As turn-about is fair, play we give the following to show how the London Society comes to the rescue of British honor with a political squib, in which it thus disposes of the battle of Dorking:
I served as gunner's mate
When I was twenty-eight;
That's fifty dominis ago,
And our ship, which was the Spunker,
Were a riding at her anchor;
One Sunday night in August, you must know.

I were chawin' of a quid,
Which I ordinary did,
O' Sundays, for I think it's sorter right
When out gunner—Ben's his name—
Did quite suddenly exclaim,
And his exclamation were, "Blow me tight!"

Says he, "My jolly mates,
This here Lord's paper makes
As we're goin' to fight them Gorman fur-riers!"
Whereupon we tars, in spite
Of its bein' Sunday night, Stood up and gave three hearty British cheers.

Well, we sailed away to meet
This famous German fleet, Conspirin' which there'd been no end of Law
For in six weeks they had planned;
And built, and launched, and maned,
The finest fleet a nation ever saw.

We had cruised about on Sunday,
But about six bells on Monday,
When as smooth as any mirror was the water,
Right out on the horizon
Ran a cloud as black as pizen:
"Twas the foe-steamers' down upon our quarter."

'Twas all as still as death,
There was not a single breath,
But our admiral wore a smile upon his cheek;
"The foe was on our larboard,
But right away our starboard
Was a weery little tiner narrow streak."

A chokin' werry shy,
And a winking of his eye,
Our admiral gave orders for to run;
And the enemy gave chase.
For the Germans, as a race,
Have a preference for fighting tail to one.

At seven we felt a whiff;
At eight it blowed right stiff,
As thick as it was blowin' half a gale;
But at ten the waves ran higher Than St. Paul's Cathedral's spire.
And my language to describe the same do fail.

We kept a leetle light
A burning all the night,
But on Tuesday, in the morning about three,
"Darn me if any smoke,
Is comin' from their chimney pots," says he.

Just then we heard a shout,
And our admiral sang out,
"Send the signal up to wear about, and close!"
Their fore and aft we ran;
To his post stood every man;
And louder than the storm our cheers arose.

We heard them, and took aim,
And the word to fire came,
And our volley down the line of battle roared;
But the German answered not—
Not a solitary shot—
But her ensign fluttered down by the board.

We was speechless pretty nigh,
As we couldn't make out for why
The sponge they should so quickly up and chuck it,
Till Blamarek we spied
Hangin' pallid o'er the side,
And Melike sitting down beside a bucket.

All their gunners, all their stokers,
Lay as flat as their own poker,
All a gasping from the bottom of their souls;
For all their precious crew,
Unaccustomed to the Blne,
Invalided when the ships began to roll.

And thus the battle ended,
And the broken peace was mended;
And William, when at last he ceased to be,
Called a sadder and a wiser.
A more circumspet old Kaiser,
And a member of the Peace Society.

Texas Items.
We learn that a man by the name of Jasper was frightfully cut at Pilot Grove, in Grayson county, by some parties whose names we have not learned. It was first thought that Jasper's wounds would prove fatal, but his recovery is probably. —Mc-Kinney Messenger, July 29.

Demp. W. Lovell, formerly of this city, was shot and seriously wounded by Wm.
Montgomery, at Lockhart, last Tuesday.
John Burleson and Lovell had a fight;
Montgomery was assisting the Deputy Sheriff in arresting Lovell, when the latter made a show of resistance and Montgomery shot him. —State Gazette, July 28.

We are pleased to learn that a postoffice has been re-established at Ledbetter, with Mr. Lelawits as postmaster. —Brunham Banner, Aug. 1.

Seven prisoners, of whom four are still at large, escaped from the jail at this place last Sunday. The names of those at large are Henry Bowie, Thomas Buie, James Clark and —Robertson. The first two had been tried and sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years each, at the present term of the Court. —McKinney Messenger.

We learn from our friends in the country that the corn crops are rather inferior, though a deficiency will be made to supply all demands. Prices will probably open at 75 cents per bushel. The cotton crop generally is very good. —Ibid.

