LONDON, July 31.—A meeting at Trafalgar Square to protest against proposed allowance to Prince Arthur, was held to-night, 2,000 people were present, speakers addressed the masses at different points, and much excitement was manifested, the entire police reserve was called out, and seized a Communist flag carried by one Chebs, amidst boisterous demonstrations.

Some fighting is reported, and arrests have been made; the meeting adjourned in disorder; the crowds were dispersed by the police.

Despatches from Dublin report great enthusiasm manifested over the expected visit of the Prince of Wales; the Prince is already en route, accompanied by Prince Arthur, Duke of Cambridge, Marquis of Lorairie, and a number of other members of nobility and officers.

Thirty of the New Castle strikers have gone to the United States.

In the House of Lords Earl Granville, in moving a favorable answer to the royal message in behalf of Prince Arthur, urged that the demand be merely fulfilled, and the contract be made at the beginning of the reign of the Queen. He spoke in warm eulogy of the Prince, whose visit to Canada had secured the affections of the Colonists.

The Duke of Richmond heartily seconded the motion, which was carried without revision.

The Duke then moved a vote of censure of the Queen's message as an unworthy ministerial resort. He denounced in strong language the speech made at Banquet at Mansion House, on Saturday, in relation to the treaty of Washington, and claimed that Royal prerogative was much strained in ratification of that instrument without the assent of Parliament.

Earl Granville spoke in defence of the message as responding simply to the previous action of the Commons.

Peter Alfred Taylor, member for Leicester, denounced the making of appropriations for Prince Arthur, who he said had better serve the country than be its pensioner.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The ferry-boat

The force of the explosion was upward blowing away the main deck, the cabin deck and hurricane deck in almost straight lines across, a little forward of centre of boat, but works forward, blown away, and metal shade around funnel lies crumpled like paper, on the bow the iron pipe, inch thick, joined to the steam supply chest, was torn as if by a cloth and hurled against the side of the boat; two water tanks were forced back ward towards the stern considerable distance; the after part of the cabin is comparatively uninjured.

The Council is composed of 25 Conservatives, 7 moderate Republicans, 27 Republicans and 10 Utras.

Thiers' reply to a delegation from the occupied Provinces, intimated that in six weeks the occupation by German troops would be limited to Champagne and Lorraine.

mons to-night passed a bill granting an Arthur, by a vote of 276 to 11.

Our Congressional Platform.

In a former article in the Express, the suggestion was made that the nominating convention at New Braunfels establish a platform upon which the Congressional candidates will be required to place themselves, and on the occasion referred to we gave some hints as to our ideas of the character of the platform. We make the following suggestions for the benefit of delegates that will be present at the Convention, should they see fit to profit by them:

1. Endorsement of the National Republican Platform.
 2. Endorsement of President Grant and his administration.
 3. Endorsement of Governor Davis and his administration.
 4. Endorsement of all those administrative measures that are calculated to protect life and property, and to promote education.
 5. Endorsement of the Governors veto in opposition to Railroad subsidies.
 6. Protection of the frontier at the expense of the United States Government.
 7. No session of the Legislature in September but State and municipal elections this fall.
- It is to be hoped that the Republicans of the Fourth District will give this matter serious attention and that the platform, as proposed, may be acceptable.

In the July number of a German illustrated magazine, Deutsches, there is an interesting article on the triumphal entry of the German army into Berlin on their return from France. We translate, for reasons that appear hereafter, a portion of the article in question:

"Not far from the Royal Palace the colossal statue of Germania looms up, who is represented as reaching her hands to Strasburg and Metz. The figure is well designed, life-like, and the grouping is admirable. Has all the sculpture that has been exhibited during this celebration is out done by the life size brass reliefs of Siemering, which adorn the round pedestal of the statue, and which unfurled would reach 60 feet.

The reliefs consist of 27 figures the size of life, not including animals and children, and the subject of the different groups is the effect of the appeal of the king to his people on the declaration of war by France.

"I have never seen the plastic art touch the hearts of the people with such mighty power as in this instance, and no wonder, for the liability of every man, without exception to military service, made these life-like groups recall to the mind of each his own individual experience in the war. In the middle of these groups stands a German herald blowing the war trumpet, and the warriors of the different German are clambering at his knees; the countenance of the father expressing his anguish at parting, combined with the angry eagerness for the fight, knowing that wife and children are best defended by his risking his life for them in the field.

The next group represents the student arising from his seat, in his old German student costume, and girding up his loins to take part in the contest, while the next figure represents a blacksmith at an anvil with his helmet on, and his friends seem to take it more seriously than he does. Then a Rhineland Uhlán is pressing his sweatshirt to his bosom, perhaps for the last time, and the grouping and execution surpass the most poetic conceptions of even Berthold Auerbach himself.

