City Council Accepts Two Paving Bids

Housing Authority Members Approved

Only two firms submitted paving bids for the Muleshoe City Council to consider during a meeting Tuesday morning. Glen Sparkman of Bill McMorries and Associates opened bids from High Plains Pavers at Plainview and Jake Diel of Muleshoe.

For hot mix, High Plains bid a total of $330,550 and bid $306,526 for a triple asphalt application. The total hot mix bid from Jake Diel was $317,672 and they bid $301,964 for a triple asphalt application.

The High Plains bid called for 360 days to completion, to 250 days as bid by Jake Diel.

With council member A.V. Wood absent, the other council members unanimously accepted the bids, although the bid will not be actually awarded before a work session is held and an ordinance drawn up.

Sparkman described the difference in hot mix, which he said would put approximately a one and one-half deep base while the triple asphalt application uses three types and sizes of rocks for the base, being layered.

The engineer explained to council members that although the triple mix is not as smooth driving as hot-mix, that it is considered to be more flexible and lasts longer than hot mix.

He said Bill McMorries, consulting engineers, will look at each unit individually according to the width of the street and come up with per front foot charges for the property owners.

He said that persons with one of the wider streets will be paying a little more than the persons with the narrow streets for their paving.

.4 Inch Rain Here Monday Boosts Total

Rains, which have been intermittent throughout the area all during the month of August, deposited another .4 inches in a downpour near noon on Monday.

Local residents woke up to a slow drizzle Monday morning which continued until the downpour between 11:45 and 12:15 that day, although more rain was forecast, by Wednesday no additional rain fell to add to the total.

Amounts of up to one inch fell to the south of Muleshoe and Morton reported more than three inches.

PLEASANT SURROUNDINGS...Kerry Moore, far right, explains some of the activities for the speech department at Muleshoe High School. The students will be in the paneled and carpeted surroundings in their new complex which was formerly a study hall.

Displayed in the background are numerous plaques and awards won by the students in recent years. Students from the speech department helped with the redecoration of their new facility in the school.

Winn-Dixie Market Planned In Center

(Special to the Journal)

J.A. Russell, division vice president of T.G. & Y. Stores Co., the Oklahoma based national chain of variety and general merchandise stores, announced today plans for a new 22,400 square foot store to be located at the southwest corner of West 14th Street and American Boulevard [U.S. Highway 84].

At the same time the developer of the new Muleshoe Square shopping center, Brady-Gentry-Brady General Partnership, announces plans for a Winn-Dixie supermarket.

J.A. Russell stated that the new T.G. & Y. store was expected to employ about 25 local residents when it opens for business.

T.G. & Y. Stores Co. was founded in 1936 by R.E. Tomlinson, E.L. Gosselin and R.A. Young, who gave the initials of their last names to the name of the new company. It has always had its national headquarters in Oklahoma City, during its growth to a major chain to over 900 stores coast-to-coast in 29 states.

E.J. Braun, president of the company, stated, "We know that the economy of Muleshoe is excellent and that its future prospects are good. We want to be part of the progress of Muleshoe."

Mitchell Autopsy Says 'Heatstroke'

Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements received the final autopsy report Monday morning on an autopsy performed in Dallas on the body of 19 year old Ronald George Mitchell.

According to the detailed report, Mitchell's death was caused from 'heatstroke.' The pathologist who performed the autopsy said Mitchell was a healthy 19-year old at the time of his death.

His body was found 17 miles south of Muleshoe locked in the trunk of a late model automobile. He was badly decomposed at the time he was discovered, and investigation showed he had been reported missing from his brother's home on Irving five days before he was found in this county.

Mitchell had left his brother's home on Monday, July 18 to make a trip to the grocery store. He was last seen in Plainview that night, and was not seen again until his body was reported in the park at 4:30 p.m. on that date. However, he was not discovered until a man from Morton became curious about the vehicle after seeing it in the remote park for two days straight.

When found, Mitchell was still clad in the same cutoffs and T-shirt he was reported as wearing when his brother reported him missing. He was barefoot, but the shoes he was said to be wearing when he left his brother's home were found under his body in the trunk of the car. His billfold and the keys to the car were also found in the trunk of the vehicle.