TELEGRAPHIC

New York, Aug. 5.—Senator Abbott of North Carolina, telegraphs: "We have carried the State against the Conservatives by 10,000 or 15,000 majority."
London, Aug. 7.—The Dublin authorities forbid public meetings to demand the rescue of political prisoners.

Dublin, Aug. 7.—In spite of prohibition, friends of Parnell attempted to hold a meeting in Phoenix park.
Superintendent of police Howe, standing on Wellington monument, ordered the crowd to disperse. Howe was hurled from the monument and barbarously treated.
Half an hour later, when reinforced, the police dispersed the crowd, 100 injured lying at the hospital.

London, Aug. 7.—Prussian subject Karl von Roon, aged 67, died at two o'clock at Polly in department of Jura, a riot followed in which the German soldiers wounded 20 citizens and threatened to burn the place. Quiet restored, the authorities promising to arrest the offenders.

Vernailles, Aug. 7.—In Assembly today a bill to impose an income tax on natives and resident foreigners came up and gave rise to an animated debate; no action taken by the Assembly. Considered bill to indemnify citizens for loss of property during the German invasion.
New York, Aug. 7.—Mayor Hall died to-day.

New York, Aug. 7.—Wm. Carroll and John Harrington, boys who were arrested for attempting to throw a train from the Erie track on Friday, they escaped from the officers who are still pursuing them.
It is reported that Charles Francis Adams declined the position of arbitrator at Genoa under the treaty of Washington.

The Nautical Gazette says: "We shall probably ask the coroner to have brought before him the gentleman who refused to grant a certificate to the boiler of the Westfield. Not two years ago a gentleman called Jacob H. Funder, 146 Westfield, if he did not obtain a suitable commander, some terrible accident would happen on his boat."

San Francisco, Aug. 7.—Italian Democrats took place to-day, in honor of the occupation of Rome by Victor Emanuel.
No disturbances occurred, and no inscriptions used to wound Catholic feeling.
San Francisco, Aug. 7.—Abraham Ken-ning, an old porter of the annual, was murdered at Camp Wood by Apache Indians, whom he had fed for six months, because he refused to furnish them with ammunition.

How Not To Walk.
Careless persons are forever stubbing their toes.
Fool-loving persons have a kind of "zig" movement in their gait.
Unstable persons walk fast and slow by turns.
One-sided persons, and always very selfish, "toe in."

Cross persons are very apt to hit their knees together.
Good-natured persons snap their fingers and thumb every few steps.
Modest persons generally step "swifly"
for fear of being observed.

Our Congressional Platform.

In a former article in the Express, the suggestion was made that the nominating convention at New Braunfels, establish a platform upon which the Congressional candidates will be required to place themselves, and on the occasion referred to we gave some hints as to our ideas of the character of the platform. We make the following suggestions for the benefit of delegates that will be present at the Convention, should they see fit to profit by them:

1. Endorsement of the National Republican Platform.
2. Endorsement of President Grant and his administration.
3. Endorsement of Governor Davis and his administration.
4. Endorsement of all those administrative measures that are calculated to protect life and property, and to promote education.
5. Endorsement of the Governors veto in opposition to Railroad subsidies.
6. Protection of the frontier at the expense of the United States Government.
7. No action of the Legislature in September but State and municipal elections this fall.

It is to be hoped that the Republicans of the Fourth District will give this matter serious attention and that the platform, as proposed, may be acceptable.

The weekly Georgetown Watchman of the 5th instant has 19 different articles copied from the Journal. Numbers of these articles attack Mr. Degener and the Express. Will the Watchman have the fairness to publish a few of the articles from the Express that are written in answer to the effusions of the Journal? Perhaps some of the readers of the Watchman would like to hear the other side of the story.

As Mr. Newcomb is now a candidate we hope the State Journal will cease its tirade upon Mr. Degener and the Express, so that we may pay a little attention to the democratic opponent of Mr. Degener.

The New York riot, the exposure of the thieving rascality of the Tammany Ring and the departure are keeping the Democracy in a lively state of fermentation.

