special interest to us, wherever, a brief extract:

"If Irrigation were a novelty, Conservatism might shake its head gravely, doubtingly, thereat, without exposing its emptiness of brains. But in fact the artificial application of water to secure and increase production is older than the Plow adder than authentic History. Nature gave the example and the broadest possible inti in example and the broadest possible inti in than authentic History. Nature gave the oxample and the broadcest possible hint in the valley of the lower Nile; Italy borrowed and improved upon the suggestion in the early morn of Christendom, if not earlier; and the Spaniards brought the art to this country, letter the Filgrin's built their huts around Plymouth Rock. How came it that lessons so striking and so polyable can have so long been dealed by a people so alert and eager for profit as ours?

Luckieve the time is at hand when not Ours 1.

I believe the time is at hand when not only will streams be generally utilized to moisten adjacent fields, and thus largely increase their product, but when every thirstly arid plain will have its bounteons well, with a wind-mill creeted over it to pump its contents authomatically, at little cost into a reservoir where, after being warmed by the sun, and perhaps fortilized, they will be drawn away in gentle rills to irrigate acre after acre on every side. I tney will be drawn away in genter risk to irrigate acre after acre on every side. believe that even Texas could richly after the dig and equip a thousand such well this summer, and many thousands in the course of the next dozen years."

A ourriman who has had so perience write as follows: "Many com-plains are made about the difficulty in obtaining reliable servants, indeed, it is almost impossible to hire any at all. I have had quite a number but they all have been endowed with great discrepancies. On reflection I believe that the dast one lind fewer discrepancies than any other. One great natural advantage she was gifted with was light halt, which is not se conspicuous as black, particularly in the soup. In fact, her great fault was that she was too vast, there was too much of her for a small family, she would have fitted a large boarding house exactly. She was very tall, broad out of proportion and her smile was equal to the horse laugh of a good sized man. Like all great bodies she moved slow, it took her an hour to wash the dishes, she could not bring herself to bear on making a fire in less than half an hour and was so bly that always slept till 8 o'clock, the nights were too short for her, entirely. Such stimes as cleaning up a room, getting dinner, washing her hands, combing her chair, &c., were all too insignificant for her to attempt; but when it came to watching the tea kettle boll she was equal to the emergency, and I have never seen any body that could warm hereelves by a fire as well as she could, and in eating her dinner she was a magnificant specess. She left, it took her a whole week to get off, but just that was very interesting ; she carelessly left her trunk open and a glance revealed what injustice we had done her, she had used of carelessness but this was careful of my things as if they were het own, perhaps aven more so, but even in her discrepancies she was grand, as an investigation showed that she must hav contemplated setting up a large establish lishment. case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and alime, which is clegging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rose up and restore the liver for a healthy socion. For this purpose the surest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills clean the stomach and bowels of all, the dead and morbid alime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system.
They will clear out the liver of all diseased a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bid is secreted.

The stomach, bowels, and liver are thus densed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an across of sele, the organ is toppic, and the appetite poor. In the bowels the lactack are weak, and requiring sirenigh and anymer. It is in a condition like ship that Schenck's Seawed Tonie preves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered.
It is alkalifie, and its use will neutralize all axcess of acid, making the stomach avoid and fresh; it will give nermoned tone to libic important organ, and crosse a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of Consumption is the fire and preserving use of Schenck's Pulmonie Syrup, The Pulmonie Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the dreudation, and thene assists Nature to expel all the diseased mates, in this form of free expectoration, when once is ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying preferries of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The easeutial thing to be done in enring Cenamption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestien, so that the body will grow in fresh and get strong. If a person has diseased langs,—a cavity or abscess there,—the cavity cannot heat the matter cannot ripe, as long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure a new order of things,—a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption; and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely entirely entirely entirely entirely entirely e