Bailey County Sheriff Dee

Clements, who is leading the investigation, along with Texas Ranger Jim Mull, of Plainview, are stymied in their attempt to reconstruct Mitchell's final hours. The officers said that no trace of Mitchell's movements were ascertained from the time cont. on page 3 Col. 1

Mules, Rams To Lock Horns

Friday night, the fired-up Muleshoe Mules will travel to Greyhound Stadium near Portales where they will lock horns, and hooves, with the Portales Rams. This will be the first game for Muleshoe this season and they will be prepared to try to gain back a 15-7 loss to the Rams in their first game last year.

"We will have to be consistent to win," said head football coach Don Cumpston. "Injury-wise, everybody is healthy and we have 43 varsity players ready to go."

"But, Portales looks real impressive. They're big and their running back, No. 20, really looks good. They showed up well in scrimmage and their defense looks much improved over a year ago."

"Here," said the coach, "we

Commissioners Will Discuss Jail Proposal

Main item on the agenda for the members of the Bailey County commissioners court Friday morning will be a discussion of the recent jail inspection report.

It was noted that several changes may have to be made in the operation and set-up of the jail.

Commissioners, who will be meeting from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., will also pay county bills during the day.

Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals, start getting your entries in for the popular weekly contest.

As in the past, weekly prizes are $5, $3 and $2, with points given toward the final grand prize at the end of the season--two tickets to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas on New Year's Day and a check for $50 in prize money.

It's very simple to enter. Clip the contest from each Thursday's Muleshoe Journal, mark your entry, guess the tiebreaker score on the tie-breaker games as listed, sign the entry form and either mail or bring by the Journal office. Be sure to get your entry in before the 5 p.m. Friday deadline or it will be discarded.

Also, each year, a few unsigned entries are received in the Journal office. Obviously, the unsigned entries have to be discarded, regardless how accurate.

You may enter as many times as you wish per week, and each member of your family can join the popular fall contest.

Get your entries in, and start making the weekly prize money, and the points which will determine the final winner at the end of the season.

Also, check the merchants who support the contest and return their support by patronizing them.

He added, "We feel that the team that makes the fewest mistakes will be the team to win the game."

Coach Cumpston and his assistants are optimistic that the Mules will be able to "put it all together" this year and show what the young Mules are

USDA Meeting To Air Cotton Testing Tools

The USA's Cotton Division will air instrument cotton classing at a meeting September 7th at the South Park Inn in Lubbock, according to Paul R. Dickson, Officer in Charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office. Several speakers will discuss various aspects of the instrument field testing program conducted in the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office last fall. The meeting will be at 9:00 a.m. The public is invited to attend. The instrument field testing program is the first conducted by the USDA. Around 50,000 cotton samples from eight High Plains gins were instrument classed last season. In addition to the instrument class, the same samples were also manually classed. Speakers for the meeting include Jesse F. Moore, Director of the Cotton Division, Washington, DC; Harvin Smith, Agricultural Marketing Service, Memphis, TN; Kenneth Bragg, Agricultural Research Service, Clemson, SC; Don Etheredge, Economic Research Service, Lubbock; and Dickson. Speakers will attempt to inform the public and answer their questions about instrument classing. Last year's program will be analyzed and discussed in depth. Survey results with farmers, ginners, cotton merchants and mills about last fall's instrument classing will also be revealed. Plans for this fall will be outlined. The field testing program conducted last fall was recommended by the National Cotton Marketing Study Committee, established in 1974 by the Secretary of Agriculture. The Committee was composed of a cross section of cotton industry representatives, including several from the High Plains of Texas. 'Hypochondriacs' - Made? Not Born?

How did your mother react to your complaints of a scratchy throat when you were a child? If it was early in the morning, did she kick you out of bed and send you on your way to school with something unmotherly like, "It will get better as the day goes on," or did she make a fuss and immediately call the doctor? According to an article on research sponsored by UCLA's Department of Medicine in the August issue of the Bulletin of the American College of Physicians, children tend to follow their mothers' pattern of seeking medical care. The researchers also discovered that if the mother thought her child was healthy (or unhealthy) the child usually thought the same way. The implication is that children who are often taken to the doctor for minor ailments tend to grow up high users of medical care or so called "hypochondriacs."