The Houston Telegraph informs us that August has rolled around down that way; as we had not observed anything of the kind here, we were surprised. The Telegraph inflicts Roman history on its readers, the heat to the contrary notwithstanding, and closes with giving the position of the planets; Venus is in the constellation of Leo and Jupiter in the Gemini. We asked the devil what he thought about it, but the wretch answered with a leer that he didn't care if Gemini were in Jupiter.

NACON, of Houston, is constantly getting drunk, and playing off some sly jokes at the expense of the Herald. His latest is a special telegram to the Herald, in which he turns a double amount at some meeting in Houston. He speaks of the great outpouring of whiskey probably, which accounts for the whole affair. He calls the San Antonio Democrat to wake up. If they do, they will want to go to sleep again; if there is any such thing as a future state of rewards and punishments.

We call attention to the words of the Hon. James F. Newcomb, addressed to the delegates of the New Braunfels Convention, by which it will be seen that Mr. Newcomb has become a candidate for nomination in this District.

As to the sufficiency of reasons for appearing at this 11th hour, we are satisfied that they speak for themselves. We have only to remark that the platform upon which Mr. Degener stands, (see Express, August 5th) is quite as explicit as that upon which Mr. Clark was nominated, and is quite as destitute of "ifs and ands" as can well be imagined in these republican times.

As the Express has solemnly deviated from its duty as a Republican Journal, we hold it unnecessary to say more than that in the future, as in the past, we will abide the decision of the Convention, and work with zeal for the party success.

The California vintage of 1871 promises to be the best yet known in the history of that State. The quality of the grapes, too, is unsurpassed. It is estimated that the product of wine in that State this year will not be less than 10,000,000 gallons.

The New School System.

The new school law will be in effect on the first day of September, and the question arises what will become of our city and village schools, and how will they be managed in accordance with the provisions of the law?

We wish it understood, however, that it is not our intention at this time to attempt the defense of all the provisions of the new school law.

We are sufficiently acquainted with the palpable defects of the system and when the proper time arrives we will unhesitatingly contend for the removal of them in the proper and legitimate manner.

For the present purposes the law, in fact, stands as it is and the object of the present article is to discover how to derive the most benefit from it as it now stands.

All beginnings are difficult and this certainly applies to the introduction and management of a system of Public schools for a State as large and of as scattered a population as Texas is possessed of.

A beginning must, however, be made sometime, and when we shall have things once in running order, it will be as it is in other States, raised to a high standard of completeness by the experience of those managing it, until, by degrees, it shall become a blessing for the entire population.

Local opposition to the most dangerous enemy the free school system will have to contend with, and it is not improbable that it may lead, if persisted, to the downfall of our local schools.

We are decidedly in favor of the State schools, and we believe the time is coming when there will be neither city nor German-English schools, but exclusively State free schools, which will supply the necessary instruction for all.

The private schools, under the new law, will be isolated institutions, destitute of all connection with the system, and their effectiveness will be reduced to a narrower compass. It is the object and duty of the State to establish, in addition to the primary schools, higher institutions of learning in which the course of instruction will be graduated from a lower to a higher class, according to a regularly organized system until a first class education shall be within reach of all.

The State is abundantly provided with means to carry out this plan, and it is the duty of the people to assist in the great undertaking. The object of this system is to promote the intellectual development of the young, and it is immaterial what buildings are devoted to this purpose. It may appear harsh to some that, for instance, the German-English school, that has cost so many sacrifices to establish, should be withdrawn from the control of those who now manage it, that it may be turned over to the State, but this is no hardship, when it is considered that the purpose for which it was originally established is better advanced thereby.

As this is a matter of vital importance to the welfare of the State and the general prosperity of the people, our citizens should take a deep interest in the matter. For this reason we will again refer to this interesting subject.

Clark, Gaines and the Germans

We called attention in the Express of the 8th to the African Bourgeois who had returned, after an eccentric flight into the Democratic camp, to the very parties that sent him "kiting."

Senator Gaines' speech, in which he demolished Clark and humbled the Germans, appeared to have a democratic inspiration, but his recent action before the Houston Convention leaves good reason to infer that we were mistaken in our conclusions.

