To all whom it may concern.

Every good government punishes crime. This is the distinctive peculiarity of a good government, and if this is attained, the people should be willing to pay for it. It is the best investment, that was ever made, for without protection against the vicious, life is unendurable, and the murderer and thief are always in our midst; if they don't show themselves as much as formerly, we may thank the republican party for it.

The republican party has no sympathy with criminals. When the republican party comes into power, the number of criminal convictions always increases; we can testify in our own city. There have been more murderers convicted of murder in the first degree during the last 3 terms of the District Court of Bexar than for 30 years before. Is this not worth something? Is it of no consequence to the tax payers, that d trained out throats are under lock and key? Has this no moral effect on those, that are foot-loose as yet?

Convictions for other crimes have been in the same proportion, and yet men, who own property and are not very anxious to be murdered, say they want a democratic State government. As Jupiter gave the frogs a crane when they wanted a king, so it may be that these croakers may get the Democracy to rule over them; but like the frogs in the fable, they will make a bad bargain.

In old times, conviction for murder was almost impossible; we have had but two legal executions in San Antonio in the last 20 years, and the condemned were poor Mexicans, unable to employ counsel, but the old citizens all know that it was impossible, to convict white men, and so-called southern gentlemen shot each other with impunity; matters, that in other countries were settled before a justice of the peace, in this community in democratic times were settled by street assassination, until our State was justly called the paradise of the murderer.

The same spread of the face of a murderer that was in this way: A gentleman (I) bush-wacked another gentleman, against whom he had a spite, on the street. The first thing the murderer did after the assassination was to hunt up the sheriff, surrender himself and get haled, the idea of putting a high toned southern gentleman under any circumstances behind bolts and bars caused a shudder in the community. In many instances straw ball was taken and young men were sometimes enabled by this means, to go from one section to another murdering, until they numbered their victims by the dozen. But we will suppose, that the gentleman wanted to remain in the community, he "stood his trial." Two continuances were granted as a matter of course, and three could be obtained without difficulty; with 3 terms a year sufficient time had elapsed, between the murder and trial, as to make it almost impossible to obtain evidence, sufficient to convict, and the murderer was then acquitted. Nowadays judges sometimes refuse the first continuance, and we have three terms a year. But let us suppose, that the worst possible case had been clearly made out against some notorious rewdy. The jury had of course to be unanimous, and every man on the jury knew, that if the prisoner was convicted, the members of the jury would be a target for the friends of the convicted to shoot at, and is it a wonder, that some one man on the jury would refuse to find him guilty, no matter what his conviction might be? Consequently murder becomes an art in Texas. We know that republicanism has changed all this, and the would be murderers know it, and from this circumstance comes our present comparative immunity from crime.

The Democracy is about to make a united effort to regain ascendancy in the State, believing that the people have forgotten the past.

The same democrats, that were leaders then, the same men that crushed Unionism in Western Texas at the outbreak of the rebellion, are the identical same individuals, that lead the party to-day. What kind of a government do you, must you, expect from these men? Have they undergone any miraculous transformation, are they sorry for their treason, do they love the old flag, are they safe men, to be entrusted with the administration of public affairs? These questions the people must answer themselves, it is as much their funeral as it is ours. If the men of immense capital can stand it, we certainly can. Capital is sensitive, it will seek no investment where there is no permanent security. Immigration will shun us. But this is not half the story; the Democracy cannot control their rowdy followers, even if they were disposed to; they will persecute the peaceful and the industrious Germans against whom they have a special spite, they will murder the negroes, as they always have done when it could be done with impunity, and this will cause a local war right here in Texas.

How will the tax payers like that, how do the men of capital like the picture, if they will but remember the state of affairs, that the same democratic leaders inaugurated once before, and that the sentiments of these men have undergone no change, they must know, that it is not overdrawn and that sooner or later, should they regain their power, that it will be a reality. Therefore let every republican do his duty; an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. By your votes, now, you will effect what one day you may be obliged to bring about by the bayonet.

The Hancock Dodge on Saturday Evening.

The tax payers' meeting, so-called, was a failure. It was an election dodge to draw republicans into the democratic ring and it met the fate it deserved.

