This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fish, of Germany, is based on the fact that, as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr. Fish's Bitters enables the System to liberate and appropriate these Forces, creates at once Appetite, cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility, Lassitude and Lack of Nervous Energy; so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Biliousness impossible; acts as a Preservative and Restorative; Reinforces the System so it can tide over bad results of changing climate, water, &c., and better endures and meet the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons, and all emaciated and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

A Receipt to the Tribune Office.
 The Tribune is not aristocratically lodged. The plain building at the corner of Nassau and Spruce streets, in which it is printed and published, is quite thrown into the shade by the Palaces of the Press in its neighborhood. Yet no political journal in the country exercises a more powerful influence, and few are more prosperous.

Entering the building from Spruce street we climb two flights of crooked stairs, pass through the general editorial room, open a door, and lo! Horace Greeley in his sanctuary, up to his knees in country newspapers. He is too deeply engaged in conducting a "leader" to note the presence of an intruder, so we will take advantage of his abstraction, to "eye him over," as Simon Tappan says.

It is difficult to guess his age from his appearance. His face, which is almost as milk white as that of an Albino, shows no wrinkles, but he is partially bald, and the remains of his hair, which was once flaxen are silver white. He looks more like an elderly boy than an old man; though in reality close upon three score and ten. He seems to have driven on temperance, for he has not a drop of alcohol in his system.

That stoop in his shoulders is not caused by the hand of time, but is the result of his occupation.
 No man can write five or six hours a day for forty years without acquiring a permanent arch in his spinal column. His features are finely cut, and so mild and guileless in their expression as to be almost womanly; but there is a look of keen sagacity in the blue eyes, and in the broad and lofty expanse of forehead above them plenty of room for intellectual furniture and it is there. Mark the quiet smile on his lips. Surely his cogitations must be satisfactory. Probably they are always so, for the smile is stereotyped. To our certain knowledge it has been there for thirty years.

Were the slapping hat on our table of "our moral philosopher" on the head of its owner, the old white coat that hangs on the wall on his back, the right leg of his unmentionable tucked in his boot, and the tie of his dingy black cravat adjusted under his left ear, he would present a much more eccentric and uncouth appearance than he does while seated in his sanctum unconcerned of our observation.
 When thus got up for the promenade, and pushing rapidly away with a hitch on his tail, (consequently produced by vigorous attempt of his legs to outfoot the other,) he might easily be mistaken by a superficial observer for a good natured self satisfied simpleton.

But he has finished his leader, and observes us.
 "Good morning Mr. Greeley."
 "Good morning. What do you wish?"
 "Oh, nothing, except the pleasure of shaking hands with you to-day."
 "That's soon done," and he extends his "bunch of five's" with friendly heartiness, if not with the grace of a courtier.

We conversed with him for five minutes about manuscript top-dressings and the expedience of deep plowing, paid him a few compliments on the agricultural essays with which he occasionally favors the public, and then exit; the object of our visit, viz: to treat our readers of his personal appearance, in order to give our readers a sketch of him, accomplished.

Mr. Greeley, eccentric in everything, is particular so in his penmanship. We religiously believe that he writes a worse hand than any other living man. Take a spider, dip his legs in ink, and place him on a sheet of paper, and he will describe characters quite as legible to most people as those of the responsible editor of the Tribune. He converses well on all subjects, but there is one topic which we would advise strangers who may visit him to avoid, and that is copper mining. He has been hit heavily in copper speculation it is said, and if he ever does repeat it is when his equanimity is ruffled by an allusion to the metal in question.

As H. G. has written his own biography and as all the world and his wife have read it, it is unnecessary to give a memoir of him here.—Nonpareil.

