine Street, New York, Nov. 21, 1867.
—Udolphe Wolfe, Esq. Dear Sir: I have had a chemical examination of a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps" with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the "Schiedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

—Udolphe Wolfe, Esq. Dear Sir: The undersigned have carefully and thoroughly analyzed a sample of your "Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps," suggested by ourselves, and have found the same free from all organic or inorganic substances, more or less injurious to health. From the result of our examination we consider the article one of superior quality, beautiful as a beverage, and effective in its medicinal qualities. Respectfully yours,

A regular meeting of the Agricultural, Stockraising and Industrial Association, will be held at the Recorder's office, on Flores street, this evening, at 8 o'clock. The subject of prevention of cruelty to animals, will be introduced and discussed. A full attendance is desired.

We thank the dancing at the Springs last Saturday at the Sunday School picnic was in fact a success. We like a dance very well, but don't like things "mixed." There is a time for all things—San Antonio Herald.

We don't think that it is in half as bad taste as the rather mixed paragraph above, which signifies more toward mixed drinks than anything else. It reminds us of a picture we once saw, in which a vinegar faced old gentleman was glowering over the countenance of a hanging cat, and underneath were the words:
 "He hung the cat on Monday
 For catching the mouse on Sunday."

All lovers of a good novel, and who does not like one, once in a while should call on Behrens, who is constantly receiving from T. B. Peterson & Brothers, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, the latest publications in this line. We notice among others "Brigade," the son of Athos, by Alexander Dumas; Knight of Gwynne, by Chas. Lever; Tom Burke "of Ours," by the same; and Valentine Vax, the Ventriloquist, by Henry Cockton.

The long expected and much desired rain came off, slightly, last night; there was just enough to lay the dust, which has been so very disagreeable for the last two weeks.

There is, however, a good prospect for another shower, which we hope may last for three days, and relieve the country from the apprehensions of a disastrous drought. Many of our farmers have ceased work altogether, but perhaps the present appearance of the weather will reassure them.

We notice in the State Journal that two House bills, one to incorporate the San Antonio, Victoria and New Orleans Express and Transportation Company, and another to incorporate the San Antonio City Street Railroad Company, after having been found correctly engrossed by the committee, were forwarded to the Senate, for concurrence by that body. Also, that the House had passed Senate bill No. 208, "An act to incorporate the San Antonio Bridge Company" with an amendment for the compensation of improved land that may be appropriated to ways leading from the bridges.

From this we infer our prospects for bridges and railroads are brightening. We cannot possibly have too many.

The people have been so much imposed upon by several worthless "Sarsaparilla" that we are glad to be able to recommend a preparation which can be depended on as containing the virtues of that invaluable medicine. DR. ALEX. SARRAPARILLA'S cures when anything can cure the disease that require an alterative medicine.

No Humbugging! No Cheating! A pint bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is prepared from one fifty cent package, and the proprietor offers $500 for a case of Catarrh he cannot cure. Sold by druggists, or send sixty cents to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive it by mail. A pamphlet free. (10-5d3t.)

A fellow who was traveling in Western New York entered a barroom, and after calling for drinks for two, looked about over the loungers, apparently after a friend to drink with him. To every one's surprise, he invited a Fifteenth Amendment, who eagerly accepted and swallowed his "pison" with great avidity. The traveler, however, leaving his untouched, very coolly lighted a cigar and seated himself by the fire. After some time the landlord inquired, rather sharply, if he did not intend to drink that whiskey. "Why, certainly," said he, "if it don't kill that colored man within ten or fifteen minutes."

Some people are bound to keep up appearances. There's Mr. — for example who is in the habit of buying a soup-bone in the market, and sticking an old pair of turkey's legs through the top of his basket to make a show on his way along the street.

A widow, being cautioned by her minister about flirting, said that she knew it was wrong for unmarried ladies to flirt, but the Bible was her authority. It said "widows mite." She was flirting awfully at last accounts, her pastor having acknowledged that "widows mite."