Gaines, having successfully healed the wounds he inflicted on Clark by assisting to procure his nomination as a candidate for the 3d district, "rises to explain" to the Germans of Washington county.

As a curiosity of literature and remarkable sign of the times, we call the attention of the Germans, of the 4th district, to the following from the Journal:

A Card.

To the Germans of Washington County:

I am informed that you are going over to the Democratic party, so that you may help them to repeal the tax law; that you say you cannot stand the taxes you have to pay. Now let me ask you one thing: Can you not stand the taxes you have to pay as well as you stood the Democratic storm of 1861, when you had to leave your wives and children and go to the war, fighting your lives for the slaves when you agreed none? Now that peace has been restored, and you can stay at home, vote and hold office in peace, and pay your taxes as free men ought to do, are you ready to forsake the government to whom you are indebted for all these blessings, and turn it over to its and your own enemies? I hope you will remember how you stood in 1861. Do not let Giddings carry you astray from your Republican principles, thereby defeating this government.

I hope you will ever keep in mind the time when you had to run away in the woods as the negroes had to do, or you would have been hung to the tallest tree in the county. Remember the time when your enemies could march you to the field and take all your property for the use of the army, and if you said anything you were in danger of being hung or shot down for it like a dog—and you that such was the fate of a great many. And now, under the so-called negro government, you are at peace, you can stay at home, vote, hold office, be respected and enjoy all your rights as free men. Look out for your families and see what they are trying to do with you. If you are republicans, stand fast by your principles, no matter what I have said or done—I am but one man, and am liable to make mistakes as well as others. Do not depart from your first faith and order pay your taxes and be free; stay at home and be at peace. Let us hear from you through the papers.

Respectfully,

MATTHEW GAINES, Senator.

In humble obedience to the last request of our colored fellow citizen and Senator, we appear in behalf of the Germans, and ask a liberal favor that Senator Clark will read the article to Mr. Gaines with any comments he may think necessary to render intelligible.

To tell the truth, the condensed and abridged version of the Senator is too good for you and to enable us at this time to do the subject justice. It is simply overpowering.

We append the remarks of the Journal with a remark that we are glad that we were mistaken in the idea that the Senator had defected.

"As the spurious Democracy have washed their hands in showing across the alleged defect of Senator Matt Gaines from the Republican party, we publish for their benefit Matt's card to the Germans of Washington county on the subject of Taxes. The Democracy are welcome to all they can make out of Senator Gaines."

The details of the explosion of the steamboat Westfield, in New York harbor, are even more horrible than those related of the riot. As is usual, there is nobody to blame that the boiler exploded, but it will cause considerable investigation of the ferry boat boilers for a while at least. In this instance whole families of five and six persons perished, and the scenes at the dock, when the mutilated bodies of men, women and children were brought to the surface of the water, and then removed to the morgue, are described as fearful.

The following description of the catastrophe, by an eye witness, is from the New York Sun:

"The Hamilton, at the time of the explosion, was about five or six hundred yards from the Staten Island dock in which the Westfield was lying. The first thing that attracted my attention was an immense column of steam rushing into the air, in the midst of which I could plainly discover the forms, both of men and women, mingled with broken beams, pieces of broken iron, and other debris.

Almost at the same moment I heard a terrific report, as of a large cannon, and a very strong blast of the boiler of the Staten Island ferry boat Westfield had exploded. The scene was a terrible one. Two or three persons were hurled at least fifty feet into the air, and fell into the water with great force; but the larger number of those blown up were cast in a horizontal rather than a perpendicular direction.

For the space of a few moments there was silence, only broken by the screams of the passengers who were on that part of the Westfield which escaped injury. Then some of the heavy timbers of the ill-starred boat fell heavily into the water, quickly followed by the bodies of men, women and children, and in another moment the water was covered with human beings. Some of these could swim and were not much injured, but the vast majority were terribly injured, and there were many whose wounds were so dreadful as to incapacitate them from making any effort to save themselves.

Biliousness and Indigestion.

These two complaints are more general at this season of the year than at almost any other. They are closely akin; for biliousness always involves an impaired digestion, and indigestion is necessarily an accompaniment of a disordered torpid liver. Happy the man or woman who can boast of a stomach that has never felt the horrors of dyspepsia, and to whom that great restorative agent, the liver, has never given pain or trouble. Not one in a thousand can lay claim to entire immunity from irregularity in these organs. How, then, shall they be regulated? Not by powerful cathartics, alternated with ordinary stimulants, but by a medicinal invigorant, like Hostetter's Stomach-Bitters, which combine in due proportion the tonic and the alterative principle. Wherever there is a church, a schoolhouse, and a general store, the famous medicine may be procured. No village merchant finds it prudent to be without it, for it is required for every day by every class. The workman buys it because it increases his capacity for toil, and is followed by no reaction. The effect of the salubrious roots, herbs, etc., of which it is composed, diffused through his system by the pure stimulant which forms the basis of the Bitters, is most healthful and invigorating. The scholar, the merchant, and, in fact, all men whose minds or bodies, or both, are in constant exercise, will derive benefit from its use. To persons of sedentary habits it supplies, in some measure, that activity in the circulation which is obtained by physical exertion, and is the best known remedy for constipation.

Ask for Hostetter's Stomach-Bitters, and do not be coaxed into purchasing any of the imitations and frauds sometimes offered in its stead.

The New Beer Law.—The Connecticut Senate has passed a bill which renders null and void all business dealings for liquors—enables the purchaser of a glass of whisky to recover back the tax once he pays for it—declares null and void all sales, transfers, contracts, quit claims, mortgages, attachments and liens made in consideration (part or whole) of the sale of any spirituous liquor, makes null and void all leases of premises if liquor is sold on them; punishes by fine of $100 or a month in jail (or both) the sale of liquor to any minor under eighteen years of age; makes the person who sells responsible for all damages done by drunken men, and permits any taxpayers to sue such seller whenever the drinker abuses his family. Other stringent provisions follow.

One of the most amiable and gentle of men, who had hitherto borne the character of being the best of husbands, actually wasted the other evening to a friend who dropped in unexpectedly, that he had that moment beaten his wife hollow.—The unhappy lady was found close to a chess table.

"I knew what your head's pretty white hair's name is," said a little Greenfield boy to his mother Monday morning, "if's Danya." "Hush, Eddie, that's a naughty word." "Well, I don't care if it's that's his name; 'ere, last night, I was outside the fence when he slipped in front of the gate, and heard him say, 'Whoa, danya!'"

American readers are often amused with the names of Chinese. To them Li Fo Tai and Chy Lung look very funny. But perhaps it is only in the way we print them. Suppose some of our own were given thus: Ho Haco Greo, Loy, Schuy Ler Col Fax, Hi Ram Cook Ling.

CANDIDATES.

We are authorized to announce the Hon. EDWARD DEGENER, as a candidate for election to Congress from the 4th District of Texas, subject to the nomination of the Republican Nominating Convention of this District.

A CARD.

To the delegates of the New Branches Convention and the Republicans of the 4th District:

As my name has been used in connection with the Congressional canvass and many personal and political friends have earnestly pressed me to submit my claims to the New Branches convention, I hereby announce myself a candidate for Congress in the 4th District, subject to the decision of the convention.

My reasons for not announcing myself at an earlier date were, that I did not desire the position sufficiently to make a canvass for the nomination.

That I believed it best to secure Mr. Degener, provided that gentleman was in perfect harmony with the party in the State, and I sincerely hoped that he would lose no time upon his return from Europe to make known his true position.

In my position as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the District, the entire work of party organization devolved upon me, and I felt that however fair and unselfish my actions might be, I would lay myself and friends liable to the charges of unfairness, etc.

My reason for announcing at this late hour, when it is claimed that a large majority of the delegates are already pledged to Mr. Degener, and that no other candidate can entertain the least hope of even a complimentary vote, is simply to the end that perfect party harmony may be brought about, pledging myself with my friends to cheerfully abide the decision of the convention, and to work with zeal for the party success in October.

