The Texas General Election.
We observe that there is an important question now agitating the people of our State. It is relative to the proper time for holding a general election.

The constitution provides for annual elections; that the members of the House of Representatives shall be chosen by qualified electors for the term of two years from the day of general election;
elections for Senators throughout the State shall be general, and shall be regulated by law.

The first Legislature was elected in pursuance of an order of the military commander. The election was begun on the first Monday of July, 1861, and a strict construction of the constitution vacates
their positions in July, 1871.

The first session was called by the Governor, and was begun on the twenty-sixth April 1861. There had been a previous meeting of the Legislature called by the commanding general for the purpose of electing Senators in Congress, but no general legislation was had. The Legislature was considered provisional in its nature,
and it has been held by the jurists of the State that it was a part, and a very necessary part of the plan of reconstruction, and peculiarly adapted with the duty of organizing the machinery of the new State government. In pursuance of this idea, the Legislature, in August, enacted a general election law, which provided that the first election under it shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1872. This extends the time to more than two years from the day of the preceding general election, viz: July, 1869. But there is no difficulty in this regard, about any officers of the State or general members of the Legislature (if they may be considered officers at all, which many doubt), as the Texas constitution, like that of our own State, provides for all officers to hold their offices until properly relieved by their duly elected successors. But the point of serious doubt lies in the query—can a legislative body perpetuate its own term of existence beyond that plainly pointed out by the constitution by postponing the day for electing their successors for more than two years? We notice that the Democrats of Texas, who are out of office, unannoun-sly hold the negative of this proposition,
and many of the Republicans coincide with them. We are inclined to take the same view, with the modification that we do not see any necessity to change the day of the election as it now stands on the Texas statute books. The inevitable consequence of failing to provide for an election will be, in our judgment, to vacate the positions of the members of the House, and one-third of the Senate. A legislative session in 1872 will be impracticable, but no great harm can come of it,
as no penalty whatever is imposed by the constitution for a failure at any time to hold an annual session. As no laws will be passed, no question or dispute can arise
concerning their validity.

There are many reasons for containing
the present day for the general election.
On that day presidential electors and members of Congress are to be chosen,
and the latter are to be elected every two years thereafter. Economy, convenience and nearly every consideration of public interest obviously require that at the general election, all the officers, State and federal, should be elected, thus avoiding the expense of holding two elections for an election what may be done at once. A general election in a large and sparsely settled State like Texas is a matter involving serious expense to the taxpayers,
and further, it is calculated to arouse turbulent passion and engender strife which should be avoided when it can be done without jeopardy to the public interest.

These reasons no doubt, at their due influence with the Legislature at the time
the present election law was passed, and the time fixed for holding the election.
And the time should not be changed for a light reason. Until, therefore, some emergency shall arise greater than the desire of the hopeful out to get into office
the people of Texas will probably do well to let their present election law remain undisturbed.

HARDLY COMPLIMENTARY.—The late James T. Brady was very fond of the ready natural wit of his country men.
One day, speaking of this to a friend, he said: "I'll just show you. I'll speak to any of these men at work, and you'll see that I will get my answer." "Sleeping apparently," said the man who was at a cellar near by, he spoke to them cheerfully.
"Good-day, good-day to you, boys. That looks like hard work for you."
"Faix an' it is," was the answer, "or we wouldn't be havin' the doin' of it."
Pleased with this, he asked the man
what part of Ireland he came from.

"Ah," said Brady on hearing the name,
"I came from that region myself."
"Yes," said the man, "with another blow
of his pick, 'there was more life' in you in that place; but I never heard that any of 'em left it."

Some two years ago the Senate ordered that a book should be published, to contain the declaration of independence, the constitution of the United States, and also the constitutions of the several States, together with all amendments which had been made thereto. The superintendent of this work was confided to Ben. Fesley Poore, who now announces that the same will be forthcoming in a short time.

Sir William Jenner, the great English physician, has been examined before the Vaccination Committee of London. No evil effects from vaccination had ever, he said, come under his notice, and, as the father of six children, he should consider myself wanting in his duty had he neglected to have been vaccinated.

