Our played out Party.

It is the republican party that originates and carries out reforms while the democratic party stands to the loose passions of the people and opposes reform.

It is universally conceded by the civilized world, that the abolition of slavery was the greatest achievement of the century, and the credit of this great achievement is due solely to the republican party, for if the democratic party had prevailed, we all know, that we would have had slavery to-day.

The democratic party is incapable of bringing about any reform and does not propose any.

Very reform is, at first, opposed by the whims of old fogies and fools and the prejudices of the ignorant, and it is to these that the democratic appeals, and thus endeavors to perpetuate its existence.

For instance, the republican party proposes to educate the masses, and thus equalize all men, thus placing the poor on the level with the rich.

It is self-evident, that the poor and the laboring class should be educated, for if they are permitted to grow up in ignorance and vice, they will endanger the safety of the state, just as the uneducated class in the South were willing tools in the late attempt to overthrow the government.

The democratic opposes the free school system and endeavors to raise their again into power by appealing to the prejudices of the whites.

Republicanism means unity, centralization, and this is the tendency which is spreading all over Europe, and the liberties of the people are safe in the hands of those who saved the country from anarchy and discord.

The party that was strong enough to crush the rebellion and is not afraid to allow freedom of speech and press, and advocates practical education of all citizens, is the party in whose hands the management of the government may be safely entrusted.

Has the party that is afraid to avow any policy but that of exploded issues, is the party of retrogression, and is incapable of inaugurating reforms, or even maintaining those we are actually enjoying.

It may well be called "the played out party."

The Storm At Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2nd, 1871.

On the 29th of last month towards evening it began to rain in this locality, the wind was brisk from the east. On the first of Oct. the wind shifted to the south-west, and we had a heavy rain all day long.

By the afternoon of the same day the water had risen, and had encroached on the streets.

On the morning of the second nearly the whole of Indiana was under water, boats were navigated through the streets, while many of the people fled to the houses on higher grounds.

By 10 o'clock the water was a foot deep in the houses, but during the afternoon the wind shifted again to the north and the water receded as rapidly as it had arisen, so that this morning it is back at its former level.

Many of our business firms have sustained heavy losses, and the telegraph posts are down in many places, the railroad track in many places washed away and the train which should have arrived yesterday was obliged to halt six miles from the city on the prairie. Workmen are busy repairing the track but it will require several days for it to be placed in running order again.

The vessels lying at the wharves were not injured.

No resident of Indiana ever remembers to have seen the water rise as high as it did on this occasion.

General Apathy.

General apathy is more dangerous to our republican institutions than any other general vice known of.

General Apathy in the North and General Lee in the South, came very near establishing an aristocracy in the South, with slavery for its corner stone.

The people of the North were at one time in love with "the institution."

Their politicians bowed the knee before it and eloquent preachers of Gospel invoked it with a sort of necromancy.

They said it was ordained by Heaven for the benefit of both races.

To all human appearances slavery was victorious and the Sun of Republicanism had gone down.

It was not until the traitors, endangered the National Capital that the people of North removed Gen. Apathy.

In Wyoming, Montana, Maine and California the republicans have no use for him yet.

In San Antonio Gen. Apathy, and the men that tried to destroy our Government are working harmoniously against the Republican Party and PROGRESS.

Beware of Gen. Apathy and the Democratic Party, they are no friends of the tax payer.

The Republican party will overcome the world and is doing so every day.

It will rule the United States even if it had to put down another rebellion.

If the tax payers would like to pay for another little row of that kind let them support the democratic party and they can be accommodated at some future day.

The Galveston Storm.

The News of Tuesday morning gives the following account of the disastrous storm in Galveston. The water rose higher even than in 1867. Two steamers were sunk; the railroad track damaged, and much loss occasioned to merchants:

During the later hours of Saturday afternoon a slight drizzling rain, with a stiff northwest wind, was the first indication of the storm, which has continued, to this writing with almost unabated fury.

The rain and wind increased during Saturday night, and shifted to the southeast. At the dawn of Sunday the waters of the bay were creeping into the Strand. The rain came down in torrents throughout the entire day, flooding many parts of the city.

The services at the churches and Sabbath schools were dispensed with, and every one, not absolutely forced to be out, remained holed during the day. Sunday evening closed with a thickened sky and pouring rain.

MONDAY MORNING.

The outlook was drear enough. At an early hour we commenced our peregrinations to learn the state of affairs.