In this connection I will add, that while I deem it unnecessary to define my stand as a Republican, I wish it understood that I have no "ifs" or "ands" to interpose in my unqualified support of the present State administration, and the policy of the party in the State—and have no hesitancy in saying that no candidate will truly represent the Republicans of the 4th district who does not take this stand.

In conclusion, I believe I can appeal to the Republicans in every county in the district to bear me witness that I have not attempted in the least to influence their action or control their preferences.

TRUTH.—The powers of Mrs. Whitcomb's Syrup for children are as positive as the sunlight from heaven, and gentle and soothing as an angel's whisper.

THE WATER question is becoming serious to those who dwell in the prairie, at some distance from the ditch or the river as wells and cisterns are ceasing to be of any practical use.

THERE has been no Indian raid this moon, contrary to the expectations of the people in the country; perhaps the drought has dried up the water holes, and interfered with the line of retreat of the "gentle savages."

POST OFFICE INSPECTOR.—Mr. Julius Hebrands, a book seller and dealer in stationery, in this city, has forwarded twenty-two letters to New York and Philadelphia business houses, containing drafts since May last that have never reached their destination. If the department have any doubt, proof can be adduced to show the correctness of the above statement.

ALL PERSONS desiring to stimulate the exportations of Western Texas and at the same time to make a little pocket-money for themselves, are informed that magazine gum will be purchased at Kälteyers drug store.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of San Antonio:

The undersigned committee, appointed at a meeting of the property holders west of the San Pedro creek, held at the Fireman's Hall, on the 7th inst, to lay before your Honorable body the views of that meeting relative to the construction of an irrigating ditch on the west side of the San Pedro creek.

Ask, on behalf of the citizens comprising said meeting, and the other property holders, that the city authorities cause a survey to be made on the most practicable route for constructing said ditch, with an estimate of the probable cost, it being the sense of the meeting, that a portion of the expense of furnishing the land west of the San Pedro with irrigating facilities, shall be paid by the owners of property to be benefited thereby. The amount and manner of payment to be determined by the city and the undersigned. In making this contemplated and part expenditures by the city, the citizens comprising the meeting, these three hundred names being attached to the accompanying petition, feel that they ask nothing more than they are entitled to as citizens of San Antonio. They believe that all portions are entitled to equal rights, while the fact is notoriously evident that the quarter of this city, west of the San Pedro creek, has been continuously neglected, not a dollar, it is believed, having been expended west of that creek, by the city, for public improvements.

The undersigned, in conclusion, remark that the revenue to the city, by carrying out of the proposed measure, will more than repay any expenditures incurred.

Consumption.

Its Cure and its Preventive,

By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has been driven away from the earth here was the only reason, than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Thousands and thousands of families, and almost uncounted numbers of individuals, had they only adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple Treatment, and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that whereas sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the world is made no representation that he was a thousand times what he is, but that he was a man who, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

The Sarsaparilla and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally diseased liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the eliminating reagent, and the setting in of all its distressing symptoms of Consumption. The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's subtle gifts—the Pepsiphilum Pelletatum. They possess all the blood-purifying, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they "Leave no Staining Behind." The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It resumes its normal activity. The stomach acts energetically, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A Supply of Good Blood. The Sarsaparilla, in conjunction with the Pills, purifies and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tardiness. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more morbidness or exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gelatinous, it purges them for excretion, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished; the patient knows that it occupied its restricted and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was Given up as Lost. The second thing is, the patient must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter seasons, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, for their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must have in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To repair of cure after such evidences of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a dewing man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside my cough, fever, pain and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have ever since been ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "when looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discovered his professional visits to New York, and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still remains in New York at their office, No. 23 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Sarsaparilla will be charged $5. The Remedy is sold by all Druggists.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, ensuring that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First create appetite. Of returning health, hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the departing at once be of good cheer. Good food at once follows, the cough subsides, the night sweat is checked. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation, while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of Sarsaparilla Syrup and Sarsaparilla Pills, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.