"Young man," said a minister to a youth of his congregation, "do you know what relations you sustain in the world?"
 "Yes, sir; two cousins and a grandnephew. But I don't intend to sustain them much longer."

The chap who took the thread of life to sew the coat of a house, has gone and invented a patent point for cross eyed needles.

$23,500 in Currency, and the Books, Papers, Silver and Valuables of the Spotswood Hotel and the Adams and Southern Express Companies, are SAVED IN HERRING'S SAFES.

OFFICE OF ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY, No. 32 Broadway, New York, Dec. 31, 1870.
 Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Our Agent at Richmond writes: "We got through to-night drying and fixing up the money from the late fire. The contents of the safe—$23,500 in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring Safe, and a good one, certainly. Yours, truly,
 W. C. CLAYTON, Treasurer."

Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman, New York Agents: The two safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the 25th inst., at the disastrous fire which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some $23,500 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books enclosed therein. It was impossible for workmen to excavate the safe until nearly 30 hours after the fire. Respectfully,
 J. F. GIBSON, Asst. Supt. for Adams & Southern Ex. Co., Richmond, Va., Dec. 29, 1870.
 LETTER FROM J. M. SULLIVAN & CO., Proprietors of the Spotswood.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 29, 1870.
 Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—On the morning of the 25th inst., we were fortunate enough to have one of your Herring's Patent Champion Safes, which fell into the cell, and was burning mass of ruins. After the fire, to our almost surprise, we found the contents, consisting of valuable papers, money and some silver ware, all in good order. Had it not been for your Herring's Safe we would have lost everything.

TESTIMONIALS.

From Genie C. Scott's "Report of Fashions" "Reading at the Mountain-head of American enterprise, and knowing the interests of the tailoring business for many years' experience, we most enthusiastically pronounce the shuttle stitch, last invented sewing machine of Grover & Baker, one of the best machines—if not the very best—in the world for tailors' use, or for the use of any trade requiring a tight seam in cloth or leather."
 We have used the Grover & Baker Shuttle Machine No. 1, and find it admirably adapted to our business. It runs lighter, makes less noise, and is in every way preferable to the Singer machine for either light or heavy manufacture."
 JOSEPH SCOTT, Manufacturer of Clothing, No. 341 Broadway, New York.

I am the fortunate possessor of one of your new Shuttle Machines, which you designate as No. 1. I have used many different machines in my business during the past eight years, and it gives me great pleasure in asserting that this one is far superior in all points to any that I have ever used. I want no better.
 SEBASTIAN BLEBL, Boot and Shoe Maker, 194 South 2d Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Having used the different kinds of Sewing Machines in the market, including Leavitt's Singer's and Howe's, have finally adopted your No. 1 Grover & Baker Machine, and having used it the past two years, can truthfully say it proves to be the best machine, and superior to any we have used.

Consumption,

Its Cure and its Preventive,

By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friend are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which had they calmly adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not at times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is un-failing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of

Consumption.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they "Leave no Sting Behind." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Blood.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blessing Paradox ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic syrup comes in to perform its functions, and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throns that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the happiness of wedded life.

Given up as Lost.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this season of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommended that course lose their patients; if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—in determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despond of cure after such evidence of its possibility in all other cases, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words: "Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel their penetrative my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continues to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares that exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them; First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough becomes, the night sweat is halted. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and croup, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

 The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1898—where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premium and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for the Clipper Machine over all others. Its extra-extra lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor off the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mowder that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles. In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers run across in the horse's front, and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare. Send for pamphlet—free. See or write to some one who has used THE CLIPPER. See the Machine yourself before you buy any other.

 The unprecedented success of this Seeder the past season is without a parallel in the history of Agricultural Implements. The farmers of the Country have no longer got to wait in the hurry of Sowing time for the imperfect process of H. and S. sowing, nor for the "Slow Coaches" called "Combined seeders," &c., &c.
