OFFICIAL
LAWS OF THE
UNITED STATES, Passed at the Third Session of the Forty-First Congress.

[RESOLUTION—No. 54.]
A Resolution authorizing the Nomination and Appointment to the retired List of the Navy of certain Volunteer Officers on the active List of the Navy, who are disabled in Consequence of Wounds received during the late War.
Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States assembled in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby, authorized to nominate, and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint, upon the retired list of the navy, with the rank of lieutenant, Henry C.
Keene, now a volunteer lieutenant on the active list of the navy; and to so nominate and appoint upon the retired list of the navy, with the rank of master, Edward E. Headbury, now a mate on the active list of the navy.
Approved, March 3, 1871.

CHAP. CV.—An Act to provide for celebrating the one hundredth Anniversary of American Independence, by holding an International Exhibition of Arts, Manufactures, and Products of the Soil and Mine, in the City of Philadelphia, and State of Pennsylvania, in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six.
Whereas the Declaration of Independence of the United States of America was prepared, signed, and promulgated in the year seventeen hundred and seventy-six in the city of Philadelphia; and whereas it behooves the people of the United States to celebrate, by appropriate ceremonies, the centennial anniversary of this memorable and decisive event, which constituted the fourth day of July, anno Domini seventeen hundred and seventy-six, the birthday of the nation; and whereas it is deemed fitting that the completion of the first century of our national existence shall be commemorated by an exhibition of the natural resources of the country and their development, and of its progress in those arts which benefit mankind, in comparison with those of other nations; and whereas no place is so appropriate for such an exhibition as the city in which occurred the event it is designed to commemorate; and whereas, as the exhibition should be a national celebration, in which the people of the whole country should participate, it should have the sanction of the Congress of the United States; Therefore,
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That an exhibition of American and foreign arts, products, and manufactures shall be held, under the auspices of the government of the United States, in the city of Philadelphia, in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six.

Sec. 2. That a commission to consist of not more than one delegate from each State, and from each Territory of the United States, whose functions shall continue until the close of the exhibition, shall be constituted whose duty it shall be to prepare and superintend the execution of a plan for holding the exhibition, and, after conference with the authorities of the city of Philadelphia, to fix upon a suitable site within the corporate limits of the said city, where the exhibition shall be held.
Sec. 3. That said commissioners shall be appointed within one year from the passage of this act by the President of the United States, on the nomination of the governors of the United States and Territories respectively.
Sec. 4. That in the same manner there shall be appointed one commissioner from each State and Territory of the United States, who shall assume the place and perform the duties of such commissioner or commissioners as may be unable to attend the meetings of the commission.
Sec. 5. That the commission shall hold its meetings in the city of Philadelphia, and that a majority of its members shall have full power to make a needful rules for its government.

Sec. 6. That the commission shall report to Congress at the first session after its appointment a suitable date for opening and for closing the exhibition; a schedule of appropriate ceremonies for opening or dedicating the same; a plan or plans of the buildings; and complete plan for the reception and classification of articles intended for exhibition; the requisite custom-house regulations for the introduction into this country of the articles from foreign countries intended for exhibition; and such other matters as in their judgment may be important.
Sec. 7. That no compensation for services shall be paid to the commissioners or other officers provided by this act from the treasury of the United States shall not be liable for any expenses attending such exhibition, or by reason of the same.
Sec. 8. That whenever the President shall be informed by the governor of the State of Pennsylvania that provision has been made for the erection of suitable buildings for the purpose, and for the exclusive control by the commission herein provided for of the proposed exhibition; the President shall, through the Department of State, make proclamation of the same, setting forth the time at which the exhibition shall open and the place at which it will be held; and he shall communicate to the diplomatic representatives of all nations copies of the same, together with such regulations as may be adopted by the commission for publication in their respective countries.
Approved, March 3, 1871.

CHAP. CXLII.—An Act relating to Internal Taxes.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act no tax shall be imposed upon any undistributable sum added to the contingent fund of any fire, marine, inland, life, health, accident, or like insurance company, nor upon any unearned premium or premiums received for risks assumed by such companies, nor shall any tax be hereafter collected which may have been assessed, or which shall have become liable to be assessed, upon such sums, or premiums prior to the passage of this act.
Approved, March 3, 1871.