Dr. Charles E. Lewis and his wife, Mary Ann Lewis, a nurse practitioner, do not like the term hypochondriac. The Lewises headed the study at UCLA's University Elementary school which included an attempt to involve the children in the health care process. This was done by allowing each child to initiate visits to the school nurse practitioner and, subsequently, to help decide about the treatment and disposition of the problem. "What we attempted to do was encourage self-reliance," explained Dr. Lewis, a professor of medicine at UCLA. "It was the child's problem, their cut or sore throat. The nurse would explain the alternatives—wash out the injury, drink water, go home, call mother, go back to class—and it was up to the child to decide the course of action. Then we would attempt to simulate or model. 'If this happens again, what do you do?' The child would answer: 'Clean the area to prevent infection, put some stuff on it, and don't play so hard on the playground for a while.'"

It is very difficult to deal with health habits after they have been established for 20 years noted Dr. Lewis. Persuading adults to change their ways is an almost hopeless task, but the school physician may well have better luck with the young. To Dr. Lewis, this means that children must be encouraged not to use illness as a "cop-out" or as a means to manipulate others; children must have help in learning to deal with stress by other means.

The study involved more than 300 pupils who were observed for two years. During this period they could go to see the school nurse practitioner by filling out a "care card" without having to obtain the teacher's permission. Any treatment was within the confines of California law; no drugs were administered nor procedures performed without permission of a parent. Not surprisingly, the same variables that influence "graduates" of child health services—adults—surfaced among the children. Pupils from more affluent backgrounds made more visits and girls tended to use the services more than boys. Also, 15 percent of the children accounted for more than half of all visits over the two year period while 17 percent did not seek out the nurse even once. The experience also encouraged some of the children to talk directly to "their doctor" stated Dr. Lewis. The pupils also demonstrated considerable ability in caring for their minor injuries. Despite some initial concern along the lines of "but you are supposed to tell me what to do!" almost all the children were aware of the shift in decision-making from "she" (the nurse) to "me" or "us". Dr. Lewis sees this as a hopeful sign for the future, noting that we may "reorganize medicine and develop more elaborate and expensive diagnostic and treatment techniques, but until we accept the fact that each future adult must be responsible for his own health and treat them accordingly, we shall always be looking to others for that which can only come from within."

Army Basic Training Set Year Early

Common Army basic training for men and women will begin in September, a year earlier than scheduled, announced Lieutenant Colonel Nicolas Vay, Army recruiting commander for New Mexico and west Texas from Amarillo to El Paso. The Army's decision to implement common basic training follows completion and analysis of the Basic Initial Entry Test (BIET), according to Colonel Vay. This testing, which took place a year ago at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, was conducted to evaluate the need for improved female basic training. Results of the BIET testing determined there was little difference in the performance of men and women, except in physical readiness training. The physical portion can be modified, however, without changing the content or reducing the value of the training and without lowering standards for male soldiers. The Army will initiate the common training program at Fort McClellan, Alabama, in September and Fort Jackson, South Carolina, in mid-October.

Harmon Forecast Says Notre Dame

It's early in the season for a Big One, but Pittsburgh-Notre Dame can hardly be classified anything else. Generally recognized as national champion in 1976 after bombing Georgia in the Sugar Bowl, the Panthers start out the new season minus Coach Johnny Majors and Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett. "On the other hand," Matt Cavanaugh returns at quarterback along with a galaxy of material. The Irish have twenty of 22 starters returning from their 20-9 win over Penn State in the Gator Bowl, including the entire defensive unit. "On the other hand," they lost quarterback Rick Slager.

And on Monday night, the Southeast Conference "upstart" Co-champion, Houston, meets last year's Pacific 8 runner-up, UCLA. Houston beat Maryland in the Cotton Bowl, and UCLA was embarrassed by Alabama in the Liberty Bowl. In spite of heavy graduation losses, our vote goes to the Bruins...by thirteen.

DPS Urges Labor Day Auto Safety

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety at Lubbock, stated that "Labor Day, the last holiday of the summer usually accounts for a large number of deaths on the highways." He also pointed out that traffic fatalities this year are about six percent higher than last year. "Operation Motorcade" is designed to focus attention on the added dangers of death in holiday travel. Traffic fatalities will be counted by the DPS throughout the Labor Day weekend. These totals will be announced three times daily in order to keep safety uppermost in the minds of the drivers. Bell said, "The DPS will use all personnel at its disposal to reduce the death toll with special emphasis on apprehension of the speeder and drinking driver, which continues to be major factors in accidents," but he stated, "The most important effort in reducing accidents must come from the individual driver." "Motorists are urged to use common sense and observe all traffic regulations for safe motoring."