SUNBEAMS.
 "Pie plant festivals" are all the rage in Kansas.
 A Kansas man is in jail for letting a neighbor's mule follow him.
 The anti-chignon pledge has been signed by 50,000 ladies in Germany.
 A sign on an eating house on the New Jersey Railroad says: "Coffee and eggs fresh laid by Mary Jones." A young lady of Clark county Mo., who is "afraid of ghosts," advertises for a husband who will stay at home o' nights.
 A Wisconsin postmaster has written to Washington for some eternal revenue stamps, saying he has "several coils fer them."
 More than a third of the members of Congress are college graduates; yet it is said that only three are from Harvard and six are from Yale.
 West Rochester, Vt., is afflicted with black flies to such an extent that the people anticipate the necessity of an organized warfare against them.
 A couple in Connecticut, who were married recently on a Sunday, are said to be in demand because some one has informed them that contracts entered into on Sunday are not binding.
 A minister at Corry, N. Y., married a couple lately. When he made the usual proclamation concerning impediments, the slinking bride replied: "Oh, stand, stranger, on all right." He went ahead.
 A New Hampshire editor has been made the happy recipient of a handsome basket of flowers upon the stem of which was pinned this legend: "Please accept these rare 'exherticks,' culled by Rhoda." Some people make their religion go a long way. A good woman bought a lottery ticket the other day accompanying the purchase with the soliloquy, "The Lord knows how it'll turn out. It's all in the hands of the Almighty, I s'pose."

"Mr. Smith," said a lawyer to the landlord, "if a man were to give you $500 to keep for him, and he died, what would you do? Would you pay for him?" "No, sir," replied Mr. Smith, "I'd pay for another like him."

Many persons sigh for death while it seems far off, but the inclination vanishes when the last moments, or the locomotive runs off the track, or the medals set in.
 A wise physician once said—"I observe that every one wishes to go to heaven; but most people are willing to take a great deal of disagreeable medicine first."

MIND YOUR STEPS.—Just now they are having a joke on a compositor, who set up the form, "Woman—without her man, man would be a savage," and produced, "Woman, without her man, would be a savage." They say that his wife, who was helping to proof the proof, discovered the mistake.

A beautiful and well-educated Philadelphia belle has just opened a boot and shoe store in that city. She is assisted by three g'rl clerks, all wearing little fancy feather aprons, which look both pretty and very business-like.

In every transaction, an honest man, who has no indirect purpose, is at great disadvantage, when dealing with others who are not so honest as he, and have purposes which they cannot openly avow.
 Two ladies on a Missouri railway train got their babies mixed, and could not tell them apart. They tossed up a cent to decide the matter.
 "Fancy," said Sydney Smith to some ladies, when told that one of the giraffes at the zoological garden had caught cold, "a giraffe with two yards of sore throat!" A MAN at Newport has a cottage to let for the summer season, that contains eight rooms and an acre of land. Big cottage that must be!

THEY have in Cincinnati a physician whose name is Dr. Walkingpeast.

 employed in the adulteration of liquors.
 I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to BLANK DEEDS, For Sale at this Office.

The Three Branches of the Democracy.

The views of the great majority of the Democratic party are represented by three prominent men, viz.: Jefferson Davis, Clement Vallandigham, and Andrew Johnson.

The latter has lately emerged from his political retirement, resulting from the overthrow of "my policy" in the last presidential election. The first named individual has no unambiguous expressions in the declaration of his views on the political situation.

He accepts nothing, except the privilege of abusing the elements of the government with impunity. According to his "enlarged" views the rebellion was a laudable effort to resist the encroachments of tyranny, and the question of disfranchising the negro and reducing him to quasi slavery, and of doing away with all effectual measures to prevent lawlessness and crime, need only be referred until a safe opportunity occurs to revive them.

He thinks that the war has settled nothing that may not be overturned, should foreign war or domestic complications embarrass the government. The outrages of the Ku-Klux, according to the views of the ex-President, are either myths or a justifiable exuberance of that free and easy spirit that used to be the peculiarity of the chivalry in ante-bellum times. He would be considered a martyr, and had he the power he would fan the embers of the lost cause into a lively flame at very short notice. He is supported by all those throughout the South who are too proud to recognize the fact that they have been everwhomingly beaten, and that the success of the policy of the much-hated abolitionists has been the salvation of the country, and by all those who are too ignorant to make use of their mental faculties, at all, in determining what political party is calculated to advance the interests of the country, but follow the nod and beck of some local great man, whose lead they blindly followed during the days of secession. We have too high an opinion of the common sense and manhood of the rank and file of the ex-Confederate army to believe that they will be either duped or bullied a second time by Mr. Jefferson Davis and the played-out political hacks that re-echo his unadmirable nonsense.