[RESOLUTION—No. 4.]
A Resolution to authorize the Restoration of Benjamin S. Richards to the active List of the Navy.
Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States be, and he is, authorized, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint Ensign Benjamin S. Richards a master on the active list of the navy, to date from the twenty-sixth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, with the pay of that grade from that date.
Approved, January 10, 1871.

CHAP. CXLIII.—An Act to provide for a Building suited to the Use of the Post-Office, the Pension and Revenue Offices, and the Judicial Officers of the United States, in the City of Trenton, New Jersey.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby authorized, by and with the advice
and consent of the Senate, to appoint Ensign Benjamin S. Richards a master on the active list of the navy, to date from the
twenty-sixth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, with the pay of that
grade from that date.
Approved, January 10, 1871.

CHAP. CXLIV.—An Act to provide for a Building suited to the Use of the Post-Office, the Pension and Revenue Offices,
and the Judicial Officers of the United States, in the City of Trenton, New Jersey.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby authorized, by and with the advice
and consent of the Senate, to appoint Ensign Benjamin S. Richards a master on the active list of the navy, to date from the
twenty-sixth day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, with the pay of that
grade from that date.
Approved, January 10, 1871.

CHAP. CXLV.—An Act granting the right of Way to the Green Bay and Lake Pepin Railway Company for its Road across the Onondaga Reservation, in the State of Wisconsin.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Green Bay and Lake Pepin Railway Company be, and is hereby, authorized to build and maintain its railway across the Onondaga reservation, in the State of Wisconsin, and to take sufficient land, not more than a strip one hundred feet in width, for the purposes of said railway, in accordance with and subject to the conditions of an agreement made by the chiefs and head-men of the Onondaga tribe of Indians, on the twenty-third day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy, approved by and on file with the Secretary of the Interior.
Approved, March 3, 1871.

CHAP. CXLVI.—An Act for the Recovery of Damages for the Loss of the Sleep-of-War Onondaga.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Navy be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed, after consultation with the Attorney-General, to take such measures, and institute and proceed to final judgment or decree such proceedings at law, or otherwise, as may be useful to obtain full damages and indem-nification for the destruction and loss of the sleep-of-war Onondaga, in the bay of Yokohama, Japan, in January, eighteen hundred and seventy, and to employ such legal counsel in the United States, or abroad, as he may find requisite to accomplish the purposes of this act.

Political Imbecility.

There are several proverbs conveying the idea that in the ordinary and extraordinary affairs of life success can only be attained by pursuing a straightforward, unequivocal course. Who has not heard it quoted in common parlance that "no man can serve two masters," or who has failed to observe the contempt which is universally awarded to men who have no politics, and are sneeringly referred to as being "so the fence" and have we not in our own day witnessed the ignominious defeat that politicians sustained who were neither cold nor warm, and whose trumpet, no matter how loudly blown, gave forth "an uncertain sound."

The contempt with which individuals of undefined political views are regarded, was amusingly shown up by the irresponsible Butler, who received, during the hottest days of the Ku-Klux persecutions in North Carolina, a letter from "a Union man" in that State, expressing surprise at Mr. Butler's statement that men were actually in danger in his locality, and cited his own safety as unanswerable evidence against the arguments of the Senator from Massachusetts. Benjamin replied to the writer by calling attention to the fact that in every community there could be found individuals of such dovetail temperaments that by common consent they were placed in the category of old women and children, and that under no circumstances could they be looked upon as sufficiently dangerous to incur the resentment of anyone; that he had no doubt that his correspondent belonged to that class, and that he would be perfectly safe and unmolested during any and all political disturbances; that they might be termed "the blessed innocents."

We need not go to North Carolina to find these two-legged human rabbits; we meet them every day on the streets, shake hands with them and pleasantly discuss the prospect of rain or some other topic of the day. They are most pleasant men to converse with for a little while, but they have no politics; they are non-committal on the question of the hour; they deprecate the bitterness of political parties, and administer rebukes to men who are fighting the great fight with a certain lamb-like resentment that is peculiarly dull.