We have some complaints about the holding of the Congressional Convention of the Fourth District at New Braunfels, to the effect that it is out of the way, and such in the interest of Mr. Degeuer. We will state that New Braunfels was selected by a full meeting of the Executive Committee and the Republican members of the Legislature from the district, no idea of partialism. It is a deserved compliment to the loyalty of our German citizens, and should
Mr. Degeuer not be the candidate, it can at least be said that the locality was not in-favorable to his interests.—State Journal.

ance of a barbarous age.—Thomas Starr

joy.—Miss Mulock.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
AUSTIN, August 26, 1870.

To A. Siemering & Co.,
You are hereby notified that I have this day
appointed your paper, "The San Antonio Express," the Official Journal of the twenty-third Judicial District.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed
my name and caused the Great Seal
of the State to be affixed; at the city of Austin, this 2nd day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and the Independence of Texas, the thirty-fifth.
EDMUND J. DAVIS, Governor.
By the Governor:
JAMES P. NEWCOMB.

GLORIOUS.

Through the courtesy of GENERAL H. CLAY TAYLOR we were yesterday shown the copy of a letter addressed to the commanding officer of Fort Richardson, under signature of GENERAL SHERMAN himself, giving an account of the arrest of the three noted chiefs Sautanta, Satauk, and Big Tree. Gen. Sherman tersely says in his letter that "the rest of the Indians flushed like a flock of quail and are all gone save the three prisoners."

The decisive step thus taken by the General of the army will bring cheer to the heart of every frontiersman. The ball is rolling—the hour of retribution for wrongs and outrages heaped upon our people is at hand. The main particulars given in the General's letter correspond with those to be found in the letter signed "F. C." The dark cloud of Indian savagery and inhumanity is beginning to show the silver streaks of a change coming.

Indian Chiefs Captured.

Sequel to the Indian Attack on the Corn train—The nest disturbed—Gen. Sherman the right man in the right place, just then.

The reader will remember that in the account which recently appeared in the "Express," of the Indian attack on the corn train, between Fort Belknap and Richardson, it was said Gen. Sherman had ordered Gen. McKenzie with a large force to find the trail of the hostile Indians and follow it up even to the Reservation, and that Gen. Sherman had gone on himself to Fort Sill, on the Reservation, there to await the return of the Indians.

It now appears, on the most reliable authority, that Gen. McKenzie arrived at the scene of the murder and robbery about half past eleven o'clock at night and found the remains of one of the men, who had been tied up and roasted, still chained to a wheel. He expected to find the trail the next morning, but it began to rain and continued to rain for six or seven days afterwards, so that it is extremely doubtful whether he found the trail and if he did was able to keep it.

Gen. Sherman went on to Fort Sill, and there, on Saturday the 27th ult., quite a number of the Reservation Indians came in to the agency for their accustomed rations, and among them some of the most noted of the Kiowa, Cheate, Sautanta, Satauk, Kicking Bird, Lone Wolf, &c.

Sautanta, who is a most notorious character, with all the customary freedom the Indians are reported to use on the Reservation, in boasting of their thriving excursions into Texas, spoke right out and boldly confessed to the agent that he had led the party which captured Warren's corn train near Fort Belknap and killed seven men.

The agent and the interpreter brought Sautanta into the presence of Gen. Sherman, who was stopping with Gen. Sherman in the Fort, and then he again admitted the whole affair, and described the attack exactly as the escaped men had done, though he denied that anybody was tied to the wagon wheel and burned. The train had contained ten four-mule teams and twelve men, and of the latter only five escaped. Sautanta said three of his party were killed and three wounded in the attack and he had lost one afterwards. This one is supposed to have been killed in the Wichita Mountains by a scout, who brought in a scalp to Fort Griffin.

Gen. Sherman resolved, in respect to Sautanta on the spot and all others who were concerned in that particular act of murder and highway robbery on the road in Texas, and surrender them for trial to the civil authorities. He also required the Kiowas to bring in forty-one good mules to replace those taken by Sautanta.

In the confusion of the arrest, on Saturday, one Indian was killed, and the next day all had disappeared save the three noted chiefs, who were chained in street, Sautanta, Satauk, and Big Tree, described as very supercilious of mien, sassy, bold, and all the capital vices of a statesman.

These bad Indians will be brought into the State by the military, who will not allow them to be mobbed and lynched, but will carefully guard them till justice can be meted out to them by the civil authority, for their recent crimes and others that can be proved.