The second person in this unholy political trinity, is Mr. Vallandigham, who is creating much amusement and no small amount of disgust among the believers in the democratic faith, by an injudicious and rather unexpected borrowing of republican thunder. If we are to believe what he says, Mr. Davis is utterly unjustifiable in reviewing the defunct issues of the war.

Mr. Vallandigham thinks that the Republican platform should be adopted by the South, and an actual and speedy endorsement of all the Constitutional amendments would not only be in accordance with the spirit of the age, but exceedingly expedient and advisable. If Mr. Vallandigham would, for instance, define what punishment should be meted out to Mr.
Davis, should he succeed in involving the country again in a useless and bloody war, we would be better able to judge of the sincerity of his views, but on this point he maintains an ominous silence.

The want of unity between these great and shining lights of the white man's party, is one of the most cheering signs of the times, looking at affairs from a Republican stand point, and it is to be hoped that it will end in a Killenny cut fight, with the traditional result.

In order to make "confusion worse confounded," another Richmond is about to take the field, whose political views should receive, at least, respect from the democracy. Another ex-President by the name of Johnson, has lately given his views as to what should be the policy of the party, through the medium of traveling correspondents of the Cincinnati Commercial, and it seems he strikes a happy medium between the discordant elements. The author of my policy is not enthusiastic on the subject of Mr. Vallandigham's departure, he thinks a little departure excellent, as far as it goes, but that Mr. V. has departed too much entirely; he is painfully reticent as to his favoring the Constitution as it was, and he is by no means communica-tively biased in favor of the amendments.
He thinks the democracy will succeed in the next presidential election, if they are careful, and display their good sense, but is dependent, because there is no leading man to organize the party, and establish a hold on the confidence of the people. He is fearful too, the stupid speech of Davis at Augusta, will awaken the slumbering opposition to the principles of Democracy, and thinks that Grant will be the next President, &c.

Which of these political Jongs will be east-ward-bound, or whether the party will not cast them all into the depths of the sea, are questions that will shortly be decided, as any one of them would sink the Democracy or any other party that would receive them. The study, however, of this sweet-scented political clover leaf, composed of Davis, Vallandigham and Johnson, will go far in establishing the fact in the mind of the thinking man, that the maxim that "honesty is the best policy," applies as well to the political, as it does to the social relations of mankind.

Now or Never.

It is a matter of life or death to the City of San Antonio that we have a railroad, and that soon should the offer of the Columbus road be rejected, we will be reduced to the miserable fate of remaining stationary in the great march of advancement and progress, and may become a mere unimportant station on the road, 80 miles beyond Austin, and we would probably never be anything else.

There is a tide in the affairs of cities, as well as in the affairs of men, that must be taken at the flood. Now is the time for the city of San Antonio to act, and if we fail to take advantage of the opportunity, there will be no one to blame but ourselves.

There is no liability incurred on the part of the city until the road is built.

The completion of the Columbus road will enhance the value of property in many instances at least 200 per centum; this in itself is an unanswerable argument in favor of it.

The completion of the Columbus road to this place will open new avenues of trade and labor; it will create a demand for labor in the construction of the road for 60 or 80 miles from this city that will give an opportunity for all carpenters, masons, &c., to earn higher wages than they are now receiving, and the demand will be greater than the supply, and this alone will put into circulation among our merchants at least $1,000,000.

The man of small means will save in the reduced price of the items of sugar, coffee and flour alone more than the yearly increase of taxation, which, it should be remembered, does not begin until the road is in running order, for the failure to complete which $100,000 forfeit will be deposited.

Remember that by its charter the International need not be finished to this place for the next six years, and that the Indianola road will only be completed when Morgan sees fit to complete it, and that he has made $500,000 and enters into no obligation, and refuses to make any tangible offer.