As for Georgia, they entertain outside...Oregon, in fact. The Ducks, with a new coach, will have a mighty busy Saturday afternoon as the two teams meet for the first time ever on the gridiron. The Bulldogs are heavy favorites...something in the vicinity of 32 points. Southern California travels to Columbia, Missouri, with great trepidation...and with good reason. The Missouri Tigers whipped the Trojans in Southern Cal's back yard in their opener.

HIGHLIGHTS

Alcorn State, Grambling State, Jackson State, Southern University, Tennessee-Chattanooga, Tennessee State, Texas Southern, and Western Carolina... with the exception of Grambling, not exactly household names as far as collegiate football is concerned. However, starting this fall, the eight have all been elevated to major—or Division I—status by the NCAA. This brings the total of major college football teams to 144, an all-time high.

Four of the eight will be in action on this first abbreviated Saturday of college football. Alcorn State (in Lorman, Miss., for the "not-know-it-alls") is a four-point pick over Central Michigan. Jackson (Miss.) is a slight one-pointer over Alabama State. Tennessee State, one of the real powers among small colleges in recent years, is 16 points too tough for Middle Tennessee State. And Western Carolina is a five-point underdog to Jacksonville State.

In last year's opener against Memphis State, Mississippi was caught looking ahead to Alabama, and was upset, 21-16. This year the Rebel game plan is to look at one Saturday at a time. It'll be close... Ole Miss by just a point.

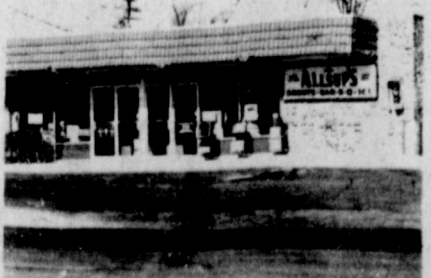

Miami of Ohio, ten and one in 1975, bombed through 1976 with its poorest season in over thirty years. They finished 7th in the Mid-America Conference, a totally unfamiliar spot, with a three and eight record. They're picked to beat Dayton by ten points in the opener for both teams.

Akron, Northern Michigan, and North Dakota State, three of last season's Division II powerhouses, will make their 77 debuts Saturday. The Wildcats of Northern Michigan rolled up 459 points in winning their first ten games last season. Grand Valley State, in the final game of the season, dumped the Cats, 31-14. Akron was beaten by Montana State in the Pioneer Bowl, the Division II championship game last fall, while North Dakota State lost to Montana State in the semi-finals.

Akron, eight and two during the regular season, is a 20-point choice over Wayne State Saturday, and Northern Michigan looks to be about 16 points stronger than North Dakota State.

SWPS New Plant Slated For Pampa

A new 30 megawatt coal-fired electrical cogeneration plant which will save up to 50 percent of the normal energy requirements for a power-generating facility, was announced here today by Southwestern Public Service Company and Celanese Chemical Company.

One of the U.S. industries' first affirmative responses to the City...

In approximately two weeks, the figures are expected to be completed and returned to council members for final approval of the bid.

Approved by council members was the reappointment of Jesse Leal and Jim Cox to the Housing Authority Board. They were re-appointed for two year terms.

Tabled was the decision to name a new member to the Airport Board to replace Don Williams, who recently moved to Plainview.

After discussion, approved was a new street light to be placed near 307 E. 6th Street, east of the old city park. It was announced that the new light will be on a long, dark block and will cost the city $2.30 per month.

A total of $143.85 was transferred to bad debts for unpaid water bills and some discussion was held on the collection system used for unpaid water and sewer bills by the city.

Also discussed was the use of the city council room for private meetings and city-owned farm land usage was also discussed with no decisions reached.

Upcoming meetings were considered before the city council went into executive session, called by Council member Max King, to discuss "airport matters."

at the Celanese Pampa plant by Southwestern. The generation unit will supply all the electrical requirements of the Pampa plant.

The Pampa unit will be linked with Southwestern's integrated electric generation and transmission system, providing standby electric power should the new unit be temporarily closed down for maintenance or repairs.

C.F. Milnar, vice-president of the Amarillo-based utility company, said the Southwestern-Celanese project is expected to begin operation in mid-1979, concurrent with the start-up of the Celanese Pampa plant's coal-fired boiler project.

