Why is a soldier who attempts to haveness a ghost an unprincipled fellow # Because he sticks at nothing.

Still Onward and Upward. The extraordinary increase that has taken place in the sale of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during the past year, is another proof that in intelligent people, although they may try all things, hold fast only to that which is good. No amount of puffery can lift inferior articles to the position of standard specifies. To use the words of Tom Paine, they may go up like a rocket, but are sure to come down ignominiously like its extinguished stick. Hundreds of such nostrums have gone up and come down since the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, nearly the fifth of a century ago. Yet it will remains the supreme tonic of the age. It has not, and never has had a rival in efficacy or popularity, and now stands at the head of all proprietary remedies manufactured on this side of the Atlantic. In every civilized comunity on this continent, or in South America, it is the accepted remedy for dyspessia, billous complaints, constipation, general debility, nervous weakness and many other unpleasant or dangerous maladies. A medicine so widely extended is of course pirated and imitated by deal ers without conscience or integrity.

Therefore, let every man and woman who designs to purchase the genuine Hos-tetter, Stomach Bitters, see to it that they have what they pay for, and not the result of an infamous imposture. Look carefully at label, stamp and name blown in the ss, and do not forget that the true bitters s soid in bottles only.

THECAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMP-TION.—The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest pre-disposition to pulmonary disease, or, if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the sigmach and bowels from all diseased muens and slime, which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rose up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the surest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleaned by the use of Scheuck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the Stomach and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seawed Tome proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the free and preserving use of Schenck's Pulmenic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distailout.

The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distaibutinto the circulation, and thence distaibuted to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all merbid matters, whether in the form of abcasses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, when some it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenek's Pulmonic Syrop, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is gured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in fresh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs,—a cavity or abscess there,—the cavity cannot licel, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure a new order of things,—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the hody to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the matter will ripen and he thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to care Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured without only one cound lung, live and enjey life to a good old ago. This is what Schenek's Medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stouagh, sweeten and strengthen it; get up a good digestion and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatover the form may be.

It is important that while using Schenek's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night sie, and take outdoor exercise only in a gonial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that The essential thing to be done in curing sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a justient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Continued Consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my Medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation insteadof provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannet, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of Winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under al most any circumstances is an impossibili

The person should be kept on a whole-some and nutritious debt, and all the Me-dicines continued until the body has res-tored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom F have never seen.

About the First of October I expect to take possession of my new building, at the Northeast Corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it. Full directions accompany all my Reme dies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict ob servance of the same.

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869— where 'The Clipper' met some 40 competi-tors including all the Teading machines built, and was awarded the First Premiums and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the filed their claims of superiority for The Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraord may lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor off the team. The adjustability of the finger-team to cut high or low without stopping the team; worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles. It is the lightest the most durable.
