Special to the Times from Chicago, Sept. 30. A. M. the 9th, says Chicago is in ruins and still burning in vast divisions.

Origins of the fire was in a stable, where a woman went to milk a cow, with a horse near by.

Large number of houses killed. Covered of many burned. Payments refused.

County records saved but city records lost.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Heavy rain at Chicago has put out the fire.

New York, Oct. 10. 11 A. M.—At mid night last night the Western Union telegraph office, which has been located on the corner of Walnut Avenue and Sixteenth street, was removed to Twenty-second street in consequence of the approach of fire.

New York, Oct. 10. A. M.—In the stock market a panic is being created.

It is reported that three heavy houses have fallen. Stocks greatly depressed with decline in the whole list.

I hate a fl. A fl has got no manners.

He's an interloper; don't send in no card, nor an interloper, nor don't knock at the front door, and never, never, never, nor taking off his hat.

First you know he is in bed with you and no four corners when he comes there in a mystery, and he is written himself to be a fat and old man in your house that trash his pants.

He helps himself to sugar and molasses, and bread and preserves, vinegar—anything, and don't wait for no invitation. He's got appetite, and just as sun eat one thing as another.

That's no use to challenge him for taking liberties; he keeps up a hostile correspondence with you, and you like it or not, and about himself he's like a bull, and he never gives over.

He'll kiss you with twenty times a day, and six so, and rubbin' you if you say word, and he'd rather you'd slap at him than not; he's a dog of the dog kind, every time you slap you don't slap him, but slap yourself, and he never and puts the hind leg of each at you, till he aggravates you to distraction.

He glares in lights every 100 on the inside, and when you draw him from, which gives the intention to leave you, don't tell me he's got no mind, he knows what he is after; he's got sense, and too much of it, than he never want to show a day in his life, except in a cup dish.

He's a mean, malignant, envious, premeditated, and a slipper.

His morals was neglected, and he let a good deal of humanity into it. He was a bad lot, and I don't if he knows of it.

Altho a fl don't send in his card, he always leaves one, and I don't like it. Tell's pretty if he sends; he has made a compromise, only a dot, and he is always doing what he can't do. That's no end, and to his nature, but he never comes in a full way, but he writes to disengage.

He's a fl, but his name is in his wall, and I don't like it. That's no end, and to his nature, but he never comes in a full way, but he writes to disengage.

I hate a fl. I hate a fl.—Josh Billings.

There is a marked political society in Charleston known as the "United S. C. Avengers." The name is split up in this way, so that the ultimate members can spell it. Outside of that State the letters are run together, and the society is known as the "United Avengers."

A country clergyman, passing a professional visit to a dying neighbor, who was a very churchy and thoroughly unpopular man, put the usual question: "Are you willing to go, my friend?" "Oh, yes," said the sick man. "I am glad you are, for the neighbors are willing."

A Boston man was killed by being struck on the head with a door knob crapped up in a handkerchief.

THE CAUSE AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION. The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solid and soft parts of the system with digestion thus impaired, leaving the slightest disposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption, without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime, which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then to restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose the most and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased and healthy action, by which nature's self-healing power is restored.

The stomach, bowels and liver are cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organs are torpid and the appetite poor. In the bowels the lacteal are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh. It will give permanent tone to the important organs, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the free and preserving use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure a new order of things—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature will do her work, the matter will ripen and be thrown out in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung; it is not long ago that a good old man, this is what Schenck's Medicine will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that while using Schenck's Medicine, care should be exercised not to take cold, keep in-doors in cold and damp weather, avoid night air, and take outdoor exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish I distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold, while using my Medicine, I do so for a special reason. A man who has had partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured; and it is precisely the same in regard to Consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there constant danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Consumed Consumptive's lungs are a mass of ulcers, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand object of my success with my Medicine consists in my ability to subside inflammation instead of provoking it, so many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot, with safety to the patient, be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of Spring or Autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a whole some and nutritious diet, and all the Medicine continued until the body has returned to the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with the lung nearly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building, at the Northwest Corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my Medicines, so that the person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.
