VANDERBILT.

Fancy a gentleman of six feet in his stockings, and neither stander nor heavy, yet seed as an Apollog and you have Yanderbilt, probably the most magnificent example of Americanism in manhood eyer quoted as its physical representative. There is the unfailing fur-bordered overcoat, too, which, with its ewings, has been subjected to the penalty of one of the worst bronzes ever perpetuated, just he-cause Albert Degroot has an indination to toadylem. One's first impression of Vanderbilt is that he is a man of steel, and there is a steely glint in his grayish blue syes that re-enforces the impression. His face is Grecian in its auttings, and as cold, impressive and fixed as a cameohaving no equal in this respect, with the possible exception of that of Horace B. Claffin; and sternness, even to the climux of the imperative, marks every word, and motion—crops out in the put down of the foot, as well as in the set expression of the rather thin lips. Talks very little; walks with a firm, elastic gat, cetting down his foot at every step as if he would say, "Stay there till I take you up again," Is addicted to which, and handles the cards almost with the skill of a professional.

silusion to the new King of the Turf, Longfellow, and his owner, John Harper, in an account of the races at Monmouth Aark:
Lengfellow is now ded upon the course,
in order that the people may look upon one of the grandest horses feeled in America.
Mis case victors in the Monmouth Cup, coupled with his imposing appearance, has made a here of him. What a negulificent looking horse he is. He stands seventeen hadds, and yet so perfect are his proportions, that the casual eye would not judge him to he as tall as he is. His lines are what even Hogarth would call beauty.
And how does his graceful, tapering neck harmonize with his hody if He head

wide nostrila, spenk of aristocratic lineage.
Though a magnificent looking horse, and homorad as some royal being, roongellow walks the earth menkly, almost humbly.
He seems to feel his power and to be consolues of his greatness therefore no needto be arrogant. Loss worthy horses may pulf themselves up with pride, for pride in a part of their reputation and stock in trade. But the king can well afford to walk meekly and to lowly hend his head.
The poet whe first made the name of Longfellow famous should come from life quiet

Yes, fair ledy, that is John Harper. He has lived a quiet life. Though age has and a comfort to lim, he clings to the sumy side of existence. He is too old to dance after limit will of the wise, Fashien, but n that love is faithful—it knows no change, at least this side of the grave. We reverently lift our hats to you, old man, and devonity wish that there were more like your in the world. Life's descent would then, alope softly away in green, substitute would light up the path trod by trembling feet, and death, would come in a sweet halo of brightness.

THE meaquit tree, so familiar to us all, in Western Texas, may prove a source of wealth. It is well known that the gumexuding, during the summer months from the trunk and branches, wherever an abraion or incision has been made, resembles, if it be not identical with, the gum arabic. It may be well worth while for some of our people to induce our Agricultural, Industrial and Stock-Raising Association to turn public attention to the mesquit tree, with the view of making this gum an article of expertation.

OUR DEVIL SMILES AGAIN,-Yesterday ance in our office. The devil, who has been in low spirits since the Journal got us down so, cheered up instantly. A change for the better came over his classic features, like taking a light into a dark room. He tried three bottles and said they "wirs firstrate;" but knowing that the devil is the father of lies we did not trust him and called for a glass and tried how it was our. about 2 o'cleck a number of bottles of Mr. called for a glass and tried how it was ourselves, and we have only to say that in the instance at least the devil told the truth. Therefore we give the devil his due and endorse him fully as to the qualifications of Persen's eider,

A GENTERMAN of this city has given us an item which goes to show the inefficiency of the postoffice department in general or the extraordinary admitness of some employee between here and New York.

Mr. Julius Berends, forwarded to a pub lishing house in New York the original, the duplicate, and the triplicate of a draft, in the vain attempt to make a remittance, the draft having failed to arrive in all three instances. Two other drafts o other business houses failed in the same manner And this has happened to him time and again. Comment is unnecessary.

MUNDER.-Night before last, (Sunday, August 6,) a Mexican by the name of Jesus Gonzales, was murdered at the Mission Espada, 10 miles below town. He was shot and his had mutilated with an axe. The murderer is supposed to be our Jose Maria Moncilla, and the cause—a weman. Sergeant Kranse of the State Police has gone to the place where the murder was commisted, and we will give fall particulars as soon as they can be as-certained. Justice Dwyer will hold the

Consumption,

Its Cure and its Preventive. By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of one. Thouseast and deat to family and friend are alceping the draminus slumber into which, had they calmly adopted.

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of his wonderful of-flicacious medicines, they would get have fallen.

fileacious medicines, they would get have fallen...

Dr. Schenek has in his own gase proved that wherever anticippe vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful viger.

In this statement there is nothing prosumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is oos a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the care by Dr. Schenek's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing: Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-sourcing.

The Seaweed Tonic end Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the medicity is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition, the bronchial tubes "gympathize" with the stomach They respons to the more the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its disresult, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of Communition.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podephillum Peltatum. They poseus all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calcinel, but unlike calomel, they

"Leave no Sting Behind?"

The work of ours is now beginning. The viciated and success deposits in the howels and su the kinesitary cannt are ejected. The liver like a slock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Mord. The Seawood Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, normantes and assimilates with the food, Chylification is now progressing wishout its previous tertures. Digestion becomes paicless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more distillence, no essecription of the steamen.

becomes pessives, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more distinct, no endownshiston of the atomoth. In appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgant father to suffering man. Schenek's Pulmenie syrap comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cuse. It enters at once upon its work. Nature compute be chasted. It collects and ripms the impaired and diseased pertions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings, is prepares them for expectoration, and le it in a very short three the malady is vanquished, the return three that it eccupied is removated and made new, and the patient, is all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth te embey the manhood ar womanhood that was.

Given up as Lost.

The second thing is, the patimats must stay is a warm room until they get well; it, is almost impossible to prevent laking cold what the lungs are diseased, built must be prevented or a cure tassed be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter ensean, are all stang. Physicians whe resonmend that course loss their patients, if their lungs are barby diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they mays not it down quiet; they must with about the rooms done their patients, if their lungs are barby diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they mays not into down quiet; they must with about the rooms done their patients, if their lungs are done their patients, if they must warm of the patient must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To daspair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and worst words. Many years ago I was in the last dependence of its possibility in the worst words in decidence of the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they make it only appetite become on the and of the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they make it with difficul cenid asser from esting too much, I seen gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a maje singuister; my weight mas only sinsty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health.

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visita to New York and Boston. He of his ann. Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients it their office, No. 18 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every fatured y from 3 a. m. to 2 c. m. Those who wish a thorough axamination with the Respirement declares the exact condition of the lings, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable of not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence awas of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Fills are to be taken in increased does; the three medicines neal "so other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them.