The affair resembled the previous Hancock meeting in one respect, the old time rebel wire pullers that started and managed the affair, were ashamed to show themselves on the stand.

The meeting was called to order by that venerable opponent of Radicalism D. Y. Forts, the junior member of the law firm of Altgelt & Forts, of City Charter fame, Mr. Wurzbach was made secretary, as is usual on such occasions. Mr. Peyton Smythe, (who does not seem to understand that Smith and not Smythe is to be the future democratic candidate for District Clerk), was called to the chair, but being unaccustomed to public speaking made way for his attorney Mr. Jack Coeke, who explained the ostensible object of the meeting, viz: to protest against taxation, pass resolutions and select delegates to meet in convention at Austin.

Mr. Fred Coeke then addressed the audience, which by reason of the locality of the meeting (the Main Plaza) had increased to about 250, perhaps 300 including a large number of freedmen, who were drawn there by curiosity. Mr. Coeke stated that the aggregate taxes were greater than they were ten years ago and a few generalities, and wound up with a doleful anecdote about 2 negroes fishing. Mr. Behrends, whose political eccentricities have occasioned some comment of late, mutilated the fair proportions of the English language for some minutes in a heart rending manner. He made one remark, however, that we are satisfied, did not sit well on the stomachs of his manipulators, and that was, that all taxes except, the school tax are legal, that if this upheaval of the elements produced no result, it would be best to succumb and pay the taxes; like immortal Boggs of Missouri he didn't have any politics. Behrends closed with a few remarks in German, that were almost as few as his German hearers. We are afraid the German-English youth will deteriorate if their beloved teacher does not acquire the excitement of political life. Mr. Leal timidly read a feeble address in Spanish, but was interrupted by a countryman, who did not seem to coincide. Col. Upon, another gory confederate son of Mars (in a horn) ended the farce with the usual "no tax twaddle."

Mr. Jack Coeke announced, that the legal fraternity tendered their services, in getting out injunctions &c., money no consideration.

There were a few respectable German citizens in the crowd, who doubtless wished themselves out of the affair before, it was over.

We would have treated the matter more seriously if it had been worthy of it and produce it now only as a local political curiosity.

If the Southern States were allowed to day to form a Southern Confederacy, the majority of the people in the South would oppose it. What would have been the condition of the South to-day, if the Confederacy had succeeded, and where would our Western Texas Germans have been!

The great Western Texas political "what is it," is stamping the District. He takes or leaves the departure, according to the locality.

The State Journal offers a reward of $25 for a copy of Hancock's Know-Nothing address as Congressional candidate in 1855.

Famine is impending in Southern Hungary in consequence of the fields being overflowed.

Josh Billings says he has forgotten what he was married for.

HANCOCK SPORT IN WILSON COUNTY.—The affidavits from Wilson county speak for themselves. They show the animus of the democracy, and coincide with the accounts that reach us from every direction. A gentleman from San Marcos, for instance, informs us that the old Confederates are outspoken in their detestation of the government, and their intention to resist the election law with force.

The humblest negro is as much an American citizen as the richest merchant and when the one can be driven from his home at the dead hour of night, the time is not far distant when the other shall seek the Rio Grande for safety. Some people, however, have to be made to feel before they are willing to believe.

"The people detained in unmistakable terms the substitution of 'our policy' for the 'my policy,' of Edmund, the First Tyrant of Texas—and by the Eternal God they intend and will have it, even though it cost that which a cowardly, sneaking, contemptible, thieving Radical loves not well to look upon—Blood!"—Centreville Express.

That has got the genuine ring in it, and expresses the real sentiments of the party. The 'Centreville Express' is only a little premature. We commend the above to the careful perusal of some mild Republicans who deprecate the tone of the 'San Antonio Express.' The red mouthed democracy will teach you a lesson some of these days, gentlemen, if they can catch you before you get into Mexico, that will make you bitter Radicals should you recover from it.

ROCKPORT, Refugio County, Texas, August 29d, 1871.

Editor of the San Antonio Express.

