THE DYING WIFE.
Many a sorrow-stricken heart will bleed sorrow and many a manly eye grow dim with long and tearful lines will awaken Each.
Lay the girl on my bosom,
And let her rest her head on my breast,
For a strong chill o'er me passed,
And I know that this is death,
I would give up the treasure,
Nearly given o'er to me,
For her my days I give,
Wander o'er my cheek of snow.

Revolution is not to be feared.

Let us try for men, and then our political victory is assured.

Try for men! You then

know that your party will win.

When a party elects its Farewell to our Legislature.

Our Legislature has adjourned, and the country breathes more freely.

It is true that the Legislature contained many able and patriotic men, and we are glad to see them go.

But the fact is, we are glad to see them go, because they have done nothing for the people.

They have done nothing to improve the condition of the poor.

They have done nothing to relieve the suffering.

They have done nothing to advance the interests of the people.

They have done nothing to improve the condition of the poor.

Of all newspapers in the country there is no one whose attacks upon Republican measures and whose abuse of the Administration are more incessant, vicious and comprehensible than those of the

New York Sun. During the week prior to the late New York election, it kept standing in its editorial columns in paragraphs, commencing with the words, "All patriotic citizens should vote the Democratic ticket on Tuesday next." Yet we find a Democratic organ with sufficient cheek and economy of the truth to quote the Sun as a "Republican" paper! We presume this may be taken as a specimen of partisan fairness from a Democratic standpoint.

We decidedly do not care to see, and to announce, the fact, that the highest ambition of past of them was to carry off some eight dollars per day, that some of them were willing to do so, and that some of them were willing to do so, and that some of them were willing to do so, and that some of them were willing to do so, and that some