Now, there is a certain element at the south that may, if it only will, be the salvation of the country. We refer to the ex-Confederate soldiers. They certainly cannot be suspected of pursuing an uncertain course. Their bravery and endurance on the battle-field commanded the admirations, not only of their enemies, but of the entire world, and it was by their manhood that the rebellion was prolonged, against all expectation for four long years, in spite of the incapacity and corruption of their imperators. Generally speaking they are men of families, and are attached to the soil on which they live; and we call upon them to consider well the consequences to themselves, to their children and to the country generally, before they again enlist under the banner of Jefferson Davis. This animated monument of ex-republican slavery requires that the ex-Confederate soldier shall become as contemptible as the ex-President himself. He requires the men, once reduced to poverty and ruin by following the counsels of this travelling mountebank, shall violate their oaths and array themselves in hostility to the government which they have voluntarily sworn to support, and that they shall degenerate into a kind of political bushwagener, actuated by no higher motive than blindly to oppose every measure that is conducive to the best interests of the people, without a country, without a flag, and without the sympathy of good men anywhere, and whose only hope of success rests in bringing about a repetition of the miseries from which we have just emerged. This is the feast to which Mr. Davis invites his former adherents.

On the other hand, the Republican party addresses these same men in tones of reconciliation and brotherly love: "Since you have been fairly beaten, accept the result in good faith and join us in advancing the honor and prosperity of the nation. The results of the overthrow of the Confederacy are:

1. The final defeat of the great question involved—the doctrine of States' rights.
2. The right of every American citizen to have a voice in the administration of public affairs.
3. The securing to all human beings in the United States of America the uninterrupted enjoyment of the natural rights of man.

This is the situation we are called upon to accept, not in word only but in act and deed, and to which we are prompted not only by motives of public policy and individual interest, but also in vindication of our self-respect as honorable men.

The Railroad.

We hear, on every hand, the assertion that the proposition of Mr. Pierce is extravagant and outrageous; that it is an attempt to take advantage of the necessities of our citizens. Now, let us suppose, for the sake of argument, that it is really the case; does this justify opposition to the donation? We think not. Our necessity as a community may be compared with that of an individual who sees an opportunity of making a speculation by which he can make 1,000 per cent, but has not the money to invest; he is obliged to borrow, and is glad to find a capitalist who will advance him the money at a higher rate of interest than is usually paid, and so far from abusing the lender as a Shylock or a speculator, he would be apt to consider it as a business transaction, and even be under obligation to him.

Now, the question before the people is, under the existing state of affairs, is this donation a profitable investment for Bexar county?

The answer is inevitable; the investment is not only exceedingly profitable, but delay in accepting the proposition will be fatal to our existence as a city. But we deny that the demand for the donation is iniquitous or extravagant. In the first place, business men engaged in transacting business do nothing for accommodation. Now, in order to build this road from Columbus to this place, including the items of station-houses, locomotives, cars, &c., it will cost not less than $3,000,000. It is true that this three millions will not be expended at once, but the company will be obliged to expend at least $2,000,000 before the road is completed. The expenditure of this $2,000,000 for the first two years, returns no interest whatever to the company. Now calculate the interest at 8 per cent, and we have a dead loss of $320,000, and to repay this we are called upon to donate not $600,000 in money but county bonds, which, if thrown upon the market, will not bring more than fifty cents on the dollar, and we do not begin to pay interest for three years yet.

The risk of the road not paying expenses is borne by the company, and this is not an inconsiderable as some expect; they expect to make money, but they may easily lose money by it. On the other hand, what do we risk in this matter? We can fold our arms while the road is being built, and when it is finished, we can examine and see if the road fulfills the requirements of the contract, and then pay $500,000 in our own paper, payable at some day in the future, when at least one-third of the present population have passed away.

Public Meeting.

In obedience to a call of the Republican Executive Committee of Comal county, Texas, a largely attended Republican mass meeting was held at the court house of New Braunfels on the 19th inst., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Republican Convention, to be held on the 14th day of August, at the city of New Braunfels.

On motion of several citizens Mr. Geo. Weber was elected President of the meeting, and Mr. G. E. Gross Secretary.

After having elected a committee, the same, after due deliberation, recommended the following resolution for adoption.

1. Resolved, that we approve and undorse the course taken by the Hon. Edward Degener, representative of the Fourth Congressional District of Texas in the last session of Congress.

