In Philadelphia, a policeman shot a small boy for shooting his crakers on the Fourth.

The motto of Conservative Republicanism is, "Put none but enemies on guard."

A Liberal Republican resembles a moderately fresh egg or a moderately virtuous woman.

In Leavenworth, Kansas, a lawyer sued a woman for fifty dollars. He made hours' speech, but she pleaded her own cause, and said nothing but "I leave my case with confidence in the hands of such a good looking jury." Verdict for the defendant, by acclamation.

While Democratic cross-road grocery politicians are predicting the downfall of the United States Government, the English statesmen are congratulating themselves that they have settled the Alabama claims, and are thus freed from danger of a war with "the played out Republic."

GEN. BUTLER has come out in favor of the Commune. He says that it was nothing but an attempt to have a municipal government as we have in our large cities, and that they were endeavoring to establish the germ of a future republic.

This is all very fine, but when it is conclusively proved that the great rights of the Commune ordered the execution of innocent hostages, that they arranged and carried out the systematic burning of whole streets of houses belonging to non-combatants, taken in connection with the fact that many of the leaders, when caught, had hundreds of thousands of stolen frames served up in their clothes, we must come to the conclusion that there was not sufficient integrity and regard for the law among the leaders to ensure success under any circumstances.

An article entitled "The Battle of Dog King" has recently appeared in a leading English magazine, that, from its biting but truthful satire on the inefficiency and unpopularity of the English Government, and the possible complications in the immediate future between England and Germany, growing out of the ownership of the island of Heloland, has just created a tremendous sensation in England.

The story is supposed to have been told in the year 1866, by an old man whose grandchildren are going to leave the desolated island.

The old man is supposed a surviving soldier of the invasion of the island by the Germans in 1870, and the narrator explains with great minuteness how the Germans, by some newly invented, torpedo, annihilated the British fleet, imposed heavy levies upon the conquered nation, and the consequent downfall of the British empire.

The narrator goes on to relate how the navy and army were scattered, putting down one rebellion in India, and another in Persia, and being obliged to keep a large force on the Canadian frontier to prevent Fenians from making a raid into Canada.

The extraordinary military development of Germany has awakened the English from their dream of faded security, and the necessity of investigating their resources in the event of a war with that empire, has become evident to all classes.

The unsatisfactory condition of affairs in Ireland, and the balance of the anti-tory or republican element, has become too formidable to be sneered at, while the well-known abhorrence of Englishmen to all compulsory military service has prevented the government from enforcing any system by which an effective army could be organized.

This exaggerated burlesque on the condition of affairs in England contains many grains of sense among so much chaff, and it has accomplished what long years of parliamentary debate has failed to effect. The people of all classes have been stung to the quick, and there is a general reform being inaugurated in matters civil and military.

The liberal-radical influence is becoming more formidable every day, and is increasing and defiant. The condition of Ireland is still unsatisfactory, while her foothold in India is by no means secure. The other European nations, moreover, understand this fully, and the half-contemptuous manner that has characterized the diplomatic transactions with her, show that they do not think it worth while to conceal their knowledge of her comparatively helpless condition.

But with all the advantages Germany might have from her superior army, and the genius of her generals, it would be a different affair from the late war with France.

John Bull has as much of the bill-dog in him as he ever had, and the people have two grand characteristics, reverence for the law and a high sense of personal honor and integrity.

Let us hope, however, that the unutterable ravages of war may cease, and that we may look forward to an era of peace and quiet in Europe.

Four delegates from the different precincts of Bexar met in county convention on the 15th inst., at the Firemen's Hall, in the city of San Antonio.

Precinct No. 5—Not represented.

On motion of John Montgomery, the roll of delegates was called, and all others present requested to retire.

M. Slocum was called to the chair, and H. Kloocke was called upon to act as secretary.

A motion was then made, seconded and carried unanimously, that the chairman appoint a committee of five to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, and that the presiding officer act as a member of the committee.

The following additional members were then appointed: Th. Hertzberg, J. W. Locke, Fayette Walker and E. Peutenrieder.