There was some truth in the remarks of "Buffalo Good," the Wichita Chief, in the Grand Council in Washington, on the 22d ult.: "He told the Secretary and the Commission, that he came here to tell the truth, and while what had been said by the Arapahoes and the Cheyennes about preserving peace relations with the Government was correct; the same was not the case with the Kiowas, Comanches and Apaches. They will not keep peace with the whites, and are going to Texas every day."

The complaints and demands of some of the other chiefs, that the military and iron horse were troublesome, and that the military posts should be removed before they could have peace, remind one of a treaty of peace, which an old fable says, once on a time, the wolves proposed to make with the sheep. The chief article was, that the dogs were to be given up. It was the dogs that caused all the trouble.

"Hurrah for Calvaras!"

At a meeting of the citizens of Calvaras, held on the 11th of June, A. D. 1871, at the house of Clemente Delgado, Bexar County, for the purpose of expressing the sense of the citizens in regard to the proposition of Mr. Pierce to extend the Columbus road to San Antonio, the following proceedings were had:

On motion of Mr. Peyton Smythe, Don Jose Delgado was called to the chair; Mr. Manuel Gortari was appointed Secretary.

Whereupon Mr. Peyton Smythe and M. G. Anderson explained the object of the meeting.

It was moved that a committee of five citizens of said precinct be appointed to draft suitable resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting in regard to the proposition; whereupon the chair appointed Solomon Delgado, Felix Flores, Jose M. Saucedo, Caylan Smythe and Demasio de las Reyes, who submitted the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

1st. Resolved, That we, the citizens of this precinct, are in favor of accepting the proposition of Mr. Pierce to the County of Bexar, in regard to the extension of the Columbus railroad to San Antonio.

2d. Resolved, That we recommend to all of the different precincts of this county to hold primary meetings upon the subject, and express themselves favorably to the proposition of such unpalatable advantage to the welfare and prosperity of us all.

3d. Resolved, That we will heartily sustain, both by our votes and influence, the above resolutions.

It was moved that the newspapers of San Antonio be earnestly requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

Upon motion, the meeting adjourned sine die.

(Signed) JOSE DELGADO, Chairman.
MANUEL GORTARI, Secretary.

Austin Letter.

Rangers—General Peace of the State, &c.

AUSTIN, JUNE 8, 1871.

During the past few days Austin has been full of rangers, being mustered out. These men show by their bronzed faces and camp-worn clothing that they have not passed their time in comfortable garrisons or lived upon government rations. Poor fellows, their Indian campaign has been one of hardship and even suffering. Constantly in the saddle and exposed to storms, to cold and heat, they now return to their homes with but a pittance of their pay in their pockets—and who is to blame for this? At the urgent demand of the people, the Legislature required the Governor to call this force into the field, providing for its support a loan to be effected on State bonds. The Governor was encouraged to call out the force immediately, by the U. S. military commander of the State offering to furnish provisions and forage, and a favorable report from New York that a loan could be effected. No sooner had the rangers been called out, than the War Department ordered the military commander to cease his aid to the State troops, and on the heels of this unfriendly action of the War Department came the news from New York that a loan could not be effected. What was to be done? The rangers were on the frontier; they must be disbanded or they must be fed and clothed and paid. At this juncture the Indians were worse than they had ever been, and to disband the rangers looked like abandoning our frontier to immediate destruction. The Governor sent the Secretary of State on to New York, with the bonds, with instructions to make the best arrangement he could. This gentleman effected a loan of one hundred thousand dollars secured the agricultural land scrip and sold it for $150,000, which has been turned into our securities, and also secured a powerful financial concern to act as financial agent for the State. Had it not been for this timely aid great distress and disaster must have happened. It is confidently hoped that the course of a very few months our frontier indebtedness will be entirely paid off through the disposal of our bonds now in excellent hands. But the rangers had to be disbanded as they could not be kept in the field on no account. And now that they come in for their pay the State has only enough funds on hand to pay them about $100 to the man—and they must wait for the balance or take certificates. They generally take certificates, which they dispose of at a ruinous discount, to the shippers about the Capital, and go home cursing the State.

Let it also be remembered that some of the leading democratic papers in the State damaged greatly the ability of the administration to negotiate the frontier bonds by their disgraceful opposition and disparagement.

It is a shameful thing that our great and good government should permit our frontier to be devastated and our people murdered, and when an effort is made to prevent this terrible state of things it is construed as hostile to the policy of the general government.

The general peace of the State is undisturbed. Through the efforts of the State Police law breakers are arrested in all parts of the State, and every day law and order is becoming more powerful.