2. Resolved, that the delegates and alternates, to be elected in the present meeting for Comal County, shall be and are hereby instructed to "use all their influence in favor of Mr. E. Degener, and to vote for his nomination, as long as he is a candidate before the Convention.

3. Resolved, that the newspapers of this District be requested to publish the above resolutions.

After these resolutions having been unanimously adopted, the following gentlemen were elected delegates and alternates for Comal County.

F. Monreu and W. Seale, delegates, and L. Kessler and Geo. Wober, alternates. Whereupon, on motion, the meeting adjourned sine die.

GEO. WEBER, Presiding officer.
G. E. GROSS, Secretary.

New Braunfels, June 19th 1871.

BOERNE, JUNE 18, 1871.

A meeting of the Republicans of Kendall county was held at the court-house, in the town of Boerne, on the eighteenth day of June, 1871.

Hon. Ad. Zoeller called the meeting to order, and stated the object thereof; whereupon Charles Cole was elected chairman, and Henry Thies secretary.

The chairman appointed Charles Braun, F. Wendler and C. H. Claus a committee to draft resolutions.

The following resolutions were offered by said committee, and unanimously adopted by the meeting:

It is resolved, By the Republicans of Kendall county, in mass-meeting assembled:

1. That we indorse the political principles of the Republican party of Texas, and hold it to be the party best adapted to maintain the supremacy of the laws of the land.

2. That in Governor E. J. Davis we recognize a presiding magistrate of firm integrity and pure patriotism, who has proved faithful to the high trust reposed in him by the people of Texas; and that we especially commend his untiring zeal in the enforcement of law and order, as well as his vigilance displayed in endeavoring to shield the people from impudent and hasty legislation.

3. That while we favor a judicious fostering of internal improvements, we view with alarm the exorbitant subsidies already granted to private parties for that purpose, as being excessive, and adding an enormous burden of taxation to that already imposed; that we call upon our Representatives to oppose all extravagant legislation of a like character that may be now pending, or that may hereafter arise, as tending to ruin the finances of the State.

4. That we heartily indorse the course of our Representative from Kendall, the Hon. A. Zoeller, and tender him our thanks for the faithful and honest discharge of his duties as a legislator, and particularly for his efforts in behalf of frontier protection, and an economical administration of the government.

5. That we appoint as a delegate to the Congressional Convention of the Fourth District Hon. A. Zoeller, and authorize him to give our vote for a candidate for Congress from the Fourth district.

6. That we recognize in the Hon. Edward Degener a faithful and able representative, and have full confidence in his ability, republicanism and good-will to successfully represent us in the United States Congress.

7. That these resolutions be published in the San Antonio Express and Free Press. Hereupon the meeting adjourned sine die.

YORKTOWN, June 20th, 1871.

At the Republican Convention of De Witt County, met at Yorktown on the 17th inst. and organized by electing Mr. F. B. Gohmert as President and Mr. Rudolph Klesberg as Secretary, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, that we, the Republicans of De Witt County in convention assembled, do heartily approve the administration of Governor E. J. Davis, and we do herewith express our thanks to him for his worthy administration and his true interests to the welfare of the people of Texas according to true republicanism.

Resolved, that this assembly name Messrs. F. B. Gohmert and Gustav Holtzapfel as delegates to the congressional Republican Convention for the Fourth District for the nomination of a candidate for Congress; and that we send our said delegates to said convention, where they may cast their votes for such a man as they may regard compatible for said office. In case that one of the delegates should become sick, they shall have the power to appoint substitutes according to their discretion.

Resolved, that we do hereby express our preference for the Hon. Edward Degener as our standard bearer in the coming congressional contest and therefore express our wish that he may be renominated for said position.

Resolved, that these resolutions be published in the State Journal, the San Antonio Express, Free Press, the Texas and in the Global Guard.

F. B. GOHMERT, President.
RUDOLPH KLESBERG, Secretary.

Consumption, Its Cure and its Preventive, By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friend are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which had they calmly adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of his wonderful and efficacious medicine, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing pre-emptive. To the faith of the world is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicine is as simple as it is un-failing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes sympathize with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the sustaining result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption, The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts--the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"Leave no Sting Behind." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Blood. The Sea-weed Tonic in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no excoriation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an intelligent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Tonic comes in to perform its function and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be obstructed. It collects and ripens the impure and diseased particles of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the mucus is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was.

Given up as Lost. The second thing to be done is to keep the patient in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients; if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits--he determined to get well. This last is a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility is the worst error, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's eternal statement to be Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching a straw, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I have offered to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and dyspnoea all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only thirty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discovered his professional visits to New York and London. He is at his home, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continues to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Friday from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them; First create appetite. Of retaining health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the fastening at once be of good food. Good food at once follows, the cough subsides, the slight sweat is abated, in a short time both of those morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in store of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Tonic, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Tonic and Sea-weed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and chemists.

Harrisburg Election Notice.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Bexar.

The 14th constitutional amendment as a regular session of the Hon. Police Court, held in and for the county of Bexar, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1871, the following proceedings were had, to-wit:

The petition of more than fifty (52) freeholders of the county of Bexar, having been presented to the Police Court of said county, asking for an election to take the opinion of the electors of said county on the proposition that said county shall aid in the construction of extension of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway from the town of Columbus on Eagle Lake, in Colorado county, to the city of San Antonio, in Bexar county, by making a donation to the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company of the sum of Five hundred thousand dollars in the bonds of said Bexar county, in the manner and upon the conditions set forth in said petition, and which conditions are herinafter more fully set forth.

And the court having duly considered the said petition, and being satisfied of the right of the petitioners to ask for and have an order for such election, by virtue of the act of the Legislature, entitled "An act to authorize counties, cities and towns to aid in the construction of Railroads and other works of Internal Improvements," approved April 19th, 1871.

It is therefore, hereby ordered by the Court that an election be held in accordance with said Act, at the Court-house of the county of Bexar, to commence on the fifth day of July, 1871, and continue for four consecutive days, to-wit: the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th days of July, 1871, to take the opinion of the electors of said county of Bexar, upon the proposition above mentioned, which is as follows, to-wit:

That the County of Bexar shall aid in the construction or extension of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway from the town of Columbus on Eagle Lake in the county of Colorado, to the city of San Antonio, in the county of Bexar, by making a donation to the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company of the sum of five hundred thousand dollars in the bonds of said county of Bexar; each bond to be for the sum of one thousand dollars, payable thirty years after its delivery, and bearing interest at the rate of eight per centum per annum, payable annually, upon interest coupons, to be attached to each of said bonds; upon condition nevertheless, that the said Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway Company fully complete and equip their said Railway to the city of San Antonio within two years from the time when the qualified voters of said Bexar county shall have voted affirmatively on the said proposition; and that the bonds aforesaid shall be delivered to the said Railway Company when the said Railway shall be fully completed and equipped to the city of San Antonio and not before, and that the said bonds shall bear interest only from the date of their delivery. And further provided, that the said Railway Company shall execute and deliver to the said county of Bexar, within sixty days after said election, their bond in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful completion and equipment of said Railway within the time and to the place aforesaid.

The vote on the proposition aforesaid shall be by ballot "for the proposition" or "against the proposition," as prescribed by the act aforesaid.

It is further ordered that J. W. Van Slyck, C. Worshack and H. Freeman are hereby appointed managers of said election, in accordance with said Act, and to make a return thereon to this Court, on Wednesday, the 12th day of July, 1871.

It is further ordered that this order shall be published for three weeks previous to said election, in the "San Antonio Express," a newspaper published in the city of San Antonio, in said county of Bexar; and it is also ordered that a special meeting of this Court be held on Monday, the 17th day of July, 1871, that being the first Monday after the return day of said election, for the purpose of ascertaining and recording the result of the election herein and hereby ordered.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the original order, as entered upon the minutes of the Police Court of Bexar county, at its May term, A. D. 1871.

Witness, Mortimer Bloom, Clerk of the District Court of said county and [L. S.] Seal of said Court, at office in San Antonio, this 3rd day of June, A. D. 1871.

Agents for the Clippen Mowers and Reapers.

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869-where "The Clippen" met some 400 competitors, including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premiums and Gold Medal-proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for The Clippen Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of all the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles.

In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers use clippers as the Horse's Friend, and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare. Send for pamphlet-investigate. See or write to some one who has used THE CLIPPEN. See the Machine yourself before you buy any other.