The following resolutions, drawn up by the committee, were then adopted by acclamation:

Resolved, That believing as we do, that the success of the Republican party in this State is essential to a wise, impartial and thorough administration of just laws, and that success can only be gained by harmonious councils and united action, which can be attained in no other way than by each and every Republican giving close and earnest attention to primary meetings for the election of delegates to conventions for the nomination of candidates, the Republicans of Bexar county have just cause to congratulate themselves upon the unprecedented large and harmonious mass meetings which related us to perform the duties of this convention.

Resolved, That we hold it to be the duty of all true Republicans to further the advancement of Republican principles, rather than the promotion of the interests of individual men.

Resolved, That while we will give our earnest and hearty support to whoever shall be regularly and fairly nominated as the candidate in this district for the next Congress, we will not support, and our delegates are instructed to refuse their support to, any candidate who has not previously and unequivocally announced that he will abide by the decision of the convention, and give his aid to the election of its nominees.

Resolved, That we recognize in Hon. E. Degeuer a sterling and honest Republican and patriot, the most likely to properly represent the will, wants and principles of the Republican party in this Congressional district, and that we, therefore, while leaving our delegates free to cast the exigencies of the occasion may require, designate him as our first choice.

Resolved, That we endorse the principal administrative measures of Gov. E. J. Davis, and that, in particular, by his efforts to preserve peace and good order throughout the State, to protect the lives and property of citizens of every class and color, to punish those guilty of crimes, whether high or low, and by his unceasing efforts to stem the tide of legialve corruption, and to prevent the passage of government from falling into the hands of corrupt and grinding monopolists; and by his efforts to protect the frontier from the ceaseless incursions of marauders and rapacious savages, he has merited, and retains the thanks of all good citizens; and we hereby express our confidence in his high personal character, and his continued upright administration of State affairs.

Resolved, That the national administration of President Grant, and its economical management of the national debt, accompanied by a rapid reduction in taxation, by its wise conduct of foreign affairs, especially in adjusting our difficulties with Great Britain, by its judicious efforts to reform the civil service of the country, and by its persistent efforts to secure the rights of every American citizen, without regard to creed, caste or color, deserves the commendation and support of all good citizens and honest men.

Resolved, That the present Legislature has passed as many laws as could be reasonably expected of that body; and it is the desire of the Republicans of Bexar county, that, when the Legislature meets in September next, it shall pass without delay a bill authorizing a general State election the coming autumn, and that it do then adjourn, sine die.

Resolved, That in case a vacancy should occur in our delegation to the District Convention, the delegates there present be and are hereby authorized and instructed to cast the vote of the whole delegation.

The following gentlemen were then chosen delegates and alternates, by unanimous vote, to represent the county of Bexar, in accordance with the foregoing resolutions:

Delegates. Alternates.
F. Herd. A. Siemering.
J. W. Van Slyke. W. W. Gamble.
Leopold Ivovsky. P. F. Bisenbach.
Fayette Walker. John Montgomery.

The convention then adjourned, sine die.
H. KLOCKE, Secretary.

EAZER PASS, July 14, 1871.

"Indians or Mexicans"—Failure of the mission to Santa Rosa—Kickapoo went to—Political, Mexican news, &c., &c.

Your editorial of 8th of July, opens up a serious question to the people of this section, whether the savage, "whose untutored mind, &c.," and from whom we expect nothing less than the carrying out his wild, unwise instincts and traditions, upon horses and cattle, men, women and children, is the cause of so much anxiety and peril to our settlers, or whether, after all, the renegade Mexicans, a degree or two above the pagan savages, are not trading upon Mr. Lo's capital; and reaping where they have not sown; or, whether both are concerned in the brigandage. There are various opinions on the subject. There is no disguising the fact, that no man, or body of men, citizen or soldier, but has a wholesome fear of a sudden surprise from an unknown body of Indians; especially in the darkness of night, and when off one's guard. Why? because the Indian is never off his guard, and makes his attack as the serpent, when the victim is asleep. We all know, too, the tender mercies of an Indian are cruel, when bent on revenge, or after plunder. Now, how natural the Mexican should take advantage of these things, and sell, under false colors!

