MIXED UP
By the lake where drooped the willow,
Flow, vassals, flow;
I want to be an angel,
And jump Jim Crow.
An old crow sat on a hickory limb,
None knew him to praise;
Let me kiss him for his mother,
For he smells of Schweitzer case.
The minstrel to the war has gone,
With his harp on his lace;
He awoke to hear the shriek,
There's a light in the window for thee.
A frog he would a wooing go,
His hair was curled to kill;
He used to wear an old gray coat,
And the sword of Bunker Hill.
Off in the still night,
"Make way for liberty!" he cried;
I won't go home till morning,
With Peggy by my side.
I am dying, Egypt, dying,
Susannah, don't you cry,
Know how sublime a thing it is
To brush away the blue-tailed fly.
The boy stood on the burning deck,
With baggage checked for Troy;
One of the few immortal names,
His name was Pat Malloy.

Mary had a little lamb,
He held a tale unold;
He had no feet to eat a horse-cake,
As his spectacles were gold.
Lay on, lay on, Macduff,
Subjunctive but little here below;
And I'm to be Queen of May,
So kiss me quick and go.

The Administration.

We believe that no fair minded man, who desires the future welfare of our State, can find any reasonable excuse for the unceasing malignity of the Democratic press toward the present administration...

No man of intelligence can help observing the low degree of intelligence, and general want of education pervading a large portion of our population...

We think, too, that no former administration has given as universal satisfaction to the public in the matter of appointments...

The State Police, at the mere mention of which, our Democratic cotemporaries used to develop premonitory symptoms of hydrophobia...

Editor San Antonio Express.

The anniversary of the Mexican battle in 1846, near Puebla, against the French, led on by Gen. Saragosa, was duly celebrated in Pineda-Negras on Friday...

At nightfall, fireworks and musketry and illuminations followed, and a grand ball for the select dignitaries, was inaugurated...

A supper, was an item that could not be omitted, and those who were fortunate enough to have the inside track, say that it was most appetizing...

The Democratic metamorphosis.—The World exults over the inexhaustible vitality of the Democratic party...

The Issues of 1872.

Under this caption the St. Joseph 'Herald' of the 19th, oblivious of or not comprehending the position of its St. Louis editor...

The Charleston (S. C.) 'Republican' says: 'Tariff, civil service reform, and kindred questions, will unavoidably have something to do with 1872, but after all, these will be of minor showing in that contest...

Victoria C. Woodhull recently lectured for the Radical Club, of Syracuse, and refused compensation. 'What do I want with money?' said she, 'I make $100,000 per month out of my business...'

Court Incident.

One of the prominent ornaments of the bar, celebrated on his genial disposition, found himself about the close of the war, washed ashore high and dry...

When called on, an editor should always make a proper explanation for any injury to the reputation of others. A good example is set in such matters by a Kansas tailor...

Delicate Appetite.—The daily allowance to the maids of honor attached to the Court during the reign of Henry VIII. was a gallon of ale for breakfast...

Orfila, the celebrated French chemist, being examined as 'expert' on a capital trial, was asked by the President whether he could tell what quantity of arsenic was requisite to kill a fly...

A temperance editor, in drawing attention to an article against ardent spirits in one of his papers says, 'For the Effects of Intemperance see our inside...'

Newspapers.—How should we ever get on without newspapers? We think with astonishment of the time when people knew little or nothing of their value...

A gentleman, in his eagerness at the table to answer a call for some apple pie, owing to the knife slipping on the bottom of the dish, found his knuckles buried in the crust...

A Quaker's advice to his son on his wedding day: 'When thee went a courting I told thee to keep thy eyes wide open; now that you are married I tell thee to keep them half shut...'

'Friends are discovered, rather than made,' writes Mrs. Stowe. 'There are people who are in their own nature friends, only they don't know each other...'

A Californian is puzzled to know how to get ahead of those editors. He says that an effort to deny them information is sure to result in wholesale publications of what ought not to be known...

Is there a word in the English language that contains all the vowels? There is, unquestionably.

Quil Drugging.—This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system...

THE HERALD still rumors.