The usual dullness attending legislative vacation prevails here. The question of building a bridge over the Colorado begins to agitate the public mind, and on the 3d of July a vote will be taken to see if the people will consent to go in debt for this great undertaking, which will cost several hundred thousand dollars—another anchor to keep the Capital at the foot of the Cordilleras.

Galveston Storm.

GALVESTON, JUNE 10.—The storm commenced at 10 o'clock, Friday morning, and continued to increase in fury till eleven at night, ending at midnight. The principal losses in the city are:

St. Patrick's church, corner of 31st and Broadway was blown down and completely destroyed.

The Osterman building had the roof blown off and cornice destroyed.

The planters press and nearly all the fencing blown away.

Miller's slaughter pens, houses and fencing entirely swept away by the wind.

A lot of cattle that were on the central wharf, awaiting shipment, were blown into the water and drowned.

The steamer Mollie Hamble sunk at the wharf, she is a total wreck; sinking in about six feet of water, her cabin and smoke stacks were afterwards blown away.

The steamer Belle of Texas lost both of her chimneys.

The steamer Col. Cago lost part of pilot house and was otherwise damaged.

The steamer Emily, with 900 bales of cotton, sank at the wharf, the cotton drifted ashore and most of it will be saved.

The steamer Clinton arrived from India, with part of her wheel-house and most of her forward railing carried away.

Several vessels are missing from the anchorage outside of the bar. The names of which are: Bark Chalmetta, Ship Excelsior, Ship Missouri, Bark Caroline, Lament and a Schooner whose name is unknown.

The bark Caroline Lament cleared for Liverpool with 1425 bales of cotton, a day or two since, but had not sailed before the storm.

A large number of schooners and small craft generally, are ashore, all of which can be floated off when the sea rises.

The oldest inhabitants and shipmasters declare it was the worst storm ever witnessed on the coast.

The signal officer says the wind gauge measured the velocity of the storm at 10:30 P. M. Friday, marked rate of sixty miles per hour. The barometer stood at 29.51.

[From the State Journal.]

Another terrible storm prevailing in Galveston.

HOUSTON, June 10.—Another terrible storm in Galveston. The United States Observatory and other buildings damaged. The city reported under water and railroad and telegraphic communication cut. Much apprehension is felt here as to the fate of friends on the Island.

A Pitiful Condition

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of a specific disease; they suffer no positive pain, but they have no relief for anything which affords mental or sensual pleasure to their robust and energetic fellow-beings.

In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid condition of the digestive organs, the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever, (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer in this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time in administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain-head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve, and brain flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

NOTICE.

There will be held a mass meeting of the voters of Bexar county at the Fireman's Hall on Wednesday evening 14th inst., for the purpose of discussing donation at the county to the Columbus railroad.

FATHER COONEY preached his last sermon to be delivered in San Antonio, on Sunday, to a very large and appreciative audience.

W. W. GAMBLE, at the San Antonio News Depot is in receipt of a fine lot of new books, some of them new handsome and cheap editions of popular authors, gotten up by Lippincott, are offered to the public for selection. The very latest magazines and newspapers also at hand six days in the week.

THE grapes in this section of country are being troubled extremely with the foe. A disease that visits the vine about once in seven years. The long dry spells supposed to have been its promoter this year.

CAPTAIN WILCOX and Lieutenant Linton, of the 4th Cavalry, are in our city for a few days. They are here with their company, awaiting marching orders to Fort Richardson. They are both fine officers and courteous agreeable gentlemen, and we hope their short stay will be made a pleasant one to them.

THE Columbus road has generally been called the "poor-man's road." We know of no more proper name for it, for it is the poorer classes who will receive its earliest and most practical benefits.

REGISTER and VOTE for aid to the Columbus railroad, for every ounce of Bread, Coffee and Sugar, that goes into hungry mouths, is on its completion cheapened.

WATERMELONS are becoming very plentiful; yet that is no reason why the rinds of them should be thrown on the streets to have the sun decompose them and breed sickness. Let our police look to it, that this carelessness be checked.

WE HAVE received from T. B. Peterson & Bro's, of Philadelphia, George Sand's great novel, "Simon, a love story" also, Arthur O'Leary, by Charles Lever. Any endorsement of the universal opinion as to the excellence of the reading and celebrity of the authors, on our part, is superfluous.

Not only the above excellent works, but all the works of the celebrated authors above mentioned, can be had, bound in a substantial manner and in excellent print, from the publishing house of T. B. Peterson & Bro's, 305 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, or more conveniently from Julius Behrens, on Commerce street.

If you desire free cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples, Blisters and Eruptions, purify your blood by taking Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery; it has no equal for this purpose, nor as a remedy for "Liver Complaint" or "Biliousness." Sold by all druggists.

MASQUITES, started by the company front now. They have given up the move by four. They are most active skirmishers and make heavy charges. Without the bills they present.

THE MELODIES of Toms and Tabliss of the feline persuasion are not adapted to soothing to quiet, nervous and irascible individuals, for one of our neighbors of that temperament was hunting them off his premises Saturday night with a suspicious looking shot gun.

A DRIVE from the place to the first mission will well repay any of our people who feel that they have time to spare to expend in administration upon fine crops of corn, beautiful fields of vegetables flourishing acres of potatoes etc, etc, that will be found stretched along the route commencing on Garden street. Those who are sceptical in the belief of San Antonio possessing a favorable agricultural advantage should not fail of making the trip.

SUNDAY was one of those close sultry days, wherein humanity wish generally for "just one cool breath of air," which however never makes it appearance.

The day was so hot that all the metal buttons on the clothing of those exposed to the heat were melted up, and several of the fat men who unwisely ventured on the streets have left no traces of their fate behind them save a large grease spot here and there, where they melted away. Thermometer stood 90 and 91 during portions of the day.

The democratic new departure puts the party in the way of progress. It begins by adopting the republican measures of the last ten years. If it keeps on in this glorious path of progress, next year it will adopt the kn-kim bill, a year after, anything the republican party has accomplished. Thus this new departure in progress will be in the line of safe precedents. And the republican party will have that appendage which our ancestors had, a long tail.

Railroad Election Notice.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Bexar.

Be it remembered that at a regular session of the Hon. Police Court, held in and for the county of Bexar, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1871, the following proceedings were had, to wit:

The petition of more than fifty (52) freeholders of the county of Bexar, having been presented to the Police Court of said county, asking for an election to take the opinion of the electors of said county on the proposition that said county shall aid in the construction or extension of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway from the town of Columbus or Eagle Lake, in Galvesta county, to the city of San Antonio, in Bexar county, by making a donation to the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company of the sum of Five hundred thousand dollars in the bonds of said Bexar county, in the manner and upon the conditions set forth in said petition, and which conditions are hereinafter more fully set forth.

And the court having duly considered the said petition, and being satisfied of the right of the petitioners to ask for and have an order for such election, by virtue of the act of the Legislature, entitled "An act to authorize counties, cities and towns to aid in the construction of Railroads and other works of internal improvements," approved April 12th, 1871.

It is therefore, hereby ordered by the Court that an election be held in accordance with said Act, at the Court-house of the county of Bexar, to commence on the fifth day of July, 1871, and continue for four consecutive days, to wit: the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th days of July, 1871, to take the opinion of the electors of said county of Bexar upon the proposition above mentioned, which is as follows, to wit:

That the County of Bexar shall aid in the construction or extension of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway from the town of Columbus or Eagle Lake in the county of Galvesta, to the city of San Antonio, in the county of Bexar, by making a donation to the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company of the sum of five hundred thousand dollars in the bonds of said county of Bexar; each bond to be for the sum of one thousand dollars, payable thirty years after its delivery, and bearing interest at the rate of eight per centum per annum, payable annually upon interest coupons to be attached to each of said bonds; upon condition nevertheless, that the said Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company fully complete and equip their said Railway to the city of San Antonio within two years from the time when the qualified voters of said Bexar county shall have voted affirmatively on the said proposition; and that the bonds aforesaid shall be delivered to the said Railway Company when the said Railway shall be fully completed and equipped to the city of San Antonio and not before, and that the said bonds shall bear interest only from the date of their delivery. And further provided, that the said Railway Company shall execute and deliver to the said county of Bexar, within sixty days after said election, their bond in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful completion and equipment of said Railway within the time and to the place aforesaid.

The vote on the proposition aforesaid shall be by ballot "for the proposition" or "against the proposition," as prescribed by the act aforesaid.

It is further ordered that J. W. Van Brock, T. W. Johnson and H. P. Powell are hereby appointed managers to conduct said election in accordance with said Act, and to make a return thereof to this Court, on Wednesday, the 12th day of July, 1871.

It is further ordered that this order shall be published for three weeks previous to the day of said election, in the "San Antonio Express," a newspaper published in the city of San Antonio, in said county of Bexar; and it is also ordered that a special meeting of this Court be held on Monday, the 17th day of July, 1871, that before the first Monday after the return day of said election, for the purpose of ascertaining and recording the result of the election herein and hereby ordered.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the proceedings aforesaid upon the minutes of the Police Court of Bexar county, at its May term, A. D. 1871.

Witness, Mortimer Bloom, Clerk of the District Court of said county and [L. S.] Seal of said Court, at office in San Antonio, this 2d day of June, A. D. 1871.

Consumption,
Its Cure and its Preventive,
By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. These men and dear to family and friend, are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which had they calmly adopted
Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment,
and availed themselves of his wonderful and efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and indications for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and viable works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unerring. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-evident, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's subtlest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of cologne, but unlike cologne they "Leave no Sting Behind."
The work of cure has now begun. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels assist the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It accrues from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,
A Supply of Good Blood.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the curative work is at hand. There is no more fatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an unobtrusive father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform the functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impure and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatharings, it prepares them for expectoration, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten thence that it occupied is renovated and healed, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood he won through that war.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well. It is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter months, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that persons leave their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house, they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, kept up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty of all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's original statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words: "Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week then, like a drowning man, cowering at straw, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel those preparations my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. It is soon as that, began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only twenty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He and his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, securing that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines used in other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them; First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, so it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good food at once follows, the cough lessens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in store of thousands of families. At a late visit to the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a center of cough and difficulty, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.00 in 64 or $7.50 in 640. Mandrake Pills, $5 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

DIRECT IMPORTATION.
JUST RECEIVED,
 A large lot of the celebrated
German Study Lamps

The Study Lamp produces an intense pure white flame, with more effect than two ordinary lamps.
 The Chimneys are made of the best
 flint annealed glass.
 The wick does not require cutting as the capillary attraction fully supplies the want of the flame until every drop of oil
 is consumed.
 The manner of trimming is simply to rub
 the slight crest from the top of the wick.
 The greatest advantage of the Study
 Lamp is its freedom from odor, showing perfect combustion and leaving the atmosphere pure and healthy.

The Great Fire in Richmond.
Herring's Safes
IN THE SPOTSWOOD.
$25,500 in Currency,
 and the Books, Papers, Silver and Valuables of the Spotswood Hotel and the Adams and Southern Express Companies, are
SAVED IN HERRING'S SAFES.

Office of Adams Express Company,
 No. 59 Broadway,
 New York, Dec. 21, 1870.
 Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Our Agent at Richmond writes: "We got through the night drying and firing up the money, from the late fire. The contents of the safe—
 as in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring safe, and a good one. Yours truly,
 J. C. BARCOCK, Treasurer."
 Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman, New York—
 Agents: The two Safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the 25th inst., at the disastrous fire which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some $25,000 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books enclosed therein. It was impossible for women to excavate these safes until nearly 30 hours
 after the fire.
 Respectfully,
 J. F. GIBSON,
 Asst. Sup't for Adams & Southern Ex. Co's,
 Richmond, Va., Dec. 21, 1870.
LETTER FROM J. M. SUBLITT & CO.,
 Proprietors of the Spotswood.
 Richmond, Va., Dec. 29, 1870.
 Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Gents:
 On the morning of the 25th inst., we were fortunate enough to have one of your Herring's Patent Champion Safes, which fell into the colder among burning mass of ruins. After the fire, to our utmost surprise, we found the contents, consisting of valuable papers, notes and some silver ware, all in good order. Had it not been for your Herring's safe we would have lost everything.
 Yours truly,
 J. M. SUBLITT & CO.

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—
 where "The Clipper" met some of the competitors including all the leading machines
 built, and won as prizes the First Premiums
 and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for "The Clipper" Machine
 over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of all the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team
 to work—its easy motion—its economy—
 its power that has the true center of draft in se-curance with the most mechanical principles.
 In short, it is the lightest, the most durable,
 the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers who clipper is the "Queen of the South," and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare. Send for pamphlet—investigate. See or write to some one who has used the clipper. See the "Machine Yearly" before you buy any other.