Mr. Milnar said the new cogeneration project was made possible by the Pampa plant's large steam production, and follows by some 13 years a joint energy conservation program by the same partners.

"Back in late 1964, Southwestern and Celanese joined forces in a then-pioneering effort to conserve the Panhandle's natural gas resources by utilizing the Pampa plant's by-product hot pressurized gases to drive Southwestern's turbine generator located at the Celanese plant site," Mr. Milnar explained.

Gene Steel, manager of the Celanese Pampa plant, said, "Our new joint conservation efforts fully support the nation's energy goals which, among other recommended actions, urges the replacement of gas-fired boilers with coal-fired boilers and the cogeneration of electric power."

Mr. Steel said the Southwestern-Celanese project and the replacement of the Pampa plant's existing gas-fired boilers with coal-fired boilers will save approximately 10 billion cubic feet of natural gas per year, making the gas available for higher priority uses.

The Pampa plant's boiler fuel coal will be shipped in from Western states, via Santa Fe Railroad, arriving every four days by unit trains of 75-100 cars, to meet the plant's 2,000 ton-per-day demand.

Mr. Steel said the new boiler facilities at Pampa will meet or exceed all state and federal environmental standards. All necessary permits and approvals have been obtained.

New boilers for the Celanese Pampa project will be supplied by Combustion Engineering, Brown & Root, the prime contractor, plans to have 300 contract workers engaged in construction by the end of 1977, with up to 500 expected at peak periods next year. When completed, the project will add some 30 to 40 permanent employees to the Pampa plant's current total of 325.

Mr. Steel said the Celanese Pampa plant will continue to purchase natural gas for non-substitutable uses, such as process gas and feedstock, from Pioneer Natural Gas Company, of Amarillo, its current supplier. The Celanese Pampa plant, in operation since 1952, is the world's largest producer of acetic acid with an annual volume in excess of 500 million pounds per year. Celanese Chemical Company, an operating division of Celanese Corporation, has three other plants in Texas at Bishop, Bay City and Clear Lake.

Celanese Corporation and its affiliated companies have 75 plants in the United States and 16 other countries, producing a diversified line of petrochemicals, fibers, plastics, polymer specialties, and agricultural products. Annual Sales exceed $2 billion.

Baptist Church Will Host Charlie Brown

Carlos A. Silva, a well-known evangelist in the Spanish-speaking Southern Baptist Church circle, will be conducting a three day Evangelistic campaign at the Emmanuel Baptist Church September 1-4. Emmanuel Baptist Church is at 107 E. Third Street in Muleshoe.

Affectionately known as "Charlie Brown," Carlos Aquila Silva is from Mexico City, where he is assisted with the "Nuevo Nacimiento" (New Life) Evangelistic Association. He is a former drug addict and has now become a Christ-addict, according to his words. In his ministry, he is a forceful teacher, outstanding preacher and a talented song writer and singer, according to a spokesman for the Emmanuel Baptist Church. He has composed hundreds of songs and choruses that are sung internationally by Spanish-speaking congregations.

He is usually accompanied on his evangelistic missions by his wife, Lettie, and their two sons. He has been in Littlefield and Friona on this leg of his missionary journey and he said he never tires of telling how Christ changed his life for eternity.

Isaias Cardenas, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, said he would like to extend a personal invitation to everyone to attend the worship services each night at 8 p.m. at the Emmanuel Baptist Church at 107 E. Third. He also said a "Youth Explosion" is scheduled at the old city park at 3 p.m. on Saturday, September 4.

The three species of teal which can legally be taken during this early hunt are the cinnamon, blue-winged and green-winged teal. Teal hunters will be required a federal migratory waterfowl stamp which can be purchased at U.S. Post offices for $5. The stamp must be signed in ink across the face of the permit by the holder.

Shotguns used to bag teal must be plugged to hold no more than three shells including two in the magazine and one in the chamber. Rifles are illegal for teal hunting.

Teal by the thousands should be filtering down into Texas as the season nears and sportsmen should have plenty of opportunities to try their luck this fall.

Starkey Whitehorn, Texas game warden at Stinnett, is retiring from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department after 27 years of service with the state agency.

Teal Season Set
A nine-day teal season has been set for September 10-18, 1977, and lakes with ample water are scattered across the Panhandle and South Plains.

According to waterfowl biologist Max Traweck the rains have been spotty this summer with some areas of the eastern Panhandle receiving record amounts of water.

Traweck is reporting more green-winged teal than normal this year in his surveys of the area. Normally, the blue-winged teal is the most abundant species during the early duck season.

The daily bag limit of four with a possession limit of eight teal can be bagged from sunrise to sunset. The later shooting hours should help hunters identify the small, fast teal from the other larger ducks such as mallards, gadwall, and pintails that might be in the same area during the September hunt.

RECIPE

By Sarah Ann Sheridan

Ground beef is a good substantial meat value. It can be extended with such economical foods as noodles, rice and bread crumbs. The hamburger is always the quick-to-prepare standby.

Italian Meatballs

- olive oil
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1/2 green pepper, chopped
- 1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
- 1 16-oz. can tomatoes and juice
- 1/4 t oregano leaves
- 1/4 t pepper
- seasoned salt
- grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 8 oz. pkg. spaghetti
- 1/2 c soft bread crumbs
- 2 t milk
- 1 lb. ground beef

Preparation time about 45 minutes.

In a large skillet, saute garlic, onion and green pepper in 1/4 cup hot oil about 5 minutes or until tender. Add tomato sauce and tomatoes, 1 1/2 teaspoons seasoned salt, pepper, oregano, 1/4 cup Parmesan and simmer uncovered for 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, cook spaghetti by package directions; drain. Soften bread crumbs in milk; toss with beef and 1 teaspoon seasoned salt. Shape meat into 24 balls. Put 2 tablespoons oil in skillet and brown meatballs. Add meatballs and drippings to sauce; cook 5 minutes. Serve meatballs in sauce with spaghetti. Serves 6.

A crisp salad and hard garlic-battered rolls will complement the above recipe.

Consumer Food News

Bread buying for economy should be "by weight"—and for nutrition, its label should say "enriched" or "whole grain."

That advice from Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Other bread-buying notes include these:

--a compact loaf will appear much smaller than a larger soft loaf, yet it might weigh as much --when consumers choose bread by "size" instead of "weight," they might pay for air

--a two-pound loaf usually costs less per pound than a one-pound loaf

--usually the standard white loaf is the least expensive item on the bread counter, and standard whole wheat breads cost little more--if any

--ingredients must be listed in order of the amounts used, from largest to the smallest.

Some brief descriptions of various breads are these:

*White--contains refined wheat flour, liquid, salt, yeast and certain optional ingredients.

*High protein--quantity of milk used is higher than in standard white bread, and it may contain pure wheat germ and high protein flour. Its texture is coarser and its color creamier than standard white bread.

*French, Italian, Vienna--use high protein flour--and they use water instead of milk to produce thick, crisp crust.

*Salt Rising--leavened with a special bacterial ferment instead of yeast. Texture is fine and close-grained, and the flavor and odor are cheese-like.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

I was invited to the beach several weeks ago and all of my clothes were wrong. I took pants suits and I almost burned up, it was so hot.

Now I have been invited to the mountains and, if I take these same suits I'm afraid everyone will be wearing dresses. What would you advise me to take?
 Dot-Ga.

Answer:

What you need will depend on the weather so it is wise to take something that you can use regardless of how warm or cool it happens to be.

Take a light-weight pants suit and one with a jacket or sweater; one dress and a tennis outfit--if you play--a bathing suit if there is a lake. How many garments you take depends on how long you intend to stay and if your garments are drip-dry.

Mountain climate can be very cool if it rains but the days can be warm.

Louisa.

Dear Louisa:

I have a daughter who thinks her small child should be entertained all of the time. I think this is a mistake. What do you think?
 Mother-Ky.

Answer:

I think children should be given some time to figure things out and try to do things by themselves. Be there to help and guide when necessary but allow the youngsters to create without criticism.

Louisa.

