Equito Mark Twain.
Newspaper writers will thoroughly appreciate the following o'er-trus tale, which we take from the Philadelphia Dispatch:
"A week or two ago one of our reporters had occasion to refer to a certain woman, whom we will call Hannah Smith, as a denizen of the Eleventh Ward. A day or two afterward a huge man entered the office with his brow clothed with thunder.
In his hand he carried a fearful club, and at his side trotted a bull-dog, when his anger had evidently made desperate. With that quick appreciation of the situation which is creditable to the superior intelligence of educated men, the editor of this paper and the proprietors darted to the window, climbed outside, slid down the lighting-rod, and went across the street to watch the bloody fray through a spy-glass. With the ferociousness of conscious innocence we sat still, merely flictering our legs in two sections of stove-pipe to guard against any misapprehension of facts on the part of the building. The man with the club approached.
"Are you the editor?" he asked, spitting on his hand and grasping his club. We told that the editor was out; that he had gone to the north pole with Captain Hall, and that he would not return before 1876,
in time for the centennial celebration.
"Are you the proprietor?" asked the man.
We explained to him that we were not;
that the proprietors were also out; that they had gone to South America for the purpose of investigating the curative properties of curandango, and they expected to remain there for several years.
"Well, whoever you are," exclaimed the warrior, "my name is Smith." We told him we were glad, because, if there was one thing better than the possession of the name of Smith, it was the privilege of knowing a man of that name.
"But Smith, we said, why this battle array? It is absurd for a man to put on the panoply of war, and frisk into editors' sanctuaries fumbling a club and accompanied by a disheveling-bull dog, simply because his name happens to be Smith."
He said he called in to burst the head of the man who had insulted his sister.
"It is impossible, Smith, that such a thing could have been done by any one in this office."
"Is, but it was, though; and her name was published, too! Miss Smith—Miss Hanner Smith!"
"May we be permitted to inquire, Mr.
Smith, what was the precise character of the affront offered to Hannah?"
"Well, you see," said Smith, "the blackguard said she was a denizen. And I want you to understand, and I'm calling his club in a wild manner over our heads, while the bull dog advanced and commenced to snif-up and down our stove-pipe—"I want you to understand that she is a decent young woman, with a good character, and none of your denizens and such truck. The man who says she is a denizen is a blackguard and thief, and I'll smash him over the nose if I get a chance. They may say what they please about me, but the man who insults my sister has got to suffer." And Smith struck the table in a violent manner with his club, while the bull dog put his fore-legs up on the back of our chair.
We pacified Smith with a dictionary.
We pointed out to that raging warrior that the Websterian definition of the word
"denizen" gives such a person an offending character and deprives the term of everything like reproach. Smith said he was satisfied, and he shook hands and kicked the bull dog down stairs. The editor and proprietor, seeing that all was safe, immediately climbed the lighting rod, and soon appeared at their window, where they were introduced to Smith, with the remark that they had returned from the North Pole and the climate of the curandango somewhat unexpectedly, in order to surprise their relations.
And now we suppose Smith will be mad because we have told this story about him, and he will be coming down to interview us again, in war's magnificent stern array with a fresh bull dog. But if will be in vain. We have rented an office in the top of the shot-tower, and have planted torpedoes and spring guns all the way up the stairs. We warn this incendiary Smith to beware.

General McKenzie has been instructed to relinquish his proposed expedition into the WICKITA Indian country, and retire upon Jackboro, Jack County, on the extreme northern frontier of Texas, where an attack is expected by the Sioux and Cheyennes, lately defeated and driven in that direction by General Oakes—Washington Telegram to Chicago Tribune.
We have made inquiry at Gen. Reynolds Headquarters as to the above important piece of information;—and were informed there, that no such instructions have been communicated to Gen. McKenzie, and that the expedition is still on the "war path."
And so Private Arthur Patrick is to be made Duke of Connaught, and is to have a palace in Ireland. Simple, blundering old John Bull! Don't you know that the day for such blarney is past, and that the smiles of a Queen's son, even he were a fair Prince with bright blue eyes and lighter looted than a fox, will not fill an empty stomach, soften the heart of a cruel landlord, nor mend the rents in a tattered garment?
No, nor will it diminish the rents of the tenantry.

A New England contemporary says:
"The girls have got a new hobby. This time it is the collection of different patterns of printed calico. One in New Hampshire has gathered together one thousand different kinds.
Surgeon, having been offered $10,000 in gold to write a life of Christ, sent word that a good life of Christ as could be written was to be found in the New Testament.
Lawrence, Mass., citizens were muchly excited on Wednesday by the futile efforts of a big surgeon to get up over the falls, and finally were smart enough to capture him with an ice pick. There were 300 pounds of him.
An Indiana man claims to have succeeded in playing a thorough confidence game upon the potato bug. He planted a grain of corn in each potato hill, and as the corn came up first the bugs thought it was a corn field and started for other scenes.
The simplest and cheapest way to cool a room is to wet a cloth of any size, the larger the better, and suspend it in the place you want cooled. Let the room be well ventilated, and the temperature will sink from ten to twenty degrees in less than an hour.
Chilard, the can-can dancer at the Ju-seventy years of age, lately died. He was only an amateur dancer. His real name was Leveaux, and he was a well-to-do leather merchant on the Boulevard du Prince Eugene.

The Commercial National Bank of Cincinnatus has been swindled out of $2,500 by the raised check process. The operator pretended to be a Mr. Sherman, a grain dealer from Chicago. He has not been ap-reached.
A man in Galveston, the other day, who complained of being overheat, effected a permanent cure without the aid of a physician, by drinking six glasses of ice water.
He was cool when the Coroner came.
A bright paper-lin. Mather handed this request to the pastor of a Showhegan church on a recent Sunday: "Mr. pastor, please pray for the owners of the poor, that they obeyed the laws of the State and furnished him a decent pair of boots or shoes to walk to meeting in."

Ruminating Democratic Thoughts

Politics rush in where angels fear to tread. There is no question so difficult to handle as the negro question. In this section we democrats have maintained the same masterly silence in regard to the negro question, that we have to the departure, and here comes some jack-legged lawyer from Austin and the first time he opens his mouth, he puts his foot in it.

The democratic orator should be well posted as to the character of the people before he undertakes to make a speech, and our local democrats, or at least those of them that are in the lead, should not permit a fellow like Shelly, to speak at all in San Antonio, even if Jack Hamilton is too drunk to fulfill his engagement. No body is surprised at Jack not speaking, for it is well known, that he always gets drunk before he reaches the place, or does what is worth, makes a drunken speech, but even then, every body knows, that Jack is to far gone, to be responsible for what he says and he does no harm much.

New I know Shelly restrained himself wonderfully, and he deserves credit for that. When he is off in Oakville or Gonzales, where there are no Germans and the democracy flourishes, he is the right man in the right place, and he can fire the Southern heart in a manner, that reminds one of old times; it is the old Confederates up like a drink of whiskey, to hear him thunder about your sons, whose dust lies in their tattered uniforms in the sacred soil they died to preserve, or to rouse them up by telling of the glorious days of the old Lone Star Republic, when we had no taxes to pay and our soil was unpolluted by the foul heel of Hessians; and then too our people are too ignorant to be fooled by this mixing up the direct and indirect taxes and making out, that we really are in a tight place. But for him to make a speech of that kind to a large audience of people of San Antonio is nearly all of whom can read and write and understand the laws, is worse than folly. The Germans, that were present not only refused to cheer but they went away disgusted, and now their eyes have been opened in a way, that is dangerous.

It is true, the Germans do not associate with the negroes as familiar as we old slaveholders used to, but they don't like to see any one bullied and that was the last thing Shelly should have tried. What we want to get here is the German vote, and if we are premature and talk or act like we intend to do, as soon as it is safe, the consequence will be, that they will become alarmed and go against us.

We hope, that many of them will vote with us, because they don't understand our character, and they think we would let by gone be by-gones, and that we are different from what we were, when we used to persecute them; but when an ignorant and violent secessionist like Shelly is turned loose, even though he does restrain himself, the effect is bad. It was not expected, that he would speak, I know, and it would have been better, to have let Knex or Snythe, or even Teel, make a speech, than to have Shelly show his teeth in the way he did.

We must be cautious, and this way of going on the one of an election will ruin Hancock.

It won't do, when Germans are about, to remind the niggers that they were worth $1500, or to talk about, how their old masters treated them; that dodge has been tried faithfully before, and it won't work even with the negroes.

If Throckmorton did any good, it was more than undone by what Shelly said. This is evident, because there was an immense audience, and only about one third of them cheered.

One more such speech as that, and up we go. When will our leaders get a little sense in such matters?

Snooks, then bleeding son of a down-trodden taxpayer, had then ever had they not stirred up by a silver-tongued politician, had though never been called away by the residence of someone of some gigantic mind and been obliged to hire a hack to get back in, if so, then let us go over to the Main Plaza and hang—(Snooks turned pale.) Let us go over to the Main Plaza and hang on the tip of an elongated patriot of the unadorned stripe by the name of Hancock, a democratic lamb of unheard of whiteness, but without a man of mettle, he has won golden opinions at enclure where he has gone, he has steel in his eye, and brass enough in his face to make a tin kettle, he has been tried in the school of adversity and dishonorably acquitted, he has been tried by a recorder and fined, and he has been refused until there is no more doubt about the purity of his motives.

Snooks said he was afraid because his life wasn't insured for when Hancock spoke he hurled Davis and his minions from power and one of the minions nearly dropped on him, he said if a minion was hurled from the giddy sight of 60 dollars a month and were to fall upon a democratic taxpayer it would crush him.

We told him it was not a good night for hurling despots and we went it alone.

There was a young man gazing at the moon. He observed it was a calm unruffled night.

We asked him to point him to point out to us but he refused.

We observed the days of chivalry had passed by.

He said if they had he had noticed them.

We asked him if he wanted to raise the withering finger of scorn done up in a rag, and pointed at the radical trickers.

As he didn't answer, we said good night and went.

An immense crowd of washed tax-payers had gathered in the Plaza. We approached a walking whiskey barrel without any hoops but with a blooming countenance, and asked him:

"Why do the heathen rage and the people imagine a vain thing?"

He said it was the sign of the Times.

We said that Jonas was one sign of the times to a wicked and adulterous generation, and that the other sign of the Times was on the Times building, in New York; We asked him how a split ring with a hole busted in the middle, would do as a sign of the Times, for a wicked and adulterous generation.

He asked what Ring?

We said Tammany Ring.

There was a large scaffold on the Plaza, and some man on it who looked like they ought to be hung.

We asked "whose funeral it was?"

He said that "Gov. Hamilton would begin the performance by hurling a minion, and afterwards he would take Degener's scalp and spin the Radical party.

We asked him if the new skin had grown on since Hancock had skinned it, he said he didn't know when Hancock had skinned it last. We said we didn't either.

Then we wanted to know which was Hamilton and which was the minion; then was a fellow on the scaffold that looked like a minion, we wanted to know if that was 'nt the minion, he said no that the gentleman was a wholesome patriot and an ardent democrat of the old fashioned kind.

We said, O!

Directly another man that looked like a minion got up, and said that as Governor Hamilton was sick the skinning, and the despot hurling would not be done by him but by General Shelly, and he introduced the first minion who spoke in a whispered bow!

THE MINION'S HOWL.

O! ye washed, ground-to-powder and spit upon tax payers, you don't know me and that's all the better for me, and I don't know you, and that is all the better for you, but we belong to the same lay out.

Don't you feel the yoke upon your necks, don't you hear the clanking of your chains, eh! The petty despot, E. J. Davis, has laid his iron hand on that, which is his sacred and dearest to a democratic taxpayer, he won't let us do as we used to on election days.

But that is not all.

This pewter-buttoned squirt gun of a governor is putting us on the level with the nigger; we the proud Caucasian descendants of degenerate sires are to be compelled to send our dear little children, these tender blossoms to school.

But that is not all.

O, lovely woman, our mothers, our sisters are insulted by that despicable unhang villain E. J. Davis, he compels us to wash our children's faces before they go to school.

But this is not all.

You that have tears to shed, prepare to let them slide. You have to send your children to a vile radical school teacher.

But this is not all.

But it was all for us.

These scathing denunciation of radicalism had crushed our spirits, we wrapped them up in an old newspaper and left the mission stirring up soap in a funny way on the scaffold with a samaras stick for the amusement of the great unwashed.

SHELLY got off a good joke on the colored folks the other night.

He told of an old negro making soap, and of his stopping to see her for a little while, as the day was hot, and a funny little conversation he had with her, the gist of it was that she was making soap to take the stink off the children.

This is the anecdote with which Shelly tickled the old Rebel.

The stink has not been strong enough, however, to prevent the chivalry from filling the country with mulattoes.

In the Arena.

On the judges stand we found quite an array of prominent men of this community, among whom were Gen. Joseph J. Reynolds, Commanding Department, General Young, the Fair Marshal, Col. N. S. Constable, U. S. A., Judge Noonan, Col. R. W. Peay, Dr. Kingsbury, and others not known to us by name.

The arena exhibition was opened by a half mile race for a purse of $25 between Mr. Stephens mare, of Washington Co, and Mr. Drapers horse, of San Antonio which resulted in a victory for the latter.

This was a very pretty race and hotly contested. Mr. Drapers horse got the lead and pushed ahead until at the quarter stretch he was about four lengths in advance of his opponent. In making the second quarter, however, Mr. Stephens' mare pulled up finely leaving a doubt as to which would pass the string first; but the distance gained by Drapers horse in the first quarter was a little too great to be made up in a half mile race. The horses passed the string with Drapers horse about a third of a length ahead.

THE SECOND RACE was a half mile stretch, for all ages, for a purse of $25. For this race there were four entries, the purse being won by Mr. Abbotts grey horse.

Then followed stock exhibition as follows:

Best stallion, 4 years old and over. For this prize there were three entries and resulted in favor of the chestnut sorrel owned by Mr. Wm. Davenport.

The next call was for best stallion 3 years old and under four; for which there were four entries. This was a very good display of young stock. The prize in this instance was awarded to a fine chestnut orrel owned by Gen. Jefferson of Seguin.

The next call was for best mare or gelding, Texas raised, 4 years old or over.

There were seven entries for this premium showing a very good display of animals, but the contest lay between Gen. Reynolds black mare and a handsome chestnut sorrel, owned by Jno. C. Ray, of San Antonio, the prize being awarded to the latter.

For "Best match mules for carriage or buggy" two entries, Capt. W. G. Tobin's 4 year old blacks took the premium, as did also his single male, black, for buggy.

For "Best display of one horse and vehicle" there was but one entry Mr. Alex. Schnetz bay horse, which was a very sprightly little animal that would have taken the premium against a large competition.

The next announcement was a mile race for best trotting horse or mare in harness, coming in 4 minutes. This brought up the strollers through the grounds to the arena and elicited considerable interest.

The entries were but two. Mr. Schnetz's handsome little bay, and a large bay owned and driven by Col. R. W. Peay. The start was made on the first offer, Schnetz's horse gaining the lead, which he increased to about ten lengths by the time the first quarter was made, and held it passing the half stretch; but before the third quarter was reached, Mr. Peays horse had pulled up on him, and after passing the third quarter, neck and neck, Mr. Schnetz's poney broke and fell behind, giving Col. Peay the lead, by twenty yards, before he could be hauled down to a trot again. On the home stretch the little horse recovered his ground well, closing up the gap between him and Peay's horse very handsomely, but the distance to make was too short to get the lead again, and the horses passed the string with Mr. Peays bay not quite a length ahead, running the race in 3:42.

The day's sport closed with the hurdle race which, as usual, was the most exciting and amusing event of the afternoon. There were nine teen entries for this race in which were displayed every type of Texas raised stock from the cow ponies to the long-necked racer. Some of the efforts of the attempts to jump the hurdle were most ludicrous. Some horses under full speed would stop short at the bar, throwing their rider nearly out of the saddle; others halt and jump over like the lurch of a ship, and some shy off and refuse to go over. There were however two or three good jumpers that, with practice would do credit to the best hurdle races.

The prize for the hurdle race was won by Master Willie Kingsbury who, as on the preceding days, exhibited commendable skill in horsemanship.

WHISKEY Jack never reached San Antonio, he is drunk somewhere between here and Austin. We have been mercifully dealt with. "The prayer of the righteous availeth much."

WE ARE informed that Mr. Gregory, our former city Marshall will not leave his post on the frontier for several months to come. His leave of absence has already expired.

Dr. GOTTLIEB FISCH'S BITTERS.

This preparation of the great Scientist, Dr. Gottlieb Fisch, of Germany, is based on the fact that, as all materials of the body are derived from Food, so all Vital Force, or Health, is derived from the Force stored up in Food. Dr. Fisch's Bitters enables the system to liberate and appropriate these Forces, creates Appetite, strengthens Digestion, with its resulting healthfulness and lack of Nervous Energy, so tones the Stomach and Liver as to make Constipation and Biliousness impossible; reinforces the system so it can the over and result of changing climate, water, &c., and better endure the demands often unexpectedly made on its Force and Energy. Leads to delicate health, and persons, and all emaciated and weak after sickness, will rapidly strengthen by using this great preparation.

"Elias Howe's"

NEWLY IMPROVED

FAMILY SEWING MACHINE

which for simplicity and superiority of mechanism, beauty and excellence of stitch, economy of thread, strength of seam and variety of work is unsurpassed by any other Machine.

It will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid bind, and perform every species of sewing, plain and ornamental, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, called the "Howe" Lock Stitch, which is formed by two threads, one upon each side of the material, sewed and locked together in the centre, forming an elastic seam, and presenting the same appearance on both sides.

A stitch of this character commends itself as especially appropriate for sewing woven material, and if suitable thread be used the seam will prove as strong and elastic as the fabric itself.

At the present time no less than 400 Machines are turned out daily, and each and every one is guaranteed perfect, and made of the best material.

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION.
The primary cause of Consumption is the derangement of the digestive organs. These organs must produce deficient nutriment for the system. By accumulation of the process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and the blood the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime, which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions; and then raise up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the sweetest and best remedy is Schenck's Maudrake Pills. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased matter, and give it a new and healthy action, by which nature and healthy life is secured.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Maudrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the best process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the food and preserving use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs—a cavity or abscess there,—the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure a new order of things—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's Medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be. It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take outdoor exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed Consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The great secret of my success with my Medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of Winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the Medicines continued until the body has restored the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the First of October I expect to take possession of my new building, at the Northeast Corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my Remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

 Agents for the Clappes Mowers and Reapers

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premium and Gold Medal. Proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for The Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principles.
 In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers run clippers in the Horse's Field, and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare. Send for pamphlet—investigate. See or write to some one who has used the clipper. See the Machine yourself, before you buy any other.