Remember, that this is the only tangible offer that any railroad company ever has made, and that a rejection of it may involve the loss of the Government Depot and all the attendant patronage.

Remember, that the acceptance of Mr.
Pierce's proposition compels Morgan to complete his road or to lose the benefit of the 40 miles already built, and that this is really the only way of forcing a road from the most selfish voters.

Remember, that by being placed within a few days' travel of the great northern and western cities, our hotels will be crowded by strangers seeking health and pleasure, which of itself will be a great revenue to the city.

Remember, that by the completion of this road we shall not only have building materials and groceries at one half of the present prices, but also the luxuries of life, such as oysters, fish, all northern fruits, as apples, pears, but also all tropical fruits from New Orleans, as bananas, coconuts, &c., will be within the reach of all.

Remember, that if the donation is declined, we have no other road to fall back on, as Morgan virtually refuses to bind himself to do anything more for the same amount that is required for the Columbus road, than to build the Indianola road, within a tantalizing distance and then let San Antonio and Austin, outbid each other for its completion to the city that will pay the most.

In conclusion, we would ask has any one heard of one objection to the Columbus road, that might not be used against any and all roads?

More Indians.

FORT CONCHO, June 10th, 1871.
"Buffalo Goad," was surely right when he said, a few days ago, in Washington, of certain Indians, that "they were going to Texas every day."

The last affair in this line, the knowledge of which has reached Fort Concho, occurred the first of the month, at Wily's ranch, on the Colorado, near the mouth of the Concho. Several men were engaged in herding cattle, and had just finished numbering one thousand and ten, when they were attacked by a large body of Indians, from one of whom our information comes, made their escape by hard riding after a long pursuit by ten or fifteen Indians.
They suppose the Indians numbered altogether about one hundred and fifty; but it is evident they were not very favorably situated for making a deliberate and correct estimate, and we have no further reliable particulars. P. C.

P. S. Since the above was written authentic information has reached Fort Concho, that the U. S. Indian Agent on the Reservation, had notified those in authority at Fort Hill, as long ago as the 26th ult., that four hundred Comanches had left the Reservation to go into Texas, professedly to fight the Ton-ka-was. At what date they left the Reservation, we are not informed. But as the Ton-ka-was only number about 120 altogether, have always been friendly and are now enlisted in the service of the United States, the profession of fighting them is, of course, only a pretense to cover other designs. F. C.

If ANY ONE desires to ascertain the truth as to the public sentiment of this city, in regard to the donation to the Columbus road, he should take the trouble to step up to the sheriff's office and hear the remarks of those registering. Yesterday morning, among the two hundred who registered before 12 o'clock, were three representative types of the classes that comprise our responsible population. First came a man who by his promptness and energy has worked his way up to wealth and honor, and who deems the railroad, not only because it will enhance the value of his immense property, but also for the reason that he is proud of San Antonio. He was out-spoken in his opinion that it was a question of life and death to the city that the offer of Mr. Pierce be accepted, and as a business man he was astonished to learn that any sensible citizen could take part against it.

Almost the very next man to apply for registration was a hard-working German gardener of limited means, who expressed his views in broken English, but with a force and clearness that excited the admiration of the bystanders.

He was in favor of the donation, no matter how much it was, he knew something about the effect of railroads himself, in the old country; he was a "Schwab," and lived in an insignificant little village in Wirten-berg, and the railroad came along, and everything prospered, from that time on; the inhabitants found a market for some of their products in Austria, and they were able to sell their beef cattle (Schlachvieh) to great advantage in France, and his brother had come to America since he left and had told him that their little village was now a big city.

Shortly after he had gone on his way rejoicing at the prospect of the railroad, came three colored men, brothers, who were raised in "Norr Calina," and they too, wanted to see about that railroad, it was going to make flour and sugar cheap, &c.

The only man who expressed himself seriously opposed to the road, was a disreputable old red-headed customer, who believed himself about like this, "wall, yer see, I'm opposed to them things on principle, I've bin gittin' outer that way all my life, they driv me outer Massassip and if they come out here I'll git for the west, among the Comanches." "But there you will be among the things anyhow," interrupted some irreverent bystander, at which there was a general smile. The old fellow grew serious, and said with fearful emphasis: "I'll tell you what gentlemen, you may take my word for it, them railroads is the enemy of the poor man."

As the unhappy old man left, we wondered if that last argument was not borrowed, and how it was that anybody, who desired the welfare of our city, could oppose the only chance we are likely to have to emerge from the obscurity of the past.

The ex-Emperor of the French, now in exile in England, recently wrote the following note to a gentleman in New York:
"The Emperor Napoleon thanks Mr. — for the newspaper he sent him, and is deeply sensible of the sympathy which he has expressed for him; and, on his side, he cherishes the most sincere wishes for America, which affords to the world the grand spectacle of a country truly free and knowing how to govern itself.—Chil-shurst, 4th July."

A MAN that we can put up with—a good hotel-keeper.

PSALMS AND ALMS.—The Rev. Dr. Hall tells the story of a Scotchman who sang most gloriously the hymn:

Were the whole realm of nature mine, That were a tribute far too small—and all through the singing was tumbling in his pockets to make sure of the smallest piece of silver for the contribution box.

It takes the West to get up sensations.
It now reports, through an Omaha journal the discovery of a mine of scented soap in Nevada, a lemon-ice cave in Utah, and three soda-water lakes in Wyoming Territory. Emigration is reported on the increase to these places.

A Pitiful Condition

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of a specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure to their robust and energetic fellow-beings.

In nine cases out of ten this state of languor and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression?
The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever, (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer in this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.
Do not waste time in administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by reenergizing the fountain-head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve, and brain flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery salubrium with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

FARMERS are anxiously looking for another rain.

ICE is cheaper in San Antonio, than it is in Galveston or Indiana.

ONE HUNDRED fine Springfield rifles arrived here yesterday for the State Guard.

A STORM half way threatened us with a deluge Tuesday night, but broke up into extra heat yesterday morning.

PEARS are ripe and making their appearance on our streets for sale. Texas raised at that.

A PERAMBULATING corn doctor is going the rounds relieving suffering humanity from the "tall aches" their callousness superinduces.

THE DISTRICT COURT is dragging its slow length along, disposing of an accumulation of probate matters. The effects of the weather are plainly visible upon the attendants of it.

THE GRAND JURY are holding sessions in the Casano building, southwest corner of Main plaza. It is an improvement upon the old den back of the Sheriff's office.

JUDGE SIEMERING is out in a strong article in the Free Press in favor of the Columbus railroad.

EVERYBODY is complaining of the warm weather, as being a little premature and more applicable to July or August. It is looked on by many as a forerunner of sickness.

WE notice the deputy sheriff capturing reluctant jurors for service during the coming week. We tender them our warmest sympathies, as we do the judge, sheriff, clerk and presiding witnesses.

How can a jury render a cool, impartial verdict under such circumstances?

TO DAY is the third day of registration. The average thus far has been over one hundred per day. We think the strength of the county on the present question will reach about eighteen hundred votes.

EVERY square of two of our travelled streets has its vendor of watermelons. They are piled up against fences and along curbstones and are eloquent in their preaching of how the cholera can be introduced.

A GENTLEMAN who ate his dinner yesterday five ears of green corn, three cucumbers, a half head of boiled cabbage, beef about a pound and wound up with apple dumplings, ice cream and a watermelon, says he don't believe there is any cholera in town. Since his escape with impunity from an attack, we don't believe there is.

THE OPPOSITION to the Columbus route subsides are spreading themselves to register men who will either vote against the proposition, or else having their names on the registration lists will stay away from the polls. In either case it requires two votes on the other side to counteract the effects.

THERE are two important topics of conversation on hand just now, one is the Railroad interest, the other is the decided action taken by General Sherman against the Indian murderers and robbers. Both are interesting.