Time, and not far off, will determine this matter satisfactorily. "Give the devil his due," and, bad as the Indian is, he takes few risks such as the Mexicans have done in the case of the poor "Knight of the Shirts, whose case I mentioned lately.

Our mission to Santa Rosa with the peace commission from the Kickapoo reservation in Kansas, failed from no fault of the parties who were desirous of removing the Kickapoos in Mexico to the other half of the tribe, located on a reservation. The Indians, almost to a man, and all the squaws, were anxious to go. General Reynolds had assured the agents and two chiefs going to them, that everything needed for their comfort should be provided, to carry them and their children safely to their brethren across Texas. Everything was working well, till the Indian agent at Santa Rosa began to practice his treachery and gradually to buy up the Indians with presents, to remain. The very day we got there, he issued them a lot of cattle, leaving $5,000 in coin belonging to the Indians, but which he had held back to use in the forthcoming election. Col. Bliss, Mr. Schuchardt, our Com. Agt., and the Chaplain who had perilled their lives on this errand of mercy and peace, were compelled, after eleven days absence, to leave the commissioners to await a council, about thirty miles beyond Santa Rosa, before the result could be known.

Notwithstanding the government of Mexico had assured Secretary Fish, that nothing would be done either way, for, or against the project; the agent there, the alcalde, and every one doing business there, (by which I mean Americans and Germans) set themselves to work deliberately and systematically, to keep the Kickapoos there and prevent their going at all. Hardly did they disguise it, and their object, viz: to avail themselves of their presence to keep off the Comanches, Lipans and Apaches. But, if it is true that these Kickapoos are staying here on this side the Rio Grande and selling them over to Santa Rosa for a mere song, in language is too strong in characterizing such conduct as selfish, barbarous and inhuman.

It may be a question of future trouble with the authorities of Mexico, for such marked interference at this time, by one of its officials, and for harboring a hostile tribe who prey upon peaceable citizens here, to enrich a set of vagabonds in Mexico!

The chief "China," and another, agreed to pacify the squaws and others by sending ten of the tribe this fall to look at the land; but if the people at Santa Rosa continue to tell them all sorts of cock and bull stories about their being murdered here as soon as they come, by the military, they may or may not go.

Never comes to us that Congress has suspected the elections for a while in Mexico, on account of the outbreak in many places, about thirty families have come over here from Piedras Negras and other towns for personal safety. More anon.

The steamboat Andy Johnson was fixed into on the Mississippi by unknown persons from the shore and a man named White killed. This was probably done by some who didn't know that the war was over. Some people in Texas don't believe it yet, the tax collector to the contrary, not withstanding.

Our Skins are Seiven.

And although millions of orifices ooze the transparent fluid which nature does not need for vital purposes. This is a wise provision of Providence, but excessive perspiration is, nevertheless, extremely weakening. During the heats of summer all hard-working men perspire to an extent that is more or less debilitating. They, of all classes of the community, require a wholesome invigorant at this season; let them not seek it in the liquors of the barroom; they will find it there. A medicated stimulant, pure and undefiled, is what they need; and among this class of remedies, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands alone. No valid plea can be urged against its use; even by the genius of Temperance itself; for even the Maine law permits the sale of diffusive stimuli for medicinal purposes. As a general tonic and refreshing preparation, the Bitters has no equal anywhere. But this is only one of the merits of this famous invigorant—its regulating properties give it an immense superiority over all the tonics of the Pharmacopoeia. In cases of chronic constipation it is the most useful and certain of all aperients. It creates no violent commotion in the discharging organs, but gently relieving them of their obstructions, leaves them in a healthy, vigorous condition. It seems unnecessary to state, in view of the mass of testimony to its effects in dyspepsia, that it is a permanent cure for that terrible and the most general complaint.

The numerous "Bitters," under various names, which are sold by dealers endeavoring to substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, should be avoided; for their own sakes, by the sick and the public at large. Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only, and never sold in bulk.

CANDIDATES.

We are authorized to announce the Hon. EDWARD DEGENER, as a candidate for re-election to Congress from the 4th District of Texas, subject to the nomination of the Republican Nominating Convention of this District.

See advertisement of Dr. Bull's Dispensary, headed "Book for the millions" MARRIAGE GUIDE—in another column.

TRUTH—The powers of Mrs. Whiffle's Syrup for children are as positive as the sunlight from heaven, and gentle and soothing as an angel's whisper.

The Austin mail arrives every day, Monday excepted.

THE DUST, accumulated on peoples faces has dulled all the barbers razors in town, the barbers, however, are as sharp as ever, on made a cutting remark the other day when we said two bits was too much.

THE WEATHER has become so hot that dried peaches grow on the trees, and the country is full of parched corn, we have even a few baked apples, and at some of the restaurants they have fried chickens.

TWO new papers (not newspapers) started at Austin the "Statesman" and the "Reformer." The Statesman is no reformer and the Reformer is no statesman. Both grew out of strikes, in one case the editors struck and in the other he was stricken.

THE CITY council seem to have adopted the motto:

"Let dogs delight to bark and bite For tis their nature so."

A poor but respectable citizen had five teeth inserted by their gratis the other night, because he was out after dark.

Why is it that no grading is ever done to the streets on the northwest part of Alamo city. An illiterate but indignant resident on that way, complaining of the bad roads when it rains, says that after a wet spell he can't have a passage to town unless he goes around by the Alamo. We asked how so but he said it was none of our business.

A CAUTION, but dull acquaintance thinks that we are afflicted with a reckless propensity to lampoon, that we spoil tolerable good editorials by affixing some proverb or ridiculous anecdote.

There may be some truth in this, and we are sorry for our failings, but the difficulty is we cannot help it, therefore it frequently happens that like Sanchos, we "drag a proverb in backwards by the tail," but as our candid (not caudal) friend does not take the paper, we simply requested him to close the door from the outside.

On assuming the editorial tripod, (how grand that sounds) we read over the fable (at it again you see gentle subscriber) of the old man and his son, who tried to sell the donkey, and followed the advice of all their friends, but who pleased nobody and lost the ass besides (nothing personal to our candid friend) and we therefore propose "to paddle our own canoe." Verily friend Sanchos, thy proverbs will be the death of thee.

District Court Proceedings.—On Saturday John Young colored was tried for stealing a horse from Jacob Talley, colored, found guilty 1 year imprisonment. Jury recommend him to the executive clemency.

Mansel Guerrero, who has plead guilty once, has been tried once before but the jury failing to agree, had another chance given him. He was charged with exhibiting a monte bank. This last time he was acquitted.

The case of Dr. Lindsay came up yesterday for trial, but for some reason unknown to us, has been postponed till Wednesday. This case will excite considerably interest, particularly as the prisoner will be ably defended.

THE TELEGRAPHIC dispatches are too muddled for us to be able to give any reliable account of the causes and consequences of the New York riot.

We shall not understand the matter fully until the arrival of the N. Y. papers. The killed are estimated from 40 to 150 and seem to be confined principally to the ranks of the rioters.

The telegram that says 7000 were lying dead for the purpose of curiosity, is only a repetition of the vagaries that have been transmitted from time to time.

It possibly meant that 7000 persons were around the corpses for the purpose of identifying them. The whole affair is disgraceful enough as it is, be the circumstances what they may.

Consumption,

Its Cure and Its Preventive,

By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is un-failing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the vitalizing agent, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption. The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podopkillum Pellatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"Leave no Sting Behind." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsibly, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Blood.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Cystification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbaton of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was.

Given up as Lost. The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well. It is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented. A cure cannot be effected, fresh air and riding out, especially in the season of the country in the fall and winter, are all wrong. Physicians who comment that some lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house, they must not sit down quiet, they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words: Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and as one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a growing man, I began to eat, I heard of and obtained the preparation which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton, my weight was only thirty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and London. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses. The three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First create appetite. Of remaining health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, so it will come, let the dozing patient at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough lessens, the expectoration is abated, in a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in stock of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of Seaweed Tonic and Seaweed Pills, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

 have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for "The Clipper" Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor off the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true scissor draft in ac-

 In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers
