Republicans Attention!!

On next Saturday evening there will be PUBLIC SPEAKING on the Main Plaza.

The Speaking on the Plaza.

In our editorial capacity we have been compelled to wade through such an amount of the democratic slop in trade, in the way of speeches, addresses, etc., that like the boy in the candy shop, we have handled so much of the trash, that when the democratic hand vomits up this vile rubbish, we have no particular desire to investigate what it is made of. This is mainly the reason why we took but few notes of the balderdash, with which the public were regaled on the Main Plaza on Thursday last, but as it is our duty to chronicle the affair, we shall proceed to do so, the tediousness of the job almost overcoming an inherent desire to give expression to the contempt we entertain for the democratic party. In order to obtain a correct idea of the whole proceedings, we shall first give a few particulars as to the time and place, individuals and attendant circumstances.

TIME.

September 24th, A. D. 1871, just about 6 weeks since the time, that the stars and stripes were victorious and the stars and bars went down into the dust, and Abraham Lincoln was assassinated by a southern democrat; and immediately after republican victories in Wyoming, Delaware, California and Maine.

PLACE.

In the Main Plaza of the city of San Antonio about 60 yards from the gallery of the Plaza House, from which at the commencement of the rebellion, before Sam Houston had been killed into silence, Col. Chilton told an audience, that disapproved of his secession speech, that he would return one of these days with his regiment and string the obstinate dach up; (the Germans were called dach in those days), Col. Chilton was the democrat, that hung Montgomery. It must also be kept in mind, that San Antonio is a republican stronghold, and this had a chilling effect on the democratic eloquence of the speakers.

THE DEMOCRATS PARTICIPATING.

GOV. THROCKMORTON.

We had never seen Gov. Throckmorton before, and we liked his looks; he looks like an honest man and his speech is that of a gentleman. We should say he was a representative of that class in the South, that furnish the democracy with brains and respectability. Such men form a small but influential class; they are honest in their convictions, and upright in their lives, and are standing references; to which their blackguard partisans point, when they want to show, that the democracy has some respectability left.

As we have failed to observe, that he is looked upon as a moral leper and branded a legislative thief like Hancock and Hamilton, and is always respectfully treated by our republican exchanges, and we infer, that we are correct in the supposition that Governor Throckmorton belongs to the class referred. Such men are very useful men in some respects; but as far as the progress and advancement of the country is concerned, they are of about as much use as a frozen-to-death rooster in a barn-yard.

GENERAL HAMILTON

was ill; he had probably neglected to follow the advice of Nasby and refrain from intoxicating "fluids" for at least three hours before speaking. As Hamilton's name is a well known synonym of selfishness and dishonesty, further reference to him is unnecessary.

GENERAL SHELLEY.

On account of the indisposition of Hancock, Gen. Shelly, who has been stamping the District in his behalf, was called to the stand. Gen. Shelly is unknown in this section of the country.

The South has always been cursed with a peculiar class, of what may be called (ironically) chivalry. They are most southern born and plantation raised, who are absolutely unfitted for any other position, than that of a third rate lawyer. They have about as much practical education as a yankee schoolboy, and as much cheek as a New York Bowery rough; they have not enough learning, to be successful in the profession, and are sufficiently fluent in slang to have influence with "the poor white trash of the South". They are generally found around obscure bar rooms and other disreputable places. Before republican management of affairs, they were especially useful to the democracy in the assassination business. It was the task of these framed blackguards at the outbreak of the rebellion, to fire the southern heart, and this was the only job, that we ever heard of their having done well. These were then, and are now, the tools of the Southern leaders, some of whom can at least lay claim to learning and decency.

How far Gen. Shelly represents this class we shall leave it to his friends, who are better acquainted with him, to determine. As a speaker his delivery and grammar are execrable; if he were good looking and witty, he would do to compare with Mr. Upson of this city.

This Gen. Shelly is the individual, who made a motion in the Legislature of 1866, that it be forbidden to bury Union soldiers in the Austin Cemetery, because the ashes of a number of prominent traitors were interred there, he wanted the birchings discontinued.

GENERAL KNOX.

Gen. Knox is too well known to our citizens to need any comment from us, he was an original Union man, afterwards a Confederate militia General; he has always been unflinching in his political views, until the crisis came. He is not better nor worse than the rest of democratic politicians; we understand, however, that he has recently promised to vote for Mr. Degener.