Going out to the eastern portion of the city we found water every where.

The waters of the bay had not advanced beyond the mark of Sunday, but the surface water had flooded almost every inch of ground in other directions. In many places it had flooded the lower floors of the residences, causing the occupants no trifling damage.

The storm raged terribly during Monday afternoon. At five P. M. the water from the bay had backed into the city, through the north and south streets, as far as Market.

At that hour the condition of things near the railroad depot was bad indeed.

The island, from the depot to the draw-bridge, was almost entirely submerged. The people living in that vicinity were either compelled to use boats to get to and from their houses, or to desert them entirely for a higher point on the island.

In the opposite direction matters were no better. East Broadway was almost entirely flooded, and the people were busy constructing boats on which to navigate.

The rain poured down in torrents until 8:30 P. M., when it ceased, and in its stead came the much feared norther, the coming of which the telegraph had apprised us earlier in the day.

This norther struck the city fair and square about dusk, and in a twinkling the water came tumbling in from the bay into the Strand, then into Market street, and it seemed as if it must flood the entire island.

Groups of men stood on the corners of the main thoroughfares speculating as to the chances of a good long swim for life, or the feasibility of stemming the rush of waters for a chance at a good "dry meal" at a far-off boarding house. Boats were brought into play as ferries from the Strand to Market street, and how and then a hack driver dared the consequences of a blind rush into the boiling water to convey some belated citizen to his home in the upper part of the city. Making a rush down Center street, after dark, we found the Washington Hotel people with plenty of water, and the shops and stores in the vicinity closed and deserted. As we stood looking down Market street, seeing only a wild waste of water, we could but feel that the people who live in the vicinity of the railway depot were in danger of being drowned.

While there, during the afternoon, the houses built on the low ground were flooded even with the water at that hour, and when night closed down, and the water and gale came down upon us, the people could not have remained in their houses.

At 8 P. M. the wind had increased TO A GALE, but had changed a trifle, veering to the north, which would have the effect to force the water eastward.

We do not think the wind as high as that of June last, but the water, at 8 P. M., was much higher than at that time, or in the ever memorable year of 1867. The presence of the water in the city, during the day (Monday) was owing to the long and steady east wind, which prevailed since Saturday evening.

The sudden rush of water during last night, was the work of the norther.

NEW ANDRONS may congratulate herself, that she is not a sea port. Easy communication with the rest of the world is no doubt a great advantage, and the tempting qualities of fresh fish, oysters and tropical fruits are not to be sneezed at, particularly in a very good thing, like wine, the refreshing Gulf breeze; but we do not believe that they compensate for the annual visit of yellow jack and the usual scourges of the natives, not to mention the insensations that are so frequent occurrence of late. And the mosquitoes are very bad besides.

Galveston and Indianola have both been inundated lately and the loss of property has been considerable. Our occasional drouths are "tarts and cheese cakes" when compared with the calamities of our more flourishing sister cities on the coast.

It is at present impossible to give a definite opinion as to the result of the election, as only a few of the adjoining counties have been heard from. Old Dotar has given Degeuer a majority, which is gratifying, even if it is small. The German vote was comparatively small, Hancock severely receiving any.

Comal county gave a majority for the old Know-Nothing and land thief, in preference to a worthy man of their own nationality. The day will come when it will be remembered with regret and shame, Medina, Kendall and Gillespie have remained as they always were.

Weak winds are unduly elated or depressed by comparatively unimportant events. The entire local democracy is standing on its head, and kicking its heels at the prospect of the possible election of a Congressional candidate in the third district. They resemble school boys who think they perceive a distant prospect of getting even with their school teacher.

The Herald that monopolizes the brains of the party, excepting one or two lawyers, thinks that radicalism would never recover if Hancock were to go in Congress from this district. The boys are very heavy, that is a fact, but does the Herald remember predicting, when Lyons was elected Mayor several years ago, "that the death knell of Radicalism had tolled," and does not the inverted democracy remember how short that pleasant dream did soothe their troubled breasts. And do not the people observe the contrast between that fable of an election, managed by the democracy, and the late election in our city.

And if perchance it should be that the miscgenator is not elected, but left to cultivate the domestic virtues at Austin, what high and lofty tumbling we may not be called upon to witness.

Texas Items.

A number of tenement houses are being built in Austin.

Business is decidedly increasing at the State capital.

The theatre at Austin seems to be prospering.