CATHOLIC picnic at the Mission yesterday afternoon.
THE high wind last night shook off a great many peaches.
GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.—A meeting of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held at Union League Hall on Saturday evening, the 13th inst., at 8 P. M., for the purpose of organizing a Post, and making arrangements for decorating the graves of the Nation's dead, on the 30th inst. All honorably discharged soldiers and others, are cordially invited to attend.
SHERIFF BONNET returned a few days ago from escorting the prisoners convicted at the last term of our district court, to the penitentiary at Huntsville. The prisoners from this county, 14 in number, were about as dangerous as could be found in any country, and fears were entertained that friends outside would attempt a rescue, but a strong guard was in attendance, and nothing of the kind was risked, and they are now safe in the penitentiary, where they will be a benefit to the state in several ways.
NO HURMBURG! NO CHEATING!—A pint bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is prepared from one fifty cent package, and the proprietors offer $500 for a case of Catarrh he cannot cure. Sold by druggists, or send sixty cents to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, New York, and receive it by mail. A pamphlet free. (10-543r)
Get a brick-nerther—is blowing, notwithstanding we are in the middle of May, causing white linens and straw hats to be on the decline, a notable instance of the uncertainty of the weather in Texas.
The Davenport Brothers, who have established such a world-wide reputation for their dealing in the mysterious, gave their first performance in our city on last Tuesday evening, before a large audience at the Firemen's Hall.
The stage was raised about two and a half feet above the level of the floor, and resting upon three ordinary trestles was a large cabinet, looking more like a large wardrobe than anything else, with an opening of about a foot square in front. The Brothers were securely tied to the seats in the cabinet, facing each other, by a committee of two, selected by the audience for that purpose, the doors of the cabinet were then closed, and immediately the devilish work began. A large brass horn was hurl-ed through the opening in the door, and the bells, violin, a guitar and tambourine, which had been placed inside of the cabinet, made the night hideous with a racket that would have done credit to a pack of cayotes; occasionally a naked hand and arm would display itself at the aperture, but when the doors were opened the Brothers were discovered bound as before.
The most remarkable part of the performance, however, was the dark scene, in which mystical instruments flew about like birds, and where a man with his hands tied behind his back, had his coat jerked off and replaced, in a most marvelous manner. All those who wish to exercise their ingenuity in finding ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, should attend their next performance.
Our explanation of the performance is simply this: the manner of tying the rope, which we observe is directed by the performers, by the manner in which he holds up his hands to be tied, is so that one hand may be extricated, which would account for all the performances in the cabinet, the hand could be instantaneously slipped back; suppose the brothers use a stout twine, instead of a rope, the difficulty of slipping the hands back, would, however, interfere materially with the coat trick. The other tricks in the dark can be explained also, but we prefer that the public should find it out themselves.
We claim no originality in this; the idea is not our own.
Napoleon has grown so gray during his troubles that a new photograph of him could hardly be recognized.

The cattle exodus, says the South West Index, has almost ceased at last. There must have been driven through Gonzales, largely over 100,000 cattle the present spring.

ROASTING EARS.—Our friend, Dr. P. C. Wino, informs us that on the 1st day of May, he had for dinner, roasting ears, and a variety of other vegetables, all gathered from his own garden. Who had roasting ears sooner?—South-Western Index.

New York, Dec. 31, 1870.
Messrs. Herring, Farrell & Sherman.—Our Agent at Richmond writes: "We got through to-night drying and fixing up the money from the late fire. The contents of the safe—$23,500 in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring Safe, and a good one, certainly. Yours, truly,
"J. C. BAIRD, Treasurer."
Messrs. Herring, Farrell & Sherman, New York.—Gents: The two safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the 25th inst., at the disastrous fire which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some $23,500 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books enclosed therein. It was impossible for workmen to excavate the safe until nearly 30 hours after the fire. Respectfully,
"J. F. GIBSON,
Asst. Sup't for Adams' Southern Ex. Co.,
Richmond, Va., Dec. 29th, 1870."

Messrs. Herring, Farrell & Sherman, Agents.
On the morning of the 25th inst. we were fortunate enough to have one of your Herring's Patent Champion Safes, which fell into the cellar among a burning mass of ruins. After the fire, to our utmost surprise, we found the contents, consisting of valuable papers, money and some silver ware, all in good order. Had it not been for your Herring's Safe we would have lost everything.

TESTIMONIALS.
From Geo. C. Scott's "Monitor of Fashions." Residing at the fountain-head of American enterprise, and knowing the interests of the tailoring business from many years' experience, we most unhesitatingly pronounce the Shuttle-stitch, last invented, sewing machine of Grover & Baker, one of the best machines if not the very best—in the world for tailors' use, or for the use of any trade requiring a tight seam in any garment.
We have used the Grover & Baker Shuttle Machine No. 1, and find it admirably adapted to all purposes.—It runs lighter, makes less noise, and is in every way preferable to the Singer Machine for either light or heavy manufacturing.
JOSEPH SCOTT.
Manufacturer of Clothing,
No. 30 Broadway, New York.

I am the fortunate possessor of one of your new Shuttle Machines, which you designate as No. 1. I have used many different machines in my business during the past eight years, and it gives me great pleasure in asserting that this one is far superior in all points to any that I have ever used. I want no better.
SEBASTIAN BLETZL, Boot and Shoe Maker,

Having used the different kinds of Sewing Machines in the market, including Leavitt's, Singer's and Howe's, have finally adopted your
No. 1 Grover & Baker Machine; and having used it the past two years, can truthfully say it proves to be the best machine, and superior to any we have used.

Consumption,
Its Cure and its Preventive,
By J. H. Schenck, M. D.
Many a human being has passed away,
for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friend are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which had they calmly adopted
Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment,
and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.
Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that whoever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.
In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr.
Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.
The Sarsaparilla and Mandrake Pills are the best two weapons with which the circle of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tube "sympathizes" with the stomach.
They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption.
The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's subtlest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they
"Leave no Sting Behind."
The work of cure is now beginning. The vitrated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected.
The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,
A Supply of Good Blood.
The Sarsaparilla, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more stagnation, no excitation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.
Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions, and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gelatinous particles, it loosens expectoration, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new,
and the patient, in all the dignity of repaired vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was.
Given up as Lost.
The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected.
Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, if caution they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep good appetite—he determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.
The Sarsaparilla of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr.
Schenck's personal statement to the faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:
"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man grasping at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me.
It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They quickened the matter in my lungs, and I could spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.
As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown as fresh ever since."
"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," said the Doctor, "then looking like a man skeleton I my weight was only thirty-five pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."
Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Eastern. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 13
North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Res-pirometer will be charged $5. The Res-pirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.
The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them; First create an appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once let go of cold cheer.
Good blood at once follows. The cough, hoar-ness, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.
Dr. Schenck's medicines are essentially kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or pu-gative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sarsaparilla
Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen.
Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.