PUT A PEG IN HERE.—We have heard it said often that Texas cannot grow apples. We found tangible proof to the contrary yesterday in two beauties presented us by Dr. Sleum who feels justly proud of the success of his fruit growings. We found them of pleasant flavor and remembered our friend the Doctor, for his kind present.

WE HEAR it rumored that other railroad companies intend making definite propositions as to what they will do in case of aid to an equal amount to that of the Columbus road being offered. There action will be useless for the law provides a pro rata on the property value of counties, which forbids Bexar giving or lending more than five hundred dollars.

Two thirds of the registered voters is what the proposition for donation to the Columbus road requires. The two thirds will never be secured unless there is shown a little more enthusiasm and activity among the inceptors of the aid movement.

IF you don't want to disgust everybody with your offensive breath cure your Catarrh. $500 reward is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy for a case he cannot cure. It is sold by druggists. Can get it for sixty cents by mail from Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Pamphlet free. (15-3L.)

In accordance with a request of twelve members, a special meeting of the Alamo Literary Society, at their hall, is hereby called for, on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, for the transaction of any business which may be brought before the society.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS.—That poor, emaciated Consumptive, who is now beyond all hope of recovery, might now be hale and hearty had he not neglected that slight Cough. Be advised, if you have a Cough or Cold, get at once a bottle of DR. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT and you will soon be relieved. do not put it off.

The Abbe Gaspard de Guerry, who was murdered by the Communists at the same time that the Archbishop of Paris was killed, was the curé of the famous Church of the Madeleine in Paris. He was born in Lyons, 1797, of Swiss parents. He was a writer of great repute on church matters, and was renowned throughout France for his oratory. In social life he was beloved, and was very popular. In 1868 he was selected as the religious instructor of the Prince Imperial—a fact which probably earned him the hatred of his murderers.

There will soon be no further need of any societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. The Chicago papers say, that in some of the new palace stock-car lines, a man goes along to take the dogs.

A western paper has of late been in the habit of boasting of its "enormous circulation," which is now corroborated by a contemporary, that says: "Yes, it has really doubled its circulation. Another man takes a copy now."

Consumption,
Its Cure and its Preventive,
By J. H. Schenck, M. D.
Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other remedy than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which had they calmly adopted Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.
Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.
In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is in failing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-evident, self-evidencing.
The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the combat of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption.
The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of colomet, but unlike colomet, they "Leave no Sting Behind."
The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,
A Supply of Good Blood.
The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flaccidity, no excoriation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.
Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It calls to and ripens the impeded and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gelatinous particles for expectoration, and let it be very about this time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throna that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the unclouded or womanhood that was.
Given up as Lost.
The second thing is, the patient must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter seasons, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much as they can as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—he determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.
In despite of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:
"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at a straw, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon stopped the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.
As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."
"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton I weighed only ninety-five pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."
Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and London. He is his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continues to see patients at their residence, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.
The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, assuring that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses—the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them; first create appetite. Of recurring health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, so it will come, but the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough subsides, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.
Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $1.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, $1.00 a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

Herrings' Election Notice.
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Bexar.

Be it remembered that at a regular session of the Hon. Police Court, held in and for the County of Bexar, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1871, the following proceedings were had, to wit:

The petition of more than fifty (50) freeholders of the County of Bexar, having been presented to the Police Court of said County, asking for an election to take the opinion of the electors of said County on the proposition that said County shall aid in the construction of extension of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway from the town of Columbus on Eagle Lake in Colorado County, to the city of San Antonio, in Bexar County, by making a donation to the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company of the sum of Five hundred thousand dollars in the bonds of said Bexar County, in the manner and upon the conditions set forth in said petition, and which conditions are hereinafter more fully set forth.

And the court having duly considered the said petition, and being satisfied of the right of the petitioners to ask for and have an order for such election, by virtue of the Act of the Legislature, entitled "An act to authorize counties, cities and towns to aid in the construction of Railroads and other works of Internal Improvements," approved April 12th, 1871.