The Republicans of this county are much pleased at the nomination of Edward Degener for Congress, and feel very certain that he will be elected in October next. Mr. Degener is undoubtedly the man for the position, and his unanimous nomination by the Convention speaks for him in language not to be misconstrued; he goes before the people an old, well tried Republican, in whom there is no shadow of turning. Let the Republicans of this District rally round him to a man, and give to the traitor Hancock his quietus.

It is very warm here, with plenty of rain; but if it is warm here, it is hot probably with you in San Antonio, for you do not have our sea breeze; but when you get the railroad there you can come and enjoy it. The telegraph is being erected here, and so on to Brownsville, where it will connect with the city of Mexico. We are preparing for the fall business of slaughtering and packing beef. The summer drought has been a great drawback to Rockport, but the grass is growing now apace.

Yours, &c.,

REPORTER.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

County of Wilson.

Before me, W. Longworth, a Justice of the Peace in and for the county of Wilson, State of Texas, personally appeared Cato Montgomery, who after being by me sworn deposes and says that on the 2nd day of September, the second day of September, A. D. 1871, in the county of Wilson, State of Texas, there came to the house of his half brother, Henderson Murry—seven men on horseback, all armed, and with blackened faces, one of whom called out, old man, come out, we have a few words to say to you to-night. My brother, the owner of the house, answered by asking what is that you say; the voice, repeated, come out, I want to see you; my brother answered me, you come to the door. When the same voice again said, you had better come out, it will be better for you. My brother again answered, wait until I dress, and under pretense of delay in dressing, my brother made his escape. Just then the whole seven rode up to the front of the house, when the speaker got down and asked old man what you are doing, and getting no answer, they ordered my brother to strike a light, when done, and on searching around in the house, the speaker found deponent where he was lying in bed, who asked me, who is this? Deponent answered, it isn't the one that answered you. The speaker then asked, where is he? I answered he had escaped. All this time the speaker had a six shooter in his hand. I was then asked, how did he get out? I showed where. The speaker then left word that if my brother did not vacate his premises by Thursday, the 7th day of September, 1871, that his and me should be gone by daylight, and that his family should be moved by the 7th, or they the crowd would kill the last one of us. Saying, we know who put you here. When they left, I recognized the voice of the spokesman to be that of John C. West, of the Sandies, with whom I have often co-hunted. I know it well, and cannot do not believe I am mistaken in this fact.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

County of Wilson.

Before me, W. Longworth, a Justice of the Peace in and for the county of Wilson, State of Texas, duly commissioned and sworn, personally came Henderson Murry, who on oath declares that on the 2nd day of Saturday, the second day of September, A. D. 1871, in the county of Wilson, State of Texas, there came to his house some six or seven men, all on horseback, who demanded of him, the deponent herein, to come out, that they wanted to see him; but deponent refused. One of the crowd then spoke up and said, the quicker you come out the better it will be for you. Deponent then fearing danger—under pretense of delay in dressing, made his escape. Deponent further says that he fears bodily harm from the said six or seven persons, and he prays for inquiry and the arrest of said persons, whose names are to him at present unknown.

Look on this picture, ye tax payers:
Debt of New York city under Democratic Rule:
December 31, 1869, $34,407,047
April 30, 1871, $4,541,156
Increase in 29 months, $39,948,193
And then look on this:
Debt of the United States under Republican Rule:
March 4, 1869, $2,595,457,959
August 1, 1871, 2,599,399,958
Decrease in 29 months, $342,138,401
That is just the difference between Democratic promise and Republican performance.—Austin Journal.

HANCOCK is being more generally understood.

A COUNTRY democrat says our report of Hancock's speech was incorrect.

COMPLAINT is made of the number of scorpions at this season.

PROF. J. FRANK'S Dancing Academy will be opened positively this afternoon at Muench Hall.

GET YOUR BABIES READY.—In as much as no County or State Fairs are held in any of the older States, without an exhibition of the most beautiful children, the Directors of our Agricultural Association have determined to keep our little folks in fashion, and give them a chance to contest for a premium, and to see, and be seen, like other people. Babies generally assert and maintain their rights in the family circle, and why not at public Fairs. Some fifteen or twenty have already been entered and it is hoped the number will reach a hundred. In order to make it as interesting, and fair as possible, they will be divided into three classes, one year old and under, two years old and under three, three years old and under four. The premiums have not been fully decided upon, but will be something appropriate to each class, and if practicable, arrangements will be made to photograph the entire number in one group, and each baby will receive a copy.