Muleshoe Library To Expand Service

Twenty-five libraries in the 29-county area served by the West Texas Library System have qualified for membership in the regional public library system, during the year that begins on September 1. As system members they will be able to take part in cooperative activities to improve library service and increase the range of library materials available in the area. Muleshoe Area Public Library and the High Plains Bookmobile, both of Muleshoe, are listed among the qualified libraries. To carry out these programs, the system will receive a $255,517 grant this year from funds appropriated under provisions of the Texas Library Systems Act of 1969 administered by the Texas State Library. Lubbock City-County Library serves as the Major Resource Center for the system. System services in the area will focus upon providing technical assistance to libraries and upon increasing the range of print and audiovisual materials and access to these materials. Individual libraries will be able to purchase materials for their collections, and a books-by-mail program will provide access to a collection of paperback books bought by the system. The collection will be expanded with new titles in December and June.

The 16 mm film collection will be expanded, and libraries will also have access to sound filmstrips on a number of topics. Hale Center Public Library is a new member of the system this year. Other member libraries are Andrews County Library, Howard County Library at Big Spring, Kendrick Memorial Library at Brownfield, Crane County Library, Crosby County Library at Crosbyton, Yoakum County Library at Denver City, Floyd County Library at Floydada, High Plains, Bookmobile, Winkler County Library at Kermit, Dawson County Public Library at Lamesa, Hockley County Memorial Library at Levelland, Lamb County Library at Littlefield, Lubbock County-City Library, Upton County Public Library at McCamey, Midland County Public Library, Ward County Library at Monahans, Cochran County Library at Morton, Muleshoe Area Public Library, Ector County Library at Odessa, Yoakum County Library at Plains, Unger Memorial Library at Plainview, Post Public Library, Rankin Public Library and Gaines County Library at Seminole.

How To Cook Game Birds

Game bird hunting for tantalizing table tidbits this fall? Here's a cooking review of "how to" from Mrs. Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

WILD DUCK
Serve it rare—unless your crowd demands well done...in which case, cook longer but don't toughen it. (Wild duck is already dark and drier than domestic meat.) To help retain moisture, roast it with strips of bacon or in a covered roaster or slow cooker—or marinate in vinegar oil before cooking. Wild duck is great barbecued, too, or rolled in flour and browned by frying, then smothered with gravy and baked.

WILD TURKEY
Males average 14 pounds, females eight. For roasting wild turkey, allow three-fourths to one cup stuffing per pound of ready-to-cook meat. Or barbecue it.

WILD GESE
...a real delicacy, with little waste. The meat is rich, dark, and lean. Old birds sport a few pinfeathers, coarse plumage, and extremely large wind spurs. These old ones are tough and not easy to tenderize, even with moist heat. For wild goose, use bread stuffing with onions and tart apples for flavor. Or fill the bird with sliced apples and roast it.

QUAIL
...a hunter's favorite, a gourmet treat. Quails weigh only four to six ounces, so serve at least one bird per person. Quail meat is white but dry; it needs a protective cover of bacon or some other fat, and frequent basting. Quail is delicious roasted (with lemon butter, then add mushrooms at serving time) or fried (for fine flavor.)

DOVE
These birds are dark-meat and the young ones are tender. Two make a serving. Fry like chicken: salt, flour and fry in a heavy pan, in corn oil. Brown, remove, drain. Add one chopped onion, parsley, cloves, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter, salt, a pint of water, and two cups wine. Bake for one hour at 350 degrees F.

PHEASANT
Like chicken, pheasant have light-meat breast and wings, and dark-meat legs. The cock weighs two and three-fourths to five pounds; the hen, two to three pounds. In cooking, age of the bird matters. Short round claws mean a young bird and long sharp claws mark an old one. Bake or broil young birds and baste or stew older ones. Pheasant is dry, so roast with bacon strips on the breast and baste often. Use almost any chicken recipe, and complement with wild rice dressing.

WOODCOCK
These small, migratory birds have rich, dark meat. Season lightly, and always roast or broil with a generous amount of bacon, butter or margarine. For casserole, flour and brown in fat, drain, cover with sweet or sour cream and bake for 30 minutes until tender.

COUPLE PLAN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Stallings of Bovina, formerly of Muleshoe, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Vicki, to George Goebel of Amarillo. The couple will be married Friday, September 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Paramount Baptist Church in Amarillo. Miss Stallings is employed by Dr. Charles Lewis of Muleshoe and Goebel is employed by Keith's Hair Design.

Fashion
The empire style dress with the high waistline seems to be a favorite for summer dresses. The square neckline or a square look fashioned with lace or narrow embroidery is seen on many of these garments. Braid is used as a trimming on some of the new fall suits and dresses.

Answers To Bible Verse
1. King Solomon.