"But perhaps the next group is the most touching; a young lad departing for the war and his venerable pastor with outstretched hand is blessing him; the latter is the personification of apostolic purity and dignity.

"Then come a group of country peasants; the father says to the mother, 'be steadfast, woman; our boys are called to, and the king's messenger is actually giving the boy at the plow the order of the king; and the mother is strong the tenderness of a mother's love is perceptible in the eye and mouth, but she has seized her gown with iron fingers and that means she will control herself come what may.

"Two old veterans of 1813 are reading the proclamation of the king to my People and rejoicing at the revival of the days of their youth.

"In one place a Prussian Landwehrmann is taking a farewell kiss, and in another a boy is throwing up his hat for joy.

These are the Siemering reliefs, as they are described, and, if the general opinion of the spectators is correct, they will be regarded as the noblest works of art that have been called forth by the war.

The "Siemering" referred to is a cousin of Mr. A. Siemering of our city, and as has been seen is one of the great artists of Germany. He has his studio in Berlin and a large number of students, and among them our talented fellow citizen, Mr. Charles Ivenski, who assisted at the execution of the reliefs which have received such high commendation. If the expectations of his friends, and the opinion of those who are judges in these matters is to be believed, San Antonio will have the honor of numbering among her citizens an artist of great merit.

In connection with this subject we would remark that in the Illustrated London News of the 27th ult. a specimen of Mr. Siemering's talent can be seen in the shape of an illustration of bass relief of a mourning female figure, entitled Grief.

Our extreme radical views have at last so shocked the Herald that it makes the subject of some disjointed remarks, in which our German friends are warned to beware of the Express and Mr. Degener. Since we are to be subjected to criticism for the benefit of the Germans it would have been more appropriate to have waited until the 10th inst.

The remembrance of the particulars of the Nueces fight in which many of their sons and relatives were constitutionally butchered by the democratic supporters of the Herald on the 10th of Aug. 1862, is not well calculated to disgust the Germans with Republicanism. Will the Herald oblige us and the Germans by publishing its comments on that little affair? Mr. Degener's friends, in particular, will appreciate your kindness in so doing. As far as the Germans are concerned your appeals to them are vain.

They still have a vivid remembrance of the peculiarities of Democratic Constitutionality that were developed at the south, prior and during the rebellion and they know that to restore a Democratic State administration is to remove the restraint imposed by the Republican State Police and renew the fangs of old time trials for murder all over the State.

The Germans are not bar-room bullies like the "chive" that they should want a return to the "good old times" but like the great bulk of the Republican party they are working men who want to raise their families after the manner of intelligent people everywhere. Republican despotism means nothing more the virtual and effective enforcement of the law.

The failure of the United States Government to execute the leaders of the conspiracy was a blunder, but a very excusable one. It had too good an opinion of the southern Democracy. Had it been then understood in the North that it was possible that for six years after the war an organized system of assassination should prevail at the south and that in 1871 Jeff. Davis should make secession speeches, the editors of the murderers and many of his subscribers would have danced to a different tune on an instrument of one string, with the bridge down, long ago.

The next time the policy of the Government will be aided by the light of past experience.

We asserted that there is more intelligence and refinement in one New England town than there is in all Eastern Texas. This the Herald thinks is a gratuitous insult.

Now the State of Georgia has always been the Yankee State of the South, and is often known as the Empire State, so far was Georgia advanced in everything appertaining to civilization, yet the census shows that there are 9000 adult whites in Georgia that can neither read nor write.

Eastern Texas being settled principally from Arkansas and other adjacent States, is far behind Georgia in intelligence and refinement. Outside of the larger towns of Eastern Texas, the inhabitants are, as a general thing, not one whit above the lower class of Mexicans. We have in our minds eye, one delapidated town in that section where the hogs lived as much in the houses, as anywhere else, and from the similarity, it was hard to tell where the hogs left off and the inhabitants began.

There is in the section referred to, an ignorance and personal uncleanness, that has to be seen to be realized; there is little regard for the law, and such things as music, painting, sculpture, lectures, magazines, &c., are almost unknown. Then turn to the condition of the people in a New England town, where, by means of the common school system, a man that cannot read and write can hardly be found, and the contrast will be so great as to justify our remarks.

We say the taxes are unavoidably heavy. The "Herald" wants to know who imposed them, and suggests relief in the ascendancy of the Democracy. It was democratic ascendancy that brought on the war, and with it the taxes; they were quite light before that, and another rebellion will not decrease them. But it is worth something that there exists no necessity at present in Texas, for a man to load himself down with weapons to protect himself from assassination generally speaking.

It is worth something to Bexar county that fourteen criminals, among them four murderers, were sent to the Penitentiary at the last term of the District Court.

It is worth something that Texas has enjoyed a comparative immunity from the reign of terror that has paralyzed the people of other States, caused by the assassination of Union men by disguised Democrats—and finally, it is worth something that the Express can give the unseen, untraced some plain talk without having to be burned down.

The Herald is satisfied with our comments and will do so again, we will be glad to reciprocate. Do not forget that the 10th of August would be a good day to pat the Germans on the back again.

The Frontier Defense Question

At a meeting of the citizens of Kendall county, held at Boone on the 24th day of July, 1871, pursuant to a previous call, the Honorable J. N. Everett was elected chairman, and Henry Thies secretary.

The chairman briefly stated the object of the meeting to be for an expression of opinion on the recent Indian depredations, and to devise means for frontier protection.

On motion, the chairman appointed a committee to draft resolutions, consisting of C. Suettenfuss, Wm. V. Henderson, Wm. Kehluss, Henry C. King, C. Aisan, A. Roeller, and F. Hoffmann.

On motion, the meeting adjourned until Wednesday, the 26th inst., at 7 o'clock P. M.

Resolved, 1st, That we view with the deepest regret the apathy and indifference which has been exhibited by the powers that be towards our bleeding frontier.

Resolved, 2d, That in our opinion, allegiance and protection are correlative terms, and while we are disposed, cheerfully and with pride, to acknowledge the former, we at the same time feel that we are entitled to the latter.

Resolved, 3d, That it seems to us that a Government which demands allegiance and exacts taxes, and refuses protection, is unworthy the name of Government, and is recreant to the highest and holiest duties for which it was created.

Resolved, 4th, That in our judgment the time has arrived when the issue between civilization and barbarism on this continent shall be forever settled, and we call upon the Government to discard sentimental theories and meet the issue in the only successful and effectual manner, it can be met—by force and arms—until the authority of the Government is felt and acknowledged throughout the limits of our country.

Resolved, 5th, That we deem it due to ourselves and the interest of civilization, of which we are the pioneers, to protest against a policy on the part of our Government which virtually encourages the wholesale spoliation of our people, the daily massacre of our citizens, and the captivity of our women and children, to which death, by comparison, would be mercy.

Resolved, 6th, That we have witnessed with astonishment and indignation the immunities permitted by our Government to the Kickapoo, to make their murderous forays upon us and rifle with their booty and captives into Mexico, and we feel not only injured but degraded by being compelled to tamely submit to such injuries and outrages.

Resolved, 7th, That we hold our State Government as the general Government responsible for our unprotected position. Protection being the first duty of a State, other schemes and measures ought in our judgment to have been subordinated to this, and the first appropriations from the treasury should have been made for the purpose of securing peace and safety to the frontier.

Resolved, 8th, That this protest is conceived in a spirit more of sorrow than of anger; that we have waited in patience and suffering for years, expecting relief, until hope deferred hath made the heart sick, and confidence if fast giving place to despair.

Resolved, 9th, That, recognizing the doctrine that the safety of the people is the supreme law of the land, we recommend to our suffering citizens of the frontier, as the only apparent remedy left us, the organization of volunteer scouts for our own protection, and propose that each county, or neighborhood in each county, should form companies for this purpose, and that measures be devised for co-operation and concert of action.

Resolved, 10th, That a committee be appointed to ascertain how far the State authorities are willing to aid us by furnishing arms and ammunition for this purpose.

Resolved, 11th, That our Representatives in Congress, as well as in the State Legislature, are requested to do all in their power to secure as soon as possible an efficient protection of the frontier.

Resolved, 12th, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to his Excellency the Governor, to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the State Legislature, and also to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States Congress, and that they be published in the San Antonio and Austin papers.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted in addition to those reported by the committee.

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State of Texas be petitioned by the citizens of this suffering frontier, and our representatives, to aid and assist us by passing a law appropriating the entire State tax, minus school tax, collected in said frontier counties, for the support of such scouts raised for frontier protection.

The "HOWE"
Is the most durable, simplest, most complete in all its parts, uses the shortest and smallest needle, for the same sized thread, than any other Machine, which is far less liable to break; it is so perfect in all respects that with ordinary care, it will last a life time without repair.

THEREFORE SELECT
'Elias Howe's'

NEWLY IMPROVED

which for simplicity and superiority of mechanism, beauty and excellence of stitch, economy of thread, strength of seam and variety of work is unsurpassed by any other Machine.

