The people cheered Rochefort, Arrangements being completed, bugles sounded, and the cables were stretched. The column of atone from a windlass gave way. Abodie wanted two hours to repair the accident. At 5 o'clock he announced that the column would not fall till 7. There was a general cry of disapprobation, and Abodie was accused of complicity with the Versaillists, and threatened with the guillotine.

At balf past five the cables were again stretched, and the column swayed, and then swept manificently down, bursting into fragments as it struck the earth. The crowd cried Viva la Commune; and the bands played Marsailles. The statue of the Emperor separated first from the column; and the head was broken off by the fall. The Nationals spit on it and struck it with their rifles. Orators made all kinds of extravagant speeches. The crowd then dispersed and the soldiers moved off waving red flags. The excitement is tremendous and continues.

In the Sepate yesterday, the act to con-fer additional authority upon the Waco and Southern Railroad company, being un-der consideration, Seastor Hertzberg mov-ed to amend after the words "The directors are hereby authorized to lease, buy, hold, use, sell, or operate any line of railroad now existing or hereafter established in this State, and all its property, rights, privhow existing or hereafter established in this State, and all its property, rights, priv-ileges, franchises, and immunities, real or personal," by inserting the words, "Also to buy, lease, hold, use, sell, or operate the whole State of Texas, its Government and Legislature." The ameudment, of course, was ruled out of order, and therefore will not appear on the journals, but there are many who think the time is soon coming when such an amendment may be deemed a very practical thing in Texas.

We think the circulation of a cheap edition of Don Quixote de la Mancha would, even now be a work of mercy. But with fore us, and we are disposed to seize the reference to the Knight of the Rueful Countenance, it should be remembered that he had the excuse of being insane, and the merit of a good education, both of which his Texas imitators have not.

It may be that we are unjust towards the Chivalry, but we once had the satisfaction of being acquainted with a knight, and the impression he created in our mind, has never been effaced. We saw with mingled awe and admiration, our stately friend resign his nodding plume and potent lance into the harids of the attendant squire, and descend from his foaming steed, and after paying courtly homage to the assembled rustic Polly Anna and Sairy Janes, divest himself of his glittering attire, and become transformed into an extremely ordinary Texas cow boy, with a red head.

Had we not subsequently had an opportunity of visiting the ranche of our martial acquaintance, we might have got ever the shock the sudden transformation above referred to had occasioned, but our mind has become fixed in its opinion, that the gentlemen who shine so gracefully in the lists, are not the class to which the country must look for its future progressive development. We found that the knight dwelt in a fumble-down shanty, surrounded by a defective fence, without any appearance of an attempt to cultivate the soil; that the place two of the lost arts; that not even milk was It seems that the Judge is not paying attainable, and the only edibles were bacon, corn bread and black coffee; we found too. upon observation, that he had either negconstituted individuals, and we believe The clerk has full powers under the char | their name is legion, would take that scan-

And hundreds of thousands of intelligent, hardy, brave men throughout the south, who have marched thousands of miles, and stared death out of countenance on a hundred battle fields, are awakening to the great truth, that the Reawakening to the great truth, that the Re-publican party means a new Texas, with all the advantages resulting from enforce-ment of the law, and the guaranty of equal rights to all men, but they do not belong to that class which will perform at the Henston Tournament.

The San Antonio papers particularly, are of this character, and the very fact of this fluctuating, this floating about on the surface cateding at straws, is a true indication of the instability of the minds of their conductors, who lack that firmness and consistency that should belong to the editorial profession. We are inclined to make these remarks from the very fact of the San Antonio Hersid and Expressignoring at times the existence of any determination on the part of the directors of the Gulf, Western Terms and Pacific Kalirout to build it, when the truth is, that never before in the history of the road has its prospects for a speedy consummation to Cuero been so bright.—[Indianola Bulletin. peedy consummation to Coright.—[Indianola Bulletin.

We have no doubt but what the subject of the San Antonio people waiting and hoping for twenty years, for a railroad, is amusing to the editor of the Indianola Bulletin, who, seated in his office, obeys the beck and nod of Morgan and his prototypes, and in obedience to their behests tells the people of West Texas, that black is not black, but white,

It is amusing to him in two ways. First, he remembers that hundreds of thousands of dollars of good hard money, have been wasted and frittered away by our people, and the benefit, what there is, has all gone

And lastly, that while we are shifting and changing, working anxiously and labo riously for a road, from any direction, to give us an outlet for our peut up wealth, and it the very route upon which we have wasted time, money and influence, only to be snubbed pointedly, and have our best citizens anabbed by its directors.

While the editor of the Bolletin is amus ed, and in a jocular humor, we are in dead earnest over the siding and fostering of an enterprise that promises us a road, without fluy ifs or buts. A definite proposition, (a something we have asked from the Coast Road directors, but never received,) is beopportunity and make the most of it, regardless of the jokes of the Bulletin editor, and alike regardless of the fienzied attempts of the coast road managers to further hold us in the bonds of hope and uncertainty. The Bulletin, with an over-confidence that is in keeping with the amusements of its editer, announces that the "prospects for a completion to Cuero of the Gulf, West Texas and Pacific road, never was so bright as now."

That's exactly what we think. By encouraging with material aid, the building of the road to Columbus, and the connect-ing link to New Orleans, Mesars. Directors of the Gulf road, are in self defence forced to complete their road, as a competing line. Otherwise Morgan's steamers will come in for some of the hardships which the grasping, fluty-hearted monopolist has imposed for years upon the people of West Texas.

Continue, Mr. Bulletin Editor, to find our editorials aiming to procure us a road, amu-sing; we, before long, will have our little joke also, and remember, last, laughs best,"

Measra. Harring, Farret & Sherman: Our Agent at Richmond writes: "We got through to night drying and fixing up the money from the late fire. The contents of the safe -22, 500 in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring Safe, and a good one, certain. Yours, truly.

Measra. Herring, Farret & Sherman, New York, Gents: The two Safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the 28th inst., at the disastrous fire which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some 22,500 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books enclosed therein. It was impossible for workmen to excavate the Safe until hearly 80 hours after the fire.

Mesars. Herring, Parrel & Sherman—Gents
On the morning of the 39th inst, we were fortunate enough to have one of your Herring's Patent Champion Safes, which fell into the cellar among a burning mass of ruins. After the fire, to our utmost surprise, we found the contents, consisting of vassable papers, money and some silver ware, all in good order. Had it not been for your Herring's Esfe we would have lost everything.
