the cost of bringing up and the education of a man constitutes a specific value which benefits that country which the adult individual makes his dew home and the field of his physical and intellectual labor. This value is represented by the outlay which is necessary to produce a native born laborer of the same average ability. A common laborer and foreign immigrant being valued at, at least, one thousand dollars, all such immigrants we would have secured to our State from Chicago and the West gonerally; skilled mechanics and all of them hard working, industrious men and American citizeus, must be worth at least afteen hundred dollars ench. And now let us make the calculation of the loss we have the cost of bringing up and the the calculation of the loss we have sustained by this one single act, and who should be held accountable and who should be held accountable tor it. The sum of ten thousand dollars, as above stated, to be appropriated, would have paid the passage, at rates given before, from New Orleans to any part in this Scate, some sixteen hundred muligrabia. These emigrants would grants. These emigrants would have been worth and enriched our State, sixteen bundred multiplied by one thousand five hun-dred dollars, the value of each, two millions four hundred thousand dollars; deducting from this the invested capital, the actual outlay of ten thousand dollars, there re-main two million three hundred and musty thousand dollars which

The question now arises who detend, who voted against this bill and who is to be blamed and held accountable for this less before the people who so much desire immigration, knowing the benefit and advantaged. Pursuant to a Joint Resolution passed by both Houses, our Legislature will adjourn sine die, December 3rd. On that day its le gal existence will be at an end, and the members will satise to private life.

We have pull particular attention to the proceedings of our hegislature, and while we fully appreciate the benefite it has conforred, we are sorry to be compelled to confine, that the general terpression it has made, is by no means a favorable one. This is particularly to be attributed to that agilies of blute on the recards of logthat eguest is vision on the recent of legislative assemblies—special legislation. To that we are indicated for the unreasonable length of the assembles and their propertiesably small production of good to our Right. The most important geometric view wave unwedged out to stake place for picaying local affairs, and thus the most dissertable local controls. greeble local quarrels attained an uncavi-able publicity—the members persisting in washing their dirty lines in public. Be-sides this special legislation proved a tag-rible drain to the public drassury, whill