PEYTON SMYTH.

Here is an original fighting Unionist in the wrong place. Mr. Smyth went off on the Jack Hamilton tangent and was defeated in the election for District Clerk, which seems to have put a keen edge on his animosity to the republican party.

W. R. STONEY.

This gentleman, who keeps a livery stable on Acquia St., was also on the stand. He appeared to be there for the purpose of shaking hands with Throckmorton and congratulating him "on his noble effort"; he did this in a gushing manner and then retired.

MAJ. JO DWYER.

This signitary occupied a corner of the stand and seemed to be there for the purpose of getting off "The loud laugh that speaks the vacant mind."

POOR OLD FLAG.

We did not hear the beginning of Gov. Throckmorton's speech. It was earnest and fair, until he came to those national enemies of democracy, the State Police, and then he wallowed in the slough of vituperation and abuse in a manner, worthy of Hancock himself.

Shelly's speech was a compilation of the customary slang, with an occasional outburst of "the last ditch" style and made pathetic toward the close by a mandarin whining lament about the effect of the school law on "our mothers"; this part of the rignarole had such a whiskey twang in it, that it gave reason to believe, the General had spent the previous portion of the evening at the bed side of his indisposed friend, the other Governor.

As the public has been surfeited of late, we shall give no further account of the speeches to the white element, but will refer to the funny part of the proceedings, the attempt to bamboozle "the man, and the brother". Although Shelly, said the howls of the coyote pack in front of him, defiantly told the colored men, "he didn't care a great how they voted, he afterwards reconsidered and addressed himself exclusively to the colored men. He was going to tell the truth, "old massa took care of you, when sick, "ole massa your best friend, "ole massa don't hate, it wasn't your fault, you got your freedom, "ole massa loves you, "don't try to run agin the white man, Yankee didn't set you free, southerners didn't, "it was your God that set you free" (pathetically).

To see and hear this defamer of Governor Davis, now bullying and threatening, then cooing and wheedling, to see the majestic solemnity of Smyth's face, as he listened to all this balderdash, (Peyton, we want the receipt for that face to go to a funeral with), and the sea of indignant incredulous black faces of the audience, was a scene for an artist. One clear voice spoke out from the crowd: "We is gwine for the party that took the yoke off our necks!"—A rough kernel of republican wheat amid all the democratic chaff, that had been blown into the wind during the course of the evening.

The effect of Shelly's colored speech was good. If there was a colored man, (they here a vote now, Mr. Shelly) who was wavering, it settled his mind for him. This climax of absurdities was crowned by the sudden appearance of an exquisitely dressed young man with more whiskers and energy, than brains, and discretion. He wanted to make a little transaction in wool, but the wool pulling didn't succeed. He said Shelly had not lied, and that James P. Newcomb had advised the negroes to create a disturbance at the election. This was met by a universal denial of the most decided character on the part of his colored audience, who gave the gentleman a lie of his own to take care of. The meeting then dispersed quietly.

Texas Items.

Dr. GOTTLEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that, as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr. Fisch's Bitters enables the System to liberate and appropriate those Forces, creates Appetite, cures Dyspepsia, with its resulting Debility and lack of Nervous Energy; so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Biliousness impossible; restores the System as it can tide over bad results of changing climate, water, &c., and better endures the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Ladies in delicate health, aged persons, and all enfeebled and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

THE BASE BALL MATCH AT THE FAIR

GROUND.—The Base Ball match which took place at the Fair grounds on a Thursday afternoon between the two clubs—"O'Connell" and "Pryme"—representing the Cavalry and Infantry stationed at the Post, although not announced on the programme, was the event of the day.

The "O'Connell" club representing the cavalry and named after Maj. O'Connell, their commander, appeared in blue flannel pants, tied close at the ankle, red shirts, with the letters "O' C" in black velvet on the breast, and skull caps of white merino with a blue star on the top. The Pryme club, named after the Captain of the Infantry Company, appeared in their usual military uniform.

The game was played with considerable spirit during the first few innings some of the "Pryme's" showed skill in their game, it became evident that they were rusty and sadly out of practice; the fifth inning was hotly contested by the Pryme's it ending some and score (3)—in the next inning the "Pryme's" weakened out badly —but picked up again in the sixth inning, scoring 4 to the O'Connells 3,—the rest of the game was dead against them closing on the seventh inning with the O'Connell at bat and no man out, the score standing O'Connell (cavalry) 6, Pryme (Infantry), 3.

The following is the score:

They find it so much so cheaper than divorce suits.

THE FAIR.—The first day of a Fair is never the most attractive one, therefore the attendance on Thursday was much larger than the preceding day; indeed, as the Secretary of the Association, Mr. Boshout informed us, the attendance and receipts were greatly in excess of that of any day of any preceding Fair.

The ladies especially turned out in magnificent array—the day being an exceedingly pleasant one.

The exhibition building was a perfect mass of beings, arising and moving from one point of attraction to another.

The display of beauty and attire on the part of the ladies, surpassed any gathering of the fair ones in San Antonio, for many years; this, in fact, was the most attractive feature of the occasion. We anticipate a still greater improvement upon this most interesting feature of the Fair.

Floving.

The most interesting performance during the 2nd day of the fair was the trials with plows and harrows, which took place in a field attached to the fair grounds. Elmendorf & Co, and Norton & Deutz had a plow and two harrows each, on the ground.
The plows used on the trial were drawn by two horses.

Norton & Deutz furnished the Avery plow, and Elmendorf & Co. the Clipper plow. Both are most excellent plows and the ground was thrown up in a most satisfactory manner. The judges decided, that the Avery plow was the best, and awarded it the prize, as they believed that it plowed the deeper and could be handled with greater ease. The share of this plow is narrow and long, while that of the Clipper is steeper and shorter.

The speakers last Thursday night failed to refer to the amendments and the old flag.

It is not good manners to say rope is the family of a man that was hung.

While on the stand at the speaking the other night, a Republican statesman nudged us and requested that we take notes of Shelly's speech, remarking that they were pearls. We said, just so, and they are being cast before swine.

This is dangerous, as the result will be that "the swine turn upon you and send you."

Look out! Pearl scatterers.

An oculist charged a man $1,000 for taking out an eye. The patient "couldn't see it."

SALES FOR 1870

Larger than any other Sewing Machine manufactured in the United States.

THE
"HOWE" Sewing Machines

Received the Cross of the Legion of Honor and Gold Medal at the Paris Exposition, in 1867,

And the Gold Medal at Amsterdam Exhibition, in 1869.

And have invariably obtained the Highest Honor at all the great exhibitions; also, received, successively, the highest Premiums at our Texas State Fairs, in 1870 AND 1871.

The "HOWE"

is the most durable, simplest, most complete in all its parts, uses the shortest and smallest needle, for the same sized thread, than any other Machine, which is far less liable to break; it is so perfect in all repects that with ordinary care,
it will last a life time without repair.

"Elias Howe's"

NEWLY IMPROVED

FAMILY SEWING MACHINE

which for simplicity and superiority of mechanism, beauty and excellence of stitch, economy of thread, strength of seam and variety of work is unsurpassed by any other Machine.

It will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid bind, and perform every species of sewing, plain and ornamental, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, called the "Howe" Lock Stitch, which is formed by two threads, one upon each side of the material, sewed and locked together in the centre, forming an elastic seam, and preserving the same appearance on both sides.

A stitch of this character commands highest and especially appropriate for sewing woven material, and if suitable thread be used the seam will prove as strong and elastic as the fabric itself.

At the present time no less than 400 Machines are turned out daily, and each and every one is guaranteed perfect, and made of the best material.

We have constantly on hand a full assortment of these celebrated Machines.

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs.

This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body.

Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest pre-disposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms, and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased humors and acids, which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rose up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the surest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid humors that is causing disease and decay in the whole system.
They will clear out the liver of all diseased and new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy life is secured.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the inlets are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is for a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered.
It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthful, living blood. After the restorative treatment, what remains to cure, most cases of Consumption is the free and preserving use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup.
The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, which once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers, and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the water cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure a new order of things—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung; live and enjoy life as a good old age. This is what Schenck's Medicines will do to cure Consumption.
They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take outdoor exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant.
Confirmed Consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my Medicines consists in my ability to subside inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do.

An inflamed lung cannot, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of Winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the Medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the First of October I expect to take possession of my new building, at the North-east Corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my Medicines, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.