4. Ecclesiastes 2:14a.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

If your yard hanging baskets have grown too large to bring indoors, start new plants now. Most plants will root in water or sand. A reminder to parents of pre-school children—there are only a few weeks left before school starts. Be sure they have a physical and required immunization shots.

Duane Lloyd, outgoing President, opened the meeting with the election of Charles Bratcher as the 1977-78 President. Also elected was Ronnie Holt, First Vice President and Mrs. Owen Jones as Secretary Treasurer. A membership drive was discussed and Mrs. Gil Lamb was appointed Membership Chairman. An important message to our customers.

It's as though the folks in Washington just woke up one day and decided there was an energy crisis and decided to try to right all the wrongs over night. The facts are that your electric company has been doing something about our demanding natural gas reserves for more than six years. We haven't planned or constructed a gas fired generation facility since 1971. And since that same time we've been planning to use coal as our primary generation fuel. We've just completed and put into operation Harrison Station—a coal fired Generation plant near Amarillo.

But we need the opportunity to phase out the gas fired facilities at a savings economical to you, our customers. New power plants cost money... cost you money, because you are our only source of money. We have a program that makes it possible for us to stop using natural gas to make electricity by 1985 at the latest.

It's a program you can afford. It's a program that will help alleviate rising costs. Sure, you'll pay more for electricity in the future. You'll be paying more for everything, but under our plan you'll pay a lot less than you'll have to pay if Senate Bill 1472 passes. 1423,000,000 less between 1983 and 1990.

Why? Because Senate Bill 1472 says that even though we are building coal fired power plants as fast as you can afford them, you're still going to be penalized, by almost a half billion dollars. Just because some staff member in Congress thinks you should build them faster. And remember it's your money that builds these new plants.

The Good News in all this is that your Congressman voted against raising your electric bill, voted against giving you poor service... but he was out-voted. Now what you can do is write your United States Senator (his name and address are printed below for your convenience) and tell him to vote against Part E in Senate Bill 1472 and against the gas users' tax in Senate Bill 1472. Why? BECAUSE YOU CAN'T AFFORD THESE BILLS. And that's a darn good reason. Let the people in Washington know that YOU CARE what they're doing with YOUR MONEY!

Thank you

Bentsen Attacks Delay On Wheat Decisions

BENTSON ATTACKS DELAY ON WHEAT PRODUCTION DECISION
Senator Lloyd Bentsen Thursday urged the Administration to quit stalling on its decision to hold wheat acreage out of production.

Yesterday, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland was expected to announce the Administration's plan for withholding wheat land from production for the first time since 1973, because of a world-wide wheat surplus resulting from three consecutive bumper crops in the U.S. and better than average wheat harvests in other countries. According to published reports, the decision was postponed after the Administration was warned that a reduction in U.S. wheat production combined with a global harvest failure in 1978 would have severe impact on the U.S. economy, diplomacy and world hunger. "Once again, those not associated with agriculture are making it the whipping boy of the economy. There is no excuse for this sort of timing. The proposal for a reduction in wheat production has not been hastily conceived. It has been in the mill since last year's bumper harvests. The eve of the planting season is no time for such a disruptive announcement - a development which could have easily been avoided by planning ahead," Bentsen said.

Secretary Bergland was expected to announce a wheat set-aside of some 20 percent of this year's production for the 1978 wheat crop. Bentsen added, "Tomorrow would not be soon enough for this indecision to be cleared up. Texas wheat growers are now preparing for this season's planting. "Should the Administration proceed with the announcement of a reduction of wheat production, I hope they will include a provision to allow the planting of winter wheat on acreage withheld from market. It is vital that such acreage be planted in wheat to provide grazing land and to prevent the loss of valuable top soil to winter winds," Bentsen said.

The Home Economic girls of the Junior Class of Lazbuddie High are sponsoring a class for two and three year olds. The class is called "Storytime" and will be held in the Elementary Library. "Storytime" is mainly a class to help the children learn to get along with others and it will help the homemaking girls learn how to get along with children of this age. Classes will start September 9th at 9:30 a.m. and will last until 10:15 a.m. Classes will be every other Friday on September 23, October 7, October 21, and will conclude on Thursday, November 3. Anyone who has a child this age or knows of children this age is encouraged to ask them to attend. School may be boring but who knows, this may be a lot of fun.