It will sew, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perforate every species of sewing, plain and ornamental, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, called the "Howe" Lock Stitch, which is formed by two threads, one upon each side of the material, sewed and locked together in the center, forming an elastic seam, and presenting the same appearance on both sides. A stitch of this character comends itself as especially appropriate for sewing woven material, and if suitable thread be used the seam will prove as strong and elastic as the fabric itself.

A MEETING of the property owners west of the San Pedro creek will be held at the court house on Saturday evening, August 5th, 1871, at 8 o'clock. All parties interested are requested to attend.

THE nights are becoming quite chilly.

WE SHALL say nothing about the weather until the river rises.

A LITTLE CHILD of Mr. Dreiss' fell into the river near his drug store, but was fortunately rescued by a clerk of the establishment.

WE CALL attention to the resolutions of the meeting of the citizens of Boerne and the adjoining counties in reference to the late Indian depredations and to devise some means of protection.

There is no doubt but that the frontier must be protected and at the expense of the national Government. The Mexican Government is the party that should be held responsible for the greater part of these outrages.

It is a good thing for the people to speak out on this subject.

THE supply of water for that part of San Antonio, west of the San Pedro, is becoming a subject of great interest not only to those living and owning property over there, but also, to the city generally. Our Agricultural Industrial and Stock raising Association, or the Directors thereof, have been investigating the system of artesian well digging, with good prospects of reaching important practical results.

The Journal and Mr. Degener.

The "Journal" again bristles with interjections to Mr. Degener. This mode of procedure is unprecedented in American politics. As we have already stated, that in a conversation with Mr. Degener he proposed dealing with the people more directly in convention, than through the medium of the "Journal," and he has since that time given us no information of any change of mind, beyond referring to the platform that stands at the head of our columns; we have nothing further to say in regard to the matter, beyond remarking its extreme bad taste.

It is an error to suppose that the EXPRESS is Mr. Degener's organ. Our defender of that gentleman arose from the fact that he is the only Republican candidate whose past record has received the spontaneous approbation of the Republicans of the 4th District, and in defending him against the "Journal" we felt that we were acting in accordance with the wishes of the great majority of the Republican electors of this District.

We are inclined to believe that the "Journal" is laboring under the idea that Mr. Degener is very anxious to be the Congressional candidate. But this whole discussion is premature and dreary, and not being authorized by Mr. Degener to express any further opinion on the subject, we shall "keep our soul" in silence and patience until the convention acts, and we advise the "Journal" to do the same.

Biliousness and Indigestion.

These two complaints are more general at this season of the year than at almost any other. They are closely akin; for biliousness always involves an impaired digestion, and indigestion is necessarily an accompaniment of a disordered or torpid liver. Happy the man or woman who can boast of a stomach that has never felt the horrors of dyspepsia, and to whom that great secret agent, the liver, has never given pain or trouble. Not one in a thousand can lay claim to entire immunity from irregularity in these organs. How, then, shall they be regulated? Not by powerful cathartics, alternated with organic stimulants, but by a medicinal invigorant, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which combine in due proportion the tonic and the alterative principle. Wherever there is a church, a schoolhouse, and a general store, the famous medicine may be procured. No village merchant finds it prudent to be without it, for it is engaged for every day by every class. The workman buys it because it increases his capacity for toil, and is followed by no reaction. The effect of the salubrious roots, herbs, etc., of which it is composed, diffused through his system by the pure stimulant which forms the basis of the Bitters, is most healthful and invigorating. The scholar, the merchant, and, in fact, all men whose minds or bodies, or both, are in constant exercise, will derive benefit from its use. To persons of sedentary habits it supplies the vigorous measure, that activity in the circulation which is obtained by physical exertion, and is the best known remedy for constipation. Ask for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and do not be coaxed into purchasing any of the imitations and frauds sometimes offered in its stead.

A Norwegian girl who has for a long time past been living as a domestic in the family of a Sioux City clergyman, persists in declaring that the existence of her baby was merely a freak of nature—in other words, that it has no earthly father.

Consumption,

Its Cure and its Prevention, By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friend are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and applied themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is un-failing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the invalid is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Consumption.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they "Leave no Sting Behind." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It assumes from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Blood. The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is soon to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters as once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the melody is resounded, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was.

Given up as Lost. The second thing, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients; if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not stir down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words: "Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and as one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown to a robust vigor since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only sixty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them; First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough lessens, the night sweat is allayed. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a curer of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of Seaweed Tonic and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and Dealers. E. HART & CO., 75, 75 and 77 Tehuacan street, New Orleans. Wholesale Agents, 1-11-70dtf.)