It is therefore, hereby ordered by the Court that an election be held in accordance with said Act, at the Court-house of the County of Bexar, to commence on the 5th day of July, 1871, and continue for four consecutive days, to wit the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th days of July, 1871, to take the opinion of the electors of said County of Bexar, upon the proposition above mentioned, which is as follows, to wit:

That the County of Bexar shall aid in the construction or extension of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway from the town of Columbus on Eagle Lake in the County of Colorado, to the city of San Antonio, in the County of Bexar, by making a donation to the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company of the sum of five hundred thousand dollars in the bonds of said County of Bexar; each bond to be for the sum of one thousand dollars, payable thirty years after its delivery, and bearing interest at the rate of eight per centum per annum, payable annually upon interest coupons to be attached to each of said bonds; upon condition nevertheless, that the said Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company fully complete and equip their said Railway to the city of San Antonio within two years from the time when the qualified voters of said Bexar County shall have voted affirmatively on the said proposition; and that the bonds aforesaid shall be delivered to the said Railway Company when the said Railway shall be fully completed and equipped to the city of San Antonio and not before, and that the said bonds shall bear interest only from the date of their delivery. And further provided, that the said Railway Company shall execute and deliver to the said County of Bexar, within sixty days after said election, their bond in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful completion and equipment of said Railway within the time and to the place aforesaid.

The vote on the proposition aforesaid shall be by ballot "for the proposition" or "against the proposition," as prescribed by the act aforesaid.

It is further ordered that J. W. Van Slyck, C. Wurzbach and H. Pressall are hereby appointed managers in and for said election in accordance with said Act, and to make a return thereof to this Court, on Wednesday, the 12th day of July, 1871.

It is further ordered that this order shall be published for three weeks previous to said election, in the "San Antonio Express," a newspaper published in the City of San Antonio, in said County of Bexar, and it is also ordered that a special meeting of this Court be held on Monday, the 17th day of July, 1871, that being the first Monday after the return of said order, for the purpose of ascertaining and recording the result of the election herein and hereby ordered.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the original order, as entered upon the minutes of the Police Court of said County, at its May Term, A. D. 1871.

Witness, Mortimer Slocum, Clerk of the District Court of said County and District Court of said County of Bexar, this 2nd day of June, A. D. 1871.

M. SLOCUM,
Clerk Dist. Court, Bexar County.

SAVED IN HERRINGS' SAFES.

OFFICE OF ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY,
No. 52 Broadway,
New York, Dec. 31, 1870.

Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Our Agent at Richmond writes: "We got through the night drying and saving up the money from the late fire. The contents of the safe—$22,500 in bills, we recovered. It was a Herring's Safe, and a good one, certainly. Your truly, "I. C. BARCOCK, Treasurer."

Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Gents: The two safes of your manufacture, which we had in use on the morning of the 25th inst., at the disastrous fire which destroyed the Spotswood Hotel and adjoining block of buildings, have given full satisfaction, and served to prevent the destruction of some $20,000 in currency, besides the valuable papers and books enclosed therein. It was impossible for workmen to extract the safe until nearly 24 hours after the fire.

LETTER FROM J. M. SUBLITT & CO., Proprietors of the Spotswood.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 25th, 1870.

Messrs. Herring, Farrel & Sherman—Gents: On the morning of the 25th inst., we were fortunate enough to have one of your Herring's Patent Champion Safes, which fell into the cellar among a burning mass of ruins. After the fire, in our distress, we found the contents, consisting of valuable papers, money and sensitive ware, all in good order. Had it not been for your Herring's Safe we would have lost everything.

JURUBEBA.
WHAT IS IT?
It is a sure and perfect remedy for all diseases of the Liver and Spleen, Enlargement or obstruction of Intestines, Urinary, Uterine, or Abdominal Organs, Perverse or want of blood, Intermittent or Remittent Fevers, Inflammation of the Liver, Sluggish Circulation of the Blood, Abscesses, Tumors, Jaundice, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Ague and Fever, or their Concomitants.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American Plant, called JURUBÉBA.

Sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular supply of this wonderful Plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation for it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the official medicine now presented to the public.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a Blood Purifier in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic temperaments.