The Judges in this exhibition will not be old maids and bachelors, they are not supposed to be friendly to babies, or able to see any beauty in them; they will not be married people for they will be carried away here, and there, by a familiar likeness reminding them of their own darling when they were little ones.

The Judges therefore must be young ladies and young gentlemen; they are in the morning of life and see beauty in every thing, their hearts have not yet been clouded by sorrow and disappointment, nor have they travelled far enough along life's rugged pathway to meet with afflictions and imbibed prejudice; they are the babies friend, and only ask for a little time to complete their arrangements, when they will prove it beyond a doubt. In order to make the responsibility as light as possible, ten young ladies and ten young gentlemen will act as Judges, each baby will be numbered in its class, and the vote will be taken by ballot, so no one can tell how any particular Judge voted.

Still Onward and Upward.
The extraordinary increase that has taken place in the sale of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during the past year, is another proof that in intelligent people, although they may try all things, hold fast only to that which is good. No amount of puffery can lift inferior articles to the position of standard specialties. To use the words of Tom Paine, they may go up like a rocket, but are sure to come down ignominiously like its extinguished stick. Hundreds of such nostrums have gone up and come down since the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, nearly the fifth of a century ago. Yet it still remains the supreme tonic of the age. It has not, and never has had a rival in efficacy or popularity, and now stands at the head of all proprietary remedies manufactured on this side of the Atlantic. In every civilized country on this continent, or in South America, it is the accepted remedy for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation, general debility, nervous weakness and many other unpleasant or dangerous maladies. A medicine so widely extended is of course pirated and imitated by others without conscience or integrity.

Therefore, let every man and woman who designs to purchase the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, see to it that they have what they pay for, and not the result of an infamous imposture. Look carefully at label, stamp and name blown in the glass, and do not forget that the true Bitters is sold in bottles only.

Consumption,

Its Cure and its Preventive,

By J. H. Schenck, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away

for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and judiciously proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friend, are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which had they timely adopted

Dr. Joseph H. Schenck's simple

Treatment,

and availed themselves of his wonderful efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains,

that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr.

Schenck's medicine is as simple as it is successful. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-evident, self-convincing.

The Sarsaparilla and Mandrake Pills

are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functional disorder of the liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach.

They respond to the morbid action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of

Consumption.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum

Peltatum. They possess all the bloodpurifying, alterative properties of calomel,

but unlike calomel, they

"Leave no sting behind."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposit in the bowels

had in the alimentary canal are ejected.

The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION,
MARRIAGE! A private counselor to the married GUIDE. For these about to marry, on the physiological mysteries and variations of the sexual system, with the latest discoveries in producing and preventing offspring, preserving the complexion, &c.
This is an interesting work of two hundred and twenty four pages, with numerous engravings, and contains valuable information for those who are married or contemplate marriage; still it is a book that ought to be under lock and key, and not laid carelessly about the house.

Psychomaney is Derived from the Greek signifying
the power of the soul, spirit or mind,
and is the basis of all human knowledge.
Psychomaney is the title of a new work of 400 pages, by Herbert Hamilton, B. A., giving full instructions in the science of Soul
Charming and Psychologic Fascination;
how to exert this wonderful power over men or animals at will. It teaches Mesmerism, how to become Trance or Writing
Mediums, Divination, Spiritualism, Alchem-

Dr. Wells
having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American Plant, called

JURUBEBA.
Sent a special commission to the country
to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular supply of this wonderful Plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the affecting medicine now presented to the public as
Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a BLOOD PURIFIER in all derangements of the system and to stimulate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic temperaments.

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—
where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors, including all the leading machines
built, and was awarded the First Premiums
and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claim of superiority for The Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The adjustability of the finger-arm,
to cut high or low without stopping the team, is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles.
In short, it is the lightest, the most durable,
the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers
