Trial of Dr. Lindsey for the Murder of H. Smith.

As we mentioned in our last issue, Dr. Geo. S. Lindsey, a native of Virginia, was convicted of murder in the first degree, and the punishment assessed at imprisonment for life in the penitentiary.

The murdered man was named Herrick Smith, and was a native of one of the Western States. The murderer and his victim were friends, travelling together, and were boarding at the same hotel, and living in the same room, at the Ward House. In the afternoon of the 16th day of June Mr. Conner, Mr. Fink, Mr. Smith and Dr. Lindsey were in the room of the latter two, and were discussing railroad matters, when Lindsey, who was under the influence of liquor, flatly contradicted Fink and Smith, and it seems that his manner, and the general drift of the discussion took such a disagreeable turn that Messrs. Fink and Conner left, Conner taking his pistol with him, remarking that it was loaded, and might fall and go off.

Shortly after, Schulte, who was in the stable, hearing the cry of "Help me! Help me!" and a man by the name of Saunders went in and found Smith, who was a man of powerful physique, holding Lindsey down on a bed. Lindsey is a tall, but slightly built man, and much inferior in strength to the deceased. Lindsey had a six-shooter in his hand. Schulte and Saunders took the pistol from Lindsey. Smith said to Lindsey, "Now be quiet, Doc, I shan't hurt you."

Lindsey answered, "I am going to kill you, or I'll shoot you, you damned thief."

Smith then let Lindsey up. Schulte went out with the pistol and met Ward, who asked, "What's up?" Schulte answered, "The doctor and Smith are quarreling." Ward went to the room door, saying,

"Gentlemen, have no quarreling here; the police will arrest you."

Smith said to Lindsey, "You are from Virginia, are you?"

Lindsey said, "I am," stepped to the bell and took up the pistol.

Ward, evidently foreseeing the intention of the doctor, exclaimed "For God's sake stop, don't shoot." Lindsey aimed and fired. Schulte and Ward saw the aiming and firing.

Smith rushed upon Lindsey and seized the pistol by the muzzle, but gradually sank down, grasping it in his hands the hand of his murderer.

The sheriff rushed in, asking "Who shot?" Lindsey said, "I did." He was arrested and taken to the jail.

The prisoner was ably defended by Messrs. Teek, Walker, Houston and Cooke.

We forgot to state that the deceased was shot in the abdomen, the ball evidently striking the large artery, and causing death from hemorrhage.

These are substantially the facts as developed by the trial. The jury satiated about one o'clock, and brought in a verdict, as we have already stated, about nine o'clock on the following morning, 18th inst.

The moral to be learned from this horrible tragedy is the unscrupulous use, "before and after," of whisky.

The Battle of the Negroes in the South.

We have often heard of old soldiers fighting their battles over again, but it was generally done in a pacific and domestic manner, surrounded by the smiling, rising generation, at home and abroad, but there is one battle that has been fought over, actually and literally, on every return of its anniversary, and the number that have died still is commensurate to annual return has largely exceeded that of the original fight.

The battle should have been fought for the slaughter in New York on the 15th inst., the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne, which was fought 160 years ago between the forces of William, Prince of Orange on the Protestant side, and James II. of England, his father-in-law, on the Catholic side, at a small river in Ireland.

When James and his followers very kindly defeated, and it has been the custom of a secret society of Irish protestants, called Orangemen, to hold processions and banners bearing inscriptions, and singing songs calculated to keep up the old feud; and in this they have succeeded to perfection.

As we said, no one is surprised at this last battle of the Boyne, because for weeks the northern papers have been filled with predictions of expected rioting and accounts of secret meetings of opponents to the anticipated procession.

Archbishop Mcloskey issued a pastoral letter forbidding any opposition or counter-demonstration, and on the day previous to the riot the congregations of the different Catholic churches were admonished not to interfere, but notwithstanding there was a large military force guarding the line of the procession of Orangemen (which numbered about two hundred), three determined attacks were made by the mob, and were hurled back by the New York State militia with ball and bayonet, and it is estimated that not less than 150 persons have paid the penalty of their rashness by death or wounds.

Now who are these men who are alike oblivious to counsels of moderation and the spirit of republican institutions? They are not fired by zeal for a religious cause, for they spurned the advice of the priests, whose voices they make a pretext for their crime. They are not animated by a spirit of the fire of republican liberty, that is, tolerant to all men of all races and creeds. These men are nothing more or less than the Northern Democratic Ku-Klux. They are the same men who burned the colored orphan asylum, and hung colored men in New York in 1863, and who expect, through Governor Hoffman and the Tammany ring, to control the Democracy, and ultimately the entire country. This is the first serious outbreak of the Democratic Commune.

Gov. Hoffman pretended to know nothing of the expected riot until a few days before it occurred, and it was only when he saw the storm that the order of his tool, Superintendent Kelso, forbidding it, had aroused, that he threw himself on the opposite side. It is too pitiful a spectacle to be contemplated with complacency. But as an American citizen and editor of a Republican paper, we contend that all men shall enjoy religious liberty. The state has nothing to do with a man's faith, be it good or bad, but the state insists that no man shall be persecuted therefore. Let law and order prevail, with the barons if it cannot prevail without it.

The colored American is a perverse creature. It was predicted that he was incapable of learning anything, but the children do learn to read and write tolerably well; then it was advanced by the Democratic press that he would not work at all, but would murder and plunder the whites and this prediction fell through. The cry was then raised that the negro journeyman would never polish a negro, but the truth is they are more expert on their own color than the white people.

As a kind of last hope, the democracy proved by the two greatest liars in existence, (facts and figures) that the race was dwindling away, and that by the process of decrease and decline, the proud Ku-Klux would inherit the land, and the truth of the prediction was even vindicated by Republican papers, but here again the chasm of the descendants of Ham crept on.

It won't decrease, but has rather spread himself 2% per cent, over the census of 1860. It may be that figures lie again, but as the unreconstructed don't say so, we take it for granted they are correct, the figures we mean, not the unreconstructed.

None of us know what we can do until we try. Who would have thought that the ashamed democracy would swallow the nigger and then express his regret that he hadn't known how good it was before, how great must the pressure be that is crowding him. A Russian said once that the bees in Russia were as big as sheep "and how big are the bee hives?"

was the question "about the size of the bees was the answer," then how do the bees get in the hives was the next inquiry.

The Russian paused, thought a moment, and then made a sweeping gesture, and said "they must get in, if they don't we give them the knot."

The democratic meet got into the republican hive, necessity is a stern master, and like their master apostles crucified.

The departure will therefore be a perpetual success as long as it lasts.

CANDIDATES.

We are authorized to announce the Hon. EDWARD DEUTZNER, as a candidate for re-election to Congress from the 4th District of Texas, subject to the nomination of the Republican Nominating Convention of this District.

¹²* See advertisement of Dr. Bufta's Dispensary, headed "Book for the Millions," in another column.

TRUTH.—The powers of Mrs. Whitecowl's Syrup for children are as positive as the sunlight from heaven, and gentle and soothing as an angel's whisper.

G. A. R., Sedwick Post No. 4, G. A. R., will hold their regular meeting next Saturday evening. General attendance is desired, as business of importance will be transacted. (207-7143).

MR. ED. RISCH, nearly opposite Geo. Ederer, has just received a fresh supply of cigars. Give him a trial.

We are again under obligations to T. B. Peterson & Bros. of Philadelphia, for late publications. Another of Drama's thrilling novels lies before us; we mean it has been placed on the table before us. If the book in question does lie in any other sense of the word, it is done so artistically that it is a pleasure to try and find it out. The name of the book is "The Iron Mask." It can be had at Behrend's bookstore.

WE HEARD yesterday that the cows were giving boiled milk and the hens laying boiled eggs. If such is actually the case our recent experience give us reason to sympathize with the hens. We have cause to feel for anything that is boiled.

We were pleased to take the hand of an old acquaintance from Harrison county, we refer to Cap. Frank Haskins of the State Police. Cap. Haskins is a young man who has done much toward redeemed the section in which he lives from the rule of the long-haired chivalry that used to make it a by-word of rowdyism.

Cap. H. did some responsible shooting during the days of the seceded, but fails to perceive the decency or honor to be gained in still playing confederate soldier, after the form for which he enlisted has expired.

As he is Texas raised he can hardly be called a Yankee, but he is a radical nevertheless. The world moves and Karne country moves with it.

WE HAVE before us a circular letter of Daniel Elliott & Co., No. 19 Broadway, New York city, which has been forwarded us from Hill county.

The firm offer to send $200 in counterfeit money to any one who will send them $10 in genuine article, and a number of similar offers, setting forth the advantage of the proposed trade. They request a return of the letter, and that all communications be made by Express. We hope this gratuitous advertisement will therefore be satisfactory.

The circular states that consultations may be had at the private office of the concern No. 51 Courtland St., room 4, "where agents may be seen." There are more fools caught in this trap than many suppose. The firm never send any money counterfeit or otherwise to the green-horns who forward them the genuine currency, as the chances of going to Sing Sing Penitentiary would be very favorable, but in order to avoid being successfully prosecuted they require some trifles in a box or wad dust. The lithographed circular before us is emblazoned with masonic emblems and reads as pretty as a dime novel.

WE CALL the attention of parents to the card of Rev. J. F. Martin, who proposes establishing a school in our city.

Having had the pleasure of personal acquaintance with Mr. Martin, we unhesitatingly recommend him to those who wish their children to be instructed thoroughly and at the same time have the advantage of the attention of a gentleman of refinement and culture.

A BRUNSWICK FARM.—There is scarcely any disease in which purgative medicines are not more or less required, and such suffering might be prevented were they more generally used. No person can feel well while in the habit of body purging, besides it generates certain diseases which might have been avoided by a timely use of Cathartic Medicines. For this purpose, DR. TUTT'S VEGETABLE PILLS are confidently recommended; they are mild, safe, prompt and uniform in their action. They contain no mercury. Persons may eat and drink as usual, and they may be taken at any time.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvest generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a tonic stimulant and gentle laxative, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of un-^{rest}-opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitter may be classed as the standard one for every species of intermitting or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—and confidence is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the drug-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitter, see that the label, etc. are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

Genesis and Geology have kissed each other.

SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE.

A book of thrilling interest and greatest importance to every human being. The Fathers, Pulpits and People are all discussing the subject and book, every man, woman and child wants to read it. The long fierce war is ended, and honorable peace secured. Science is true,

and the Bible literal, physical and moral, both now and forever. Friends! God's word can be read in six actual days, not long periods. This book gives the very cream of science, making its thrilling realities, beauties, wonders and sparkling gems a hundred times more interesting than fiction. AGENTS WANTED. Experienced agents will do well to call on us for information and assistance. Address for circular.