The Methodists have been holding a protracted meeting at Belton. Twenty-seven were added to the church.

At Navasota, Abe Boyer, a brakeman on the Central railroad, was run over by the engine, last Friday, and killed.

The Mayor of Calvert, J. Schneider, has resigned, and C. B. Gillespie, Postmaster, has been appointed to the position.

The "Enquirer" says registration in Washington county foots up 7000 on the 23d inst.

On the night of the 14th inst., a difficulty occurred at a party, at the quarters of Jerome Williams, who lives on the Ranger plantation on the Brazos, between W. J. T. Baily and Sam Richardson, in which Baily was fatally stabbed. Arch Baily, a brother, then ran up, and he, too, was stabbed by Richardson. Calvert Texas, Sept. 23d.

Jefferson is to have another paper, to be called the "Jefferson Democrat." This will make about seven papers in that city.

The cotton crop of Colorado county is turning out much better than was at first expected. The rains for the last week, however, have prevented as much being gathered as otherwise would have been.—Colorado Citizen.

Colorado county has been visited with copious shower of rain, causing vegetation to take new life.

Fine pasturage for winter is a blessing vouchsafed the stockraisers in Western Texas.

The Corpus Christi Advertiser publishes, in supplementary form, an article of the thieving cattle trade on the western border, and asks the interference of the National and State Governments, to protect our stock men.

Up to yesterday afternoon 917 names had been added to the registration list of Travis county. Of this number 489 are white and 428 colored.—Austin Journal.

The Houston Telegraph is now thirty-eight years one hundred and fifty-six days old.

Texas Democrats are exemplifying the force of MacFingal's ancient apothegm concerning the ill opinion of the law held by men who feel the drawing of the halter.

The State Police, having arrested some thirty five hundred men for murder, arson, horse stealing, cattle-lifting, and other crimes, the Democratic stumpers declare this an outrage on the liberties of the people. It is unnecessary to guess at the politics of the men thus put in durance, although all Democrats are not felons.—N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Texas State Police is bitterly assailed by the Democratic speakers there, and its record gives good grounds for their opposition. According to the latest report from Austin, they have arrested, during the last 14 months, 3,775 criminals—200 for murder, 220 for assault with intent to kill, 220 for cattle-theft, and 1,948 for arson, robbery, carrying concealed weapons, etc. Republicans write that without this effective police organization they could not have won the State at all, and that, even so it is, this is attended in many parts with great danger. The Democrats grow more violent and disorderly in tone with every day's progress of the campaign.—N. Y. Tribune.

TRUTH.—The powers of Mrs. Whitcomb's Syrup for children are as positive as the sunlight from heaven, and gentle and soothing as an angel's whisper.

REV. NASHMITH, from Scotland, will preach at Fireman's Hall, next Sabbath, at 11 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

THERE will be preaching at the First Presbyterian church, Flores street, this (Sabbath) morning, at 11 o'clock, and in the evening at 7 o'clock.—Rev. Mr. Zivily, Pastor.

MRS. RANDLE returns her thanks to Mr. T. Fairweather, the obliging agent of the Grover & Baker Machine, for one of their handsome silver plated Machines, awarded to her at the Fair, which she received yesterday morning. It is a perfect beauty.

COMPLAINTS are many, to the effect that some people steal wood and chickens at night and don't leave any trace behind. The only remedy we ever heard of, that was effectual, is administering about a pint of bird shot.

The thief will then have a charge to keep, and that may keep him out of mischief for the future.

ARCADES AMBOS.—The designing Cock of the Herald is imitating Thomy in getting off colored impressions. The democracy have always enjoyed a monopoly in that line.

WE have received the Philological JOURNAL for October. It is one of the best monthlies, filled with entertaining matter and numerous engravings. Its tone is elevating and healthful and it is just the periodical for families.

The number before us contains a portrait of Gov. Claflin of Massachusetts and a short biographical sketch, and other articles of a very readable nature.

People generally should not fail to call in and look at the new goods that have received at the new store of Mr. A. ANKER WOLFF on Commerce street, nearly opposite the National Bank. It would be useless for us to attempt to enumerate one fifth part of the stock, so we simply invite those who need anything in the way of boots, shoes, ladies' furnishing goods or clothing of any kind to call in and see.

Two of the brightest lights of the San Antonio Democracy voted for Mr. Degener, we refer to W. B. Knox and N. O. Green. The former resisted successfully all argument and logic that could be brought to bear on him, but in a weak moment allowed himself to be inveigled into a game of seven up with a young Republican, it being understood that the loser should vote as open ticket for the opposing candidate. Cards prevailed where everything else had failed, and General Knox actually voted an open ticket for Degener.

The circumstances connected with the apparently long interval of Col. Green's feverish and feverish humors. Col. Green (N. O.) appeared at the polls, presenting his registration papers and requesting that Mr. Flak, one of the judges of the election, give him a ticket. Flak, not astonished at anything since Knox's vote, gave the Col. a peculiar ticket, folded up Green opened it, read and tossed it back with a majesty that is unattainable by ordinary mortals.

Flak took the ticket and deposited in the ballot-box, whereupon the following conversation took place: Green.—Flak, what the devil are you about? Flak.—I have put your vote in the ballot box. Green.—With respect I don't want to vote for Degener, that is a fraud. Flak.—I have given you a ticket at your request, and you voted it, that's all right, you have voted now, who comes next. And thus it happened that they voted for Degener.

THE Herald is forced to admit, that the election has been conducted fairly, and even goes so far as to pay a compliment to Capt. Kempton, who has had charge of the police during the election. We have seen a telegram from the Mayor of Galveston notifying the chief of police, that he has been elected marshal of that city. It is to be hoped that an officer, that does his duty well enough to draw forth the reluctant praise of the Herald, will still continue in our midst.

NEW YORK is governed by Tammany Hall, Oakley Hall and Alcohol, says an exchange.

Some of the judges in St. Louis have found it necessary to inform the lawyers that they must serve two hours at once. The recent arrangement of some of them during court proceedings has led to this.

A French servant has discovered, that watermelon are advisable food for smokers, as the essence of that plant is an efficacious antidote against nicotine.

An advertiser in one of the papers says he has a cottage to let containing eight rooms and one acre of land.

A Western paper tells of a man who earned a barrel of flour by carrying it a mile on his back, taking only "one good ten minutes on the way." How many longer tests he took it does not say.

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION.—The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the Digestive organs.

This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solid of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation.

The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime, which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rise up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the safest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased and unhealthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the lacteals are weak and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Sarsaparil Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to be done is the most valuable remedy, Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence disintegrated to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter, in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in fresh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is in the order of things—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope. I have seen many persons cured, with only one sound lung. Live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's Medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, arrest and strengthen it, get up a good digestion and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that while using Schenck's Medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take outdoor exercise only in a genial and warm sunshiny.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed Consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my Medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of Winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a generous and nutritious diet, and all the Medicines continued until the body has restored to its natural quantity of flesh and strength. I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the First of October I expect to take possession of my new building, at the Northeast Corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it. Full directions accompany all my Medicines, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same. J. H. SCHENCK, M. D., Philadelphia. (12-11-70dly.)

having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the South American Plant, called JURUBABA.
Sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even exceed the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to send it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular supply of this wonderful Plant. He has spent much time experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as
Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubaba and he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a Blood Purifier in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and Lymphatic temperaments.

ELMENDORF & CO.,
Agents for the Clippin Mowers and Reapers

The great field trials at Sedalia, Mo., and at Xenia, Ohio, in the Summer of 1869—where "The Clipper" met some 40 competitors, including all the leading machines built, and was awarded the First Premium and Gold Medal—proves that the proprietors have been able to sustain in the field their claims of superiority for the Clipper Machine over all others. Its extraordinary lightness of draft takes one-third of the labor of the team. The adjustability of the finger-bar, to cut high or low without stopping the team, is worth $25 on any machine. It is the only mower that has the true center draft in accordance with correct mechanical principle.
In short, it is the lightest, the most durable, the least complicated, the most perfectly constructed, the most symmetrical in design, of any implement of its class. Farmers regard it as the "Horse's Friend," and you cannot afford to ignore their welfare—Send for pamphlet—investigate. See or write to some one who has used THE CLIPPERS. See the Machine yourself before you buy any other.

WONDERFUL RAPIDITY.
Perfectly Regular and Even Distribution of the Seed. Cahoon's Broadest Seeder. For Sowing all Kinds of Grain and Grass Seed.
The unprecedented success of this Seeder the past season is without a parallel in the history of Agricultural Implements. The farmers of the Country have no longer got to wait in the busy of seeding time for the imperfect process of Hand Sowing, nor for the "Slow Coaches" called "Combined Seeders, &c., &c."
